Fire destroys dryer at Medical Center

A blaze at the Medical Center Nursing Home destroyed a $3,000 dryer and did an undetermined amount of smoke damage to the laundry room. The fire broke out some time after 5 p.m. and was brought under control by an employee with a fire extinguisher before firefighters arrived. Firemen arrived and removed the clothing from the dryer to completely put out the fire. Judy Haire, a cook at the facility, is credited with discovering the fire and attacking it with the extinguisher, according to administrator Alan Graham who praised her and other Medical Center employees for their quick thinking. "The nursing staff did a wonderful job reacting to the situation, and all procedures were followed perfectly," Graham said. "All the time and effort that has gone into training has paid off."

Graham said the fire was contained to the laundry room and at no time were any of the residents in any danger. Nevertheless, within a short period of time Medical Center personnel had the residents prepared for evacuation if necessary. The cause of the fire is still under investigation, but Fire Chief Delbert Robertson said the dryer might have overheated. Robertson said at the same time the Medical Center blaze was underway, firefighters also responded to a fire at the City Dump. The fire was apparently intentionally set inside an old refrigerator, he said. The fire department also has responded to several grass fires recently, and Robertson said that some of them appeared to have been intentionally set also. He urged people to call the sheriff's office and report any suspicious activity.

Things Just Got Brighter

One of the side benefits of the recent Highway 287-project was the addition of these seven twin luminaire highway lights at the western city limits in front of the college campus. The new lights give a very modern appearance to the entrance of the city and make the area much safer at night.

Summer heat bakes county

Dry conditions are still plaguing Donley County despite a little rain last week. Clarendon officially received a total of 0.12 inches last week, bringing the rainfall for the year to only 8.53 inches. But it's not just the lack of moisture causing misery to local farmers and ranchers. The heat has also been overwhelming. Last year, Clarendon only recorded two days with temperatures over 100° from May through September. Through last Sunday, however, 1998 has seen thirty-four days where the temperature has hit or surpassed the century mark. With this in mind, everyone is urged to use extreme caution to prevent wildfires and to avoid heat-related health hazards. For the record, the highest temperature recorded in Clarendon was on August 12, 1936. That day the mercury hit 117°. And to give you an example of how extreme Panhandle weather can be, on March 4, 1916, the temperature soared from a morning low of 11° to an afternoon high of 85°.

CHS to hold student registration

A parent or legal guardian must be present. If you are entering school from out of state, make sure that you bring the address, phone number, and contact person's name from your previous school in addition to record information. Student registration will follow the schedule below. There will be no early registration. August 5: Seniors, 1:00-2:30 p.m. Juniors, 2:30-4:00 p.m. August 6: Sophomores, 1:00-2:30 p.m. Freshmen, 2:30-4:00 p.m. August 7: New students, 1:00-2:30 p.m.

Clarendon Aldermen hear proposal for college baseball

The Clarendon Board of Aldermen met in regular session July 14, 1998, at 7 p.m. in the Board Room of City Hall. Che Shadle, representing OJD Engineering, spoke to the city on the plan options for the sewer plant. Motion was made by Alderman B.J. Land, seconded by Alderman James Owens, to build a facultative lagoon. Motion carried. Joe Mondragon, representing Clarendon College, presented a request to the city to allow McClellan Field to be used by the college for its new baseball program. The college would handle the cost of necessary field improvements and maintenance. Games would be scheduled around the Little League games. Motion was made by Owens, seconded by Mac Stavenhagen, to have the college speak to the Little League president and have them come to the next meeting. Motion carried. The problem of excess trash collection at Howardwick has increased. The board approved a motion to have three more dumpsters set at Howardwick at the cost of $80 per dumpster. After a closed session, the board voted to have Jerry Courtney represent the city with the legal problems on First Street.

