Lump-In-The-Throat Story

This retired schoolteacher learned years later how much of an impact she had on one of her students.

By J. GARY
Marion, Ohio

Pleasant surprise. A long time after her first year in a small school, this teacher discovered a little affection had gone a long way.

MY HAND trembled as I held the letter from Bobby Lindel. I brushed a wisp of graying hair from my forehead and poignant memories from long ago flooded my mind.

Bobby's letter brought back vivid memories of my first year as a fourth-grade teacher at the old Elm Street School. I remember how the ancient stone steps sounded like rustling sandpaper as throngs of children hurried toward the double-hung oak door. I could almost smell the pungent odor of the old building's freshly oiled floors, the scent of disinfectants and the piney aroma of new, sharpened pencils as I thought back to those days.

I squinted my eyes and concentrated, remembering now the denim-shirted boys with sweaty elbows pressed nervously against the penknife-carved desk tops. Suddenly, once more I was addressing my fourth-grade class. There's Bobby, sitting slouched in his seat, glaring defiantly at me. I considered him a hopeless case. He just refused to study.

Even today, I cringe when I think of my smug little speech to that class on the first day of school. "I want you children to know that I haven't any favorites," I pointed out from the onset. "You are each individually important to me."

As much as I would have liked, it wasn't totally true. Most teachers have favorites.

Cross Country Hits Finale At Georgetown

By CAROL ATCHLEY

Senior Connie Steele ran her last Cross Country Race as a Cross Plains student on Saturday, November 13, at Southwestern University in Georgetown, outside of Austin. Junior Angy Phillips has another year of competition remaining.

They had quite a send-off as they left school on Friday. The band played; the high school students all gathered around the bus; Jerry Boyd, principal, said a few words; and the girls and Coach Mack McConal were each given special T-shirts expressing good luck wishes from many of the teachers and students.

The two girls qualified for the State Cross Country Meet by finishing in the top 10 at Regional competition several weeks ago. At the State Meet, they ran a two mile course over a grueling, and very hilly golf course on the college campus.

This year, there were 98 Class A girls from all over the state at the starting line. The weather was better than last year, at least it wasn't freezing. There was a strong wind and a bit of humidity this time.

Connie turned in a good time 13:10 (although 9 seconds off her regional pace), which earned her the 14th position out of the group.

Angy's time was 13:30 (28 seconds behind her regional time), claiming position 23.

Coach McConal is extremely proud of these athletes for their hard work and dedication. The Cross Country program has seen runners from Cross Plains qualify for state for the past five consecutive years.

Mail Service Can Improve

By NORMA EVANS
Postmaster

Better, faster mail service between Abilene, Brownwood and Cross Plains may be provided. You may have noticed the handmade signs at the Post Office beginning Monday, November 15. They are for you, the customer, to help measure the amount of mail generated from this facility to any Zip Code beginning with 768, 795 or 796. If we have sufficient volume, a truck will be routed from Abilene, through Clyde, Baird, Cross Plains and Brownwood.

That means your mail going to cities with these Zip Codes will receive next day service instead of the two days they are now requiring. Be sure to separate your mail according to this breakdown to give yourself every chance to measure this volume accurately.

Please bring local mail to the counter or place in the slot labeled ALL OTHER ZIPS. We will continue to receive mail from Fort Worth; the second truck will be an added benefit for mail service between Cross Plains and these nearby communities.

Also, beginning today, November 18, if you will bring your mail for Rising Star, Texas 76471 and Cisco, Texas 76437 to the counter it will receive faster service. Dispatches will be made to the individual towns, rather than traveling all the way to Fort Worth and then returning on the morning truck.

These temporary sorting situations will depend largely on your participation. We want to give you the best possible delivery service, and with your help we can justify those needs; making better and faster service a reality.

Residential Christmas Decorating To Be Judged Dec. 1

You are reminded to get your homes and business Christmas decorations in place as soon as possible. The Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring business decorations with a $50 gift certificate to be awarded and Project Pride is sponsoring the home decorations. Judging will be done on Wednesday evening, December 1.

C.P. Chamber To Assist With Christmas Lights

The Cross Plains Chamber of Commerce will be available to assist any local business who is unable to install their own Christmas lights. Please call the Chamber of Commerce 725-7251 before November 19, if help is required.

