CC's Green named All-American after Bulldogs' fifth place finish

Sophomore Marlon Green was named to the All-American and All-Tournament team following Clarendon College's fifth place finish in the March National Small College Athletic Association tournament March 5-8 in Salina, Kan.

The Bulldogs drew eventual national champion Louisiana Christian in the second round after drawing a first-round bye in the 12-team tournament.

The Louisiana team led 45-36 at halftime and won with a score of 95-77, but head coach Joe Mondragon said the score was much closer than what the final indicated.

With 5:01 to go, Louisiana Christian led by seven points but ended up shooting seven consecutive three throws, extending the lead to 14 points.

Green fouled out, and "we were in a struggle having to get back in the ballgame," Mondragon said.

Louisiana Christian was 29-of-39 from the free throw line while Clarendon made seven trips to the charity stripe, putting in seven.

"(Green) had a great tournament," Mondragon said. "He had 17 points for the ballgame and had a great, great game. Just by watching Louisiana Christian play, we felt like we were the only team that could compete with them size-wise and athletically. It's unfortunate we drew them the first round."

Scoring for the Bulldogs were Green, 17; Jason Kinney, 14; Lawrence Bailey, 14; Corey Fields, 13; Bryan Shed, 6; Angel Otero, 6; Ryan Ross, 5; and Kedrick Monson, 2.

Clarendon stepped up its defensive pressure March 7 in a meeting with University of Maine - Ft. Kemp running to a 41-31 halftime advantage before pulling away, 89-67.

"We came out defensively and did a good job," Mondragon said. "We did a great job all tournament. We were in control the whole ballgame."

The Bulldogs relied on another big game from Green, who had 17 points.

Other scorers were Kinney, 12; Ross, 12; Shed, 11; Monson, 9; Bailey, 8; Wendell Fields, 6; Harris, 4; Steven Browning, 2; Antonio Williams, 2; Kimmitt Brigham, 2; Otero, 2; and Sam McLeod, 2.

Bunker Hill out of Boston, Mass., was the only thing between Clarendon College and a fifth place finish during their March 8 meeting.

The Bulldogs ran to a 45-21 halftime lead, before running away with a 95-55 victory.

"We just completely shut them down," Mondragon said. "(Green) had 18 points in the first half. He hit four three-pointers, and as a team, we hit seven threes in the first half."

Bunker Hill suited up a roster of "athletic, inner-city kids," Mondragon said. "Our kids did a great job of sealing the gap and stopping their three-pointers. I was really proud of the way they played the whole tournament and represented Clarendon College."

Scorers were Green, 23; Kinney, 11; Ross, 10; Shed, 10; Fields, 10; Brigham, 8; Bailey, 6; Otero, 5; Harris, 4; Josh Minkley, 3; and McLeod, 1.

The Bulldogs ended the year 21-8.

"It was a surprising year," Mondragon said. "I thought the kids did a great job all year responding to a situation where they had to win. And I thought we were a very good defensive team, and with so many new faces on the team, I knew we were going to struggle offensively."

"They played off their defense and did a good job in the tournament. We outrebounded our opponents all three games. They worked on rebounding and worked better on running an offense, which I think showed in the national tournament."

The Bulldogs and Lady Bulldogs make a return to the competitive Western Junior College Athletic Conference next year after a three-year absence.

Despite the tough schedule ahead, Mondragon says a strong contingent of returnees should help out the Bulldogs.

"We have a good nucleus of kids coming back. We have Fields, who starts for us at the point and did an extremely great job for us. We have Bailey and Harris at the post, and Ross at the two guard. We have some experience coming back."

"We just want to thank everyone for supporting the Bulldogs all year long."

Deadlines and policies changed for classified ads

Advertisers will have more time to get their copy into the paper, and readers of the Enterprise will be seeing a new look in the Classified Ad section of the newspaper starting next week with the introduction of the "Big-E Classifieds."

The new look will be accompanied by some exciting changes in classified ad policy. Each week one ad from the new classified section will be chosen at random to appear in a display ad promoting the classified ads. Also, a free 16-word classified will be given with each new subscription or subscription renewal.

Deadlines for classifieds as well as display advertising have been changed to 5 p.m. on Monday. The new deadlines come after months of altering the way the newspaper goes together each week.