Bronco Band summer rehearsals to begin

Here is a schedule of the few summer rehearsals. Please be at each rehearsal or let us know in advance if there are scheduling conflicts. Flags: Tuesday, August 4 through Friday, August 7, 9:00 a.m.-11:30 a.m. (some afternoons if needed). Percussion: Wednesday, August 5 through Friday, August 7, 2:00 p.m.-4:30 p.m. mostly indoors (possibly Sat. a.m.). Woodwinds: Wednesday, August 5 through Friday, August 7, 2:00 p.m.-3:30 p.m. mostly indoors. Brass: Wednesday, August 5 through Friday, August 7, 2:00 p.m.-3:30 p.m. mostly indoors. As usual, all rehearsals will be very important. The music will be tunes by Chicago and will be challenging. The marching drill will be easy. Rather than rehearsing every Tuesday in September, we will have sectionals in the evening. This equates to only one or two (instead of 5!) Tuesday night rehearsals in the month of September. Show your appreciation to Mrs. Mullen and Mr. Baker by attending all of your summer rehearsals.

Bush seeks disaster status for Donley, 175 other counties

AUSTIN — Governor George W. Bush is asking the federal government to grant disaster status to an additional 176 counties, including Donley County, stricken by drought. If the U.S. Department of Agriculture grants the Governor's request, all 254 Texas counties will be under a drought disaster declaration. In a letter to U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Dan Glickinan, Governor Bush describes the economic emergency caused by above normal temperatures and severe drought conditions. If the request is granted, Texas farmers and ranchers will be eligible for emergency loans to cover losses suffered under the drought. The Texas Agriculture Extension Service estimates total losses will be $1.5 billion statewide. "I'm asking the federal government to expedite the declaration for all Texas counties because Texas needs immediate assistance," Governor Bush said. As of last Friday, two Texas counties, Terrell and Glasscock, have been designated disaster areas by the federal government. Requests from seventy-six counties are pending. The Governor is also concerned about the risk of fire and the ability of volunteer firefighters to do their jobs. He has written to the heads of each state agency, urging them to grant paid leave to volunteer firefighters who respond to rural emergencies. "I encourage all agencies to support their personnel who take on this vital community service role," Bush said. "Their response to ongoing fires helps to protect the lives and property of all Texans." Approximately 40,000 volunteers serve as the primary fire fighting force for rural Texas.

Outdoor Entertainment Association. The following were participants in the steer riding: William Scott Betts, Dalton Askew, Brandon Herndon, Robert Clifford, McCullough Roach, and Dusty James Martindale.

Area representatives introduce emergency drought legislation

WASHINGTON, DC — US Rep. Mac Thornberry (R-Clarendon) recently joined Congressman Larry Combest and House Agriculture Committee Chairman Bob Smith in introducing legislation that will provide farmers with some relief from the drought by making $5.5 billion available to them on October 1, 1998. "I think we're finally getting through in convincing people how serious the situation is," Thornberry stated. "Unfortunately, some in Washington have tried to play political games with this crisis. That is wrong. Both Congress and the Administration need to work together to do what's right. Hopefully, this plan will be the first step in doing that." The bill is called The Emergency Farm Financial Relief Act. According to Thornberry, the plan would make $5.5 billion available to farmers as much as one year early to help them cope with the cash shortage they are now experiencing due to the drought. Farmers currently receive contract payments twice a year — in December or January and again in September — as part of the Agriculture Market Transition Act (AMTA). The Emergency Farm Financial Relief Act would change that by letting farmers collect their 1999 payment in one lump sum as early as this October 1, which is also the beginning of the next fiscal year. For example, a 1,000 acre wheat farm with a 30 bushel AMTA payment yield would have the option of getting the entire $19,000 payment in October 1998, rather than waiting three months to get half of the AMTA payment (in this case, $9,500) and then a full 12 months to get the remaining half. "In effect," Thornberry said, "what this plan will do is provide farmers with an interest-free cash loan of up to a year. Clearly, it's not everything we need. But it is a good start and something that gets money in farmers' pockets sooner than other proposals being discussed." Thornberry noted that the advance payment is not mandatory and that farmers would have the option of deciding based on their own personal circumstances whether they wanted to receive it or not. In addition to Thornberry, Combest, and House Agriculture Chairman Smith, The Emergency Farm Financial Relief Act is supported by other members of Congress whose states have been hard hit by the drought. The plan is also supported by the Speaker of the House, who has already indicated he will hold a vote on the bill next week in the House of Representatives. The bill was announced at a news conference last week in the US Capitol. In addition to announcing the legislation, the lawmakers also called

Check It Out

By Mary Beth Nelson

It is not difficult to find a wide choice of popular Louis L'Amour's intriguing writings in Burton Memorial Library. Many avid Western fans may have wished, at times, they had known the man himself. His Education of a Wandering Man offers readers an insight to his mind which produced such literary creativeness.

