Hedley garners first win of football season

Hedley sophomore Jeremy Wells romped for four touchdowns, rushed for 191 yards, passed for 77 yards, and threw one TD pass in a wild 64-51 scorefest against neighboring Lakeview Saturday in Hedley.

Next up for the 1-1 Owls is Miami. Hedley travels north Friday night for a 7:30 p.m. kick-off with the Warriors.

Wells scored his first two touchdowns and passed for a TD in the opening quarter, as Hedley led 26-0.

Wells scampered into the end zone on 49- and 37-yard runs. Wells passed to Aaron Harper for a 44-yard TD, while sophomore running back Dustin Monroe returned an interception 25 yards for his first TD.

Running back Monroe put Hedley's fifth touchdown on the board in the second quarter on a 21-yard run.

But Lakeview would not play dead. Bobby Perkins threw two TD passes to Lucio Villanueva and Emilio Gil as Hedley entered halftime with a 32-13 advantage.

The Owls kept the scoring rolling as they opened up the second half with a 5-yard interception run by Monroe. Lakeview responded with a 34-yard pass from Perkins to Villanueva.

Hedley led 57-37 after three quarters. The two teams traded touchdowns as both teams scored a total of nine more times.

Lakeview could never put a dent in Hedley's early first half lead.

Perkins threw for three more touchdowns and rushed for one, while Wells scored two more TDs. Monroe scored one more TD, while Kenneth Dishong recovered a fumble in the end zone.

Hedley's junior high meets Miami at home Thursday at 5 p.m.

Fire safety

Kelly Hill of the Clarendon Volunteer Fire Department explains to first graders Sonny Bahkta and B.J. Cenceros about what to do if a house fills with smoke.

This program was part of a traveling Fire Safety House Program that gives children first hand experience in a smoke filled home and fire safety.

Elementary students experience house fire safety first hand

Clarendon Elementary students experienced first hand last Thursday what it is like to be in a house filled with smoke. The Texas State Fire Marshall's office brought their traveling Fire Safety House Program to Clarendon.

Texas State Deputy Fire Marshall, Gary Dodson, travels the state with the trailer built to give children first hand experience on what it is like to be in a house filled with smoke. The two story trailer is built child size and has all the features of a real home.

With the help of the Clarendon Volunteer Fire Department, the Clarendon students were taught how to know if there is fire behind a door and other fire safety tips. The children then enter the second story bedroom where after a brief lesson, a fire alarm sounds and the room fills with a safe smoke. The children exit the room and crawl down safety ladders.

The Fire Safety House Program trailer was donated by the Texas Fire Chiefs Association Foundation, Inc., and is the only traveling program in the state.

Don Ray artwork to be exhibited here

The Western art of Don Ray will be exhibited as part of the activities at the third annual Col. Charles Goodnight Chuckwagon Cookoff next Saturday, Sept. 27.

The gates to the cookoff will open to the public at 10 a.m. on the grounds of the Saints' Roost Museum, and the art exhibit will begin at that time.

Ray is a Donley County native who now resides in Channing. He grew up south of Ashtola and attended public schools in both Ashtola and Clarendon. His works of art have been marketed in Arizona and throughout the country.

Ray's ranch upbringing inspires his beautiful Western landscapes, historical paintings, and bronze scultures. This is his second time to show at the Goodnight Cookoff.

A trade show will also be held on the museum grounds, featuring Western trappings, jewelry, and art.

Historical author Norman Dysart will also be on hand during the trade show. Dysart will sign copies of his book, Like Whispers In The Wind, which features the adventures of Bat Masterson in Old Mobeetie.

Tickets for the Goodnight Chuckwagon Cookoff may be purchased in advance at Henson's or the day of the event at the gate.

Watch next week's issue of The Clarendon Enterprise for more information on the cookoff or call 874-3723.

Broncos look to skin the Lynx Friday night

Clarendon must get a handle on Spearman's running game, especially District 1-2A All-District running back Michael Lusby for the Broncos Tooter Draper said.

The Broncos travel to Spearman Friday for an 8 p.m. kick-off.

The Lynx are sporting a 2-0 record after downing Clarendon's District 2-2A rivals Panhandle and Memphis. Memphis was the latest casualty, 47-6, Sept. 12, in Spearman.

"They're a good football team," Draper said of Spearman. "We're going to have to play sound football. We can't have any errors. They run the ball, and they have two backs in the backfield who look about the same. They gained about 100 yards against Memphis."

Draper said the Broncos will have to shut down Spearman's balanced team. "We feel we need to shut down the running game. They have three backs, including Lusby, who can run the ball."

Spearman made it to the 1996 regional round before falling, 26-3, to eventual state champion Iraan.

Clarendon was in good spirits despite their 31-19 loss to Boys Ranch, Sept. 12, in Boys Ranch, Draper said. "They were ready to go to work on their mistakes."

The Broncos scored on its second series in the opening quarter after forcing Boys Ranch to punt.

It took Scotty Elliott six plays to engineer a score, hitting senior Brent Gaines for a 37-yard TD pass at the 6:51 mark. Blake Bass' kick was good for a 7-0 lead.

"We had a lot of momentum early on, and we were feeling good," Draper said. "We kicked off to them, kicked it deep, and covered them; and we had them held three times on third and long."

