Jimmie Lusk Writes To Wife From Hawaii

Navy Yard, Pearl Harbor, Honolulu, T. H., December 23, 1941

My Dearest Frances,

It is almost Christmas Eve. Seems funny, one year ago today I left San Diego for home. They can't a year change everything up a bit.

Everything is going along smoothly. Time passes fast. Seems like only yesterday we were in a rip-roaring good fight, and it has been almost three weeks. Honey, you like to have become a young widow very abruptly. We were right in the middle of what you read about and heard so much about.

From Sunday morning when I got out of bed, I never lay down again until Tuesday morning and most of the boys went longer than that.

Here is how it looked to me. One of my pals came and woke me up and asked me if I was going to chow. I told him to get out and let me alone. Then he looked out the door and said you better get up because the Japs are here. He was just joking. There were several planes diving toward us. So, I decided if I thought it was a practice air raid, I had better get up and get outside. We stepped out of the shack just in time to see about eight or ten planes pull out of their dives and lay their eggs. We were about 75 or 100 yards from their target, I guess. I think the third plane that dived was shot and burst into flames. It fell on the tennis court and slid into some small buildings. Some of the boys grabbed fire extinguishers and put out the fire real quick.

I looked up just in time to see another plane explode. He was in a dive, a shell probably hit his bombs, because he blew into a million bits. All this was happening in just a few seconds. It was hard to realize what was happening. Several planes swept over strafing, but luckily none were hit. In less than five minutes we all had our rifles out and were fighting back with everything we had. We got organized pretty quick and everyone took place and there were so very few casualties in our outfit. I am certainly proud to be in an outfit that carried on as this one did.

Tell Pop he should have been here. He helped me out once when I got over matched. Ha. We sure had a busy day. Honey you have never had a funny feeling until you see a strafe coming in your direction at 250 miles an hour. We did not run and we did not have time to pray. We shot them right out of the sky. They came wave after wave. There was so much smoke, sometimes they broke through on you before you knew which way they were coming. You would not believe it if I told you how many rounds of ammunition I fired, so I won't tell you, and I never fired near as many as some of the boys did, because I had to help carry some of the ammunition out on the field. Well, in all it was a thriller and quite an experience.

Let me hear from you as soon as possible.

I Love You,
JIMMIE LUSK

Off-Hand Observations

Christmas was observed by fewer people last year of 1941 than ever before since Jesus Christ, the Savior of the world, came. The reason, of course, is that the world is at war. It is a world of sorrow and distress over present conditions brought on by evil men. Christmas is dedicated to peace and the world today knows very little peace—the peace of good-will toward men.

When the Savior of men left this world He said, "My peace I leave with you," and after those almost two thousand years have passed we find ourselves in a terrible war of hatred and turmoil which surpasses any condition the world has ever known. The peace which was left with us has been trampled under foot and disordered.

The teaching of peace and good will should be taught in our homes, schools and other institutions and until this has been done and accepted by the world, war or the continual threat of war will be with us.

During these troublous times our thoughts and energies should be directed toward the winning of the war and in all things be faithful, loyal and patriotic. A good motto would be, "Our country, right or wrong. When right to be kept right; when wrong to be put right." If each and all would adopt this motto and work accordingly we would find that it will take us a long way toward that peace so much needed and longed for today.

One of our exchanges has announced that Texas ranks high in the purchase of Defense Savings Bonds. On November the first our status was seventh from the highest and we had purchased up to that time $26,768,000 worth of bonds. The amount runs much higher by this time we feel sure. At that time the states that ranked ahead of Texas were New York, Pennsylvania, California, Ohio, Illinois and New Jersey. New York ranked the highest!

The Federal loan administrator, Jesse Jones, has announced that arrangements have been completed for the United States to purchase the entire sugar cane crop of Cuba for 1942. No reason was given for the purpose of such a contract but it would only be reasonable to suppose that it was made to insure our country against a shortage of sugar and probably to help Cuba in her economic situation.

