Third Year For Junior College Adult Education Program Is In Sight

The Adult Education Program which was initiated two years ago at Clarendon Junior College to replace the regular summer schools and to run concurrently with the regular school year has been one of the very successful ventures of the college during the last two years.

Approximately 80 students, 75% of which were adults of Clarendon and nearby communities including Memphis, Hedley, Wellington, Lakeview, Lelia Lake, and others.

The overwhelming acceptance of this program and the unusual success of it brings the program face to face with its third year. A greater variety of courses are scheduled for the night school and a strengthening of the instructional staff has been accomplished.

It is important that the public know two pertinent bits of information relative to the requirements of the students who enroll in the Adult Education Program. First, all subjects offered are accepted by transfer to senior colleges. Second, all subjects are offered for the education of the individual as well as transfer and that the student is not required to be a high school graduate to enroll.

The following subjects will be offered and are staffed: Bible 137, and Bible 138; typewriting 113 and typewriting 211; history 213; government 213; physics 114; chemistry 114; business math. 233; accounting 114 and 214 and 224; shorthand 113 and 221; art 113 and 213; English 113 or business correspondence; education 113 or 213.

Thirty Prospects Report For Broncho Squad

Coach Tom Jinks had 30 prospects report for training Monday of this week and reports that he is well pleased with work-outs so far. He said he was disappointed that he would not have the reserve strength that he would like to have had but that the desire among the boys to win would make up for this deficiency.

The entire group reporting is showing lots of enthusiasm and is working hard for the various positions. Among the players making a very good showing are Don McAnear, Neal Carter, Frank Hermesmyer, Tommie Messer, Jim Robinson, Jerry Elmore, Jerry Gray and Leon Gibbs.

Jinks said the Bronchos would have their first scrimmage with White Deer here the night of Tuesday, August 23rd, and would go to Turkey for another scrimmage with the Turks Saturday, August 27th. He is extending an invitation to all football fans to come out for these scrimmages and also for regular work-outs and get a first-hand view of the prospects for the coming season.

Former Resident Praises Bond Issue Passage

Editor's Note: The following letter was received this past week by Walter B. Knorr, President of the Clarendon School Board. Mrs. Barnes, a former Clarendon resident and graduate of Clarendon Junior College, is presently Home Editor of the Dallas Morning News. She is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Jefferies of this city.

Dear Mr. Knorr: As a graduate of the Clarendon schools (through Junior College), I want to congratulate you and your board on their fine work in getting across the bond issue for new schools. I know it was an uphill battle against many odds and I am very pleased and proud that you overcame them.

I was especially impressed by the ads supporting the issue, not just because I am in the newspaper business but because I think it's the first time in history that Clarendon people so publicly took their stand and supported it! I do believe that such ads however probably did influence the big majority vote, for I am firmly convinced of the power of the press (irrespective of television) on the public. If it's in black and white they believe it (and woe to us who print it if it isn't so!)

It occurred to me that in the future if such an issue arose maybe you could solicit letters from former graduates to support the issue. I would have been glad to write you one, and so I am sure would many others who did benefit from the schools when they were quite adequate for their day.

And some of the inadequacies that come to my attention, from some so-called top schools, through graduates who apply to us for jobs or send in written material is horrifying! I shall continue to wish for you and the board much success with your projects and in fulfilling your civic responsibilities. I think they are heavier in a small town than any place (though you never realize when you grow up in one and few of the full-time, long-time residents do).

Sincerely, Jeanne Jefferies McDonald Barnes Home Editor, Dallas News

High School Registration Set For Friday, August 26th

LONG SEASON, AND 15 LIMIT SET ON DOVES

AUSTIN — Hunters seem to be well pleased at the bonus dove shooting they will get during the 1960 season, according to the executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission. The North Zone season this year will start at 12 noon, Sept. 1, and close at sunset October 30. The South Zone will open October 7 and close December 5, except in the counties where white-winged dove shooting will be permitted three days earlier.

There also will be an increase in bag limit on mourning doves for the upcoming season. The shooter will be permitted to take 15 per day and have 30 in possession. Whitewing shooters, who may also kill mourning doves at the same time, will be permitted to have 10 whitewings and 5 mourning doves for the first day of hunting. They may have 20 mourning doves and 10 whitewings in possession after the second day.

Generally, the Texas quail season will begin December 1, under the general laws. The Commission will set the quail season in regulatory authority counties at its meeting October 7. At that time, biologists will know more about the supply of birds. Another drastic change in the hunting laws will be legalizing spike bucks in counties under regulatory authority.

WIN SECOND PLACE TROPHY AT CAR MEET

The second place trophy in the West Texas Regional Rally of the Sports Car Club of America went to Mr. J. D. Howze and Miss Jean Ethridge. The 160 mile event was held in the Lubbock area last week with a total of ten teams entered. The competition car, which was driven by Howze and navigated by Miss Ethridge was a British TR-3A. The first place car, a Porsche, was driven by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dane who set a local record with a navigational error of only 10 seconds into the final check point.

