Usefulness In Big and Lesser Things

There is a completeness about the usefulness of this bank that is gratifying and comforting. It involves larger service for the important needs and minor service in the lesser things that contribute to the customer's satisfaction and profit.

BRYANT MOVES TO FORT WORTH

Tom Bryant, with his family, moved to Fort Worth the first of this week. They will place their boys in school and live temporarily until the opening of the present school. They still retain their household equipment. Tom will be present in local business interests the greater portion of his time. Tom has been active and successful in allied gas developments in this locality for the past years and his operations were a chief factor in the discovery of the surrounding oil fields. Tom will be keenly missed during his temporary sojourn in the city.

REV. WILL HOGG SUFFERS ANOTHER INJURY

Will Hogg, Evangelist, who held a revival here several weeks ago, returned to his home, in Memphis, Tenn., after a meeting in Rising Star, and suffered from a nervous breakdown. After almost recovering the nurses, at the hospital in Memphis, allowed him to take a walk alone. This being against the rules, however. He had another attack and fell into a ditch which was filled with water. Time passed, and when he did not show up, a search was made for him. He was found two hours later unconscious and nearly frozen in the ditch, with only his head striking out.

ATTENTION, P. T. A.

There will be a social meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association on Wednesday, Jan. 30th. A short program will be rendered. This will be followed by a parcels post sale, which means for you to bring a little change in your pocket book and have some fun. We can all do better work when we know each other, so come and let's get acquainted, 4:00 o'clock.

WILL VACATE CITY MARSHAL OFFICE

The employment of a city marshal for Cross Plains will be discontinued at the end of this month unless a change is made in a decision reached by the city council at its last meeting. As a matter of economy in the face of a shortage of funds for the purpose and the belief that there is no urgent need of a regular city marshal under present conditions, are given by Mayor Neeb as reasons for suspension of the officer. The regular services of a night watchman, combined with the presence of a deputy supplied from the sheriff's office, whose duties are consigned chiefly to this town and locality, is believed by the city council will provide ample police protection. However, should conditions change or anything develop to make more apparent the need of a regular city marshal such an officer will be employed immediately. Such funds as are made available by the suspension of the marshal's office will be applied on streets and other public improvements, we are informed by the mayor.

W. T. Hamilton, coming to us from DeLeon, and who has been employed as city marshal for the past year, has proven himself one of the most efficient officers, and received the most universal praise for properly performing his duty than any similar officer the city has ever had. He intelligently enforced the city laws at the start, and to that lesson alone may be attributed the apparent absence of the need of a city marshal under present conditions. We hope, should the office of city marshal be again needed, which will assuredly be the case, that it will be offered to him, and that he will be in a position to accept the employment.

It is not the unpleasant deed of punishing people who violate the laws that satisfies, but men who can teach people to respect the laws and avert punishment should ever be in demand.

R. E. FRAZIER SELECTED PRESIDENT TO MEET IN ABILENE NEXT

Having obtained prize money for his first State-wide band contest to be held at the State Fair of Texas, the Texas Band Teachers Association closed its two-day meeting with the re-election of all officers and the naming of Abilene as the 1930 convention city Saturday morning at the Baker Hotel.

Officers are R. E. Frazier, Cross Plains, president; Paul James Waco, vice-president; and Ralph W. Beck, Dallas, secretary. Divisional officers were named as follows: Eastern, R. J. Dunn, College Station, president; Nat Hughes, Waco, vice-president; Everett McCracken, Waco, secretary-treasurer; Western, Paul James James, Abilene, president; Ernest Pogue, San Benito, vice president; D. O. Wiley Abilene, secretary-treasurer; Southern, H. J. Neihaus, Karnes City, president; J. J. Maugh, Houston, vice president; and William Evans, Uvalde, secretary-treasurer.

A proposal to exclude Dallas bands from the contest at the State Fair of Texas was voted down by the association. Mr. Frazier announced that a committee would be appointed soon to work out plans for the contest, for which State Fair Association will offer $10,000 in prizes.

The band of the North Texas Junior Agricultural College, Arlington, was heard in a concert during the morning. Earl Irons was the leader. Dean E. C. Dickey of the college announced that a school for high school band members will be held next summer at the college. —The Dallas Morning News.

MRS MARY BELL PINKSTON

Mrs. Mary Bell Pinkston died at her home near Pioneer early last Friday morning. She was more than eighty-six years of age, having been born in Arkansas the 26th of November, 1842. She had lived in Texas the greater portion of her life and the last seventeen years at Pioneer. She was the mother of seven children, two of whom are dead.

Those who survive her are J. R. W. H. D. E., Mrs. Eugene Bolton, and Mrs. Lucy Duncan, all of whom live near Pioneer.

Funeral services were conducted at the Pioneer cemetery, where she was laid to rest late Friday afternoon, by Rev. A. E. Hill, pastor of the Baptist Church of Cross Plains.