STORY

I was no different. On the other side of the coin, there are students that teachers are not particularly fond of either. That year Bobby Lindel fit that bill. To be brutally honest, I disliked him. I marked his test paper with an "F" with relish.

With my busy work schedule, I had neglected to study Bobby's school records. And that's why, when the Christmas holiday season came and the children showered me with gaily wrapped presents, I was surprised when Bobby walked up to my desk and shyly handed me a gift.

The package was rolled in brown wrapping paper and fastened with Scotch tape. When I opened it, a rhinestone bracelet with most of the stones missing and a partially filled bottle of perfume fell on my desk. I was deeply touched.

The children began to giggle, but when I snapped on the bracelet and dabbed some of the perfume behind each of my ears they stopped their outburst. It was if they were reminded of the true spirit of Christmas, and they told Bobby they thought it was a nice gift.

Bobby lingered after the others, and just before he left, he said softly, "Gee, Mrs. Marple, you know you smell like my mom. You look good in her bracelet, too."

I stayed late that night long after the students and other teachers left for the day. I pulled out Bobby's school records.

The notations were heart-breaking — first grade, Bobby is a bright boy, capable of learning, but seems to be troubled. Second grade, Bobby's mother is terminally ill; her illness has devastated Bobby. Third grade, Bobby's mother dies. The notations show that his father is indifferent to him. He will fail if something isn't done.

When I finished reading, my cheeks were wet with tears. Here was a little boy who desperately needed someone to care. I didn't need to think twice about being that someone. For a short time we had left together. I gave Bobby special attention and affection he badly needed.

I lost track of Bobby when he left my class. But one day, several years later, I received a short note from him. It read, "Dear Mrs. Marple, I graduated from high school. I was second in my class. I wanted you to be the first to know."

And then a number of years later, I received a second letter from Bobby. "Dear Mrs. Marple," he wrote, "I have just finished medical school. I graduated first in my class. Robert Lindel, M.D."

"P.S. I am getting married on the 16th of this month. Since you are all the family I have (Dad died last year), would you honor me at the wedding by sitting in the pew reserved for my mother? Love, Bobby."

This "Lump-In-The-Throat Story," is provided by your P.T.O. (Parent Teacher Organization). We are proud of the teachers we are privileged to have within our school district. They work long and hard hours with little or no recognition. Please, take the time to say, "Thank you for teaching my child, I appreciate you."

County To Change Tax Attorneys

Callahan County Commissioners have agreed to terminate the county's contract with the law firm of Calame, Lineberger, Graham & Pena for collecting delinquent taxes in Callahan County.

The action was taken Monday, November 8 during the regular monthly meeting of the commissioner's court.

Commissioners voted 4-0 to give notification by letter to terminate, within 30 days, the delinquent tax attorney's contract with Callahan County.

Callahan County Judge Bill Johnson said the law firm has been the county's delinquent tax collection attorney for over three years. "The commissioners felt it was time for a change," Judge Johnson said referring to the commissioner's court decision.

Johnson said he believes Callahan County will have no problem in getting out of the contract agreement with the law firm. "We can get out of the contract agreement as long as we give 30 days notice," Judge Johnson said, which the commissioner's court has begun to do.

Judge Johnson said commissioners are considering using the law firm of McCarty, Veselka, Bragg & Allen to collect the county's delinquent taxes. Judge Johnson said the law firm, headquartered in Austin, has a legal assistant, Scott Howard, who resides in Clyde. It is believed Howard would do some of the delinquent tax collections work for Callahan County if the commissioners do indeed agree to go with the new law firm.

"There is no difference in the price of collections," between the two law firms, Judge Johnson said.

Johnson said the law firm the commissioners are considering to contract with is familiar with delinquent tax collections. The judge said McCarty, Veselka, Bragg & Allen does the delinquent tax collections for the Central Appraisal District in Taylor County.

Other items brought before the commissioner's court meeting included: —Commissioners voted unanimously to delete two proposed flood structures in Callahan County as per the request of Soil Conservation Service District Conservationist Clint Rollins. Rollins requested the deletion because the funding for the proposed flood control structures was not approved. The commissioners also set Tuesday, November 9 as the date for the commissioner's annual tour of the flood control sites in Callahan County.

—Commissioners held a lengthy meeting with Belle Plain resident John Young in regards to a roadway going to his property located in the Belle Plain community. Young requested the county maintain the roadway. In research of records by the county attorney, commissioners voted not to maintain the roadway because it is not a county road. The road in question is located in Commissioner Joe Ingram's Precinct #4.

