SENATORIAL VOTE SATURDAY

INTEREST KEEN AS FOUR CANDIDATES CLOSE CAMPAIGNS

O'Daniel, Johnson, Mann And Dies Are Believed Bunched Out In Front Of Field

With the big four—O'Daniel, Johnson, Mann and Dies—firing their parting shots, a warm senatorial campaign for the seat of the late Morris Sheppard is approaching conclusion. More than 700,000 votes are likely to be polled in Texas, believe political observers.

Voting here will take place in the Cross Plains Motor Company, Inc., building. Hulian Barr will be presiding judge. Other judges and clerks are to be: Joe Weiler, Pat Allen, Edwin Baum, Jr., J. G. Sims, Mrs. John Westerman, Mrs. W. R. Wagner, Jr., and S. C. Barr.

State-wide polls of public opinion have placed first one and then another candidate out in front, however, always the race has been generally conceded as between only four of the 28 men whose names will appear on the ballot. More than 75 percent of the votes are expected to be divided by O'Daniel, Johnson, Mann and Dies.

SET REUNION DATE AT BAIRD SATURDAY

All who are interested in the reunion of Callahan county pioneers, held annually in August, are urged to meet Saturday afternoon in the courthouse at Baird to select a time and place for this year's event.

"This is a county-wide affair and representatives from all communities in the county should attend the meeting Saturday," said Roy Kendrick, president of the association.

LOCAL YOUNG PEOPLE ATTEND CHURCH MEET

Four Cross Plains young people, Wynola Thate, Jimmie Taylor, Paul Smith and Billy White, attended the annual Assembly of the Central Texas Conference held in Georgetown last week.

They made enthusiastic reports of the Assembly at the evening service last Sunday. They report that the Assembly is more than just a place to have a good time. The spiritual atmosphere was high and was such that the 333 young people present caught more of the spirit of Christ and returned to their homes more resolved to do his will.

Dr. J. N. R. Score, pastor First Methodist Church of Fort Worth was the Platform Speaker. The young people will not soon forget his great and challenging messages.

BAIRD PUTS CURFEW ON SALES OF BEER

Owners of all cafes holding beer permits in the Callahan county seat have agreed to a "curfew" prohibiting sale of beer every night from midnight to 6 a. m. and from midnight to noon on Sundays.

An agreement witnessed by J. W. Morrow Liquor Control board, and Sheriff C. R. Nordyke of Callahan county, said the action was taken "for the betterment of the public, the citizenship, for highway and traffic conditions, and for ourselves."