MANY ARRESTS NOT HAVING CAR LICENSE

A number of arrests have been made in Cross Plains this week for driving without having the new 1929 auto license. Our advice to all is to not take chances on the probability of the law not being enforced and play safe for travel throughout the State by possession of the new license tag. The fact that the law has been more lenient and not strictly enforced in some counties than it is in others, may be the responsibility of the State highway officer, as reported, in giving instructions to begin enforcement at different times in the various counties, or it may be an agreement by county officers, in keeping with a former custom, to await enforcement until the first of February. However may be the situation it has led to a degree of confusion and caused a number of non-resident fines. The sheriff's office in this county received instructions to make arrests some ten days ago, and it is not altogether fair to blame the deputy officers for complying with the instructions.

The Cross Plains Lion Club, at its meeting this week, expressed a sentiment favoring a more lenient enforcement as it applies to travelers and visitors from other localities, believing it would result in an adverse opinion concerning the liberality of the city and an exception when compared to that of other towns.

LOCAL DIRECTOR HEADS T. B. A.

R. E. (Pop) Frazier has returned from the Band Teachers Convention in Dallas, where he was again unanimously elected President of The Texas Band Teachers Association. Pop reports many wonderful achievements of the association during this convention and states that the association has arranged a wonderful program for band contests in all age classes this year with exceptionally nice purses for each class.

Pop comes back with new pep and determination and says that the band will soon be perfected and that they will soon be ready to play for all occasions, and that with the children that are to be promoted from the school to the regular band we can have 35 to 40 pieces in our band by the time spring opens for outdoor concerts.

We are extremely fortunate to secure a band director of Mr. Frazier's ability and experience and the town should congratulate itself on having him with his splendid family as citizens, and when we consider Pop's wonderful success with the Breckenridge High School Band, where he won the State prize for four successive years, we can only realize part of the possibilities in the near future for our city and community. Now if everyone will stand by and assist the Band and boost it all you can you may rest assured that Cross Plains will be greatly benefited.

CHILD LOSES TEETH IN AUTO WRECK

Wednesday afternoon of last week while returning home from the school a few miles west of Cross Plains the car driven by Dalton Gould and occupied by three other children, from some cause quit the road, throwing all the children from car. The other children in the car were the two Merriman boys and their little sister. None of them were seriously injured, but the little Merriman girl lost five teeth in the mishap. The car did not turn over. Dalton is a son of Jay Gould, who lives on Route One.

Concerning vacating the city marshal's office, as viewed from a standpoint of economy, some have suggested that the present incumbent be retained, and also be made ex-officio street commissioner, city collector and treasurer, which would include the collection of the water and sewage fund and the city tax. It is believed that the present city marshal could handle the work resultant from this combination with every degree of satisfaction. The schooltax is a district proposition and could be handled in any manner suitable to the school board.

FATHER, DAUGHTER DIE SAME NIGHT

Rev. L. Jackson, living on the east highway a short distance from Cross Plains, received the sad message last Tuesday morning that his father, D. S. Jackson, and sister, Miss Enla Jackson, had died the preceding night at their home at Klondyke, Texas. The sister passing away at 11 P. M., and the father at 2 A. M. The elder Jackson was 88 years of age, and both deaths resulted from flu. Rev. and Mrs. Jackson accompanied by Rev. Huckabee, pastor of the local Methodist church, left Tuesday morning for Klondyke, where Rev. Huckabee assisted in conducting the funeral services. The people of the entire community extend their greatest sympathy to the bereaved survivors.

The bridge club met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Aubra Dodson. Lovely refreshments were served, and beautiful prizes were awarded the Mesdames Frank Green and Russel McGowen.

M. E. Wakefield, who has been busily engaged in landscaping his new home in Brownwood for the past several weeks, spent Tuesday afternoon in Cross Plains.

SUIT IS FILLED FOR $51,000 DAMAGES

(Cisco American)

An aftermath of the motor car accident that occurred on the Rising Star highway No. 26, in which Frank (Bob) Speights lost his life and Otis Evans was so seriously injured that his death was expected for several days, developed Tuesday with the filing of a suit for personal injuries in the office of the district clerk at Eastland. Barker & Orn, of Cisco are attorneys for the plaintiff, Otis Evans. Tom Bryant of Callahan county; Delle F. Mellette, Charles Whittaker and Jack Tindall, all of Eastland county, are named as defendants. Plaintiff asks damages in the sum of $51,000.

Judge J. D. Barker, of the firm of Barker & Orn, stated this morning that the case will be called for trial during the March term of the 88th district court.

The petition of the plaintiff Evans, alleges that on November 26, 1928, he accepted an invitation to go on a truck with Frank M. Speights, who was traveling south on the Cisco-Rising Star highway. It was at night and, several miles out of Cisco, the truck ran into a big tank on the side of the highway. The tank, it is alleged, was owned by Bryant and was being moved by the defendants who had carelessly and negligently left it obstructing the highway without signal lights or a guard to warn traffic of its position.

