Broncs Lose Close Game to Canadian

A highly spirited Broncho eleven journeyed to the north last Friday night where they lost a very close game to the Canadian Wildcats. The total score was 20 to 13 but the Broncs were ahead in everything except the scoring. They led throughout the game on first downs, penetrations, yards gained on both the ground and in the air and also in penalties. It was a bad break near the end of the game that set up the winning tally for the Wildcats. A strong wind blowing out of the south allowed Thornberry's punt to travel but only one yard with the ball going out of bounds on the 11 yard line; previously the Broncs had received a 15 yard penalty setting them back to the 10 yard line. The Broncs got a bad deal just before the half ended when they were on the goal line and the officials used up time for a possible score play.

The Broncs were inside the Canadian 20 yard line on five occasions other than the two times they scored. Myers started the scoring in the game when he skirted left end early in the first quarter for 80 yards and the 6 points. Canadian came back and tied the score up in the third quarter. The Broncs took the lead again early in the fourth quarter when Myers went over from the 9 yard line. Canadian's next score was set up by a punt return which carried them to the Broncs 18 yard line and over on the next play. Their extra point was no good, so this evening everything up again. It was just a few plays later that the wind caught Thornberry's punt and then Canadian went ahead 20 to 13.

The entire Bronco squad played a very good game. The line held good on defense and opened nice holes when the Broncs were on the offense. McNabb made an unusual play toward the end of the first quarter when he went through a hole in the line and tackled the Wildcat punter before he had time to even start to get his kick off. It was a good game all the way through and the Broncs displayed more of their true ability.

The Broncs will rest this week with an open date. Thursday, Nov. 7th they will journey to Panhandle for another conference engagement.

Ken Davis Wins Fight In 1st Round

Ken Davis displayed grand style Tuesday night when he stepped into the ring and floored his opponent Jimmie Rivera of Nuevo Laredo, Mexico in 1:20 of the first round. Ken had planned to try to put his opponent away before the end of the ten rounds but it came sooner than expected when he got Rivera off balance and caught him with a right cross to the chin. Fans really wanted to see more action as they hadn't had an opportunity to see him fight since he turned pro but were well satisfied with the outcome, knowing that any fighter is going to take advantage of his opportunities when they arise.

Over a thousand fans were on hand to see the fights and were well pleased with the entire show. Armond Goetter, Kens team mate in the Marines, pleased the fans in his fight. Davis and Goetter are both managed by Bill Bentley of Clarendon.

Results of the other fights were: Dick Bradford, 152 of Wichita Falls, TKO'd Bob Riley, 155, of Dallas in third round; Chico Delgado, 133, of Victoria, dec. Manny Camrillo, 128, of Mexico City; Gilbert Delgarza, 146, San Antonio, knocked out Chick Howard, 144, Dallas, in the fifth round; Armond Goetter, 135, Los Angeles, knocked out Johnny Levitt, 135, San Antonio, in the fifth round.

Vet In Hospital

Veterans of all wars are faced with the possibility of seeing this type of head line less frequently. As veterans county service officer, I feel that it is my duty to inform all veterans as to what they can expect in the way of hospitalization in the future.

Under the present set up, you cannot be admitted to any Veterans Administration Hospital unless you have a service connected disability, and it must be an emergency. Since space will not permit me to go into detail, I deem it necessary to call a meeting of all veterans in Donley County, to be held in the court room of the Court House in Clarendon, Texas, on Monday, November 3rd, for the purpose of discussing this and other matters pertaining to the veterans program. Warning was sounded about three years ago that this very thing might happen, but it became a reality last Thursday.

If you want to find out how much truth there is in this article, I would suggest you try to get in the hospital. If you want to help do something about it, be at the court house next Monday night at 7:30. The axe is due to be applied to compensation and pensions next. If all this meets with your approval, just forget about the meeting.

Clarendon To Have Drive-in Theatre

Mr. Lee Bell, manager of the H. Mulkey Estate, announced this week that acreage had been purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Bryson just north of the overpass on Highway 70, which will be used for construction of a modern Drive-in Theatre.

Two Killed When Cars Collide

A two-car collision three miles west of town on highway 287 last Wednesday night claimed the lives of a local man and a Borger woman.

Guy M. Durant, son-in-law of Mrs. Elmo Lane of Clarendon, was killed instantly at about 7:45 when the car he was driving collided with one driven by Ernest Lee Butts of Borger. Butts' wife died at 9:08 in a Memphis hospital of injuries received in the accident. Butts received severe chest injuries, head and face lacerations, a concussion and broken knees. His condition is reported as improved at this time.

Eugene Johnson, a youth living about 4 miles northwest of town, had caught a ride with Durant just before the accident occurred. He received only minor injuries. Both cars were almost demolished with the car driven by Butts striking the Durant car in the side. Officers reported that Durant was apparently attempting a turn on the highway when the accident happened.

Jr. High Colts Down Skellytown 33-14

The Clarendon Jr. High Colts overpowered a larger Skellytown team to win by a score of 33 to 14, last Thursday night in their last game of the season. The visiting team was unable to penetrate the strong Colt line. The linemen putting up this defense was Davis, Pittman, Carter, Baten, DeBord, Trussell and Phillee.

The Colts scored first on a 60 yard run by Jimmy Phillee. The next tally was set up on a pass from John Payne to Davis covering 65 yards. Phillee went over from the 2 yard line. The Colts scored next on a 5 yard run by Phillee, leading 20-0 at the half.

