Young Farmers Stockmen Meet

Several of the young farmers and stockmen of the Baird area met with E. L. Reese, vocational agriculture teacher, Tuesday night of this week. The purpose of this meeting was to determine whether or not the young men wished to organize a Young Farmer's Chapter here.

After discussion of the purpose of this movement it was decided that chapter could prove worthwhile in bringing new information to men of this area; in serving as a place for the solving of some of the problems connected with farming and ranching; and perhaps as a trading place for livestock and farm products.

Those in attendance elected to meet Monday, Sept. 24 at which time officers will be elected and plans of organization will be set up. Prior to that date they will attempt to contact and invite all of those who are interested in this movement to attend the September 24th meeting.

Those in attendance at the Tuesday meeting were Ocle McQueen, O. B. Spence, Sonny Betcher, Charles Waggoner, Joe Waggoner, Bobby Henley, Tom Ivey, and Reese.

Bears-Robert Lee On Foreign Soil

You can add Tuesday afternoon's practice scrimmage to last week's football results and see victory for Baird's Bulldogs over Robert Lee Friday night.

Last Friday Robert Lee beat Lueders 46-0. Tuesday afternoon the Bulldogs scrimmaged against Lueders and were more than 46 points better than the alleged opposition.

Downs were not counted. Lueders was given the ball. They ran perhaps 20 plays in 30 minutes and scarcely made a first down against the Bulldogs with Coach Jeffreys constantly juggling the personnel of the team on the field.

Then Baird was given the ball for an offensive workout and on about four plays out of five the ball carrier broke past the secondary and was stopped only by the whistle.

Last week the Bulldogs held Cross Plains scoreless through the first half only to lose 20-0.

What Is Fallout?

FACTORS AFFECTING FALLOUT distribution over countryside downward from a nuclear blast are the size of the earth particles carrying the radioactivity, their altitude and the speed and direction of the wind. Generally, the wind direction of the wind which would dominate the direction of fallout would be the strong, usually west-to-east winds at about 40,000 feet. For this reason, the Federal Civil Defense Administration warns that only weather experts, with their methods of tracking high-altitude winds, can predict with reasonable accuracy the area to be affected by fallout. Data with radiation monitoring instruments are also required to determine whether an area is "safe" from radio active fallout after a nuclear attack. (FCDA Photos)

Callahan Farmers and Ranchers Borrowing Approaches Million

Loans made by the federal government to Callahan County Farmers and ranchers through the Farmers Home Administration will approximate three quarters of a million dollars, Herschel A. Lynch, supervisor, estimated this week.

With the expansion and liberalization of the program, this figure will very likely be exceeded, he said.

"In the past we have not been permitted to make loans to part time farmers," Lynch said. "No we can make such loans and this new authority is very important during the drought to farmers who are working at part time jobs to augment their farm incomes."

The new law provides broader authority to assist family-type farmers with loans to improve and operate their farms. It also authorizes, as a part of the Rural Development program, loans for operating and developing farms where the farmer has part-time employment off the farm. Included in the broader authority are loans for refinancing existing debts and an increase in the maximum amount that can be advanced for operating loans.

All county office staffs of the agency have been brought up to date on these changes at meetings held throughout the state, and will begin operating under the new authorities and policies on September 4.

Types of loans which can now be made include:

1. Operating loans to full-time farmers. Initial operating loans may be made in amounts up to $10,000 to one borrower, with subsequent loans authorized up to $20,000 as long as the total amount of indebtedness does not exceed $20,000. Operating loans are used for the purchase of equipment, livestock, or to refinance debts owed on equipment and livestock, and for fertilizer, seed and other farm and home operating expenses needed to carry out efficient farming operations on family-type farms. Interest is at the rate of five percent, and these loans are repayable over a period up to seven years. The new law increased from $7,000 to $10,000 the amount of the initial loan; from $10,000 to $20,000 the limitation on the indebtedness and set a period of 10 years for the period during which additional credit can be extended in hardship cases when the inability of the borrower to repay his indebtedness within 7 years was due to causes beyond his control. Under the former law no new credit could be extended to borrowers who have been indebted continuously for 7 years.