The Roughriders responded in the second quarter at the 8:42 mark when they drove 55 yards for the touchdown pass. The kick was good, and the score was knotted at 7 apiece.

In a wild five minutes, Kareem Abdullah intercepted and returned the ball 40 yards for a TD. After Bass made good on his PAT, the Broncos led 14-7 with 4:52 remaining.

But Boys Ranch scored two touchdowns within the last 1:51 of the half for a 21-13 lead. The last TD came with :19 remaining before half.

"At halftime, we talked to them about blown assignments. The defense worked so hard to hold them and then they would score on a blown assignment. They were just young mistakes," Draper said. "They've never been under that situation before. We just talked to them about that. We felt like we were in the ballgame at that time."

Draper made a few adjustments in the locker room, and the Broncos felt good, he said.

Boys Ranch scored again with 10:28 in the third quarter and the Roughriders led 28-13. They scored their last TD with 2:16 remaining for a 31-13 lead, but Clarendon would not play dead.

"We got a little shot in the arm. (Abdullah) scored on a long pass play (67 yards with 1:19 remaining)."

Draper said the Boys Ranch contest "wasn't our best game. I don't think we were quite focused the way we needed to be. Again, with young kids that happens. It's kind of hard for them to understand that they need to get up every week. So you learn the hard way."

"I think they understand about being prepared for your opponent," Draper cited Josh Allred for recording 10 1/2 tackles on defense. "He did an exceptional job. (Abdullah) had an outstanding game, catching the ball I think somewhere around nine catches for 119 yards."

The junior varsity Broncos picked up their second win of the season Sept. 11 in Wellington by 36-14.

Freshman quarterback Colt Floyd ran in two TDs, while throwing two TD passes. One six-pointer was to Shanon Martin, while the other one was to Sam Holton. Martin also scampered in for another TD.

Floyd also connected with Zack Butts twice on the two-point conversion, and Martin once.

The eighth graders lost to Wellington, 30-0, while the seventh graders participated in a scrimmage.

Clarendon's junior high and J.V. squads travel to Panhandle Thursday for a 4:30 p.m., 6 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. start.

Local sales tax rebates decline

AUSTIN — State Comptroller John Sharp last week delivered a total of $172.7 million in monthly sales tax payments to 1,085 Texas cities and 117 counties.

"The Texas economy continues to sail along on a smooth course," Sharp said. "Sales tax rebates are running 6.1 percent over those for the first nine months of last year, showing steady consumer confidence with the growing job market."

The news wasn't as good for the City of Clarendon. The city's payment was $15,463.65, a decline of 9.16 percent from this time last year.

Howardwick was also down by 26.87 percent, receiving $1,304.75.

Hedley, on the other hand, was up by a margin of 193.3 percent for a total rebate of $1,171.86.

This month's payments include local sales taxes collected on July sales and reported to the Comptroller in August by businesses filing monthly returns.

Howardwick Board of Aldermen hold meeting

The Board of Aldermen for the City of Howardwick met in regular session on Sept. 9, 1997, at 7 p.m. in the Howardwick City Hall.

The 1996-1997 budget was amended, and the financial statement approved.

The board also adopted a resolution authorizing the submission of a Texas Community Development Disaster Relief Program Application to the Texas Dept. of Housing and Community Affairs. This is for the low water crossing project.

On Sept. 15, 1997, the Howardwick Aldermen met in a special called meeting at 11 a.m.

After a closed session, the board decided to ask the maintenance man what he would require to stay. His reply was $10 per hour. The board decided the city could not meet this amount and will seek to fill the position.

Clarendon CISD adopts 97-98 tax rate

The Board of Trustees of the Clarendon Consolidated Independent School District met in regular session on Sept. 9, 1997, at 7 p.m. in the Administration Building.

President Dan Hall read a letter of appreciation and congratulations addressed to Mrs. Helen Estlack from the CISD school board. On September 4, Mrs. Estlack was selected as Region XVI's Secondary Teacher of the Year.

A progress report was given on the new Bronco Gym, and the date for the open house was announced.

The following tax rates were adopted for the coming year:

- Maintenance and operation $1 12658 per $100 valuation
- Interest and sinking fund $0 07342 per $100 valuation
- Total tax rate $1 20000 per $100 valuation

The board decided to solicit bids for the liability, property, and vehicle insurance for the 97-98 school year.

The trustees also approved allowing senior citizens age 65 and older to attend CISD events at a cost of $1 per person.

Keeping an eye on Texas

Texas' population boom
 No wonder it looks like Texas is booming—from 1970 to 1995, the state averaged 274,729 births and 113,454 deaths each year. More new Texans came into the world in August, while more departed in January.

Reader: Minimum wage hike will raise prices, cause untrained to be unemployable

Dear Editor,

The Sept. 1, 1997, issue of the Nation's Restaurant News notes that before Congress' summer adjournment, the nation's Friend of the Working Person, Sen. Ted Kennedy, introduced a bill that would increase the minimum wage to $7.25 by the year 2002. Similar legislation was put forward by Rep. David Bonior.