—Commissioners arranged for pick up of the federal government food commodities for distribution program for Callahan County.

—Commissioners voted at 10:55 a.m. to enter into an executive session to discuss a letter received from a county employee concerning the employee's pay check. The commissioner's court reconvened back into open session at 11:17 a.m. Commissioners then voted unanimously to leave the employee's pay as is at the present time.

—Commissioners voted to canvass the Callahan County votes from the November 2, 1993 Amendment Special Election held.

The lack of involvement of some dads with their children is illustrated with this story: Dad has consented to take care of the children one night so Mom could have a long overdue "night out." At bedtime he sent the youngsters upstairs to bed and settled down to read. One child kept creeping back down the stairs only to hear a sharp "Get back upstairs and go to bed!" About 9 p.m. the doorbell rang and it was the next-door neighbor, Mrs. Jones. She asked, "Is my son over here?" "Why NO!" the father replied — but just then a little head appeared over the stairs' banister and a voice shouted, "Yes I am, Mom — but he won't let me come home!"

Well, that may sound a little "far fetched" — but in some instances, not so! It would surprise some of us to know how few minutes we actually spend in a very personal way with the other members of our family — especially us fathers with our children. And yet the Heavenly Father says, "You fathers, nurture (bring them up) your children in the chastening and admonition of the Lord," Ephesians 6:4b.

Father, do we really know where our children are? Spiritually? Emotionally? Even physically?!

Come learn and work with us toward building stronger and better families — including family relationships and communication. We really do care about you and your family too!

1993 Mall Magic Event 'Island Adventure'

By PATRICIA COOK

"ISLAND ADVENTURE" at Heartland Mall, was celebrated by two Cross Plains Brownie Troops #213 and #214. Over two hundred and fifty participants were whisked away to the tropical isles for this overnight event November 6 and 7. Each troop participated in a variety of games throughout the island. Each girl made her own hula skirts, leis, sun catchers, sand creations, designed exotic fish bowls, games, and making service projects for the mall merchants, and the elderly.

The infamous parade and lip-synch contest was held and the girls, as well as the leaders, enjoyed the fun-filled antics of other troops as they performed songs like: Beach Boys' "Surfin' USA" and Elvis Presley Hawaiian tunes. Each girl present for this event received a gift from the mall merchants, along with door prizes provided by service units in the area.

The activities of the evening were so that the girls who brought sleeping bags in which to sleep did so after all events, and prizes were completed and awarded, the time 3:35 a.m. Many leaders and girls collapsed for the evening only to receive a generous 3 hours of sleep. Breakfast was served prior to their departure for home.

I know this leader, which had no sleep, was anxiously awaiting the dawn signaling time for departure. Fun was enjoyed by all girls and leaders, and is an event these participants will treasure all of their lives. For one weekend they spent in a "MALL," and didn't spend a cent.

Cross Plains Sophomore, Jeremy Barnett, and Junior, Leah King, were the two lucky students this past six weeks whose names were drawn for two free tickets to the Brooks and Dunn Concert held on Saturday, November 13, in Abilene. In addition to the concert, they were also treated to a dinner at Chili's. The two students became eligible for the drawing by earning an A average in their classes and an A in citizenship from all classes. This award is sponsored by the faculty site-based committee at the high school. Coach Boyd and Chandra Scott accompanied the students on their outing.

Boys Basketball

By COACH BILL BOYD

Last Saturday, the Cross Plains boys basketball team traveled to Santo to have a scrimmage. All twenty-two boys who went saw action. The score was erased at the end of each quarter and the Buffaloes won every quarter but one. I felt like for having three practices everything went pretty good. We passed the ball well, shot it pretty good, and hustled well. Our weakness was defense and rebounding. Santo is a running team and so are we, so there was not a lot of opportunity to set up our offense. This basketball has an opportunity to be pretty good. Like all basketball teams, they will be as good as their defense and rebounding!

We have a schedule change for this Friday night. We will travel to Albany and play a J.V. game at 6:00 p.m. with the Varsity to follow. This change is due to Rising Star making the football playoffs. This should be good for this ball club to play such good competition in its first two games.