"Going to a digital pagination system of laying out the Enterprise is much more efficient than what we have done in the past, and this has allowed us to move the deadlines for advertising to better meet our customers' needs," said publisher Roger Estlack.

Prices for Big-E Classifieds will still be $6 for the first 15 words and 10¢ per word thereafter, and Notes of Thanks of average length will still be $7.

Deadlines for news articles and photos will remain at noon on Monday.

First place ended in a tie between Haynes Elementary School of Lubbock and Reagan Magnet School of Odessa. Second place was awarded to Tubbs Elementary School of Lubbock.

The Clarendon Elementary Team was also awarded a Ranatra Fusca Creativity Award. The Ranatra Fusca Creativity Award represents the essence of the Odyssey of the Mind. It is presented to teams or individuals who exhibit exceptional creativity, either through some aspect of their problem solution, their behavior, or an extraordinary idea beyond the problem solution. The award is a way to acknowledge and encourage creative thinking and risk-taking. The team received this award for a very creative script, an unusual solution, creative names of characters, and creative dancing.

OM provides creative problem solving for all grades and encourages students to expand their imaginations as they are challenged to come up with creative solutions to problems in areas such as art, science, history, literature, humanities, and technology.

The Clarendon Elementary team participated in Division I, Problem #3, Classics...Can You Dig It? The team's problem was to create and present a performance about archaeology that included four team-made artifacts and a team member who portrayed an archaeologist. The Spirit of the Problem was for the team to present an original performance about archaeology that included two acts, an archaeologist, four artifacts, a depiction of each artifact's use, and the archaeologist's explanation of each artifact's purpose. The elementary team used a Viking theme for their ancient act and the 1990s for their modern act.

Team members are Lydia Hartman (Aqua Queen and Frogman), Alice Hommel (Narrator and Archaeologist), Jeremy Howard (Warrior Meatball and Frogman), Tim Leeper (Warrior Omelet, Announcer, and Frogman), Chrissy Martin (My King Fisher and Frogman), and Ottis Scrivner (Creator of Pamphlet and Announcer for School Performance).

Parent/student programs at Clarendon High School to explain differing graduation requirements for classes

Keeping up with the ever changing high school graduation requirements is a difficult task at best according to a news release from CHS counselor John Taylor.

Changes — some major, some minor — seem to come every year. The senior class of 1997 will be the last class to graduate under the "advanced regular" plans.

Next year's seniors will have more options. The "minimum/recommended/distinguished achievement" plans will be in place. To complicate matters, the new plans which have been phased in over the last three years have already been "refined." This means that next year's sophomores, juniors, and seniors actually have different graduation plan options. These changing requirements can become quite confusing.

To be sure that parents and students are making the best informed decisions about graduation and career plans, Clarendon High School and the Clarendon CISD counselor's office will hold two meetings to discuss changing graduation and career options.

For next year's high school freshmen, the meeting will be held at 6 p.m. on March 21 in the CCISD cafeteria. The agenda for the meeting will include ACT Explore test results, 21st century careers, graduation plans, and questions and answers. Both parents and students are encouraged to attend.

The meeting for next year's sophomores, juniors, and seniors will be held at 6 p.m. on March 24, and will also be held in the CCISD cafeteria. The agenda for this meeting will include 21st century careers, graduation plans, and questions and answers. Again, both parents and students are encouraged to attend.

The pre-registration process at the school will begin March 25. Students will have to decide which of the plans they wish to graduate under and, based on that plan, the classes they need to pre-register for. If parents have any questions about this process, they can contact John Taylor at the Clarendon CISD counselor's office at 874-3241.

Broncos finish fourth in relays

Clarendon's varsity boys track team finished fourth with 56 points at the First Dragon Relays Saturday at Paducah.

Canadian, Childress and Paducah finished ahead of the Broncos.

The Broncos travel to Abilene Friday and Saturday for the All-American City Invitational, which attracts 1,200 varsity competitors.

Senior Roy Williams paced Clarendon with a first place finish in the 400 meters with a time of 48.76, nearly five seconds faster than his nearest opponent.

Juniors Brent Gaines and Jason Archuleta cleared 5-10 in the high jump, their best height this year. Archuleta captured a silver medal while Gaines garnered a bronze, which was determined after a coin flip after both tied.

"They both barely missed at six foot," head track coach Darryl Cash said. "They need just a little better timing; they're jumping a lot better."