Since the minimum wage increased to $4.75 last September, I've read in various trade journals and in the business section of newspapers that fewer minimum wage earners are being hired and current workers are being fired. The people managing to keep their jobs are not only having to take up the slack but are also having their hours cut. This requires that people, hourly and salaried, are having to work harder and faster. The increase is also limiting the number of raises and bonuses that employers can give out. And it's only going to get worse now that the minimum wage is $5.15, an increase of 8%.

A worker, Mr. D.M. Witt, might say: "Those evil employers. All they think about is making money off my sweat." Well, an employee is an asset, and any asset must be used to create a certain amount of money to pay the bills which, of course, includes payroll. An increase in the minimum wage means an increase in union wages which means that union labor is more expensive which means an increase in the cost of utilities, supplies, insurance, etc.

"You're boring me!" ol' D.M. says. Okay, let's put it at the personal level. McDonald's in Amarillo has changed its prices across the board? It looks like a 10¢ increase on everything. In my restaurant, even though I have no employees, I've seen an average increase of 6% in my costs since June. "So? Sounds like a personal problem." So, it means that before the end of the year I am going to be forced to raise the prices on my menu.

What's my point in boring the D.M. Witts of the world with what should be taught as elementary economics? Just this: the minimum wage only increases the cost of everything and causes the untrained to be unemployable. It also keeps the unions, ergophobes, and other intellectually slothful voting for Ted Kennedy, David Bonior, and their ilk.

Attorney says:

Tobacco industry anxious for trial in Texas

On September 8, 1997, the tobacco industry announced that under no circumstances would they agree to settle the pending tobacco litigation here in Texas, The State of Texas vs. The American Tobacco Company, et al. On September 29, 1997, jury selection will begin in Texarkana, Texas.

As a tobacco industry attorney, we are anxious to get this matter before a Texas jury because the settlement proposal currently being reviewed by Congress does not, and could not, address the merits of the Medicaid reimbursement claims raised by the State of Texas.

Frankly, the Medicaid claims raised in the State's lawsuit are without legal merit.

The State of Texas is attempting to circumvent due process and collect damages through the use of a statistical model — a model which fails to show that smoking caused any medical condition for any individual Medicaid recipient, much less whether any alleged medical condition can be traced to any specific medical expense paid by Medicaid.

The question raised by the State's novel lawsuit is this: "Does the tobacco industry — manufacturers of a legal product — have a responsibility to reimburse the State for moneys paid on behalf of Medicaid recipients by permitting the State to use a theoretical and legally unaccepted method of proof to support a claim for damages?"

Obviously such ill-founded reasoning leaves us no alternative but continue to take for damage trial. The State's multi-billion dollar claim for damages has to be based on facts, not theory. The companies named in this lawsuit are convinced that the State's novel legal theory will not be adopted by a jury of common sense Texans.

Underscoring our contention that this lawsuit is without merit is the fact that on September 8, 1997, Judge David Folsom dismissed several of the State's key claims against the industry and raised serious doubts about the validity of some of the other claims brought by the State.

Please remember that the State, while choosing to keep tobacco a legal product in the State of Texas, has not been kept in a closet over the years regarding awareness of the potential health risks associated with tobacco. State offices are filled with literally thousands of documents that prove the State has been fully aware of the potential health risks for decades.

State departments, health agencies, State scientific research centers, along with multiple State medical schools, hospitals, and independent organizations such as the American Lung Association, the American Heart Association, and the American Cancer Society for years have repeatedly warned about the potential dangers of smoking. Instead of taking remedial action, the State has continued to increase the taxes on the sale of tobacco products. In fact, the State has repeatedly voted down bills that would have earmarked tobacco excise dollars to pay for the medical expenses of Medicaid recipients.

It needs to be pointed out and fully understood that agreeing to a proposed resolution of national issues like marketing, regulatory oversight and youth access is in no way an admission of guilt by the tobacco industry. Instead, it is merely an attempt on the part of both the tobacco industry and state and federal governmental bodies to resolve some of the common issues addressed by the various state lawsuits.

In fact, with those issues aside, we are better able to focus on the bigger picture issue in this lawsuit — the flawed and dangerous legal maneuvering being used by the State of Texas in an attempt to collect damages without proving causation. If the State is allowed to set such a dangerous legal precedent, it will put all businesses in Texas at risk.

It is our continued belief that this lawsuit is without merit, and for that reason, we look forward to going to trial on September 29.

Still No Surgeon General

America is in crisis... still. Our nation is without a Surgeon General, and as a result people everywhere are blatantly endangering their health.

The last Surgeon General, Joycelyn Elders, left her post in 1994 after she spoke to much about whether young people were "masters of their domain," to use a term from TV's Seinfeld.

Ever on top of the situation, President Clinton nominated Henry Foster to be Surgeon General. Unfortunately, Dr. Foster didn't make it through the senate confirmation process.

For three years now, the USA has been medically adrift. Our citizens are getting grossly overweight because they are eating things that aren't good for them. A great number of people have reportedly had heart attacks in the last four years. People, both old and (gasp) young, are still smoking! Most troubling, studies also indicate that since 1994, several people have in fact... died.

Who will stop this insanity? Who will save us? Where is the silver lining in this cloud of despair that looms like a guillotine over the heads of the American people?

The answer, my friends, is Dr. David Satcher. He is the president's new nominee to fill the post of Surgeon General.