2. Farm Ownership Loans. These loans are made for the purchase, enlargement, or development of family-type farms, and to refinance existing debts for farmers who have adequate real estate security but who are unable to meet present credit obligations and need credit on more favorable terms. Payments are scheduled according to the ability of the borrower to repay, up to 40 years. Insured loans are made from funds provided by private lenders. The loans bear 3 1/2 percent interest, plus a one percent insurance charge. In the past, the agency has only refinanced existing real estate debts, and then only when the refinancing was incidental to the making of a real estate loan for purchase or improvement of family-type farms.

3. Farm Housing Loans. These are made for the construction and repair of farm houses and other farm buildings, including farmstead water supplies. Interest for four percent on the outstanding principal, and repayments may be scheduled over periods up to 33 years, with the loan secured by a deed of trust on the borrower's farm. This loan program was reactivated in May of this year.

4. Soil and Water Conservation Loans. Made to carry out measures for soil conservation, water development, conservation and use, and farm drainage. Individuals can borrow up to $25,000 for these purposes. Interest and insurance charges are 4 1/2 percent with repayments scheduled according to the borrower's ability to pay, up to 20 years.

5. Loans to part-time farmers. These are designed to help farmers in areas designated for the Rural Development program, who are unable to obtain enough land resources to develop full-time farms. Loans may be made for operating and developing less than family-type farms, if the applicants are established bona-fide farmers who have historically resided on farms and depend on farm income for their livelihood, and who are conducting substantial farming operations and spending a major portion of their time farming. Such operators must have dependable sources of outside income. When such loans are made for operating expense, they bear interest at five percent and are repayable over periods up to seven years. Loans for real estate development bear interest of 4 1/2 percent and are repayable over periods of up to forty years.

6. Special Livestock loans. Initial loans of this type will be available until July 14, 1957, and loans to indebted borrowers can be made until July 14, 1959. Such loans are made to help established producers of cattle, sheep and goats maintain their normal operations. Loans are made for replacement livestock and for purchase and production of feed and for other operating expense. Interest is five percent and loans are repayable in one to three years. They are not made to pay existing debts.

7. Emergency loans. These are made to enable farmers to continue normal operations but not to refinance existing indebtedness. They bear interest at the rate of three percent. Ordinarily loans secured by liens on chattel property are scheduled for repayment within one to five years. Loans for crop production are due when the crop is harvested.

Eligibility for all types of loan assistance available is determined by a three-man county Farmers Home Administration committee.

Farmers Home Administration credit supplements but does not replace other credit sources. Loans are made only when the applicant is unable to obtain credit from private or cooperative sources of credit. While Farmers Home Administration requires less security than is usually required by other lenders, no loan is made unless it appears that the loan can be repaid.

Auto Inspection Time Here Again

The Texas Public Safety Commission has set Sept. 15, 1956 to April 15, 1957, as the period during which automobiles and other motor vehicles must be inspected under provisions of the State's Motor Vehicle Inspection law.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said in announcing the commission's action that motorists should avail themselves of the opportunity to have their autos inspected as soon after Sept. 15 as possible in order to avoid the inconvenience and delay which is usually associated with the end of the seven-month period by the log jam of car owners who wait until just before the deadline to have their vehicles safety checked.

Years ago people thought tuberculosis was a hopeless, hereditary disease. Today we know that TB is not inherited and that it can be cured.

Roughage Order Serves as Check

The purchase certificates issued to farmers and ranchers for roughage are actually checks against the federal government, and are to be used as checks in part payment for roughage purchased and delivered, Herschel A. Lynch, county supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration explained.

The farmer or rancher merely fills out the appropriate part of the certificate and gives it to the dealer from whom he buys his roughage. The dealer, in turn, fills out that part of the certificate that applies to him. He then presents it to any bank for payment as he would an ordinary check.

To date, Lynch said, applications for 44,785 tons of roughage have been made by Callahan County ranchers and farmers. Applications for 24,203 tons have been approved and the others will be acted upon immediately, he said.

Lynch added that applications have been approved for 4,852,211 pounds of grain under the emergency drought feed program.

The federal government pays $7.50 on each ton of roughage, and $1 on each 100 pounds of grain.

