PETERSON TO BE POLICE CHIEF

TO SUCCEED J. L. M'MILLAN AROUND FIRST OF JANUARY

Peace Officer For Over 20 Years; Is Former Deputy Sheriff Of This County

Alfred Peterson, former Callahan county deputy sheriff, was appointed chief of police for Cross Plains at a meeting of the city council here, Tuesday night. He will succeed J. L. McMillan.

Peterson was deputy sheriff under former sheriff, R. L. Edwards. He has been a peace officer for over twenty years. He served in this county under sheriffs Felix Raines and John Moore. He was deputy sheriff in Parker county six years and served in Baird under Ev Hughes when Hughes was Callahan county sheriff.

He served as deputy sheriff stationed in Cross Plains under R. L. Edwards.

The newly appointed police chief was born a half mile northwest of Cross Plains and was reared in the county. He has been a resident of Callahan practically all of his life. Peterson will assume duties of the newly created office about January 1st, when City Marshall, J. L. McMillan quits to become county commissioner.

SCHOOL BUSES HERE PASS INSPECTIONS

Members of the Texas Highway Patrol from the sub-station in Coleman, checked Cross Plains school buses Monday. A bus from Cottonwood was also inspected by the patrolmen.

School buses are checked for certain safety requirements. All of the vehicles were passed as okay by the inspectors.

This was the second check-up for Cross Plains buses. They were deficient in a few small points on the initial examination but the defects were remedied.

A garage is under process of construction. The McClellans plan to repair the residence in the spring, as soon as weather will permit.

Yule Season In Full Swing In Cross Plains

MERCHANTS FILL SHELVES WITH NEW XMAS MERCHANDISE

Santa's Pack Will Probably Be Biggest In Years Here; Shoppers Select Gifts Early

Colorful Christmas lights flashed on here Friday night—three days ahead of schedule—to herald the beginning of the yuletide season. Cross Plains was probably the first city—by only a few days—to light downtown areas with the multi-colored incandescents.

Merchants have furthered the Christmas atmosphere by decorating windows in keeping with the season, lending a cheery air to the city.

Special events for people in the Cross Plains territory will be held every Saturday until Christmas, with the final event the biggest of them all. Thousands are expected to participate in the fun.

Good crops, although some of them have been retarded but not injured by recent rains, have poured money into the pockets of citizens of the area, and the merry jingle of dollars is expected to make Santa Claus' pack this year the biggest in many years. Merchants shelves are loaded with the largest and most varied stocks in many seasons and they are urging shoppers to buy early in order to obtain the best. They point out that all but lesser grades will be gone by Christmas Eve and that last minute shoppers will have to take whatever they can find.

A buyer estimated early this week that thousands of tons of peanuts are yet to be marketed. He opined that recent rains had damaged the crop very little, if any, and if clear weather is maintained for a while, they will be ready to be sold.

Bufs End Season With Loss To The Santa Anna Squad

Cross Plains Buffaloes ended the season at Santa Anna last Friday where they bowed 26-13 to the Mountaineers. The game terminated a mediocre three months of football, in which they won one conference game, tied one and lost four.

Crippled most of the time, and outweighed heavily in almost every game they played, the Buffaloes nevertheless made a creditable showing. They topped Rising Star, traditional gridiron rivals, here Thanksgiving (Roosevelt version) to draw farther ahead in a series dating back to the twenties.

As usual, the Bufs will lose most of their outstanding players this year via the graduation route, but may turn up next season with a winner.

Although they placed only one man on the all-district, several other local lads played outstanding ball all season and coaches who picked the all-star team just forgot the boys from Cross Plains.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barr and Mrs. S. R. Cade were guests of Mrs. Barr's sister, Mrs. Alex D. Haynes in Dallas the past week end.

Bearded Cagers To Play At Cottonwood

GIRLS TO BEGIN CAGE TOURNEY IN GYM HERE TONIGHT

Cross Plains' annual girls basketball tournament will begin here Thursday night in the high school gymnasium. Ten crack sextets from this area have entered and promise cage fans a lot of fast action.