Now director of the Centers for Disease Control (which is known for its zeal in protecting Americans from themselves), Dr. Satcher is well qualified to take care of us.

Let us pray that Dr. Satcher is confirmed. If he is not, then we may all eventually die of something.

Seriously folks, if we've made it four years without a Surgeon General, one wonders what good the post is to America and why it's worth what we spend on it. Why not just abolish the office altogether?

From Tax Reform to Improving Our School, A Lot More Needs to be Done

I spent a lot of time this past month talking to people about the tax and budget plan which Congress passed in July and how it will affect their lives.

Most of the people I heard from were happy to hear that a balanced budget had finally been passed, and were even happier to hear that Congress had passed a tax cut for the first time in 16 years. But as pleased as they were that these things had happened, most people I talked to also believe there's a lot more work left to be done.

Taxes are still too high, and the tax code itself remains a complicated mess — one that has too many loopholes for those don't pay their taxes, and too many headaches for those who do. Government regulations are still a problem, creating roadblocks for small business owners trying to get ahead and nightmares for small family farmers just trying to get by.

As for education, it used to be that parents would send their children back to school excited about what they were going to learn. Now, they send them off with concern about what they might not learn and fear for their safety. The teachers and students aren't the problem. The problem is the system, and the fact that the parents feel as though they're losing control over what's taught to their kids.

In short, the people I heard from in August said that Congress has a lot of work left to do. I agree. The budget and tax bills were a step in the right direction.

But until we have a smaller, smarter government that lets people keep more of what they earn, the job which people elected us to do is far from complete.

It was a must-win situation for both teams last Friday night in Broncho Stadium. The visiting Kress Kangaroos had been rated highly in pre-season polls but had been blown away 37-0 by New Deal in their first game. The Clarendon Bronchos, also high rated (fifth in the state AA pre-season poll), had lost their first game to Canadian, 21-19. When the smoke cleared Friday night following a tough struggle, the Bronchos came out ahead, barely. It was 7-6.

Coloring books teach kids about careers in historic preservation

AUSTIN - Just in time for the beginning of a new school year, the Texas Historical Commission is offering schools free coloring books that focus on careers in historic preservation.

The coloring books, targeted at the fourth grade level, discuss why knowledge and understanding of historic people, buildings, cemeteries, monuments, and other artifacts are important. The book defines roles and educational requirements that archeologists, historians, and architects need to pursue a career in this field.

The coloring book was created as fun outlet to encourage children of all ages and ethnic backgrounds to investigate careers in preservation. Free classroom sets are available. Schools interested in receiving the literature are only responsible for paying shipping charges. For more information contact: Roni Morales, Publications Division, Texas Historical Commission, 512-463-8886.

Southwest Airlines and the Area Agency on Aging of the Panhandle have announced the start of the 19th annual "Home for the Holidays" program which will provide Panhandle seniors with complimentary tickets to visit family and friends over the holidays.

Applications are available at senior centers across the Panhandle and by contacting Area Agency on Aging at 372-3381 or 1-800-642-6008.

To apply, a person must be 65 years of age or older and demonstrate a strong economic need. Deadline for submission of applications is Friday, October 17, 1997.

Fifteen applicants from the Panhandle area will be selected to receive complimentary round-trip tickets based on their need for economic assistance and their reason for travel.

Married couples may name their spouses on the application if they would like the selection committee to consider both as possible recipients. Past recipients may apply, and only one application per person will be accepted.

No ground transportation or additional travel expenses will be provided. Recipients may travel anytime between Monday, December 1, 1997, through Saturday, January 10, 1998.

Since the program began in 1979, thousands of senior citizens have been sent "Home for the Holidays."

In 1986, President Reagan cited the program as an outstanding community service program and awarded it the Presidential Award for Private Sector Initiatives.

Clarendon grants use of airport property for weather monitoring

The Board of Aldermen of the City of Clarendon met in regular session Sept. 9, 1997, at 7 p.m. in the Board Room of City Hall.

Mason and Hanger Corporation asked the city to grant them use of a facility to mount a sensor for thunderstorm equipment. The board approved letting them place lightning detector sensors on property at the airport.

Four citizens were elected to the Economic Development Board of Directors. Steve Smith and Bob McCombs will serve another term each, and Trey Chamberlain and Gayla Fletcher were added to the board. The aldermen also approved the Economic Development budget.

A public hearing for the city budget was presented, and the budget was approved by the board.

The airport agreement was reviewed and accepted.

The aldermen approved $2,000 from the Motel Bed Tax fund to advertise the Col. Goodnight Chuckwagon Cookoff for the Saints' Roost Museum.

You Don't Need An Invitation To Shop Locally . . . But, In Case You Were Waiting

You know that it doesn't require a written invitation to shop at your local merchant's place of business. However, many people seem to be waiting for one. The truth is that the prices and selection speak for themselves. Chances are your local merchants have lived in your community for many years, so they know your wants and needs. They have in stock the items for which you are looking. If they don't have an item, they can probably get it . . . or at least refer you to the local business that does.

If You're Waiting for Your Invitation to Shop-At-Home, You're Missing Some Really Great Deals!