It is noble of men to think of

With the fats and oil situation giving this country considerable worry rural families with cooking fats available can save by making soap at home.

For cooking small batches of soap, emmeled or granite ware is suitable and for larger batches an iron kettle may be used. When the stir method is used crockery is suitable. Strong lye solution will attack copper, zinc and tin to a certain extent. Never use aluminum utensils. A large granite or wooden spoon is best for stirring.

The four ingredients of soap are lye, water, fat and perfume. Lye should be pure and uniform, and if possible soft water should be used since it will improve the quality of the soap. The fat should be clean and light yellow in color or white and if soap is made clean fat it will be very light in color. Care must be taken in collecting fats. Burnt or dirty grease is not of use in that state; but if not badly burnt it can be clarified by melting, straining, then frying a few small pieces of potato in it. Clarify the fat as it accumulates and keep it in tin cans, well covered until a sufficient quantity is on hand. But fats and

To these millions, the relief obtained by the use of Alka-Seltzer is worth far more than the genuine enjoyment they get from the broadcast.

The most important parts of our radio program, both to you and to us, are the commercial announcements. Once you have tried Alka-Seltzer we believe you will agree with us.

What To Do In An Air Raid

OFFICIAL—U. S. OFFICE OF CIVILIAN DEFENSE

- 1. Above all, keep cool. Don't lose your head. 2. Do not crowd the streets; avoid chaos, prevent disorder and havoc. 3. Don't believe rumors—spreading false rumors is part of the enemy's technique. 4. Air raid warning signals generally are short blasts or rising and falling pitch, or whistles or horns. The all clear is a steady tone for two minutes. 5. If an incendiary bomb falls, cover it with sand, or spray it with a garden hose (never a splash or stream!). Switch to a stream to put out any fire started by the bomb. Switch back to a spray for the bomb. A jet, splash, stream or bucket of water will make bomb explode. 6. Under raid conditions, keep a bathtub and buckets full of water for the use of the fire department in case water mains are broken. 7. If you have a soda-and-acid extinguisher (the kind you turn upside down), use it with your finger over the nozzle to make a spray. Don't use the chemical kind (small cylinders of liquid) on bombs. It is all right for ordinary fires. 8. Should gas be used, go at once to the most "inside" room in your house (fewest doors and windows). Paste paper over glass. Stuff rags in window cracks and under doors. 9. Choose one member of the family to be the home air raid warden, who will remember all the rules and what to do. 10. Whether or not a blackout is ordered during a raid, put out all lights at once. 11. If a light inside the home is necessary, use rugs, blankets, porters, over-drapes, or curtains, arranged in double thickness over your windows. Don't crowd or stampede stores for special material. Be ingenious—improvise. 12. During a raid, remember to shut off gas stoves, gas furnaces, and gas pilot lights. 13. If bombs start to fall near you, lie down, you will feel the blast least that way, escape fragments and splinters. The safest place is under a good stout table—the stronger the legs the better. 14. Above all, keep calm. Stay home. Put out lights. Lie down. Stay away from windows.

Home Making Hints

With the fats and oil situation giving this country considerable worry rural families with cooking fats available can save by making soap at home.

For cooking small batches of soap, enameled or granite ware is suitable and for larger batches an iron kettle may be used. When the stir method is used crockery is suitable. Strong lye solution will attack copper, zinc and tin to a certain extent. Never use aluminum utensils. A large granite or wooden spoon is best for stirring.

The four ingredients of soap are lye, water, fat and perfume. Lye should be pure and uniform, and if possible soft water should be used since it will improve the quality of the soap. The fat should be clean and light yellow in color or white and if soap is made clean fat will be very light in color. Care must be taken in collecting fats. Burnt or dirty grease is not of use in that state; but if not badly burnt it can be clarified by melting, straining, then frying a few small pieces of potato in it. Clarify the fat as it accumulates and keep it in tin cans, well covered until a sufficient quantity is on hand. But fats and oil must be washed free of salt. Rancid greases may be purified by boiling with a solution of one part of vinegar to five parts of water. Allow it to cool, then skim off the cleaned grease. If rancid greases are employed, one of the boiling processes of soap making will give best results.