Friday, August 26, has been set for High School registration according to a report from Morris Ledger, High School Principal. Grade school and Junior High school students will register on Monday, August 29th.

Ledger issued the following schedule for high school registration: Seniors - 8:30 to 10:30 Juniors - 10:30 to 12:30 Sophomores - 1:00 to 3:00 Freshmen - 3:00 to 5:00

In event there are students in a family of different classifications, for instance, a freshman and a senior, you may register at any time during the day between 8:30 and 5:00.

To be considered a Senior, a student must have at least 13 credits; a Junior must have eight credits; a Sophomore must have 3 credits. This is in agreement with the student handbook policy which indicates a requirement of 18 credits for graduation beginning this current school year of 1960-61.

Supt. J. R. Cox reported that all teachers would report at the High School Friday morning for a faculty meeting, orientation and the registration of students. Regular high school classes will begin Monday morning August 29th, and any students that are unable to register Friday will have to register Monday during regular office hours. Buses will not begin their regular run until Monday, August 29th. The buses will make their return trip Monday in time for students to be at home for lunch as the Cafeteria will not be open Monday, August 29th.

OVER 1/4 MILLION PRESCRIPTIONS FILLED

GEORGE'S WIFE

By "Sarah"

Sunday evening we viewed with the rest of America, "The Commune System" in East Germany in all its glory.

Everyone was dressed for the occasion. The women we noticed especially . . . Climbing up on the huge wagons, in dresses no less, and scarves tied around their heads, on the way to the fields to work.

Now we couldn't look that neat and pretty, going out for a fifteen minute session with the flowers and certainly not in a dress.

They have been farming on a collective basis now for 8 years. Don't think it's working as good in East Germany as in China and the other communist countries. Bonn, in West Germany reports there is a food shortage in East Germany, caused by too much goofing off on the job.

That is one way to fight for freedom when a man or woman's work depends on whether or not they and their children have enough to eat, that's doing something to aggravate those pencil pushers, or people planners, whatever the non workers are called over there.

With all their togetherness in this forced collectivization of agriculture, we do not think they will reach our record in the near future. Here are just a few of our accomplishments. In the past eighteen years farmers have improved their efficiency more than in the preceding one hundred and twenty years.

Production per man hour has increased almost four times as fast (90%) on farms as in industrial employment (24%) in the past eleven years.

Around eighty-five million acres that formerly were used to produce horse and mule feed are now used to produce for human consumption.

George says, he wouldn't have the horse and mule days back again, but it would be the solution, in a small way, to our bulging bin boon, by and by.

STATE FAIR TO BE HELD OCTOBER 8-23

DALLAS — What's cooking at the State Fair this year?

The 1960 Diamond Jubilee Exposition, celebrating the Fair's 75th anniversary year, will offer a number of "Jubilee specials" yet to be revealed, but in the meantime, here is a thumbnail listing of some of the major shows and other attractions for this year.

The entertainment calendar will be topped by the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, "Flower Drum Song," and by the 20th birthday edition of the always-popular "Ice Capades." The Mobil Sky Revue will present free daredevil serial acts daily and the million-dollar Midway will feature a number of brand new thrill rides.

In addition, the State Fair "Shower of Stars" will present some of the nation's best known entertainers in big free shows. The stars who will appear will be announced at an early date.

A record total of $120,770 in premiums will be offered in the various livestock, horse and poultry show events of the 1960 Fair. The Pan-American Livestock Exposition will be held Oct. 8-16 and the Junior show will follow during the second week of the Fair. The state Fair Horse Show will be staged all during the Fair in the new Livestock Coliseum.

The third annual Texas International Trade Fair will have exhibits from all over the world. The Automobile Show will introduce many of the new 1961 models. The Agriculture Show will feature the importance of chemistry to modern farming and ranching.

Other exhibits will include those in the Electric Show and Natural Gas Show, Playtime USA, farm implements and machinery, antique autos, the Home and Family Show and special features of all the fairgrounds museums.

Free daily fashion shows will be a highlight in the Women's Building, along with the traditional exhibits of home-making skills.

College and professional football will be played in the Cotton Bowl, with the Fairtime schedule being topped by the Texas-Oklahoma classic, and including also SMU vs. Rice, Dallas Texans vs. Oakland Raiders and Dallas Cowboys vs. Cleveland Browns.

Dates of the 1960 State Fair are Oct. 8-23.

Machinery and drowning accidents cause half the fatalities on farmland and around farm buildings, according to the National Safety Council. Next come fire-arms, falls and blows.