This is different than any other L'Amour book you have read. It is part memoir and part reflection of his love for leaning and reading. It tells of his decision to leave school at age 15 to "make the world his classroom."

At some point, he wanted to be a storyteller. To use L'Amour's words, he had "fallen in love with learning, and it became a lifelong romance." He possessed enthusiasm and excitement for books and tried to "squeeze something of value from every printed page."

"He skinned cattle in Texas; worked as a circus roustabout and a mine caretaker; won small-town prize fighting exhibitions; hoboed across Texas on the Southern Pacific; and shipped out to the West Indies, England, and Singapore as a merchant seaman." This particular novel focuses on his adventures, a source for his storytelling and writing which provided his unusual education. L'Amour's real life incidents promise to fascinate readers equally as much as his fictional characters do.

Mr. L'Amour sums up this book's contents with the following words:

"What has been offered here is one man's quest for knowledge, in which he is much less impressed by what he has done than by what has not been done. Along the way, I have written some stories...stories for people I have known about people I have known. These stories contain moments of drama because their intent is to entertain, but woven into their lines is much about how men have lived, fought, and survived. The world in which I have lived has often been a harsh, bitter one, but it has always been tinged with romance. I doubt I could have endured the one without the other."

Would you like to be reintroduced to Louis L'Amour in a different way? Why not check it out?

Congressman: Y2K problem should be dealt with today

"Y2K" sounds like the name of a character out of a Star Wars movie. But it's actually the nickname of a serious problem that could affect virtually every one of us in less than a year and a half.

The problem has to do with computers. Specifically, it has to do with the ability of computers to know what day and year it is. As it stands now, computers do that automatically. But for many computers currently in use, there could be a problem at the end of the year 1999.

It seems that many computers — instead of reading the year 2000 as the year 2000 — will read it instead as the year 1900, effectively shutting down their systems.

Even if you don't own a computer, you could be affected by the Y2K problem because of the role computers — and in particular, computer chips — play in our lives. When you go to a grocery store, a computer checks you out. When you phone someone across the country, a computer processes your call. When you fly on a plane, a computer helps guide you along the way. The government is also vulnerable, relying on computers to do everything from processing checks to delivering mail.

The House of Representatives has held more than 25 hearings on this issue already this year and is expected to vote this summer on a bill that will help federal agencies cope with the problem. If you own a computer, you may want to have it looked at as well.

We have to nip this problem in the bud before it occurs. We've got 17 months to deal with it, and the clock is ticking for us to act.

Drought impacting Quail numbers, health across Texas

COLLEGE STATION — While folks complain about the heat, cost of watering a yard or expected crop losses likely from this year's drought, another impact is being felt by perhaps less noticeable victims — Texas quail.

Dry conditions translate into no hatch, no shelter and no food for the popular Texas bird, according to wildlife specialists for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"The drought is most drastically felt on things like quail," said Dr. Don Steinbach, Extension Service wildlife specialist in College Station. "There is no question that in South Texas this year, there will be a dramatic impact on quail."

Steinbach said that's because the quail's reproductive season has the mother quail making a nest on the ground in basketball-size clumps of grass to hide from predators in late-April, sitting on eggs in May, hatching the little birds hatching the first part of June and feeding them a lot of insects until they are old enough to start the cycle themselves. Lack of moisture causes three significant detriments to quail — a lack of protective nesting sites, not enough moisture in the air for incubating eggs, and not enough food to raise the 10-14 babies typically in quail nests, Steinbach said.