Dean Stanzione placed fourth in the triple jump with a jump of 40-2, and captured fourth in the long jump with an effort of 19-9 1/4, a little off his usual mark. "His back was bothering him," Cash said.

Stanzione also ran to seventh place in the 100 meters.

Senior Kyle Davis also ran the 100 meters in 12.5 but scratched in the preliminary of the 200 meters.

James Hoggatt ran to a third place finish in the 300 intermediate hurdles with a time of 45.7. "He's real strong and has good speed in the 400 meters, so we decided to try him in the hurdles," Cash said. "He hasn't had a chance to work on them much. He's got a chance to make regionals if he keeps improving."

Archuleta placed fourth in the 110 meter high hurdles with a time of 17.2.

Clarendon's junior varsity team finished fourth with 38 points.

Freshmen Jr. Rodriguez and Zach Butts ran the 100 meters, 200 meters, and the 400 meters.

Butts made the finals in the 100 meters with a time of 13.37 and was fourth in the 400 meters with a 60.8. Rodriguez placed seventh with a time of 65.01.

Brandon Word was second in the shot put heaving it 37-3; Hunter Spier was fourth with a throw of 36-3 1/2; and Ronnie Tabor was seventh with an effort of 33-6.

Seventh and eighth graders compete in Odyssey of the Mind

Seven outrageously gifted seventh and eighth grade OM-ers from Clarendon Junior High School participated in the area Odyssey of the Mind contest on March 8, 1997, in Amarillo.

Seventh grader Emily Simpson and eighth graders Nickless Devin, Chris Gandy, David Hall, Jared Hartman, Samuel Holton, and Lindsey Shelton presented their interpretation of Can You Dig It?, a problem involving creating and presenting a performance about archaeology which included four team-made artifacts and an archaeologist.

Their skit included a scene set in ancient times using the artifacts and one in modern times in which the archaeologist explains or interprets how the artifacts were used.

Being growing kids, these OM-ers immediately thought of food as the solution to the problem. In their ancient act, Cave Dudes Chris Gandy and Jared Hartman got into a berry fight while impatiently waiting for Cave Keeper Lindsey Shelton to come cook for them.

When she arrived, the Cave Dudes had completely inundated the cave in berry juice. Before she could chew them out, they were frightened away from the cave by the supposedly dead varmint they had dragged home to have cooked for dinner.

In a flash forward to the 1970s, Hippie Teenagers Emily Simpson and Lindsey Shelton found themselves cleaning the results of too much spare time (graffiti) from the cave walls.

Archaeologist Dad Chris Gandy discovered that much of the graffiti was actually prehistoric cave art.

His interpretation of the berry stain covered cave as a memorial to loved ones lost in an intertribal war caused Narrator Nickless Devin much amusement.

Stage crew members were Samuel Holton and David Hall, who helped build the cave scene props using recycled materials.

In addition to the long term problem, the short term problem was to figure out how to get out of a well.

Julie Hartman coached the team through the many long hours of preparing and presenting Can You Dig It?

Sixth grade students participate in Odyssey of the Mind

Can a sixth grader be over seven feet tall and save a young girl and her cat from the ravages of a destructive tornado?

Sure. In Odyssey of the Mind (OM), anything possible.

As part of their Advanced Academic Students Program, sixth graders Karolyn Burns, Taylor Shelton (as "Slim Jim" our 7'5" tall hero), Lacey Anderburg (as the narrator and tornado - remember in OM, anything is possible), Valerie Taylor (as Lorianne, the young girl), Ashlee Kidd (Wacky Wanda from the Wacky Weather Station), and Kevin Green (as Short Stuff, also from the Wacky Weather Station) competed in the Northwest Texas Regional Odyssey of the Mind contest.

Odyssey of the Mind presents the students with both spontaneous and long term problems to solve. They do not know exactly what the spontaneous problem will be. They just know that it is going to involve creative problem solving and teamwork.

For the long term problem, the AAS students were presented with this problem - create and present a humorous performance that includes a character that has one of more out-of-proportion characteristics.

This out of proportion characteristic will enable the character to do something better, or do something that it otherwise could not do.

During the performance, the character will use this ability at one time to help another member of its species and at another time to help a member of a different species. All props and materials must fit inside a 4x4x4 cube and cost less than $90.00. All problem solving and ideas must come from the students.

