"Come To C.P.H.S. Homecoming"

By VANDA KING
Editor

Check out your 1991 Homecoming invitations and make plans to come October 12.

If you really want to return to the memories of high school days, just get out your old annuals and flip through the photos. Forgotten happenings and classmates flood your mind with details you hadn't thought of in years. Your children will question the different style of clothing from today and even some school activities. They enjoy searching for familiar faces of parents or "He looks just like his dad or she looks just like her mother." It is remarkable how much some of the children favor their parents at the same age level.

The most fun is reading the notes in the back and all through. I spent some time reading all the notes in a 1965 annual recently and took a trip to the past.

The most common happening mentioned was concerning the Cross Plains High School Band winning the Sweepstakes. Band members commented on the pride for the band and encouragement for the next year. Band was of such importance, as it is to students today.

It was also the year after the band traveled to the Indianapolis 500 Race to march in the parade around the celebrated track. Photos of band members in those sharp looking black overalls standing in front of the chartered buses really started the mind ticking.

That trip was certainly a life-time experience for me, as it was for others. The band director, Wayne McDonald, and all the sponsors who traveled with us were indeed brave. The group was gone for two weeks and the fun was great.

I remember staying in an old hotel in St. Louis, Missouri that wasn't quite what it was advertised. It was a spooky place and the only one where I was afraid.

One of the neatest things was staying in the homes of the Methodist Church members and performing at some of their services. In this day and time you can't do such things it seems.

We always stayed in private homes at the Brady Band Festival, too. I don't recall any arrangements like that now. We met some great people this way. Sometimes there would be as many as six girls to stay in one home and it was like a slumber party.

Do any of you recall the baseball game with the black girls while staying at the dormitories in Indianapolis? We had a blast. Along the way, we went to movies, bowled, swam, and attended a musical performance of Pete Fountain.

In these treasured little messages you could figure out who was going with who, and think how different things are today. It was almost like a time travel.

The words of praise and encouragement from friends were enough. Maybe some folks wrote the same message in everyone's book? However, the majority seemed personalized to special events or instances.

High school days may have been difficult for some and perhaps they do not recall good memories, but for most it was the best times of our lives. That fact makes Homecoming every three years a fun-filled weekend that allows us to relive high school days and catch up on the latest.

If you have never returned to Homecoming, please make plans to do so. Don't allow anything to stop you from being with old classmates for this reunion. Those who came for the first time in 1988 wished they had returned earlier. It's great fun!

Go look for your old annuals and renew the spirit of those golden days. See you at Homecoming 1991!

Cross Plains E.M.S. Now Has Seven New E.M.T.s

The first Emergency Medical Technicians Class ever held locally has yielded the community seven new E.M.T. personnel. In the past E.M.T. students were forced to travel to another city for classes. However, Emergency Care Attendants have been trained locally.

E.C.A.s Sandra Jones, Sandra McKeenan, and Sherry Bowden have now been upgraded to E.M.T.s, and through the training session which started January 14 and was completed April 15, Rickey Carouth, Clara Hanke, Johnnie Bland, and Susan Schaefer are now qualified E.M.T.s.

Each student had 114 classroom hours on didactics and skills and 34 hours clinical training hours at Humana Hospital in Abilene plus 5 emergency ambulance runs with the Cross Plains E.M.S., Brownwood MEDIVAC or Abilene Emergency Medical Service before qualifying to take the state exam for the Texas Department of Health.

There were seven students from Cross Plains and five from Rising Star in the class. Cross Plains has been helping Rising Star with training for their Emergency Medical Service.

All twelve students from the Cross Plains EMT school had an average grade of 84.85 which is 6.85 points above the state average, and reported the highest grades in this T.D.H. Region. A representative from the Texas Department of Health stated, "The state is very pleased with your training program."

The school was coordinated by Rolan Jones and instructed by Polly Beeler and Jones. Skills instructors were Betty Lewis, Wilma Lawrence, Alvin Hutchins, Diane Bowden, David Switzer, Polly Beeler, and Rolan Jones.

Local Chamber Of Commerce Announce New Officers

The Cross Plains Chamber of Commerce, which formed in August 1990, held its regular meeting Thursday, May 23.

New officers Mike Cary, President, John Childers, Vice President, and Joyce McCoy, Secretary-Treasurer, were installed at this meeting.

