

HOME TOWN GOSSIP

Before another issue of the Review enters the mails Elliott Bryant will have had made the 'supreme sacrifice' and linked himself into the chains of matrimony.

With his passing from the rounds of circulation, the popularity of such unattached gentlemen as 'Fat' Clark, Lewis Norman, Lindsey Tyson, Truett Lovelace, 'Slim' Crutchmier, Broad Bond, Buster Wheeler, Tom Woods and John Kendrick, is expected to skyrocket.

Friday was the third day of the third month of the thirty-third year of the century. Dr. Eli Powell added two more threes to the date, so far as he was concerned; by delivering his thirty third baby in Cross Plains.

As a man sows, he also reaps; and sometimes the harvest is not so pleasant. Such is the plight of Stanley Carmichael, that mischevous 'youngun' of Roy's.

Last week Stanley played a nasty trick on H. H. McDermitt, Jr., while the latter was visiting in South Texas. From all indications the prank went off in good style but now Stan is paying for his devilry.

'H' returned home and had very little to say about the joke. But right off the bat he started courting Stan's best girl and has apparently caused her forget the existence of the sleek, young soup slinger. And that by the way is pretty tough on Stan for he was just about 'that way' over the fair one.

Girls take notice; here's a friendly tip upon which you might capitalize.

Eddie Priest and 'Doc' McGowen threw a bridge dinner party at their bachelor apartments for a few of the city's social celebrities Friday night. The fellows cooked the meat, served it and were just charming hosts—so the women say—throughout the evening.

See the society page for further details of the function. Then just picture in your imagination 'Doc' bending over a hot stove cooking biscuits and Eddie serving soup with his thumb in each bowl. It's just too funny. Pardon us while we take time out to accommodate our sense of humor.

Idle thoughts:—Mrs. Cecil Lotief says that her husband writes a beautiful hand but frankly she is the only person we have ever found that can read it. Why does Fred Burgin wear his new hat around the hen house and go bareheaded on Sunday? Arthur Burkett is so fond of playing the little penny machine in his store, he just simply won't give customers a chance.

We want to pause right here to 'get back at' John Ivy, the Republican chief over at Cottonwood.

Shortly after election last November, John came around and prophesied that four months after Roosevelt went into office every bank in the United States would be closed. (It would be Continued on page 10)

High School Scribe Lists More Advantages In Trading At Home

This is the second of a series of four articles written by Cross Plains high school students, supplementing the Review's trading at home campaign. The article this week was written by Miss Roma Young and adjudged the best in her class. Every student in high school participated. Prizes of $1.00 each will be awarded the four students whose articles are used for publication.

Why It Pays To Trade At Home

By Roma Young
Why not do your share in making your home town prosperous? Maybe you can go to a near-by city and purchase articles a trifle cheaper, but are the articles of a grade than you can get at home? If they are, it's only because you do not buy from a home town merchant to enable him to buy a better grade of merchandise.

MONDAY TO BE TRADES DAY

JURY SAYS S. FOSTER BOND IS NOT GUILTY

BUYERS FROM OTHER SECTIONS OF STATE INVITED TO ATTEND

Big Day Assured By Committee Advertising Event. Farmers Urged To Bring Stock

Monday will be 'Trades Day' in Cross Plains. Arrangements are being made to make the day the biggest of its kind since 'Trades Day' was revived here more than a year ago. Buyers and traders from all sections of the state are being notified and asked to be present.

Invitations are extended farmers, ranchers and stockowners throughout this section by Cross Plains merchants in their advertisements this week to come in and help make the day a high spot of each month, as was the case here several years ago.

"I am positive that a number of buyers will be here to bid for horses and mules. Persons having stock of this nature for sale will do well to bring them in Monday", said Ed Morgan, who is chairman of the committee advertising 'Trades Day.'

A hitch rack for stock has been built on the lot just South of the city water tower by the following local men: J. G. Saunders, J. W. Jones, E. A. Calhoun, J. P. Smith and J. E. Henkel. They told the Review yesterday that the rack was for convenience of farmers. A place will also be arranged to water stock trades day either on the ground, or near by.