PUBLIC NOTICE
 BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED
CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS
 SPECIAL ELECTION
 NOVEMBER 4, 1997

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT
 Senate Joint Resolution 36 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow a person to hold the position of municipal judge in more than one municipality.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
 "The constitutional amendment to allow a person who holds the office of municipal court judge to hold at the same time more than one civil office for which the person receives compensation."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT
 Senate Joint Resolution 43 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to limit the maximum annual increase in homestead appraisals for each year since the most recent tax appraisal. The amendment would also permit the legislature to allow the governing body of a school district to elect to apply the law providing for the transfer of the age-65-and-older school property tax freeze to the person's new homestead, if the move to the new residence homestead occurred before the law took effect.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
 "The constitutional amendment to authorize the Legislature to limit increases in the appraised value of residence homesteads for ad valorem taxation and to permit a school district to calculate the school property tax freeze applicable to the residence homestead of an elderly person or the surviving spouse of an elderly person in accordance with the law authorizing the transfer of the school property tax freeze to a different homestead regardless of whether that law was in effect at the time the person established the person's homestead."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT
 Senate Joint Resolution 45 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to authorize counties, cities, towns, and other local taxing entities to grant exemptions or other forms of ad valorem tax relief on property on which approved water conservation initiatives have been implemented.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
 "The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to permit a taxing unit to grant an exemption or other relief from ad valorem taxes on property on which a water conservation initiative has been implemented."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT
 House Joint Resolution 104 proposes an amendment to update the Texas Constitution by deleting duplicate numbering in its provisions and removing certain of its obsolete portions.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
 "The constitutional amendment eliminating duplicate numbering in and certain obsolete provisions of the Texas Constitution."

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT
 Senate Joint Resolution 19 proposes an amendment to allow the Supreme Court of Texas to hold sessions at any location in this state. Currently, the court is limited to holding sessions only at Austin, the seat of state government.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
 "The constitutional amendment authorizing the supreme court to sit to transact business at any location in this state."

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT
 Senate Joint Resolution 39 proposes a constitutional amendment to repeal the current provision which provides that the board of the Texas Growth Fund may not invest money in a business unless the business has disclosed to the board whether it has any direct financial investment in or with South Africa or Namibia.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
 "The constitutional amendment allowing the Texas growth fund to continue to invest in businesses without requiring those businesses to disclose investments in South Africa or Namibia."

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT
 Senate Joint Resolution 17 proposes a constitutional amendment to create the Texas Water Development Fund II as a fund separate and distinct from the Texas Water Development Fund. The amendment would authorize the Texas Water Development Board to administer the fund and issue general obligation bonds for purposes of the fund under guidelines set forth in the amendment.

The amendment would also allow the Board to use loan repayments coming into the fund after the end of the fiscal year to make bond debt service payments, and would provide certain conditions for the flow of funds for repayment of Texas agricultural water conservation bonds.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
 "The constitutional amendment relating to the authorization to the Texas Water Development Board to transfer existing bond authorizations for water supply, water quality, flood control, or state participation from one category of use to another category to maximize the use of existing funds and relating to more efficient operation of the bond programs."

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 31 proposes a constitutional amendment which would authorize home equity lending, in which a loan could be secured by a lien against the borrower's homestead.  "The amendment to the Texas Constitution expanding the types of liens for home equity loans that a lender, with the homeowner's consent, may place against a homestead."

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT
 House Joint Resolution 96 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the legislature to authorize a property tax of five cents for each $100 valuation in rural fire prevention districts which are located in Harris County. The constitution currently authorizes a property tax of three cents for each $100 valuation in rural fire prevention districts regardless of what county they are in.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
 "The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to authorize an ad valorem tax rate in rural fire prevention districts located in Harris County of five cents on each $100 of taxable value of property."

PROPOSITION NO. 10 ON THE BALLOT
 Senate Joint Resolution 33 proposes a constitutional amendment to permanently dedicate monies from the Texas Crime Victims' Compensation Fund (and its auxiliary fund) so that they are used only for assisting victims of crime and not for any other purpose. If an episode of mass violence occurred, however, money from the funds could be used to assist victims of the mass violence if all other sources of authorized emergency assistance were depleted first.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
 "The constitutional amendment designating the purposes for which money in the compensation to victims of crime fund and the compensation to victims of crime auxiliary fund may be used."

PROPOSITION NO. 11 ON THE BALLOT
 House Joint Resolution 59 proposes a constitutional amendment to prohibit the Legislature from authorizing additional state debt payable from the general revenue fund if the resulting annual debt service (the amount needed each year to make payments) would exceed five percent of the annual general revenue available over the last three fiscal years, excluding revenues constitutionally dedicated for purposes other than payment of state debt.

The term "additional state debt" does not include bonds that, although backed by the full faith and credit of the state, are reasonably expected to be paid from revenue sources other than the general revenue fund.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
 "The constitutional amendment limiting the amount of state debt payable from the general revenue fund."

PROPOSITION NO. 12 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 55 proposes a constitutional amendment to provide that if the Texas Supreme Court does not act on a motion for a rehearing within 180 days of the motion's filing, the motion is denied.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
 "The constitutional amendment to establish a deadline for supreme court action on a motion for rehearing."