Since formation, Chamber of Commerce membership has increased to over 50 concerned and interested business people and citizens. The Chamber of Commerce has succeeded in attracting Mediplex, a home health care treatment firm. Also, an Industrial Board of the Chamber has been established and is currently collecting data to create a City of Cross Plains economic packet in hopes of promoting economic development.

Recently, the Chamber of Commerce has received numerous inquiries regarding hunting leases. Due to this, the Chamber of Commerce is compiling a list of local landowners who are interested in leasing their land. Anyone interested in listing their land in this free service can contact Susan McNeel at 725-7251.

The Chamber is also compiling information for a city brochure which will include the highlights and attractions of Cross Plains. Completion should occur in the near future.

The Chamber of Commerce is an economic instrument of Cross Plains, which exists to enhance development in the Cross Plains area and always encourages new members to join.

History Of Local Newspaper

By CLARA NELL SPENCER

By 1901 a four page paper was published under the name Cross Plains Herald established in 1900 by J.C. Gaines. There were probably several issues of which there are no records.

It was a blustery April morning in 1909 the first edition of the Cross Plains Review rolled off an old Babcock Reliance cylinder press in a little shop near the banks of Turkey Creek, in a village that was soon to move to the present Cross Plains townsite.

Belmont L. Shields, a swashbuckling country editor, launched the journalistic venture knowing that a new railroad would likely come this way in a year or so. He planned to be established and help build an important trading center. He even had thoughts of carving out a new county and making his town a seat of government.

Shields was right about the railroad. It came two years later and all businesses, including his, moved to the present location, to be near the depot. The new county (which would have been called Ross) died aborning, though, and Shields lost his enchantment for Cross Plains. He sold the Review to L.P. Henslee and moved to Louisiana, where he established a humor magazine of national circulation.

Henslee ran the local paper until the early 1920's when he sold to three local businessmen, Tom Bryant, S.F. Bond, and Tom Anderson.

Bryant took responsibility of looking after the newspaper, however, he hired S.M. Buatt, a widely traveled country printer, to edit and handle its printing.

In 1926 R.A. Autry joined with Bryant and bought the interests of Bond and Anderson. Autry became editor and took over management of

Some
'Good' Verse

By DON TABOR
Publisher

I didn't know my golfing buddy, Bob Shoemaker, was a poet.

Well, really, he's not. But he does recognize "good" verse.

To prove it, I'm printing a piece he brought in the other day:

A SENIOR CITIZENS LAMENT

Thought I'd let my doctor check me 'Cause I didn't feel quite right,
All these aches and pains annoyed me
And I couldn't sleep at night.

He couldn't find any real disorder,
But he wouldn't let it rest,
What with Medicare and Blue Cross
It wouldn't hurt to do some tests.

To the hospital he sent me
Though I didn't feel that bad
He arranged for them to give me
Every test that could be had.

I was fluoroscoped and cysto-scoped
My aging form displayed;
Stripped upon an ice-cold table
While my gizzard was X-rayed.

I was checked for worms and parasites,
for fungus and the crud,
While they pierced me with long needles
Taking samples of my blood.

Doctors came to check me over
Probed, pushed, and poked around,
And to make sure I was a livin'
They even wired me for sound.

They have finally concluded,
(their results have filled a page)
What I have will someday kill me;
My affliction is OLD AGE.

Callahan County Appraisal Office
Mailed Out 2,500 Notices

The Central Appraisal District of Callahan County mailed twenty five hundred appraisal notices to owners of real and personal property on Tuesday, May 28, according to Chief Appraiser Rod Lewallen. Owners of mineral interests will be receiving their notices within the next week to ten days. Lewallen said those taxpayers receiving an appraisal notice should pay particular attention to the cutoff date for filing protests over their valuations. He emphasized that taxpayers should be aware that only questions of value, exemptions, and special use valuation (primarily agricultural land) can be appealed to the Appraisal Review Board. "So often we have unhappy taxpayers protesting simply because they feel their taxes are too high" the Chief Appraiser said. "Our staff and the ARB cannot address those issues as actual tax rates set by the taxing units determine how much the tax bite will be."