The Colts took time off at the half to crown their Jr. High Queen, Miss Charlotte Wilson. Her attendants were Montye Imbordina and Jeanie McNear.

The Colts came roaring back in the third quarter and scored on a 40 yard pass and run from John Payne to Donnie Davis. Chester Mann scored next making the score 33-0. Coach C. R. Brown tapered the game off by using around fifty boys which included 2nd, 3rd and 4th stringers, and it was against those little fellows that Skellytown was able to score their two touchdowns.

In finishing up their season, the Colts came out with a record of three wins, one tie and one loss.

Mrs. Clampitt, wife of the late D. W. Clampitt, was a native of Iowa, having been born in that state July 24, 1856. She and Mr. Clampitt had lived in Russell, Kansas and Loveland, Colorado before coming to Clarendon in 1908. The couple farmed west of Clarendon for several years finally moving into Clarendon where Mr. Clampitt was a building contractor.

Next Tuesday Is Election Day

Very few should have to be reminded that next Tuesday is General Election day but some voters are to be reminded of the importance of casting that individual vote. It may be the deciding vote in electing our next President. No one else can vote for you. You and you alone should exercise this American privilege.

The vote this year is expected to exceed previous voting records and the outcome may be very close. Many Texas voters are expected to vote a split ballot. Walker Lane, county clerk, reports a total of 68 absentee ballots cast to date. Those who plan to be away from home next Tuesday are reminded that they can still cast an absentee ballot thru Saturday, Nov. 1st.

Voting hours will be from 8 A. M. till 7 P. M., so be sure and go vote before the closing hour.

Write-in Votes And Procedure

In view of the recent opinion of the Attorney General of Texas upholding the validity of write-in votes in the Presidential-Vice Presidential race, the following instructions were given by Jack Ross, Secretary of State:

1. In election boxes using printed (paper) ballots rather than voting machines, it is ega for the voter to vote for president and vice presidential candidates by writing their names in the "write-in" column or in any other column.

For instance, the voter can vote for "Eisenhower and Nixon" in the Democratic column by striking out the names of Stevenson and Sparkman and writing in "Eisenhower and Nixon." By the same token the voter may vote for Stevenson and Sparkman by writing their names in some other column other than the Democratic column.

2. All write-in votes for President and Vice-President will be counted, regardless of whether the names are written in the "write-in" column or some other column.

3. Only the last names of the candidates are required to be written for "write-in" votes, and they do not need to be correctly spelled. If the intention of the voter can be ascertained from the spelling of the name, it is sufficient.

For instance, a write-in vote for "Stephenson and Sparkmen" will be counted for Adlai E. Stevenson and John J. Sparkman. Likewise a vote for "Izenhower and Nixen" should be counted for Dwight D. Eisenhower and Richard M. Nixon.

4. Write-in votes for President and Vice-President will be counted for the presidential electors of the particular candidate written in regardless of what Party column they are written in.

Double-Barred Cross Marks Golden Anniversary

AUSTIN — A modest symbol which sparked a world crusade marked its golden anniversary last week.

The red Double-Barred Cross, familiar trademark of the Christmas Seal, was adopted October 23, 1902 as the emblem of the global war on tuberculosis at the first international conference on the disease when representatives of 20 nations met in Berlin to join forces against mankind's greatest killer.

Patterned after the historic Cross of Lorraine, the Double-Barred Cross was adopted in 1906 as official emblem of the National Tuberculosis Association and in 1920 was registered as its trademark, the Texas Tuberculosis Association reminded today.

Texans, who by their purchase of Christmas Seals since 1909 have supported the TB Associations' fight against the disease, will see the copyright on the 1952 Seals which will be mailed them November 17, TTA officials said.

"When the first Christmas Seal sale was held in Texas in 1909, TB was taking a greater toll of human life in this state than all other diseases," Miss Pansy Nichols, executive secretary, commented. "Since then the tuberculosis death rate has been forced down steadily, but each year it kills more Texans than any other infectious disease, striking hardest at young people from 15 to 35 where it leads as the cause of death.

"The heart-breaking tragedy lies in the needless waste," she continued, "waste of human life, waste of economic resources. Tuberculosis is costing Texans more than $17,000,000 a year. It took 1,962 lives in the state last year. Yet, it is a preventable disease which can be controlled and eventually wiped out."

The 1952 Christmas Seal features the flaming emblem lighted by a glowing candle against a background of green. It is the one appeal annually of the Tuberculosis Associations in Texas for the TB control program.

Newberry - Wood Nuptials Solemnized

Nuptial vows were solemnized recently in the First Baptist Church of Kamay for Melba Newberry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Newberry, and A/1c Gerald C. Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Wood of Claude.

Rev. J. D. McDaniel, pastor, read the double-ring service. Baskets of white gladioli and greenery decorated the altar.

As a nuptial prelude, Miss Doris Newberry, sister of the bride, played "O Promise Me." Miss Vivian Newberry, also a sister of the bride, sang "Because" and "With This Ring I Thee Wed." The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional.

Attending the bride as maid of honor, Miss Laverne Tonne of San Angelo wore a royal blue moire taffeta dress, styled with a scalloped neckline, three-quarter length sleeves and ballerina length skirt. Her headress was a half circle of yellow chrysanthemums and she carried a nosegay of matching chrysanthemums.