Leo Varner, superintendent and coach at May, and former crack basketballer, will referee throughout the three-day tournament.

Two special games have been arranged on the program. Friday night, the local boys team will meet the Cross Plains high school five. Saturday night the Buffaloes will play the Burkett boys quintet.

Trophies will be presented to winning team and runner-up. Medals will be given to players selected on the all-tourney team.

Cross Plains girls and Beatrice's fine team are favored to meet in the finals, with Rising Star giving them lots of opposition.

First rounds of the tourney are scheduled to be played Thursday and Friday nights. Opening the series will be Cross Plains girls vs. Sipe Springs; Burkett vs. Beattie; and Pioneer vs. Williams. Friday night Rising Star girls are slated to meet Cottonwood; and Cross Cut sextet will contest Buffalo. Finals will be run off Saturday and Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Stacy and sons of Comanche have moved back to Cross Plains this week. Mr. Stacy is employed at Brownwood.

Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Cade of Lubbock were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barr Monday.

UPTON OF CROSS PLAINS ATTAINS ALL-STAR RATING

Giles Upton of Cross Plains was chosen all-district tackle in a vote of football coaches in the S.A. sector last week. Honorable mention in the balloting went to Pat Moore, end; and Billy Mac Smith, back, of the Buffalo squad.

Several other local lads played a brand of football that merited their selection on the all-conference squad, but escaped notice of the coaches.

The all-district club, as selected by the mentors, is:

Former Teacher In Local Schools Has Become A Poetess

ODESSA—The talent of the public school teacher is no longer confined to the three "R's" and being able to keep children quiet. Musicians, artists, speech and voice teachers are included now in the faculty of our public schools.

The parable of the talents is especially true in the case of Miss Auta Lee Notgrass, teacher in South Elementary school. Since she was 16 years of age Miss Notgrass has been writing poetry, yet only in the past two years has she submitted anything for publication. One of her poems, "Mother," has been published in a volume called "Your Mother and Mine."

Miss Notgrass was a teacher in Cross Plains schools for two years, resigning her position here to go to Odessa. While here she wrote several articles for The Review.

Nature and religion are her favorite subjects. She loves her native town, a little place called Nimrod, near Cisco, because of the trees and small streams. The theme of this is found in her "Out in the Country," which ends, with the following two lines: "What more could country ask than just to be."

"The chosen place for God to plant a tree."

The loveliness of a standing chimney caught her fancy, in the opening stanza of "Deserted Chimney," she writes:

"Once in the Long Ago you clung With moated fingers to the split rails That made a home. You clung as only one might do,

Who is the kind of friends that never fails."

The closing stanza reads: "Today, you stand a symbol of service well done,

Your beauty is the loveliness of age. Of time-worn things and your reflected glow. Illuminates our history's written page."

Miss Notgrass has taught for seven years, is a graduate of Daniel Baker in Brownwood and has also attended Texas Tech in Lubbock. It is her ambition to write on the southwest in a style that is typical of this country. Only one attempt has been made by Miss Notgrass along this theme, yet she has caught a thought of beauty in her "Rustic Rhythm."

"The very vastness of the plains suggests montony. To one still unacquainted with the rhythm of the range. Her's is a rustic rhythm, her's is a soothing voice.

And one who knows her temperament. Thinks not her mood so strange."

Miss Notgrass is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Notgrass of Nimrod. After attending school there for several years, she went to Cisco to attend high school and Randolph college.

FORMER LOCAL MAN IS WED IN OKLAHOMA

Ralph Baum, former local man, was wed to Miss Evelyn Swackhammer on November 15, according to advices reaching The Review. The couple was wed in the First Christian church in Lawton, Oklahoma. No other details of the ceremony were made available. The couple will make their home in Lawton where the groom is employed, according to reports.

MMES. BARKER, SHIRLEY TO PRESENT THEIR PUPILS

Pupils of Mrs. Lila Barker and Mrs. Ruth Johnson, Shirley will appear in a joint recital in the high school auditorium, Monday night, December 9.