Lewallen went on to point out that the new school finance bill, Senate Bill 351 was going to greatly impact property taxes in Callahan County as well as the rest of the state. "The new law is tremendously complex and not even the various state agencies in Austin have been able to explain exactly how it is supposed to work. Our local officials in the tax office and school districts are working together in an attempt to stay on top of the situation as it develops. Many taxpayers across the state will be very unhappy with what the legislature has done, and I am sure some of those taxpayers will be Callahan County taxpayers" he said. Lewallen went on to state that those taxpayers who received a notice this week should call the appraisal district at 854-1165 to schedule an appointment with an appraiser if they have questions regarding their valuations or exemptions.

REVIEW HISTORY

the newspaper. Bryant, who was by this time one of the most active oil operators in this section of Texas, busied himself with other endeavors. Bryant retained his newspaper holdings, though, and in 1928 he and Autry built the two-story brick building that has been the Review's home through the intervening 63 years.

AARP Meeting Monday, June 3

The regular monthly meeting of the A.A.R.P. will be held Monday, June 3, at 11 a.m. at the Multi-Purpose Center.

Entertainment will be provided by the Junior County Western Express from Cisco, which you won't want to miss.

A covered dish luncheon will follow, so come and enjoy the fellowship with everyone.

Shortly after the new building was built, Glen Adams, a local man, uncle of Donnel Clark and Margaret McNeel, joined Bryant in buying out Autry.

The Review continued under Bryant and Adams' ownership, with Buatt again in the editor's seat until July 1, 1930.

In 1930, Jack Scott, a 20-year-old man who had edited a college newspaper in Abilene, became editor and manager until early in 1944 when he joined the U.S. Army during World War II. During his absence the paper was continued under a lease arrangement with Clyde Bunnell, who had operated a linotype for Scott.

In 1946 Scott returned and ran the newspaper until 1951 when he sold the business to D.J. (Jack) McCarty of Rising Star.

McCarty remained as editor and publisher until January 1, 1960 when Scott returned to the Review as an equal partner. Scott and McCarty bought the Glen Rose Reporter in the mid-1960's and McCarty moved to Glen Rose. Scott acquired McCarty's interest in the Review.

Benny Glover, who started his career as a printer's "devil" at the Review, purchased 25 per cent interest in the business. In 1971 Scott sold out and began raising cattle.

Glover carried on the business with the help of his wife, Carolyn, three capable and loyal staffers, Lee Morris, Esthloy Dickson, and Becky Odom and an adept set of rural correspondents until his untimely death in 1986.

The Review was purchased in February 1986 by Don Tabor, Clyde, who is the present owner. He is also the publisher of the Clyde Journal. In March 1986, Vanda King was named editor and office manager. Ms. King has the distinction of being the first woman editor for the Review. She is ably assisted by Becky Odom, Lee Morris, Mary Morris, and community columnists.

(This material was an excerpt, in part, from History of the Cross Plains Review p. 466 in the I Remember Callahan book published in 1986. The article was written by Jack Scott.)

The Cross Plains Review is the oldest business institution and is soon to be honored by Project Pride. A plaque for the building will be presented at a later time.

angora goat kid, held by Carol Giles. Carol and her husband, Robin, hosted the two farm leaders as part of a recent 3-day media tour.

American Farm Bureau Federation President Visits Lone Star State

An Iowa farm boy saw agriculture with a Texas twist recently in an eye-opening tour of the Lone Star State's second largest industry.

Dean Kleckner, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, joined Texas Farm Bureau President S.M. True on a recent three day agribusiness tour throughout the state. Kleckner said the visit to a sheep, goat and cattle operation in the Hill Country and to rice operations on the Coastal Plains helped him in his leadership role of the nation's largest general farm organization by giving him a clearer view of problems facing all of agriculture.

"My farm is in northern Iowa, near the Minnesota line," he said. "Just about every Iowa farmer grows corn, of course, and we have soybeans and hogs. The producers I talked with in Texas are from a different world, and I appreciate the new perspective I have on their operations."

That perspective is important, Kleckner said, because he represents 3.2 million AFBF member-families coast-to-coast. What concerns farmers in Iowa might be of little interest to Texas farmers. Trips such as this, he related, give him an overall look at diverse types of agriculture, and in turn, helps him direct legislative efforts on issues affecting farmers and ranchers nationwide.

Although Iowa and Texas agriculture are as diverse as night and day, a common thread binds them together, Kleckner said. That thread is the whim of Mother Nature.

