Beneficial Rains Fall In Area Last week's rains were certainly welcomed by area farmers and ranchers of this area. The much needed moisture will certainly be a boost to the grain that has suffered due to the dry weather conditions and hopefully bring up grain seed that had been dry sown. Pastures will also benefit from the moisture.

In checking with area residents as to the amount of rainfall gauged in their areas, Roy Tatom of the Atwell Community received 2 inches; J.P. Clark, west of Cottonwood had 1.6 inches with 2 inches reported at Cottonwood Store; the Rowden area received from 1 to 2 inches; Mrs. John Miller of Pioneer reported approximately 3 inches; R.T. Watson in the Burkett area guaged 1.75 inches; and Hadden Payne, west of town, 11/2 inches with varied other amounts around the area. In Cross Plains proper, different sections reported from 21/2 to 3 inches.

This past spring, summer and fall, we had a crafts sale at the Kiwanis Auction and an ice cream booth at the Old Settlers Reunion. We had a wonderful Christmas Village at the Cross Plains Public Library. We presented Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus, a doll collection, train collection, arts and crafts, an array of sewing machines, and baked food items. We had a wonderful turn out for these events.

Purchasing the Robert E. Howard home was the icing on the cake. Future plans for a museum are in the early stages.

The old officers were presented and thanked for a job well done and the gesture was appreciated by all.

C.J. Ledet of Coleman entertained the guests with a multitude of Cajun stories. The audience was kept laughing and in suspense as each story unfolded to a comical ending.

The evening came to a close with prayer voiced by Bro. John Swift and thankful hearts for a very enjoyable

The community turned out in support of Project Pride and our city. Guests were welcomed and Gene Greenwood, outgoing president, recognized leaders and representatives from all local organizations.

Bettye Greenwood presented, "We Have a New Baby," a table about why and where Project Pride was birthed and where we are going. Accomplishments over the year have been remarkable. We began with putting out barrels with flowers on Main Street. Also, everyone was encouraged to clean up the town and paint store fronts. Money was donated to paint

Still Time To Order Girl Scout Cookies

By ARLENE STEPHENSON

You still have until January 28 to order those delicious, available once a year, Girl Scout cookies. Call 725-6879 if you have not been contacted yet and would like to help the Girl Scouts help themselves.

The girls have to turn their order sheets in to the cookie coordinators on January 29 and no orders can be taken after that date. Cookies will be delivered beginning late February 15; the $2 per box will be due at that time.

Girl Scout cookies have a taste all of their own. The reason? It's the recipe for smiles. First, we take the finest ingredients available. Then we stir in all the pride and enthusiasm in a girl's face. And finally, a heaping measure of your generosity.

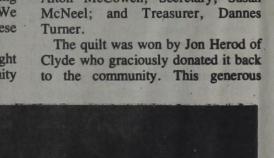

This cookie sale is the Girl Scouts' main fund-raiser, making all sorts of learning and growing opportunities possible. So there is something special about Girl Scout cookies - they're the cookies that make dreams come true.

Stock up now — order from old-fashioned shortbread Trefoils (only 30 calories per cookie), crunchy peanut butter Do-Si-Dos, Chocolately Thin Mints, deliciously different Samoas, peanut butter, chocolate Tagalongs, the Chocolate Chip Honey Glazed special and new this year - Cabana Cremes - vanilla and lemon sandwich

January 15 was a most pleasant day for me as I visited with many Cross Plains residents. It was exciting to renew acquaintances and meet some people I'd not had the privilege of meeting before. The warm reception I received was commendable for your community. I was made aware of how civic minded you are and just how much unity there is in your spirit.

You have every right to be proud of your schools. I met briefly with your superintendent, principals, and teachers, and I was impressed with their dedication and loyalty.

The highlight of the day was the lunch with the Senior Citizens. Since my parents were raised at Cross Cut and Burkett and I was born in Burkett, it was a good opportunity for me to revive some childhood friendships. I have cousins who live in Cross Plains, two of my daughters married boys whose parents came from Cross Plains, which causes me to feel close to you all.

