SUE CITY AND W.T.U. FOR $103,011.60

West Texas Family Asks Damages For Injuries Sustained When Auto Hit Lightpost Here 19 Months Ago

City of Cross Plains and the West Texas Utilities Company were named joint defendants this week in three suits for $103,011.60, brought by Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Howard and daughter Bettie Louise, of Reagan county. The cases are to be set during the February term of forty-second judicial court at Baird.

Review Will Print Letters To "Santa" In Three Editions

Christmas is only 20 days in the offing, and already old Santa Claus is filling orders for his annual visit December 25. Children of the Cross Plains trade territory are urged to send their Santa Claus letters in care of this newspaper. The Review will print the letters and forward, special marked copies to Santa Claus by reindeer express. Santa Claus letters will appear in the editions of December 9, December 16, and December 23. School teachers and parents are urged to assist children in preparing these letters; be sure that they are written in a plain, legible hand.

JOHN WESTERMAN IS LAID TO LAST REST SATURDAY AFTERNOON

John W. Westerman, 82, who died suddenly at his home here Thanksgiving afternoon about two o'clock, was laid to final rest in the Cross Plains cemetery Saturday afternoon. Funeral services were conducted from the residence with Rev. C. E. Poe, Baptist minister, officiating.

Mr. Westerman, beloved by the entire community, had been only slightly ill for about two days and news of his sudden passing came as a deep shock to friends throughout the section.

Survivors include the widow; three brothers, C. C. and Sam Westerman of Cross Plains, and Bob Westerman, of Big Spring, and one sister, Mrs. Johnnie Helms, of near El Paso.

Pall bearers at the funeral and interment services were: Bill Wagner, Fred Outbirth, Hugh McDermott, O. T. Laws, J. M. McMillan, Loyd McMillan, Volly McDouough and C. S. Martin.

John Wilson Westerman was born December 25, 1855. He came to this section with his parents in early manhood, settling near the present town of Cross Plains. His father was one of Cross Plains' first merchants.

As a young man John Westerman made several trips up the Old Chisolm trail with cattle, the first being in 1870.

In April, 1888, he was married to Miss Laura Long. The couple moved to a farm South of Cross Plains. Later they purchased a place West of town where they lived until 1912 when they came to Cross Plains, and Mr. Westerman went into business.

Mr. Westerman sold his business in 1920 and became a director in the Farmers National Bank here, which position he held for a number of years.

Friends crowded the Westerman home, on North Main Street, far beyond capacity Saturday afternoon in final tribute to the memory of a beloved pioneer citizen.

Mrs. Charlie Barr is in a Santa Anna hospital suffering with double pneumonia. Her condition was reported Thursday at noon to be serious but not immediately dangerous.

Cross Plains took on the aspect of Christmas this week, when colored lights were strung over five blocks of the business district. The lights will burn until after the first of January.

Summons were served Saturday on C. S. Martin, as Mayor of the city of Cross Plains, and officials of the West Texas Utilities Company, arraignment them to appear in court February 27, 1939.

The suits are filed by the Howards, whose automobile collided with a light post on South Main Street about one o'clock in the morning here September 24, 1937. Joe Ann Howard, three year old child, was killed in the mishap. The first suit, numbered 9063, is brought by R. C. Howard, who claims damages totaling $31,411.60. The damages are itemized in the petition as follows: automobile $500, personal damages $5,000, damages to Mrs. Howard $25,000, and doctors, hospital fees and incidental expenses $911.60.

The second suit, numbered 9064, brought by R. C. Howard and wife Lida Mae Howard, claims damages of $36,000. These damages are claimed for the loss of life by Joe Ann Howard, 34 month old daughter of the Howards.

Third suit is brought by Bettie Lou Howard, a minor, who sues by her father R. C. Howard. The child claims damages of $35,000. Her petition alleges that Bettie Lou sustained a broken head bone, lacerations about the head, arms, body and legs, and that her spine was fractured, causing her to become an invalid.

The three cases ask a total damage of $103,011.60.

W.D.R. Owen, of Eastland, attorney for the plaintiffs, told the Review in a telephone conversation Tuesday morning that he expected the cases to go to trial during the February term of Judge M. S. Long's forty-second district court at Baird.

No attorneys have yet been retained by the city, however, members of the city council are expected to give this matter consideration at their next regular meeting on the night of December sixth.