One life is all you'll ever have. Slow down before you lose it. It seems a crime To make good time And then not live to use it. It does seem such a shame when we think that most of the terrible deaths on the highway could be saved if folks would do two things; Slow Down, and Stay Sober.

Someone has said that alcohol and gasoline properly mixed together will make the highball of death.

The following is said to be a tested recipe. Take one reckless natural born fool, three drinks of whiskey, and a high powered automobile. Soak fool in the liquor, place in the car and let go for an hour. Remove from wreckage, place in satin-lined black box and garnish with flowers. It is possible to put two finishes on a car; one with lacquer, the other with liquor.

The six stages of the drinking driver; dry and decent, delighted and devilish, dizzy and delirious, dazed and dejected, dead drunk, an then just plain dead. Only the first stage will get one safely home.

Most any driver is safer when the roads are dry, the roads are safer for the most people when the driver is dry.

The most dangerous drinkers are not the ones who reel when they walk, but those who kill when they drive.

If you're driving while you're drinking, Then your fate is fairly certain—'Cause the moment you're not thinking, The Death Angel pulls the curtain.

Good Habits have to be cultivated, but bad habits will grow volunteer. It seems that we can so easily drift into a bad habit. Our very nature seems to lure us into the trap before we realize it. If we want to grow wheat or corn we have to prepare the ground, plant good seed, and then fight back the weeds and grass which seem to come up naturally. To have a good disposition, or to be a kind and friendly person, we have to cultivate these traits and develop them into a natural habit. To be grouchy, or to be a selfish person, all we have to do is to quit trying and nature will do the rest.

Habits of a physical nature follow the same pattern. When we were a small boy it seemed so natural that we slip around behind the barn and smoke a few puffs. It seemed almost impossible to us then that we could ever grow up without first learning to smoke. In a few years we had developed a habit that was to become hurtful to our health not to mention being a bad habit to break.

Drinking is often the same story. Many of the folks at the party drink, and for fear of being unpopular there are those who are influenced to begin drinking socially. In a short time it has become a bad habit, and later perhaps a sickness that will ruin their life.

Good habits, such as going to church have to be cultivated, while on the other hand excuses for staying at home seem to come made to order. God will help us to cultivate good habits. The Devil will try to keep us from winning in our efforts to break bad habits.

us have passed through the age when we sway around a bit and momentarily seem to depart from the things we have been taught. Some like the prodigal son have to meet with bitter experiences before we turn back toward the good advice and care we have left, but one way or another we do usually come back to the realization at least.

If we believe the above is true, then our job as a parent needs to be put over and above everything else. The way we live not only becomes our tree of life but also the pattern and scope for those who follow in our footsteps.

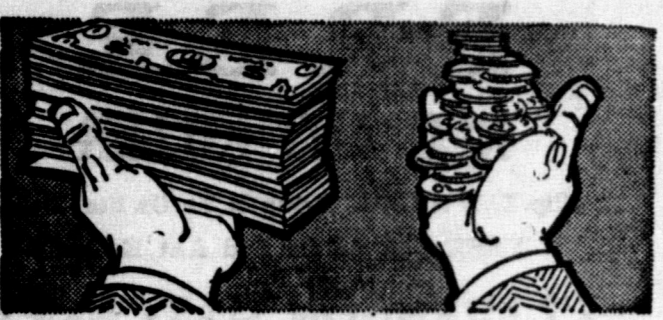

Now and then we see the son who never seems to come back to the influence of the early life. Sometimes the effects of their misspent years keep them from ever doing so, but we believe that they do come back to the knowledge of what was right. Again, we find children who live wonderful lives in the face of bad examples. Perhaps even in disgust they turn to the example of someone else. But the hosts that can not be numbered follow after the influences of those who have loved and cared for them during their young and tender years.

We are not owned or run by the city...nor by the state either. Not by any kind of government agency or co-operative. We are an independent investor owned business.

This is an important reason why you get the best possible electric service at such a low price.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 8, 1934.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 39 proposing an amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding thereto new Sections to be known as Sections 4, 7, and 8, to provide that the Legislature may authorize the creation of Hospital District co-extensive with Lamar County, Hidalgo County and County Commissioners Precinct No. 4 of Comanche County, having certain stated powers and duties and subject to certain stated limitations; providing that any enabling Acts shall not be invalid because of their anticipatory character; providing for an election; prescribing the form of ballot and providing for the necessary proclamation and publication.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article IX of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding the following Sections, which shall read as follows:

"Section 4. The Legislature may by law authorize the creation of a Hospital District co-extensive with Lamar County, Hidalgo County and County Commissioners Precinct No. 4 of Comanche County, having the powers and duties and subject to the limitations presently provided in Article IX, Section 5(a), of the Constitution of Texas, as it applies to Wichita County, except that the maximum rate of tax that the said Lamar County Hospital District may be authorized to levy shall be seventy-five cents (75¢) per One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation of taxable property within the District, subject to district taxation.