Speights was killed in the collision and the plaintiff's head was so badly damaged that he is permanently injured and for these damages he seeks to recover $40,000 actual, $6,000 for doctors' bills and $5,000 exemplary damages, according to the allegations of the plaintiff's petition.

MAY PASS GENERAL GAS STATION BILL

Short measuring of gasoline, practiced by many of the gasoline stations throughout the State, as revealed by investigation made by the department of weights and measures, may lead to the passage by the present legislature of a general gas station bill that will correct the evil. The bill, designed to prevent "short change" at gasoline filling stations, is now before the Senate, and T. E. Milligan, manager of the newly organized West Texas Automobile Club, with headquarters at Fort Worth, has received assuring letters from many of the State senators that the bill will pass.

The bill which is sponsored by all the automobile clubs of Texas, would license all employees and operators of filling stations, and would call for an appropriation for the Bureau of Weights and Measures in order to employ additional inspectors.

Other bills which the automobile clubs are sponsoring are, reducing of auto license tax to $5 from the present method of taxing vehicles according to weight and horse-power, and the licensing of all automobile drivers.

EASTLAND'S FAMED HORNED TOAD DIES

Eastland, Jan. 21.—Rip, the world famed horned frog, taken from the Eastland County courthouse, is dead. He was taken from the corner-stone months ago amid allegations that he had lived there for 31 years without food or water and mayhap without air; he left the cynosure gracefully and with dignified unostentation.

The body was found late Saturday. Rip's head was protruding above the carefully guarded leaves and sand in which he had been hibernating since his asserted emergence from the stone, witnessed by pastors and other leading citizens, some of whom signed affidavits to the genuineness of the veteran's removal.

While there was no inquest, the popular verdict was that Rip, lured out by the sunshine, was chilled fatally.

Details concerning the disposition of the body have not been announced.

WORK COMMENCED ON NEW COURT HOUSE

The assembling of material and equipment to be used in the construction of Callahan County's new courthouse started the first of last week. Ground was broken Friday.

This building will be three stories and a basement and will be located in the center of the courtyard immediately north of the present building. It is to be built of light-face brick and reinforced concrete, terra cotta, tiled and steam heated. The size of the building will be 70 by 115 feet.

WHEN YOU'RE A REAL BOOSTER

(FOR THE REVIEW)

When you can sing with the fellow who rivals you
In winning a case or in selling a shoe.
When you can answer the fellow who questions you
In your words or deeds—as some fellows do;
When you can bear with the fellow who wants to knock
And can sell him the town he has tried to block,
When you can sign him up for some home-town stocks
And start him to boosting the whole darn flock;
When you can laugh at the storm and smile at the rain
And share with your neighbor his sorrow and pain,
When you can play with the kids and be young again
In body and soul and in heart and in brain;
When you can learn to say "Sure" when you're called to go
For the job of giving or of getting the dough,
When you're willing to work with a sceptre or hoe
In the place that you're put—be the rank high or low;
When you can be liberal of hand as you are of check
And can deal a high straight from the top of the deck,
When you can help save the town from becoming a wreck
Then I call you a booster of boosters, by heck!

Laments Passing of the "Good Old Times"

Times have changed and people have grown so serious that the old delight in holidays has vanished, is the complaint voiced by the writer of an editorial in Liberty Magazine.

"April Fools' day was one of the bright spots of the year," points out the editorial. "There was a brick under the hat; the stuffed pocketbook with the string tied to it. Breakfast muffins filled with cotton were a rare jest, and so was candy shot through with cayenne pepper. It was a long time anticipated and long remembered, as were St. Valentine's day, Christmas eve, Halloween, and the night before the Fourth of July. On Thanksgiving we went to grandmother's house and ate gorgeously. There aren't such grandmothers any more, or such cranberries.

"Christmas now means bills to meet," continues the disillusioned writer. "Independence day has been made a Sane Fourth. We no longer get any fun out of April Fools' day. Those unofficial childish holidays were a kind of possession peculiar to the past. They are not the same now. We are grown up and serious, and times have changed."

Odd Contradiction in Behavior of Mankind

When a man goes into a field to devote a day's work to producing food crops for his needs, he labors with intelligence, and accepts world experience. There is an agreed time to plant and harvest, and he follows this knowledge; in everything, while in the field, he works as effectively as possible. He naturally accepts all information that has been tried out in the centuries. He finds truth an asset; folly troublesome and expensive.

But when the same man goes to church, or lodge, political convention, or social affair, he changes his attitude; he believes in sentiment, and denies fact and experience in half he does.

A man must be a strange creature to God, who does all things well.—E. H. Howe's Monthly.

Safety Organization

The National Safety council is a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization for the promotion of safety, sanitation and health in the industrial, public and home life of the whole world. It was founded in 1913, when a little group of employers, appalled by the useless and unnecessary sacrifice of life and limb occurring every year, determined upon a relentless fight against accident causes. Today the council has a membership of over 4,500 industrial concerns, government departments, insurance companies, schools, libraries, miscellaneous organizations and individuals. Its influence is felt throughout more than 10,000 workshops and among more than 10,000,000 workers, whose lives are safer because of its service. Its scope has grown from national to international.