PROPOSITION NO. 13 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 8 proposes a constitutional amendment to establish the Texas Tomorrow trust fund dedicated exclusively to the prepayment of tuition and fees for higher education. The amendment would guarantee that if there is not enough money during any fiscal year to pay the appropriate tuition and required fees, the needed money will be appropriated out of the first available money coming into the state treasury each fiscal year.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
 "The constitutional amendment to encourage persons to plan and save for young Texans' college education, to extend the full faith and credit of the state to protect the Texas tomorrow fund of the prepaid higher education tuition program, and to establish the Texas tomorrow fund as a constitutionally protected trust fund."

Nominations being accepted for Boll Weevil Advisory Committee members

AUSTIN - Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry recently said he is accepting names of cotton farmers to serve on boll weevil advisory committees for the Northern Rolling Plains area.

The committees, comprising cotton farmers from each county in these areas where cotton production occurs, will advise the commissioner about whether referenda should be held to establish boll weevil eradication zones and programs in the Northern Rolling Plains and Blacklands/Central Texas areas. Regional advisory committees, appointed by the commissioner, were created under the state's recent boll weevil eradication law.

"I'm looking for people who can help counsel me on the unique aspects of cotton production and boll weevil control in these areas," Perry said. "I'm also soliciting ideas on the development of these advisory committees."

Recent legislation did not create boll weevil control zones for the Northern Rolling Plains and Blacklands/Central Texas areas, and elections must be held to create zones for these areas and to implement boll weevil control programs.

Advisory committee members will make recommendations to Commissioner Perry about the eradication needs of each individual county in the proposed zones. Recommendations will include producers' interests in eradication, zone boundaries, and assessment levels. Those selected to serve will meet in their local areas with TDA representatives beginning in December.