"Northern Iowa is very wet right now, much like the Houston area we visited," Kleckner said. "We watched as Ross and Charles Werla applied herbicides to their rice crop by airplane. The job took over two hours, at a cost of $6,000. Three hours later thunderstorms soaked the field. They may have to do it all over again.

"We all need to remember the risks farmers take to put food on our tables."

TFB President True said Kleckner showed a better understanding of the many problems facing Texas farmers and ranchers after the three-day visit.

"Agriculture is second as far as the economics of Texas," True said. "And agriculture is most important in the sense that we're number one in renewable resources. I think it's been very productive to have Dean visit us for three days."

Kleckner said one issue of vital importance to Texas agriculture producers is free trade talks with Mexico. The neighboring country to the south will become increasingly important to Texas producers, as well as producers across the nation, in upcoming years.

"There are concerns with fruit and vegetable producers with the competition of Mexican farm products coming in," the AFBF President said. "But in the long run, both the U.S. and Mexico stand to gain under a North American or a U.S./Mexico free trade agreement. It will be a win/win situation for both us and them."

Among the other concerns the two farm leaders discussed were wetlands, the tax/budget situation in the United States and rural health issues.

"Virtually anything that affects farmers and ranchers is of concern to the American Farm Bureau Federation," Kleckner said. "We are the largest farm organization not only in the United States, but in the world."

Rowden News

By MRS. N.V. GIBBS

These are steaming hot days this past week and the grain harvest is going full blast. Of course, they can count on breakdowns with the combines. Roland Mauldin has had some help this week with his brother, Carl, to run errands and truck the grain to the Coop. Bill Coots of Baird also was working with Roland. Tony Steele and son, Bill, were cutting for Chris West.

Gene Mauldin is doing fine from his surgery, their company has been their son and daughter-in-law, Carl and Mable Mauldin of Rogers, Arkansas. Also, Frank Payne of San Angelo and M.L. Hughes of Baird.

Mrs. Gene Mauldin reported getting a letter from former Rowden residents, Donald and Velda Stephens of Snyder. They wrote of the serious illness of his brother, Weldon Stephens. His address is 845 Denmark St., Mesquite, TX 75749. He would appreciate hearing from his Rowden friends. Claud Stephens and Linnie owned and operated the store here during the 1950's. Donald and Velda are spending this weekend with Weldon and wife, Joyce.

Curtis and Velma Springfield of Azle spent Thursday night with this writer. They had been to the Brownwood Lake area to look at a lot that late W.W. Rose owns there, and had spent the night at the Holiday Inn. This was a surprise visit here at the Gibbs home.

Opal Steele of Clyde and this writer attended graduation exercises in Cross Plains Friday night. A granddaughter of each was in the graduating class. They accompanied the Tony Steele family for the program.

Dorothy Reynolds of the community and Irene Masters and her daughter, Charlotte Clifton, and her son, Bryan, visited in the Gene Mauldin home during the week.

Robert and Dorothy Watson drove to Sadler Friday to visit his uncle, Wayne Dossey. The family also attended the spring band concert in Baird on Tuesday night. Their son, Cody, performed with the band. The Miller Scott family also attended the concert.

Don and Maryanna Harrell attended the Ballet performance program at the Paramount Theatre in Abilene Friday night. Leigh has spent much practice, along with other pupils, and looked forward to this event along with other activities.

Joyce Odom accompanied her daughter, Nancy Palmer, to Lubbock Tuesday where Joyce's son-in-law, Ralph Treavy, underwent surgery for vascular blockage of his left leg just below the knee. She had not had any report of his condition since the surgery.

ELECTRIC RATE COMPARISON

Annual average (June 90-May 91)
Basic residential, 1,000 KWH usage

WTU Request Lower Fuel Factors

Customers of West Texas Utilities Co. could be paying less for their electric service starting in July if the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC) grants the company's request to lower fuel factors. WTU filed the request Tuesday, May 21, as an update to the original fuel filing it made in February.

Larry Cheshier, WTU's local manager in Cross Plains, said "the company is asking for interim factors to be effective in July and fixed factors effective in October. Based on the company's expected cost of fuel this summer, the interim factors produce a decrease, compared to current costs, of 7.8 percent or $4.42 a month on consumption of 660 kilowatt-hours per month." In October the fixed factors will mean a decrease from today's costs of 2.6 percent ($1.49) a month for 660 kilowatt-hours.