The collision, upon which the suits are based, occurred shortly after midnight September 23, 1937. The Howards were enroute to Rising Star to visit relatives, when their automobile collided with a lamp post on South Street. The structure has since been removed. The Howards allege in their petitions that they were driving 15 miles an hour when the wreck occurred.

PRESBYTERIAN IN REVIVAL SERVICES

Beginning Sunday morning, December fourth, a series of revival services will be held at the Presbyterian church, with Rev. S. P. Collins, pastor, doing the preaching. Services are to be held each evening, beginning at 6:45. "We would be glad to have anyone who is interested in the spiritual uplift of the community to attend and feel an individual responsibility in all efforts for the promotion of the cause of Christ," said the Rev. Mr. Collins.

The entire public is invited and assured that the presence of everyone will be appreciated, the Review was told.

Singers from other churches, as well as from no church at all are asked to come and assist in the choir.

BAPTIST LADIES TO SPONSOR A CHICKEN DINNER DECEMBER 8

The ladies of the Baptist church will sponsor a chicken dinner in the basement of the church Thursday, December eighth. Thirty-five cents will be charged for each plate. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Misses Margaret Peel, Hannah Margaret and Oswald Hudson spent Monday in Abilene.

PIERCE LEADS HERD TO 18 - 0 VICTORY OVER RISING STAR

Granville Pierce, brilliant Cross Plains halfback, completed his high school football career in a blaze of glory here Thursday afternoon, as he led his mates to an 18 to nothing triumph over the Rising Star Wildcats in the annual Thanksgiving grudge game. Pierce scored all of Cross Plains points.

The Buffaloes tallied early in the second quarter when a partially blocked Rising Star punt gave them the ball on the 12 yard stripe. Ford picked up 10 yards and a first down on a drive over the right side of his line to put the ball on the one yard line, from where Pierce went over on the third attempt. Attempt to add the extra point failed.

Pierce scored again in the third quarter with a 65 yard sprint into pay dirt. Once past the line of scrimmage Pierce weaved, sidestepped and stiff-armed his way to an open field. The run was by far the most colorful play of the game. Again the attempt to convert failed, and Cross Plains led 12 to nothing.

In the final set Pierce intercepted a Wildcat pass and ran 25 yards to cross the double cross for his third touchdown of the afternoon. Again, however, the try for extra point failed and the game ended five minutes later, Cross Plains 18, Rising Star nothing.

Minus the services of co-captain Colvin Lackey and speedy Jack McMillan, the entire Cross Plains team seemed to realize their handicap and every man in the line-up turned in a good game. Walker and Barclay on ends played heads-up, charging football. Smith and Upton at tackles were in the Wildcat backfield much of the afternoon. James Underwood and Basil Lusk both turned in stellar performances at the guard slots, and Harlow at center played one of the best games of his career. Ab Huckaby, pinch-hitting in the backfield, handled the new assignment nicely and served notice that he may be shifted there next season. Bennett, Ford and Pierce, the other backs, all of whom were climaxing a high school grid career, played unusually well. Truly, the injured Buffaloes eleven rose to unexpected heights to overwhelm the Wildcats so decisively.

Outstanding for Rising Star were Montgomery and Roach.

Cross Plains made five first downs, 130 yards rushing, threw three passes for one completion and was penalized three times for 35 yards. Rising Star gained four first downs, threw two passes for one interception and one incomplete, was penalized three times for 25 yards.

The game was the last of the current season for each club. Cross Plains finished in fifth place and Rising Star last in the conference of 10 teams.

Thursday afternoon's victory gives Cross Plains seven victories and three defeats in the all time conference standing with Rising Star.

DIPHTHERIA IS FATAL TO BELLE PLAIN CHILD

Funeral for Billy Bryant, Fowler, 19 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Fowler of Belle Plain community, was held at the Belle Plain Methodist church Monday afternoon. The Rev. Hamilton Wright, pastor of the Baird Methodist church, officiated.

The child died early Monday morning of diphtheria in a Baird hospital. Survivors are the parents, two sisters, Bobbie Sue and Aline, and a brother, Alvin.

Mrs. F. A. Peel returned from a visit to Hamilton accompanied by Miss Margaret Peel who will remain through the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hudson.

Taylor Enters Watchman Race

VOTERS TO SETTLE QUESTION AT POLLS HERE NEXT TUESDAY

Entrance of Chas. Taylor into the nightwatchman's race, to be settled by voters at the polls Saturday, brings the list of candidates to four. Others already running included: J. M. McMillan, H. H. Nash and I. B. Loving.