Bareback Riding

HIGH ABOVE THE HARD GROUND the bareback rider clings tenuously to the simple hand hold between his legs that is his only way of sticking on the horse. Without halter or rein, the horse is completely uncontrolled, can do anything possible to rid himself of the rider. Without a saddle to help him keep his seat or stirrups to take part of the shock of the bucking and help him keep his balance, the rider in this rodeo event is at a definite disadvantage.

Gwendola Hagar Weds Clyde Antwine

A public wedding ceremony in the Clyde Church of Christ at 8 p. m. Saturday united Gwendola LaVerne Hagar and Clyde Edward Antwine of Fort Worth in marriage. Holland L. Boring Jr., associate minister at Brownfield, pronounced the vows.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hagar are parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Antwine of Fort Worth.

An archway entwined with white gladioli and greenery formed the setting. Gothic candelabra were accented by palm ferns. A duet of B. B. Stevens of Abilene and Vicki Barnett of Grand Prairie and a male quartet from Abilene Christian College presented nuptial music.

Gloria Forester was maid of honor and Kathleen Hagar, sister of the bride, and Jeannie Parnell of Sacramento, Calif., were bridesmaids. Junior bridesmaid was Rita Harper. The maid of honor wore a frock of sky blue antique taffeta designed with square neckline and long torso. A bustle accented the flared skirt. She carried a cluster of white asters. The other attendants were dressed similarly in a darker shade of blue. They carried clusters of blue asters.

CLYDE SCHOOL DESTROYED BY FIRE

The Clyde Public School Building was completely destroyed by fire at an early hour Wednesday. When discovered about 2 o'clock the fire ad spread all over the building. The Clyde Fire Department quickly responded but realized that it was impossible to have anything in the building and they could do no more than try and save the adjoining buildings. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Plans were under foot before the embers died away, to get a new building started, so that same might be ready for occupancy by the time of the Fall Opening of School.

Rain fell last week in measurable amounts around over this country which made farmers and ranchers very happy, but the amounts were from a trace to little better than an inch.

Many of you remember how the lightning flashed and the roaring clouds were near by, and so does Elbert Crawford remember how he got the bruise on his jaw. He had gone to bed near a window especially to watch the cloud and nap a little, and suddenly one of those jet planes zipped by while he was napping, so you can just imagine his excitement, well your reporter can for I heard the same one, but escaped without any bruises.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Barron and son, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Whitely visited in our home the past week.

Elsie and Claude Lehew, formerly of the Denton Valley Community who now live at Socorro, N. M. and West Texas, were business visitors in this area and made a few pop calls. Don't suppose they came to Texas for something to eat, but Texans went to Farmington, N. M. for a load of fresh peaches.

I'd like to say to the Texans, Esker and Edgar Crawford, and Walter Connell to go back and bring home the beans.

Rev. Aubrey McAuley had lunch today with Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. Crawford and Lynda enjoyed having their son and family visit them Saturday night. Dale, Betty and son Roger told about their trip to Almagarda, N. M. which sounded very interesting, but I think of this as a honeymoon for when they married they were both working and this is the first time they had a chance to go any place, so they really enjoyed visiting with her brother and family, Jimmy Rogers, and touring the mountains.

Tuberculosis is easiest to cure when it is found in an early stage and treatment is begun immediately.

"Mr. President"—State Fair Art Feature

Portraits and sculptures of all 33 presidents of the United States and some of the nation's first ladies will be displayed by the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts in its "Mr. President" exhibition during the 1956 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 6-21. To be included in the show are (above) the famous "Porthole" portraits of George and Martha Washington, flanking the bronze model of "Lincoln Seated", from which the monumental statue in the Lincoln Memorial at Washington, D. C., was reproduced.

INJUNCTIONS, MANDAMUS ARE SPECIAL REMEDIES

Sometimes you see newspaper stories telling how various courts have issued "injunctions" to protect the owner of a patent from infringement, to stop someone from putting up a building which would be a hazard to the neighbors, or to prevent some other type of activity which might harm one or more persons. Occasionally you read where a "writ of mandamus" has been directed against some public official. This column will briefly explain both of these extraordinary legal remedies.

