WEEK NEARER VICTORY

will likely be many years because it will have the opportunity to be a more spectacular basketball game than the one between Cross Plains and Abilene teams in the gymnasium last Thursday night. Although coach Leo Robbins' boys lost, the contest was without its laurels from a local point of view. The fans agreed that the game was the most exciting ever in the gymnasium. The offensive play of Brooks and Oliver Robbins left the county people awe-stricken. Norman Moore, Neal Strahan, Coleman Pillans turned in defensive roles, as did Bob for the one quarter that he extra periods were needed to the regular game tie and the verdict was finally reached, officials and spectators near exhaustion. It was that of a game, and the one scheduled OWN gymnasium Friday will possibly be a near duplicate.

while we're on the subject of basketball, it seems only fitting that a brief rebuttal be made to complimentary remarks of Green, sports writer in Abilene Morning News concerning Cross Plains gymnasium. It is a barn, inferred that the gym is quite small, etc. Actually the Cross Plains "field" possesses a court virtually as large as that of Abilene. It will host as many people and in relation to the size of the schools is as imposing edifice, in the Abilene play, to Abilene, who is yet in the primer as far as sports writers go, has never seen a Cross Plains team of any kind play out of Abilene, no one here seems to know anything about it. He in his column Sunday morning, however, that he might concede to come down for the game Friday night just to see how the Abilene team did in their "own little gymnasium."

Cross Plains is to have a special election January 26 to choose for the post. At least one candidate, C. S. Martin, resigned. As column was written no candidate had definitely offered themselves for the post. At least one, however, were being prominently mentioned.

to the fact that the referendum is to be held in January, the grace period ends for tax paying, persons holding year's poll tax receipts will less be eligible to cast vote in the election.

matulations are in order to Mrs. Cox, big brother and egg over the Okra way, who will for his bride Saturday the comely Miss Rosa Van one of the most charming of the old home town.

Survivors include the husband and six children: Olan, L. L. and Earl Montgomery, all of Cross Plains; Claude Montgomery, of Corpus Christi, and Mrs. C. D. Westerman and Mrs. J. D. Conlee, both of this city, as well as a number of grand-children, relatives and a great host of friends.

A comprehensive account of the funeral and obituary, which were not available as the Review came off the press Thursday morning at nine o'clock, will be published in next week's issue of this newspaper.

Tuesday morning was the coldest time of the current winter in Cross Plains. Thermometers registered as low as three above zero, 29 degrees below freezing. Adding to the perplexity for townsmen was the fact that there was no natural gas for fires until nearly 9:30. The interruption in service was caused by the freezing of a line between the city gate and the wells which supply the municipal system.

Abilene Eagles Invade 'Gym' Here Friday Night

CROSS PLAINS AND ABILENE HAVE HOT RIVALRY UNDERWAY

Neither Team Has Ever Lost On Its Own Court; Eagles Plan To Change The Rule

A basketball feud which has been growing in intensity for the past three years will come up for settlement here Friday night at eight o'clock when the Cross Plains Buffaloes clash with the Abilene Eagles on the hardwoods of the local gymnasium. In three years of spirited rivalry neither team has lost on its own court and never has the margin of victory been more than one field goal.

The Eagles, who play most of their schedule in their own gymnasium, were a bit reluctant to agree to meet the Cross Plains outfit in the gymnasium here, probably due to the unpleasant remembrance of the defeat suffered two years ago and possibly because of the slurring description given the Cross Plains gymnasium by Howard Green, sport writer for the Abilene Morning News. Green referred to the Cross Plains gym as a "barn" and intimated that its surroundings are far beneath the dignity of the Abilene youths.

The Cross Plains and Abilene teams met Thursday night in what has since been described the most exciting game ever seen in the Abilene high school gymnasium. Cross Plains was leading by two points with only seconds left to play. Dub Winkles, Eagle forward, sank a basket as the game ended to throw the contest into a tie with the teams knotted at 29 to 29. A three minute play off period was agreed on to settle the dispute. At the end of the "extra inning," however the teams were still tied. Another extra period followed but the score remained knotted when it too had ended. In the third extra (Continued on back page)

Mrs. L. D. Montgomery, about 65, died in a Coleman hospital Thursday morning, shortly after four o'clock, following an illness of about 10 days. She suffered a stroke of paralysis at her home two miles Northeast of town on Sunday morning, January 10. Her condition had grown steadily worse since that time.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete as the Review went to press early Thursday morning, however, it was expected that the services would be held here Friday afternoon and that burial would be in the local cemetery.

Survivors include the husband and six children: Olan, L. L. and Earl Montgomery, all of Cross Plains; Claude Montgomery, of Corpus Christi, and Mrs. C. D. Westerman and Mrs. J. D. Conlee, both of this city, as well as a number of grand-children, relatives and a great host of friends.