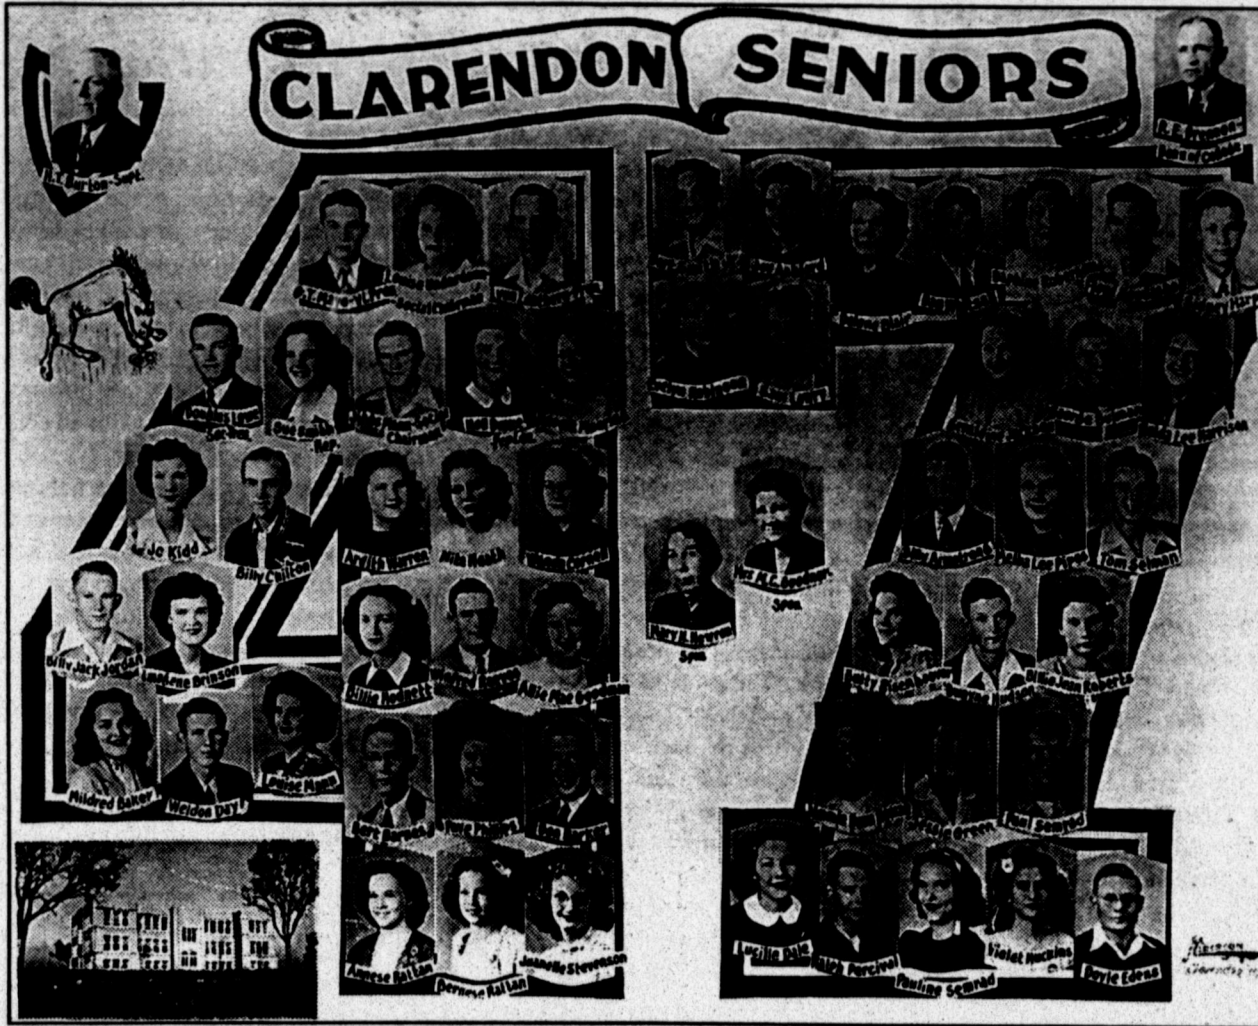

To submit names for consideration, please mail or fax suggestions to TDA, and include general information about the nominated cotton grower, including a mailing address and phone number for the grower. Nominations may be sent to the Texas Department of Agriculture at P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711, or faxed to (512) 463-1104.

Nominations will be accepted until Oct. 20.

Northern Rolling Plains nominations are being accepted from the following counties: Childress, Clay, Collingsworth, Cottle, Donley, Foard, Gray, Hall, Hardeman, King, Wheeler, Wichita, Wilbarger, and the northern part of Archer.

More reference material? Plenty of it at Burton Memorial Library!

You don't have to be a student in school to enjoy the lovely references about to be mentioned. They can't be checked out, but are well worth time spent in the library experiencing the wealth of information they offer.

One of the books that will catch your eye is Audubon Society Baby Elephant Folio by Virginia Marie and Roger Tory Peterson. The title is very appropriate for this 435 page, 15"x13" book.

John Jay Audubon, America's best known ornithological pioneer, accomplished his work during the nineteenth century. In 1820, Audubon conceived the idea of publishing an American bird painting collection from their natural surroundings. In the folio, many of his beautiful paintings are reproduced in accurate, lovely color. You who enjoy observing nature will recognize Audubon's sensitiveness to beauty which is evident through his paintings. According to World Book Encyclopedia, "The National Audubon society, named after John Audubon, is the oldest and largest national conservation organization in North America with about 300 branches and affiliated clubs. Its major purpose is to advance public understanding of the value and needs of soil, water, plants, and wildlife conservation, and to promote the protection of birds."

Another Audubon treat is Imperial Collection of Audubon

Animals with 150 full color prints edited by Victor Cahalane.

Snakes of Texas by Alan Tennant includes detailed descriptions of species, habitats, size, behavior, scale form, prey, reproduction areas, and is definitely another asset to the library's references.

Another beautifully illustrated reference in which community citizens might be especially interested is The American Cowboy compiled by author, Caleb Pirtle, and Texas Cowboy Artist Association members. The illustrations seem almost "life-like." Information is categorized under titles, Cowboy, Trails, Ranches, and Legacy.

Leo Meier's and Jan Read's Texas Wildflowers is another reference which is not only informative, but attractive.

The new Guinness Book of World Records, Larousse's Encyclopedia of Animal World, and Concise Encyclopedia of Science and Technology containing over 2000 pages are available in the Reference section.

When your Elementary and Junior High children need additional information concerning United States areas, they'll find it in a charming set of 50 books entitled New Enchantment of America. Each book, in the youth section, concerns an individual state. These may be checked out.

If you are in the habit of thinking only "encyclopedia" when you think "reference," you are in for a treat. You may be surprised how enjoyable a reference book can be. It's bound to make your children's research more appealing. Even your toddler will enjoy the magnificent pictures. Why not check it out?

Southwest Outdoors: A Long Drive, Great Facilities, and Tough Fishing

by Mel Philips

Just returned from the 1997 Honey Hole Team State Championship held on Lake Choke Canyon. This lake is located near the little town of Three Rivers about an hour and a half south of San Antonio, Texas. Fifteen teams of excellent anglers from the High Plains Region had gone through a five tournament season just to earn the right to make a long, eleven hour drive to Choke Canyon and test their fishing skills against the other 230 teams from across Texas. Each of these two-angler teams entertained hopes of winning one of the four Champion bass boats that were among the prizes and cash for the top finishers.

After two days of official practice and two days of the actual tournament, some of the best anglers in the State of Texas are still trying to figure out how to catch their first bass at Choke. The fishing was terrible. The Texas Longhorns had more fun playing UCLA than most anglers had playing bass at Choke Canyon. During this two-day championship event, only 109 teams of the 245 participating teams managed to bring a keeper fourteen-inch bass to the scales.

The local team of David Jones and Jim Braswell managed to catch two keepers that weighed 3.86 lbs. For their efforts, they finished in 51st place, one place out of the prize money. Jack Richardson, who fished with Mike Kelley, probably best summed up the feelings of the rest of our local teams when he said, "I can't wait to get home and go fishing on our Panhandle lakes. These folks can keep their gar, the alligators, and the 100 degree heat." The winning team of Choke Canyon fishing guide Jerry Dunn and Bruce Fox had a two-day total of just over nineteen pounds, and each angler is now the new owner of a 20-foot Champion Boat rigged with a 200 HP Evinrude motor. Legendary Elroy Kruger, one of the best bass anglers in Texas and the top fishing guide at Choke Canyon managed to catch one bass in two days on his home lake.