Voting will take place at the city office, with M. L. Jones, I. H. Kendrick and T. D. Little serving as judges. The polls will open at eight a.m., and close at six p.m. The Review was told yesterday by city secretary, Lindsey Tyson.

Each of the four candidates has served as nightwatchman some time or another. J. M. McMillan has served in this capacity at intervals for about 15 years. I. B. Loving was nightwatchman and constable here some 10 years ago and has on a number of occasions done relief work. H. H. Nash has been holding down the job the past several weeks, however he also has several relief shifts to his credit. Taylor served as watchman for about 18 months, his tenure having ended the eighth of last month.

All residents of the city limits who have a poll tax receipt or exemptions are qualified to ballot Tuesday. Between 150 and 200 votes are expected to be cast.

F. F. A. BOYS SELECT 7 HONORARY MEMBERS

The Cross Plains Chapter of Future Farmers elected the following honorary members in a regular meeting November 22: Jack Scott, editor of the Cross Plains Review; J. E. Barrington, principal of the high school; Mrs. V. A. Underwood, housewife; Omar Burkett, State Representative; Hugh McDermott, local farmer and rancher; L. C. Norman, high school Superintendent; and Clyde L. Garrett Congressman.

The local F.F.A. chapter set the date for the annual parent and son banquet for December 8. It is to be held at the Methodist church. Arrangements are being made for 100 plates.

MICKEY ROONEY TO SHOW AT LIBERTY

He wants to be a director when he finishes college.

Such is the ambition of Mickey Rooney, who is 17 years old, speaks four languages, including Japanese, who was an actor when eleven months old, is a junior tennis champion, and can impersonate all the comedians of stage and screen. Mickey's latest role is that of the nautical school student of fiercer who is Freddie Bartholomew's Nemesis and later his friend in "Lord Jeff," opening Tuesday and Wednesday at the Liberty Theatre. It is a story of the training of British boys for the Merchant Marine, placed in the famous Russell-Cotes nautical training school in England.

ANNOUNCES SCHEDULE OF SERVICES SUNDAY

Sunday services at the Methodist church will begin with the opening of Sunday School at 9:45. Following the Sunday School at 10:50 the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered. The pastor will preach on "A Successful Church."

At the evening hour an installation service for the officers of the Women's Missionary Society will precede the sermon.

The month of December has been designated Budget Month and Sunday is Pledge Day. Every member of the church is urged to make a liberal pledge on a weekly basis to the work of the church, the pastor told the Review Wednesday.

Walter S. Ramsey, of Georgetown, was a business visitor here Thursday.

New Farm Program Explained By County Agent Tuesday Afternoon

65 farmers of the Cross Plains area met at the high school auditorium here Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 to have county agent Ross Brison and W. H. Althart Callahan, County Administrative Assistant explain the necessity of a farm program and how the 1939 farm program would operate.

It was pointed out by Brison that since 46.6 percent of the farmers of the U.S., live in the Southern states and receive only 24.8 percent of the agricultural income poor educational advantages, sickness, badly farms, unpainted farm buildings, and a high mortgage rates are the results.

"Causes of this low income of only 24.8 percent are a tariff on manufactured articles bought with money received by selling wheat, cotton, etc in a world, and consequently, not protected market. Freight rates that southern farmers pay are higher than are charged in many parts of the country. For instance, it costs 10 cents per bushel more to ship corn from Waco to Kansas City than it does to ship the corn from Kansas City to Waco. Tractors and automobiles have replaced horses that formerly ate the feed off of 43 million acres of land. During the world war 35 million acres of new land were broken out and now is not needed, because the average person in the U.S., eats 8 of a bushel less of wheat than formerly 9 million acres of wheat are not needed any more. All in all some $7,000,000,000 of land are not needed any more but is being farmed and helps to produce a surplus. A farm program is needed to assist farmers in taking this land out of production of surplus crops as well as to compensate farmers for the inequalities of the tariff and freight rate structures," Brison included.

Althart explained that the 1939 farm program was very similar to the 1938 program in that subsidy payments of a two cents per pound of the cotton allotment and 12 cents per bushel on the wheat allotment were contemplated to cotton and wheat farmers who cooperate in the program. Soil conservation payments will be paid to cooperators in addition to the subsidy payments in 1939. It is very likely that both sudan grass and red top sorghums can be used to fill trench silos in 1939. Vegetable crops and syrup sorghum for home use will be classed as neutral.

