It Is Not An Experiment

There is nothing experimental about the services of this bank. Every feature and every facility of it has been put to the test and found to measure up to your needs. It is a service that has long passed the experimental stage.

PINK BARR SUFFERING FROM A MALADY NOT DIAGNOSED

Pink Barr who with his family were visiting on the Colorado River, on last Friday became ill, and he was brought to Brownwood for medical attention, where his case has been serious and baffling to physicians. He was operated on last Monday, and is now doing as well as could be expected. The physicians have never been able to say what his trouble is with certainty. For a while it was thought that he could hardly survive, but his many friends here are glad to know he is doing some better.

GOOD WHEAT YIELD NEAR CROSS CUT

J. A. Yancy, who farms near Cross Cut, reports that he made nearly 1100 bushels of wheat off 50 acres, lacking a little making twenty-two bushels per acre. He probably got the best yield in his community.

WHEAT A MONEY CROP FOR FARMERS

Mr. B. K. Eubank, who lives in the Dressy community, planted an experimental patch of wheat of an entirely new brand of seed, for a part of his 1921 crop. Only five acres of land was seeded and a total yield of 30 1-2 bushels per acre was harvested and threshed from the patch. The seed wheat for the crop was purchased from a seed concern in Miami, Texas, it is known as Canred Wheat. While this wheat produced 30 1-2 bushels per acre, ordinary wheat on the adjoining land that was planted by Mr. R. O. Eubank, father of B. K. Eubank, only produced 25 1-2 bushels per acre.

Several bushels of the Canred Wheat sold the day that it was threshed for $2.00 per bu., while the price offered for the ordinary wheat was only $1.00. Only 3-4 of a bushel of the Canred Wheat was used per acre in seeding the land while one bushel of the ordinary seed was used on each acre seeded.

This experiment by Mr. Eubank has proven to be a very profitable one; and no doubt it will prove to be a great benefit to the wheat growers of this section.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE EVEN A SUNDAY SCHOOL

The Rev. Cal C. Wright and family of Shamrock are visiting Mr. Wright's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wright, who live two miles south of town. Mr. Wright was reared in this community. His work as a M. E. minister is watched with interest by many friends.

He tells an interesting story as to the growth of his Sunday School at Shamrock. He and District supervisor of the Sunday School work, H. B. Hill, who is also a member of the Legislature from Shamrock, instituted an advertising campaign with a view to building up their local Sunday School. They laid out a newspaper advertising program, the advertising all paid for at regular rates, and went to work with the result that the members grew from about 120 to more than 300 necessitating the providing of considerable room. The local paper, to be sure, always gave plenty of space to church news, giving a column to that cause. Mr. Wright states that the ordinary local church news is not read with the interest manifest in reading the proper kind of advertising. The success of this Sunday School venture has been the subject of comment of most of the newspapers in the Panhandle and north Plains country.

TUESDAY WAS CLEAN UP DAY IN CROSS PLAINS

Last Tuesday was clean up day in this little city, and some of our men made themselves sick so hard did they work. The town now shows up much better and is much more sanitary than it was. This is a work everybody should join in.

Wednesday and Thursday were set apart to clean up the city park.

WAREHOUSE AND MARKETING AND AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT

Gov. Neff will recommend in the coming special session of the Legislature the consolidation of the Department of Agriculture and the Warehouse and Marketing Department, as a matter of economy and efficiency. He recommended the same measure to the last regular session of the Legislature, but it failed to carry in the Senate. Quite a fight is being made by the Warehouse and marketing officials to prevent the consolidation. The Commissioner of Agriculture offers to guarantee to operate both departments, after the consolidation, for $50,000 a year cheaper than they both are being run to-day, and without any loss in efficiency. It is hard to lose jobs, but let us have the useless expense cut out. If interested, write your representative or senator.

NEW FORD CAR STOLEN FROM WILBUR WILLIAMS

A new Ford Touring car was stolen from Wilbur Williams' private garage on last Saturday night. Wilbur and family were fully prepared to leave on Sunday morning for Houston and other points and had the Ford filled with gas and oil in the afternoon, putting it in good shape to go one hundred miles or more without stop. Their disappointment was great when Wilbur went to his garage on Sunday morning to find the garage open and no car. He got an officer and traced the car for a distance north of town. Every effort is being made to locate it, but it is a hard matter to get a car back once it is stolen.

He carried no insurance.

FIVE ARE KILLED WHEN PLANE IS WRECKED

ENGINE TROUBLE CAUSES CRASH TO FALL AMONG GROUP OF AUTOS

OVER FIFTY ARE INJURED

Pilots Are Rescued by Bethany College Man—All Victims Are Spectators

Moundsville, W. Va.—Five persons were killed and approximately 50 injured at Langin Field here late Sunday when a Martin bombing plane crashed into a group of automobiles parked on the ground. An explosion followed, setting fire to the machines. The dead were all spectators.

Lieutenant C. R. McIve, pilot, and Lieutenant T. H. Dunton, assistant pilot, were rescued by Carl Miller, coach of Bethany college.

The plane was descending from a flight when the left motor is said to have given away, the machine crashing to earth. The gas tank exploded, setting fire to the machine.

The dead are: Mrs. George Lang and unidentified child, Carl Petit, Fred Edge, Ralph Hartzell.