Another presentation of the same pupils will be made at Cottonwood, Tuesday night, December 10, in the school gymnasium. The program will begin at 7:30 p. m. each evening.

Review Correspondent Gives Vivid Word Picture Of City Of Austin And A & M - Texas Grid Classic Held There On Thanksgiving Day

By AUBRA DODSON

Special To The Review

Well, folks, I have seen a lot of football games, but never before I seen a football tragedy, a riot and a football miracle rolled into one. We had a game like that here in Austin today.

one season in Austin, the next time at College Station (AggieLand).

Football fans look forward to it from year to year as one great Texas football show they must see. . . . weather, war or politics can't stop them. This year, as you know, it was played in Austin at the University of Texas' mammoth stadium, which is modern in every detail. It was dedicated in 1924.

There has always been great rivalry between the two teams, the student bodies and the fans. Sports writers start months before date of the game getting up steam . . . and this time both sides had steamed up to the popping-off point. Here was the Aggie club with 19 straight victories and no defeats, already within sight of the Rose Bowl in California. Betting was heavily in favor of the Cadets. Football fans began drifting into Austin Tuesday and by Wednesday night the hotels were jammed and streets were crowded. One large hotel removed all seats from the lobby so people could have space to move in.

University of Texas students were driving up and down Congress avenue (main street) yelling this or that crack at Aggie students who had arrived ahead of the trains that would bring the famous Aggie band and thousand of Cadets to Austin Thursday morning.

At 8:00 o'clock Thursday morning police stopped all auto traffic on Congress avenue to get ready for the parade. At 9:00 a. m., the Texas National Guard stationed here, awaiting transfer to Brownwood, paraded and were greeted by thousands lining the thoroughfares.

Before time for the Aggie parade the sidewalks and streets were jammed from the Missouri Pacific sta-

ASSOCIATION MEETING TUESDAY... PUTNAM LUNcheon NOW IN O...

LIVE TEXAS... ORDINANCE CREATING THE OFFICE OF CHIEF OF POLICE AND ABOLISHING THE OFFICE OF CITY MARSHALL

"Every man over is a liar—at least potentially and, I may add, harmlessly." said Cynical Sam. "The chief advantage of living to let old is that you can remember things that happened before other folks was born. So if some fellow asks an old-timer about some imaginary galsot who used to live on Possum Creek 40 year ago—well, sir, that early settler at first will vaguely remember him and finally under proper encouragement, will add a lot o' details, such as the way he walked and the good hand he was at swearing."

Clamoring to be set down in words is this world of changing wonders with its countless human beings, each fascinatingly different. But the man who writes is conscious of the steady trickling of the sand in the hour-glass and so he echoes the cry of Keats in a sublime sonnet: "When I have fears that I may cease to be Before my pen has gleaned my teeming brain: Before high-piled books in character- Hold, like rich garners, the full-ripened grain: When I behold, upon the night's starred face, Huge, cloudy symbols of a high romance, And think that I may never live to trace Their shadows with the magic hand of chance, And when I fear, fair creature of an hour, That I may never look upon thee more: No'er have relish in the fairy power Of unreflecting love—then on the shores Of this wide world, I stand and think 'Till Love and Fame to nothingness do shrink."

Here and there: In Llano the other day, I met the man who—in registering for the draft—answered the question, "Who will always know your address?" by saying: "The Commercial Credit Corporation." Dudley Doble makes a living with books as does his kinsman, J. Frank—but Dudley sells 'em instead of writing 'em. He has two large rooms in San Marcos filled with volumes, mostly about Texas and mostly out-of-print, including the last remaining copies of "Texas Rhythms" by one B. House.

PUTNAM LUNCH ROOM NOW IN OPERATION

The Putnam school lunch project has been operating since October 7.

At the end of the first month that the project was operated 2205 hot, well balanced lunches were served to the school children.

At the present time Putnam is the only school in this county taking advantage of the WPA School Lunch Project.

All menus are planned and served under the supervision of a trained dietitian furnished by the Work Projects Administration.