The 1998 Honey Hole Championship will be held next September on Lake Sam Rayburn and the fishing is guaranteed to be better than at Choke Canyon.

While the fishing was worse than bad, the facilities at this State Park are incredible. Texas Parks and Wildlife has somehow constructed a full service resort complex that contains an Olympic sized swimming pool, tennis court, basketball court, over a hundred covered picnic sites, scores of lakeside camping spots complete with water and electricity hookups, a seminar center, Nature Center, and even an air conditioned gymnasium that will seat two hundred people for dinner. While Palo Duro Canyon State Park remains my favorite state park, someone has sure poured a lot of taxpayer dollars into Choke Canyon State Park.

One look at the facilities (or rather the lack of facilities) as managed by the federal authorities at Lake Meredith, and maybe we ought to see if Texas Parks and Wildlife is interested in taking over a lake in the Panhandle.

One thing is certain, the business and political leaders in charge of Choke Canyon have danced circles around those of the Panhandle.

LAST CHANCE: The last bass tournament of the year that is open to all interested anglers will take place this Saturday morning, September 20, at Lake Greenbelt with a three-bass Fun Fishing Tournament. Registration at Lakeside Marina opens at 5:30 a.m. and the official fishing hours will be 6:45 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. The entry fee for this catch-and-release tournament is only $25. All kids under 17 may enter free when accompanied by an adult contestant.

Based on 100 entries, this tournament will pay $1,000 for first place, $500 for second place, and $250 for third place. Prizes will be awarded fourth through ninth place, and the tenth place angler will pocket $100. A $50 Luck-of-the-draw for all contestants, even those who fail to catch a keeper, will be held at the weigh-in. Immediately following the weigh-in ceremonies, Kirk Balke and his family will host a free bar-B-Q for all contestants.

Come join the fun, the fishing, and the free food at Lake Greenbelt. Best lures should be Pop-R's and white buzzbaits on topwater during the early morning, followed by spinnerbaits and crankbaits on the points as the sun gets higher. During the heat of the day, try working the mossbeds and flooded trees with Carolina-rigged and Texas-rigged plastic worms. Secret color for Lake Greenbelt is pink, but don't tell anybody you throw pink lures.

NEW MANAGER AT LAKE GREENBELT—Don Meyers is the new manager of the Lakeside Marina. In the fishing world, Meyers is probably best known for making the famous Pop's Lures. Now he is looking forward to spending his retirement helping anglers catch more fish at Lake Greenbelt. He can be reached at the Lakeside Marina by calling 806-874-5111.

Archery season in Texas for mule deer, white-tailed deer and turkey opens Sept. 27 and runs through Oct. 26. Check the Texas Parks and Wildlife Outdoor Annual brochure for details and a county by county listing for hunting opportunities in Texas. This excellent and free brochure is available wherever hunting and fishing licenses are sold.

Conservation efforts continue on La Salle shipwreck

COLLEGE STATION - Conservation of the 1,000,000+ artifacts recovered from French explorer La Salle's ship, the Belle, is continuing at the Texas A&M Conservation Research Laboratory in College Station. Conservation is expected to take approximately three to five years before all the artifacts are ready for viewing. Gov. Bush's Office is working with the U.S. state department concerning the French government's recent claim to the ship and its artifacts.

Plans are underway to construct a temporary home for the ship's hull. Construction of a 60 foot by 20 foot vat has been approved to hold the hull during its re-assembly. The Belle will sit on a viewable lift so she can be raised and lowered in and out of the vat with a push of a button. The reconstruction of the hull is expected to begin in January 1998. Meanwhile, the Texas Department of Criminal Justice has agreed to help digitize drawings of the hull, some as long as 30 feet, to be used for analysis and re-assembly of the Belle. Help from the Department of Criminal Justice should speed up the documentation of the hull's timbers, re-assembly of the ship's hull, and completion of the cradle design that will eventually hold the reassembled ship.

The facial reconstruction of the skull found during the excavation of the 311-year old ship last October is nearing completion and should be unveiled in fall 1997. Plans are still being finalized for DNA testing on tissue remains of the skeleton. Interactive trunks transport kids back in time

AUSTIN - Until now, Los Caminos del Rio trunks sponsored by the Texas Historical Commission and the Institute of Texas Cultures have only been available to the South Texas border region. Beginning in fall 1997, rental requests for 1998 will be accepted from across the state.

The educational trunks, oriented towards fourth, fifth, sixth, and seventh grades supply a hands-on look at South Texas history. Three trunks are currently touring with themes on ranching/agriculture, modes of transportation and architecture. Students can look, touch, and even wear some of the artifacts found in the three theme trunks. Each trunk also includes background information on its contents and topic and provides critical thinking activities and curriculum for the students and teachers.

The trunks are housed and rented by the Institute of Texas Cultures in San Antonio. Each trunk can be rented for a two week period for $45. For more information contact: Kitty Henderson, Regional and International Heritage Programs, Texas Historical Commission, 512-463-5755.

The old depot building is looking better and better thanks to the efforts of a few volunteers. James Owens is heading the renovations for the Saints' Roost Museum and hopes to have the building painted for the up-coming Col. Charles Goodnight Chuckwagon Cookoff on Sept. 27. Enterprise Photo.