Tree Always Extreme in Matter of Thirst

Trees are confirmed drinkers. No solids for them. They have no temperate habits. They drink continuously or not at all. Thus they live and grow as extremists and are either destroyed or die of old age unreformed, says the New York state college of forestry. In fact, the older they are the harder they drink and the greater their thirst. But no tree was ever found the worse for drinking. When they sleep in winter they go to the other extreme and are teetotalers, but with the first sunshine and thaw of spring they resume their bibulous habits.

The liquid food of the tree is brewed in the ground. Water is the important ingredient. Billions of bacteria work to make soluble many substances so they may be dissolved by water and taken into the circulatory system of the tree. The tiny roots of the tree drink this life fluid, which is lifted hundreds of feet as if by a miracle, defying the laws of gravity without any moving machinery. This fluid is distributed to the branches, thence to the leaves, the stomach of the tree, where another miracle is performed when the liquid is digested and made ready to be formed into wood.

The tree grows year by year, like a person, in height and girth. If the tree falls in the forest billions of bacteria will get hold of it, and with the help of air and sun and moisture its substance will eventually be transformed into the liquid food for other trees.

Making It Plain to the Youthful Mind

Like all people whose work brings them into close relation with the human side of things, Sir Herbert Barker, the famous manipulative surgeon, has a great liking for children, and many of his best stories are about them. Here is a good one.

"Daddy, is today tomorrow?" asked little Willie.

"No, my son, of course today isn't tomorrow," answered his father.

"But you said it was," objected Willie.

"When did I ever say that today was tomorrow?"

"Yesterday," answered Willie.

"Well, it was. Today was tomorrow yesterday, but today is today, just as yesterday was today yesterday, but is yesterday today. And tomorrow will be today tomorrow, which makes today yesterday and tomorrow all at once. Now run along and play."

42 PEOPLE WERE KILLED

Newspaper reports of the State Game. Oyster and Fish Commission disclosed that all 17 hunting accident records were during the past season.

Forty-two persons were reported killed and 38 injured. Two were to death when they were mistaken game.

Twenty-nine of the hunting accident victims were boys and 13 under adults. Accidental discharges of firearms, reckless shooting and drowning were chiefly responsible.

Twenty-eight were shot by companions, and 18 shot themselves. Drowning claimed 12 victims, were killed by a tree which felled to get game, and a third heart disease while trying to climb. One hunter was killed by a dog.

O. T. MERRYMAN

O. T. (Dick) Merryman was born in Coleman county Dec. 2, 1890, and died suddenly Jan. 6, 1929, while on his way from Cross Plains enroute his home near Rowlett, Callahan county.

He was laid to rest in the presence of a large crowd in the Burkett cemetery by the side of his father and two brothers, who preceded him several years ago. He leaves to mourn untimely going away a wife and three sons, A. G., age 13 years, Arthur 11, C. S., an aged mother, three brothers and five sisters.

He was a generous, kind-hearted man, ever ready to lend a helping hand to the sick and distressed. It had been said that the night was never so cold and stormy for Dick to not spend to the needs of those who were suffering. He was a kind husband, indulgent father, an affectionate son and loving brother and faithful friend. I cannot say, and will not say, that he is dead—he is just away.

With a cherry smile and a wave of the hand, he has wandered into an unknown land.

And left us dreaming, how very true it needs must be, since he 'thinks' there.

And you, oh you, who the winter years, for the old-time step and the return.

Think of him passing on, as usual in the love there, as the love of 1. Think of him still as the same as you say.

He is not dead—he is just away. A Friend.

HORRORS OF NEXT WAR PREDICTED

The next war will be so horrible that the difference between it and the World War will be like the difference between sunshine and dark.

Dr. Hilton Jones, research chemist, gave a little picture of it in a recent speech in Chicago.

He told of a new gas now in the possession of all the great powers of the world, and which is so deadly that it makes all other gasses used in the last war look mild and harmless. It would destroy a whole army as quickly as a man snuffs out a candle. It would not only disable them, but kill the whole army out-right—everyone who whiffed. It Dr. Jones says further:

"War, if it comes again and is to be a war of extermination, will never be fought with shot and shell," said Dr. Jones. "It can't be for it is much cheaper to destroy life on the wholesale with this new gas. It may be manufactured at the rate of thousands of tons a day and it costs much less than powder and cannon. Yet it will destroy more armies, more thoroughly, more effectively, and more quickly."

Nice picture, isn't it? But Dr. Jones isn't through.

He showed a new metal, twice as strong as steel, but light as cork in weight. An airplane, using engines made of this, could carry untold quantities of the new gas. Furthermore, the airplane could be made of still another raw material which is practically invisible against a light background, such as sky or clouds. And he asks us to imagine a nation, using airplanes to drop tons of bombs containing the new gas on armies and cities.