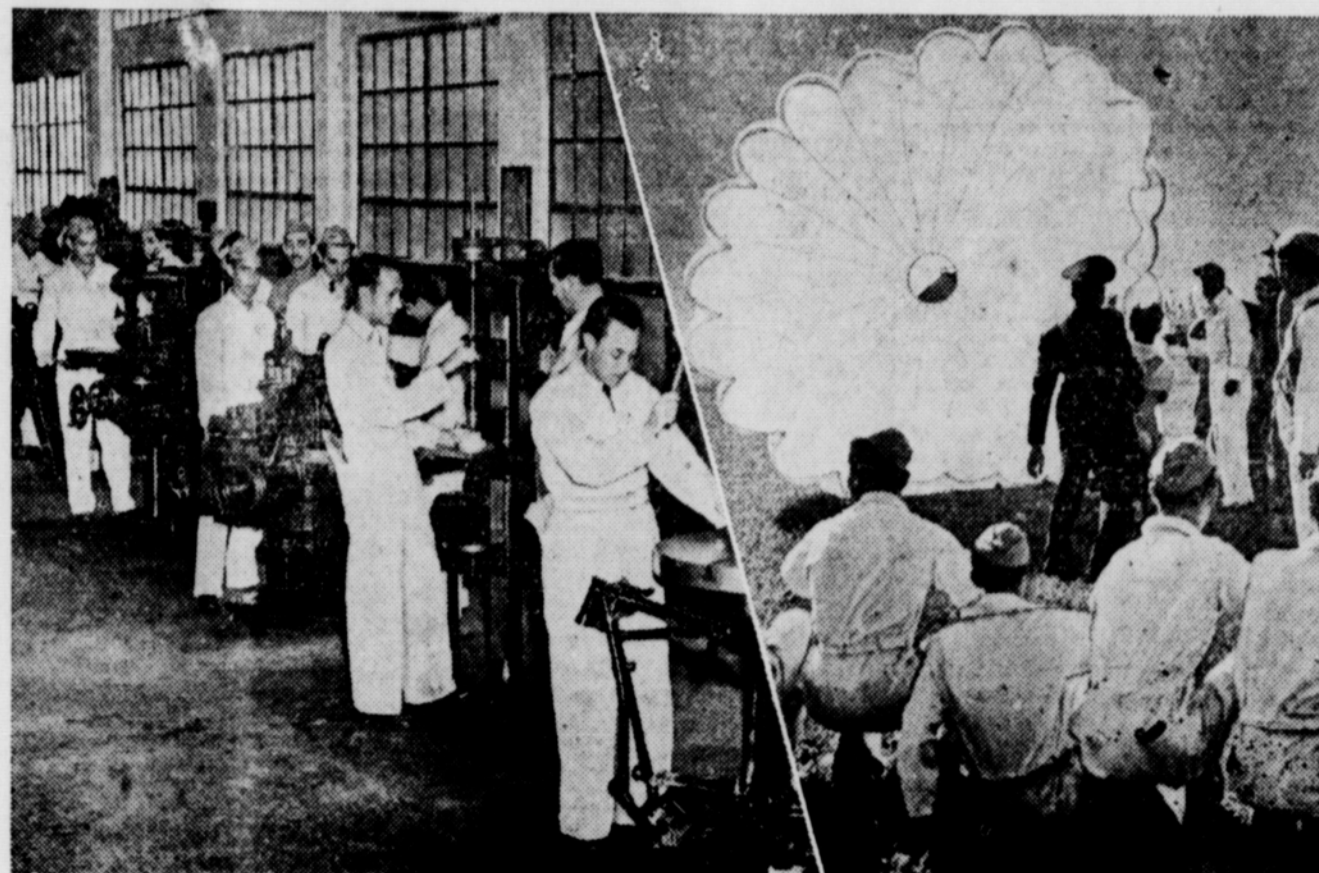

Sale of uncooled beer in sealed cases is not forbidden.

LOCAL GARAGE INSTALLS NEW MOTOR LABORATORY

Owen Renfro's Garage has been undergoing some improvements this week, with the installation of a new "Motor Lab". This new device gives the scientific diagnosis of all motor troubles. Other equipment will be installed in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Underwood of Gorman, visited Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Pierce Sunday.

Picnic Dates Conflict With Coleman Rodeo

BUT NO CHANGE TO BE MADE IN TIME OF EITHER EVENT

Picnic Officials Understood Coleman Rodeo Was To Be Second Week End In July

There will be no change in the dates of Cross Plains 60th annual Picnic and old timers reunion, scheduled July 10, 11 and 12, despite the fact that the celebration is on conflicting dates with the Coleman Rodeo.

"We did everything possible to avoid the conflict," says L. W. Tyson, city secretary. "We avoided the third week end in July due to the fact that this time the Coleman Rodeo Association had always chosen heretofore, and now a number of churches have scheduled their revival meetings at dates not to conflict with the Picnic. Too, the carnival has already been contracted for the second week end in July, so there can be no change," concluded Mr. Tyson.

As yet no plans have been mapped for an advertising tour in behalf of the Picnic, however, T. B. Wilson and C. C. Holdridge have announced that their committee will make these arrangements within the next few days.

Amateur entertainers who wish to compete for the $25. cash prize to be awarded by the Picnic committee are urged to contact Mr. Tyson as early as possible and make arrangements for their appearances. There will be no entry charge.

Carnival attractions at this year's celebration are reported to be the most elaborate ever seen in Cross Plains. The company engaged to play the Picnic has promised a number of new and novel rides in addition to a good assortment of clean, wholesome sideshows and interesting concessions.

Town Of Rowden And Cross Plains Getting Together

The little township of Rowden, its general store, is being moved about two miles South of the old location to the junction of highway 36 and the Rowden-Hill Side road. When highway 36 is opened for traffic the town of Rowden will be approximately 11 miles from Cross Plains, whereas the present distance is in the neighborhood of 18 miles.

Bill Taylor, postmaster and owner of the general store, secured permission from the postal department in Washington for the change of location.

Rowden's school was consolidated with Bayou several years ago.

LOCAL LEGION POST WINS MANY LAURELS

The Eugene Bell Post No. 82 of the American Legion received the lion's share of recognition at the district convention of the Seventeenth District held at Stephenville June 21 and 22. A beautifully engraved plaque was awarded the Callahan County post from the National Commander Milo J. Warner, and the presentation was made by Division Commander, C. J. Maisel. This was for percentage of increase in membership over the quota assigned to the post. The Larry Daniel Cup was also won by the post for the next year, and must be won three successive years to become permanent property. This cup also was for membership increase, as was a round trip railroad ticket to the National Convention which was awarded by George D. Barber, seventeenth district commander.

Several members of Post No. 82 attended and all report that the meeting was successful from every standpoint. W. J. Wisdom, athletic director of John Tarleton College, Stephenville, was elected district commander, and Pink Norrell of Breckenridge, was elected vice-commander, for the next two years.

CLARENCE B. EDINGTON HAS BIG WHEAT YIELD

One of the best wheat yields reported to date is that of Clarence Edington, who reaped 540 bushels off of 30 acres for an average of 18 bushels per acre. In addition to the yield, which was unusually good for this year in comparison with other fields throughout this vicinity, the quality of the Edington wheat was extremely high.

SCHOOL CONSOLIDATION VOTED HERE SATURDAY

Only one dissenting vote was polled in the election held Saturday to consolidate the Turkey Creek and Cross Plains school districts. The vote here was 19 to 0, and seven to one at Turkey Creek. The merger will increase the taxable rendition of the Cross Plains district by more than $50,000.

METHODIST LADIES TO SERVE LUNCH TUESDAY

Ladies of the Methodist church will serve luncheon Tuesday at noon in the basement of the church building. All who possibly can are urged to take this meal with the church ladies, the proceeds of which are to be used for church purposes.