The value of this Project to the community and county will be seen immediately. Not only does it give the children a well balanced meal at noon...

College Graduates Needed By Marines To Become Officers

College men who wish to become officers in the U.S. Marine Corps may take the first step in that direction by joining the Candidate Schools now being conducted at Quantico, Va.

After candidates have completed three months of preliminary training, conducted on a competitive basis, selected men are promoted from the rank of private first class in the Marine Corps to that of second lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve.

During the first ninety days they are paid thirty dollars a month, plus food, uniforms, books and equipment.

They will be given an opportunity to qualify for commissions in the regular Marine Corps following another three months of training including instruction in the art of modern warfare, combat principles, tactics, discipline, leadership and teamwork.

Some 1,200 college men, a number of whom are already undergoing training, will attend the school in groups of 400 each.

Young college graduates who are interested should apply at any Marine Corps recruiting station, or by letter to the Director, Marine Corps Reserve, Headquarters Marine Corps, Navy Department, Washington, D. C.

GALVANIZED TIN MAKES GOOD CAMP FIRE OVEN

When you go to camp, take a sheet of heavy galvanized tin about 16 x 16 inches in size. This can be placed over the fire on four stones and used as a stove top for your skillet and coffee pot.

When baking is to be done, have a good bed of coals ready. Place four small flat stones on the tin and set the pan of biscuits, beans or meat on them. The small stones will raise the bottom of the baking pan an inch or so from the galvanized tin, thus preventing the food from burning on the bottom.

The galvanized tin can be cut in two pieces and hinges welded on it so that it may be folded and carried in a canvas case.

Through the week ending October 26, the port of Houston had exported 130,000 bales of cotton, or nearly one half of the United States total of 300,000 since August 1. This gave Houston a substantial lead over other ports.

As the procession ended pandemonium broke loose. Traffic was resumed on Congress avenue and officers sought only to prevent a major accident...

Up and down the streets and in hotel lobbies ticket scalpers who had long ago bought up large blocks of choice seats were reaping rich profits. Ducats ranged in price from $6.00 in the end zones, and I understand one fan paid $35.00 for two on the 45 yard line.

Aggie lads who were short on funds thumbed and hitch-hiked their way to get here. Four boys slept Wednesday night in a three-quarter bed that one of them had rented earlier in the day for fifty-cents.

At noon the stadium gates swung open and before game time at 2:30 45,000 fans had pushed and jammed their way into Memorial Stadium to make the largest crowd ever to see a game in Texas.

The Aggies kicked off to the Longhorns at 2:30 and the ball went out of bounds on the Texas 35. They wasted no time in getting started. On the first play, Loughorn Pete Layden backed up to his own 25 yard line, and sailed the ball perfectly into the arms of the little nubbin Jack Crain, who sells boots and plays a little football as he goes

DRESSY H. D. CLUB PLANS XMAS PARTY

The Dressy H. D. C. met Thursday afternoon, November 28, in the Dressy school building, with Mrs. Vernon Spencer, vice-president, in charge of the program.

In a business meeting—plans were made for a Xmas party to be held Friday night, December 13, in the Dressy school building, when club women are to entertain their husbands children and friends. Gifts are to be exchanged. Games of "42" and dominoes are to be the chief entertainment.

The refreshment committee is composed of Misses N. L. Long, Harlon Lacy, Olan Wilson. The Xmas tree decoration committee is composed of Misses Kaola Cavanaugh, Mrs. Doyle Rhodes and Mrs. Wallace Jones.

After the business meeting the club women helped make a mattress for Mrs. Bill Loran who has been ill for some time.

Present at the meeting were: Misses W. O. Spencer, George Bunn, Tommie Harris, Vernon Spencer, Wallace Jones, Doyle Rhodes, Harlon Lacy, Edd Henderson, R. J. Cason, Lorraine, N. L. Long, and Miss Kaola Cavanaugh.

through the University. He dodged, ducked and ran through the Cadets for 23 yards. On the third play, Pete Layden heaved the pickin to Noble Doss on the Aggies one foot line where he fumbled out of bounds. If he had fumbled the other way he would have been over. The next play Layden played through for the touchdown, and then Crain put his toe into the ball and sent it squarely through the uprights for the extra point... and in 57 seconds this was University of Texas 7—A&M 0. Not one in a hundred in the stands had any thought that this would be the final score...