A twelve hour workday kept me from coming back to your Project Pride, but I heard of its success. May God bless your future efforts to maintain your town as one of which you can always be proud.

Social Security Benficiaries Will Receive Benefit Statement

If you're a Social Security beneficiary, you should receive a Social Security Benefit Statement (Form SSA-1099) in the mail sometime this month. The form shows the amount of Social Security benefits you received or repaid in 1989. You should use the form to help you figure whether any of your Social Security benefits are subject to Federal income

Most Social Security beneficiaries do not have to pay any Federal income tax on their Social Security benefits. If your Social Security check is your largest source of income, you probably won't owe any tax on your benefits. But if you have substantial income in addition to your Social Security benefits, up to half of your annual Social Security benefits may be subject to Federal income tax.

Your Social Security benefits may be taxable if your taxable income plus your non-taxable interest, plus half of your Social Security benefits exceeds the base amount. The base amounts are $25,000 if you are single, $32,000 if you are married and file a joint return; or $0 if you are married, live with your spouse at any time during the year and file separate returns.

Included with your benefit statement will be an Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Notice 703. This notice includes a worksheet you can use to get an idea if any of your benefits may be taxable. If you are married and you and your spouse will file a joint return, be sure to combine your incomes and your Social Security benefits when you fill out the worksheet.

If you have any questions about the worksheet or how to figure your taxable income, call any IRS office. The phone numbers of IRS offices are listed on the back of the Notice 703.

If you have questions about the information on the SSA-1099, you can call the Social Security toll free number 1-800-234-5772.

The Review appreciates Barbara Albrecht temporarily writing the Cottonwood News for Beverly Brown.

By BARBARA ALBRECHT

Beverly Brown is taking a short break as your writer, so I'll be filling in for her temporarily.

Cottonwood has it's own emergency phone number now. And it's an easy one to remember. All you do is call 725-6555 for any emergency such as fire, medical or severe weather. The number 725-6587 will still get the help you need if you call it. So write the new number down by your phone along with the other ones. Remember Cross Plains EMS is 725-6666, and we are 725-6555.

Dena Nickerson came by today and it sure is good to see her up and about. She even made it to the quilting. We're glad you are better, Dena.

Beverly Brown and her sister, Maxine Sneed from Azle, have just returned from Yuma, Arizona with their mother, Mrs. Mildred Ford. Mrs. Ford is a new resident of Cottonwood now. Welcome, Mrs. Ford.

While there, Beverly was able to visit with her other sister and brotherin-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Leonette of Cody, Wyoming, and her brother, Raymond Ford of North Shore, California. Others attending the "unplanned" reunion were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Malson, Beverly's aunt and uncle, and Shirley Zimmer of Yuma, Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Haston came in for a short visit from Springtown with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Creamer and the Albrecht family.

To close this week, here is a special tribute to volunteers everywhere. Volunteers

Volunteer their time, mind and abilities.

Offer themselves completely. Lead or follow, whichever is needed. Understand our fears and help lessness.

Never put themselves before others. Take whatever responsibility comes to them.

Every now and then experiences failure, and easily feels the sorrow. Responsibly take life seriously and emotionally. Set out to serve their neighbors, community, state and country.

Pat a volunteer on the back this week.

Come by and see the fire equipment house. The birds are confused. They can't get inside anymore.

Last minute report. As of this morning, Friday, Cottonwood had received

8th Grade Boys Basketball Team Holds Record 8-4

By COACH TERRY TAYLOR

The Cross Plains 8th Grade Boys Basketball Team has rolled through the first half of District play without a loss. In fact, no one has seriously challenged the boys. The Mighty Mites have beaten Moran 50-9, Eula 58-32, and Baird 60-14. The 8th Grade season record now stands at 8-4.

The latest games the boys participated in were the Eula and Baird games. During the Eula game, Jason Fleming lead all scorers with 18 followed by Kelly Barclay with 15 and Rodney Rudloff with 8. Others contributing to the win included Kevin Switzer with 7, Billy Walker with 6, and Tim Yates and Chad Coker with 2 each.