H. A. YOUNG HOME FROM HOSPITAL; MUCH BETTER

H. A. Young returned home Tuesday from Cisco where he spent several days in a sanatorium recuperating from a slight attack of rheumatism. He was able to return to work Wednesday morning and reports feeling much better.

PIONEER BAPTISTS TO BEGIN MEETING

The annual revival meeting of the Pioneer Baptist church will begin Sunday, June 29. Services are to be held in the open air or if weather is favorable, if not the church building will be utilized, the Review is informed by Rev. D. A. Bryant, who is to lead the singing.

Rev. H. D. Christian, pastor of the First Baptist church at Rising Star, will preach each day at 11 a. m., and each evening at 8:15.

The vacation Bible school starts Monday morning, June 30, at 8:15 and will continue each morning during the revival. The booster band will meet in the evenings at eight o'clock. All children are invited to come and have part in these services.

"People of all denominations and those of no church connection at all, are urgently invited to attend all services of this revival and have a part in this crusade for Christ," the Rev. Bryant stated.

In Dallas recently police discovered a new method of robbery of homes. In one of the burglaries reported the lady of the house was called to the front door by a bill peddler supposedly passing out circulars, who engaged her in a trivial conversation while his accomplice had entered a rear door, which was not locked, and stole several items of value.

It would be well for all women to take notice of this new method of robbing homes and keep all screen doors locked at all times. Safety first, is a good motto.

WHEN ARMY PLANE HITS HOUSE, INSURANCE PAYS FOR REPAIRS TO STRUCTURE, ADJUSTERS TOLD

If an Army or Navy plane smashes into a private home, the Federal Government will pay for the damage through aviation insurance carried on all its ships, including training planes, C. S. (Dusty) Miller, Chicago, informed delegates to the National Association of Independent Insurance Adjusters convention recently.

Miller, member of a firm specializing in aviation insurance, said that this type of coverage is carried on 45,000 planes for which the Government is responsible, with more being added as the training program enlarges. The insurance also covers injury or death to others than occupants of a plane, and civilians employed as instructors.

Aviation hull damage coverage is a development of the oldest type of coverage known—marine insurance—said. The first aviation insurance policy was written by Lloyds of London about 1912.

"Many special problems are involved in aviation insurance," said

Miller, who was a flier during the World War. "There's a definite line between coverage for an airplane not in flight and one that is in flight. A plane is considered in flight from the time it starts its take-off run until it completes its return landing run."

"Aviation casualty claims are just as much variety as automobile claims. You will doubtless have cases referred to you where the pilot takes time out to look at his watch, figure a flight course or look for his best girl's house and suddenly finds himself running through a greenhouse at 300 miles an hour. Then you will find the malingering who claims the day after a rough trip that he suffered injuries, the same kind we have had since the days when the common complaints was known as 'rail-road spine.'"

"Air lines do not want to be drawn into litigation nor obtain undesirable publicity, but they favor justice. The air lines only expect a square deal from their insurance carrier."

CHINA INDUSTRY IS POSSIBILITY FOR TEXANS

In the search for industries that will provide payrolls for Texas, state chemists have been diligent in testing out every avenue that might lead to discoveries of uses for the great mineral deposits of one kind or another for which Texas is so well supplied.

Many tests have been made in the chemical laboratory, some proving worthwhile, others leading to dead ends, but finally the possibility of supplying losses caused from European war chaos has sent Texas searchers on a quest that seems fraught with great possibilities.

Possibility of a large scale Texas industry manufacturing fine chinaware looms in current research by University of Texas chemists.

The state school's bureau of industrial chemistry has just completed experiments proving that abundant volcanic ash deposits throughout Texas yield a porcelain china, as strong as ordinary china and of a whiteness unequalled for producing fine china.

"Our findings prove conclusively that the snowy whiteness of the baked products—demanded of all the better grades of chinaware—is of a higher quality than any on the market today," F. K. Peace, university ceramic research expert, declared.

Peace believed the bureau's discovery may open up commercial production of chinaware suitable for fine tables, or of products tough enough to stand army kitchen use.

SHORTAGE OF LINTERS

A shortage of American lintners, by-product of the cottonseed crushing industry, used largely in the manufacture of nitro-cellulose explosives, lacquers and plastics, is causing intensive research upon wood cellulose and similar substitutes. Wood cellulose is not as pure as cotton fibers and necessitates considerable extra chemical processing which adds to the cost. However, federal and private scientists report significant progress in purifying wood cellulose for use in explosives and this is likely to lead to important war defense industries in the South's piney woods.

1940 FARM INCOME WAS $10,352,000,000 — U. S.

WASHINGTON. — The Agriculture Department in a revised estimate places the 1940 gross income of farmers at $10,352,000,000, the highest since 1937. The figure was 5 per cent more than the 1939 total.

WAR SHUTS OFF AFRICAN WOODS FOR FURNITURE

ROCKFORD, Ill. — War in Europe threatens a shortage of walnut and mahogany furniture, according to Rockford furniture manufacturers.

An imminent dearth of mahogany in the United States, the furniture makers explain, is due to the lack of ships to transport the wood from South America to Africa, where it is produced.

The present supply of walnut has been seriously depleted by a large government order for use of the wood in the manufacture of gun stocks.