WILLIAM L. CLAYTON HEADS "POLEO" DRIVE IN TEXAS THIS YEAR

Texas enters the 1941 "Fight Infantile Paralysis" campaign under the leadership of William L. Clayton of Houston, a leading business man and seasoned warrior against the crippling disease. Headquarters will be at Dallas.

In a message to Keith Morgan, National Chairman of the Committee for the Celebration of the President's Birthday, Mr. Clayton accepted the State Chairmanship for the third time and assured Mr. Morgan that the Lone Star State would go over the top in the war against infantile paralysis.

Gratified at the prospects for an enthusiastic campaign for funds in Texas, Mr. Morgan said: "We at headquarters here deeply appreciate the generous support which the people of Texas have given us in the past and we are confident that they will rally behind Mr. Clayton in this campaign. Our slogan, 'Help the Youngster Around Your Own Corner' will be a happy one for Texans have always taken care of their own."

"What we need right now is an army of volunteer workers who will come to the support of Mr. Clayton and who will organize the State as it has never been organized before. When the raising of funds begins in January, we know that Texas, united in this fight, will do its full part."

During the past summer, Texas was on the alert against any possible epidemic of infantile paralysis and as a result of its "national defense" against the disease, there was a decrease in the cases recorded. In many parts of America the disease has wrought the worst havoc on record. Statistics for the nation as a whole, reveal that 1940 ranks fifth in the number of cases by the government service. From Puerto Rico to West Virginia, Men, women and children were stricken, until the number of cases reached 9,197 during the first 46 weeks of the year. This is an increase of 2,404 over the same period of 1939.

Mr. Clayton will give the campaign the advantages of astute business judgment and experience in fighting infantile paralysis. He is chairman of the Board of Anderson Clayton and Company, international cotton merchants of Houston.

As fans poured into streets and hotels in downtown Austin, some were smiling broadly while others were almost in tears. A few were trying to drown their sorrow. Most of the Cadets quietly slipped away after the game and those who remained were solemn-faced boys. There were two or three fights Wednesday night, but Thursday after the game everything was peaceful. A good many of the boys who had wagered too freely on the Aggies were kinda sad. One man is reported to have lost $1,500. He can afford to lose it however, and maybe it went to someone who can use it. ... And so went the Turkey Day football classic between two of the greatest schools in the world. Golly, but I could not help mourning for those Aggies. I live in Austin and I like the Longhorns, but first I am a Texan. I would love to see the Cadet team in the Rose Bowl. They would put on a real show out there for Texas... and I am still hoping they will get to go. If they don't it will be like telling a little child there is no Santa Claus. They're still tops... no other team can boast nineteen straight victories to one upset... why shouldn't they go?

CHEVROLET DEALERS PREPARE FOR TRUCK WEEK IN DECEMBER

Chevrolet dealers the nation over are staging their annual National Truck Week, being held December 2-7 inclusive, when they have on display in their respective dealerships the broadest range of commercial equipment ever offered by the country's car and truck sales leader.

According to W. E. Fish, manager of the commercial car department, 1941 will be one of the greatest sales years in truck history, with gains as high as 20 per cent expected in many sections of the country. "The general business upturn is very clearly and very clearly and very clearly reflected in the truck business," he said, "and truck sales mirror accurately the business picture. With increased activity, both in industry and in retail business, predicted as we enter the winter season, our forecast of truck sales gains seems reasonable."

"By virtue of the fact that approximately one-third of all the trucks at work in America today are Chevrolets," Mr. Fish added, "our annual truck week becomes an event of interest to every truck user, whether he operates a fleet or a single unit. The advances made in truck transportation, as illustrated in Chevrolet's 1941 line, which includes 60 models on nine wheelbase lengths, are gains of vital importance to him. Among the features of our new line are two engines with increased power output, longer wheelbase, more comfortable cabs, easier steering of entirely new design, and new massive truck styling for the new year."

