Mercury Has Dropped To Low As 11 Degrees; Dry Snow Falls Here First Of Week

Cross Plains rounded out a full week of sub-freezing weather yesterday as this section was gripped in an old fashioned "blue blizzard" Lowest temperature recorded was Monday morning when the mercury nose-dived to 11 degrees in unprotected spots. Only precipitation of the cold spell was Sunday when a very light and very dry snow fell here. It netted less than .01 of an inch and his home in Cisco, moving was blown off by an icy North wind. om Childress where he had Damages reported by the extreme emporarily assigned as as- cold weather have been negligible, only a very few homes reporting e he has many friends here, bursted pipes. # We're In It Let's Win It!

Every citizen of the United States can and should do his part.

HERE ARE SOME FOOD FACTS:

The President of the United States says, "There is enough food for all of us and enough left over to send to those who are fighting on the same side with us."

There is no occasion for fear of food shortages or runaway prices due to the declaration of war with Japan, Germany and Italy.

Adequate supplies of all necessary foods are available to meet normal needs in addition to supplying our Consumers buying more than normal requirements create a false demand with temporary dislocations in supply and price.

WE PLEDGE-

1. To maintain efficient, economical food distribution;

2. To avoid speculation and unjustified price increases;

3. To maintain stocks of dependable quality foods and to advise customers of substitutes should temporary shortages develop;

4. To cooperate with Government, producers, and consumers.

What You As A Consumer Can Do-

1. Buy the same quantities you usually buy. 2. Disregard rumors, which may be spread by agitators or enemy agents.

3. Reduce waste to a minimum.

4. Cooperate with local Civilian Defense Committees.