One manufacturer said that he had been lucky in receiving two shipments of mahogany recently but expressed doubt that he could obtain additional carloads.

Eighty per cent of the higher grade furniture made in the nation's furniture centers has been of mahogany. Fortunately for the furniture men, oak, birch and maple are easily adaptable to the light-finished and modernistic styles for which there is a decided trend.

A recent survey of one manufacturer revealed that one-third of the furniture makers were asking an increase of 2 to 5 per cent, one third was asking increases of 5 to 7 per cent, and the other third had made no increase.

Intellect Based on Chemistry

Scientists have found that the water balance of the brain is intimately bound up with the acid base equilibrium. The epileptic brain is an alkaline brain, it was discovered. Recent experiments at the University of Maryland indicate there is a 'chemistry of human intelligence.' It was further learned that the diabetic brain is an acid brain and, if not balanced by proper treatment, results in retarded mentation and stupor.

News From The AAA Office

By E. L. PIERSON, County Administrative Officer

Farmers with cotton in the government loan will receive full payment for their equities if the government should take title to the cotton.

This was emphatically pointed out today by E. L. Pierson, county AAA secretary, when he was advised by the United States Department of Agriculture that title will not be taken to loan cotton without prior public notice.

If the government should take title to loan cotton, the cotton producers would be paid any amounts by which (1) the redemption costs of their notes (which include principle, interest, and carrying charges on the pledged cotton) were exceeded by (2) a fair value for the cotton at the time, which would be determined by the Secretary of Agriculture on the basis of the then prevailing average market prices for cotton with reasonable allowances for differences in grades, staple lengths, and locations.

Don't be misled by false representations to the effect that the government will not give full value for cotton equities when and if it is necessary for the Commodity Credit Corporation to take title to the cotton.

The notes secured by 1938 crop cotton, the maturity date for which was extended to July 31, 1941, are not callable on demand. The notes secured by 1939 crop cotton matured on July 31, 1940. The notes secured by 1940 crop cotton do not mature until July 31, 1941, but they are callable for payment on demand at any time. It is possible that the government may find it desirable to take title on August 1, 1941, to any cotton remaining pledged to secure notes which are overdue at that time. In the event, however, that the government should take title to any of the stocks of loan cotton, at least ten days public notice of such action would be given by a press release.

If you have a wheat marketing card, you are free to dispose of your wheat in any way you wish. Under the AAA regulations, which went into effect with the approval by wheat growers of marketing quotas in the referendum May 31, wheat producers cannot obtain a marketing card until they have satisfied any claims the AAA might have against their wheat for production on excess acres.

Since this is true, then it naturally follows that a producer holding a card on his wheat can sell it, store it, or do whatever he wants to with it. This wheat is absolutely clear as far as the AAA is concerned and is eligible to move in the regular channels of trade.

Producers who do not clearly understand the operations of wheat marketing quotas should ask for fuller explanations at the county AAA office.

NEWS BRIEFS OF BYGONE DAYS

Little Squibs Gleaned From Files Of Review

May 30, 1921: Lightning struck W. H. Canterbury's residence in Pioneer Sunday night and it was in a mass of flames in a few minutes. Fred Canterbury, son of the owner, was living in the house with his family, and they narrowly escaped the flames which consumed the house and furniture. A hole was burnt in the sleeve of one of the children's night gowns and the arm was slightly burnt, otherwise the family escaped uninjured, but their clothing was lost, some of the family rushing from the burning house in their night clothes.

July 4, 1924: Raymond DeBusk, who on the fifth of last August broke his neck when he dived into a shallow pool of water near Burkett, has just been permitted to leave one of the local surgical institutions to return to his home in Cross Plains.

June 6, 1924: The Home Telephone Companies office building is being fixed up like an uptown office. A concrete walk has been laid in front, the front of the building stuccoed, the inside plastered, with new ceiling, new and up-to-date office arrangements, extra accommodations, additional fixtures, and other things, which, when completed, will be modern and attractive.

June 13, 1924: The Band Concert last Friday evening at 8 o'clock was attended by several hundred people. The concert was given on the streets, by the home band, and was a real treat. It is hoped that these occasions will be given frequently. Those who heard the concert Friday evening could not help from being proud of our band—in fact, all were, and many voiced their sentiments so declaring themselves.

June 20, 1924: The Phillips Petroleum Co., casing head plant on the Goch farm at Pioneer was badly damaged by fire Tuesday night. A blowout gasket in hot oil engine was caused of the fire which damaged the plant around $25,000 it is estimated. Heavy damage from loss of production will probably run the total loss to $50,000. The amount of damage is difficult to estimate accurately yet.

June 27, 1924: The Review, always trying to be conservative, stated last week that some wheat crops were estimated as high as 35 bushels per acre. But that figure was surpassed by several wheat growers west of town and Dressy and Cross Cut. Jim Miller's farm near Dressy produced 41 bushels of wheat and over 80 bushels of oats

A boy like this

Some day will be running Your Electrical Servant

WHO knows whose boy? ... Maybe yours. Or your neighbor's.

But he's somewhere in this neck of the woods... on some West Texas farm or in town... burning with the grand old American urge to "get ahead"... try his wings at running a business.