"Section 7. The Legislature may by law authorize the creation of a Hospital District co-extensive with Hidalgo County, having the powers and duties and with the limitations presently provided in Article IX, Section 5(a), of the Constitution of Texas, as it applies to Hidalgo County, except that the maximum rate of tax that the said Hidalgo County Hospital District may be authorized to levy shall be ten cents (10¢) per One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation of taxable property within the District subject to district taxation.

"Section 8. The Legislature may by law authorize the creation of a Hospital District to be co-extensive with the limits of County Commissioners Precinct No. 4 of Comanche County, Texas.

"If such District is created, it may be authorized to levy a tax not to exceed seventy-five cents (75¢) on the One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation of taxable property within the District; provided, however, no tax may be levied until approved by a majority vote of the participating resident qualified property taxing voters who have duly rendered their property for taxation. The maximum rate of tax may be changed at subsequent elections so long as obligations are not impaired, and not to exceed the maximum limit of seventy-five cents (75¢) per One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation, and no election shall be required by subsequent changes in the boundaries of the Commissioners Precinct

No. 4 of Comanche County.

"If such tax is authorized, no political subdivision or municipality within or having the same boundaries as the District may levy a tax for medical or hospital care for needy individuals, nor shall they maintain or erect hospital facilities. The District shall by resolution assume all such responsibilities and shall assume all of the obligations and liabilities of such subdivisions or municipalities or both. The maximum rate of interest shall be sufficient to discharge such obligations, liabilities, and responsibilities, and to maintain and operate the hospital system, and the Legislature may authorize the District to issue tax bonds for the purpose of the purchase, construction, acquisition, repair or renovation of improvements and initially equipping the same, and such bonds shall be payable from said seventy-five cent (75¢) tax. The Legislature shall provide for transfer of title to properties to the District.

"(b) The Legislature may by law permit the County of Comanche to render financial aid to that District by payment of the expenses of operating and maintaining the system and paying a part of the debts of the District (which are assumed by the District) and may authorize the levy of a tax not to exceed ten cents (10¢) per One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation (in addition to other taxes permitted by this Constitution) upon all property within the County but without the County Commissioners Precinct No. 4 of Comanche County at the time such levy is made for such purposes. If such tax is authorized, the District shall by resolution assume the responsibilities, obligations, and liabilities of the County in the manner and to the extent heretofore provided for political subdivisions having boundaries co-extensive with the District, and the County shall not thereafter levy taxes (other than bonds provided for hospital purposes) for providing hospital care for needy individuals of the County.

"(c) Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of such amendment, such Acts shall not be invalid because of their anticipatory character."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at the general election to be held the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1934, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon:

"FOR the Constitutional Amendment authorizing the Legislature to create a Hospital District co-extensive with Lamar and Hidalgo Counties, and co-extensive with County Commissioners Precinct No. 4 of Comanche County."

"AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment authorizing the Legislature to create a Hospital District co-extensive with Lamar and Hidalgo Counties, and co-extensive with County Commissioners Precinct No. 4 of Comanche County."

Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Some 70 million registered motor vehicles now ply our highways, and traffic congestion has become a major problem. However, as the old saying goes, we ain't seen nothing yet. A Bureau of the Department of Commerce estimates that the figure will reach 114 million by 1976. This would mean one vehicle for every two men, women and children, or three vehicles for every four persons of legal driving age.

Church Service Unites Miss Magee, Mr. Smith

Miss Donna Ruth Magee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde J. Magee of McLean, Texas, became the bride of Donald R. Smith, son of Mrs. Bert Smith and the late Mr. Smith of Clarendon, Texas, in a ceremony read at 5 p.m. Saturday evening, August 13, in the First Methodist Church, McLean. The Rev. H. A. Longino performed the double ring service.

The altar was banked with huckleberry greenery accented by candelabra and baskets of white stock and chrysanthemums. Mrs. John E. Dwyer, aunt of the bride and organist, played traditional wedding music. The Rev. Jack Riley of Pampa sang nuptial selections.

Miss Marilyn Magee, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid and wore a street-length dress fashioned with scoop-necked bodice attached to a full skirt of champagne organza over taffeta. Miss Alberrita Brden of Seminole and Mrs. Donnie Wilson of Lubbock were bridesmaids, and Mrs. Robert D. Meeks of Lubbock was matron of honor. They wore identical street-length dresses styled similarly to that worn by Miss Magee. Each wore a champagne bandeau accented with a large flat bow. Mrs. Meeks carried a bouquet of champagne colored carnations and the bridesmaids' flowers were arrangements of bronze feathered chrysanthemums.