Nearly a score of persons were either burned or injured so severely as to require surgical attention.

Lieutenant McIve and Dunton and Sergeant James Long, in charge of the field, declined to make any comment as to the cause of the accident. Lieutenant Dunton suffered slight burns about the face and hands, but neither he nor his companion were hurt severely. The 16 automobiles were crushed into a mass and set afire, many of them filled with people.

Both tanks of the aircraft exploded, hurling burning fluid over the cars and spectators.

MEMORIAL SERVICE IS HELD FOR 7,264 DEAD

Gresham, Enright and Hay in Place or Honor at Ceremony

Hoboken, N. J.—Leaders of the nation mourned the country's war dead Sunday at memorial services on the army piers here, where lay the bodies of 7,264 men who made the supreme sacrifice on the fields of France.

Congress sent a joint committee headed by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of New Jersey to the city to speak at the services. The army was represented by Assistant Secretary of War Wainwright and General Pershing, who declared the freedom of France was the battle cry of the fallen.

The bodies of those who died in row upon row of flag-draped coffins within the massive piers from which many of them had embarked for France.

Scores of gold-star mothers and hundreds of veterans attended. Every unit that saw active service in France was represented among the dead. Directly in front of the speakers were the caskets of the first three United States soldiers to die in battle against Germany—Corporal Herbert James D. Gresham of Evansville, Ind.; Private Thomas F. Enright of Pittsburgh, Pa.; and Private Merle D. Hay of Glidden, Iowa—all members of the sixteenth infantry, first division, and all killed in November, 1917, in the Lunville sector of Lorraine.

HARDING SUGGESTS CONFERENCE HERE

Washington.—President Harding has laid the foundation for an international conference to discuss armament and at the same time to consider a solution of questions growing out of the Far Eastern problem.

In an official statement issued Sunday night by Secretary of State Hughes it was announced that "informal but definite" inquiries had been made of England, France, Italy and Japan to ascertain whether it would be agreeable to them to take part in an armament reduction conference to be held in Washington.

"If the proposal is found to be acceptable," said Mr. Hughes' statement, "informal invitations for such a conference will be issued."

Cattle Loans Are Available

Washington.—Secretary Mellon announces that according to information received from Chicago the $50,000,000 banking pool formed to handle live stock loans will be in a position to begin to make loans during this week. It is understood the differences have been satisfactorily adjusted and that many applications for loans have been made and will be acted upon at once. The committee expects to make advances aggregating at least $17,000,000 this week.

U. S. RAILWAY BOARD IS OPENLY DEFIED

PENNSYLVANIA ROAD OFFICIALS DECLARE POWERS EXCEEDED IN WORKING AGREEMENT.

Chicago, Ill.—The Pennsylvania railroad has openly defied the United States railroad board.

Representatives of the road declared before the board that that body had exceeded its authority in continuing the national working agreements after once abrogating them; that it would not meet the authorized craft union leaders in negotiating new agreements other than the employe committees appointed by the secret balloting conducted by the road, and that it was the intention of the Pennsylvania system to continue in the path it is now pursuing in dealing with its 785,000 employes, no matter what the board may decide.

As the craft union have a completed strike vote tucked under their belt right now, and as the big four brotherhoods have ordered one for Sept. 1, the stand of the Pennsylvania was a bombshell to the little plan for harmonious settlement of the railroad labor problem.

After the Pennsylvania officials had finished their onslaught on the authority and policy of the railroad board they turned on the union leaders and politely dared them to pull a strike on its system if they thought they could get away with it.

The double barreled barrage was laid down by E. T. Whiter, assistant to Vice President W. W. Atterbury, who was present and cheered him on; E. H. Senef, general solicitor, and J. T. Wallis, chief of motive power.

The cause of the fireworks was the order of the board on June 26, indefinitely continuing employes under the federal administration. The board abrogated these agreements April 14, and ordered the roads and employes to get together and draw up new agreements by July 1.

WACO CITIZEN TARRED; THREE ARRESTS MADE

Officers Give Chase When Man is Taken From Plaza in Daylight.

Waco, Texas.—On the east side of the plaza, close to the city hall and within a few feet of patrol wagon driver Joe Carlisle, K. Cummins, a white man, was seized Friday, taken to the cedar brakes in the north part of Waco and tarred and feathered. Officer Carlisle, with Detectives R. H. Hall, Jess Farquhar and Patrolman Drummond, followed the car in which Cummins was placed by his captors, four masked men. R. S. Vanwie, traffic officer, riding his motorcycle, trailed the car in which Cummins had been placed. He was held up at the entrance to the cedar brakes by masked men, who were armed.

When the other officers arrived they found a rope stretched across one of the roads that passes through the cedar brakes, bearing a sign marked "Danger." They cut the rope and drove their car through, meeting another car coming back, in which three masked men and Cummins, who had already been tarred and feathered from his head to his waist, were seated. The officers forced the three men to return to the police station, while Cummins, who was badly burned, was taken to his home.

Following an investigation by County Attorney Frank B. Tiers and Assistant County Attorney C. H. Menden, complaints were filed against three prominent men charging white-capping and carrying pistols.

