County Commissioners Approve Request For Farm-To-Market Road

Three petitions were presented to the Donley County Commissioners Court Monday asking for their approval and acceptance of a proposed Farm-to-Market road joining the present FM extending south from Alanreed and the one extending north from Lelia Lake. The court met in a called session Tuesday afternoon and accepted and approved the request by a 3 to 1 vote. The building of the road will now be up to the State Highway Commission.

This proposed road will give the people living in the north part of the county, south of Alanreed, their first prospects of a paved route to the county seat. Heretofore and presently, these people had to drive to Highway 86 when the weather is bad in order to come to Clarendon on official business or otherwise.

In addition, the new road would give farmers in that area another outlet to gins and other crop markets in this area. There are 9,571 acres of cultivated land in the area that this road will accommodate when harvest time comes. It will also give the Alanreed school district an opportunity to join the Clarendon district and benefit from the Junior College here as well as the public schools. Some 65 students live in that area at present that could attend grade school through junior college.

Presently we understand that it cost the county approximately $3,000 a year to keep the river crossing open near the RO Ranch headquarters. This crossing is usable only a part of the time for passenger car travel and a much lesser time for heavier traffic. A hard surfaced road and a good river crossing would have the county several thousand dollars that is badly needed elsewhere.

NOTICE—LITTLE LEAGUERS

An appeal is being made to all members of the Little League that still have baseball suits in their possession, to please turn them in right away so they can be counted, cleaned up and stored away for the season next year. Your cooperation will be appreciated. Leave the suits with Maurice Hart at the barber shop.

Future Outlook Of Band Is Bright

Willard Edgett, local band instructor, announced yesterday that the local band had the brightest outlook since he had taken over here. Thirty-eight youngsters in the 5th and 6th grades have enrolled in the beginners band which is the largest number in recent years and all these have been assigned and are already on instruments. The Band program offers one of the most enjoyable and beneficial class a youngster can enroll in, Edgett added.

This beginners group will be presented at a future football game this fall. In the meantime they will receive individual instruction along with group instruction as follows: Monday 4 p.m. of each week, all reed and woodwinds; Tuesday-4 p.m., all brass; Wednesday, 4 p.m.—percussion instruments. Any parent with child desiring to begin band may still do so if really interested, Edgett stated. Five additional instruments have been added by the school this year and they are baritone, baritone sax and three French horns.

33 IN H.S. BAND
Edgett presently has thirty-three in his high school band with 15 of this number from the 7th and 8th grade. The Drum Major is Judy Thompson and twirlers are Jill Benson, Dolphia Wallace, Janis Smith, Donna Estlack and Jackie McClellan. The high school band will make their first special event road trip next Monday, Sept. 19th, when they go to Amarillo and take part in the big parade preceding the opening of the Tri-State Fair.

Officers for the high school band were elected Sept. 12. They are: president, Larry Stewart; vice-pres., Frances Wallace; sec. and treas., Donna Estlack; reporter, Janis Smith.

MASCOT TRYOUTS SAT.

Tryouts for band mascot will be held this coming Saturday, Sept. 17th, at 9 a.m. at the band hall. Children between the ages of 4 and 7 years are eligible.

COTTON FESTIVAL QUEEN

KATHERINE M. BURNS

Queen Katherine McPherson Burns will reign over the Ninth Annual Cotton Festival to be held in Hedley Friday and Saturday, October 14th and 15th. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil McPherson of Hedley.

Friday, the 14th, has been designated Old Settlers' Day, and the Donley County Pioneer Association will have charge of the program from 1 to 3 p.m. They have a fine program arranged, with Honest Jess and his Western Cavaliers from Radio and TV Station KGNC in Amarillo, heading up that arrangement.

The Festival will be arranged practically the same as in past years, with continuous free entertainment during both days and nights. The Festival will be enlarged this year, with more events, more food, and better entertainment.

All Festival committees have been appointed, and have been working for several weeks. They have already reported more events lined up than in past years, and they are still working. Aubrey Cherry will be General Chairman, with Harold White and Clifford Johnson as Co-Chairman.