Of all the frightful pictures which have been given to a confused world, this one is the frightfullest.

Science is a strange thing. It is only within the last few decades that man has become familiar with it; but already it has worked miracles. It has wiped out space and time, obliterated pestilence, placed in our hands tools with which we can literally remark the world within the next half century; and we use it, not to build, but to give us a weapon with which we can destroy ourselves by the use of it. There is no use talking about pacifism, militarism or allied subjects; mankind simply cannot afford to let lose on itself another largescale war. A repetition of the last war, for instance, would probably destroy European civilization. In sheer self defense, we must find other methods of settling our troubles. War is altogether too dangerous.

COSTLY SCRAP OF SURGICAL SPONGE

Not that there has been any appreciable advance in the sponge market, but a small scrap of that erstwhile cheap material just by being left in the wrong place, the interior of a woman, instead of a vanity box, has cost two St. Louis doctors many times its weight in diamond value. Mrs. Nellie M. Cowman, wife of a St. Louis restaurant owner, who carried a surgical sponge in her body for 17 months after an operation, was awarded $75,000 damages against two operating surgeons by a circuit court there last Saturday, according to reports. The defendants were Dr. P. H. Harmann and Dr. J. H. Crenshaw. Mrs. Cowman said in her petition that she was operated upon in 1924 and that a surgical sponge about the size of hen's egg apparently over-looked, was left in her. She said she suffered severe pains until it was discovered and removed 17 months later.

Safety, silence and implicity are features of the new Ford
six-brake system

of the first things you notice when you drive
 new Ford is the quick, live, silent action of its brake system.

is system gives you the st degree of safety and ibility because the four-service brakes and the te emergency or parkrakes are all of the anical, internal ex-
 ng type, with braking es fully enclosed for ction against mud,
 sand, etc.

many advantages of e type of braking system long been recognized.
 are brought to you in ew Ford through a
 of mechanical im-
 ements embodying
 that is new in design manufacture. A particuular feature is the
 ay by which a spe-
 m has been con-
 to permit the use of
 of internal brakes ear wheels.

ther improvement ng performance is
 by the self-center-ure of the fourrakes—an Ford de-
 at. Through this construction, the entire surface of the shoe is brought in steady, uniform contact with the drum the instant you press your foot on the brake pedal. This prevents screeching and howling and makes the Ford brakes unusually silent in operation.

Another feature of the Ford brakes is the ease of adjustment.

The four-wheel brakes are adjusted by turning a screw conveniently located on the outside of each brake plate. This screw is so notched that all four brakes can be set alike simply by listening to the "clicks."

The emergency or parking brakes on the new Ford require little attention. However, should they need adjustment at any time, consult your Ford dealer for prompt, courteous, and economical service. He works under close factory supervision and he has been specially trained and equipped to help you get the greatest possible use from your car over the longest period of time at a minimum of trouble and expense.

IN MEMORY OF MRS
D. L. LANCASTER

Mrs. Ike Kendrick was called to the bedside of her sister at Clovis, New Mexico, Mrs. D. L. Lancaster, who passed away January 7, 1929. The Clovis News carried the following:

Inez Brown was born September 26, 1892, at Rising Star, Texas and passed from this life Monday morning, January 7, 1929, aged 36 years 3 months, and 11 days. The deceased was married to Prof. D. L. Lancaster December 27, 1922, and to this union were born three children, Lee Doyle, Brownie Lou and Jimmie, who survive the mother. Also surviving the deceased are two brothers, R. C.
 Brown of Rising Star, Texas, and J. C.
 Brown of Portales; three sisters, Mrs.
 Pearl Hodnett of Vince Texas, Mrs.
 Maude White of Rising Star, Texas, and Mrs. Hattie Kendrick of Cross Plains, Texas, and husband and a host of friends. The father and mother of deceased passed along this mysterious road ahead.

Mrs. Lancaster obeyed the gospel when a child and through the years had faithfully kept the faith in her Saviour. She was greatly devoted to her friends and especially those of the household of faith, loved the services of the church and found joy in her Sunday School work.

The deceased was ill but a short while but the latter days made great trial of her in her affliction. She expressed a desire to be with Christ which is far better than a life of tribulation and pain.

"I saw a cup sent down and come to her,

Brimful of loathing and bitterness;
 She drank with lived lips that seemed to stir

The depth, not make it less.

But as she drank I spied a Hand distill
 New wine and virgin honey, making it

First bitter-sweet, then sweet indeed, until
 She tasted only sweet."

Funeral conducted at First Christian Church with Howard Rogers, the pastor, officiating, Tuesday afternoon. One of the greatest crowds ever gathered in the church was assembled on this occasion.

MRS ANNIE MAY AIKEN

Wife of John Aiken and only daughter of Sallie Ella and J. C. Murdock.
 Was born Jan. 27, 1893, in Atlanta, Ga.
 She died at her home in Cross Plains, Texas, at 11 A. M., January 12, 1929.
 Came to Texas with her parents 23 years ago. When 12 years of age she professed faith in Christ as her Saviour.