The following people are representing our school for the upcoming basketball season:

- Seniors — Kelly Barclay, Brandon Finn, Jason Fleming, Rodney Rudloff, and Kevin Switzer.
 - Juniors — Dustin Bowden, Tim Campbell, Jared Harris, Chris Potter, Matt Reed, Terry Shults, and Mike Tollett.
 - Sophomores — Clint Connelly, Donnie Dillard, and Brock Walker.
 - Freshmen — Jeremy Barnett, Jason Carey, John Cheshier, Sean Jones, Hugo Mauricio, Porcius Potter, Justin Richey, and Lee Wayne Wheeler.
 - Managers — Leah King and Brandi Adams.
 - Video — Chris Rios and Jarrod Potter.
- GAME CHANGE — The J.V. and Varsity girls game against Rising Star has been moved to Saturday, with the J.V. starting at 12:00 p.m. and the Varsity at 1:30 p.m. See you at Rising Star!

BURKETT NEWS

By LOVERA STRICKLAND

There is a brisk north wind blowing and it is trying to rain. I guess that makes it a good time to try to get some Burkett News in the paper.

Don Tinney and friend, Richard of Lefors, spent a few days visiting Lat Mountain and Jack and Lovera Strickland.

Lanette Burns spent the weekend in Lubbock visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bill Young and family.

Alvin Hutchins is back on the route carrying the mail. He almost had pneumonia, so he was off work several days.

Others on the sick list are W.B. Bludworth, Lillian Brown, Lat Mountain, Cleo Porter, Billy Paul Golsen, Lucille Cross, Wilda Tomlinson, and Ray Martin. We hope they get to feeling better real soon.

Cross Plains EMS EMT Class Begins January 10, 1994

The Cross Plains Emergency Medical Service annual EMT class will start January 10, 1994 and end around the last of April or the first of May. The class will be 155 hours of credit: 70 hours of classroom lecture, 51 hours of skills, 34 hours of clinical, and 5 emergency ambulance runs. The 34 clinical hours will be 24 hours of emergency room, 5 hours of OB, and 5 hours of ICU, performed at Hendrick Medical Center, Brownwood Regional Medical Center, or Abilene Regional Medical Center.

Ambulance Internship will be with Brownwood Medivac Ambulance Service and the Cross Plains EMS Ambulance. Extrication skills will be held on a Saturday. The State EMT Test will be scheduled for May or June of 1994 by the Texas Department of Health.

The cost will be $50.00 for textbook and workbook, $150.00 for liability insurance, and $100.00 for the course itself. All fees must be paid before a course completion certificate will be issued. Books must be paid for on or before registration night. Monthly payments may be arranged. After one year of service on the Cross Plains EMS, these fees will be reimbursed to the students and an EMS Jacket awarded to each. This is a college level course sponsored by the Cross Plains EMS.

The course is coordinated and taught by Rolan Jones under the regulations of the Texas Department of Health.

This announcement is to determine the number of students, in regard to ordering textbooks, equipment and supplies. This class will be limited to 20 students, with people who will volunteer on the Cross Plains EMS given preference.

If you want to take the class please contact Betty Lewis at 725-7456.

MINUTE MUSINGS

By ESTHLOY S. DICKSON

This is a beautiful Monday morning. However, I could easily be depressed by viewing my leaf crop all over the place. My little mother used to tell me to 'just wait' until they are all fallen off. When I was much younger, I just loved raking leaves.

My good neighbors, Sally Roady, didn't answer this morning. I'm sure they are all okay — they were in church on Sunday morning. They have a lot of family connections here.

Betty Beggs is so kind — helping me with this column. They have been busy with the peanut crop. On Saturday, they went to De Leon to find trailer parts. Mr. and Mrs. L.W. Mitchell visited them one day. They picked up pecans — also made some jelly. Betty attended the Pioneer Quilting Club on Tuesday.

Helen Tillotson didn't have any special news this morning, however, I always enjoy my chat with her. She is always cheerful.

My neighbor, Jewel Foster, looked great in Sunday School and Church on Sunday. She is always optimistic — and cheerful. She didn't have any special news this morning.

I had a nice chat with my friend, Lucile Callaway. She is just like family to me. She reported that a mutual friend of ours is having heart surgery soon.

My friend, Mrs. 'Tuff' (Ferne) Hutchins, gave me a picture of their son, Jay, and me — made a long time ago — I don't remember where or when. It is a good picture, and I appreciate having it.