The plan of 'Trades Day' is for people of every profession—especially stockmen—to meet one day each month and trade among themselves to better satisfy their needs without the outlay of much cash.

In the endeavor to assist the day in gaining the prominence that it once held, a number of Cross Plains merchants are advertising special prices for 'Trades Day.'

"I believe that if there is some place where we will all meet once each month and 'swap' with each other we can furnish many of our necessities economically and satisfactorily", said G. R. Neel yesterday. Mr. Neel has watched 'Trades Day' work to a good advantage in other sections of the state for years.

LOCAL BANK MARKING TIME WHILE WAITING THEIR INSTRUCTIONS

It was not known here late Thursday afternoon whether the Citizens State Bank would be open Friday morning. C. C. Neeb, Cashier, of the institution, called the state banking department shortly after noon and inquired for instructions. "We are waiting for orders from the national department and are unable to enlighten you in regard to the opening of Texas banks", he was told.

The local bank will keep its doors open throughout the holiday—regardless of how long it lasts—and extend such courtesies as giving change and etc as is permitted under President Roosevelt's proclamation.

Those familiar with the situation told the Review that they expected an immediate solution of the present emergency and that afterward the general condition of the country would be greatly improved.

Business has been carried on the past week almost as extensive, however merchants have been considerably handicapped in their ability to accommodate customers.

A few foreign owned establishments are refusing to take checks for merchandise, however most local establishments are accepting checks on either debts or merchandise.

Oakie Lewis, Jr. Virgil Graves and Orlean Williams were Brownwood visitors Thursday.

DESPONDENT MOTHER TAKES LIFE FRIDAY MORNING AT PIONEER

A grief stricken mother, despondent because of the recent death of her only child, was laid to final rest in the Pioneer cemetery Sunday afternoon.

Funeral rites for Mrs. Miles Kaltenbaugh, 52, who took her own life by drowning in a circulation tank near her home at Pioneer, early Friday morning, were conducted from the Cross Plains Methodist church Sunday afternoon, with Rev. C. C. Armstrong, pastor, officiating. Interment was made in the Pioneer cemetery beside the deceased woman's daughter who died of heart disease January 27.

Mrs. Kaltenbaugh had been grief stricken since the death of her daughter and her physical condition is said to have grown considerably weaker.

She attended a basket ball game with her husband at Pioneer Thursday night. They returned home late

Cross Plains Merchants Carry On Despite National Bank Holiday

An Editorial
BY JACK SCOTT

Cross Plains has had a depression alright but merchants and citizens refused to get panicky about the situation and today they rise in unanimous defiance of dull days and extend a welcoming salute to prosperity.

In the opinion of this writer, a spirit such as this will be the first to weather the storms of adversity and sail again on happier seas of normalcy.

When business over the nation throttled to a standstill last week because of bank holidays, Cross Plains merchants and business men began to get their heads together and decide that regardless of what happened they would continue to do business in the usual manner. Scores of them tell us—and are advertising this week—that their faith in the citizenry of the Cross Plains trade territory, its business institutions and future, is unshattered and that they firmly believe the present shadows are the dawn of brighter days.

Hope and vision are two of life's finest characteristics and truly Cross Plains is blessed with a bounty of this goodness.

The determination to 'carry on' regardless of obstacles and difficulties, as is being manifested here, is the same spirit of progress with which our forebearers sowed the seeds of our present civilization.

We congratulate you Cross Plains upon your grit of determination and truthfully say that it is a pleasure and an honor to live among and be a part of such a people.

CHEVROLET TO SHOW SMALLER AND LOWER PRICED AUTOMOBILE

Directly on the heels of the most successful new car program since 1929, the Chevrolet Motor Company announced Wednesday that a companion car to the present series, to be called the 'Standard Six' Chevrolet and priced considerably below the present range, would be shown throughout the nation Saturday.