One day he will join this organization. As a clerical worker. Or a lineman. Or a helper in the power plant. Or perhaps a meter reader.

It doesn't matter what the job... he'll do it well. And he will climb. A boy like this... intelligent, clean-cut, strong, unafraid... asks only for the opportunity. There are plenty of opportunities with Your Electric Servant... opportunities to serve the people. This boy will win out without having to depend upon a temporary political or government job.

And (this is important) because this boy is of the people, he will know best how to serve the people.

DEFENSE BOND Quiz

Q. What is a U.S. Defense Savings Bond?
A. This Bond is proof that you have loaned money to the United States Government for national defense. Your Bond bears interest at the rate of 2 1/2 percent a year, if held to maturity (ten years).

Q. Why should I buy Defense Bonds?
A. Because money talks. To dictators it speaks defiance. To friends of freedom, it says, "Here's my hand!"

Q. What is the price of a Defense Savings Bond?
A. For the smallest Bond, you pay $18.75. The Bond will increase in value in ten years to $25. For $75, you get a Bond which will increase to $100; other Bonds are in proportion.

Q. What will the Government do with the money I pay for my Bond?
A. Your money will be put to work at once and safety of the United States, and of all its people everywhere.

Q. What happens if I suddenly need the money I put into a Defense Savings Bond?
A. You can cash your Bond at any time, after 90 days, for the full amount paid, plus any interest due you.

Q. Do many Bond owners cash their Bonds?
A. No. People want to help arm America against all attacks. In many cases, people are putting every cent they can spare into Defense Bonds and Stamps. Some are doing this by asking employers or bank to withhold part of their salaries in order to buy these Bonds or Stamps for them.

Q. What is the reason for buying a Defense Bond?
A. To keep America free. To show your faith and pride in your country. To warn foreign dictators that the United States is the strongest country in the world.

Q. But if I do not have enough money to buy a Defense Bond, what can I do?
A. Buy Defense Postal Stamps, on sale almost everywhere. Your post office, bank, department store or druggist has them, or can get them for you at 10 cents upward. Save enough Stamps to exchange for a Defense Bond.

Note.—To purchase Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office or bank, or write for information to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C.

"When statements about Alka-Seltzer are made over the air, please, please believe them."

Mrs. Oma Catherine Jones

MILLIONS suffer less from Headache, Acid Indigestion, Distress of Colds "Morning After" and Muscular Fatigue because they have heard—and believed—Alka-Seltzer radio announcements. To these millions, the relief obtained by the use of Alka-Seltzer is worth far more than the genuine enjoyment they get from the broadcasts.

The most important parts of our radio program, both to you and to us, are the commercial announcements. Once you have tried Alka-Seltzer we believe you will agree with us.

But try Alka-Seltzer because it is an unusually effective medicine not because you enjoy the radio programs.

WHY ALKA-SELTZER IS SO EFFECTIVE

The pain-relieving analgesic in Alka-Seltzer is in complete solution, ready to ease the distress as soon as you swallow it. The pain-relieving action is made more effective by alkaline buffers. The alkalinizing elements in Alka-Seltzer reduce excess stomach acidity.

Get Alka-Seltzer the next time you pass a drug store.

As Seen By LEXIE DEAN ROBERTSON

DEAR FRIENDS:

Sunday morning after the maid had drawn back the curtains I looked out my window at a bright sunshiny day. Miss Spence's famous school for girls, directly opposite my windows was as quietly dignified as a prim old maid unfolding a napkin. . . . In all the days I lived across from this private school for the privileged . . . girl babies must be entered on its sacred rolls at birth in order to gain admission. . . . I never saw one single person enter or leave the building, although I did see the small girls of our household ready to go over one morning. My hostess, her daughters and now her grand daughters were all educated in this most exclusive of America's schools; diagonally across was the austere door of the mansion of Mrs. Carnegie, and I could see the broad way of Fifth Avenue where taxis and limousines were scurrying past and fashionably dressed persons were walking to church. Beyond lay Central Park with the sun shining on the frozen pools and outlining the stark limbs of barren trees. Our block was a one-way street, so the only cars driving on our block were destined to stop either at our place or Mrs. Carnegie's or at one other house next to us, so except when we had parties it was very quiet. . . . This quietness was a definite surprise since I had thought the much-publicized "Roar of Manhattan" would penetrate even the most reserved districts. My own house—especially in the fall when the gin on the next block is running and trucks loaded with cotton continuously rumble by, is much more noisy.