TEXAS STATE DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH GIVES HEALTH SUGGESTIONS

The appearance of scattered cases of poliomyelitis in one or two Texas communities has resulted in considerable apprehension and a request for the closing of certain schools.

According to the State Health Department closing schools has very little effect on the control of this disease. In a community recently studied, there were 22 cases reported, only nine of which were of school age, and these nine represented several different schools.

To inform the public on the best procedure to follow when poliomyelitis is suspected, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued the following statement.

"All suspected cases should be reported immediately to the county health officer and isolated for a minimum of 14 days. Concurrent and terminal disinfection should be employed as in typhoid. It might be well to hospitalize the patient and good medical care is imperative."

"Except for the attendant, members of the family should stay away from the patient. The wage earner, unless employed with food handling, should be free to continue his work. Preschool children in the family should be greatly restricted if not entirely excluded from community activity."

"School children should be observed daily for signs of upper respiratory infection or fever. Upon the appearance of such symptoms, they should be excluded from school until a definite diagnosis is made. Children as well as adults should avoid overactivity to the point of fatigue. Maintain nutrition at the best possible level and be sure to get plenty of fresh air and sunshine."

HEALTH NOTES

The human heart pumps approximately 50 gallons of blood every hour with no vacations, no days off, no sleep, and rest except between beats, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who says that since the heart has such a tremendous task to perform, it deserves your whole-hearted cooperation.

In order to give your heart every possible assistance in its performance of this amazing task, Dr. Cox suggests the following rules for keeping the heart healthy:

Go to your doctor at least once a year for examination and then follow his advice.

After a serious illness have your doctor give your heart a thorough examination and then return to active life carefully and slowly as possible. This will give your heart sufficient time to rest and recuperate from the unusual strain of a severe illness.

Go to your dentist regularly and do not neglect infected teeth or tonsils.

Keep your weight near the average for a person of your age, sex and height.

Be sure that your diet is well balanced and be careful not to overeat.

Do not take headache medicines without consulting your doctor. Many so-called headache cures contain drugs that are injurious to the heart.

Ask your doctor about the use of tobacco and stimulants. Live a well rounded life, exercising regularly without overtaxing yourself.

Enemies are friends you make the mistake of losing.

Carson County, Texas, is underlain by the largest natural gas field in the world, which supplies such northern industrial centers as St. Louis, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Denver and Chicago.

Accident? Coincidence? Maybe—The scene was the Weatherford Old Timers' reunion out at Hollanda Lake back in 1932. It was well along in the afternoon of the third and final day and the crowds were thinning out.

Your columnist was there to write up the events for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. D. B. Greene, staff photographer, remarked: "We'd better get one more picture of a couple of pioneers."

Soon I saw an old gentleman in picturesque attire and he agreed to wait until I could find someone else to pose with him.

The camera clicked and, with poised pencil, I asked the first man his name. When he replied, the other exclaimed: "Don't you know me? I thought you might be here and I came especially to see you. I've been looking for you all three days and was just leaving the grounds."

"The first pioneer peered and then said, 'Why, it's Joe! I've been hunting for you, too.'"

And they embraced happily — long-headed friends who had moved to distant scenes and had not seen each other in a dozen years and might never have met this side of glory had they not been brought together by a newspaper reporter who had picked them at random out of a throng of hundreds.

Coincidence? Accident? Maybe—but I like to think that a kind Destiny smiled and pulled the strings.

Thoughts as the new legislature begins its work: Texas citizens believe that winning the war comes ahead of everything else but, subject only to that consideration, they favor maintaining our public schools and the State's humanitarian program, including old age assistance.

They favor doing away with unnecessary State jobs and, by means of this and other economies, maintain essential functions of government without new taxes or increases in present taxes as the people need all their income possible in order to pay for the war.

There is stronger sentiment than ever for doing something about loan sharks, who are preying not only on the general public but on war workers and soldiers and sailors. A Constitutional amendment as the remedy is receiving support.

There should be a Constitutional amendment providing that, if a man is eligible to vote in Texas, he does not lose that right if he puts on the uniform when his country is at war.

Brief and to the point: The Chairman's definition of an automobile—No pusher, no shove but no like helter.

Orthodoxy: my doxy. Heterodoxy: your doxy.

The remark of a wit to a cadaverous, gloomy-looking individual: "How much would you charge to haunt a house?"

After Napoleon had put an enemy to death, someone declared, "It was a crime." Talleyrand, the master diplomat, replied, "It was worse than a crime—it was a blunder."

The Old Jalopy Going Into Scrap Metal

The worn-out automobile has been a roadside eyesore in America. Now it is a military asset. It is going to war in new steel for our fighting men. Those who do not understand this, should. It is the eye of the jalopy.