During the Baird game, Jason Fleming was once again the leading scorer with 21, followed by Kevin Switzer with 10, Kelly Barclay at 7, and Tim Yates and Billy Walker with 6. Others pitching in for the total team victory were Colby Childers and Rodney Rudloff with 4 each and Josh Harrell scoring his first 2 points for the season.

The Mighty Mites only have 3 games left this year, so please come out and see them play.

7th Grade Boys Basketball Team Beats Eula 38-21

By COACH TERRY TAYLOR

The Cross Plains 7th Grade Boys Basketball Team continues to show improvement. They have recently competed in two games, winning one over Eula 38-21 and losing one to Baird 27-10. The 7th Grade has a season record of 3-2.

In the Eula game, Matt Reed was the leading scorer with 13, followed by Dustin Bowden with 9, Justin Terrill with 8, and Rusty Dukes with 4. Jared Harris and J.J. Higgins each added 2.

In the Baird game the boys ran into a very good team that presently has a record of 9 and 2 on the season. But the Mighty Mites played extremely good defense in the first half going into intermission tied 4 to 4. But the Bears proved to be too much to hold. Justin Terrill led Cross Plains scorers with 4, followed by Willie Nickerson, Jared Harris, and J.J. Higgins with 2 each.

A Special Person

By MACHIELLE UPTON

He's only been working there two months, but he has already been recognized as an "Employee of the Month." Eric Sims, a senior at Cross Plains High School received this award for a job well done while working at Colonial Oaks Nursing Home in Cross Plains. Frances Wolfe (Eric's supervisor) and the staff presented Eric with his award.

NHS Met January 17

By JENNIFER GOBLE

On the morning of Wednesday, January 17, the Cross Plains High School National Honor Society met.

The members present were Brenda Franke (Jr.), Pam Helms (Sr.), Becky McKeehan (Sr.), Sherry Williams (Jr.), Dana Dukes (Sr.), and Mrs. Barclay. Stephanie Walker (Sr.) and Tina Evans (Sr.) were not able to be present for the meeting.

They discussed many topics. The first on the list was setting a date for the NHS Induction Ceremony. Next, they talked about going in halves with the Student Council to buy trees to plant. Fundraisers were also on the list, but nothing specific has been with his supervisor, Frances Wolfe, at Colonial Oaks Nursing Home.

Eric started working at the nursing home in November. He has a variety of duties including feeding, bathing or just plain spending time with and talking to the residents. Eric works from 2-6, 5 days a week.

The job became available through a work program through the school.

In talking with Eric about what he liked best about his job he said, "I like having an income and taking care of elderly people. I also like the people I work with."

I asked Frances Wolfe how she feels about Eric. She replied, "Eric has adapted to the work real well and has related to the older ones well also. He is responsible and has done a good job."

While there, taking a picture and talking with Eric, he introduced me to several of the residents. One particular lady who seemed attached to Eric even began to cry when Eric told her he had to leave now.

Eric certainly seems to be doing a great job and it resulted in his being recognized as "Employee of the Month" for January.

WCTCOG Ombudsman Task Force Seeks Volunteers

The West Central Texas Council of Governments Ombudsman Force is currently seeking volunteers to serve in this county. The Ombudsman Task Force is a group of volunteers who give eight hours a month to visit residents of local nursing homes. Ombudsmen are trained advocates for nursing home residents and their families. Ombudsmen are trained and certified by the Texas Department on Aging in conjunction with the Texas Department of Health. In their roles as advocates, the Ombudsman attends inspections, open hearings, and may help in reporting and/or resolving complaints.

The next Ombudsman Certification Training will be February 6-7, 1990. If you would like more information on the Ombudsman program or would like to serve as a Nursing Home Ombudsman, please call Jimmy Walls, staff Ombudsman for the WCTCOG at (915) 672-8544.