The injunction got its name because in the old days the English king commanded ("enjoined") special action when an ordinary court action could not solve a problem at hand. Today it is an order requiring a person (or corporation) to refrain from doing a particular act.

As a rule, one would first get a "Temporary Restraining Order" which would stop someone from doing something harmful—like polluting a stream or annoying the peace of your home.
By granting it the judge preserves the status quo until a hearing has been held to hear both sides of the controversy.
Usually, if you want an injunction, your lawyer will take sworn statements into court to show that your grievance is one which could be taken care of only by an injunction.

Often you must put up a bond to make up for any damage you do the other side if the court doesn't see things your way.
After you've made your request, the court arranges to hear the other side. They must "show cause" why the injunction should not be issued. Because most injunctions deal with immediate problems, the court hears the merits of such a case in a very short time.

After the temporary injunction is issued, a "permanent" injunction may be obtained or either party may start a lawsuit to settle the problems which the temporary injunction has cleared up for the moment.

If the court grants an in-junction, it must be served on the defendant to be effective. Then if he disobeys the order, he is disobeying the court and is subject to a fine or a jail term for "contempt of court."

"Mandamus" is a special remedy used to right wrongs or enforce proper action by a public officer.

When we elect public officers to work for us, we place a great deal of authority in their hands.
Sometimes they fail to do their lawful duty. One way to make a government official do his job is to ask the court for a writ of mandamus.

Suppose you have applied for a permit to build a house under a city building code. You submit your plans which meet all the requirements of the code but the proper official won't give you the permit and you can't get one elsewhere. You can then ask the court for a writ of mandamus and if you were right and the building official had no grounds for refusal, the court will order

Baird FFA Elects
New Officers

"The Baird Chapter of Future Farmers of America will come to order!" These were the words that opened the Baird Chapter for business Wednesday afternoon. Among the first business of course was the election of officers. Officers elected for the coming year were: Claxton Jay President; James Warren, Vice-President; Carrol Taylor, Sentinel; Joe Lynn, Adult Reporter; George Lamber, Treasurer; and Clayton Joy, Secretary. Plans are being made for trips to judging contests and especially for the trip to the State Fair of Texas, Oct. 6.

G. I. DENTISTS

For the fiscal year ended June 30, 1955, the Army Dental Corps reported that its dentists had installed 3,372,372 permanent fillings for GIs, extracted 1,101,024 teeth and installed 99,117 partial dentures and 14,079 fixed bridges.

him to issue the permit.
Before the court will issue such a strong command as this, the officer must have refused to do clear cut legal duty — not something that he may or may not have to do as part of his job.

Mexican Mission To Host District Meet

The Mexican Baptist Mission will host a WMU District Conference September 20-21, with the WMU President and other State Convention officials present.

State officials are: Isabell Estrada, president; Martha Ellis, Young People's Secretary; Esther B. Moye, Secretary.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

From fiscal 1951 through 1956 (if the current spending rate continues), the cost of rearming for the jet-atomic age will be about $528,500,000,000. This period also includes the years of the Korean War. High defense officials estimate that spending for military defense over the 15-year period extending to 1956 may total more than $500,000,- 000,000 even with the nation at peace.

Stop For School Bus
Education Head Says

J. W. Edgar, state commissioner of education, has again warned the driving public of the law requiring vehicles to come to a stop, then proceed carefully, before passing a school bus.

The law says, in effect, that upon meeting or overtaking from either direction a school bus which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging children, the driver shall stop immediately before passing, then proceed with due caution at a speed which his prudent and does not exceed ten miles per hour. The law does not apply within city limits.

Vehicles are not required to stop on highways with separate roadways when the bus is on a different roadway from that of a passing vehicle. Vehicles are not required to stop if the school bus is stopped in a loading zone which is part of or adjacent to a controlled-access highway and where pedestrians are not permitted to cross the roadway.

Edgar said motorists can identify a school bus easily because "SCHOOL BUS" appears in large letter across the front and rear of each bus. "All public school buses are painted in a uniform yellow color and trimmed in black," he pointed out. "School buses are equipped with flasher lights front and rear and usually mounted high on the bus. Flash-ers are used only when the bus is in the process of stopping or is stopped to receive or discharge children."