"I very much appreciate what a quail hen has to do laying 14 eggs, incubating them for 23 days and not getting killed herself in the process," said

Dr. Dale Rollins, Extension wildlife specialist in San Angelo. And quail can't go long distances in search of needs like some animals do, Rollins said. They are born and die usually within a space of no more than 40 acres.

In dry West Texas, Rollins noted, that one study this year put radio transmitters on 90 quail prior to the breeding season. Only 15 nests have been documented from those transmitters and only one had surviving quail chicks.

"So, that's a long way of saying that drought has an impact on quail. The most sinister manifestation of the drought is on nest site availability, which plays right into the predators' paws," Rollins said. Practically anything from cotton rats to feral hogs, he said, will eat quail eggs, especially when all species are competing for shortened food supply.

Steinbach and Rollins said one trait in favor for quail is that the birds will often attempt to re-nest several times. But, the wildlife experts said, only if rains begin to fall within the next few weeks will the plants be likely to grow to large enough heights and will enough insects emerge to support additional nesting attempts by quail to produce young.

If that happens, when hunting season begins in mid-October, there will be small quail out there just barely learning to fly," Steinbach noted.

Rollins said a few places in the state — notably from Abilene to the Red River and over to Fort Worth — had rains at the right time in the season to allow for a better quail hatch there. Of some 110 birds that had radio transmitters placed on them, only 50 produced active nests, he said.

Steinbach said that though the animals are hurting, the reduced numbers will not likely cause a drop in hunting fees because hunters tend to continue leasing places on a continual basis because competition for such land is in demand. But there likely will be some disappointed hunters in the search for quail this year. Rollins concurred. "There's still quite a few quail out there as a result of the good hatch last year and excellent winter survival," he said. But, "they'll be tough hunting, as now they're two year veterans!"

U.S. HWY. 287 PROJECT UPDATE

WEEK #42

Clean up work continues on the Highway 287 project with some miscellaneous concrete work still underway.

Workers have also been busy elevating gutters on Sully and Jefferson Streets.

Pick up a copy of next week's Enterprise for more Project 287 information.

Lydia Hartman, Treva Rowland, and other members of Clarendon Girl Scout Troop #43 enjoyed their recent trip to Colorado Springs.

Girl Scouts take trip to Colorado

by Lydia Hartman

During the week of July 6-10, Girl Scout Troop #43 went on a trip to Colorado. The troop and leaders explored much of the Colorado Springs area.

The group left Clarendon early Monday morning. They arrived at the Colorado Springs Girls Scouts hut in the Garden of the Gods late that afternoon. After settling in, they made their way to Seven Falls.

The second day they got their Christmas wish lists in early to Santa at his workshop and saw say his brother driving the train. Then they went riding horses through the Garden of the Gods.

The next day, the group began with Cheyenne Mt. Zoo. Feeding the giraffes, observing the many kinds of bears, and watching the hippos make tidal waves were group favorites. After lunch they enjoyed a trip to the top of Pike's Peak on the Cog Railway. On the ride up, they saw marmots, bighorn sheep, beautiful scenery, and old architecture.

Thursday morning, they worked their way over to the Manitou Cliff Dwellings, and saw authentic Pueblo Indian dances.

Friday, they loaded up and said good-bye to the cool weather and rain. On the way home, they stopped to stretch their legs while hiking the rim of the Capulin Volcano.

Physicals for all Clarendon athletes set

Physicals for all athletes are scheduled to be at the fieldhouse on Saturday, August 1. Boys' physicals will be from 9:00-11:00 a.m. and girls' will be from 11:00-1:00 p.m.

Cost of the physical will be $5.00. You will need to bring your form with you and make sure all the appropriate information is filled in. It must be signed by your parent or guardian and turned in before you will be allowed to practice.

Physicals are required for all incoming 7th graders and 9th graders and anyone for who required surgery or was hospitalized during the past year. If you are an incoming 9th grader or 10th-12 grader and already have a physical on file, it will still be necessary for you to fill out the Medical History on the back side of the physical form. You will also need to fill out and sign with your parents the Acknowledgment of Rules form. Everyone must fill and sign it. It has nothing to do with your physical or medical history form.