Robert Gene Lee of Happy was his cousin's best man.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a ballerina length gown of white cutwork organza over white satin, designed with a fitted bodice, scalloped neckline, long sleeves terminating in petal points and full skirt. Her tiered elbow length veil fell from a white satin bonnet embroidered with seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a purple orchid and showered with satin streamers knotted with white rosebuds. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Newberry, mother of the bride, wore a navy crepe dress with red accessories and a corsage of red carnations. Mrs. Wood, mother of the bridegroom, wore a purple crepe suit with pink and black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The couple is at home at 1913 Grant, Wichita Falls. For traveling, the bride wore a gray flannel suit with pink and black accessories and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Wood was graduated from

The instructions state that all bales are to be taken as they are come to regardless of broken bales. Some one has to take the broken bales so take your part of them and don't make it so hard on your neighbor.

The hay is arriving a little faster now so it shouldn't be too long before a lot of the orders will be filled. To date we have received 157 tons. Orders have been sent off for over 1,197 tons of all kinds of hay.

1953 ACP PROGRAM:

CHEST X-RAYS GAIN POPULARITY

Ten years ago, a chest X-ray for the apparently well person was almost unknown, says the Texas Tuberculosis Association, but in 1951, at least 746,536 Texans were X-rayed in surveys conducted by the State Health Department and by TB associations.

STRETHOSCOPE DISCOVERED BY ACCIDENT

In 1819 a young girl lay in Necker hospital in Paris, stricken by some heart disorder. As a 38-year-old doctor, Rene Theophile Laennec, leaned close trying to listen to the sounds of her heart blanketed under corpulent flesh, she shrank from him in confused modesty. Baffled, he turned from the patient to walk in the hospital grounds while he pondered the case.

His attention was drawn to a group of children at play. Some were tapping at one end of a hollow log while others at the opposite end listened in delight. Dr. Laennec sped back to his patient, rolled a piece of paper into a tight cylinder and putting one end of the tube against her chest heard clear and distinct the telling heartbeats and respiratory sounds of the chest. Thus was the modern stethoscope born.

Later that year he published one of the classics of medical literature on diagnosis of chest diseases. Yet, seven years later this scientist who had forged so powerful a weapon against the greatest killer of his time, tuberculosis, died at 45 of the disease.

TB OFTEN UNRECOGNIZED

Tuberculosis of the lungs may assume so many different clinical forms that it must be considered in the differential diagnosis of practically every lung disease, warns Dr. James M. Blake, writing in the New York State Journal of Medicine. The symptoms may manifest themselves first in some other organ without any clinical indication of lung involvement, or they may appear abruptly as an acute pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Dulaney and Mark Allen of Amarillo were week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mike McCully and family.

and SOCIAL SECURITY

An increasing number of claims for social security payments is being received from employees and self-employed persons who are 75 years of age and still working, according to a statement from John R. Sanderson, Manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office. The reason is that the 1950 amendments to the Social Security Act provided that persons 75 years of age and over, otherwise entitled to social security payments, could receive the payments even though still working.

Persons in the 65 through 74 age group can receive the payments only if they are no longer earning over $75 in wages covered by the Social Security Act, or earning not over $900 per year in self-employment covered by the Act.

Statistics show, Sanderson said, that 2 out of every 10 men past age 75 are employed or self-employed. "These persons should contact the Amarillo Office to determine their rights under the Social Security program," he said, "since continued delay could mean an outright loss of payments or a reduction in the amount payable when an application is finally filed."

A Representative from the Amarillo Social Security Office will be in Clarendon at the Department of Public Welfare Office on Tuesday, November 12 at 9:00 a. m.

Fort Worth Stock Show Premiums Set New Records

FORT WORTH — A record-breaking total of premiums for the 56 year history of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show will be offered at the 1953 exposition, Jan. 30 through February 8, officials announce.

The amount is $172,373 which represents an increase of $9,673 over 1952. This figure includes $26,705 for the horse show as well as the rich cash awards which the winning contestants in the world's greatest indoor rodeo will receive.

For beef breeding cattle, awards amount to $34,800 (not including carload-and-pen bulls), divided as follows: Herefords $13,800; Polled Herefords $3,000; Shorthorns $6,000; Brahmans $2,000 and Aberdeen-Angus $10,000.

The carload-and-pen division has greatly increased in interest since it was instituted several years ago and has done much to restore Fort Worth to its pre-eminence as a bull market. Awards in this division are: Herefords $2,335; Shorthorns $2,000 and Angus $2,000.

For open steers, $10,745 is offered. The Junior Show—in which for the first time in many years girls, as well as boys, will compete—offers $9,508, of which $3,637 is for the steer division; $2,000 dairy calves; $1,128 lambs; $2,098 pigs and $645 negro pig show.

Other allotments: dairy cattle $5,637 (Guernseys and Holstein-Friesian $1,679 each; Jerseys $2,279); sheep and Angora goats $5,598; swine $8,525; poultry, turkeys, rabbits and pigeons (the last named being shown for the first time) $2,500; judging contests $2,000; herdsman prizes $320.

With the greatest premiums the show has ever known, officials are looking forward to a highly successful exposition. The 52 show had the largest attendance in the history of the Fort Worth exposition which began in 1896 with the display of a few animals under a tree on a creek bank with boots, hats and small articles of Western jewelry as the prizes. The show is held in the Will Rogers Memorial Buildings and 14 other structures which give 32 acres under roof and make the show independent of weather conditions.