About 15,000 of the new models will have been built and dispatched to Chevrolet dealers for a simultaneous national showing. W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager, stated in a communication to the Review.

The new 'Standard Six' is built for business use and for that group of

WORK ON HIGH SCHOOL 'GYM' IS PROGRESSING DESPITE MONEY DELAY

Construction of the gymnasium on Cross Plains high school campus began last week and the major portion of the skeleton of the building had been completed Thursday afternoon. A. J. Gensley, local contractor, is in charge of the work.

Work has been considerably delayed because of the inability to secure R. E. C. funds for labor on the building.

The Review was told yesterday morning that the committee in charge of the erection of the building was hopeful and had reason to believe that the funds would be forthcoming within the very near future. At present work is being carried on by allowing carpenters credit on delinquent taxes, for labor.

COURT RULES LOAN IS PERSONAL OBLIGATION AND NOT FOR BANK

S. F. Bond, former banker and Cross Plains mayor, was acquitted in forty second district court at Baird Wednesday morning in a case charging him with swindling R. W. and C. F. McNeel, both of this place, of $8,000.

The case went to the jury shortly after four Tuesday afternoon, returning the following morning at 10 with a verdict of not guilty. C. C. King of Putnam, was foreman of the jury.

R. W. and C. F. McNeel contended that the money was loaned to Bond to save the Farmers National Bank, of which he was Vice-President, and that directors and stockholders would stand behind the obligation.

The defendant testified he borrowed the money for his own use, and produced the check given by the McNeels, drawn to S. F. Bond. He testified he did not claim the money was needed by the bank, or that he had said directors and stockholders were behind it.

FINE ARTS CONTEST SCHEDULED AT HIGH SCHOOL HERE TONIGHT

FARMERS COLUMN

BY V. A. UNDERWOOD

Why not feed hens a balanced ration composed of mash and grain? Six pounds of well balanced feed will produce a dozen eggs, while it will take 13 to 20 pounds of feed to produce a dozen eggs when fed grain alone. Figure the cost of both feeds and compare them.

You have your choice either buy commercial mixed mash or mix your mash at home.

Here are some suggested mashes that may be economically mixed at home.

MASH NO. 1

- 100 pound yellow corn meal
- 100 lbs. ground oats
- 200 lbs. ground wheat.
- 2 pounds salt

MASH NO. 2

- 100 lbs. yellow corn meal
- 100 lbs. ground oats
- 200 lbs. ground wheat
- 50 lbs. meat scraps
- 2 1/4 lb. salt.

MASH NO. 3

- 100 lbs. yellow corn meal
- 100 lbs. ground oats
- 200 lbs. ground wheat
- 100 lbs. meat and bone scraps
- 2 1/2 lbs. salts.

Mash No. 1 should be fed when hens are allowed all the milk needed; Mash No. 2 fed when allowed half enough milk, and mash No. 3 fed when no milk available.

Mash should be kept before the birds continuously and fed grain at night in amount equal to the amount of mash consumed.

It has been estimated that 4 to 5 gallons of milk is plenty to meet the requirements for 100 hens daily and also that 100 hen will consume 11 lbs. of mash and 9 lbs. of grain daily.

THE RIGHT MOTOR OIL...
may be either Mid-continent or Pennsylvania... but it's sure to be Sinclair

WHETHER you should use a Mid-continent or a pure Pennsylvania grade motor oil is a matter for your engine to decide. The important thing is to get the finest oil in these classes that money will buy.

Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil is a scientific blend of the oldest Mid-continent crudes mellowed and filtered for an average of 80 million years. Included in this blend is the famous Cambro-Ordovician crude taken from a mile and a quarter below the surface in Oklahoma.

Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil could not be better, for it is made 100% from the costliest Pennsylvania grade crude oil—the famous Bradford-Allegany crude which was formed in the Devonian

Age more than a hundred million years ago. Mellowed and filtered in its earthy bed for successive ages—ages which saw the rise and fall of life in strange forms—Bradford-Allegany crude has no superior among Pennsylvania crudes for sheer lubricating quality.