TRADE DAY WINNERS

Winners in the Trade Day event here Saturday were $25—Jesse Vick; $10—O. T. Hill; $5—C. E. Blackburn. Bob Moss Pharmacy was the only participating merchant and was listed on the last two tickets.

Flower Show Expected To Be Best In Years

Les Beaux Arts Club will again sponsor the Donley County Flower Show in conjunction with the County Fair. Judging will begin at the Fair Barn at 11 o'clock Friday morning. Everyone is invited to bring their garden flowers and enter them in this show.

The regular time for bringing flowers to enter is Friday morning between 8 and 10 a.m. The fair barn will be open Thursday night and those who are unable to bring their arrangements Friday morning may bring them to the barn and leave them at that time. You are asked to label them plainly.

Mrs. Hall Hardin and Mrs. W. C. Thornberry will pick up arrangements for those unable to take them to the fair. Because of the abundance of Zinnias this year, there will be a special section for these old-time favorites. There will also be sections for Dahlias and for arrangements by Home Ec. girls. The children's division will be separate from adult arrangements and judged individually.

Les Beaux members on the Flower Show committee are Mrs. Emmett Simmons, Mrs. Forrest Sawyer, Mrs. Tommie Saye and Mrs. Stina Cain.

Week end visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Borden and Regina were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Borden of Floyd, N.M., Mr. and Mrs. Earl Widener and Keith of Plainview, Mrs. Olin Walker of Blair, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hawkins of Groom.

Still Time To Enroll In College Night Classes

O. E. Patterson, who is subbing in for Dean Oliver Able who is ill and in the hospital, announced yesterday that the enrollment in College night classes Monday night was very good but there is still room for additional students who wish to enroll. Enrollment will continue next Monday night and again Monday night, Sept. 26th, which will be the deadline.

Patterson stated that shorthand and typing will definitely be offered. Accounting 224 classes will meet on Monday night and 114 on Tuesday night of each week. A good enrollment was evident in both Biology 114 and History 213, he added.

Anyone interested in taking college night courses may contact Mr. Patterson in the Dean's office through the week or either of the next two Monday nights.

BAND PARENTS SCHEDULE SUPPER

Band Parents will meet in the Homemaking Department Monday evening, September 19, for a covered dish supper. Time for the gathering has been set for 8:30 p.m. Parents will be contacted regarding what to bring.

This is a very important meeting and it is hoped that all parents of band students will plan to be present. New officers for the current school year will assume their duties. Plans for the crowning of the band queen will be made and any other business of the organization taken care of.

Bronchos Journey To Panhandle Friday Night To Tangle With Panthers

With one loss and one win to their credit, the Bronchos will journey to Panhandle Friday night to mix it up with the Panthers. Game time will be 8 p.m.

Coach Tom Jinks reports the Bronchos are ready for another win and will be doing their very best when they meet the Panthers Friday night. Both teams got their first taste of victory last Friday night, Panhandle defeated Groom 6-2 and the Bronchos defeated Silvertown 40-0. The Groom team is reported as a strong Class B contender and this is a good indication that the Bronchos will not have an easy time of dumping the Panthers Friday night.

We shall also have an opportunity to see exactly what Groom has to offer the following week when the Groom team comes to Broncho Stadium. Coach Jinks said the Broncho line-up would probably be changed quite a bit this week with fullback Philip Able taking over the right end position. Neel Carter will move to left half, Dwight McAnear as quarterback, Jim Robinson to fullback position and Jerry Elmore at the right half position. Eddie Tipton was injured in the Silvertown game last week and his chances of being able to play Friday night are slim, Jinks added. The probable starting lineup for the Broncho line will be Bill Hermesmeyer at left end, Don McAnear at left tackle, Leon Gibbs at left guard, Ronnie Tyra at center, Frank Hermesmeyer at right guard, Jerry Gray at right tackle and Philip Able at right end.

Make the trip with the Bronchos to Panhandle Friday night and give them your support that goes a long ways in helping win a tough ball game.