This is not just a football physical. Anyone who participates in a UIL athletic sport must have a physical on file. If you are playing football, it would be best to turn in these forms before practice starts on Wednesday, August 5.

Two-a-day football practices will begin on Wednesday, August 5, at 7:30 a.m. You will need to show up earlier so that you can check out your clothes, helmet, and shoes. Our two-a-day workouts will actually be finished by lunch time. Make note of the schedule: first practice, 7:30-9:30 a.m.; break, 9:30-10:15 a.m.; second practice, 10:30-12:30 p.m.

High school practice schedule will be from 7:30-9:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.-12:00 p.m. on the following days: Wed, Aug. 5 through Sat., Aug. 8, and Tues., Aug. 11, through Wed., Aug. 12. One evening practice will be held on Monday, Aug. 10. Practice on this day will be in the evening only. School begins on Thursday, August 13.

Practice will not start for junior high football players (incoming seventh and eighth graders) until the first day of school.

Hedley native joins cast of 'TEXAS'

David Ward, with family ties from Donley County, is spending his summer as a member of the company for the musical drama "TEXAS." The internationally acclaimed and official play of the State of Texas is in its 33rd season at the Pioneer Amphitheater in the majestic Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Written by Pulitzer Prize winner Paul Green, "TEXAS" uses song, dance, dialogue, colorful costumes and spectacular special effects to tell the story of early settlers in the Panhandle of the Lone Star State. The show's setting in magnificent Palo Duro Canyon adds to the depth and drama of the action as cowboys ride the range, Indians stand stoically on the craggy face of the canyon, and progress makes its path across the prairie.

David Ward joins "TEXAS" for his first season as a baritone. He is the son of Leon and Carole Ward of Hedley, Texas. He has been the music director for the First Baptist Church in Hedley for six years. David just graduated from Clarendon College with an associate of science degree with honors. He was the light technician and Vince Fontaine in the musical production of Grease in the spring of 1998. He also played a lead role in the musical RU Serious. David plans to attend Wayland Baptist University in the fall and major in music.

Tickets for the 33rd season of "TEXAS" range from $4.00 to $19.00. The show plays nightly except Sundays at 8:30 p.m. An optional barbecue dinner is also available for an additional $6.50. For more information or ticket reservations call (806) 355-2181 or write "TEXAS," PO Box 268, Canyon, TX 79015.

Museum open house termed 'a great success'

By Saints' Rooster
FOOD FOR THOUGHT

The Saints' Rooster Museum Open House July Fourth was a great success. According to our visitors log over 150 people came in to enjoy the air conditioning and peek into the past. Outside it wasn't quite as cool, but it wasn't too hot to eat. The down-home Sloppy Joes made a big hit with the visitors.

"I was worried about the recipe and if people would like it" said Museum Board of Directors member Jean Stavenhagen who was in charge of the affair this year. "But I didn't have to worry, some people ate as many as six of them and seemed pretty happy about it."

Stavenhagen estimated that about 160 or 170 people enjoyed the complimentary meal and said that the donation box received a lot of attention. Heartfelt appreciation of everyone who chipped in to help maintain the museum is extended by everyone on the Board.

Our appreciation goes out to the members of the Hedley choir which provided some fine Fourth of July dinner time entertainment from the bunkhouse steps. It was especially gratifying to host a large number of Hedley residents. It served as a reminder to all of us that Saints' Rooster Museum is a repository for ALL of Donley County History.

Next up for the Museum is our Col. Charles Goodnight Chuckwagon Cookoff set for Sept. 26. Be sure and mark that date on the calendar and make plans to be there for some authentic chuckwagon grub and cowboy entertainment provided by Red Steagall.

VISITORS

There's no doubt about it, the summer heat has driven a lot of people out of their houses and put them on the road. The number of visitors this year is up from last year's record. In June over 130 visitors stopped by. They came from Arkansas, Oklahoma, Nebraska, Missouri, Louisiana, Nevada, California, Maryland, Kansas, Florida, Virginia and Arizona as well as from Texas.