Sinclair not only de-waxes Sinclair Pennsylvania and Sinclair Opaline in the refining process—it goes one step further and takes out the non-lubricating petroleum jelly by chilling the oil down to as low as 60° F. below zero.

Note how Sinclair Pennsylvania or Sinclair Opaline stands up in the heat of hard, fast driving. Note especially at draining time how little oil has been used up—positive, visible proof of protection for the last mile as well as the first!

21 INCH STICK TAKEN FROM STOMACH OF COW

A dried willow stick 21 inches long and two inches in diameter was taken from the stomach of a three year old Jersey cow here the past week. The cow belongs to Estah Johnson, who lives just East of the city limits, on the old Jones farm.

The cow is in splendid physical condition.

Local stockmen believe that the cow probably fell on the stick, burying it in her stomach.

Johnson told the Review that he believed the stick had been inside the cow at least two months. The stick had formerly been used by probably some child as the bow for a bow and arrow. Mr. Johnson is keeping the oddity to show friends.

It is wrong for a young man to keep a girl up late at night. She has to go to work the next morning and can't lie in bed as he can.

Drawn the Line

The State police were giving examinations for drivers' licenses. Upon returning from the driving test, a middle-aged negro was questioned about different highway laws.

The questioner asked: "And what is the white line in the middle of the highway?" Sam replied promptly; 'Fo' bicycles.'

SIGN OF THE CROSS TO SHOW SUNDAY AT BROWNWOOD THEATER

Cecil B. DeMille's spectacle of Rome in the days of Nero, will be presented as a road show attraction at the Lyric Theatre, with only three showings, daily, Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of next week, March 13, 14, and 15.

The picture presents an extraordinarily large cast headed by Charles Laughton as Nero, Claudette Colbert as Poppaea, Fredric March, Prefect of Rome, and Elissa Landi as a Christian girl. Sign of the Cross is said to be parallel with other DeMille triumphs of spectacle and includes many scenes of striking proportion of color. The story is that of the persecution of the Christians in Rome and their eventual triumphs.

Showings each day on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be at 2:30, 5:30, and 8:30, with five minutes intermission and a special prologue the Old Rugged Cross, sung by Marion Talley.

Matinee prices, 25 and 35; children 10; Night prices, adults, 35 and 40; children 10. This is the first time SIGN OF THE CROSS has ever been shown at popular prices. This picture has played New York, Chicago, Boston, and Philadelphia at $2.20, top.

The 5:30 matinee is especially recommended for the school children throughout this section and there will be a special price for the school children at this particular show each day. Manager E. C. Leeves states that he has arranged with several schools to attend this show. Teachers will also be given this same consideration. He earnestly requests that everyone be prompt, as the box-office will close when the feature picture starts. It is further suggested by Mr. Leeves that every minister in this section of the country see this picture and he cordially invites them to attend this special matinee, making themselves known at his office purchasing tickets.

Those who have seen the Ten Commandments and King of Kings will certainly thrill over this masterpiece Mr. DeMille has given us in SIGN OF THE CROSS.

Your Power Supply

As much electricity as you can use—or as little as you may require; at the place where you want it, at the time when you want it—reliable and continuous, always ready, instantly delivered.

These standards of electric service have resulted from years of building.

Large, efficient power plants—and widespread network of transmission lines to serve groups of towns—have resulted in the ample, inexpensive power supply available everywhere today.

The West Texas Utilities Company, with three major generating stations, nineteen auxiliary plants and over 2,500 miles of transmission lines, is providing this modern power supply to 125 progressive cities and towns in West Texas, the "Land of Opportunity".

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule—and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

How Cardui Helps Women

"Mal-nutrition" means that your body is not getting enough to keep it up, so that what it has to do is not done well. You may not be eating enough to keep up the work of the body, or there may be something wrong that keeps you from getting full value from the food you eat.