Although the commission still must approve the company's request, WTU is optimistic that the lower factors will be the ones used to calculate customers' July bills, Cheshier said. Other customer groups will see similar decreases in their costs as a result of the lower fuel factors.

The company made the initial filing in February because the PUC had said that fuel costs should be reconciled at least every three years either through a rate case or a fuel reconciliation case such as the present filing. WTU's fuel costs were last reconciled in a rate case which covered a period ending with March 31, 1987, almost four years ago.

Although WTU's February request was for an increase in factors, the company said then that it intended to update the information this May to include current fuel cost information. That has allowed the company to pass along the benefits of its cost control efforts.

Those efforts include renegotiation of a lower cost coal transportation agreement with Burlington Northern Railroad and lower costs for spot gas. Previous efforts include construction of a gas pipeline to the Fort Phantom power station near Abilene to provide access to more suppliers, renegotiation of supply and transportation contracts for fuel and improvements in the efficiency of some plants so they burn less fuel to make electricity.

Costs to residential customers are essentially divided into two major parts, base rate, and fuel factors. The fuel charge makes up about twenty-eight percent of the total cost to customers.

Base rates cover all the other costs of providing electric service. To comply with the State's energy conservation efforts, WTU uses winter rates from November to April and summer rates from May to October. Summer rates are higher to encourage conservation when temperatures make air conditioners work long hours and help produce the greatest demand for electricity of any time during the year.

If the company's request to implement the new factors on July bills is granted, the lower costs will be in effect for most of the air conditioning season.

WTU provides electric service to 177,000 customers in 52 counties stretching from the Red River to the Rio Grande.

FmHA To Assist Rural Owners

TEMPLE -- The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) has implemented a new program to assist rural residents to become successful home owners.

In addition to its direct housing loan program, the federal agency is now authorized to guarantee commercial loans to purchase single-family housing. "This expands our ability to provide financing for homes in rural areas," notes FmHA State Director Sox Johnson.

Under this new program, FmHA guarantees a loan made by a qualified lender against a percentage of possible loss. Loans may be made by any lender, including state housing agencies, which is approved as a mortgage for federal housing mortgage insurance. Additionally, lenders approved by FmHA, the Federal National Mortgage Association ("Fannie Mae"), or the Farm Credit System may qualify for the program.

FmHA is authorized to guarantee up to $100 million in loans for single homes during the current fiscal year. This assistance is available for new or existing rural housing, located on individual tracts or in subdivisions, according to the State Director.

Many rural residents eligible for direct FmHA loan assistance may also qualify for the guaranteed loan program. Applicants with low to moderate incomes may be eligible for loan guarantees, and low-income applicants may qualify for the agency's interest assistance program, which brings down the cost of the monthly payment.

Applicants must be without safe, decent and sanitary housing and unable to obtain a loan without the FmHA guarantees at rates and terms they can reasonably be expected to repay. "Loans may be guaranteed for up to 100 percent of the cost of acquiring the house," said the State Director, who added that these are 30-year, fixed-rate mortgages.

Individuals interested in the new guaranteed loan program should contact their commercial lenders or the local Farmers Home Administration County Supervisor.

Weekly Health Tip

CHOLESTEROL TESTING

When should I have it done? Consider it if you are over the age of 20. It's a new barometer of health, warning you in advance that you may be a candidate for an early stroke or heart attack. Where should I have it done? At your doctor's office, perhaps during a routine checkup. Don't eat for at least two hours before the test is done, and try to stay calm. Levels can rise 5% to 10% with stress. Be sure to tell your doctor if you're taking any drugs - several can influence cholesterol levels in the blood one way or another.

Your better health is our concern.

Domestic Violence: The Battered Woman

Battered women come from all walks of life. She may be your mother, sister, friend, co-worker, or neighbor. Women are the victims of battering; they do not provoke or deserve it.

Domestic violence takes a serious toll on its victims, both physically and emotionally.

**Battered women suffer physical injuries that endanger their health and may result in life-long disabilities. These injuries may interfere with job performance, resulting in lost promotional opportunities or dismissal.

**The emotional effects of battering can be even more devastating than the physical assault. A battered woman's support system diminishes, so does her sense of self-esteem. The constant insults of her abuser may cause her to feel that she is unworthy of the respect of others. If the criminal justice system fails to protect her rights and safety, she begins to lose hope.