The closing entry dates for the departments are: cattle, sheep and swine, Dec. 15; horses, Jan. 8; poultry and rabbits, Jan. 15.

Mrs. J. Fred Smith and Doris Louise visited Saturday night and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Montgomery.

Air Force Salutes Kids' Day

DETROIT, MICH.—General Hoyt S. Vandenberg, chief of staff for the United States Air Force, greets Walter J. L. Ray, president of Kiwanis International, as they discuss plans with Lt. Gen. Robert W. Harper, (center) commanding general of the Air Training Command, Scott Field Air Base, for Air Force participation in National Kids' Day on Saturday, September 27.

Kiwanis clubs located near Air Force bases throughout the United States are working with local base commanders so that thousands of children will be able to observe the inner workings of an important segment of our nation's defense. National Kids' Day, which is sponsored jointly by The National Kids' Day Foundation, Inc., North Hollywood, Calif., and Kiwanis International will have its fourth annual observance on September 27. In 1951, more than one million children were entertained or assisted by Kiwanians.

DONLEY COUNTY SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Both candidates for the President of the United States believe in soil conservation and they also believe in Soil Conservation Districts.

Quotations from both men on this subject are given below: Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson said on Oct. 4, 1952:

"We Democrats are also proud of your Soil Conservation Districts. Nothing is more important to our continued national strength than the preservation of our basic resource—the land. These Districts are expanding our democratic institutions, too—keeping alive the old American tradition that the way to solve a community problem is to get together with neighbors. We have almost 2500 Soil Conservation Districts in the country now, covering more than four-fifths of our farms. What I like best about this program is that you assume the main responsibility for seeing that the job gets done instead of asking the government to do it for you.

"Soil Conservation is well begun but far from finished. For one thing, you must pay more attention to flood control around the headwaters of small streams—on your farms, in your fields, where the floods begin. This is where water can be retained at small cost, and put to good use." Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said on September 18, 1952.

"I'm a zealous believer in conservation, both as a national policy and as a personal creed. I have seen first hand in many parts of the world what soil and fertility losses can do to civilizations. I have crossed great deserts that once were fertile granaries—now laid waste because man wasn't intelligent enough or didn't care enough, to preserve his soil.

"To build a strong, secure United States we must save our soil—and improve our soil. We aren't now doing the job fast enough or well enough."

"I strongly favor farmer-managed Soil Conservation Districts, with the Soil Conservation Service and other public agencies giving such help as farmers request."

COST OF TB HIGH

The average cost of one case of tuberculosis can be estimated as $14,000 or $15,000, the National Tuberculosis Association reports.

This is a composite figure obtained as a result of several studies, most of which were made by the New York State Department of Health. This amount includes cost of medical care, compensation, loss of wages, pensions and relief payments to the patient's family while the patient is incapacitated. The estimated figure does not include loss of the patient's productive capacity and the potential future earning power of those who succumb to this disease.

If money could buy youth we'd all be misers.

Royal Party For Cotton Festival

Childress To Declare One-Day War On Fire

CHILDRESS—Fire will become the new Public Enemy No. 1 in this Northwest Texas community October 30th.

On that day, firemen, school children and plain citizens will declare an all-out, one-day war on fire. Assisted by a 30-man team of "blaze detectives" from the West Texas and Northern Divisions of the Texas Insurance Fieldmen's Association, Childress firemen will conduct a building-by-building check in an attempt to uncover potential causes of fire.

Each business and public building will get an attic-to-basement check. Potential causes of fire will be marked with a bright red tag labeled "Fix Me!" Building owners and tenants will get a list of the hazards found, together with suggestions on how to correct them.

Parades, fire prevention demonstrations and motion pictures in the schools and talks before service clubs will spread the message of fire safety. School children, equipped with special blanks, will conduct fire hazard inspections of their own homes.

Childress will be the 27th Texas city to be given such an inspection since the checks were started in 1948 as a public service of capital stock fire insurance companies. Inspectors are insurance company field men with special training in searching out fire hazards. They make these town inspections without charge.

The Dog of Today Gets Expert Medical Care

PEARL RIVER, N. Y.—The dog is no longer leading a "dog's life," thanks to advances made in various fields of medicine and nutrition.

Man's best friend can now have a standard of living equal to man's.

All this is not news to the approximately 22 million dogs in this country. And not only is the dog's life safer and healthier today, but his life expectancy has increased, just as man's has. While no official statistics are available, most experts feel that if a pup survives the disease hazards of the first year, and is not run down by an automobile, he can look forward to a ripe old age of 11 to 12 years. Less than a decade ago, his life expectancy was only seven or eight years.

Let's speculate for a minute on what has happened to place Old Dog Tray in such a preferred position. Specifically, great advances have been made in preventive and therapeutic medicines, in animal hospitals and personnel, and in nutrition.

In no other aspect of veterinary medicine have medicaments and preventives been developed more rapidly than in the field of canine practice.

At the giant Lederle Laboratories here, there is a special section devoted to researching and solving the various disease problems which make the dog's life hazardous and unpleasant. Out of this research have come some of the latest drugs for preventing and combating canine diseases.

One of these is a highly effective vaccine against distemper, most serious common disease in dogdom. Regardless of how well you treat your pooch, or how purebred he is, he is still susceptible to this virus-caused disease unless properly protected. There was a time when distemper killed more dogs than many other diseases combined, but thanks to this new immunizing vaccine the picture is changing.