Scents such as oil of citronella, bergamot, oil of lavender, geranium or saffron may be added as to perfume the soap, thus destroying the odor of the fat used.

Soap may be molded in the pan in which it is made, but it is better to pour into a mold. Wooden boxes or pasteboard boxes lined with a damp cloth make very good molds.

It is easier to cut the soap after removing it from the mold. A more satisfactory cut can be made with a fine wire or a string rather than with a knife.

Soap should cure at least four weeks before using. This allows it to dry out better so it will not wash away so rapidly. It would even be better to have it six months old before using. The older soap is the better. Soaps made by the boiling process require longer aging before they become hard and ready for use.

Recipes Hard Soap: 6 pounds melted (but not heated) fat. 1 can (13 oz.) lye dissolved in 2 quarts water.

Melt fat gently to a liquid, strain through two or three thicknesses of cheese-cloth. Mix the lye and water, and stir to dissolve lumps, then cool to lukewarm before adding the melted (but not hot) fat. In a fine stream add the fat, which should be at the creamy consistency, and keep stirring continuously until the whole mixture is thick and light colored. Pour quickly into shallow pasteboard boxes or dripping pans which have been lined with damp cloth. When firm and nearly cold, cut into bars or squares. Pack the soap with open spaces between and allow it to dry at least a month before using. If dried thoroughly before using, it "spends" better.

White Floating Soap: 6 pounds strained fat 1 and 1-2 gallons water. 1 can (13 oz.) lye. Dissolve the lye in one-half quarts water. Pour one and one-half gallons water into an old porcelain or enameled boiler, add the fat and then the lye. Allow the mixture to boil slowly for about 2 and 1-2 hours to 3 hours. The soap is ready to skim out when it becomes flaky, and the liquid looks clear. Test the soap. If it sticks on the hand when squeezed and has a greasy appearance the soap would be improved with a little more lye; if it is too flaky, more fat is needed. Line a wooden box with a piece of wet cloth. Skim out the soap and place in the lined box to drain over night (10 to 12 hours. Next morning cut into bars, dry, pack and store. The liquid left can be used for scrubbing.

Toilet Soap: For a good toilet soap use four and one-half pounds of olive oil, cottonseed oil, or coconut oil, one and one-half pounds of lard, one can (13 oz) lye, two quarts water, and six drops oil of lavender and oil of geranium. If desired the soap may be tinted with vegetable coloring.

Combine the melted lard and oil with the lye and water solution and stir until it is the consistency of Brown—That's terrible! Who will teach his Sunday School class? A teacher asked little Willie, "Why aren't you writing your composition?"

He said, "I ain't got no pencil." She exclaimed, "Such grammar. You should say I have no pencil; he has no pencil; we have no pencils."

"Well," Willie yelled, "who the h—has got all the pencils?" Interesting fellows, these writing guys:

Mark Twain wrote in bed. O. Henry wrote in prison. Francis Scott Key wrote "The Star-Spangled Banner" on the back of an envelope while he was being held prisoner during a battle in the War of 1812. Sidney Lanier wrote "Sunrise" while he had a high fever in his last illness. Dr. Johnson wrote "Rasselas" to pay the funeral expenses of his mother. Poe sold "The Raven" for $20.

honey, then it is ready to mold. Regardless of what recipe is used some general precautions are necessary. Excess lye forms a hard crumbly soap. Greasy soap indicates lack of lye. Hard vigorous stirring will cause separation of the lye and fat in the cold processes. Stir slowly and evenly.

Los Angeles Girds Itself for All-Out War

With the U. S. and Japan fighting so close to home, maneuvers of Los Angeles Women's Ambulance and Defense corps turned into a public morale-building review. At left you see a demonstration of a gas mask drill, and rescue of a victim during a mock gas attack. Picture at right shows an anti-aircraft gun crew.