She was married to John Aiken, Dec.
 24, 1911, and joined the Methodist church at Cottonwood. She has lived in and around Cross Plains for the past 33 years has been a member of the Methodist church at Cross Plains four years. She is survived by her husband John Aiken and a daughter, Sallie Ella 13 years of age, also her father J. C.
 Murdock and six brothers, Carl Cecil,
 Harry Lewis, Marvin and Colis. Her Mother and one brother preceded her in death.

We mourn today a common loss, it means much more to some of us than others, but none here are without some sense of bereavement. The house has not simply lost its vacant chair at the table; we feel the absence of a dear presence in our missionary society, Sunday School, social as well as private life. The little daughter and husband will miss those offices of love which only a mother and wife can gladden the heart of loved ones.
 Even many who are not here today, whose homes perhaps are at some distance, when they received the news which brought us here, were moved by the sorrow which we feel, because they knew that henceforth we must miss the presence of a gracious woman going in and out among us.

And yet, the things which give us cause for mourning, give us reason also for gratitude. "THE LORD HATH TAKEN AWAY" and we are sorrowful; but he could not have taken, had he not first given; our loss is only great because we have been greatly blessed. The incident of death changes our future for a little time, but it does not change the past. One has been given to us, for seemingly such a brief number of years, but every memory of those years is a joy. WHILE DEATH TAKES from us the immediate presence of our friends and so robs us of some joy, it also gives us something which we have not had before; it sets them before us in clearer light, and because we learn to know them better it increases our occasion for gratitude that their lives were linked with ours. As citizens of this community and members of this church, we have great reason to rejoice that such a woman lived in our midst. She was active in the service of her Christ from girlhood, and her pastors could command her to any field of christian endeavor. She never lost her high ideals and has been an inspiration, with her jolly sunny out-look, to all who have known her. She has never held aloof from the humblest services or lowest offices of ministry in this church. She never allowed anything to separate her in sympathy and communion from any of her neighbors or fellows of her church. She was kind, considerate, cheerful and if she was ever gloomy or despondent, her friends never knew of it, but she brought cheer, instead of a tear, and sunshine, rather than shadows, into all of our lives.

She was singular for her devotion to every thing to which she once gave her heart. She never forgot the friends who gained her love. Her friendships were of such, as to outlast death parting. She had a love which waters could not quench. It was stronger than death. I can not feel that a heart that has loved so steadfastly, is left desolate on the other shore. Some of her friends have gone before and what brings for a time sadness here must surely bring joy over yonder. We cannot stop the heart ache, nor dry the tears that come unbidden today, but with the help of her Saviour, to whom she gave her life in childhood's early morning, we may help ourselves to patience, if not to gladness by remembering how much we have been blessed, these years she has been with us. She was indeed a woman of real worth to her home, worth to the Sunday School worth to the W. M. S. and I say it with all seriousness worth to God. If there is anything earthly that would picture her character, it is sunlight and roses.
 If there is any thing heavenly that portrays her nature, it is love. What more does earth need? What more can heaven demand? Sunlight, roses, and love they give joy to man; they give joy to God. Her life has been a blessing to us, though it was comparatively short, but 'tis better to have loved and lost, than never to have loved at all. May our gratitude for this good woman, never be hindered by vain re-pinning, because death came when it did. The Lord gave graciously, and in love and wisdom. He has brought the end of one stage of life and the beginning of another "OUR LOSS IS TRULY Heavens gain. We have only parted for a while, she has gone home a little before us, and we shall soon follow, and shall meet again, in her heavenly fathers house and enjoy her sweet presence forever, more happily than we could have done here below.

343 WOLVES KILLED
IN CALLAHAN COUNTY

The Callahan County Wolf Club was successful in its operation during the past year. According to A. M. Cooper, county agent and secretary of the club, 343 wolves and 24 wildcats have been exterminated since the club was organized last April. By the volunteer contributions of 1 cent per acre from land owners and those controlling land in this county, funds are provided for the payment of bounties.

One of the rules of the club is that members only shall be entitled to collect the bounties. A small membership fee is charged to those who do not own land, but desire to become a member of the organization.

A bounty of $7.50 for female wolves, $5 for males and $2.50 for cubs is paid. It has cost the club on an average of $4.25 per wolf to date, which is considered cheap for the eradication of these animals. The work accomplished has saved the stockmen and poultrymen of this county many thousands of dollars.

Miss Anna May McConnothy, teacher, was in Brownwood last week at the bedside of her father, who died.

Mrs. Carleton Powell was present last week at the funeral of her grandfather in Baird

NEW THEORY OF EVOLUTION IS RELATED

Washington, Jan. 22.—Dr. Austin H. Clark of the United States National Museum and widely known as a biologist, has propounded a new theory of evolution with revolutionary implications for biology and related sciences. He differs on vital points with the Darwinian theory of descent of man from a lower animal life and explains evolution as a series of jumps from one major form of life to another rather than to a process of gradual development.