Rabies, the one-time horror of dogdom, need no longer cause fear and trembling. A new vaccine developed here and announced little over a year ago gives solid, lasting immunity against rabies. It is a modified live virus vaccine which does not cause post-vaccinal paralysis, a reaction often as terrible as the disease.

The "wonder-drugs" developed for use in human diseases are also playing an important role in elevating the dog's health standards. The sulfa drugs, penicillin, and aureomycin are used for external and internal infections. Another drug developed by Lederle for combating filariasis, a serious tropical disease which infects hundreds of millions of people, is being used by the veterinarian to combat heartworms and large roundworms in dogs.

Surprising developments have occurred in the animal hospital field. There are about 2,500 animal hospitals today equipped to take care of 10 or more animals. The latest official listing reveals that there are about 13,000 licensed veterinarians in this country.

A visit to one of these animal hospitals will startle the average layman. Many of them are better equipped than human hospitals, and since the standards of the veterinary profession are so high, many dog doctors are as well trained as human doctors. A sick dog today may get a thorough examination, including X-rays, blood test, heart test, diet test, and, in fact, almost every test a human would get. At the first sign of pneumonia or other respiratory infections, many vets will prescribe the antibiotic "wonder drug" aureomycin for your dog.

All this fine care for dogs may seem silly to some people, but there is this to consider: with proper care, you may have the companionship of your dog a few years longer than was possible in the past. Children who grow up with a friendly dog can really appreciate this.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

DIFFERENCE BETWEEN DIVORCE and ANNULMENT EXPLAINED

Notices of the filing of suits for divorce appear daily in our newspapers. Something has gone wrong with the marriage, and one of the spouses is asking the court to end the marriage by granting a divorce.

Occasionally, however, we read that someone is suing for an annulment of their marriage. The average reader may be inclined to say, "What is the difference?" Obviously the marriage is terminated if the court grants the petition, whether for divorce or annulment.

In the case of a divorce, the plaintiff (the person asking for an end to the marriage, whether the husband or wife) recognizes that the two parties involved were validly married and that there is an existing valid marriage.

The plaintiff alleges, though, that the other spouse has been guilty of some act which the law says constitutes a ground for divorce. If the divorce is granted, a marriage that actually exists is terminated legally by the court.

In effect, the court tells the couple that they were validly and legally married at one time, but no longer are.

Annulment Differs

In the case of an annulment, however, the plaintiff alleges that there never was a valid marriage in the first place because of some impediment of the parties or because of some fraud in its inception.

In this case the court must determine whether there ever was a valid marriage. If the court agrees with the plaintiff, the decree says in effect that the couple never was legally and validly married, and is not now.

Such a decree of annulment establishes for the public record the fact that the marriage was and is invalid according to law.

Children Protected

Whether the action takes the form of a divorce or an annulment, the decree will have no effect on the legitimacy of the couple's children. Our statutes provide that the children of couples whose marriages have been declared null shall nevertheless be legitimate.

Every divorce petition must set out the name, age, sex and residence of each child under 16 years of age born of the marriage involved. Then, before a divorce may be granted, the trial judge is required by law to inquire into the "surroundings and circumstances" of each such child.

Having considered all the pertinent facts and circumstances, the court in granting a divorce may give the custody and education of the child to either the father or mother. The governing factor here is the judge's belief and findings with regard to the best interests of the child himself.

Either parent may be required to make periodical payments for the benefit of the child, and may be punished for contempt of court in event of failure to comply with the support order.

In the past some trouble has been experienced in enforcing support orders against parents who move out of the state, as a person cannot ordinarily be extradited for the purpose of answering a contempt of court charge. However, many states (including Texas) have recently passed laws providing for the reciprocal enforcement of such orders, which is bringing some relief in support cases.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

World War II Vets Grateful to USO For Wartime Services

Ask the clerk in the store what he remembers about USO in World War II. Ask the mechanic who repairs your car; ask the young attorney who started his practice late but is now getting established; ask your dentist, doctor, service station operator.

"They got me out of a jam once on my way back to camp," one answers. Or, "Coffee and doughnuts and dancing" another says, with a quick reminiscent grin.

"Those shows — really good stuff and they went into dangerous territory to entertain us," one recalls, referring to USO camp shows.

"It was a place to write letters home—as a matter of fact, it was the closest thing to home I found all through the war," still another tells you.

Like the blind men and the elephant, each had his own personal evaluation out of his own experience. Men in every section of America, sitting at desks, working in the mills, at machines and behind counters have a special feeling for the USO because to many it gave something they needed in World War II.

There are now a total of more than 260 clubs, and USO-Camp Shows is sending out units to entertain troops overseas as fast as funds will permit.

Everyone in the community today has the opportunity to share in this important service to the servicemen and women from their area who are in the armed forces by contributing to the United Defense Fund through Red Feather and other united community drives.

Those who want but little—get it.

Legion Convention At Hereford Postponed Until Nov. 29-30th

Mike M. McCully, Clarendon, 18th District Commander of the American Legion, Department of Texas, announced today that the Annual Fall Convention originally scheduled for November 8th and 9th in Hereford has been postponed until November 29-30. The change in dates was necessitated by the over crowded conditions in hotels and tourist courts of Hereford during the gathering of their largest bumper crop of lettuce in Deaf Smith County history. Hereford officials indicate that the lettuce harvest will be completed before these dates. Rev. Bill Arms, Immediate Past Department Chaplain of the American Legion, and Pastor of the Gateway Baptist Church in Ft. Worth, will deliver the key note address of the convention on Sunday morning, November 30th. Rev. Arms is nationally known for his fight against the encroaching threat of Communism in America. Recently, he and veteran members of his Ft. Worth congregation picketed a communist meeting in Ft. Worth, handing out brochures of the communist speakers background and playing the National Anthem and other patriotic songs from a sound truck.