Because of mal-nutrition, some women have aches and pains every month. Such pains should not be neglected.

Take Cardui to give you a better appetite, to give you more strength from the food you eat—to build up and increase your feeling of well-being. Aches and pains go away as you build up with the help of Cardui.

County Meet

By Wilma Jones
 On March the 24 and 25 At Baird there's a grand track meet There all the schools will be represented And their athletes will complete

The Cross Plains track team is good The boys and girls are the very best of the other schools knew these things They would stay at home and rest.

At all the different events they are good Now these are facts, not merely may-bies They are so far ahead of the rest that the others look like babies.

Listen folks, boost your track team. Encourage them, now's the time to begin and go to Baird on the 24 and 25 and yell, because Cross Plains' going to win.

Miss Enid Gwathmey was in Rising Star Saturday with the extemporaneous speakers.

Elizabeth McDermitt, Juanita Vestal and Bruce Spencer were in Rising Star Saturday and Bruce and Elizabeth entered in the declamation contest.

Cheryl Lutgens visited Melba Boston in Rising Star last week end.

Fanora Neeb and Rosalea Cutbirth visited in Baird over the week end, and Helen Grace Gray was in Putnam.

Billie Mac Adams visited in Ballinger past week end.

Phyllis, Clara Nell, Roma, Bobbie, and Ernestine were all standing in the hall talking about what they were going to do that week end. Some one said Aw, lets have a hen party. Ernestine said O. K. I'll be the rooster, rumors are going round that Helen and Billie Mac have buried the hatchet. We hope so.

It is said that great minds run in the same channel, but you wouldn't believe this if you were to hear Roma and Ernestine argue.

Sights of sights was when Helen and Billie Mac turned Fannie over a seat in the auditorium and spanked her for gossiping.

Ernestine borrowed a fountain pen from her rival—Georgie Gwathmey. Booh!!

THOSE SOPHOMORES

Sophs. have been studying age problems in Algebra, and some parts of the Class room discussion follow:

Mr. Norma—Tommie (Harris) How old are you?
 Tommie: Fifteen—Sixteen
 Mr. Norman: Which, 15 or 16?
 Tommie: 16.
 Mr. Norman: How old will you be in 5 years?
 Tommie: Twenty—one.
 Mr. Norman: Which, 20 or?
 Mr. Norman: Billie Mac, suppose you are 6 and I am twelve; just suppose it. In 50 years I will still be just six years older than you.
 Billie Mac: That doesn't seem possible.

Zelah Pittman is back to school again. She has had a long spell of sickness.

J. Lee Smith has been coming to school dressed 'fit to kill' quiet often here of late. It sure looks suspicious when Goldia Klutts has also been making her self more attractive.

Hurrah For Our Gym

Why are some people so narrow minded. They don't know what it's all about. And this is written especially for them.

They say Cross Plains has to copy All the things the large towns do. Why not copy those towns, Then sometime Cross Plains will be a big city too.

All the students get good exercise, they'll all be healthy A gymnasium will be the center of recreation

So come on, citizens of Cross Plains, And give us your cooperation.

We're depending on every citizen So forget your petty pains And boost our gymnasium The Recreational of Cross Plains.

Mr. Keyes says he doesn't hear well. The other day he asked Evelyn Childress a history question. He did not hear her answer so he said: Why don't you answer? Evelyn said, I did I shook my head. Mr. Keyes said 'Did you expect me to hear it rattle up here?'

Bobbie Nell's luck wasn't so good Saturday at Rising Star, but the freshmen class is wishing her better luck next time.

Joe Eldon: What am I going to play this afternoon Coach?
 Mr. Keyes: End and guard—sit on the end of the bench and guard the water bucket.

It is a mystery who is sending Dora Bell love notes written in Spanish.

Get Rid of That SORE THROAT!