**Despite the physical and emotional abuse that they endure, battered women are usually strong survivors. With adequate resources and support, many women not only create new lives for themselves, but also become advocates for battered women's rights.

The ICD Family Shelter offers a 24-hour toll-free hotline and free counseling for victims of domestic violence. For more information about the Shelter and its service, call 1-800-749-8631.

Historical Cottonwood Shoot-Out Rivals Fiction

By DAVID MCGOWEN

Television's long-lived "Gunsmoke" has hundreds of fantasized shoot-outs in a year; Zane Grey, of western paperback fame, wrote a multitude of gunfight accounts; but, unlike these fabricated old west stories, the nearby community of Cottonwood had an actual shooting event in its past to rival any of the action-laden episodes of the screen or pen.

The shoot-out occurred some 90 years ago, in December 1882, and interest was revived recently when a grave marker was placed for one of the two victims entombed at Cottonwood. Information regarding what actually took place is clouded by almost a hundred years, and little written history of the confrontation is available. Bill Jones of Cross Plains, a nephew of one of the key figures, is the main source of information, yet he admits that what he knows of the incident is not first hand, but from accounts told him as a boy by members of his family living at the time.

Story goes that George Franks, Cottonwood businessman, and Tom Jones, a young laborer of that community, were the best of friends. The bustling community, then located about a hundred yards east of its present site, was one of activity and had its share of the rowdiness and temperament of the times. Franks ran a lighthouse saloon in the center of town, and was wed to a young lady whom he reportedly didn't completely trust.

Young Jones was at the saloon that Christmas season evening, dressed in a Santa Claus suit with face blackened for the occasion, which was customary for that period. Franks, obviously spurred by intake of his own sales goods, was on the look-out for the man he believed to be "carrying on" with his spouse.

From the hand-me-down account, Franks mistook his friend for the man he suspected of flirtations, and shot in the dimly-lighted room from behind his bar to the doorway, hitting Jones in the throat. Jones fired back across the room and felled his "friend".

Jones died instantly following the shooting, and Franks was near death's door, sobbing that he had mistakenly killed the best friend he had ever had. Before he died, Franks requested, the story goes, that the two be buried in the same grave.

Townpeople honored his last request and awaited his death before burying either of the victims. Franks died the following day, and the two bodies were buried in the same grave in the cemetery at Cottonwood.

In irony to Franks' supposedly gunning for a suspected wife rancer, following his death his widow did not wed his suspect, but she did "runoff" with the suspect's brother.

Tom Jones
Cottonwood Shoot-out
Victim

Franks has had a marker over his grave for years now, but only recently did interested parties mark the site of the resting place of the younger Jones.

No matter the incongruities of the tale or the lack of factual history concerning what happened, it is for sure that the shoot-out did occur, and with some similarity as the account just given.

This article which appeared in the Cross Plains Review in the early 1970's was recently uncovered in the Bible belonging to Joe Oglesby's late sister, LaVerne Oglesby Huntington. Neither Joe or his wife, Pauniece, had ever read the historical recollection of the Cottonwood happening. The couple wanted to have the article reprinted for the benefit of the Cottonwood Historical Association and interested readers.

As I Remember It

By CLORIS WEBB
Cisco News

Sabanno, Texas

There is a little creek that ran through the little village called Sabanno, Texas, that is 3 miles north of Liberty Hill, and 6 miles north of Pioneer, Texas, that I have already written about. It is 2 1/2 miles north of where I was born and raised. It was first called Tin Can, because people piled their empty cans in the creek and they washed into a pile right near the middle of the village.

In the lifetime of my half-brother, John Holder, who was 17 years older than me, he wrote a poem that told quite a bit of the history of Sabanno. It will accompany this column.

I have a post card that was postmarked Sabanno, Texas, from my sister, Hettie Lacy, and an Easter card from my sister, Neal Pinkston, addressed to Sabanno, Texas. Hettie was 15 years older than me and Neal was 13 years older than me. I was about 4 when we got the cards.

Precious memories. They are written with a pencil and are almost faded out. George Erwin was the rural carrier. He delivered mail in a Model T. After they stopped having church at Liberty, we attended church at Sabanno. I remember I was in the card class at Liberty. They gave us a little card with a picture in it and a verse of scripture we had to memorize. When we went to Sabanno, I was in Miss Callie Brown's class and we were older and I remember the programs we had.