Best man was Jimmy Thompson of Hedley. Fred Clifford of Clarendon, Gene Eaves of Tulsa, Okla., cousin of the bridegroom, and Joe Magee of McLean, brother of the bride, were groomsmen. Ushering were John Payne, Keith Hudson, Henison Hays, and Wesley Stewart.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a gown of white chantilly lace over taffeta designed with a scalloped neckline. The ballerina length bouffant skirt featured scalloped lace edging and the slim bodice was pointed to the waistline. Her shoulder-length veil of French illusion was attached to a crown of iridescent sequins and pearls, and she carried a white rainbow Bible topped with a single white orchid and stephanotis.

A reception followed the nuptial service and was held in Fellowship Hall. The table was covered with an off-white linen cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake and an arrangement of bronze chrysanthemums.

For the wedding trip to New Mexico and Colorado, Mrs. Smith chose a brown checked ensemble. It was accented by a short black jacket and matching accessories. After August 20 the couple will be at home in Amarillo.

Mrs. Smith was graduated from McLean High School and Texas Technological College, Lubbock, where she majored in Home Economics. She will teach in the Amarillo schools. Mr. Smith was graduated from Clarendon High School and served in the U.S. Marine Corps. He attended Kilgore Junior College and was graduated from Clarendon Junior College. He will enter West Texas State College, Canyon this fall.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

The Civil Rights Issue

In the past few weeks the American people have heard and read a great deal more about the platform of the two major political parties of this nation than probably any other previous time in our history. The reasons being: (1) the splendid nationwide television coverage of both the Democratic and the Republican Conventions; (2) the increasing interest of the American people in political affairs; and (3) the highly controversial issue of "civil rights", which served to focus the attention of the entire nation on the political platforms. The civil rights issue has in recent years been an explosive issue at Democratic conventions, but has been more or less run-of-the-mill at Republican counterparts. However, this year it was by far the most controversial issue at both conventions, and will unquestionably be a hotly debated issue in the coming election campaigns. The tremendous growth of the issue in recent years caused me to wonder why both parties had waited so long in the history of this country to worry about individual rights. I had always been taught that this country was founded for the protection of the rights of the individual and that those rights were guaranteed and protected by the provisions of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. I suspected that all of the recent oratory and loudly proclaimed efforts concerning the protection of the "civil rights" of the citizens of this country must have found its source in a desire on the part of certain political groups to try to obtain some bloc voting, by so-called minority groups.

Hence, I made it a point to do a little research on previous platforms of the two major parties. The findings were most interesting. Prior to 1932, there was very little reference directly or indirectly on the subject, so we will begin with the 1932 platforms. That was the year that the Democrats nominated Franklin Delano Roosevelt president and John N. Garner for vice president. The Democratic platform that year contained one sentence that could probably be construed as having to do with the civil rights issue. It was the last sentence in the platform and read as follows:

"Equal rights to all; special privileges to none."

The Republicans that year nominated Herbert Hoover for president and Charles Curtis for vice president, and their platform contained the following section on the subject:

"NEGRO"

For seventy years the Republican Party has been the friend of the American Negro. Vindication of the right of the Negro citizen to enjoy the full benefits of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness is traditional in the Republican Party and our party stands pledged to maintain equal opportunity and rights for our Negro citizens. We do not propose to depart from that tradition nor to alter the spirit or letter of that pledge."

In 1936 the Democrats again nominated Roosevelt and Garner, and the platform that year contained the following paragraph:

"Civil Liberties"

We shall continue to guard the freedom of speech, press, radio, religion, and assembly which our Constitution guarantees; with equal rights to all and special privileges to none."

The Republicans in 1936 nominated Alf Landon of Kansas and Frank Knox of Illinois. Their civil rights plank that year contained two short paragraphs under the heading "Bill of Rights," and was in the most general terms, plus two other paragraphs specifically referring to colored citizens.

In 1940 the Democrats again nominated Franklin Roosevelt and chose Henry A. Wallace to run for vice president. The platform contained a separate section under the heading "Negroes." It consisted of two short paragraphs reciting what the Democratic Party had done for the Negroes and pledged to uphold due process and the equal protection of the laws for every citizens regardless of race, creed, or color.

The 1940 nominees of the Republican Party were Wendell Wilkie of Indiana and Charles McNary of Oregon. The Republican platform also contained a separate section entitled "Negro", in which the party pledged a "square deal" in the economic and political life of the nation, and abhorred mob violence. This was all contained in one paragraph.

In 1944 the Democrats again nominated Franklin Roosevelt and named Harry Truman to run with him. The only reference in that year's platform to civil rights was a short paragraph in Section 7 asserting the belief that all citizens share the rights guaranteed by our Constitution and admonishing Congress to exert its full constitutional powers. This was all contained in two short sentences.