Broncho B Squad To Play Lefors Here Tonight

The Broncho B Squad will have their first game of the season here tonight and their opponent will be the Pirate B Squad from Lefors. The B team is coached by coach Mack Choate. The B squad is composed of mostly freshmen boys but we really have a bunch of hustlers, Choate stated. Since the B-Squad will be playing a regular schedule, an admission charge will be made for all their games this year. It will be 25 and 50 cents.

The B squad has a nine game schedule. The remainder of their schedule is as follows: Sept. 22—McLean, there Sept. 29—White Deer, there Oct. 6—Panhandle, here Oct. 13—White Deer, here Oct. 20—McLean, here Oct. 27—Lefors, there Nov. 3—Panhandle, there Nov. 10—Memphis, here land which is susceptible to serious wind erosion. Many cooperators, such as Mrs. Ora E. Bray, are taking advantage of district equipment and sowing rye in cotton middles with a three row inter-row seeder. Coleman and Hester Shield used custom made seeders mounted on cultivators. Planters of this type permit planting of a winter cover crop in cotton land when cotton will be harvested too late to put cover in after harvest. As cotton is late throughout the county, it would be wise for other growers to get their cover crops planted this month. After harvest may be too late.

Cooperators can take advantage of ACP payments on rye seeded as a winter cover crop. Rye should be seeded at the rate of 48 to 60 pounds to the acre. When ACP payment is received, grazing will be permitted after February 1, 1961, but none of the growth may be harvested for hay or seed. Farmers interested in renting district owned equipment should check with Horace Green in the Clarendon area, Ed Dishman in the Lelia Lake area, or Red Doherty in the Hedley area.

Taxpayers' Nightmare
A billion dollars is a lot of money, but our national debt is a fantastic $265 billion. The Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, New York, a state-wide tax research organization, calculated that even if the government should end each year with a surplus of 1.1 billion and apply all of it to paying off the debt, it would still take about 260 years — until the year 2220 — for the entire debt to be paid.

In the meantime, just the interest on the debt makes it the second most costly item on your federal tax bill. Only national defense costs more. We must continue to tell our legislators — on the local and state as well as the federal level — to keep government spending within revenues and step up the battle to reduce the debt.

According to the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, Inc., interest on the public debt runs to $18,073.33 a minute, or $1,084,400 an hour. If you have a $5,000 a year income, your share of the cost is $51. Interest is now the second most costly item in your federal tax bill, headed only by national security expenditures.

AUSTIN — A family trying to get all slicked up to make a good impression on important company can't take time out for a domestic squabble.

On this premise, the Texas Industrial Commission, whose job is to lure new industry to Texas, voted to steer clear of political hassles and concentrate on putting the best foot forward.

Vote on this decision was 5-to-1. Voting no was Al H. Chesser, railroad brotherhood representative, who has urged the Commission to sponsor a legislative program including repeal of the state's "right to work" law.

"Our job is to sell Texas," said E. B. Germany, Commission chairman. He said he felt the Commission would be hampered in doing so if it got involved in controversial legislation.

Reviewing two years' progress, Germany reported that 475 new plants had located in Texas since the TIC was formed in March, 1958. Plans have been announced he said, for 375 others in 99 counties, and 492 plants have expanded in the past two years.

For the future, Walter Dickerson, TIC executive director, said 136 factory managements are considering a move to Texas. A number of these, he said, would make products for which Texans now send $2,500,000,000 out-of-state.

HANDS OFF HOUSTON — As a long believer of local control for local matters, Gov. Price Daniel said he would not intervene in affairs of the Houston Public School system.

For weeks Houston schools have been in a squeeze between a federal court order to begin gradual integration and a state law which says it will lose state if it does.

As a last resort, the Houston School Board asked Governor Daniel to "interpose" in its behalf. Under the theory of interposition, the state has, under the Tenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, the right to interpose against any federal act by which it believes the federal government is exceeding its constitutional powers.

Daniel pointed out that this course had been tried without success in other states. Expressing confidence in the Houston board and its attorneys, Daniel said, "The Texas policy of local operation and control of public schools is far better than an attempted control by the governor or state . . ."

TAX BITES UNCLE SAM — It was a sort of man-bites-dog story when the Attorney General's Department ruled the federal government would have to pay a $400,000 state inheritance tax to Texas.

