FARMERS' SIGN-UP BEGUN HERE

HOME TOWN GOSSIP

Here's another noteworthy achievement for this column. After calling attention to the fact that placards advertising Philpeco country club's annual invitation golf tournament had nothing to say of Cross Plains but instead described the club's location as being seven miles West of Rising Star, we learn that the cards have since been reprinted.

A letter from M. S. (Doc) Sellers, Rising Star publisher, reads: "I admit that you gave me a good call down in your column the past week, and am frank to say that I pulled a 'boner'. Since our club gives no suggestion of where it is by its name, I simply added the line as a matter of location without giving thought to the fact that it was a slight to the two other interested towns. I have run the cards back through the press adding a line reading: 'Cross Plains, Pioneer and Rising Star host cities', which I should have done in the first place. Only four cards which were already carried out are minus the line."

The oversight is understandable and now that it has been rectified everyone should be pleased.

The shirt sleeve soft ball league advocated by this column is about to take shape. Two teams are already formulated and ready for the opening whistle. They are Anderson Chevrolet Company and Higginbothams.

The two delegations met Tuesday afternoon and had a very nice game until the fifth inning, when the knee action boys went on a scoring spree. No one knows exactly what the score was, however, "Phil" Anderson contends that it was 14 to one, in favor of his concern, of course.

And now we beg your diligence while we switch to a serious vein and call attention to an important matter.

Cross Plains high school is about to lose two concrete tennis courts simply because the W.P.A. appropriation is not sufficient to purchase materials. There is, however, an ample appropriation for labor and if the materials could be secured from an outside source.

$450. would buy all material necessary to the construction of two beautiful, lasting courts.

There should be in Cross Plains enough organizations and public spirited citizens, interested in the improvement of our schools to put the tennis courts over.

From a business standpoint, building of the courts would be wise. Cross Plains could secure the tennis eliminations for the county track meet, thus bring several hundred people to our city each year. An invitation tennis tournament staged during the dull summer months would also help business locally by bringing in scores of outside players and possibly hundreds of interested spectators.

Optimism Reigns; Farmers Smiling Broadly

GRAIN PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR FIRST TIME THIS SPRING

Prospects for an average grain crop loom over the Cross Plains trade territory, for the first time in recent months. Wheat, oats and barley, which had begun to suffer have been revived by recent rains to the extent that an average yield is now forecast.

Torrential showers fell in spots over this trade area Sunday night. In Cross Plains the three hour precipitation netted two inches of moisture. Additional rain, however, not as hard, fell again Monday night. Dozens of farmers questioned by a representative of the Review expressed belief that if intermittent showers continue to fall, this area will receive a normal grain crop. This prediction is particularly of interest since it is made by the same farmers who three weeks ago opined that grain would not be worth harvesting.

Ranges are greening rapidly, stock water is abundant and a general feeling of optimism prevails throughout this vicinity as a result of the recent rains.

Overhanging clouds at press time Thursday and favorable weather reports indicated that additional moisture might be forthcoming during the week end.

HOME DESTROYED IN BLAZE HERE FRIDAY

Fire, which is believed to have spread from a cooking stove, completely destroyed a house in the Southwest part of town early Friday morning. The residence was owned by Mrs. A. E. Tate and was occupied by the E. A. Morris family. All household belongings were also lost.

Mr. Morris told the Review that the family had been up but a short while and breakfast was being prepared when the blaze was noticed. None of the damage was covered by insurance.

OIL TEST STARTED NEAR COTTONWOOD

A well was started on the O'Neal tract near Cottonwood last week by R. E. King, et al. The test will go to about 1,000 feet, the Review was told.

R. E. King is of this place. He is employed at McAdams Motor Company. His father, a veteran oil man, and others are also interested in the test, for which acreage has been blocked several months.

USED CAR FESTIVAL TO GET UNDERWAY FRIDAY

On an inside page of today's Review is a full page advertisement run by the Anderson Chevrolet Company announcing a used car sale, which is to begin Friday morning at nine o'clock, and last until every car listed in the advertisement is sold.