Coaches John Taylor and Sandy Anderburg and the team spent a minimum of six hours per week this spring in preparation for the competition. Clarendon Junior High competed with teams from the Panhandle and South Plains. The students did a super job representing Clarendon CISD.

CHS varsity boys golf team places fourth

Clarendon's Varsity Boys Golf team finished fourth in the March 11 Memphis Invitational Golf Tournament at the Memphis Country Club.

The Broncos combined for a 346, behind Childress, Shamrock A and Floydada.

Clarendon was 11 strokes better than District 2-2A rival Panhandle and 23 better than Quanah.

Robert Bertrand paced the Broncos with an 82 while senior Chris Chamberlain shot an 87.

Chris Linquist shot an 88, Trent Mooring made an 89, and Keith Kidd finished with a 97.

The Broncos were scheduled to compete March 18 in Wellington. Results were unavailable at press time.

Host families needed

The American Intercultural Student Exchange, a non-profit educational foundation, is seeking local host families for high school foreign exchange students for the 1997-98 school year.

AISE students come from over forty countries world-wide, and the program recently expanded operations to include Lithuania, Croatia, and South Africa. Every year, AISE places thousands of exchange students with host families throughout the United States. AISE exchange students live with American families and attend local high schools during their ten-month cultural exchange.

American host families provide these young ambassadors with a room, meals, and a loving, family atmosphere in which to live. AISE students are eager to learn about our government, history, customs, and language while leaving a lasting impression of their cultures in the minds and hearts of their American host families and peers. Please call AISE at 1-800-SIBLING for information on hosting a foreign exchange student in your home.

By Mary Beth Nelson

"I guess this story goes as fiction, but to me it's pretty true, for I knowed such a feller as I'm writing about here. I knowed the girl too. Fact is I am the horse wrangler in this story, the Kid. I was working on the outfit when that feller come along, it was one of the first big outfits I'd ever worked for and I was much of a kid. I sold him his first horse and coached him on his first ride, and the impressions I give as the Kid in this story are the impressions I had at the time."

Western writer, Will James, in his novel, Sand, fictionally named that "feller" Gilbert Tilden. Amazingly true experiences are related from the time "young city man," Tilden, stumbles into the Ox Yoke outfit, a cow camp in Montana. According to the author, "He was the first grown feller what knowed of easy ways of living who came to the cow country and stuck, the first one I ever seen, and the kind of a man you'd least expect, too, for there was nothing to him to stick with, nothing but a rack of bones and a fluttering heart, and he'd come to a world that was all strange and which he was least fitted for."

One might wonder how a person who had only known marble steps, butlers, limousines, and high living could change enough to prefer a life of often using "the sky for a roof and the earth for a floor." It happens.

Tilden had been a stranded stranger when he came into the camp. The cowboys did their best to help set him on his feet. Even though he had always had anything he wanted when he wanted it, he began realizing how worthless and empty his life had been. While recuperating, Tilden watched every detail about the life the cowboys lived...their working, eating, joking, sleeping...until the desire to make something of himself became so strong within him, he was willing to attack the seemingly impossible, and often did. He didn't want to take advantage of their hospitality, nor did they expect him to. As soon as he was able, he began trying to help in any way he could. Being caught up in this way of life, he asked questions, eager to learn and do anything he was told.

He rode with the Kid every day and learned something new. The cowboys put up with his awkwardness. At times, they enjoyed his mistakes at Tilden's own expense, but he learned to accept these mistakes as part of his education. He took his first lessons "not only in riding, but in self-reliance, developing confidence, and guts." As the author stated, "He got plenty of 'edication' and many spills and knocks along with it."

Tilden had no desire to return to the city and his old habits. This was where he wanted to be. There was much more to learn before his survival and feeling of belonging could be a reality. Not wanting to be in the way, causing extra trouble at Ox Yoke, he recognized it was time to leave. With knowledge and other things that the horse riders had helped him accumulate, he left the camp much healthier and slightly tougher than when he first arrived.

Meeting and living with Old Joe Deschamp during the next year was probably the best thing that ever happened to Tilden. Old Joe had been trapper, buffalo hunter, lived and traded with Indians, soldier scout, horse and cattle man, and welcomed Tilden's company.

Tilden spent that year preparing for the time he would attempt to capture the wild black stallion that appeared on the ridge from time to time but always stayed a safe distance from any pursuer. "Near every rider on the outfit had at one time or other got a glimpse of that black horse, and near every one had figgered on some time or other catching him." Tilden knew he had to try it some day, but he was not near ready.