LOWER NATURAL GAS RATES TO BE DEMANDED

Dallas.—Individual gas consumers of the twenty-one north Texas towns and cities affected by the litigation between the Lone Star Gas company and the North Texas Gas company will enter the suit with the ultimate purpose of securing lower rates if the recommendations of the committee named by the mayors last Saturday are carried out. The committee met here and rendered its report. It proposed that, first, an effort be made to prevent the cancellation of the contracts by the Lone Star, the producing company, with the North Texas company, the distributor; second, that the distributing company receive a greater proportion of the receipts and third, that the present rates be materially reduced.

Representatives of all of the twenty-one towns and cities involved have been called to meet here this week to plan further action. It was announced by Hamp P. Abney of Sherman, chairman of the committee.

State's Surplus Only $549,000.

Howat Draws Fine and Time.
Columbus, Kan.—Alexander Howat and August Dorchy, president and vice president of the Kansas Miners' Union, have been sentenced to serve six months in jail and pay a fine of $500.

FURTHER ADVANCES TO RAILROADS SOON

GOVERNMENT WILL LET THEM HAVE $500,000,000 IN SHORT TIME.

Washington.—Treasury Secretary Mellon has announced that under a provisional refunding arrangement made with the railroad executives the carriers would receive approximately $500,000,000 in additional advances from the federal government within the next six months.

Mr. Mellon said negotiations with the railroad executives probably would be completed within a few days and that the advances contemplated would give to the railroads in cash sums of money equivalent to those which the government spent in capital betterments during the period of war-time control. The government will receive for the advances 6 per cent security evidencing the indebtedness of the particular railroads which receive the advances, it was explained.

All of the claims and counter-claims between the individual railroads and the government arising out of maintenance expenditures during the control period are involved in the negotiations. Mr. Mellon indicated.

Mr. Mellon said he believed the additional advances to the roads would be beneficial to the general financial situation and might assist in a resumption of business activity. In many cases, he said, the advances would enable the railroads to pay outstanding debts to industrial companies for supplies.

In the long run, he added, the government would obtain a net profit from the advances since the money necessary could be borrowed at a lower interest rate than the security which the railroads return to the government would bear. Railroad securities now held by the treasury he said, amount to approximately $400,000,000.

PLAN CAMPAIGN TO KEEP DOWN TAXES

State-Wide Aid Will Be Sought By Business Men of Dallas.

Dallas.—Plans to secure co-operation of the people in every part of the state in the movement to prevent an increase in taxation and to bring about greater economy in the state government were made Thursday night by a committee of business men at the chamber of commerce. The committee was appointed Wednesday at a meeting in which resolutions were adopted opposing every appropriation except those absolutely necessary.

Business men from every section of the state will be asked to stay in Austin during the appropriations and other committees with such information as they may require, the committee decided.

GUNBOATS ORDERED TO LEAVE TAMPICO WATERS

Washington.—Withdrawal of the cruiser Cleveland and the gunboat Caeracamento from Tampico, Mexico, has been ordered by the navy department. In making this announcement, Secretary Denby said that the order had been issued by mutual agreement with the state department.

Mexico City.—Additional federal troops have been dispatched to the region of Tampico by the Mexican government for the announced purpose of "giving guarantees to nationals and foreigners."

This action was taken although the forces regularly maintained around Tampico, where there is a serious situation arising because of unemployment, are deemed sufficient to deal with any emergency, said a statement issued Friday by Fernando Torreblanca, private secretary to President Obregon.

SHORTAGE IS SEEN IN REVENUE INCOME

Washington.—Total revenue collections for Texas dropped during the fiscal year ending June 30 $28,548,529, compared with the collections of the previous year.

A statement from the internal revenue bureau shows that for the fiscal year just closed the income and profit taxes, which include individuals and businesses, amounted in Texas to $52,122,824, a reduction of more than $24,000,000 compared with the previous year. The miscellaneous taxes paid in Texas for the last fiscal year were $24,426,607, a reduction of nearly four and a half million. The total collections last year in Texas were $76,549,533 compared with $105,097,962 for the previous year.

THE MARKETS

Supplied by the Bureau of Markets, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Washington, D. C., July 1, 1921.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease.

Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmor & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.

AUTO THIEF WRECKS FORD; ABANDONS CAR

In the wee small hours of Thursday morning somebody broke into J. N. Wat's shop, took his bolt cutter and then cut the lock to Mrs. Mae Bowman's garage and stole her new Ford. The fellow evidently didn't know that the streets of Clyde had been worked and in making his get-away missed a culvert in the east part of town, turning the car over and smashing one wheel. The Ford was abandoned. It is not known whether the driver was hurt or not. Officers expect to make an arrest soon.—Clyde Enterprise.

LITTLE IRONY OF HISTORY

Odd Fact That Enemies of Children of Israel Should Have Given Name to Palestine.

"By a strange turn of events the Philistines, those ancient enemies of the Children of Israel, have succeeded in giving their name to the whole of the country for 'Palestine,' as a historical geographer observes, is directly derived from 'Philistine,'" observes the Literary Digest. "The territory has never belonged to one nation, and probably never will," this writer, G. A. Smith, continues in his 'Historical Geography of the Holy Land' (London), written shortly before the war came to upset a number of preconceived notions along with territorial boundaries. Near the beginning of historic times it lay at the gate of Arabia and Egypt and at the tail end of a number of small states stretching up into Asia Minor. A period of Greek influence was followed by Roman conquest. After the success of the First crusade it was ruled for almost 100 years by European princes. In spite of these various waves of immigrants and conquerors 'the essential characteristics of the Jewish people persisted,' as a writer in the Encyclopedia Britannica points out, together with the idealism and high morality of their religion."