Althart explained that there would be a 1939 program regardless of the vote December 10, and the same liberal payments would be offered to cooperators in 1939 whether regardless of the referendum vote. The election December 10 is called for the purpose of letting cotton growers decide whether a penalty of three cents per pound shall be paid by growers that over-plant cotton allotments in 1939 and thereby defeat the purpose of the program.

"The cooperation of V. A. Underwood in providing a meeting place was appreciated by all those present," Brison said.

Senior Class Will Present Play Next Friday At School

"The Haunted Chair," a thrilling mystery play, will be presented in Cross Plains high school auditorium Friday night, December ninth, by members of the senior class.

Beginning where many other plays end, this one opens with the finding of the body of eccentric old John Baxter sitting upright in his library, at his lonely Long Island estate. "When relations learn of his demise they immediately hurry to the mansion to attend the reading of the will. To their horror they learn that suspicion of murder fastens itself upon each of them.

Further complicating matters is the mysterious disappearance of Gilhooley, detective assigned to the case. Things happen in rapid and confusing succession; scores of astounding events contrive to keep even the most hardened mystery addict on edge until the final curtain.

Comedy and romance contribute to the enjoyment of the production, and the audience is promised some real black face comedy that will not be soon forgotten.

Local Man Is Wed To Scranton Girl On November 22nd

Announcement was made this week of the marriage November 22 of Miss Lena Helen Ray, of Scranton, and Richard Paul Brashear of Cross Plains. The rites were solemnized at the Presbyterian manse here, with Rev. S. P. Collins, pastor, reading the single ring ceremony. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Travis Foster, of this place, with whom the groom has made his home the past several months.

News of the nuptial came as a surprise to the many friends of the couple throughout this section. The date of the wedding, November 22, was the fiftieth wedding anniversary of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Brashear, prominent Atwell couple.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Ray, of Scranton. She is well known in Cross Plains as well as her home community and enjoys the companionship of a large circle of friends.

Mr. Brashear is a graduate of Cross Plains high school. He has been employed in the dry goods department of Higginbotham Brothers and Company's store here for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. Brashear plan to begin housekeeping within the very near future.

Honoring the newly weds was a Thanksgiving dinner in the home of the bride's parents Thanksgiving day, which was attended by members of the family and Rev. S. P. Collins of Cross Plains.

Amon G. Carter

While such as he enrage the heart The West will never die. The ancient glamour still will paint its romance on the sky.

The bucking bronco, the robust laugh, Ten-gallon hats, askew, The hospitality of space, The welcome that is true,

His is the handclasp, warm and kind, A Texas saga spins, That faded souls may only find "Out where the west begins."

The Saturday Evening Post, Mr. Alva Johnston, and Mr. Amon G. Carter are altogether responsible for the lines above. If you have not read Mr. Johnston's "Colonel Carter of Cartersville", stop right now, locate your SATEVEPOST of November 26, 1938, and read it before going further. It is the most entertaining and wholly delightful personality sketch that I have seen in a long time—if ever.

Mr. Johnston's story has the color, individuality, and sweep of a West Texas sunset. If I seem superlative in my enthusiasm for this particular article it is because I am thoroughly saturated with the enchantment of West Texas, and Mr. J. has chosen for his subject the one person who adequately typifies that spirit. Living, as I do, near what is approximately the geographical center of Texas in a village which is more than one hundred miles west of Fort Worth I had always been a prey to various doubts concerning the actual spot where the west begins. But never again! Amon Carter, The SATEVEPOST, and Alva Johnston are absolutely convincing!

If I ever attain a station in life that I think justifies a few simple extravagances I shall have the following: freshly laundered, percale sheets on my bed every day; a telephone near the bathtub; fresh flowers in all rooms at all seasons; unlimited quantities of my favorite bath salts and perfume; a typewriter stand that doesn't jiggle; an unabridged dictionary younger than twenty years; my shoes made to measure; and somebody always at hand to find the things I've lost!

Isn't it strange that we women are always wishing we had this or longing desperately for that when it is seldom that one hears a man wishing for anything? Is it that a man's wants are simpler and he goes about quietly satisfying them, or is it that the poor harassed creature is so busy chasing dollars for our whims that he doesn't have time to think of his own desires?

A satisfactory husband is one whom other women like; a satisfactory wife is one whom other men are afraid to like!