"This is a season of preparation for a period of increasing business activity," Mr. Fish added, "and our truck show thus is timed to be of greatest value to the buyer. The commercial transport equipment Chevrolet dealers will display offers the latest engineering advances combined with the traditional economy, power, dependability, and long-life that have become synonymous with Chevrolet trucks. Commercial transport users and operators will be able to compare all types of equipment, each the latest of its kind, during National Truck Week at their Chevrolet dealers."

Fish said that dealers from coast to coast are participating in the division's National Truck Week at their Chevrolet dealers. Represented in the displays are a full line of light, medium and heavy-duty models which embody numerous improvements, not only in appearance but in economy, comfort, and performance factors on which users' satisfaction depends.

PUTNAM LAD ROPES WOLF, HAS IT CAGED

Raymond Clark, who lives near Putnam, was telling in that city this week how his son, James, roped a wolf and brought it back alive recently.

OFF-HAND OBSERVATIONS

Here is what Sidney Hollaender, a business man of New York, has had printed on the back cover of the New York classified directory. It cost Mr. Hollaender $10,000 to buy the space, but he is a real patriotic American and was glad to spend the money in this way.

his ads attractive to the public, is the man who sells the goods.

According to a Kansas newspaper a very significant about-face among educators who have advocated the largest possible measure of liberty to school children in order to create a spirit of independence, has taken place in recent months.

The article goes on to say that this type of modernism is also prevalent among parents. Corporal punishment has almost been unheard of during the past decade lest the spirit of the child is crushed and he becomes a subject of "inferiority complex."

The paper cites the fact that this lack of discipline has resulted in a crop of young people badly lacking in good morals and manners and the spirit of independence has extended into an antisocial selfishness.

A child must be trained carefully spiritually, morally and intellectually. If he amounts to anything, this can be done if the parents only will give to them their just dues. Parents are responsible for the behavior of their children and any teacher can tell by the demeanor of a child whether he has been trained at home.

A Georgia editor tells this for a fact: He was unable to obtain advertising from a business man in his town because the merchant said he himself never read the ads and didn't believe anyone else did.

"Will you advertise if I can convince you that folks do read the ads?" asked the editor.

The man answered he would but assured the editor he couldn't.

In the next issue the editor ran a line in small type reading, "What is Jenkins going to do about it?"

The next day the merchant hurried over to the editor's office complaining that he was being pestered out of his wits by the curious publication. He agreed to stand by the editor's explanation in the forthcoming issue. It was the following: "Jenkins is going to advertise." Needless to say he did.

A man should never be ashamed to own he has been in the wrong, which is but saying, in other words, that he is wiser today than he was yesterday.—Alexander Pope.

FABRICS TRUTH LAW BECOMES EFFECTIVE IN SEVEN MONTHS

Seven months hence a Federal act, already popularly captioned "Truth in Fabrics," will become a law of the nation.

"This act," says W. R. Nisbet, Extension Service Animal Husbandman for Texas A. and M. College, "opens the way for women to know precisely the wool content of the fabric, especially wearing apparel, they are buying."

"Manufacturers are obliged under the law to state the percentage of virgin wool in any fabric so labeled, as well as the amount of re-worked wool, or shoddy. If wool content is not claimed for the fabric placed on sale, it may be merchandised without labeling."

Passage of the bill, which culminated a 35-year effort by the National Wool Growers' Association for "truth in fabrics," is comparable in its scope to the enactment of the pure food law.

Although bills similar to this, which will be known in the statutes as "Wool products labeling act of 1939," have been introduced in practically every session of Congress since the turn of the century, progress toward realization was more halting than enactment of the pure food law.

The law defines the term "wool" to mean the fibers from the fleeces of the sheep or lamb, or hair of the Angora or Cashmere goat, (and may also include the so-called specialty fibers from the hair of the camel, alpaca, llama vicuna) which has never been reclaimed from any woven or felted wool product.