THE CRIME WAVE

"What awful things you read of in the papers now, don't you? I simply daren't go out without Fido."—London Opinion.

CANARIES AS WILD BIRDS.

The city of Norwich is famous for its canaries' song, beauty and hardiness, says the London Morning Post. They came to Norwich with the weavers of Flanders, banished from home by the Spaniards and ever since, the exiles' descendants, now mostly bootmakers, mustard millers and steel workers, have been canary lovers and fanciers, almost to a man.

In the pre-war days there were known to be 4,000 canary breeders in the city, and the principal dealer informed the writer that 30,000 birds passed through his hands in a year. This high authority was firmly convinced that Norwich canaries were quite hardy enough to live as wild birds in this country, if they ever succeeded in making a fair start at looking after themselves. Wild canaries certainly would be a welcome addition to our diminishing songsters.

NAPHTHA MADE TROUBLE.

A curious result of a railroad accident in which 8,000 gallons of naphtha were spilled, is reported from Roelofs, Pa. The oil ran into a pit and the odor was so penetrating that cattle died and one man succumbed. As time went on the inhabitants of the town were attacked by a sleeping sickness and everyone began to drowse. A number of residents moved out of town until the naphtha dried up.—Scientific American.

These Three Boys Won a Trip to England

In competition with boys representing 13 states, these three boys, G. W. Weiting, Jack Turner and Alva Dehagan, won the first prize in judging live stock at the southeastern fair, Atlanta, Ga., the prize consisting of a trip to the English royal live stock show at Derby, England. They stopped off in Washington where they were guests of the government for two days. The picture shows them examining the secretary of agriculture's driving team, while Secretary Wallace is an interested spectator.

Adventures With American Dollar

Writer Tells Some of His Experiences With Exchange in 18 Foreign Countries.

CHINAMAN MAKES IT CLEAR

One Little Transaction in Exchange Nets Traveler 700 Per Cent at Harbin—Gold Coin at Peking, if Sold, Would Upset the Financial System.

Washington, D. C.—Variations in currency exchange rates have not only a broad economic significance but also an extremely personal pertinence to the traveler. Maynard Owen Williams, who has just returned from a trip through 18 countries to compile information and collect picture material for the National Geographic society, some of his experiences with exchange as follows:

It is only in times of extreme stress that the average American considers the "cart wheel" and the "greenback" as commodities much like flour or madras shirting, but for most of the world foreign exchange is a vital matter every day in the year. When it takes 20 silver dollars to buy an 'X' and a 'V' in Budapest, it sounds like a fairy tale to the man who stops to think it is Uncle Sam's own currency which is treated in this manner. But the Chinese keeper of an exchange shop makes it as plain as day.

A Chinaman Makes It All Clear.
"You walk up to his open counter facing the sidewalk and ask him how much American dollars are selling for this morning."
"This morning, price very bad. My no want 'em. No man want to buy. No steamer leave today. Saturday big steamer leave for 'Merica, can give you more better price."

"During the attempt to reseal the boy emperor on the Chinese throne in the summer of 1917, a money changer in Hankow sold me some Peking notes for 20 per cent of their face value, asserting that I could get full value in Peking, if I ever got there. I was on my way to Petrograd and had to get my passport amended in Peking, so I took a chance on $25 worth of Peking notes issued by the Bank of Communications which cost $5 in Hankow, the railway service between the Yangtze port and the capital being interrupted at the time.

Transaction Nets 700 Per Cent.
"Most of the money I spent at face value in Peking for government telegrams, but as I was leaving I invested a few dollars in Chinese postage stamps. At Harbin, where the Chinese and Russian post offices competed, I trusted my letters to the Chinese post because of a censorship on Russian mail, and instead of buying Chinese stamps in Russian currency at a high exchange rate, I affixed stamps which I had bought in Peking with Chinese currency that was debased in Hankow. My profit on the transaction ran over 700 per cent."

"Certain firms and mission boards in China are in the habit of guaranteeing their workers a rate of at least two Chinese dollars for every gold dollar in their salary. Otherwise a gold salary would be subject to a decided variation since Chinese dollars in 1915 were worth only 40 American cents, and in 1918 they were worth nearly a dollar. Under this arrangement employees of one American corporation were sending home more money each month than they received as salary. Two hundred dollars a month, converted at two to one would bring four hundred Chinese dollars. For 220 of these the American could buy American exchange for $200, and he would have 180 Chinese dollars to live on.
"Consular officers get a guaranteed rate of exchange. Military officers get their pay and allowances at the day's rate. In Peking, during the war, a consular clerk earning $2,000 a year, on which he was guaranteed a rate of $2.60, was receiving more money than a lieutenant colonel, who was getting $1.15 for his money.