American Legion membership is at an all time high for this date in the 18th District with the results of the Legion's "L" Day, which was proclaimed by Governor Shivers and the local mayors of hundreds of towns, not yet tabulated.

Soil Builder Confusion

The recent boom in synthetic soil conditioners is one of the most interesting commercial phenomena in many years.

Ever since last December, when one of the world's largest chemical companies announced the development of a synthetic organic soil conditioner, the number of alleged "conditioners" has grown rapidly. Claims and counter-claims for these conflicting brands can easily confuse the purchaser.

A "magic chemical" to treat the soil has long been needed. It is a well known fact that soil may be well limed and have an abundant supply of fertilizers and yet not be very productive because of bad crusting on top and poor physical condition underneath. Small wonder, then, that the announcement of an effective soil conditioner late last year caused such a stir.

Many people swamped agricultural agencies with requests for this new product even before the discovering company was ready for full production. It was only natural that other companies rushed to "get on the band wagon."

But a good soil conditioner is not as easy to produce as it might seem. The original company's research staff had been working on its product for many years before any mention was made to the public. When it was announced, they had a fully tested organic substance whose characteristics were known. This substance, a grayish white powder, was recommended for use at one pound to 100 square feet of soil. It worked in the soil, doing away with crusting and gave the treated area the characteristics of good garden loam, manufacturers said.

In the first few months after the initial announcement, the Soils Department of the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station tested more than two dozen possible substitutes that were brought in by producers for examination. Of these, only three were found to be effective. Some of the quickly developed products were declared to be virtually worthless. Others might or might not have some value.

Until all these products get thorough trials by qualified agencies, the Texas farmer or gardener should realize that HE is doing the experimenting.

American Cancer Society Research Grant Made To State Hospital

AUSTIN — Texas will benefit from the $1,800,000 American Cancer Society Institutional Grant research program, it was disclosed here by the Texas Division of the Society.

A grant of $60,000 was made to the University of Texas, M. D. Anderson Hospital for Cancer Research at Houston, for a program entitled, "Factors affecting growth, a hormonal and radiobiologic study."

The grant was the fifth consecutive renewal of an appropriation first made in 1947 to the official state agency for cancer research and treatment. It brings to $265,575 the sum given by the ACS to Anderson Hospital, in addition to several grants made to individual scientists there.

Among the projects in the program are chromatographic investigation of proteins in normal and cancer tissues; hormone effects upon cancer; activity of the enzyme, glucuronidase, in cancer; the use of radioactive isotopes in cancer studies; and the effects of radiation on blood.

J. Louis Neff, Texas Executive Director, said, "These grants are part of the overall research attack on cancer being pushed this year with greater vigor than ever before.

"More than $4,000,000 will be expended by the Society on cancer research during the current fiscal year," he said. "Besides the present allotment for institutional grants the program will include 269 grants-in-aid and 59 fellowships.

"The Anderson Hospital grant is one of 29 institutional awards, all of which were renewals," he said. "This can be interpreted as meaning that Anderson Hospital is performing promising research that will contribute valuable material in the quest for cancer control.

"It was impossible to provide all the funds requested by institutions doing worthwhile cancer research. Applicants for renewal grants asked for $2,317,761 and received only $1,573,366. Altogether, including new applications, the requests totaled $3,193,756 for institutional grants.

"Although more funds are being provided each year for the cancer research program," Mr. Neff said, "public contributions, generous as they are during the annual Cancer Crusade, have not kept pace with the rapidly growing need of qualified researchers who have new promising avenues of investigation constantly opening to them.

"Twenty-five per cent of all money given in the Texas Cancer Crusade goes into the Society's research program. This year, Texas is furnishing about $135,000 to this research program, which seems like a small sum when compared with the urgent need to fight a disease which annually kills more than 8000 Texans."

Decline of Texas Small Farms

What has become of the "40 acres and a mule"?

Where are those small farms which were passed from father to son and worked by all members of the family? Why is the younger generation forsaking the land to seek a livelihood in large cities?

The modern trend towards a larger metropolitan population and a corresponding decrease in rural residents is being viewed with alarm by many persons. The question foremost in their minds is: "Will the declining rural population in Texas hurt the state's future agricultural productivity?"

A parallel situation arose about 150 years ago when Thomas Robert Malthus, a brilliant but rather short-sighted English economist forecast starvation for the human race. The world population, warned the Englishman, is fast out-stripping agricultural production.

But Malthus underestimated the farmer's ingenuity in constantly improving his crop raising methods. Because of this ability, and the advantage of mechanization, the present day farmer produces enough food for himself and 13 other persons, plus a vast quantity of goods for foreign export. In Malthus' day, however, it took three men on the farm to feed one man in the city.

The rural population may be declining in Texas but the land is not being abandoned. Instead, more land is being farmed by fewer people. While there has been a decrease of some 4,500 farms in the state since 1919, the total cultivated land has increased 31,368 acres.