In her will Mrs. Susan Vaughan Clayton made a bequest to "the United States of America, to be used for the retirement of the national debt." Mrs. Clayton was the wife of Will Clayton of Anderson, Clayton & Co.

A federal attorney proposed keeping the money in a special account in Texas since bequests to Texas and its citizens are exempt from the inheritance tax. But the AG ruling said other states would benefit just as much as Texans from national debt retirement. In effect: the federal treasury will have to take the bitter with the sweet.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? — Hot-test rivalries between neighboring Texas towns used to center on who would have the courthouse. Nowadays it's usually over who has the best high school football team.

But two Central Texas towns, San Marcos and New Braunfels, are having a lovely contest over the naming of a park to be built between the two cities.

State Parks Board, back in July designated it as "San Marcos State Park." Civic-spirited San Marcans had raised $2,500 for park equipment with the request that it be named after their town.

New Braunfels folk raised a storm. They claimed it would be nearer their town, that their county would have to maintain a road to it, etc.

Recognizing the touchiness of the situation, the State Parks Board says it will re-consider the whole thing at its October meeting. Both sides are to be given a chance to present their views.

PISTOL-TOTIN' CURB URGED — Legislation to close the loopholes in present state law governing sale and possession of pistols may be offered in the next session.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson ruled that the law requiring the presentation of a certificate of good character before buying a pistol is not enforceable.

In 1958, the opinion pointed out, the Court of Criminal Appeals ruled that this part of the law was unconstitutional because the caption of the bill passed by the Legislature did not sufficiently explain what was in the bill.

Local peace officers were quick to call for corrective legislation. Lawmen feel there should be curbs on who can buy concealable weapons and records of the purchases so the police can check on who made them.

OLD AGE ROLLS DWINDLE —

Though the number of oldsters in the state is increasing, the number receiving state old age assistance checks is declining and is expected to drop still more.

This conclusion was contained in the report of a subcommittee to the state Conference on Aging.

Drop in the state pension rolls was attributed to more Social Security benefits, more company retirement plans, more oldsters working or receiving other support.

AUTO INSPECTIONS BEGIN — Period for having official auto inspections made in Texas begins this month.

Deadline for getting a new inspection sticker on your windshield is not until next April 15, but with 4,500,000 vehicles to be checked, lines will be long in the final weeks.

Cost of an inspection is $1 plus any needed repair for motoring safety. Average cost to each vehicle owner, including the repairs, was $2 last year.

SHORT SNOTS — Commission on Higher Education has announced that the 19 state supported colleges and universities have asked for appropriations running 39 per cent above present spending . . . To make the road map reader's job easier, the State Highway Commission has given a single route number to the most direct highway connection between Huntsville and Paris. Now named State Highway 19, the route formerly had five different numbers . . . Worst plague of army worms in years is blighting the lawns of Texas home owners from Central Texas down to the Coast. State Department of Agriculture recommends spraying with DDT or toxaphene.

In the past 10 years wages for common construction laborers have gone up 76%, while skilled laborers' pay has advanced 61%. Material costs for the same period increased 53%.

THE DANGER OF RED CHINA Part II: The Leadership, Messiahs and Maniacs

When China's ruling Manchu Dynasty came crashing down in 1912 under the combined weight of outside interference and internal corruption, more than forty centuries of civilization accompanied the collapse. China had been time itself — ancient and unchanging since the very dawn of history, a face on the world stage as immobile and impassive as a human Gibraltar. But now, with all the accumulated and irresistible power of an erupting volcano, the heritage of uncounted generations crumbled and fell. Then, after less than forty years of war, revolution, and chaos, Mao Tse-tung marched triumphantly into Peiping to inaugurate what may well be the most horrible yet miraculous era in history.

Mao, like his ideological cousin Lenin, had been a revolutionary since childhood, when he raged against his father and teachers. In May of 1921 he attended the first meeting of the Chinese Communist Party and received important posts within its echelons. The key to Mao's development came a few years later, when he suddenly realized that "without the poor peasants there will be no revolution." The industrial proletariat, which could be the only base for revolt according to Marxian gospel, simply did not exist in China. Hence Mao began to found his movement upon the peasants, and by 1935 he had claimed Communist leadership for himself despite the opposition of his more orthodox colleagues.