At noon we were having a luncheon so that I might meet the closest friends of my hostess and especially honoring the 80th birthday of her dearest friend, a Mrs. H formerly of Alabama. Luncheon was served in the small dining room to about ten guests besides the four small grand-daughters and their nurse. Mrs. H. thought that this would be an occasion for them to remember always: the Texas poet, Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, and Mrs. H's 80th birthday! The lunch began with canapet of sardines and grated egg, served with heart-shaped biscuit, then roast beef and potatoes—the potatoes were almost always cut in small round balls and then fried very crisp on the outside—one or two other vegetables were passed then a cheese souffle as a single course. The dessert was ice cream in individual molds and slices of the huge and elaborately decorated birthday cake which had been made by Mrs. H's own chef. During luncheon she had the children repeat in concert my small poem, "If I Speak" which they did charmingly in their delightful English accent and then she asked me to sketch my own life so that her guests must have realized as I did how amazing it was that a country poet accustomed to washing her own dishes should be an honored guest in a fabulous household. Mrs. Andrew Carnegie who sat at my left was the only one of the guests whose name was already familiar to me. . . . though one member of the Dodge family was also present. Mrs. Carnegie is a plump almost unwrinkled, rather small person whom one would never point out as the owner of one of America's largest fortunes. She is as sweet and unassuming and gracious as one could possibly be and exemplified, as did all of the famous wealthy persons whom I met, something that my mother has taught me from childhood, that persons who are truly great whether from riches, education, or breeding are ALWAYS unassuming and gracious and are especially kind to those who in any way are less fortunate than themselves. I couldn't help contrasting so many of the social climbers I have met who were snobbish or braggarts or both with these quiet, well-bred persons who were born with the proverbial silver spoon and whose place in New York's social register has belonged to their families for generations.

Mrs. H. gave a copy of "I Keep A Rainbow" to Mrs. Carnegie as a souvenir of the occasion and she was as pleased as a child when I offered to autograph it for her. She said she never would have had the courage to ask me to write in it for her since she knew that some poets were very reluctant to give autographs, but as for me, the excitement of my being actually in the process of signing a book for Mrs. Andrew Carnegie was a supreme delight! Here I may say that Mrs. Carnegie invited me twice to tea with her and since my return home she has sent me a beautiful book written by her husband. Her words of praise for my poems that she wrote in a note to my hostess are the most flattering I have had.

Immediately after lunch Mrs. DeSage-Smith, Mrs. E. and I went down for a glimpse at the Metropolitan Museum. We had time for only a few pictures and a glance at the Egyptian Rooms. The ancient beaded head-dresses of the Pharaoh princesses and the exquisite scarabs fascinated me more than the mummies, although one of the old tombs with its winding narrow passage and peephole window has been transported and set up complete. Time was limited because I was to return in time for four o'clock church with Mrs. H. We went around the corner to the Church of Heavenly Rest which is on Fifth Avenue and adjoins Mrs. Carnegie's garden.

The Bishop of Albany delivered the sermon which was on a world-wide radio hook-up that afternoon. He spoke to us of the necessity of showing the same spirit of loyalty to our own country and to God. Everybody was well dressed—most of the men in morning coats and silk hats. If you tuned in that day maybe you heard me singing "Faith of Our Fathers" as lustily as any of the mink coats or high hats!

Going home we stopped in at Mrs. Carnegie's. When the butler said that Mrs. Carnegie was resting in her boudoir preceding a concert she was to attend Mrs. H. refused to allow him to announce us but told him that she would just show me the house anyway. (I thought that was a nice homey touch for here we think nothing of popping into friends houses in the absence of the mistress.) The butler was a slender genteel young man and he thanked Mrs. H. for some reading matter she had sent him previously. He left us to our own devices but remained within call, so we had a leisurely exploration of the huge art gallery with its collection of old masters, the conservatory with its lush green and the rare flowers blooming in mid-winter. . . . the conservatory opens off one of the drawing rooms, the great library the pipe organ, the dining room with its huge table where the mistress dines alone in state, and the library where I would have liked to browse indefinitely. In the library the big table was literally crowded with autographed photographs of all the crowned heads of Europe and many other were friends to the great philanthropist. One of the things I loved was the small cage with its stuffed nightingale which sings charmingly and naturally when a button is pressed. I remember reading years ago an article in a magazine which mentioned this as one of the rarest and most expensive of Mr. C's collection of antiques. I believe some king presented it to him. The butler offered to show us more of the house but it was nearing the dinner hour so we dashed across the street home.

After dinner we went down town to the evening service at Calvary Church; this is another Episcopal church though Mrs. H. is a Presbyterian. Dr. Shoemaker ministers and the church was packed and jammed with people. As we went in each person was presented with a small candle. The minister spoke upon God's love lighting up the world and at the end of the sermon lights were extinguished and the vestrymen with lighted candles walked down each aisle and lit the candle of the candle of the person next them, then down all the rows each person lighted his neighbor's candle in a most beautiful and impressive ceremony. After church everybody shook hands and stood around and talked just as we do in Rising Star and I felt quite at home being almost the last one out.

Everybody I met in New York was so sincere and wholesome and deeply religious that I couldn't help smiling at the warnings my mother had given me before I left home. . . . to remember if wines were served at meals it was quite proper to turn down my glass as a sign of temperance and that if bridge was played to decline as they prob-

RAILWAY LABOR UNION WOULD 900 Million A YEAR

THE labor unions have made their demands upon the railways of the United States—and through the railways upon the PUBLIC. These demands are vastly larger in proportion than any they have ever made. The economical and efficient operation of the railways is vital to the nation's defense effort. Therefore, the Western Railways present to the public the following facts:

The labor unions representing engineers, firemen, conductors, brakemen and switchmen are demanding a 30 per cent increase in wages, amounting to 190 million dollars a year—although their present rates of pay are the highest in history.