Farm tenancy was 37 per cent in the state in 1945. Five short years later, the figure was reduced to 30 per cent by population shifts. Yet, during that same time, Texas farm crop acreage increased 4 million acres.

Mechanized farming is largely responsible. The tractor began replacing the mule more than 30 years ago. In 1920, there were 9,048 tractors on Texas farms. This year, the figure is around 250,000. The mule is becoming a part of the past.

We in Texas have nothing to fear in the present trend as long as the farmer continues to increase his per-acre yields, improve his soil conservation practices and work for better plant and animal breeding.

PLOWIN' Out the CORNERS

Speaking of Texans and the accusation that they sometimes are a wee bit uppity about the good points of their state; one fellow told me that a certain Texan made the following request in his prayer: "Lord when you remember the poor and the humble, remember also the Texans."

Speaking of cow feed and hay, and "Hey, who isn't these days", I heard of a farmer and cowman who was an out and out Eisenhower supporter, but was clamoring up and down the court house steps trying to get a dish-out of Truman hay to support his cows for thirty days. Now according to some of the Trumancrats, this ain't according to the rules.

My old Uncle from down Ft. Worth way, sends me some poetry and advice once in awhile says that: "Adlai is only Harry minus his piano."

If we could but take each word and weigh it; In the scales of right and wrong. And know before we consent to say it. That it will help the world along.

Advice is something that always sounds good but usually turns out bad.

Heard on the street: "I am physically able to retire but financially able to keep on working."

We used to live by a fellow who would always remark after a good rain, "Well, the Good Lord has smiled on us again." I haven't seen this old fellow in a long time, and he may have already "gone on before" but if he is still living I could imagine that it has been so long since he could have used this saying that he must have long ago forgotten it. We used to laugh when someone would remark that they had good sized children that had never seen water fall from the sky. I ain't so sure now that it is a joke.

Getting back to the subject of politics and next week is the big week. Next week we will pick the man who will sit in the White House for the next four years and attempt to lead us into higher and better paths, or so we hope. Anyway, it is our solemn duty to vote. If we fail to do this we have little if any justification to holler about what happens to us afterwards.

Anyway, every man for himself on election day, and may the Good Lord help us all that we may do the right thing as we think best. If we Vote, and with our honest heart vote the best we know how we can always have the feeling that we did do our part to the best of our knowledge.

But, to the fellow who suggests to me that one can vote for Adlai and still not be voting for Trumanism, I would like to mention a point or two to consider. Sen. Russell and Mr. Kefauver and others stomped the country and were voted best by several state preferential primaries, but Mr. Truman kept suggesting Gov. Stevenson. I had never heard of such a man and so it was with many all over the country. At first, I wondered if he meant Coke Stevenson. But Mr. Truman held the reins; he kept on boosting Adlai, and finally the convention was held and the party boys went through the formality of obeying The Boss, and so it was. Along with Gov. Shivers, the very thought of another round of Trumanism sent shivers down the spine of a goodly bunch of Democrats and so began the move, which ended in the Texas State Democratic Convention asking its duly elected leaders to work for General Eisenhower. Anyhow, we were either released from our pledge to support the

- ### WHAT TO DO:
1. At the top of the Democratic Party column, strike out the names of Adlai E. Stevenson and John J. Sparkman.
  2. Leave the rest of the Democratic Party column as it is.
  3. At the top of the Republican Party column, leave the names of Dwight D. Eisenhower and Richard M. Nixon.
  4. Strike out the rest of the Republican Party column.
  5. Strike out all other columns on the ballot.

DEMOS FOR IKE BALLOT—A resolution of the State Democratic Convention recommended that "every Democrat in Texas vote and work for" the election of Eisenhower and Nixon. The sample ballot reproduced above shows the easiest way a Texas Democrat can vote for Eisenhower. Another method is the write-in plan recently approved by Attorney General Price Daniel. Voters may scratch Stevenson and Sparkman and write in Eisenhower and Nixon under the Democratic column, crossing out the Republican and other slates.

Farmers—

Don't Let it Happen Again!

THESE things happened just before the 1948 presidential election:

1. Farm prices went down just before election.
2. The Democratic candidate, who was also the president, put the blame on the Eightieth Congress.
3. The president was re-elected—and the farm vote gave him four more years in the White House.

What has happened since?

It has been proved that prices went down because the government pulled the props out from under them.

It was not the Eightieth Congress—but the deliberate abuse of power over prices—by the party which held that power—which cost farmers millions of dollars in needless losses.

The same party is still in power. The same party can rig prices—or create some other emergency—in 1952.

The same party has an organization that covers every county in the United States to spread any smear the schemers who run the party want you to believe.

Don't be tricked again. If you want to get rid of bungling, fumbling, corruption in Washington—get rid of the men who can do such things to you.

nominee of the Democratic party in Texas or there is no legally recognized Democratic Party in Texas. Are we going to vote with the Governor and the State Democratic Convention or, are we going to desert the Democrats to vote for Mr. Truman? We can legally do either. Which will it be?? Either way, let's all turn out and VOTE.

Five-Year Farm Outlook Indicates More Production

A nation-wide survey has been recently completed which offers some reassuring figures to those who fear we may have reached a peak in agricultural production.

The study indicates that in the next four or five years, farmers of the nation can produce about 20 percent more than they did in 1950, and 18 per cent more than in 1951 if there is a need for such a volume, and provided that steps necessary to assure it are taken.