News From The AAA Office

Dairy cows left to shiver and shake in the cold and wet of the open field during winter have little reserve remaining with which to make milk, says E.R. Eudaly, dairyman of the A. and M. College Extension Service. An open shed facing south will keep cows dry and warm, and anything which adds to their comfort adds milk to the bucket. National defense, Eudaly adds, justifies every precaution to prevent a drop in milk production this winter.

Dairy cows also need plenty of hay, bundle feed, straw or other dry roughages, and if possible, some silage. The more roughage a cow eats the less grain mixture is required. As a cow on dry feed puts about one-fifth of the water she drinks into the milk bucket, sufficient for her needs should be provided. It is desirable to warm the water during cold, bad weather.

Cows cannot maintain good production without an adequate supply of Vitamin A, which is obtained from green feed, even though the ration is perfectly balanced as to protein, carbohydrates, mineral and water. When getting more than they need, cows can store enough vitamin A to last 50 to 90 days, depending upon the amount of milk they are producing. This is an important reason why they need out or some other green pasture during the winter.

Eudaly says that farmers who have no hay containing some green or silage, can supply their cows with enough vitamin A to maintain production by feeding one pound of alfalfa leaf meal daily, four lbs. of peagreen alfalfa hay, or any other peagreen hay daily, or six pounds of yellow variety sweet potatoes.

As most of the roughage furnished to cows in Texas is low in protein, grain mixtures will have to be high in that element in order to supply the amount needed. Protein is the only element in feed which stimulates milk production. Cows getting sorghum cane hay, Johnson 37 ss hay, grain sorghum bundles, bermuda grass hay, prairie grass or other hays should be fed a grain mixture which will analyze 21 to 22 per cent protein, depending upon the quality of the hay. Further information may be had by writing to the Extension Service.

Texas farmers will exceed the minimum goal of 17 percent increase over 1941 set by the Texas USA defense board for hog production in 1942, according to E. M. Hegonbrecht, swine husbandson of the A. and M. College Extension Service. "The woods and the plains literally are turning to pigs," he adds.

Available figures indicate that the increase in production from the 19-41 fall Texas pig crop will be about 15 per cent over this year's spring farrowing. The increase for 1942 applies to the spring farrowing as compared with the corresponding period of 1941.

The outlook for hog prices for 1942 is good, the specialist says. The slight drop in prices in the latter part of October was seasonal and temporary.

Regendbrecht suggests as a means of increasing production the saving of a high percentage of the 1941 fall farrowed pigs by giving them good care and good feeding. As further steps toward increasing production, he suggests:

Fast feeding of the 1941 fall farrowed pigs on a good balanced ration for economical gains. Fast feeding also will ready the pigs for home butchering before warm weather.

Breeding all available gilts and sows for spring farrowing. In many instances additional gilts of better breeding should be bought.

Providing better equipment and pasture to care for spring farrowed pigs.

Feeding pregnant sows on good balanced rations in order to develop large litters of strong pigs. Avoid getting brood sows too fat.

Fast feeding of 1942 spring farrowed pigs on good balanced rations so they will reach market in September when prices usually are highest.

Rebreeding sows so they will farrow again in the fall of 1942. Improved swine stock for breeding has sold freely over the state, but there still is good stock available, Regendbrecht says. More than 800 registered sow pigs and 106 boars were bought by Texas 4-H Club boys in 1941. Hog production is expanding more rapidly in West Texas because of the large amount of feed available.

"Roll Your Own" May Be Common Practice Soon

A hike in the cost of "ready-rolled" cigarettes possibly will not affect West Texans as much as it will the pocketbook of the folks in the Eastern states.

Price Administrator Leon Henderson recently froze manufacturers' prices at levels prevailing December 26, but his move was not fast enough to catch several brands which jumped in some towns as much as two cents more a package.

The reason this town and others in this section will not notice the increase is because a large percentage of the smokers would rather roll by hand the five-cent tobacco than to buy cigarettes already rolled and out in packages.

SALLY QUILTERS MEET WITH MRS. SWAFFORD THURSDAY AFTERNOON

The Sally Quilt Club met Thursday afternoon, January 8, in the home of Mrs. Mamie Swafford. The hostess had only one quilt to be quilted.