CANDIDATE GAINS 2 ADMIRERS BUT THEY WON'T SUPPORT HIM

Even though they won't vote for him this year, E. M. (Ed) Curry, of Pioneer, candidate for State Representative, gained two last week. They are twin boys—his grandchildren—born to Mr. and Mrs. Garland Pancake, of Pioneer, Friday, April 24. The boys, who with the mother, are reported doing nicely, have been named Earnie Ray and Bonnie Jay. They weighed four and a half, and five and a half pounds at birth.

Mrs. Pancake is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curry. So far as the Review was able to learn in a check-up yesterday afternoon, the twins are the first born in the Cross Plains trade territory this year.

MALARIAL TYPHOID IS FATAL SATURDAY TO COTTONWOOD MAN

Homer J. Arvin, 37, member of an old Callahan county family and himself a resident of Cottonwood virtually all of his life, was laid to final rest in the Cottonwood cemetery Sunday afternoon. Funeral services were conducted from the Union Tabernacle at Cottonwood with ministers Ellis G. Grubbs and Ross Respass officiating. Mr. Arvin expired at the home of his father A. J. Arvin, Saturday afternoon shortly after one thirty. Death resulted from malarial typhoid fever, according to the attending physician's notation on a death certificate. Mr. Arvin had been ill three weeks.

A large cortege of friends gathered at the tabernacle and cemetery to pay final respects to the deceased.

Pall bearers at the funeral and interment services were: Jewell Ellis, E. T. Smitr, George Buchanan, Frank Kennedy, of Putnam; Webster High and O. B. Gattus, of Cottonwood. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Higginbothams, Cross Plains.

A complete obituary of Homer J. Arvin appears in Miss Eunice Hembree's "Cottonwood" column on an inside page of today's Review.

30 LOCAL BUSINESS MEN HEAR NEW FARM PROGRAM EXPLAINED

30 local business men gathered around the banquet table at the Presbyterian church Tuesday night, in a meeting specially arranged by the Loyalty Club, to hear County Agent Ross B. Jenkins outline the new farm program and explain how it will effect this trade territory.

The meeting was presided over by J. L. Settle, Loyalty Club president. While the meal was being served, Miss Rosa Van Lane, Miss Marguerite Wagner and Mrs. Harry Ward rendered several vocal selections. They were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Stanley Clark. Other program included a resume of what the Loyalty Club had achieved in recent years by Dr. J. H. McGowan, and "Cross Plains' Part in the Texas Centennial", by Chas. F. Hemphill. General round table discussion of matters pertaining to the city and trade territory followed.

Mr. Jenkins' speech, which was the principal program feature, received loud applause from the business men who heard for the first time the new farm program would mean to this particular area.

Those present at the meeting were: J. L. Settle, Chas. F. Hemphill, Jesse McAdams, B. B. Bond, W. A. Williams, Porter J. Davis, Mark Adair, E. C. Neeb, Rev. J. C. Mann, Ross B. Jenkins, Mr. Berry, Olaf Hollingshead, W. D. Smith, W. P. Baldwin, S. R. Jackson, B. H. Freeland, W. J. (Son) Sipes, F. R. Anderson, Dr. J. H. McGowan, A. H. McCord, Rev. V. W. Tatum, Rev. S. P. ### GENE AUTRY HURT, BUT SHOW GOES ON

Although Gene Autry, famous cowboy singing star, suffered painful injuries recently while making his new Mascot starring serial, "The Phantom Empire," which opens Friday at the Liberty Theater he did not forget the oldest adage of show-business:

"The show must go on." One scene required Autry to vault into his saddle and gallop away. But his horse "Pico" suddenly shied at an unexpected noise and even Gene's expert horsemanship could not prevent his being thrown against a tree. The result was a cracked rib.