Other unions representing a greater number of railway employees are demanding wage increases ranging as high as 95 per cent—averaging 47 per cent—and amounting to 580 million dollars a year—although their present rates of pay also are the highest in history.

Thus the wage increases being demanded by the labor unions amount to 770 million dollars a year, an average increase in excess of 41 per cent.

"Names make news":

When praised for his generosity in accepting an invitation to speak, District Judge Bascom Gist of Tyler replied: "There are two classes of people—those that make speeches and those that listen to them. I would rather make a speech than have to listen to one."

One of the most faithful readers of this column each week is former District Judge Ralph Yarborough of Austin. Recently, he told me, "Your column two weeks ago was the best you've ever written." To which your columnist replied, "Thanks very much; by the way, all the things in that particular column were clipped from others papers and credited to them; I didn't write a line of it." And then you should have seen the judge turn a delicate shade of pink and try to explain away his remark.

A young man (according to a story I hear) stepped out of a taxi-cab in front of a hotel in Lubbock and remarked to the driver, "I'll have to a check cashed; I'll be right back; my name is Marvin Brown and I'm the district attorney from Fort Worth." The taxidriver drawled, "Yeah, and my name is Thomas E. Dewey and I'm the district attorney from New York and I'll just go along with you." The "fare" grinned and they went in together and the hotel cashier cashed the check because the chap really was District Attorney Marvin Brown!

Few years back, your columnist wrote a book, "Were you in Ranger?" and because Amon Carter had made it possible for me to eat regularly during the depression by providing me with a job on the news staff, the first copy off the press was presented to him. Recently when my newest, "Oil Boom" came out, the publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram received a book with this inscription, "The No.

1 copy off the press is presented to the No. 1 Texan."

An Oklahoma editor published two pictures, one of a dilapidated house and the other of an eroded field, and invited his readers to take part in a "You Write the Story" contest. Here is the prize-winning letter, written by an Indian:

Both pictures show white man crazy. Make big teepee. Plow hill. Water wash; wind blow soil. Grass gone, land gone, door gone, window gone; whole place gone to—Buck gone. Squaw, too. Papoose gone. No pig, no corn, no cow, no hay, no pony.

Indian no plow land. Keep grass. Buffalo eat. Indian eat Buffalo. Hide make teepee, make moccasins. Indian no make terrace, no build dam, no give d—All time eat. No hunt job, no hitch-hike, no ask relief. No shoot pig. Great Spirit make grass. Indian no waste anything. Indian no work. White man heap loco.

Nevada Boom Days

Theme Of Liberty

Film Next Sunday

Nevada is the land of ghost cities. It is dotted with the ruins of towns that used to be. These were the mining camps of the early sixties—camps that grew up over night into thriving cities and died just as quickly.

Greatest of them all was Virginia City, with its shooting and murders, its fabulous wealth and newborn aristocracy. The pic-turetization of its colorful history in

Warner Bros.' "Virginia City," starring Errol Flynn and Miriam

Hopkins and showing at the Liberty Sunday and Monday, revives

one of the most glowing chapters in American history.

Crime roared through the country like a West Indian hurricane,

during the early days of Virginia

City. Stages were held up on the highways. Miners were robbed and then brutally murdered. Law and order? Why, west of Dodge City, there was no LAW! The Divide, that strip of land between Virginia

City and Gold Hill, was the Hell's

Kitchen of the West. In fact it was nothing for a would-be Jesse

James to hold up three or four men in succession if they were thoughtless enough to happen along one at a time.

The Comstock Lode and Bonanza are names that are always symbolic of great wealth—and they certainly should be. At a time when Virginia

City's mines kept thirty mills busy,

the total gold and silver production went over the billion dollar mark.

Although Virginia City was perched on the side of a mountain and isolated in the middle of the desert, it had a six story hotel constructed of stone and steel. It was called the International and you didn't have to climb up six flights of stairs if you lived on the top floor because it had elevators—the first elevators in Nevada.

Virginia City can boast of its

Gay White Way, its Opera and its celebrities; they all appeared at one time or another in the historic

Old Piper's Opera House which has become one of Virginia City's fondest memories. Its rickety frame is still standing.

With all its wealth, its murders and bad men, the heyday of Virginia City is the most glorious and robust period in western history, and in Warner Bros.' epic film, "Virginia City", it comes to vivid life once again.

RAILWAY LABOR UNION DEMANDS WOULD COST 900 Million Dollars A YEAR

THE labor unions have made their demands upon the railways of the United States—and through the railways upon the PUBLIC. These demands are vastly larger in proportion than any they have ever made. The economical and efficient operation of the railways is vital to the nation's defense effort. Therefore, the Western Railways present to the public the following facts:

The labor unions representing engineers, firemen, conductors, brakemen and switchmen are demanding a 30 per cent increase in wages, amounting to 190 million dollars a year—although their present rates of pay are the highest in history.

Other unions representing a greater number of railway employees are demanding wage increases ranging as high as 95 per cent—averaging 47 per cent—and amounting to 580 million dollars a year—although their present rates of pay also are the highest in history.

Thus the wage increases being demanded by the labor unions amount to 770 million dollars a year, an average increase in excess of 41 per cent.

In addition, certain of these labor unions have demanded advances in their pay not included in the above figures, and more rules for the creation of unnecessary jobs.