The rest of the Chinese leadership, in the 25 years which have elapsed since the Mao takeover, have adopted his outlook. Together they enunciated a philosophy which is highly radical even within the framework of communism, and the program they have sought to carry out during the past decade of Red rule has been the most convulsive on record. At the outset, at least 12 million Chinese were exterminated in what Mao called the "mass shock." Countless millions more were thrown into prisons and brainwashed. Then came a constant, omnipotent propaganda effort which sought to make it impossible for the people "to lead a normal life again." And in the spring of 1958 the commune movement began, a program which essentially meant herding 650 million people about as so many animals.

I will attempt to focus more closely upon the Chinese life itself later, but at the moment I think it is important to examine the communist leadership and its ideology. The Western mind, and particularly the American, may never really penetrate the Oriental character. The Chinese have devised some of the world's most lovely philosophies and some of its most grisly tortures. They have invented the printing which has spread so many ideas and the gunpowder which has killed so many thinkers. Their millennia of inbreeding have produced, in the broadest sense, some of the most refined and subtle minds the world has ever seen. And throughout the entire fabric runs a thread of incredible and almost dogged patience, a sublime reliance on what I suppose the Western world would call fate.

The purpose of the Chinese communist leadership has always been to forge a strong industrial state with an absolutely regimented people. Most of its rather lofty pronouncements and goals can be reduced to these purposes. "Our present task," says Mao, "is to strengthen the people's state apparatus — meaning principally the people's army, the people's police, and the people's courts . . . Given these conditions, China, under the leadership of the working class and the communist party, can develop steadily from an agricultural country into an industrial country . . ."

As far as the "state apparatus" is concerned, it has been "strengthened" beyond anything the world has ever seen. The worst of Stalin's purges in the 1930's would appear mild in comparison, and the most serious Soviet propaganda efforts are amateurish in the Chinese context. Workers are given political lessons during rest periods, loud speakers blare the party line everywhere and incessantly, posters demand more and still more of the people's efforts. Nothing more complicated than survival of the fittest has furthered the mass conformity, for those who lack enthusiasm are simply exterminated.

Like the huge colony of ants which this policy has indeed made them, the Chinese have been ruthlessly driven by their leaders toward a greater economic development. Mao and his lieutenants have had their five year plans as well as the grandiose "Great Leap Forward." This latter bit of communist policy sought to double the production of virtually every major product, and there is little comfort in the fact that the effort ultimately failed. For even though the Chinese were not traveling at the speed of light, they were doing so at the speed of sound. The production of grain reached almost 400 million tons in 1958, more than three times the total in 1949, and steel output jumped from less than two million tons in 1952 to more than 10 million in 1958.

advance with the changing objective circumstances . . . The external world which is to be changed includes the persons who are opposed to that change. To be remolded they will have to go through a stage of compulsion before they enter into a stage of remolding of their own accord. When the whole of mankind of its own accord remolds itself and changes the world, that will be the age of World Communism."

That "stage of compulsion," calculated to "remold" two-thirds of a billion people, is well underway in Communist China. It is a process absolutely unknown elsewhere in the civilized world. It has almost seemed to tear each Chinese limb from limb only to reconstruct him in a new image which not only ignores previous human values but also the Supreme Intelligence which created those values.

Mao and his followers have moved with impatience. Behind all the semi-automatic plugging of communist slogans, little reliance is placed upon the smiles which fortune is supposedly scheduled to bestow. The truth is that the Chinese communists are determined to eliminate the slightest intellectual or personal deviations of their people. And in this task they have thus far been eminently successful. The Chinese are overworked and overgoverned. This has been the end result of their leadership and its theories of a perfect society. But it does not necessarily follow that Communist China is merely a vast land packed with dull-minded slaves whose regimentation has destroyed their power or purpose. Mao's experiment has produced a potent and highly disciplined force. Listen to the workers chant: "The communist party is like the parents, the people's commune is like heaven. The parents love their children dearly, the latter enter heaven and lie in everlasting bliss."