We received a note from Ray and Lucille Martin. Ray has started his treatments and so far is doing okay. They said they sure did enjoy hearing from their friends. If you want to send them a card or letter, their address is: Ray and Lucille Martin, Warren Inn, 3400 Magic Drive #95, San Antonio, TX 78229.

Eureta and Jody Whitley of San Saba spent the weekend with Lat Mountain.

Bill and Shirley Hunter were in Ranger Sunday visiting his mother, Ruby Hunter.

Andrew and Doris Walker were in Abilene Monday. Doris went to her doctor's and she got a real good report. They also attended the Coleman VFW Musical last Friday.

The Ladies Bible Study group meet at Yuna V. Burkett's home every Tuesday morning at 9:00 a.m. Anyone wishing to join them are welcome.

Birdie and Gill Helms were in Brownwood shopping Monday.

Lovera Strickland attended a Postmaster's Leadership meeting last Wednesday afternoon.

Cost-of-living Raise for Vets—The House of Representatives has approved a 2.6 percent cost-of-living raise for the 2.2 million Veterans receiving compensation for disabilities resulting from military service.

The bill provides a cost-of-living adjustment, or COLA, based on the estimated rate of inflation. The new payment rates would go into effect December 1, 1993.

It also raises compensation rates for widows and children of Veterans who died of service-connected causes by 2.6 percent.

Agent Orange Illnesses—Secretary of Veterans Affairs Jesse Brown recently (September 27) announced that President Clinton has approved a decision awarding Vietnam Veterans suffering from respiratory cancers (lung, larynx and trachea) and multiple myeloma (a cancer involving the bone marrow) disability payments based on presumed exposure to Agent Orange and other herbicides. The ruling affects Veterans and survivors with an estimated cost of $350 million over the next five years (1994-1998).

Ischemic Heart Disease—Secretary of Veterans Affairs Jesse Brown recently announced that VA will amend its regulations to allow the department to award compensation to former prisoners of war with a history of edema due to beriberi who subsequently develop ischemic heart disease.

Since passage in 1981 of the Former Prisoner of War Benefits Act (Public Law 97-37), VA has presumed that beriberi, including beriberi heart disease, in former POWs who were incarcerated for at least 30 days is service-related. The amendment to the

ASCS NEWS

If farmers want to retain eligibility for 1994 USDA benefits, Scott Odom, County Executive Director of the Callahan County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), says it is important for them to know before planting next year's crops, whether the land has had a highly erodible land (HEL) determination made by the Soil Conservation Service (SCS).

"Farmers also must know whether crops to be planted on acreage that has been determined as highly erodible are permitted by a signed conservation plan," said Odom.

He said producers should contact ASCS immediately if they need an HEL determination, or do not know conservation plan requirements on all their land that in 1994 will either be planted to annually tilled crop, or designated as conservation uses or acreage conservation reserve.

"Once a crop is planted in violation of HEL requirements it is too late for the farmer to be eligible for 1994 USDA benefits."

By completing an AD-1026 certification for highly erodible land and reviewing maps, farmers will have information to decide whether SCS determinations are necessary, or they may contact SCS concerning details of their conservation plan.

"We want to work with producers to help them maintain their 1994 eligibility for USDA benefits. However, it is up to the farmer to be informed before planting so violations can be avoided," ASCS official Odom said.

Eligibility for participation in all programs administered by ASCS is established by law without regard to race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, marital status, physical or mental handicap, political affiliation, or sponsorship club.

Friends Reune

A rather most unique and momentous reunion took place on Saturday, November 6, 1993, in the home of Ray Dunn of Abilene. For the first time in almost 40 years, a group of friends got together to reminisce and enjoy a good meal.

The four ladies were friends in Cottonwood, Texas some forty-odd years ago. The guests included Wilma Burton of Anson and daughter, Ann Patton of Odessa; Myrtle Dunn and son, Ray Dunn, both from Abilene; Leona Spivey of Bronte; and Amy Albrecht of Cottonwood and her daughters, Jeannie Foller of Cottonwood, Margaret Price of Strawn, and Judy Shugart of Clyde.

They reported having so much fun, they hope to repeat it soon.

Softer Oil Better For Your Heart

Margarine and other artificial fats are often made by treating vegetable with hydrogen. Processing oils into a harder form changes the chemical structure. Several studies indicate that the rearranged fatty acids seem to raise LDL cholesterol linked with heart disease. Watch out for "partially hydrogenated" vegetable oils on food labels.