The Republicans that year nominated Thomas E. Dewey for president and John W. Bricker of Ohio for vice president. Their platform included a separate section with relation to civil rights. This section consisted of three short sentences, the last of which was as follows:

"We pledge the establishment by Federal legislation of a permanent Fair Employment Practices Commission."

In 1948 the Democrats nominated Harry Truman for president and Alben Barkley for vice president. The platform that year contained a short reference to civil rights documented in four points, which I quote:

- (1) the right of full and equal political participation
- (2) the right to equal opportunity of employment;
- (3) the right of security of person;
- (4) the right of equal treatment in the service and defense of our nation."

The Republicans in 1948 nominated Thomas E. Dewey and Earl Warren. They summed up their civil rights views in approximately one-half page consisting of four short paragraphs. One of these was a simple statement favoring the abolition of the poll tax as requisite of voting.

In 1952 the Democrats nominated Adlai Stevenson for President and John Sparkman for Vice President. The platform that year contained a sub-section on civil rights which consisted of six short paragraphs.

The Republicans in 1952 nominated Dwight D. Eisenhower and Richard Nixon. Their platform contained a section on civil rights which consisted of six short paragraphs.

In 1956 the Democrats nominated Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver, and although the platform consisted of some forty-four pages, the civil rights issue was confined to six medium-size paragraphs.

The Republicans in 1956 again nominated Dwight Eisenhower and Richard Nixon and expressed their sentiments on civil rights in nine short paragraphs. Between 1932 and 1956 the issue had grown in the Democratic platform from one short sentence to six paragraphs. It had grown from one paragraph in the 1932 Republican platform to nine paragraphs in 1956. But this was only the beginning.

In the 1960 platforms the Democrats used twenty-four paragraphs or four times the number in 1956 on this issue. The Republicans increased their interest in the matter from 9 paragraphs in 1956 to thirty paragraphs in 1960.

A reading of all of these paragraphs in all platforms would indicate that my suspicions were correct in the first place. The entire tenor of the words, the phrases and the paragraphs as they grew, are an appeal to minority groups, each party trying to outdo the other.

The entire matter could have been summed up in every platform by simply stating that the parties subscribe to the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, and would see to it that the Attorney General enforces the law. If this philosophy was followed, the rights of all would be protected as was intended by the framers of the Constitution.

LEUKOSIS CONTROL HINTS OFFERED

College Station — Control of leukosis, the number one poultry killer in the U.S., cannot be accomplished by the application of antibiotics to mature birds, Dr. R. W. Moore, assistant professor of veterinary medicine in the Texas A & M College System, says that leukosis can only be controlled at two levels of production — the breeder level and the grower level.

Since leukosis shows up in mature birds, many poultrymen believe that only mature birds may be infected. This is not the case, says Dr. Moore. Leukosis is caused by a group of viruses characterized by an exceedingly long incubation period. In almost every case the bird becomes infected during the first five weeks of its life. Once a bird has reached maturity, says Dr. Moore, it has very little chance of contracting the clinical disease.

Control at the breeder level consists of trying to breed birds with as much natural resistance as possible. This is only partly successful, but it has been a major factor in increasing livability in laying birds. If birds are purchased from an reputable dealer and still develop a considerable amount of leukosis, it usually means that the amount of virus challenge was so great that it overcame their natural resistance.

Grower level control consists of isolating all young birds from mature birds. Ideally, the young birds should be cared for by a separate caretaker. Raising more than one group of chicks on the same litter is also dangerous, says Dr. Moore.

Leukosis is very costly, but, through the use of proper control methods, the poultryman can greatly reduce his losses from this disease, concludes Dr. Moore.

Penalizing Free Expression The Saturday Evening Post says editorially: "What is a 'legitimate business expense'? Wages and salaries, trips to business conventions, advertising, membership in unions and trade associations — such items and many others are conceded by the Internal Revenue Service to be deductible from income. However, when a company or an individual is threatened by a new law which could put him or it out of business, any money spent to defeat the proposed legislation is, according to the same authority, not deductible from income."

This ruling directly and deeply affects a very long list of enterprises and organizations. A prime example is the electric utility business. It is clear that, if the public power advocates have their way, the private utilities will ultimately be entirely socialized. So, to them the private-power-vs-public power controversy is a life and death matter. They have devoted advertising and other efforts to presenting their side of the case. But the Internal Revenue Service has decided that the costs thus incurred are not a legitimate business expense and hence are not deductible in making out their income tax returns. The result is that, if this ruling is allowed to stand, the utilities cannot present their arguments to the public or to legislative bodies except on pain of heavy tax penalty. And that amounts to nothing less than censorship by taxation.