The "everlasting bliss" has been purchased with freedom and human dignity, but we must not forget that these are Western concepts which the Chinese have foregone since before the time of Abraham. Leader—Out-of-County Rate, $3.50 a year.

JETS, TRADE AND PEACE

A mere 33 years ago, in 1927, this country's first international air service was inaugurated. The plane was a Fokker F-7, carrying eight passengers. The flight consumed an hour and joined Key West and Havana — a distance of 90 miles.

Now we have entered the jet age. We can fly anywhere in the civilized world in the greatest comfort at speeds of some 600 miles an hour.

Juan T. Trippe, president of Pan American World Airways, recently reviewed the incredible progress of international air transportation in a single generation. The volume of travel, particularly since the jets were introduced, has increased astronomically. But to Mr. Trippe, there is a great deal more involved than just business considerations. In his words: ". . . the long-range jet can well introduce a new era in world trade, in world understanding and in world peace — always provided, however, that we Americans make full use of this new 'magic carpet' for people-to-people contact and for trade development. There is no faster nor surer way to improve the economy and raise living standards of under-developed and still uncommitted nations."

Mr. Trippe adds, "We should not forget that time is running out and that the uncommitted nations will soon have to choose between the shackles of international Communism and individual freedom and liberty." That means that American citizens and American business, no less than the American government, have a job to do abroad — a huge and essential job. The jet age is here — and the cause of freedom and ultimate peace demands that we make the most of it.

Broncs Defeat Owls 40-0 Friday Night

The Bronchos staged a big comeback last Friday night after their 35-6 loss to Stinnett the previous week, to trample the Silverton Owls to a tune of 40-0. A light mist fell intermittently throughout the game but the lampness didn't seem to bother the Broncs very much.

The Bronc offense was in the go and the Bronc line, in addition to opening the way for the backfield, put up a solid defense against the Owls that held them in check the majority of the game. The Bronchos hit pay dirt early in the first quarter with Jim Robinson skirting left end for the 6 points. The conversion was no good. A short time later Dwight McAnear scampered 26 yards for the second score and again the extra point attempt was no good.

Early in the second half, Neel Carter intercepted an Owl pass on the 25 yard line and crossed the goal line unmolested. Eddie Tipton took a pass for the 2 extra points. The next counter came when Carter skirted right end for 10 yards and the 6 points. The extra point failed again. A pass to Bill Hermesmeyer that covered a distance of 21 yards accounted for the next 6 points with the extra no good. The final score was made when Frank Hermesmeyer plucked off a block punt and went over for the counter. A pass to Bill Hermesmeyer added another 2 points to place the final score at 40-0.

City Receives Dog Complaints

The City has had a great number of complaints recently about dogs. These complaints are of three kinds: one is that dogs are turning over trash barrels, two is that the neighbors will not keep up the dogs and they howl all night long, three is that the neighbors are keeping up the dogs and they howl all night long.

The only solution I know to number one is to get a 20 gallon GI can with a lid and put all scraps of food in it, and if you do not want the expense of buying a GI can, then have a top made to fit your present garbage container. If anyone has a solution to the other two complaints, please call the City Commissioners. — H. T. Burton, Mayor

Rep. Will Ehrle Reports On Greenbelt Dam Progress

State Representative Will Ehrle reported Saturday on the progress of the Greenbelt Water Authority.

In a letter report Ehrle said, "The engineers complete report and estimate on the total cost of the project should be available around the last of November."

Ehrle stated that efforts to secure aid for the project on the state level had been "most successful."

"The State Board of Water Engineers and the Texas Water Development Board are ready to aid and help us in anyway possible."

Ehrle reported that the aerial photographic mapping and the core drilling had all been accomplished "at a very minimum cost to the cities."

It was stated that the engineers report would be of instrumental value in determining the feasibility of the Greenbelt Water project and also for further water planning by all the cities involved.

"Then the decision," said Ehrle, "as to what course each town shall take is, of course, for the citizens and their respective city officials to determine."