All members were urged to attend this important meeting, as they were to decide whether to continue the quilt club or to spend their time every Thursday knitting and sewing for the Red Cross. Everyone is invited to attend the meeting of the Sally Quilt Club and help for a worthy cause.

About Diamonds

It is necessary to remove and examine four tons of ore to recover one carat of diamond. Only one carat in four obtained proves suitable for fine jewelry.

Better Chance

Blood poisoning sufferers have twice as much chance of recovery today as they did six years ago, due to remedies of sulfanilamide chemicals.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

There will be no change in the regular services of the church, the Sunday School, and other organizations of the church except the one change mentioned below. The Church of America Faces A Task, In Our Age, Comparable With The Government Itself. We will fail—of course—to get the masses to see this truth. The Lingualgi's and Wheelers—the leaders of the Fifth column in the Church—Will Not See The Fearful Responsibilities that are thrust upon us. There Are Those Who Are Loyal to the army of Jesus Christ. To them we make the appeal to stand firm as we face our common task.

For several years we have been devoting one service each Sunday to a study of Prophecy. This will be continued for several months. Many from other Churches have been coming to these Bible lessons, on each Sunday night at 7 o'clock. They do not want to miss the services at their own Church. They have asked us to have these Bible lessons at a time when they would not have to miss their own services. In compliance with this request hereafter the Bible lessons will be each Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock instead of 7 o'clock.

The lesson next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock will be the Rapture of the Church. If you are interested in Future History we would be glad to have you meet with us in these Bible Studies. We have the Future History of the World Written in the Bible. That Future history is what we are studying.

Our Sky Fighters in the Pacific

R. D. Williams Was Lucky Not To Have Visited Longer

R. D. Williams was visiting with his mother, Mrs. R. D. Williams, Sr. one night last week and while he was visiting, he left his car out in front of the house and when he came out of the house to return he saw some one run from the car, but did not think anything of it and after getting in the car he pulled the door to and his radio fell out on the floor. He stated that every bolt and nut had been taken from the radio and all the thief would have had to have done to have grabbed it and run, evidently Mr. Williams scared him until he forgot that it was ready to be taken off and made his getaway.

Saturday Morning Coldest Weather For The Winter

This past week has been the coldest weather of the season, the Mercury dropping to 17 Friday morning and rising during the day to turn down again Friday night reaching a low of 17 again. The coldest spell to date showed a reading from about 28 to 28 with very little ice. Not much damage reported from the freeze yet, only a few reports of bursted pipes and possibly a few radiators where they were not protected.

Cotton Ginned In Callahan County 4,206 Bales, 1941

The United States census report shows that 4,206 bales of cotton were ginned in Callahan County prior to December 15th, from the 1941 crop, as compared with 4,144 bales for the 1940 crop to same date. This is only 62 bales over last years crop. Figuring an average of 80 dollars per bale for the cotton and the seed it would equal an income of about $340,000 from the cotton crop in this county.

Callahan County Oil Producers To Get 3 Cts. Advance

The OPM authorized a raise in the price of oil in a number of counties on December the 11th, and was immediately posted by major companies for oil purchased in the counties of Archer, Baylor, Brown, Callahan, Clay, Coleman, Cook, Eastland, Foard, Jack, Montague, Palo Pinto, Shackelford, Stephens, Wichita, Wilbarger and Young.

Through an oversight a price increase was not effective in six West Texas Counties where the Humble Oil and Refining Company is the principal purchaser. The Humble schedule was only partially covered by the OPM authorization, and the Humble company apparently did not care to raise the price in some of the counties and not in those not effected by the OPM ruling.

Loran, it is remembered, got into a law enforcement business simply by accident. A bunch of "yeggs" spotted his service station here a number of years ago, and like the mouse Mr. Norfleet of Hale Center, Loran stopped his business and began to track down the culprits. Then he had finished, his goods were recovered, the hoodlums apprehended and a good job waiting.