Enactment of the law may revive the program of the National Wool Growers Association, with which the Southwestern Sheep and Goat Raisers Association co-operates, to raise a fund for a campaign to advertise wool, Mr. Nisbet said. Different proposals have been offered to that end, including a voluntary tax on each bag.

Manufacturers will be required to keep records showing the fabric content of goods placed on sale, which must be retained for at least three years. These records are to

KILLS DOVE IN A UNIQUE MANNER

Lyle F. Selko, Director of Oklahoma's Federal Aid to Wildlife, claims honors this month for killing a dove in the most unique manner. While hunting in a field near Oklahoma City, during the latter part of the season one dove which came down after a barrage from Selko's shotgun, was found to bear no evidence of a single shot having entered any part of its feathered anatomy.

Upon close examination Selko found the paper disc from the end of his shell had sliced into the bird's breast in as neat a manner as though cleaved by a knife! Now you tell one!

THINK GULF COAST IS JUST LONELY BEACHES

It's getting to be funny, the way some sportsmen look upon our golf coast region as pertaining to accommodations. Letter after letter comes into sporting authorities from those who have not visited certain sections of the coast, asking if they must go prepared to rough it! Many think that they're going to the far reaches of our frontiers when the head for little known sections of the golf coast region. The resort owners are constantly bombarded with these letters.

Genial Clara Dean, who owns the modern Gulf Beach Courts in Port Aransas, Texas, tells me that many people visit that fishing resort with the idea of a home run for rural electrification! THERMOMETERS ARE GUARDS OF HEALTH SAYS STATE DOCTOR

"One of the most potentially useful gadgets in the home during the winter months is the thermometer. Unfortunately, its possibilities as a health guardian are seldom realized by the general public," Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, declares.

In homes where the thermometer is used intelligently it becomes a valuable defense mechanism. As a preventer of colds and more serious respiratory diseases that have their origin directly and indirectly in overheated rooms, it can and does render valiant service.

A maintained superheated atmosphere causes one to perspire, however imperceptible the process may be. When suddenly exposed to icy blasts, the body in that condition is more vulnerable to attack from respiratory infective agents than normally. Moreover, the body softening consequences that arise from constantly living in unduly warm living quarters in themselves are demoralizing.

On the negative side of the question, the sense of comfort associated with excess heat is an invitation to underactivity which frequently is unwisely accepted. Thus, instead of taking a normal amount of exercise in the open during the winter months, fondness for the indoors becomes acute and "hugging the fire" routine. In this manner the actual life-and-zest-building possibilities that go hand in hand with cold weather are shunned, and positive health is less positive than it logically could be.

It is not recommended, of course, that one should adopt a Spartan attitude toward winter. It is merely suggested that exercise in the open in winter is a pleasant medium by which tone is added to one's physical condition. This objective is definitely minimized if the overworked chair and overheated living room are chosen as substitutes.

Both from the disease-preventive and health-developing standpoints, the thermometer should be kept within the safety limits of sixty-eight to seventy-two degrees. Were this rule generally observed, and exercise in the outdoors regularly taken, it is entirely possible that many persons who contract cold and more serious respiratory conditions during the winter season could sidestep them, and in addition feel healthier.

Roy Butler comes forward with a yarn that somewhat taxes imagination. The tale goes like this: A few years ago LeRoy and her team were hunting doves at town. LeRoy spotted a dove in a nearby tree and took shot. The dove neither flew nor fell so he fired again. Still nothing happened, so Parker tried aim. But the result was the same. Somewhat confused they left their weapons aside and walked over to the tree. Still the bird did not fly. LeRoy reached and shook a few limbs and their chagrin the bird fell to ground.

According to LeRoy—and he assures that Parker will bear him out—the bird was unscratched, shots having missed, but he was dead, however, the body was all warm.

The only possible solution this could offer is that the bird died of heart failure as the bullet whizzed by. But if that be the case, how did he stay aloft the way he did?