This goes far beyond the question of whether you or anyone else wants public power or private power. If one industry can be penalized in this fashion, so can all others — along with any group which has and expresses an interest in any kind of legislation. The IRS has adamantly refused to change its position, and so the remedy lies in Congress. A bill to that end is pending. Of it, the Post well says: "It ought not to take the members of Congress long to decide whether it wants to promote discussion of public issues and sanction the right of citizens to protect their own interests, or whether it wants to leave the Internal Revenue Service as the final judge of when an American should be permitted, as far as the tax laws are concerned, to exercise this right."

A taxpayer is one who does not have to pass a civil service exam in order to work for the government.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

BURNT TOAST

Chit-chat at a Moscow breakfast table:

MRS. K. Good morning, dear. My, you look grumpy as an old bear this morning.

MR. K. Now you know very well I'm supposed to look like an old bear — what would all those decadent Western cartoonists do if I looked like Cupid?

MRS. K. Well, you'll feel better when you get to work. I'm sure there'll be plenty of capitalists needing to be buried.

MR. K. Maybe so, mama, but I don't know. It isn't easy being ed the chicken barbecue at Lelia Lake Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cathey and family of Fort Worth visited Friday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Pete Land.

Mrs. Maud Palmer, Mrs. Della Barker visited Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Pete Land.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Watson and family visited Wednesday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Casteel.

Mr. and Mrs. Benny Benton and Rickey, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Sibley were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Easterling Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hearn went to Brownfield Saturday and Shirley came home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Christie spent the week end in Lubbock and attended a reunion. Lee Christie, Bob and Ronnie Noble came home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Major Huffine from Temple visited Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Christie and Mr. and Mrs. George Self.

Robert and Doris Jean Johnston of El Paso spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Risley and family and Mr. and Mrs. Moon Johnston came after them Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Johnston of Tucumcari, N.M., Mrs. James McGregor and children of Odessa, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Lummos and children of Harlington, Mrs. Claude Darden, Miss Darden, and Mrs. Lee Ellen Seago all visited in the Lloyd Risley home last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Higgins, Mrs. Raymond Waldrop, Tom and Beth, and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Renfro visited with Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Higgins and family of Amarillo Thursday.

a menace day in and day out. It takes a little initiative. Coming up with new ways to be nasty all the time can get pretty tough.

MRS. K. Oh, you'll think of something. That last plane you shot down was a real stroke of genius.

MR. K. Yeah, but that's getting to be a pretty old dodge. And those Americans made me look kinda silly at the UN, proving the plane was really over international waters and all that. I guess they caught on after the U-2 business.

MRS. K. Why don't you just stir up a riot someplace? That's always fun, and it cheers you up so.

MR. K. But I've done that already — Japan, South America, Turkey, Korea — and that's getting pretty dull lately. Besides, school starts again pretty soon and you can't expect those professors to let students keep cutting classes forever. Incidentally, what would really cheer me up is a little bacon for breakfast that isn't so raw.

MRS. K. But you always said it makes you more quarrelsome, dear. After all, you might want to raise a big s'ink about American bases today. I liked that speech Malinkovsky made about using rockets against countries that allowed planes to take off from their territory.

MR. K. That shook 'em up okay, but they're beginning to wise up and ignore it. What I need is a really good disappointment to throw at them. I'd break up another talk at Geneva except they're beginning to expect that now after the disarmament talks walkout. There's always that Cuban business, but even that has its drawbacks.

You never know what that fuzzy revolutionist over there is likely to do next. He's beginning to be such an expert at denouncing the United States that it makes me look bad. If that little pipsqueak thinks he's going to put me in the shade just because he's got more hair he's got another think coming. Things look pretty bleak all the way around.

MRS. K. What about all those struggling classes that are being exploited in the underdeveloped countries you've been shining up to lately?

MR. K. I've been working on that. Did you see that attack I had Pravda make against the United Nations in the Congo — the one that accused the United States of being behind the whole thing?

MRS. K. Yes, but wasn't that kind of far-fetched? After all, the troops were all Africans.

MR. K. I guess so, but it looked good at home here. Got to keep the folks guessing, you know.

MRS. K. Yes, but you know what Lenin said: "You can fool all of the people some of the time, some of the people all of the time, and send the rest to Siberia."

MR. K. You sound like a Stalinist. After all, this African situation offers a great opportunity not just at home. Chaos and confusion are always wonderful for us as long as it's somewhere else. Those people down there are pretty inexperienced too, so it's not a total loss. The trouble is I don't know whether to be palsy-walsy or a stinker about it. We can try to get the Belgians out of there first. That looks good to the Congolese and will probably paralyze the whole area. Still, it's pretty awful not to have anything to throw a tantrum about.

MRS. K. The League of Women Tractor Drivers passed another world peace resolution yesterday. Maybe it would be a good time to spread that around.

MR. K. Those women ought to keep their noses out of politics. There's always talking about peace when I'm talking about war and talking about war when I'm talking about peace. They're worse than Eisenhower sometimes. He's always talking about understanding when I'm talking about war and talking about understanding when I'm talking about peace. It's frustrating.