Bugbee Art Exhibit At Tri-State Fair

One of the highlights of the 1960 Tri-State Fair displays in Amarillo will be the Harold D. Bugbee-Frank Reaugh art exhibit at The Shamrock Oil and Gas Corporation's booth in the merchant's building. Both men are noted Western artists.

Bugbee, an expert on the lore and customs of the great Southwest, has made it his life's work to depict the life of the West on canvas and paper. His reputation as an artist has made his works well-known to art collectors and critics throughout the country.

A native of Clarendon, many of his paintings and drawings are part of several famous art collections. The largest display of Bugbee's art is located in the Panhandle - Plains Historical museum at Canyon.

Reaugh, a painter of the quiet and peaceful aspects of the cattle range, featured mostly the cattle and Western scenery with pastel colors. The largest collection of his work was given by the Trustees of the Reaugh Estate to the museum at Canyon. Some of his best paintings will be displayed by Shamrock at the fair which starts September 19.

Living in the era when the great herds were still traveling the Chisholm and Western Trails to Kansas, Reaugh recorded what he saw through his paintings. After the cattle drives had passed into history he continued painting western scenery and teaching younger artists. He was not only an accomplished painter, but a teacher and a philosopher as well. Reaugh died in Dallas in 1945.

PLOWIN' Out the CORNERS

By Uncle Zeb

Amen to a preacher is said to have the same effect on his preaching as saying Sic'em to a hunting dog. Somewhat the same feeling we get when we receive a letter from a reader; especially if the letter is kind. Such was our thrill when a letter from Tomie Potts of Memphis gave a resounding Amen to our recent article on the cattlemen.

Mr. Potts asks if we remember the old protracted meeting days. We certainly do, and many of the memories are mighty wonderful. He gives us the following experience.

Feelings were at a fever pitch under the brush arbor, when one little old lady reached up during her happiness, pulled a limb from the arbor and began beating other members over the head, and shouting, "Can't you feel it, can't you feel it?"

Finishing out his letter with a goodly portion of wise sayings on the subject of good fellowship and being a real friend we quote the following:

"To operate a business without good fellowship would be as treacherous as flying a U-2 over Russian territory."

"The way to have a friend is to be one—and the way to have fellowship is to be a good fellow."

"Let the roses bloom while we cultivate the living. We should keep our hoe sharp, and help cut the weeds out of our neighbors row, as we can cut the weeds out of our own row anytime we want to."

To the above we might add; one of the grandest rewards in life comes in the friends we make along the way. They may be in the form of neighbors, folks in our church, or friends from out of our mailbag.

"Grown-up-ness seems to be more than a mere question of age." The above thought comes from an ex-school teacher, Miss Dorothy Johnson of Oberlin, Kansas. Before giving our own ideas on the subject let me give you the gist of Miss Johnson's thoughts;

"As a little girl growing up on a western Kansas farm, I could hardly wait for the day when I would be grown-up. It would be then, I felt sure, that I could solve all my problems, and make all my dreams come true. But it isn't that simple. Growing up is much more than becoming of age."

"I think that it is being able to understand and profit from past experiences. It is to know true values, and to be in possession of one's self. To be at home with the life that has been given to us."

"We need to grow up as fast as we can, but at the supposedly mature age of forty-eight, I don't feel as grown-up as I once expected to feel at twenty."

Each of us can remember how slowly the years passed when we were trying so desperately to grow up. Needless to say, now that the count-down has started, that time is just whizzing by.

It is so very true that growing up is not only a question of age.

We know many young people, still in their teens, who have already reached the age of grown-up-ness. And each of us know many adults who have never reached this stage. "Grown-up-ness," could very well be that of being able to learn and profit from advice and experience, and of being able to know and appreciate true values.

CHIPS can be heavier than chunks. Carrying a chip on our shoulder can be a lot heavier than carrying chunks of kindness to others. Nothing in the world can so weight us down and stoop us over like the habit of holding to and carrying around with us a load of ill will toward someone.

It is said, that the more responsibility we have on our shoulders the less room we have for chips. That, "An irle mind is the devil's workshop," has never been disputed. Busy bees build the best combs of honey.

