If up-the-hole water is eliminated, as believed, contractors report they expect to complete the test by next week end. Plans call for the drilling to the Pioneer lime, a depth of about 2,500 feet, however, if oil is not encountered in commercial quantities at that depth a test may be made of the Hillburn line, which is found about 500 feet lower.

State Legislature

which would impose a tax on retail establishments, beginning at $45,000, and on wholesale establishments at $60,000. Prior to the House passing this bill we had spent much time on the sales tax amendment, which was finally turned down by the House. Likewise, much work and time was given to the Income Amendment, which also failed to pass the House. Just prior to the House passing the Gross Receipts Tax, the Senate passed by a vote of 21 to 5, the Sales Tax and Natural Resources Increase Amendment. This was practically the same thing that the House turned down in House Joint Resolution No. 16. The Gross Receipts Amendment is now in the Senate, and they are conducting hearings on same, along with Senate Joint Resolution No. 12 the Sales Tax and Natural Resources Increase Amendment. It is our candid opinion that the House will finally pass this resolution, in the form of a Constitutional amendment, and that this will be the final means whereby sufficient revenues will be raised with which to take care of all Social Security problems. One of the most far reaching pieces of legislation that has been passed this session, which especially affects all social security activities, is House Bill No. 15, by Representative Alsop, which sets up a complete State Welfare Board, removing same from the supervision of the Board of Control. This Public Welfare Board takes over all of the social security branches, including Old Age Assistance. I am sure this bill will go a long way toward eliminating the objections which have heretofore been caused by separate laws to administer the various social security measures. Several weeks ago it became apparent that the House and the Senate were so divided as to what form of taxation should be enacted, with which to take care of these problems, that it looked as if we would go home without doing anything in this respect. With this in mind, more than 100 members signed an agreement that they would not adjourn until something had been done to take care of these obligations, and to take care of the promises made to the people that we would do our best to raise sufficient revenue to take care of them. I was one of the first signers of this agreement. I have had many letters, telegrams, etc. to support this or that form of taxation. Many of them want the sales tax, the natural resources increase amendment, some want an income tax, and some insist that we pass no tax bills at all, so, summing all up, one would get the general impression something like this: "Boys, get the money, but don't tax me." Anyway, it has been a pleasure to receive the many letters that I have had from my friends, and I have tried to answer every letter, and to be frank, fair and honest with all of the people back home, and have not missed anyone in anything that I know about. This session has indeed been a strenuous one, but I have not given up hope that some good will come of it. I have the interest of the people at heart at all times, and I want you to know that I appreciate your help and suggestions at any time you want to write me. As I have stated before, I am still of the opinion that if the money could be properly allocated, and our system of government changed, that we have sufficient money to take care of all phases of our Government without new taxes. This, however, cannot be done all at one time, and though obligated to a program of strict economy, I am likewise obligated to the people by constitutional grant date to take care of all of the Social Security programs, and I am going to do my dead level best to do this. We sincerely hope that whatever our actions and efforts may be, you will know that we have been doing our best in all matters as we have to face them. As we have stated before that whenever a dollar of State money

Mrs. Laura Jones who has been ill at her sons home, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Jones returned to her home in Cross Plains Tuesday. The Dressy community is planning a mother's day program. We will practice next Friday night. We wish every body on the program to be present please. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Upton and Mr. and Mrs. Neal Oaken visited Mr. and Mrs. Claude Miller Sunday. The Dressy W.M.S. packed a box for Buckners orphan home Tuesday. Our society is growing rapidly. Our school closed last Friday, April 21st with a very enjoyable picnic at that favorite place for such outing under the beautiful grove at the Burkett bridge. A gala day was spent in fishing, boat-riding and ball games. In this latter sport some of our patrons notably among the number being Tom Lee, Norrell Long, Frank Ferrell, Odell Gosbon and even the preacher, Rev. Ross Respass—turned "school boys" again and distinguished themselves. But most of all we appreciate the bountiful dinner served by the lady patrons of our school. In fact the large attendance of so many of the parents at this closing exercises, of our school greatly encouraged both pupils and teachers and the splendid spirit of cooperation shown. The remaining feature of this term is the awarding of the diplomas to the 7th grade graduates to be held at Baird, May 29. It is quite probable that the president's son, Elliott Roosevelt, will deliver the address on this occasion. The seeming early date for our school's closing is due to the fact that we began this term August 22, 1938 and have run continuously, except for a ten day intermission at the Christmas holidays. This early beginning has proved very satisfactory as it is well known that fall and winter months are much better for school than late spring. is spent, keep in mind it must be replaced in some way, so don't forget, when tax remission bills are before us, we have in mind not only our local district, but the State as a whole, for such funds must be replaced by added taxation. We are firm believers in the fact that those who participate in these social security programs should likewise have some part in paying for same. Mindful of the great task before us this Session I want to assure you that my best efforts will be continued to giving the kind of service you would have me render. With best wishes.