A Bureau of Standards in Money.
"In the office of the American military attache in Peking, there is an American five-dollar gold piece, which has been priced more often than a hold-over pair of 1912 shoes. The officers were being paid the day's rate, which was then about $1.10 Chinese money for an American dollar. But actual gold was worth 50 per cent more. The officer rightly insisted that his men were being paid in a debased currency and insisted on receiving a balance to bring the salaries up to the rate for actual gold. Hence this solitary gold piece was taken around to the exchange shops every month and its value ascertained, but if it had been sold it would have upset the financial system, for the Chinese, ready enough to offer a price for a specific coin, refuse to quote prices on theoretical ones.

"It is no wonder that there is confusion in Chinese exchange with foreign currency, for there is a varying exchange rate among the 18 provinces themselves, and the Yuan Shih Kai silver dollar is the only currency on which there is no exchange when crossing a provincial boundary. But that doesn't mean that it has a fixed value even then, for the value of a dollar in small currency is constantly changing.

"A silver dollar when exchanged at a foreign store, contains 100 cents. Thus if one makes a 20-cent purchase at a Shanghai department store, he gets 80 cents change, which seems fair enough until one discovers that at an exchange shop one can get 11 dimes and 3 cents for each dollar. When he changes one of the dimes, he will get, not ten coppers, but 11 or 12. So that the price of a dollar in coppers runs from 130 to 140, instead of the seemingly logical 100.

ABIGAIL ADAMS SHAFT

The Abigail Adams memorial at Quincy, Mass., which was erected by the Daughters of the Revolution in memory of Mrs. Abigail Smith Adams, wife of John Adams, second President of the United States and mother of the sixth, John Quincy Adams. Abigail Adams was one of the most influential women of her day and a writer of note. The memorial shaft is erected on the spot from which Abigail Adams and John Quincy Adams, then a boy, witnessed the battle of Bunker Hill.

"This state of things gives rise to the 'Oh, by the way' habit. Foreign stores will accept up to 50 cents in 'small money,' but more than that amount must be paid in 'big money.' A woman under such conditions develops a poor memory and yields to sudden impulse. She buys something for 50 cents and thus completes the transaction. But before she leaves the counter, she says 'Oh, by the way' and purchases another 50 cents worth, thus keeping a dime and two or three coppers for herself. The store gets its money back by returning seven dimes as change for a 30-cent purchase and thus makes its income look, not like 30 cents, but like 44 to 50.

Trip Cost $200 Less Than Nothing.
"In Tiflis, in the spring of 1918, the rouble was selling at 15 to the dollar. I bought 6,000, for there was no telling how long it would take to get out of Russia at that time. When I reached Vladivostok, some weeks later, the Japanese were preparing to send an army into Siberia and were buying up roubles. The rate there was 6.35 roubles for a dollar. I traveled from the Caucasus to the Pacific and took nearly two months to do it, and when I changed my money at the end of the trip, it had cost me about $200 less than nothing. The professor with whom I had traveled for several months in Russia and Turkestan had converted all his gold into roubles before leaving America, and had been spending roubles that cost him 30 cents each which bought no more than those I had bought in Tiflis for 8."

"On my recent trip to India I expected to cross Persia on my way from Eastern Europe, and since American gold had been worth four times as much as American paper in the Persian bazaars in 1918, I carried a small bag of gold with me. The trip across Persia proved impossible, and it was not till the eve of sailing for home that I sold some of the gold which I had carried for thousands of miles, and which had caused me endless arguments at nearly every boundary. Most of it I paid to the United States customs on my arrival, after having carried it for ten months, and a hundred thousand miles. There were only two times on the trip when I could have sold it for as much as I could get for a letter of credit.

Prefer Letters of Credit.
"I have never heard of anybody making money on exchange by accepting expert advice, and I would never want to offer it to anyone. But when I leave American soil again, all my money is going to be invested in a letter of credit and enough travelers' checks to help me out when I want only a small sum. Boundaries reduce currency in a way that alarms the traveler and an American letter of credit is fixed at any point where there is a bank. In the varying prices that one can get when merchandising his American currency, the gold coin sometimes wins, the silver coin seldom, and the greenback most often. But in the 18 countries I have just visited, my letter of credit beat every other one of the many ways I carried my money.

"Once in a while fortune smiles on the traveler. Last December, in Bombay, I tried to cash a Colombo draft. The bank could not quote a rate and sent it to its Colombo office, advancing me such money as I needed in the meantime. A week later, in Karachi, I received the balance of the amount. There had been bookkeeping and telegraph charges. But the rupee had decreased in value during the time it took to complete the deal, and the result was that I received nearly two hundred more rupees than I would have had if the draft had been marked Bombay instead of Colombo."

Wear Big Colored Handkerchiefs.
Paris.—A voluminous handkerchief, a yard square and of the same color and design as the blouse and veil, is the latest Paris fad. The women tuck or pin the center of the handkerchief in a side pocket, not a breast pocket, leaving the long ends of the handkerchief hanging out a size of eight inches.