If you find a fellow who is carrying around a chip, there is no use trying to cry on his shoulders. He won't have room for any troubles but his own.

Not only does the chip carrying person blight the lives of others but he makes his own life one of misery and bitterness. With a chip on his shoulder there is no room left for any bits of kindness coming from others or no room to carry any chunks of happiness along to anyone.

Those those of us who can remember the wood-chopping days and how that we would carry in the loads of wood for the night will remember that we could stack the chunks of wood on our arms as high as one could reach. But, when we tried to carry some chips to start the fire there would be no room for anything else. So many times it is the little things that get us down. Someone has put it this way;

"We can sit on a mountain, but not on a tack."

Fire Dept. Extends Hazard Warning

The Clarendon Fire Department announces that Fire Prevention Week is October 9 through the 15 this year. You are urged to check your homes and businesses for fire hazards and have them corrected.

The first six months of this year the local fire department has answered a little above the average in fire alarms, and property in excess of $21,687.80 has been damaged. The fires that have caused damage to homes have been attributed largely to the wiring. With all the modern electrical appliances it becomes necessary for each of us to check our own homes and have possible hazards corrected.

Another cause of fires that have been reported was from trash in barrels being burned and blowing or falling out of the barrels and setting fire to the weeds and grass, and in some cases spreading to other property. Please try to avoid burning your trash. This year, with all the high weeds and grass, could and will be very dangerous in the event of a fire.

Start now by checking your property for conditions that could start a fire and get these seen about and when in doubt seek professional help.

H. S. Seniors Elect Officers

5-4-3-2-1. Blast off! Clarendon High School Rocket Range, Sept. 6, 1960—The Senior Class of 1961 went into orbit here today. Chief Button-Pusher, President Howard Talley, started the meeting off with election of new officers.

In the midst of an attack of political fever, the following officers were elected: Student Council Members, Sherry Montgomery, Neel Carter; President, Neel Carter; Vice-President, Philip Abel; Secretary, Sherry Montgomery; Treasurer, Wilma Mann; Sergeant-at-Arms Jerry Gray; Reporter, Eugene Smith; Canteen Representatives, Jackie McClellan, Ronnie Tyra. Mrs. Bill Todd and Coach Tom Jinks are senior sponsors this year.

President-elect Carter took office and a discussion of class projects and funds followed. The following projects were discussed: selling of mums at homecoming, a kidnap breakfast, a chicken supper, the senior play and the senior-faculty basketball game.

It was found that the class, after a productive junior year, was $165.57 in the black. Acquisition of new curtains for the auditorium and the senior party were also discussed.

The meeting was adjourned by President Carter (with the able assistance of Coach Jinks).

GEORGE'S WIFE

By "Sarah"

Do you really live on a farm? was a frequent question asked followed by a long piteous, searching look of which up to now we are unable to understand. Or could it be we are unwilling to admit.

This all came about during my ten day stay with our 83 year old Mother, who claims to be hard of hearing and her eye-sight is getting dim. Sitting in her chair supposedly napping, she sees and hears everything that's going on. From the host of kin-folk and friends who pass through her doors in any 10 day period she sees and hears a-plenty.

The insurance business, the grocery business, or any other except farming is the only way of life, says whoever happens to be talking. If you have to farm, why live out there to do it. Now we have some friends . . .

The rest of the tale is old hat to most of us; like they drive a Cadillac and have a private plane. Winshield farmers I'd call them, we have them around here also, not quite so elaborate though. George use to be one when we lived in town. On his way to the farm, he would meet the farmers coming to town. Now that we live on the farm, he meets the city dwellers coming out as he goes to town. Makes it harder to distinguish the wind-shield farmer that way. We know the difference, we also know lots of people who drive back and forth each day. that do a full day's work on a farm.

What comforts us as all this talk goes on, is that She understands. And if they all had not breathed their first breath of life on a farm, it would be more understandable.

That's why we feel no pain, when we get that "country cousin look." She remembers when the wide open space and kids was what she had the most of, and the noise of things growing was about the biggest thing in our daily lives. So the few days we take off just to share with her, who sits all closed up in town she says, have become the most treasured of all.