Any little soreness in the throat grows rapidly worse if neglected. Crush some tablets of genuine Bayer Aspirin in some water, and gargle at once. This gives you instant relief, and reduces danger from infection. One good gargle and you can feel safe. If all soreness is not gone promptly, repeat. There's usually a cold with the sore throat, so before gargling take two tablets to throw off your cold, headache, stiffness or other cold symptoms. Bayer Aspirin relieves neuralgia, neuritis, too. "Confidence"

Confidence is the foundation of progress and the secret of success. Lack of Confidence by any individual in our National, State, or county government creates a demoralizing effect on the good citizens of our Nation. The same applies to our local citizens and business enterprises.

The sooner that we dismiss hysteria from our minds and show the confidence that is due to our bankers the quicker we will enjoy permanent prosperity.

As Citizens of Cross Plains and this territory let's reestablish faith in our Banking and Mercantile institutions. Show confidence in all deserving humanity and enterprises; join the march of progress and go forward in a way that we know will bring success.

Cermak Dies But His Record Lives On

Death has ended the suffering of Anton Cermak. From the hour that the nature of the wounds inflicted by Zangara's bullet was made known, it has seemed impossible that Cermak could survive. But the fighting spirit that had enabled an immigrant boy to work up from poverty and obscurity to a post of high public service and a place among the distinguished leaders in American life sustained the stricken man in his protracted and gallant battle, and so unflinchingly that the Nation's hope for his recovery were revived again and again. It was a losing battle, but there is a challenge for all Americans at this hour in the grim courage with which it was waged.

The tragic end has definitely fixed Cermak's place in the history of this time, when it shall be set down for later generations to read. His rise to administrative responsibility in the second largest city of the Nation, marking the overthrow of discredited government, will itself have place in political history. But the fact that he was the victim of an assassin whose bullet was intended for the man whom the American people had chosen to serve as President at this hour of sternest test will clothe his passing with sacrificial color and make of him part of the story of this time of transition.

What may transpire in the city which Cermak loved and served, now that the fighting spirit is stilled, only the developments will reveal. Chicago may cause to sorrow long over his passing.

We didn't have to read that recipe for 'depression cakes, but we guessed right away that they must have more flap and less jack.

The Family DOCTOR

By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

STAYING HEALTHY

For a long time I have been thinking that there is more praise for the man or woman who prevents the invasion of disease, than for the people who claim the credit of curing diseased conditions I believe most diseases are preventable; then, why not devote a good measure of our energy to keeping disease off, and thereby, not becoming ill?

Your family doctor will tell you that he would gladly seek some other means of making a living, if by so doing he could banish sickness from the land. He devotes much of his time to "preventive medicine," thus seemingly trying to work himself out of a job. No "cult" that I know of spends much of its time that way.

When I tell you that leaf-vegetables, lettuce and such like, are the best 'roughage' for your digestive tracts, I am trying to ward off the possible evils of commercialized products.

When I advise a soft, and varied diet, of good, nutritious, plain food, with temperate habit of eating, I am advising against disease. When I assure you against the awful six-o'clock dinner and the no-breakfast plan, I am giving advice that will bear fruit in length of days. I have spent many years in close observation.

When I write you that excess of certain vitamins produce a condition much like hardening of the arteries, you may as well quit trying to select vitamins that you think you need—you may be doing the seller of that particular "vitamin" a favor, but yourself much harm.

And when I tell you that the food that you like,—the sorts that "set well" on your stomach, eaten in moderate quantity, with plenty of saliva—are best for you, and will give you all the vitamins you really need—you may depend upon it without worry.

What About Technocracy?

Technocracy is mentioned everywhere. It is given space in every magazine; every newspaper mentions it; and it is discussed on every street corner. The greatest fad that has swept the country since the time of the cross-word puzzle and the midget golf links. But in all of these sources technocracy is used only as a theme for jokes. It is seldom treated seriously. And just what is the nature of this great four-syllable word?