FARM LIVE STOCK

CAUSES FOR RUNTY ANIMALS

Replies to Questionnaire Show Inferior Breeding and Poor Feeding Are Responsible.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
More than 800 replies have been received from practical stock breeders and owners in response to a questionnaire sent out by the United States Department of Agriculture in an effort to determine the cause and possible means of preventing runts in live stock. The large number of replies, department specialists say, indicates the interest which stock breeders feel in this subject. Some of the questions asked in the questionnaire are: "From your experience, in what classes of live stock do the most runts appear (cattle, hogs, sheep, etc.)?" "In what stage of an animal's development does runtiness appear chiefly?" "In your experience what are the most practical methods of preventing runts?" "Does it pay to raise runts to market size?" "To what extent would your financial returns from live stock be increased if you had no runts?"

The replies thus far received show that inferior breeding and poor feeding are jointly responsible for nearly two-thirds of the runts among live stock, and indicate that at least 7 per cent of farm live stock is commonly in the runty class. Detailed data on the times when runtiness appears, financial losses caused by runty stock, methods of prevention, when it pays and when it does not pay to raise runty stock are now being prepared by the department for distribution to the public.

GET FIGURES ON PUREBREDS

Bureau of Census Completing Tabulation for States Not Yet Shown in Reports.

On account of the great interest which the United States Department of Agriculture finds has been shown in census figures of purebred live stock in ten representative farm states, the bureau, of the census is proceeding with plans to complete the tabulation for the remaining states. This work is receiving the hearty co-operation of the United States Department of Agriculture. Live stock specialists of the department regard such figures as very valuable as factors in production problems, and as indicating developments in the improvement of domestic animals in this country.

It is understood that the final census figures pertaining to purebred live stock on farms will be available at the same time the general live stock figures are furnished. It is thought that this will be some time during the coming summer. Breeders and breeders' associations interested in this work have already indicated their appreciation of the value of the figures thus far available. It is the first time in the history of any country that accurate figures on the total number of purebred animals on farms have been compiled.

CARE AND FEEDING OF STOCK

Vermont Live Stock Owner Says Cause of Runts Is Due to Neglect During First Year.

In contributing his experiences on the cause of runty live stock in a recent inquiry conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture, a Vermont farmer urges greater care in the early life of domestic animals. "When people can be educated to the proper care and feeding of stock," he declares, "the runt will be practically wiped out. The reason, perhaps, why there are not so many runts in purebred herds as in others is because the man who cares what kind of stock he keeps cares enough to care for them better." He concludes that one of the principal factors in the cause of runty live stock is the man who has the care of them the first year.

SWINE SAVING PROPENSITIES

Animals Pick Up Scattered Grain in Fields and Use By-Products of the Dairy.

A hog will glean in the grain fields for the scattered wheat, rye, barley, oats, corn, etc., and also uses the by-products of the dairy, skim milk, buttermilk, and house slops, and makes them into pork. Also the fallen fruit in the orchard is converted by them into good pork for the butcher. Also other thrift is shown through various other natural saving propensities of the hog.

DARLING BABY BRIGHTENS HOME

Children's Laughter a Pleasing Sound

Altoona, Pa.—"I am writing to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. We had six children die almost at birth. From one hour to nineteen days is all they have lived. Before my next one was born I took a dozen bottles of your Vegetable Compound, and I can say that it is the greatest medicine on earth, for this baby is now four months old, and a healthier baby you would not want. I am sending you a picture of her. Everybody says 'That is a very healthy looking baby.' You have my consent to show these few lines to anybody."—Mrs. C. W. BENZ, 131 3rd Avenue, Altoona, Pa.

Mrs. Janssen's experience of interest to childless wives.
Millston, Wis.—"I want to give you a word of praise for your wonderful medicine. We are fond of children, and for a considerable time after we were married I feared I would not have any. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it strengthened me so I now have a nice, strong, healthy baby girl. I suffered very little at childbirth, and I give all the credit to your medicine, and shall always recommend it highly."—Mrs. H. H. JANSSEN, Millston, Wis.

Mrs. Held of Marinette, Wis., adds her testimonial for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She says:

Marinette, Wis.—"I was in a nervous condition and very irregular. My doctor advised an operation. My husband brought me one of your booklets and asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It overcame my weakness so that I now have a healthy baby girl after having been married nine years. I am glad to recommend your medicine, and you may use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. H. B. HELD, 330 Jefferson St., Marinette, Wis.

There are many, many such homes that were once childless, and are now blessed with healthy, happy children because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored the mother to a strong and healthy condition, as it acts as a natural restorative for ailments as indicated by backache, irregularities, displacements, weakness and nervousness.

Women everywhere should remember that most of the commoner ailments of women are not the surgical ones—they are not caused by serious displacements or growths, although the symptoms may be the same, and that is why so many apparently serious ailments readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it acts as a natural restorative. It can be taken with perfect safety and often prevents serious troubles.

Therefore if you know of any woman who is suffering and has been unable to secure relief and is regretfully looking forward to a childless old age, ask her to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it has brought health and happiness into so many homes once darkened by illness and despair.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

Imported Insect Pests: Annual Toll $500,000,000

By ROBERT H. MOULTON.

IN DISCOVERING America, Columbus not only opened up a vast new home for man but for insect pests of cultivated crops and domestic animals as well. Fully one hundred of these foreigners have made their way to American shores, and incidentally to American gardens and fields, up to the present. They have multiplied so that today their destruction of orchards, gardens and crops is estimated at approximately $500,000,000 a year. Their havoc would be much more than this were it not for the quarantines and control work conducted by the federal government and activities of the states.