R. L. Little's RED TOP SERVICE

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House Those who have smiled skeptically (I was one) when the delights and wonders of Old Mexico were depicted with glowing eloquence by travelers need only to make the journey themselves into the neighboring country to find that the travelers were wrong—they didn't make the descriptions beautiful enough!

It is a storybook land, a place of such sudden and surprising contrasts, of such varying sights and sounds that it leaves the brain bewildered. Imagine compressing all these events into a single day!

Arriving in the City of Mexico a few Sunday mornings ago, we (the members of the Texas Lions good will pilgrimage) were met at the station by Mexico City Lions. A string band played Mexican melodies, fragrant flowers were presented to the ladies and then we were whisked by car to La Reforma, newest and most modern hotel in the Republic.

Then began a tour of the city. Uniformed soldiers wearing trench helmets were on guard with bayoneted rifles as we entered the National Palace where we saw long reception halls, lined with paintings of statesmen and generals; the dining room, with its crystal chandeliers and ponderous silver, where Emperor Maximilian and Empress Carlotta once entertained, and then the Cabinet Room, heavy tapestries at the windows, gilt furniture, thick carpets, and, at each cabinet member's chair behind the long table, a gold-lettered leather portfolio. Officers pointed out a bullet hole in the back of one chair and then of another; the occupants had been shot to death.

From the beautiful ballroom, the visitors stepped on to the balcony and looked out on the Zocalo (or plaza) the center of the life of Mexico, the view dominated by the twin towers of the cathedral, standing on the site of the chief Aztec temple.

On the walls of the National Palace are the Diego Rivera murals. Here is Mexico's history, told not in words but in painting and so it is a story that anyone with eyes can read. The colors are bright because it is a colorful tale, beginning with plumed dancers and feathered serpents, then the Spanish conquest, Maximilian, Juarez, Diaz, Villa—it is all there, even a depiction of the people and a presentation of the present policies of Mexico including the expropriation of foreign-owned oil properties. The lower part of one section was stained with acid; someone, displeased,

ONE DANGER SPOT ON HIWAY FOR EVERY TWO MILES

Alarmed by the great increase of highway accidents during the past few years, the State Highway Department, in co-operation with the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, has completed recently a survey of hazardous conditions on all the highways of the State. This survey found a total of 42,863 danger spots on the 20,000 miles of State highways, an average of over two per mile. These facts were revealed Monday by Julian Montgomery, State Highway Engineer at Austin.

Danger points on the Highways take the form of curves that are too sharp, grades that are too steep, and places where there is insufficient view of an intersecting road or of the roadway ahead. The Highway Department's survey disclosed 9,255 excessive curves, 3,365 excessive grades, 2,357 intersections with inadequate view of the intersecting road, and 27,948 points with insufficient clear view of the roadway ahead.

Mr. Montgomery explained that these features were not regarded as hazardous at the time the roads were built. Driving at higher speeds has turned them into danger points. Highway building has failed to keep pace with the motor car industry, Montgomery admitted.

"While these danger points are being provided with warning signs, reflector buttons visible at night, scientifically designed center strips, and other protective devices, it is obvious," stated Mr. Montgomery, "that greatly increased expenditure for highway construction is needed to eliminate permanently these hazards to the driving public."

Mr. and Mrs. George Cunningham and family of Abilene spent Sunday here visiting his brother, Robert Cunningham and other relatives and friends.

had tried to destroy the picture. A drive through the market, thousands of blossoms of an unbelievable brightness and size piled in perfumed pyramids; the reddish of tomatoes, the greenest of peppers and the whitest of onions; then a swing down the Paseo de la Reforma, one of the most beautiful boulevards in the world, with its bronze King Charles and its Viet ory Monument, 150 feet high; then the fine homes and finer flower gardens; and Chapultepec Park, with charros wearing costumes in real life as glittering as the rain in Fort Worth's make-believe Casa Manana—grandees on horseback, with big hats rimmed with tins, jingling bells; jackets and tight-fitting trousers of blue, of pink and of green, embroidered in silver or gold; at the hip, pearl-handled, silver-embossed six-shooters, and their saddles gleaming semi-precious stones and precious stones and precious metals.