Thus far in July more than 220 people visited. Other than Clarendon, July visitors came from the Texas towns of Hedley, Amarillo, Dallas, Groom, Dumas, Austin, Lubbock, Dimmitt, Leila Lake, Dickinson, Arlington, Borger, Howardwick, Katy, Canyon, Panhandle, Wellington, Lewisville, Fort Worth, Odessa, Houston, Grand Prairie, and Dalhart. (What no visitors from Windy Valley?)

Among the visitors were several who had been born in the Adair Hospital. Ernest L. Hunt Jr., now of Vista, California, came by the day after the Fourth and on 26 June Donna Adams Harper, now of Grand Prairie, Texas, dropped by to visit a bit of her history.

Several families came by to tour the Museum. The Furnish family of Canyon reported that their grandfather, Joe Warren, once ran the newspaper in Clarendon. After touring the railroad depot Mr. Furnish commented that his parent has met in that very depot when his father was coming home from World War I. "This old building contains a lot of memories," he said.

Right you are sir! That statement alone should make everyone who participated in saving the building from the wrecking ball even prouder of the accomplishment.

The Short Family also spend several days touring Saints' Rooster. The family was holding a family reunion in Clarendon and wanted to look things over. This is the family that donated our "Mystery" ivory coin. Whoever signed the family in the guest book listed their home towns as "all over," which seems appropriate due to the fact that it is a large family.

One lady visitor who came to call July 12 had some kind words to say about the Museum. She said that she had been nearly "overwhelmed" by Panhandle Plains Historical Museum in Canyon, but felt that Saints' Rooster was more "intimate." "I felt really close to history here," she said. "I was really able to get a feel of what it was like to have lived back around the turn of the century."

We appreciate this visitor for the kind words. That is, after all, what we are trying to do here.

PARKING PLACES

If you visit Saints' Rooster it is OK to park in the driveway in front of the building. Visitors should remember that we have a wheelchair ramp around the back of the building. Hopefully we will soon have a sign posted concerning the wheelchair ramp. Visitors should feel free to park as close to the front door as they can without blocking someone else in.

It is very interesting to see how people park when they come out during the hot summer weather. Those who are used to dealing with West Texas heat always seem able to find a tree to park under. Those who are from more temperate climates park in full sun, roll up the windows against carjacking and come take a leisurely tour and bask in the air conditioning. More than one driver has come back into the museum to get paper towels so that he can touch the steering wheel, and several home come back in to sit down and wait while their air-conditioning cools off the car waiting outside.

We may not have too many trees here in the Panhandle, but you can bet that in the shade of each one sits a car with a driver who know a bit about dealing with summer in this part of Texas.

DONATIONS

Our collection of articles from days gone by is slowly but surely becoming even more extensive. This month M. White brought in four photographs of the Montgomery family along with a gold and silver baby spoon, a pair of vintage eyeglasses and two pair of baby shoes. Roberta Pittman donated a railroad lantern, an antique army entrenching tool, a vintage royal typewriter, two pair of shoes and one sugar ration coupon.

While not exactly "old," our Goodnight collection was enhanced due to the good offices of Helen Estlack of Clarendon Jr. High School who donated two posters compiled by students Lacey Anderberg and Ashlee Kidd. The posters highlight the life and times of the great Plainsman and his famous JA Ranch.

A reminder, we're still looking for shaving mugs and brushes for our men's display, so next time you visit the attic, think of us.

Student exchange program taking applications

American Intercultural Student Exchange is accepting applications from families who are interested in hosting a high school age foreign exchange student for the upcoming school year.

Families may choose to host a student for one or two semesters. These high school students, all proficient in the English language, will arrive in the United States in August and attend high school while living as members of their American host families. All AISE students have completed a lengthy screening and interview process with representatives in their home countries and come highly recommended by their English teachers.

Host families provide students with a bed, meals, and a loving family atmosphere. The students all have medical insurance and spending money for the duration of their stay. Families and students are provided with a representative that is available to answer questions and provide counseling support throughout the exchange experience.

Each year, thousands of families across the United States host AISE exchange students. AISE currently works with high school students from over 40 countries worldwide. For further information on hosting a student in your home, please call 1-800-SIBLING or visit the AISE web site at <http://www.sibling.org>.