URS. K. At least he'll be gone soon.

MR. K. Yeah, but they'll get somebody just as bad. They'll probably keep right on in Berlin. The truth is that there just doesn't seem to be anything that hasn't been tried yet, but I hate to keep doing the same old things.

MRS. K. If it's worked before it should work again.

MR. K. I suppose so. I'll just keep plugging away. It's just that I get discouraged with the same old business. Oh well, another day another ruble. And mama, I wish you'd try not to burn the toast anymore.

The Clarendon Junior College In A Changing World

Oliver J. Abel, Dean-Reg
At this time many needs are yet to be met and many problems yet to be resolved by the Clarendon Junior College which is now entering its 62nd year.

These needs and problems present many challenges to our institution.

Our mushrooming increase in enrollment from 76 students in 1954 to last year's total enrollment of 192 and an anticipated increase for next year gives us additional food for thought. Already before the middle of August we have registrations from five area schools which were not represented in our last year's enrollment figure. These simple facts alone create new problems and challenges for the college.

First and foremost, we must give continued attention to maintaining the quality of our teachers and scholars. In the period ahead when the competition for them will surely increase, it will be easy for an institution to fall behind. Nothing more quickly produces mediocrity or shoddiness in an institution of higher learning than to permit a degeneration in faculty.

Obviously the quality of the teacher is closely related to the quality of the student, and the success of the one and the fulfillment of the other is dependent on the curriculum. Many changes in curriculum have been made the last two years including the approval by the State Education Agency of 28 new courses and two new departments, (Agriculture & Vocational Business) at Clarendon Junior College. In addition to the above expansions, a night school Adult Education Program has been successfully initiated with very gratifying results during these last two years.

Here I would note that, at a time when the proportion of college-age population entering our nation's colleges and universities is spiraling rapidly, there is a growing variation in the kinds of persons seeking higher education — variations in economic status, in objectives, in interests, in motivations and in intellectual capacity.

The likelihood of a trend toward homogeneity of economic status because of rising tuition costs in all private schools and many state institutions, the need for greater scholarship help and the possibility it will be met through state and federal sources — all these will make an impact upon the nature of the student body in various kinds of institutions and perhaps on the very character of higher education itself.

Similarly, changing times affect the courses of study offered in a university and the pattern of formal education which emerges from that institution. The expanding range of knowledge, combined with the increasing demands of the many vocations and professions, makes the planning of curriculum increasingly difficult. Invention of new courses seems to be a favorite pastime of some teachers while the prevention of such proliferation threatens to become the chief activity of the academic Dean. The demand for training in specific vocational skills is an added burden which has been assumed in recent years by educational institutions, principally junior colleges, because the university does not lend itself to such revision of curriculum. We may well see however, a reverse of this trend because of the growth of Adult Education Programs in many communities and the addition of classrooms in many of America's factories.

The composition of the student body of the Clarendon Junior College, the quality of the teaching staff and the pattern of educational offerings as well as the steady rise in the number of students served annually attest to the program of the college. Thus we move ahead, but it must be with direction, always with the acute awareness that we cannot be all things to all people. The thoughtful design of the kind of student body the Clarendon Junior College wants to serve in the future, the scope of its academic offerings, the upgrading of the college faculty, the kind and extent of services to the community, the plans for its physical expansion and the blueprint of development by which its objectives will be accomplished — all are and must continue to be of equal concern.

To the fulfillment of these responsibilities the administrative staff and the faculty of the Clarendon Junior College are giving both thought and action. We solicit with pride and humility the continued faithful support of the citizens of Clarendon in this rough road to progress through education.

C.J.C. EXES RETURN TO CLARENDON

Last Saturday and Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Oliver J. Abel had as house guests, Miss Myrna Carney of Leedey, Oklahoma, and Miss Catherine Edwards of Martha, Oklahoma, both of whom graduated from Clarendon Junior College with the class of 1958.

Both of the girls were co-captains of the 1958 edition of the Comets, Clarendon Junior College's AAU basketball team. Both girls graduated as honor students, having maintained a place on the Dean's honor roll throughout their stay at the college.

Miss Carney graduated with a degree in science and mathematics at Northwestern Teachers College at Alva, Oklahoma, again as an honor student. As a result of her outstanding work at Alva she was granted an assistantship in guidance and counseling at the University of Oklahoma to do her graduate work toward a Master's degree.

Miss Edwards graduated from Oklahoma City University this spring with honors and was also granted an assistantship at the University of Oklahoma. However, since she had attained her degree in Methodist Mission requirements she accepted a three year appointment by the Methodist Churches as a missionary to Old Mexico. She will report in a few days to San Jose, Costa Rica, for three months of schooling in the Spanish language before reporting to her assignment on December 9th.