It was at Sabanno that I met my first love and we got married. She, (Viola King Webb) is the mother of my three living children, Lindell, Jim, and Marita, and our precious little Sammy who was killed by a car while waiting for the school bus in 1955. He was 9 1/2 years old.

It was at Sabanno that I was ordained to serve as deacon in the Baptist Church. Brother Pilair who lived east of Cisco at the time, conducted the ordination service. He was a missionary of the Cisco Association at the time.

Sabanno at one time had a W.O.W. Lodge. The building is still being used as a residence, for a number of years it was the meeting place for the Baptist Church.

The Presbyterian Church building was about a 150 yards north, and they shared it with the Methodist Church. When the school moved to Cross Plains, what few members of the churches that remained, moved their membership into town.

I don't want to fail to mention some of the people I remember who lived in or near Sabanno. Doc Bell, ran a grocery store and a general merchandise store. I remember he had a cleaver or whatever it was called to cut the amount of tobacco you wanted. As I remember my father chewed "Days Work," if you wanted something a little stronger he had "Brown Mule," there were probably other brands.

There were Sam Ervin, Edwin, his

COTTONWOOD NEWS

By BEVERLY BROWN

Reverend Knox Waggoner was admitted to the Porvance Hospital in Waco last Tuesday night suffering from a heart attack. Presently, he is undergoing tests and treatment. Our prayers are with our pastor of the Cottonwood Baptist Church and his family.

Mr. Pete Ware and Mr. and Mrs. "Smookey" Callaway went to Waco Saturday afternoon to visit with Reverend Knox Waggoner at the hospital and with Winona and the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner Simpson received word that their grandson, Steve Simpson, who graduated from Miami High School in Miami, Oklahoma was named to the Oklahoma Golf Coaches Association Small East All Star Team, which was confirmed by his coach, Harley Turner. Steve finished 238 at the last 3A state tournament earlier this month and was named to the team at large player. The all state match will be played at the Golf Club of Oklahoma in Broken Arrow on July 29 and 30.

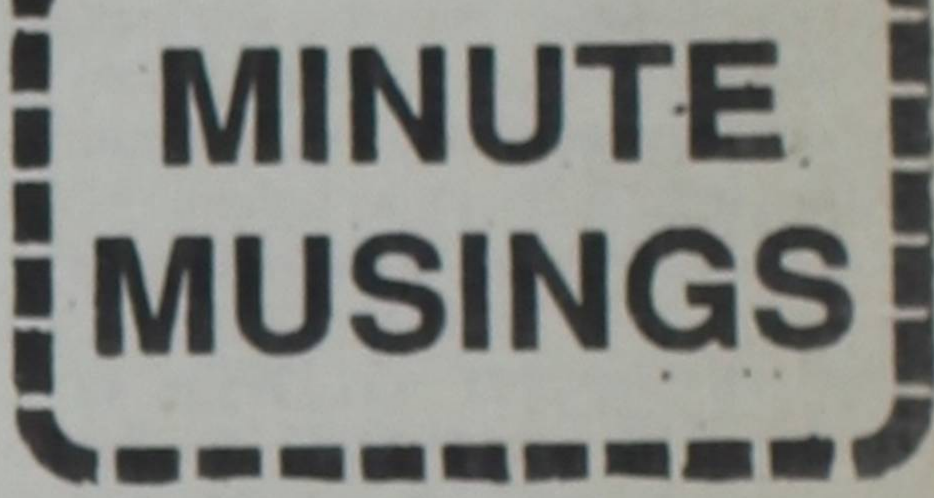

Michael Carl Simpson and friend, Mikey Smitz, stopped by to see Michael's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Turner Simpson, on Friday the 18th. The young men were enroute to a wedding in Stanford from their homes in Giddings.

Mrs. Bertha Wheeler and her grandson, Russell Wheeler, left here on Wednesday, May 15, to go visit with her sister, Mrs. Doyle Gray, and family and attend the 90th birthday party held for Mrs. Gray on May 18th.

Russell returned home later in the evening on May 15 from taking his grandmother to Hooks, Texas. Mrs. Wheeler's niece, Mrs. Charles Browning, and her sister-in-law, brought her home to Cottonwood on Tuesday, May 21.