Autry, however, halted the cameras only long enough for emergency treatment while Frankie Darro, Betsy King Ross, Dorothy Christy, Wheeler Oakman and others of the stellar cast anxiously awaited the doctor's verdict. Gene then gamely resumed work and even refused the use of the suggested "double".

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

Special Bankhead Pool Checks Received

Those producers who pooled their surplus Bankhead certificates in the Fall of 1934 received about 70% of their value in 1935. That excess was sent back to the special pool for selling last Fall. The money from that sale was received this week. It is the final amount due on the 1934 certificates. There were 169 checks that amounted to a little less than $810. The payment on the certificates pooled for the 1935-36 crop should soon be paid also.

Subsidy Payments Being Delayed The first batch of 415 applications for the 2 cent subsidy on the 1935 cotton sales were sent out last week but quite a few are still waiting to have their owners submit the proper information for their completion.

There are some with out the total production being given, some have sent only the gin receipts. Gin receipts are valueless unless the sales certificate is made out by the buyer of the cotton and sent to the office.

Bases of New Farm Payments There has been some misunderstanding about the differences in the payments that the Soil program will pay. Some revised rulings have cleared up the language that was used in the first bulletin which is helpful in making up decisions as to which of the soil enriching crops will be planted.

If peas or other legumes are planted every other row or two rows of grain sorghums then two rows of peas, on land that was not so planted last year the payment will be not to exceed $1 per acre for one half the total acreage so devoted. This will not qualify the producer to the soil conservation payment. In other words, that practice does not take up any of the land that is being replaced from the soil-depleting crops. The minimum 20% required for full soil payment eligibility can not be so planted.

The total soil building allowance is that number of acres multiplied by one dollar that is used in soil conservation crops. The soil building allowance may be earned by plowing under o a t s, wheat, barley, or other small grains that have been planted and turned under after a reasonable growth has been attained this spring. The payment will be $1 per acre. The soil conservation payment may be gained on these same acres by planting to sudan grass, dallis grass, or any of the peas, crotalaria, velvet beans and soy beans and these may in this instance be grazed or clipped green.

It has not been decided in the Southern Region if Sudan is used as a soil conservation crop that it would remain such if clipped green but instead it may be classed as a soil depleting crop. It may be grazed, however, and be classed as a soil conservation crop. This point will be fully cleared up before any Sudan is ready to cut.

Any sorghum, Sudan grass, or millet planted solid or in rows between January 1st and July 31st and all the crop is left on the land or plowed under will earn $1 per acre as a soil building practice.

Terracing will earn $40.00 per 100 feet if constructed according to the rules approved by the AAA. This payment will not exceed the total soil building allowance. This allowance is explained in the third paragraph above. Likewise if velvet or soy beans, peas, or crotalaria are turned under they will earn $1.50 per acre if the vines or stalks are left on the ground and the seed not harvested for oil mill crushing or $2 per acre if plowed under green. These crops when stated to be turned under means just that, to run under them or any other method of plowing other than to turn it under is not an acceptable practice. This is a soil building program and all loop holes to defeat the purpose of the act will be closely watched.

Crotalaria is a soil builder that is not equalled in any other plant. It will normally add 800 pounds of nitrate of soda to the soil and has a production not uncommonly found of 40,000 pounds of forage per acre. The seed cost about $.20 per pound and 5 pounds will plant an acre in rows. It will reseed itself but is not a pest. Dallas grass is one of the perennial grasses that is a good soil builder, a good grazing crop, and is recommended to kill out Johnson grass and bermuda grass. See any reputable seed catalog for a varification of this statement.

RACING drivers will not take chances on any tire except a Firestone Gum-Dipped Tire in the grueling Indianapolis 500-Mile Race, where its greater blowout protection has been repeatedly demonstrated.

Ab Jenkins, the famous driver, used Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires on his 3000-mile run over the Salt Beds of Utah, which he covered in 23 1/2 hours—a record of 127 miles per hour.

When you drive at today's higher speeds, your life and the lives of others are largely dependent upon the degree of safety built into the tires of your car.