This most motorized of nations had for years the problem of disposing in some decent way of its old cars. Some were abandoned by the wayside where the gasoline god flung them in wreckage against stone walls or telephone poles, or overturned them in ditches.

The disgusted drivers of others, unable to make them go any more, just left them where they gave their last carburetor cough, and walked or hitch-hiked away.

All this committed mayhem on the scenery, and out of it grew the automobile graveyards, cluttered with the millionaire's town car and the college boy's jeep. There were a few dollars to be made out of the sale of parts and tires, which kept other cars going a little longer.

Then war came along, and the flow speeded up. It reached a rate of about 150,000 tons a month.

America entered the war, and the flow speeded still more. In June 1942, 453,000 tons of iron and steel scrap were moved out of some 22,000 auto graveyards scattered over the face of the nation.

That is an answer to those who say the worn-out and wrecked cars are just lying there, tons of them, when people are asked to contribute their modest amounts of scrap metal to the war effort.

The June yield of 453,000 tons, matched with a like amount of new pig iron, means new steel production at the rate of nearly 9,000,000 tons a year.

The country cannot get along without those 9,000,000 tons of new steel. Therefore, it cannot get along without the auto graveyards. It is as simple as that.

The auto graveyards await; beyond them, the steel furnaces and the armament plants; and beyond them, America's fighting men. The jalopy has a destiny today.

Have you a jalopy?—Providence, Rhode Island Bulletin.

SHARING MEAT AT BUTCHERING TIME

Butchering time has arrived and farmers are asking how to comply with the Share-the-Meat program when they have excess quantities of fresh meat.

Roy W. Snyder, animal industries specialist for the A. and M. College Extension Service, suggests in answer to this question.

First, he says, stagger butchering of hogs. Instead of butchering two or three at one time, butcher one, then wait a few weeks to butcher another.

Second, share fresh meat with neighbors at butchering time. Families can "take turn about" in butchering, trading meat between them.

Third, cure hams, shoulders, bacon and loins. Can the sausages. This leaves the spareribs, head and feet the only meat to be consumed at the time of butchering. The other parts of the animal such as the heart, liver, and tongue are not included in the weekly sharing allowance. Mr. Snyder says similar management should be followed when a family butchers beef, veal, and mutton.

Finally, the specialist says: "If these suggestions cannot be followed, farmers may find it necessary to consume larger quantities of meat in any one week, but the average of two one-half pounds per adult should be maintained throughout the year. The important thing is: Don't waste meat and don't eat more than your share."

Small Joe came close and sniffed the delicious smoke, wringing all over with early-morning joy.

NEWS BRIEFS OF BYGONE DAYS

Little Squibs Gleaned From Files Of Review

June 27, 1924: Editing a newspaper is a most respectable job, and preaching. The gospel truth must be presented in the form of generalization, or some fellow will get hit and howl, says a recent writer. Few persons like the truth, even in homopathic doses. If it hits them, But while preachers and editors are criticized for what they say, no one thinks of giving them credit for what they do not say.

GOOD FALL PASTURE PRACTICE THIS WINTER

Spreading barnyard manure before cold weather becomes the order of the day for good pasture improvement, says R. Lancaster of the A. and M. Extension Service staff. A complete procedure is guarding against overgrazing. "Pastures, if reasonably well cared for, are the cheapest and most abundant source of food for our cattle," says Lancaster.

One cannot build a church out of stones or boards or bricks. With that material one can only build the building where the church may meet. DELINQUENT DRAFTEES WATCHED BY THE FBI

The FBI has promised vigorous action against men listed as Selective Service delinquents unless they report promptly to their local boards, it was announced recently by Gen. H. W. Watt Page, state selective service officer. Gen. Page said these men would be allowed to comply with their obligations if they report during January. He pointed out that investigation often revealed that registrants had merely been careless in failing to report changes of address.

PLENTY OF BREAD— BUT WHERE'S KNIFE?

Four thousand, two hundred loaves of bread a week to slice and not a knife in the house. That is the problem which has Lou Ella Elver, director of the Houston public school lunchrooms worried to end, because soon there'll be no more bakery-sliced bread. "If we can find enough knives our next question will be to find enough persons to help with the job of hand slicing 4200 loaves a week," Miss Elver said.

PRICE CEILING ON FEED TO BE EFFECTIVE SOON

Price ceiling on mixed feeds will be a reality within the next few weeks, the Office of Price Administration this week advised stock farmers of Callahan and nearby counties. Described as "another step toward keeping costs of things which the livestock and poultry farmer must purchase," the order will provide a $2.50 margin over the processor's price for wholesalers and a $5.50 margin over the wholesaler's price for retailers.