The group of federal horticultural experts pictured herewith has just been discussing in Washington an effective method of fighting the pink bollworm which now threatens the cotton of the United States. It came here from Mexico in 1917 and approximately $2,000,000 has been spent to stamp it out. It is estimated that failure to control this insect menace will mean the annual loss of 20 to 40 per cent of the cotton crop—which means a loss of hundreds of millions.

These imported pests keep on coming. The latest arrival has just been detected at Miami, Fla. It is not uncommon in the tropics but according to G. F. Mozzette, entomologist in charge of the federal experiment station at Miami, one never before was seen in the United States. It is the xylostodorus luteolus and the visitor has journeyed from Cuba to sample the quality of the tender shoots of the royal palms here.

Because it is a "sucking" insect and feeds upon the leaflets of the trees, Mr. Mozzette considers the bug an undesirable citizen and war already has been declared. The defenders are attempting to repel the invader with a spray composed of one part of nicotine sulphate and 1,200 parts of water. The insect is yellow and an adult specimen is about one-half inch in length.

"This is the first record of a xylostodorus luteolus in this country," said Mr. Mozzette. "The insect was recently described in Cuba by Barber, with the host plant given as oreodoxa. Its identity was determined by Hubert Osborne of the Ohio State university."

Of all the insect pests and diseases that attack cultivated crops and cut into the profits of the American farmers severely there are relatively few of the more important ones that are native to the United States. Like many other baneful things, insect pests and diseases have followed the course of civilization. They are carried in many ways from one country to another, and it is the work of the Department of Agriculture to guard the United States against their entry and to prevent their spread.

While many of the pests have come from European countries, Asia has contributed its share of them. Prominent among these for its destructive activities is the San Jose scale, which made its first appearance in the United States forty or fifty years ago, having made its way here from China. It became wide-spread throughout the United States in the early '90s, and at the present time there is practically not a commercial deciduous orchard in this country that does not have to be sprayed once a year.

FIFTY QUARTS OF JAPANESE BEETLES

Some idea of the burden which this insect puts upon the orchardists of the United States can be had when it is realized that the expenditure for apparatus and spraying amounts to approximately $10,000,000 annually. In addition to this are the losses that the insect causes in spite of this control treatment, and they are very large, especially in small orchards and household plantings where spraying is not commonly practiced. This insect alone undoubtedly has cost this country during its presence here upward of $100,000,000.

The San Jose or Chinese scale infests practically all portions of its host plants that are above ground—the trunk, limbs, and branches—and when abundant may occur on the leaves and fruits. Injury results from the extraction, by the scale insects, of the juices of the plant. At first this merely checks the growth, but as the insects increase in number the speedy killing of the branches and twigs follows, resulting finally in the death of the plants. This insect is about the size of a pinhead, the insect proper being beneath the so-called scale, which is merely a waxy covering secreted by the soft, helpless insect for its own protection. It is distributed from one region to another principally on nursery stock, scions, or budding and grafting material, but once established in a locality it spreads by various agencies such as birds, grasshoppers, beetles and ants, or by the young being blown by strong winds from tree to tree.

Among undesirables from Japan have been two or three peach destroyers. Europe has contributed a corn borer, and from Mexico has come the notorious boll weevil. The oriental peach moth, which gained entry a few years ago with imported oriental cherry trees from Japan, has just begun its spread and depredation. It affects practically all deciduous fruits, and bids fair to be as destructive as the well-known codling moth, the cause of wormy apples. This insect injures both the twigs and fruit of trees, instances being known where it has injured 90 per cent of the twigs.

The Japanese beetle, brought in about the same time as the peach moth, has already gained such a foothold that in view of its habits and prolonged flight it is probably impossible of extermination and may ultimately overspread the United States. It attacks not only practically all fruits but also many garden vegetables and corn. Since its first appearance in the United States this beetle has multiplied and spread at an astounding rate. In the middle of August, 1916, when it was discovered, only about a dozen beetles could be collected, even though the search was made in the locality which is in the center of the infestation, while at the present time 15,000 to 20,000 beetles can be collected by hand by one person in a single day. Attempts to check the spread of this pest are being made by means of federal and local quarantines. Under this quarantine the government maintains a supervision over the movement of articles likely to carry the pest from infested areas to other sections of the country. But the greatest drawback lies in the ease with which it may be carried by individuals on clothing, and in vehicles. Numerous instances have been noted where beetles have thus been accidentally carried out of infested areas.

Another foreign pest in comparative recent years which has made its appearance in this country is the European corn borer. Infestations have been discovered in several Eastern states, and recently heavy infestations have been discovered in Canada, presenting a more immediate menace to our corn belt. As its name implies, this insect bores into the corn plant and kills it, thus effectually preventing the maturing of ears on the plant.

The chinch bug, an ally of the corn borer, does greatest damage to corn. It is the usual habit of the chinch bug first to attack fields of wheat, rye, or barley; and its presence often, is unnoticed because the injuries inflicted upon these crops are obscure or of no apparent importance. About harvest time the bugs leave the small grain and crawl over the surface of the ground to the nearest fields of corn, where they begin at once to wreak severe injury.