The situation, then, is this: The total cost of complying with all the demands made would be approximately 900 million dollars a year!

The average weekly earnings of railway employees are now 15 per cent higher than in the peak year 1929, while the cost of living is 12 per cent less.

The demands of the railway labor unions are being made when the entire nation has just been asked to make a supreme effort for National Defense.

The railways cannot meet these demands without a great increase in the cost of transportation. They exceed by more than 700 million dollars the income that the railways had left after paying their annual expenses, taxes and charges in 1940.

The railways have a vitally important job before them. They need all their resources to continue adequately to serve you and contribute effectively toward the National Defense Program.

HIGH-SPEED LIVING IS TELLING IN LIVES OF AMERICAN PEOPLE

"The term speed-up repeatedly is heard these days in connection with defense production. Under the present international pressure the speed with this defense units can be manufactured in this country is almost phenomenal. However, an acceleration in mass production of war and allied material is one thing and the persistent high-speed living indulged in by many thousands is a different matter," states Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer. "Hard work in itself is seldom harmful. The physical and mental breakdowns, which in ever increasing numbers are being brought to the attention of physicians, usually occur in men and women who are far removed from the exactions of an assembly line. The recruits for shattered nerves are generally from those who do not lead physically strenuous lives. Habits which tend to deplete plus misdirected use of leisure time represent the background for the majority of physical and mental cracks. In many cases, where the consequences are less pronounced, supreme vitality has surrounded to false conceptions of the value of high-pressure practices upon which nature frowns.

"This speed-up results in habitual robbing one's self of the required amount of sleep each night, which demands the stimulation of the excessive use of stimulants of any kind, which involves whipping up the nerves by constant excitement, and which consequently refuses to recognize the reconstructive and health-building advantages of outdoor exercise and relaxation, can and frequently does end in serious and sometimes in permanent physical trouble. It is a scientific fact that over-living man's capacity is a definite predicate for high blood pressure and other ills of advanced life. That these effects of ill-advised living usually take time to assert themselves definitely, perhaps is one of the real reasons for many persons to continue half-blissfully on their merry way.

"Quite aside from the personal responsibility to one's self in the development and maintenance of maximum health is the added obligation in these uncertain days to conserve physical resources for what ever may be ahead. "It follows that, however proud the United States and "Texas may be of its high speed productive capacity, there is a patriotic duty for everyone to review his or her customary daily life, discover if any of the habitual speedy practices are affecting one's maximum health possibilities, and eliminate those which violate nature's basic laws.

ARMY LIFE IS GOOD TRAINING, FIANCES

By RUTH MILLETT Her fiance's army training may postpone a girl's marriage for a year—but look what a superior husband she is going to have, once the army gets through with him. She won't have to get up and shut off the alarm clock, close the windows and then spend half an hour trying to get the family's breadwinners awake. In that valuable army year, he certainly will have learned to get out of bed without being dragged out. Her cooking will go over big, since whatever she whips up will be compared to quantity-cooked army meals, instead of to his fond mama's pies and fried chicken.

She won't have to go around picking up after her husband. He'll be over the habit of stewing his clothes all over the floor—and leaving them there to be picked up by somebody else.

She'll find that her husband really appreciates her taking care of his clothes, darning his socks, etc.—instead of taking it for granted, since there has been an interlude in his life when he had to do it himself.

Won't Have to Train Him

She'll have a man who won't dare complain that he's getting fallen arches from being dragged up one side of Main street and down another to window shop. She won't have to keep her hands on the family purse strings because her husband doesn't know the value of money. Any man who has lived on a private's pay for a year will have a good idea of the value of money.

She'll get a man who won't complain that she hogs more than her part of the closet space. Whatever he gets will seem luxurious after life in an army tent.

She may have to wait a while to get him—but when she does, she'll find Uncle Sam has done a lot of training she won't have to do.

Mrs. G. B. Millner and Mrs. H. A. Witt, of Rising Star, visited friends here Wednesday.

NOSES OUT JOHNSON BY 1,095 VOTES IN POLITICAL HISTORY

"Coke" Stevenson Will Take Governorship As W. Leo Leaves For Washington

Governor O'Daniel wound up his third and by far most harrowing political campaign late Tuesday by finishing his neck-and-neck race for the United States Senate against Congressman Lyndon Johnson with a plurality of 1,095 votes.

This was shown by the final compilation of the votes made by the Texas Election Bureau. The report showed the following totals: O'Daniel, 175,398; Johnson, 174,273; Attorney General Mann, 149,853; Congressman Martin Dies, 89,091.

These totals accounted for vote in Saturday's special election of 571,095.

R. L. Johnson, bureau manager, announced that the final figures were based on complete returns from all of the 257 counties in the State, including 177 which were received by mail and checked against earlier reports which had been received by telegraph and telephone.

Official returns are still to be received by mail from 77 other counties, and these are to be checked against the figures already tabulated.

Johnson does not anticipate that this checking will make any material change in the result, and does not contemplate that any further totals will be issued.

Lieutenant Governor "Coke" Stevenson will succeed to the Governorship, replacing O'Daniel, when the Governor resigns as the chief executive of Texas to go to Washington.