While offering new fields for scientific investigation, Dr. Clark's theory promises to inject also a new factor into the controversy between those known as fundamentalists, upholding the Biblical version of creation, and the opposite group, known as modernists, who support the evolutionary

"So far as concerns the major groups of animals, the creationists seem to have the better of the argument," Dr. Clark said in announcing his theory. "There is not the slightest evidence that any one of the major groups arose from any other. Each is a special animal—complex, related more or less closely to all the rest and appearing, therefore, as a special and distinct creation."

The concept of Dr. Clark differs with previous evidence of the descent of man from ape-like ancestor and asserts that man appeared on earth substantially as he is today—to all intents and purpose a product of special creation. His theory is that man appeared in practically the same form he has today, due to an inherent capacity of life to produce a variant, or "abnormality," having an enormously enlarged brain in an environment where it was able to survive.

In the very ancient fragmentary bones which have been dug up by anthropologist Dr. Clark sees no evidence of a "missing link," or intermediate form, between man and monkey. They are the bones either of men or monkeys, he says although some, if they were more complete, might be found to be the remains of "abnormalities" that were produced before man appeared through operation of the same inherent tendency, but were unable to survive the environment into which they were cast.

Within the animal and plant groups, Dr. Clark's theory allows for the working of the Darwinian theory of changes brought about by natural and artificial selection, but remains silent on the possibility of inheritance of acquired characteristics. The new theory also modifies the mutation theory, which accounts for the origin of new species and families as the result of accidental abnormalities born to normal parents into an environment in which the abnormal characters prove to be assets in maintaining life. Dr.

Clark holds that there are no abnormalities, but that all life is obeying a constant urge to produce certain forms and that when these forms happen to be born into a favorable environment, they survive as new types of animals or plants. The whole picture, he says, was present from the beginning.

The key to the theory lies in Dr. Clark's conception of animal complexes, present throughout creation. The same tendencies to the same variations are present in butterflies and men, such as the tendency toward a big brain. But, he affirms, there will never be a superintelligent butterfly because the physical structure of a butterfly will not permit it.

Dr. Clark takes the time element entirely out of evolution and restores the concept of an original plan in nature which has been and is still being expressed in life. He differs again with other theories in his consideration of vertebrate life, holding that vertebrates probably rose first in a marsh land and that the first were amphibians and not fish.

Its waters sweep,

For peace than power,

Uncommon Sense

By John Blake

NOISY COURAGE

ONE of the interesting fictions which bad literature nourishes and supports is that a noisy, boisterous man is necessarily a coward.

The blustering bad man and the quiet, modest hero are two of the favorite characters of authors and readers of popular adventure stories.

He is always proved an arrant coward.
The quiet one, usually flicking a speck of dust from his coat, invariably emerges victorious from every encounter with his rival.

Everybody likes to think of an insolent, domineering bully getting his just deserts.
If he gets them through an apparently weak, quiet little fellow, the picture is just that much more enjoyable.

Unfortunately, we cannot make a thing so merely by thinking of it. The things we imagine do not always exist in real life.

It is not always wise to assume that a loud-talking, boastful ruffian is a poltroon, pleasing as the thought may be. Any such assumption is quite likely to lead one into a very embarrassing situation.

O. Henry once said that when it came to a choice between tackling a swaggering bully and a quiet stranger he would pick on the latter every time.

Nobody ever proved that John I. Sullivan was a coward. Yet it was Sullivan's habit to bring his fist down on the table and emphatically declare that he could lick every so and so in the world.

It was felt at the time that he did not exaggerate very much. At least a few quieter strangers stepped noiselessly out of their obscure corners to prove that he was a liar.

It is of course a fact that a few quieter strangers stepped noiselessly
out of their obscure corners to prove
that he was a liar.

RULING MAY AFFECT MANY LAND TITLES

(Star-Telegram)

"A voice from the past," indeed the very voice of the Republic of Texas, as it spoke nearly 100 years ago through its General Land Commissioner, John P. Borden, has been lifted in defense of the homes, and in some instances, the very graves, of pioneers of the empire of West Texas, that are threatened by the now pending "navigable stream" land suits against owners of lands recently become valuable because of oil discoveries. The State sold them these lands a generation ago.

At a dramatic point in the stirring, touching event into which the land hearing in Austin developed Thursday Senator C. C. Small, Wellington, revealed this century-old "voice," as it is preserved in the archives of the General Land Office of the State of Texas.

Senator Small read into the record of the hearing a ruling made on May 22, 1838, by General Land Commissioner Borden, in answer to a request for interpretation of the navigable stream statute made by H. Bissell, a state surveyor.

The ruling follows:

"Houston, Texas, May 22, 1838.—To H. Bissell, Esq.: Sir—In answer to your communication of 12th inst. would inform you that by Section 42 of the Land Law I understand that the water in the stream or river to be navigable must be at a common stage not at the very lowest, on an average 30 feet wide, otherwise some very small streams or spring branches might be deemed navigable.