Agriculture is the foundation on which to build for national defense. No one can dispute that high and efficient production of food is necessary if any government is to survive—in war or peace. The survey was prepared as a possible guide for future agricultural plans.

This report of capacity to produce in a defense period is the combined work of Land-Grant colleges and Departments of Agriculture of the various states. Federal and state workers, thoroughly familiar with farming in their areas, prepared the report. The results represent neither a goal nor a forecast of future production. It does, however, indicate potential capacity, or the rate at which farmers could increase production under favorable conditions.

The farmer could, under "favorable conditions", produce about a fifth more of both crops and livestock than he did in 1950. Nationally, the projected increase is based on estimates that he could increase hog output 12 per cent above that of 1951, cattle and calves, 14 per cent; milk, 12 per cent; commercial broilers, 30 per cent; eggs, 12 per cent; corn, 21 per cent; wheat, 40 per cent; rice, 18 per cent; cotton, 11 per cent; soybeans, 14 per cent; tobacco, 11 per cent, and potatoes, 24 per cent. Labor costs and improved farming practices would be an important factor in realizing these figures.

The study further indicates that the South has the greatest possibility of increasing production percentage-wise. The North Central Mountain, Northeast and Pacific regions follow in that order. More than half the increase could come from feed and livestock. The rest might come largely from food grains, fruits, vegetables and cotton.

The production capacity report can be obtained by writing John C. White, Agriculture Commissioner, Land Office Bldg., Austin, Texas.

When we came in late the other night and told the wife she could never guess where we had been, she said she could, but to go on and tell our story anyway.

GABIE BETTS BURTON LIBRARY NOTES

By May L. Prewitt

We usually begin our notes on Thursday and develop them as facts appear. This time we shall attract your attention to the November issue of Good House Keeping with its many "tempting the appetite" illustrations and recipes for cakes, cup cakes, and cookies. They are assorted in holiday attire. Then the "American Home" features "The Growing of Gloxinias" by a youth of nineteen who has had wonderful success. Our other recent magazines stress Christmas decorations, gifts, etc.

There is a lengthy waiting list for Thomas B. Costain's "The Silver Chalice." Perhaps the reviewer stimulated this interest as we have possessed our copy since about August 15th. It consists of five hundred thirty-three pages but is quite well written as you who are familiar with Thomas Costain's writing know.

Books are very slow in shipment as we have had several biographies ordered for two months, and an order of children's books. However, we have some excellent material on our shelves for your information and entertainment at any time.

DICK RUSSELL BACKS ADLAI

RUSSELL IS THE GEORGIA SENATOR FOR WHOM GOVERNOR SHIVERS AND TEXAS LEGATION VOTED UNANIMOUSLY ON ALL BALLOTS AT DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION IN CHICAGO

Senator Dick Russell of Georgia, the man the Texas Delegation headed by Gov. Allan Shivers supported on all ballots at the national Democratic convention in Chicago, predicted last week that Adlai Stevenson and John J. Sparkman will be elected by one of the largest majorities given a national ticket in recent years.

Senator Russell, who is chairman of the senate armed services committee and of the senate subcommittee on agriculture, said: "General Eisenhower's evident confusion in his efforts to grapple with vital political issues has clearly demonstrated to the American people the grave danger of placing our government in the hands of a military man. . . . No military career, however great, can be a substitute for familiarity with the operation of a government which traditionally and by law is dependent on civilian control. . . .

"As one who has admired General Eisenhower as a military leader, I have been bewildered by the endless contradictions of his political pronouncements. It would require a book to catalog them. . . . Shortly after stating that he did not understand the term 'Farm Parity,' he assured the American farmer of 100% parity for all the products of his toil. As one who has devoted a large part of his legislative service to overcoming Republican opposition to fair farm legislation I have vainly awaited an endorsement of this last farm statement from General Eisenhower's Republican congressional supporters. I have failed to see where one of them has disclaimed his record of opposition to the soil conservation program and to the laws which enabled these farmers to have some idea when they plant their crops what they will receive from their harvest.

"The American voters are thinking for themselves in 1952. Neither the bedlam of this campaign nor the military glamor of the Republican candidate will confuse them. They will go to the polls in the greatest number in our history on November 4 to maintain in power the party of the people. . . .

"Governor Stevenson has the potentialities which can make him one of the greatest presidents who has ever served our country. With the support and prayers of the American people and the aid of the Almighty he devoutly worships, he will see this nation safely through the dangers of today's world."

(Pol. Adv.—Paid for by Stevenson-Sparkman Committee, Sam, Rayburn, Chairman.)

Harry Truman Has Taxed Us $310 Billion in 7 Years— $65 Billion More Than All Preceding Presidents Put Together Including F.D.R.

High-Tax Harry may be dwarfed by the stature of previous presidents—but his merry tax collectors have raised a monument to Insatiable Greed that tops anything ever known to Americans.

If you'd like to know what this $310 billion means to you as, say, a married person with 2 children, here's the score:

- If you earned $2,000 in 1940, you need $4,165 today to "have it so good" after swollen taxes and attendant inflation!
$3,000 earnings in 1940 matched $6,595

today—and if you earned $4,000 then, you need $9,010 now, to be as good a breadwinner!

So it's not your fault if you have to scramble like mad to make both ends meet.

But it is your fault if you let this continue. It is your fault if you believe the Tax-and-Spend Boys will ever reform.

Come Election Day, you'll have your last chance in 4 long years to keep a fairer share of your earnings. Don't miss that chance.
