New Highway Maintenance Building Planned In Baird

Bids will be opened July 5 for the construction of a new state highway department maintenance building in Baird estimated to cost $988,000.

The Texas Department of Transportation will open bids July 5 for the construction of a new 18,000 square foot highway maintenance building located one-half mile north of Interstate 20 on State Highway 283 in Baird. The building site is located north of the city cemetery on the east side of State Highway 283.

Scotty Mitchell, District Maintenance Manager with the Department of Transportation headquartered in Abilene, said work on the new maintenance building in Baird should begin around the first of September. He said the new maintenance building should be completed by April 1996.

The Department of Transportation recently purchased 10 acres of land on the east side of State Highway 283 north of Baird to construct the new maintenance building. Dirt work at the site has already begun and a security fence has been erected around three sides of the property.

Mitchell, who is a resident of Baird, said the Department of Transportation will be doing some of the site work, including constructing the pad the new building will set on.

The new maintenance building will include constructing nine covered truck bays, a two bay shop area and office area. Mitchell said the building will be constructed of concrete tiles with an exposed galvanized roof. The building will be built to ADA (American Disabilities Act) requirements as well.

Mitchell said the new building is being constructed because the current building is too small. "We don't have adequate storage for equipment now. Most of the equipment sets outside," Mitchell said of the lack of covered truck bays at the current facility.

The district maintenance manager said the new facility will also have outdoor lighting in case maintenance crews need to be dispatched at night. Mitchell said the new maintenance shop will also have several heated shop bays and all truck bays will have electrical plug-ins.

With the new 10 acre site, Mitchell said the new maintenance facility will also have more outdoor area for material storage.

Mitchell said the new facility is being constructed away from the city of Baird

Senate Votes To Repeal 55 MPH Speed Limit

WASHINGTON—The U. S. Senate voted 65-35 to turn back to the states the right to set speed limits for automobiles. U. S. Senator Phil Gramm, R-Texas, supported the repeal of the 55 mile-per-hour national speed limit.

"Driving from long distances across Texas at 55 mph, two things happen. You either get discouraged and turn back, or you're going to get run over," joked Gramm, adding that he believed the Texas Legislature was fully capable of setting an appropriate speed limit in rural areas.

Current law sets national limits for all vehicles of 55 mph on most roads and 65 mph on rural interstates.

"It's illogical for politicians in traffic-congested Washington, D. C. to make a law that sets the same speed limit on a 100-mile stretch of the Texas Panhandle and a crowded Houston freeway,"

COLEMAN'S PRCA RODEO JULY 13-15

Coleman's 58th Annual PRCA Rodeo will be held Thursday through Saturday, July 13-15 at 8:00 p.m. It will take place in The Coleman Rodeo Association Arena which is located on 33 acres south of Coleman and seats 6,000 people and has free parking adjoining the dust-free arena.

The stock will be furnished by the DON GAY ALL STAR RODEO of Mesquite, owned by Mr. Don Gay who is an eight time World Champion Bull Rider and a member of the Pro Rodeo Hall of Champions. Charlie Throckmorton of Grandview will serve as the rodeo announcer, and music will be provided by Donnie Neff of Santa Anna.

Gramm said.

The primary aim of the bill is to designate 159,886 miles of roads across the country—primarily interstates and main highways—as the National Highway System and provide $13 billion over two years to upgrade these roads. The measure has yet to be considered by the House.

Under a 1991 law, roughly $440 million from the Highway Trust Fund is to be provided in each of 1996 and 1997 to help improve and maintain Texas roads, if the National Highway System is officially designated by September 30 of this year.

In 1974, Congress set a national speed limit of 55 mph in an effort to conserve gasoline at the height of the Arab oil embargo. Congress approved a 65-mph speed limit for rural interstates in 1987, and extended it to four-lane highways in 1991, subject to state approval.

The bullfighters for the 1995 Rodeo are Gary Hedeman and Barry Hankins. Quail Dobbs will serve as barrelman, and he will also perform specialty acts.

The rodeo dance will be held at the RODEO DANCE PAVILION each night starting at 9 p.m. Sonny Burgess Band of Cleburne will provide the music.

The parade, which will feature floats, out-of-town sheriff's posses, and local riders, will be held Saturday, July 15, at 5 p.m.

A barbeque sponsored by the Coleman High School Cheerleaders will be held at the Breeder-Feeder Building at the rodeo grounds Saturday, July 15, from 6 to 8 p.m.

Her Smile

By Tonya Haywood

Long before her spoken word, there was that SMILE. That SMILE that said more than a simple hello, but rather proclaimed, "welcome to my family."

Long before that sassy walk, that larger than life laugh, there was that SMILE. The SMILE of a wife looking adoringly at her soul mate. The SMILE of a mother in awe of the son created by their love.

Long before the never-ending story, the moment's deadline - the big scoop, there was that SMILE. The SMILE that said, "no problem, I can do it." The SMILE that told us everything is possible. The SMILE that was simply "KATHY."

And now in our deepest sorrow and loss, it is that SMILE that will get us to tomorrow and tomorrow and yet another tomorrow. For we will always remember and hold in our hearts THAT SMILE.

Intermittent Exercise

Too busy, too lazy to exercise for 30 minutes? According to a report in the Journal of the AMA, moderate activity scattered over the day will help avoid dangers of long-term illness. Walking briskly, playing with children, climbing stairs, cleaning house, or dancing, can reduce your risk of heart disease and other health problems. Millions of Americans, about one in five, get no significant physical activity. The key is to make the activity at least as intense as brisk walking.

Your better health is our concern.