MINUTE MUSINGS

By ESTHLOY S. DICKSON

This Monday morning has started off beautifully. I arose early, before the sun was up. At this hour, God's beautiful world is bright with sunshine and mild temperature. I'm still hoping I will find someone to remove the leaves off my front yard — the St. Augustine needs "breathing space".

A few days ago, I received a nice letter from our long-time friend, Imogene Cox of Houma, Louisiana. It was so good to hear from her. I believe she receives the Review each week. For those who do not know her, she and Mr. Tom used to have a grocery store here — they lived here a long time.

My good neighbors, David and Sherryl, have come to my rescue

Another Big Decision

By JAMIE JONES

Many of the juniors and seniors at Cross Plains had a break from normal class routine and had an opportunity to meet with Mrs. Barbara Shaw from Central Texas Commercial College. Mrs. Shaw did not necessarily come to sell CTCC, but to emphasize the importance of furthering your education after high school. She also made the point that you can't make a very large income with just a high school diploma.

Mrs. Shaw showed a film on secretarial jobs and computer programming for anyone who might have been interested. In relation to the part of the film on computers, she did a personality analysis on Daniel Crockett with a computer.

The School Board 'Meats' Again

By KARMEN KEY

Last month, Mrs. Julia Wheeler's Food Science and Nutrition Class served a delicious dinner to the high school faculty. This month, on Thursday, January 18, her class cooked and served the annual school board dinner to the members, their wives, and the C.P.I.S.D. administration.

While waiting for everyone to arrive, the group met in the library where they were served appetizers and coffee.

The dinner consisted of sopa (a casserole), Mexican rice, a salad, and for dessert, Banana Manna pie.

Juniors Pam Glover, Denise Newman, and Jennifer Warner made the sopa. Seniors Trudy Newman and Sharon Walker made the Mexican rice. Senior Mandy Kidd and Juniors Kathy Ince and Carrie Renfro made the salad. Dessert was made by Seniors Karmen Key and Machielle Upton.

The home economics room was decorated in country blues and pinks. The tablecloths were made of quilted material with quilted ducks for a centerpiece.

By LEEANN WHITELEY

Starting off a new year, the Student Council at Cross Plains I.S.D. voted to contact Marilyn Golightly to talk to a small group of people at school in February at a date to be set later.

Ms. Golightly is invovled with the Texas War on Drugs. She will speak not just about a drug-free school but a drug-free community.

In other business, a committee was set up to select the sites around campus to plant the trees that the Student Council ordered last month. The committee consists of Donald Sibley, Chairman (Sr.), Brenda Franke (Jr.), Calvin Champion (Soph.), and Josh Harrell (8th). As of yet, it's not known exactly when the trees will arrive.

Report Card On Texas Schools

The National Center for Policy Analysis (NCPA), a research institute of Dallas, released a report on academic tests given in more than 1,000 school districts in the 1988-89 academic year.

This report represents ninth grade students passing the TEAMS test performance of reading, writing and mathematics.

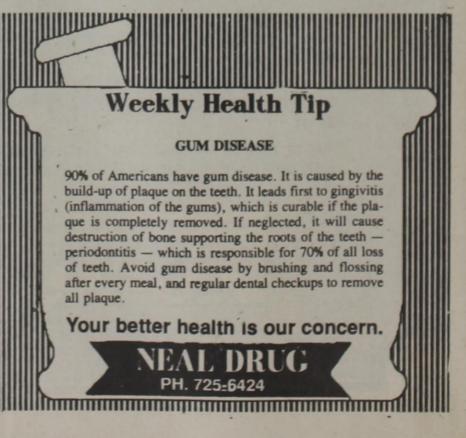

Seventy-six percent of Cross Plains students passed all tests taken in February 1989. again. That stupid rat, which has been in my house for a solid week, ate through the electric cord to my refrigerator. David repaired it late Saturday evening, and Sherryl did a basket of laundry for me — bless her heart!