This theory was evolved by Howard Scott, and it is in brief. The machines are taking the place of human labor, and thus many people are thrown out of work. About fifty years ago it took several men to make an automobile, but now one man can make several autos. Mr. Howard Scott points out that if this condition continues to increase, in a very short while the country will be chaos and pandemonium. He says that the time has come when something must be done, and he suggests the abolition of the price system. He explains that we have reached a high stage of civilization, and that the price system—or the system of exchanging tokens or metals for goods—is of the semi-civilization age, and that before we can hope to remove the bands of this depression we must abolish it altogether, and establish in its stead, the principle of the theory of technocracy.

The theory of technocracy is simply this: that the people of the United States will wear small energy recording machines, and the government will issue certificates for the energy expended. Suppose a man dug a ditch—perhaps in this job he would use fifty, or maybe sixty, ergs or johules of energy. He would then go to the recorder's office and would receive a certificate for that many ergs of energy, to be spent for anything he wanted that had no more ergs of energy expended in its manufacture than the face reading of the certificate. The certificate would be dated, and perhaps in a month it would be invalid.

With this system, elucidates Mr. Scott, there would be no need of excessive labor. The United States would be a paradise, a Utopia, a garden of Edn. We would work four hours out of each day, four days out of each week, and we could have four months vacation during a year.

There would be no money. Gold would be useless. There would be no prices—each man would pay only as many ergs for the product as were expended in its manufacture. The storekeeper would buy more goods to sell, and with the energy it took to make the sales, he would buy other things he wanted. Yes technocracy sounds interesting. But is it practical? That is the question to be decided by our officials. It sounds as if it would be just the thing to remove this depression; but comparing it with the chicken business, we find that it will look better on paper than it will when it is tried.

Technocracy may be the thing for the nation. But again it may not!

How long will it be, one wonders, before our domestic fowls will come to depend upon man's incubating systems, and conclude their parental duties with the laying of their eggs as do the ostriches? Darwin taught us how imitative birds and beasts are, and how quick to learn and progress along paths of improvement. Ostriches do not hatch their eggs, nor tend their chicks after they leave their shells, because it is unnecessary for them so to do. Will men teach their fowls to follow their example?

The Way of Life

BY BRUCE BARTON

HIS METHOD

MANY leaders have dared to lay out ambitious programs but this is the most daring of all.

"Go ye into all the world," Jesus said, "and preach the gospel to the whole creation."

Consider the sublime audacity of that command. To carry Roman civilization across the then known world had cost millions of lives and billions in treasure. To create any sort of reception for a new idea or product today involves a vast machinery of propaganda and expense. Jesus had no funds and no machinery. His organization was a tiny group of uneducated men, one of whom had already abandoned the cause as hopeless, deserting to the enemy. He had come proclaiming a Kingdom and was to end upon a cross; yet he dared to talk of conquering all creation. What was the source of his faith in that handful of followers? By what methods had he trained them? What had they learned from him of the secrets of influencing men?

We speak of the law of "supply and demand," but the words have got turned around. With anything which is not a basic necessity the supply always precedes the demand. Elias Howe invented the sewing machine, but it nearly rusted away before American women could be persuaded to use it. So his biographer paints a tragic picture—the man who had done more than any other in his generation to lighten the labor of women is forced to attend the funeral of the woman he loved in a borrowed suit of clothes!

Nor are men less stubborn than women in opposition to the new idea. The typewriter had been a demonstrated success for years before business men could be persuaded to buy it.

Almost every invention has had a similar battle. Said Robert Fulton of the Clermont:

"As I had occasion daily to pass to and from the shipyard where my boat was in progress, I often loitered near the groups of strangers. The language was uniformly that of scorn, sneer or ridicule. The laugh often rose at my expense; and the dull repetition of 'Fulton's Folly.' Never did a single encouraging remark, a bright hope, a warm wish cross my path."

That is the kind of human beings we are—wise in our own conceit, impervious to suggestions. Nineteen hundred years ago we were even more impenetrable.