Visitors with Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Clark over the holiday weekend were: Mr. and Mrs. Gary Clark, Josh and Cody of Muleshoe, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Robinson and Brian of Clyde, and Glenn Dale Champion of the community.

Dr. and Mrs. J.O. Williams returned home last Thursday evening from their trip to Williamsburg, Virginia and Mt. Vernon, Ohio. They picked up Jay's sister, Shirley Riley, at her daughter's in McKinney, Texas and

By ESTHLOY S. DICKSON

This is a beautiful Tuesday morning - I'm so accustomed to writing on a Monday morning - I'll have to keep in mind that I "had off" on Monday.

I've had a rare experience this week - a couple of young people cleaning my house and yard extensively - at my daughter's request. I may not feel so "great" when I've paid the bills.

We had only 200 in Sunday School last Sunday - the church services were tremendous. Our pastor posed an interesting thought with his sermon topic: "If You Were For Sale, What Price Would You Bring?" Now, there is a question for each of us!

Sally Roady reports that they have been "on the run" all week. They visit Ms. Nettie at the nursing home nearly every day. They visited Mr. Mack Childers, also her sister, Betty Hicks in Cross Plains. They visited with Art and Bertie Roady, also. They have been taking grandson, Charlie, to Little League baseball all week.

Dick and Ina Smith of Fort Worth visited J.T. and Betty Beggs on Saturday. Ina stayed overnight with them. J.T. and his "crew" planted peanuts this week.

Ms. Jewel Foster was very busy this morning. Her granddaughter and husband are painting Jewel's house this week. They are from Oklahoma.

Several families did not answer their telephones this morning. I hope they will call me when they have news for this column. I treasure their friendship - and their assistance with this column.

The Quilting Club was happy to receive its visitors. Lucille Kersh of Cross Cut, Donna Pickett's sister, and Jarrah Hutchins of Cross Plains, Donna's granddaughter, and Jean Fore's sister, Vi Harlow and brother, Paul Harlow and his wife, Juanita, all of Lovington, New Mexico, were all with us on Tuesday. Vi and Juanita quilted with us all day on the two quilts we were working on, the 50 Stars and the Double Wedding Ring.

The Pioneer Pentecostal Church hosted their bi-weekly Friday night Fellowship meeting with a good attendance.

Jean Fore accompanied Frankie and Oliver Smith on their usual visit to Ranger on Saturday.

Paul and Juanita Harlow and Vi Harlow spent the week with Jean Fore, doing fishing, golfing, quilting, and other activities.

Jean Alexander reported that she and James were enjoying a visit Monday with their children, Jim and Marla Alexander of Richardson and their three boys and baby girl. This was little Sarah Ashley's first visit to the Alexander farm. Grandson Will's ambition as announced to his school teacher was to be a farmer like his grandfather and fish, golf, and watch the ball games on TV.

Lottie Sooter's visitors, siblings, and in-laws were from Billings, Montana and from Houston, Texas. Lottie took a trip to Lubbock with them.

Nell and Joe Fleming enjoyed visits during the week from Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Fleming and son, Bryan of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Wiley and children of Pampa, Mr. and Mrs. Richardson and children of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Vince Meiron of Andrews, and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Flippin, Mrs. Novilia Barton, and Mrs. Marie Pancake, all of the community.

John and Irma Miller attended the Commencement Exercises in Coleman and saw Rosanna Copeland and David Burkett receive their diplomas.

It Lives! It Breathes! It's Back

Yes, it's time once again to kick-off another spectacular season of summer shows. The spirit of art, the exhilaration of performance, and the conglomeration of support both on stage and off, return once again to the Hilton Dinner Theatre. This season hosts the following sensational selections:

- The Apple Tree (June 7-15)
- A Thousand Clowns (July 8-14)
- Pippin (August 2-11)

The Apple Tree consists of three one-act musicals. The first, "The Diary of Adam and Eve," sings the story of the first two people in the world with comic wit and heart-felt emotion. The second act, "The Lady or the Tiger," takes the audience to a mythical, barbarian, kingdom. This segment addresses the prevailing issue of the inconsistency of love. And finally, the third act is devoted to "Passionella" the saga of a chimney sweep who miraculously becomes a movie star.

Filled with marvelous music, dance, special effects and excitement — this show promises to be a special event for the entire family.

For reservations call (817) 442-2589 (Monday — Thursday) or (817) 442-1351 (Friday — Sunday).