Mrs. Dick Smith of Fort Worth spent Tuesday through Thursday of last week with J.T. and Betty Beggs. Max Smith came on Thursday to take Mrs. Smith home. Mrs. Smith enjoyed a tour of the farm, the labor-house, and seeing all the cattle, and a ride in the much-needed rain. Brent Key of Pioneer visited one day. Mr. and Mrs. C.T. Barton of Pioneer visited the Beggs' on Saturday.

Sally Roady visited Ms. Nettie Roady (at the nursing home) every day. Gene Hicks of Rising Star visited them one day. They visited Mr. Maci Childers in Cross Plains one day Charlie spent the weekend with Bobby and Sally. Billie and H.A. Free nan o Cross Plains visited the Roadys on evening. SHEN NOW!

The next time you see a healthy, happy child, perhaps your own, you might like to give some thought to the millions of burned and crippled children helped by one organization and the interesting history of that fraternal group.

Called the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine for North America, it's an international fraternity of approximately 800,000 members more commonly known as Shriners.

Thirteen Masonic brothers founded the Shrine in New York City in 1872 on the basis of the Masonic principles of brotherly love, relief and truth.

The best known symbol of Shrinedom is the distinctive red fez Shriners wear at official functions. It's named for the holy city of Fez, Morocco, and is part of the Shrine's Near East theme developed by the two men who were the driving force behind the new order: Billy Florence, a popular actor of the day, and Walter M. Fleming, a prominent physician. They knew a fledgling fraternity needed an appealing backdrop for its color and pageantry.

The turn of the century brought a dramatic increase in Shrine membership and a growing desire for an official Shrine philanthropy. Individual Temples had always supported various charitable causes, but now the Shrine was ready for its own. Thus was born, in 1922, the first Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children, dedicated to providing excellent medical care to children with orthopaedic diseases and injuries, at no cost to the patients, their parents or any third party.

The concept was so successful and the potential for helping children so great that additional Shriners Hospitals followed the first. In the 1950's, Shriners began looking for other ways they could help children and they became aware of the lack of medical expertise in burn care. Each year, thousands of children are crippled, disfigured or killed by this tragic hazard of childhood. In 1966, the Shrine opened the first of its three Shriners Burns Institutes, each with the three-fold purpose of helping children, conducting burn research and training medical personnel to treat burns.

Today there are 22 hospitals throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico. All care is free to children under 18 as long as that treatment at another facility would place a financial burden on the family and that the child has a "treatable" condition. Through the Shrine's support of the Hospitals, they have become known as the "heart and soul of the Shrine."

Health Spas: Exercise Your Options

This is the time of year that most of us make our New Year's resolutions. One item that is usually on everyone's list is to improve one's physical condition through exercise, weight control, and other treatments. To achieve these results, you may be considering joining a health spa.

There are several types of health spas, including those that specialize in aerobics, weights, and sports medicine. The type of health spa you choose will depend largely on your interest and your budget; but whatever your needs, you may avoid disappointment if you check out the club's fees, contractual requirements and facilities before you join.

INSPECT THE FACILITY

Visit the health spa during the hours you would normally use the club to see if it is overcrowded during this period. Notice the appearance of the facility and the condition of the equipment: is it clean and well-maintained? You may also want to ask these questions:

- "Is there a trial period in which you can sample services free of charge?" Most spas provide guest passes for this purposes.
- "How many members do you have and is there a limit to the number of people who can join?" While the spa may not be busy during your visit, the condition may change, so be sure to find out what days and times are usually the peak periods. This will determine how much time your workout will require.
- "Is there a qualified trainer or instructor available to teach the operations or functions of the equipment?" Proper training may decrease injuries.
- "What hours will I be able to use the spa and what activities or programs require additional charge?"

right away. You might be offered special time-limited rates as an incentive. But if you wait a few days, you may make a better decision. Take the contract home and read it carefully before you sign it.

You may even want to obtain a copy of the Texas Health Spa Act, which became law September 1, 1985, to help you better understand what health spas can and can not do. This act was designed to correct many of the problems consumers have experienced with this rapidly expanding industry. Here are just a few provisions that are regulated by the Health Spa Act.