"Respectfully,

"JOHN P. BORDEN,

"Commissioner General Land Office."

It was just such an eventuality the land commissioner of the then new Republic of Texas indicated in his closing that has brought to light this ruling.

In the name of the State of Texas the Attorney General has brought suit to declare invalid titles to lands of some 500 citizens of Gray and Wheeler Counties in the Texas Panhandle, basing suit on the "navigable stream" statute, though, as a matter of fact, there is not a navigable stream in that section.

Among other claims brought out at the hearing last week in Austin was the fact that the State of Texas now contends that the graves of the dead in Lefors are within the bed of a navigable stream, under the new theory that water has nothing to do with "navigable" streams.

Attorneys for these defendants had not intended to bring this ruling into the controversy until the time of trial of the suits, according to statement of Senator Small at the hearing.

Affects Whole State.

Realization of the effect of such suits on all sections of Texas caused those attorneys to decide to make the ruling public at this time.

"We think the people of Texas should know," the statement accompanying the presentation of the ruling set out, "that the Republic of Texas, through its General Land Commissioner, one of the highest offices of the Government, a member of the cabinet, as it were, construed this navigable stream statute as requiring water 30 feet wide within a few months after it was passed, and when, obviously, he knew what Congress had in mind in passing it.

"Those old citizens of Gray County have been sleeping peacefully for more than a quarter of a century within the bed of a navigable stream, according to the interpretation these suits seek to put on the Land Act of 1937. Their voice can not be heard, but fortunately the voice of the Republic of Texas, speaking nearly 100 years ago, has been preserved for us. The words of that voice, as given in the ruling quoted, are in no uncertain terms."

Dates and names on the old letter recall interesting history. It is an historical fact that several members of the Congress that enacted the Land Act in 1837 came to Houston on a barge on Buffalo Bayou, making the then fine time of one mile an hour.

Included in the party was Thomas J. Rusk, said to be the real author of the bill. The forty-second section of that act, which is the present navigable stream statute, reads as follows:

"That all streams of the average width of 30 feet shall be considered navigable streams within the meaning of this act, so far up as they retain that average width, and that they shall not be crossed by the lines of a survey."

From this it is believed the lawmakers meant by "navigable stream" one which could be navigated.

Borden Family.

Historical and present importance attaches to the name of Borden in Texas. Gail Borden was of the family of that first land commissioner of the Republic of Texas. Borden County was named for him, and the county seat of that county is Gail. Gail Borden invented a process for condensing milk and established a great industry. Only recently a large branch of that industry has returned to Texas, and is locating a plant at Waco.

And now the Republic's first land commissioner promises to become of far greater importance in the land affairs of Texas than it was 91 years ago, when the office was created, and the foundations of the land titles of Texas were laid.

THE KELLOGG PEACE TREATY

Whether words, as embodied in the Kellogg peace treaty and ratified by the United States Senate and signed by more than half a hundred other powers, can effect peace among nations of the world will be shown as civilization continues its onward march. No matter what may have been the reasons behind opposition to the entrance of the United States into the treaty relations, even the most bitter opponents will submit to the action and help give it a fair test. In the past there have been few, if any, such far-reaching attempts at securing a compact of this nature.

A treaty is an agreement, nothing more and nothing less. It seeks to reach the minds and motives of nations and to express them, just as contracts constitute agreements between individuals. In a treaty there must be a "meeting of minds" as the meaning is phrased in private contracts. Facts such as have been signed serve to take the place of codified international law. The Kellogg treaty simply means that the various powers have put words who their full force of opinion against war as an institution of civilization. As Senator Walsh says this treaty is more than a feeble gesture. A nation that violates it will be an international law breaker, and will be accordingly dealt with by the other nations.

But neither the Kellogg or any other treaty between nations will ever accomplish the desired purpose unless the agreement is a representation of the spirit, and we believe that spirit has been so vastly exemplified since the ending of the World War, that from this time on the world will look upon other methods of settling disputes than taking up arms. If those who have ratified this treaty truly represent the spirit of the peoples that represent the nations involved, the world may rightly expect a period of peace never before equaled for a length of time, and if the new generations springing up take peace for granted through inheritance by consistently refusing war as a means of national ends, we have arrived at a period of glorious victory over an inglorious age in the conflict of blood.

Who said A. G. Crabb was going to move? No one has given him permission to leave Cross Plains. And besides some of his friends say they will break down his car if he attempts it. To A. G. Crabb can well go the credit for starting the phenomenal growth of Cross Plains. It was through his activities first discovery of the Pioneer field that placed us on the map as an oil center. With a few more such captains of industry and development as is A. G. Crabb, Cross Plains would be a real huddinger. So just stay hitched, old boy. There is nothing more doing along this moving line.

The money we wisely and frugally saved over and above our Christmas expenditures will not cause us any worry. What we had left after paying taxes and renewing car license will be taken care of by this 75-cent gas proposition before the winter is over.