And, after that, came the Floating Gardens, our boats drifted along the canals through vistas of gardens and tall poplars to the music of a marimba band, while native women in the narrowest of canoes glided alongside to sell flowers for a trifle. What a setting for luncheon.

Then there was the bull-fight in the afternoon (there isn't space to describe that dramatic spectacle), then at night to the Palace of Fine Arts (as grand as the Metropolitan Opera in New York) to see the leading dancer of Mexico in Aztec and Mayan dances. And this, mind you, was all in one day—and not the most thrilling day of the visit in Mexico, either!

Texas jottings: If Gerald Mann runs for the United States Senate next year (as rumored), Ralph Yarborough would run for Attorney General again. Having made a strong campaign last year when he polled 221,000 votes, Yarborough now is known to the voters and might win next time.

E. S. Shoaf, Wood County Democrat publisher, reminds us that the North and East Texas Press Association meets in Greenville, May 12 and 13, with cups for the best weeklies and dailies, as well as an award to the paper that rendered the most outstanding community service last year. Another good friend, Lon Boynton of the Lamar County Echo, is association president.

"Oldest joke" contest entry: A farmer driving an old mare into town saw a sign, "Speed limit, 20 miles an hour." Whipping the horse, he said, "Don't know whether we can make it or not."

Alexander's Ragtime Band Begins A Second Hat Career

"Alexander's Ragtime Band," the song which Irving Berlin wrote nearly thirty years ago and which has lived long enough in popular fancy to become a genuine American folk song, forms the theme of the Darryl F. Zanuck 20th Century-Fox production which bears the song's name.

The film opens Sunday at the Liberty Theatre, with Tyrone Power, Alice Faye and Don Ameche in the starring roles.

While it revolutionized the entire popular concept of dancing and singing in 1911 . . . and is generally admitted to have begun the ragtime vogue which has since passed through the ears of blues and jazz to current "swing" . . . there are a number of interesting facts in connection with the song itself.

Originally written by Irving Berlin as "Alexander and His Charmer." The song had no words. Revamped and lyricized for a Friars' Frolic in New York in 1911.

First sung in public in 1911 by Emma Carus in Chicago.

In 27 years, to date, has been given 10,000-odd performances.

In the motion picture it will give more than 60,000 performances within a year.

At the peak of its career, the song sold 2,000,000 copies of sheet music . . . its staggering total over 27 years cannot be learned.

Irving Berlin did not own the copyright in the song until 1925 when he bought it. The author and composer was paid $25 a week when he wrote "Alexander's Ragtime Band."

He since has written 600 songs which have aggregated more than 60,000,000 copies of sheet music.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Peyton Smith spent Sunday in Lampasas visiting her mother and friends.

Miss Mary Massa spent the week in Abilene visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Powell.

TYPHOID CONTROL

Austin, Texas, April 17—"The control of typhoid fever in the United States represents an outstanding achievement in preventive medicine. In 1900 national death rate from this disease was 31.2 per 100,000 population. Today the rate is 2.1 nationally, but 6.5 in Texas. This marked decrease in typhoid's killing power is based on knowledge of its cause, how it is spread, and the application of scientific control measures," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Today no other disease is more vulnerable to scientific attack than typhoid. Indeed, it is no exaggeration to say that, from a public health viewpoint, there should be no typhoid fever.

"Typhoid fever is caused by a germ. The organisms are found only in the excreta of persons suffering from it, or in those of carriers, the latter being persons who harbor the germ but are not ill. If it were possible to prevent people from becoming infected with germs coming from those sources typhoid would cease to be a problem.

"In cities and towns, thanks to safe water and milk supplies, adequate sewage facilities, and environmental sanitation, typhoid has been almost eliminated. Unfortunately, sanitary and environmental protection on a community basis cannot be offered to those living in rural areas. While control methods are the same for both city and country, in rural districts it is essential that not only public health officials but the householders become personally interested in them if they are to be effective," Dr. Cox warned.

EVERY LOAF OF BREAD IN TEXAS TAXED 58 TIMES, BAKERS TOLD

HOUSTON—"If there were a stamp for every direct and indirect tax on a loaf of bread we wouldn't need wrappers," President Joe H. Hynes told the opening session of the thirty-eighth annual convention of the Texas Bakers Association last week. He declared mounting taxes were one of the great problems bakers face.

"There are fifty-eight taxes, direct and indirect, on every loaf of bread in Texas," he said, "and if bread is going to continue to be the poor man's food, we must become conscious of the problem that faces all businessmen today—increasing taxes."