RIGHT TO CANCEL - Anyone can cancel a membership contract within three business days without a penalty and no reason required.

IF THE SPA CLOSES OR MOVES - If the spa goes out of business or relocates more than 10 miles away from the facility that you joined, and you have paid for more than the services you have already received, you are eligible for a refund.

CONTRACT TERMS - Lifetime memberships are illegal. If the spa has been in business in this state for less than two years the member may enter into a contract for no more than two years. If the spa has been in business more than two years the member may finance a contract for five years.

Remember that any contract that fails to comply with the Health Spa Act is void and unenforceable. Also, any contract entered into as a result of false or misleading information by the health spa owner or operator is void and unenforceable. Any violation of the Health Spa Act is a violation of the Consumer Protection-Deceptive Trade Practice Act as well.

FOR MORE HELP

If you have a complaint about health spas or any other consumer problem, call your nearest Consumer Protection Office in Austin, Dallas, El Paso, Houston, Lubbock, McAllen and San Antonio. The Attorney General's Office is the people's law firm. We're here to help you.

Saving For Your Dream Home

Home ownership has always been a part of the American dream. But real estate costs have risen faster than most incomes, making the dream more difficult to achieve than ever before.

The major difficulty for new buyers is accumulating enough money for a down payment and closing costs. A typical 20 percent down payment on a house costing $112,500 is $22,500, plus closing costs of $4,000 to $5,000. In many areas, high housing prices can more than double these figures.

If you're considering buying a home, saving these sums may seem daunting. But not if you have a plan. Fidelity Investments has developed a free worksheet that takes buyers through each of the steps necessary for putting together a monthly savings strategy. The worksheet helps you estimate down payment and closing costs, project the future value of any current savings available for a home purchase, and calculate how much must be saved each month to make up the difference.

"The secret to saving is to make it a habit." said Neal Litvack, vice president at Fidelity Investments. "Pay yourself first. Then invest wisely for the best possible return." Depending on your income, for example, you may do better in a tax-free investment which allows you to enjoy tax savings before you own a home.

These and other tips are found in a guide to Buying a Home--Putting the Dream Together. For free copies of the guide and worksheet, call Fidelity at 1-800-544-6666.

THERE IS TOO MUCH CONFUSION ABOUT "MATERNITY LEAVE"

Dear Commissioner Nabers, How much time off for maternity leave does an employer have to give an employee? What about absenteeism during the course of an employee's pregnancy? Can an employer take any adverse action against a pregnant employee for absenteeism or must it simply be tolerated? -S.C.

Cleveland, Tx.

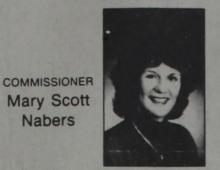

Dear S.C., Texas law DOES NOT require that employers provide "maternity leave." Federal anti-discrimination statutes DO, however, PROHIBIT discriminating against a woman because she is pregnant. THESE ARE TWO SEPARATE THINGS.

In Texas, sick leave, vacations, holidays, etc. are all up to the employer to provide or not provide. If your company chooses to have a sick leave policy, then a pregnant employee is entitled to the same sick leave benefits as any other employee. If your company does not allow employees any paid or unpaid sick leave, then a pregnant employee would not be eligible for any leave either during pregnancy or subsequent to delivery. If your company has no written policy but does have a practice of letting people have time off when they are sick without disciplinary consequences, then you had better be sure that you treat a pregnant employee the same way you would any other employee under the informal policy. Obviously, this latter arrangement leaves a company most vulnerable to challenge.

As for holding a job open for an employee who must leave work to have a baby, that too is basically determined by your company policy. What would be your company's policy toward the employee who would be out for six weeks to have surgery? If you would hold their job open, then you should treat your pregnant employee no differently. If, on the other hand, such a situation would require the employee to terminate and reapply for work upon being released by their physician, then the pregnant employee is not entitled to different treatment.