Cornfields may be protected and the migrating bugs trapped about the time of wheat harvest by plowing a deep furrow around the edges of the field. The bugs will fall into the ditch and can be easily killed by crushing them with a log dragged back and forth through the ditch. Another method is to dig shallow post holes in the bottom of the ditch, at intervals of about twenty feet into which the bugs, crawling along the ditch bottoms, will fall. They can then be destroyed by kerosene.

Another notorious insect whose function it is, in the order of nature, to take bread out of our mouths, is the Hessian fly, so called because the Hessian soldiers were believed to have brought it over from Europe during the Revolution. This pest gives its attention almost wholly to wheat, upon which it levies an average annual tax, of approximately 10 per cent. In certain years when it was most active it destroyed as much as 100,000,000 bushels of wheat. After the Hessian fly has once thoroughly infested the crops of wheat there is no known means of saying it, and the only known means of preventing damage from the flies is to keep them out of the wheat.

CALOMEL HORROR TOLD BY DODSON

You Don't Need to Sicken, Grip or Salivate Yourself to Start Liver.

You're bilious, sluggish, constipated. You feel headachy, your stomach may be sour, your breath bad, your skin sallow and you believe you need vile, dangerous calomel to start liver and bowels.

Here's my guarantee! Ask your druggist for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money.

Take calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling splendid. It is perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate.

"What was the question you wanted to ask her, Sam?"

COULD BEAT HANDS SHUCKING HIS CORN

At Least J. A. White Would Bet So, After Being Relieved of Dyspepsia by Tanlac.

"My wife and myself have had stomach trouble," says Mr. J. A. White, residing on the Leestown Pike, R. F. D. No. 6, near Lexington, Ky., "and have both been nervous and run down."

"We could not see anything without suffering afterwards and could not sleep at night. We were regular nervous dyspeptics. We tried many remedies without permanent benefit until we heard of Tanlac. I got this medicine and began using it. We noticed immediate results. We are both greatly improved by Tanlac. We give all credit for the change of health to Tanlac. It is a remarkable medicine.

"I personally feel so good that I told my hands a day or two ago that I could beat any of them shucking corn. I meant it and believe I could have beat 'em all."

Of all the maladies that afflict humanity chronic dyspepsia, such as Mr. and Mrs. White suffered from, is probably the most prevalent, and hours might be consumed in describing the suffering, mental and bodily, of the victims of chronic dyspepsia.

A morbid, unreal, whimsical and melancholy condition of the mind, aside from the nervous physical suffering, is the usual state of the average dyspeptic, and life seems scarcely worth living.

Tanlac, the celebrated medicine, was designed especially for overcoming this distressing condition and millions of people have taken it with the most astonishing and gratifying results. It seems to go straight to the spot, toning up and invigorating every organ of the body.

HAS A FUNNY FACE.
Dear Sir: Herewith are two recent photos of myself, taken within a minute of each other. One is my natural self; the other shows what I can instantly do with my face even without the help of make-up. Whoever sees it goes into uncontrollable fits of laughter. Is an ability to do this sort of thing, and to keep it up for any time, required in "character acting," likely to be of any use to you? If it always causes instant mirth among my own acquaintances (no matter how melancholy they may have been feeling), possibly it might be worth while introducing to the wider circle of the "public." But may I be allowed, from the beginning (if such should be my fortune), to bar having blanc-mange thrown at it, or myself being dropped in the mud or rolled downstairs, as I am not a gymnast in any form. Seriously a "face" like this might be just such as you require for some quiet and quaint really humorous character

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Special Care of Baby.

That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases.

Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food.

A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your ailing child anything but a medicine especially prepared for Infants and Children? Don't be deceived.

Make a mental note of this:—It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups.

MR. COATS WEDS

MISS WALKER

Mr. J. Carl Coats and Miss Sophia V. Walker were quietly married Sunday evening at 3 o'clock p. m., at the home of the bride's uncle, J. P. Walker, of Baird. Rev. Gerald Fitzgerald, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiating.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Walker, of Admiral, is a very charming young lady, and is loved by all who know her.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Coats, of Cottonwood, and is a highly cultured gentleman. He crossed the water to nobly protect his country, and through God's providence was permitted the pleasure of returning. He has been in service five years and is now stationed at San Antonio. The newlyweds will spend a two week's honeymoon with the bride's and groom's parents, at Admiral and Cottonwood respectively, at the expiration of which time they will go to San Antonio, where they will make their home.—Baird Star.

SHOPPING IN BATHING SUITS STOPPED BY THE SHERIFF

Numerous complaints from horrified citizens of Christoval recently against the capering of "bathing beauties" about the streets of that town has led to the issuance of an edict against such conduct by Frank M. Duckworth, sheriff.

Christoval boasts of one of the best bathing pools to be found in any of the Conchos and the spot is the attraction for a large number of bathers from all over this section. The bathers, however, have recently begun to overstep the bounds of propriety, according to the sheriff, and have slipped into the habit of climbing out of the water and parading down the main street of Christoval, producing thrills and shocks in the populace.

A pretty form is well and good so long as it is displayed only at the water's edge, in the opinion of the residents of Christoval who made the complaints. But they term it indecent to go shopping in swimming attire.—San Angelo Standard.