The nicest husband whom I know once insisted upon letting dinner wait while he drove miles out in the country to show his wife a field of wild pink phlox that he had just discovered. That wag years ago, and the delayed dinner has long been forgotten, but she still remembers that exquisite hushed moment at sundown when the pale rosy flush of the sky met and blended with the delicate pastel of the flowers into a transient beauty that will live forever in her heart.

A FREE-FOR-ALL FIGHT LASTING 2 FULL DAYS

For a free-for-all fight in "Three Comrades," which comes to the Liberty Theatre as a preview Saturday night, also Sunday and Monday—screen this week, Robert Taylor's clenched fists flew for two full days.

On the studio's back lot, representing a village in Europe, Taylor, Franchot Tone and Robert Young slugged it out with four specialists in pug-nuglyism—William Hinde, Gordon Cravath, Freddie Graham and Norman Willis, representing rival auto repairmen.

Hinde is the 210-pound steel worker whom Norman Bol-Goddes lured two years ago to become an overnight sensation in the leading role of the stage play, "Iron Men."

Four cameras recorded the fight from all angles as the three comrades battled it out with the slugs. Taylor caught a few stinging punches and Tone was slightly injured twice.

Enjoying her first day off since the picture was launched, Margaret Sullivan spent it by watching the fight.

"Three Comrades" is based on the widely read novel by Erich Maria Remarque, author of "All Quiet on the Western Front." It is a tender love story of the aftermath of the World War and the attempt of three men and a woman to rehabilitate themselves in a new world.

Together with Taylor, Miss Sullivan, Tone and Young, the new picture features Guy Kibbee, Lionel Atwill, Henry Hull, Charley Grapewin and Hooty Woolley.

Waterfowl Restoration Projects

The United States is taking the most interest of the three countries signed in the Migratory Bird Treaty Act—Mexico, Canada and the United States. At that the major steps were taken in the great undertaking of attempting to restore our waterfowl to former numbers.

Agencies interested in this project are More Game Birds in America Foundation of New York City, The United States Bureau of Biological Survey, National Association of Audubon Societies and several State Game Departments, and thousands of individuals interested in this great program that have given money to this great cause. It is against the law for the United States government to spend money in a foreign country, therefore other means must be undertaken to raise money to spend on the waterfowl refugees and breeding grounds in Canada. Canada has the greatest breeding area for waterfowl in North America. When Canada was first asked to join this treaty she refused because she stated that she had all the ducks and other waterfowl that she needed and did not need the help of the United States. The Federal government immediately told them that the United States and Mexico had charge of the waterfowl in the winter months and what would Canada do if we did not send her some waterfowl back for the breeding season. This changed Canada's viewpoint on the subject and joined forces with the United States in trying to restore the waterfowl to near former numbers.

Canadian Marshes Drained

Prior to the time that these treaties were signed many thousands of acres of Canadian marshes were drained and turned over to agriculture. In time this land proved to be worthless for agricultural uses, and was totally ruined as breeding grounds for waterfowl. The work of restoring these vast areas back into waterfowl breeding areas was started. Dams were built to hold the water on the former marshes, vegetation began to grow and thus thousands of dollars were spent and the breeding areas restored. Thousands of acres of forest land owned by the Canadian government was turned over to wildlife experts in the United States to be used as wildlife breeding grounds. The income from the grazing rights received by the Canadian government was cut off. This was done by the governments at their own suggestion in order to aid the increase of our waterfowl. Overcutting of the forest land was out of the question. Overcutting would cause the marshes to fill up with silt and thus ruin thousands of acres of waterfowl breeding ground. The increase of our waterfowl in the past few years is due to the combined efforts of the United States and Canadian governments.

Our Duty to Send Ducks Back North

Without seed stock to send back to the marshes and other breeding grounds in the northern part of the United States and Canada, we will not have ducks to return to our next winter. Take the ducks that one needs but do not kill these birds just for the pleasure of having something to shoot at.

These days many a man doesn't object to work, but he doesn't want to make a habit of it.

If a candidate is all wrapped up in himself he can't blame the voters for not seeing him.

As most of you know I have served in this capacity before and am thoroughly acquainted with the responsibilities of the office, and feel capable of discharging them in a manner satisfactory to the entire citizen.

Limited time will prevent my being able to contact many of the voters. I, therefore, take this means of urging your consideration and support of my candidacy. If elected, I promise to give my very best, and you may feel sure that I will never be found missing from my post of duty.

Hoping to be honored by the preference of your ballot, I am, Respectfully, CHAS. TAYLOR (Pul. Adv.)