BREAKTHRU

By Bob Pipes, preacher

There's a song entitled "The Lord Bless and Keep You", and in addition to that, the song goes on to say, "The Lord lift His countenance upon you, and give you peace...and be gracious unto you." It's a song of benediction and comes from a passage in the Old Testament, Numbers 6:24-26. It is usually referred to as the "Aaronic Benediction" because God told Moses to tell Aaron (and Aaron's sons) to bless the children of Israel with these words. So the scripture has simply been made into a hymn wherein and whereby we might ask for God's blessings to be upon one another.

To have God's blessings upon them proved to be a great blessing indeed for the Israelites. I'm convinced we need His blessings today just as they did back then. They had been gone from Egypt where they had been held in bondage for years -- they had been gone for about a year and were about to leave Mount Sinai to journey to the promised land, Canaan. With God's blessings -- if they obeyed -- they would be in the land which flowed with milk and honey in another year or less. What they had not learned well enough was that if they disobeyed, instead of God's blessings, they would have His curse upon them. Let me encourage you to read more in the Old Testament of the experiences of the people of God from the creation. If you would like to have a daily Bible reading schedule -- or a free Bible correspondence course -- to help you in your study of the Bible, please let your desires be known and we will supply.

TEXAS HOSPITALS FACE $4 BILLION MEDICAID LOSS, PLACING LOCAL HEALTH CARE PROVIDERS, TAXPAYERS IN CRITICAL CONDITION

AUSTIN—State Comptroller John Sharp, a longtime advocate of block grants, said that proposed funding formulas now before Congress could cost Texas public hospitals up to $4 billion and shift the fiscal burden to local taxpayers.

"Local property taxes help fund Texas' major public hospitals," Sharp said. "For them, the choice will be to raise those taxes or close their doors forever."

"Our analysis shows that by the year 2002, some public hospitals would have to hike local tax rates by as much as 50 percent to cover the shortfall caused by inequities in the proposed Congressional plan."

The Comptroller's analysis details current Medicaid payments to all Texas hospitals, the amount each hospital would lose under current Congressional proposals and the tax increase that would be necessary to cover those losses. The analysis concludes that Texas hospitals could lose up to $4 billion over the next seven years, depending on the growth of Medicaid patients during that period.

Total losses to all Texas health care providers could soar as high as $12 billion in federal funding over the same period.

"I'm committed to block grants to help balance the federal budget and give Texas communities the flexibility to meet their needs," Sharp said. "But current proposals would force Texas taxpayers to subsidize health care for folks in a handful of powerful Northeastern states. Texans deserve better than an unfair system that treats a sick child here as if he or she were worth half a sick child in New York."

"Washington should abandon these failed formulas of the past and turn to a simple solution instead—send the money where the people are."

According to Sharp's analysis, Houston will be the hardest hit region of the state. Ben Taub and the other three hospitals in the Harris County Hospital District could lose nearly $200 million over the next seven years. Two hospitals without tax bases, Texas Children's and Hermann, could lose $163 million and $142 million respectively. Altogether, Houston-area hospitals could lose $1.2 billion.

Other big losers include Parkland Hospital in Dallas, with $140 million in potential losses, totaling more than $500 million in losses throughout the Metroplex. The University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston faces $130 million in potential losses.

Sharp said that Texas hospitals could weather the transition to Medicaid block grants if Congress were to adopt a funding formula that treats all states fairly. His National Fair Share Block Grant Plan would distribute Medicaid funds according to each state's percentage of the U. S. population and its poverty rate.

"Since early this year, I've been working to build a consensus among the two-thirds of all states that stand to lose under current proposals," Sharp said. "We've worked with the Sunbelt Coalition, Governor Lawton Chiles of Florida, Controller Kathleen Connell of California, and anyone in Washington who will listen."

"We have an historic opportunity to shape the distribution of Medicaid dollars into the next century. Not only can we help Congress balance the federal budget, but we can see to it that growing states like ours get their fair share."

Sharp praised Texas Senator Kay Bailey Hutchison for taking the lead in the Senate for equitable public assistance block grants. He also applauded Texas Congressman Joe Barton, John Bryant, and Ralph Hall, all of whom serve on the U. S. House subcommittee on Medicaid, and Texas Health and Human Services Commissioner Mike McKinney for their combined efforts on behalf of fair funding formulas.

Medicaid was created in 1965 to ensure access to health care for low- and middle-income families, as well as long-term care for the elderly. Today, Medicaid serves as the basic health insurance for more than two million Texans. Twenty-six percent of Texas children and 14 percent of elderly Texans, three-quarters of them women, depend on Medicaid for basic, primary health care. The program also pays for 40 percent of all Texas births.

"Texas has one of the nation's largest populations of both young people and elderly," Sharp said. "Obviously, demands on local hospitals in the coming years will grow, not shrink."

"Middle-class Texas taxpayers might as well ask: 'Why should we subsidize the health care of people in other states when we don't even have adequate funding for our own folks now?'"

Volunteer 4-H Leaders Honored At Luncheon

Forty-two volunteer 4-H leaders were recently honored at the Annual District 7 4-H Volunteer Recognition Luncheon. The luncheon was held at the River Club in San Angelo.

The luncheon recognizes individuals or institutions instrumental in 4-H's success in each of the 23 counties of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service's District 7. The event has been sponsored for the last 28 years by the ten rural electric cooperatives serving the Area covered by Extension's District 7.

Selected to represent Callahan County were Bob & Cookie Robinson of Clyde. Both of these leaders have been involved in the 4-H Shooting Sports Project for the past several years as instructors and club project coordinators. They have also assisted other leaders of the club in building the new Callahan County 4-H Shooting Range between Baird and Clyde. Our congratulations to both of these outstanding Leaders.