"To the whole creation."—Assuredly there was no demand for a new religion; the world was already over-supplied. And Jesus proposed to send forth eleven men and expect them to substitute his thinking for all existing religious thought!

baseball news will be breaking into the sports pages. The New York Yankees and Yale will meet on Yale Field, New Haven Conn., April 11.

Gene Sarazen has decided he stretched the point when he proposed eight-inch putting cups for golf courses, and now he favors a six-inch-cup.

It is all right for women to take men's clothes, but it seems a foolish thing to do if she cares to look attractive. The ugliest known article of dress is man's breeches.

retiring after midnight. When he awoke Friday morning Mrs. Kallenbaugh was not in bed. He inquired of a lady, who had been engaged to stay with Mrs. Kallenbaugh, if his wife was in the house. When told that she was not, Mr. Kallenbaugh began search at neighboring houses. Is the endeavor to locate his wife he noticed her bathrobe on the ground near a ladder leading up into an oil field circulation tank.

He climbed the ladder and located her body inside. A coroner's verdict was suicidal death by drowning.

Surviving are her husband, three brothers and two sisters.

Mrs. Miles Kallenbaugh was born near Avalon, Ohio, July fourth, 1880. She moved with her husband to Pioneer about two years ago. They came there from Breckenridge. Formerly they resided at Rising Star.

private owners who want a car without the deluxe features and extra long wheelbase of the present Chevrolet Master Six, he stated. He emphasized that the new line would offer the lowest priced, full-size, six-cylinder enclosed models the industry has yet seen—and would be ideal for utility use.

A new and slightly smaller Chevrolet has been rumored in trade circles periodically since April of 1932, a circumstance which Mr. Knudsen attributed to the fact that the new line of cars has been under development for two years. It will be a quality line throughout, machined to the same close limits as the present Chevrolet and built of the same raw materials, although it will have a slightly shorter wheelbase and will lack some of the features and improvements of the present Master Six line.

In bringing out the new car, Mr. Knudsen said his company is simply producing a supplementary line which will open up new markets and further entrench the company in its position of leadership. He added that he expects the new Standard Six to account for about one fourth of the company's total production and sales in 1933.

"Automobiles," said Mr. Knudsen, "like most everything else, are worth just about so much a pound. Naturally, with a shorter and lighter car, we can reduce the first cost as well as the cost as well as the cost of operation."

Austin, Texas, March 8th.—The youngest Senator in the 43rd Legislature is Wilbourne B. Collie of Eastland, Senator from the 24th district, which comprises Taylor, Jones, Haskell, Fisher, Shackelford, Stephens, Eastland, Callahan, Nolan, Mitchell, Throckmorton, and Scurry, counties. Senator Collie is an active member of the group in the upper House which is leading in the fight for economy in State government. He has favored in the Senate and in the various state departments. The Senate voted to reduce the number of its employees almost half.

Collie opposed the long established policy of the use of public funds to pay for subscriptions to daily newspapers for members of the Senate, and this practice was abandoned. He was a leader in the caucus which reduced the pay of all employees in the Senate. The Senate resolution to reduce the per diem of members of the Legislature twenty-five percent was favored by Collie, and passed by the Senate, but was defeated in the House. In keeping with his economy program he recently refused to support a resolution which would give each Senator another stenographer.

The present legislature has an unusual amount of legislation to consider. Careful and conscientious consideration of the measures now being proposed is a better method of using his time for the State, Senator Collie believes, than the introduction of numerous bills for whose adequate consideration this session will not provide the time. This is practicing economy for the state in the use of his time as well as its money. Senator Collie is giving the State all of his time, for he has not missed a single committee meeting or roll call on the Senator floor.

Senator Collie is a member of the following twelve committees, a large number for a new member of the Senate: Banking, Congressional Districts, Criminal Jurisprudence, Internal Improvements, Judicial Districts, Privileges, and Elections, Public Lands and Land Office, Senatorial Districts (with rank of Vice-Chairman), State Affairs, Town and City Corporations (with rank of Chairman) Stock and Stock Raising, and also Civil Jurisprudence.