The problem most employers have is that they are unwilling to specify what, if any, their leave policy will be. They want to be able to make special allowances for good employees and no allowances for marginal ones. This attitude usually results in increased numbers of discrimination challenges for a company.

Dear Commissioner Nabers, I know that chargebacks on claims make my TEC rate go up. How long does it take to get my rate reduced? — L.W. Houston, Tx.

Dear L.W., If you go three say that your rate will not fluctuate within those three years, but so long as chargebacks are on your company's record, you will not be eligible for the minimum rate. By the way, the minimum rate for 1990 is .29%. THAT IS MUCH LOWER THAN IT HAS BEEN IN MANY YEARS.

Ag Leadership Program Opens For Enrollment

The Texas Agricultural Lifetime Leadership program (TALL) is now open for applicants, according to Dr. L.S. Pope, who coordinates the program for the Agricultural Extension Service. The deadline for consideration is February 15.

"TALL is designed to assist young men and women associated with agriculture in developing leadership skills," Pope said. The first group of 24 members visited ten agricultural areas of Texas, plus a trip to Washington, D.C., and northern Europe. During the two-year program, they were able to interact with over 175 outstanding leaders, according to Pope. A similar schedule is planned for Group II.

The basis for selection into TALL is evidence of leadership ability and desire to take on decision-making roles in Texas agriculture, Pope said. In order to gain entrance into the program, candidates must go through a rigorous selection process, including an interview. TALL is sponsored largely from outstide grants and scholarships, but participants must pay part of the cost. Members must be between the ages of 25 to 40 years and be involved in an agricultural pursuit in Texas. "Agricultural leaders must make some critical decisions in the years ahead," Pope said. "They must be well-informed on key issues and must recognize the complex society in which we live. Also, they must be able to speak out and be willing to address problems facing agriculture. It is important that they interact effectively with leaders outside of agriculture." Candidates for the second group of TALL can contact their County Extension Office of District Extension headquarters for further information. They can also write Dr. Pope at 242 Kleberg Center, TAMU, College Station, Texas 77843.

Low-Income Households May Be Eligible For Energy Assistance

AUSTIN — Some low-income Texans may be eligible for help in paying heating bills this winter through the Home Energy Assistance Program, according to Texas Department of Human Services Commissioner Ron Lindsey.

Lindsey said the one-time payment is available to many low-income households. Applications for energy assistance were mailed to households that received food stamps, Aid to Families with Dependent Children, or Supplemental Security Income in December. Other low-income individuals may request an application by calling the toll-free number 1-800-252-8060 during the enrollment period of January 22 through February 28.

Eligibility is limited to gross income and resources. Aid is available for a one-person household having less than $589.49 gross income per month. The gross income limits are $781.49 for households of two persons, $973.49 for three, $1,165.49 for four, $1,357.49 for five, and $1,549.49 for six.

Households are eligible if the cost for heating is included in the rent payment or if the household pays a portion of its home energy costs.

Energy assistance checks are sent directly to the people who are eligible for assistance. However, the checks are made payable to the energy provider.

People receiving one of these energy assistance checks should mail it or take it in person to the energy provider business office with their regular energy bill. The check can be cashed only by the energy provider. If the HEAP check is more than the energy bill, the additional amount will be credited to the person's account for the next month's bill. If the energy bill is higher than the check, the person is responsible for paying the difference.

Appraisal District Mailed Personal Property Rendition Forms To Businesses

The Central Appraisal District of Callahan County recently mailed several hundred personal property rendition forms to operators of businesses in Callahan County. According to Jane Ringhoffer, Deputy Chief Appraiser for the District, these forms are to be used by businesses to report their inventory, equipment, and assets other than real estate as of January 1, 1990. The information reported by the business is used by the appraisai district staff to develop values that will be placed on the 1990 tax rolls for the various schools, cities, and county that use the district to develop their tax bases.

Mrs. Ringhoffer stated that those businesses not returning their renditions to the district by the April 1, 1990 deadline will have their values estimated by the appraisers. This often results in higher values than would be assessed otherwise since the appraiser