Tilden's overwhelming desire and determination to catch the wild horse, his intricate preparations for the event, and the relationship between horse and man are so vividly described that readers are drawn into the story with a better insight to this part of western culture.

Cowboys North and South, All in a Days Riding, found in the library's Texas section, and James' autobiography, Lone Cowboy, My Life Story, offer more of his enjoyable, unique writing style. Jim Bramlett's biography of Will James, Ride for the High Points, is also available at Burton Memorial Library. Why not check it out?

Mattie Roberts is the new Green Thumb volunteer for the Donley County Senior Citizens.

News From The Donley Co. Sr. Citizens:

Nursing home residents dine at Senior Citizens

Eleven residents from the Medical Center Nursing Home ate lunch with us Friday. We always enjoy their visits. We were glad to see Nadine Martin at the Center after her recent back surgery. Nora Hartwick is recovering from eye surgery. Tuffy Reynolds had to go back to the hospital twice, but he finally had his knee surgery. Willene Judd is recovering from all bladder surgery. Louise Jeffers is recovering after a hospital stay. Leona Musgrove is still mending after her fall. Everyone from the Senior Citizens sends our best wishes to all these who have been sick.

We really appreciate everyone who attended our chili supper last week. Our fund raiser committee members did a wonderful job. They always do! It was good to see Max & Winona Hennigh and Willie Creager for lunch at the center. We want to welcome Helen Land and Don and Carla Meyers as our newest volunteers on the home delivery route. We appreciate their help!

Mattie Roberts has joined the staff of the Donley County Senior Citizens Center as a Green Thumb Volunteer. We are thrilled to have her! Mattie's reputation as a tireless worker is well known in Clarendon.

If you haven't sampled the wonderful home made pies from the concession stand at the Saints' Roost Jamboree, you have really missed a treat! And at only $1.00 per slice, it's the best deal in town. Jamboree pie bakers last Saturday were Jean Baten, Mary Jane Smith, Mary Lee Self, Clara Mae Carter, Pat McCombs, Wanda Smith, Jeanette Stephens, Madelyn Hicks, and Sandra Minatre. Cennet can also vouch for Claude Thomas' brownies!

We will be having a bake sale at B&R Thriftway on March 29. Be sure to come early. Our ladies are such great cooks that some treats are sold before they are set down on the table.

The Lion's Tale
By Allen Estlack

The Clarendon Lions Club held its regular Tuesday noon meeting with 13 members present and Clayton Ferris furnishing the music. We were honored to have Hugh Lankford, a guest of Lion Walt Knorpp.

The meeting was opened in regular form by Boss Lion Pro Temp Walt Knorpp. A thank you card was read from Laura Finch, who was sponsored by the Club in the Miss Irish Rose Pageant.

After the regular business was taken care of and since there was no program the meeting was adjourned until next Tuesday.

First Baptist Church to hold revival

Revival services will begin Saturday, March 22, at First Baptist Church of Clarendon and will continue through Wednesday, March 26. Sunday services will begin at 10:50 a.m. and 7:00 p.m., with weekday services beginning at 7:00 p.m. nightly. A noon devotional service will be at 12:25 p.m. each day following lunch. Rev. Tierce Green will be the evangelist.

Green is a gifted speaker, singer, songwriter, and guitarist. He has been actively involved as a youth communicator, a college and singles conference speaker, and a preacher for church-wide revival since 1980. He has a practical insight into the Word of God and an exceptional ability to communicate truth clearly. The primary focus of his ministry is equipping Christians in discipleship, spiritual warfare, and life-style evangelism.

Theme for the services will be Outside These Walls with a special emphasis being placed on reaching beyond the walls of the church to as many as possible, so that the dynamic witness of Christ might continue to do its life changing work.

Activities will get under way Saturday, March 22, with a special rally with Tierce Green for the youth and college students, beginning at 5:00 p.m. The rally will be followed by hamburgers and all the fixings at 6:00. There will also be games and hamburgers for the children, beginning at 5:45 p.m. Every service will begin with a rousing time of music and praise led by Green and will climax with a message from his heart proclaiming the good news of Christ. Everyone is invited to attend. A nursery will be available for those needing it.

Texas agriculture coping with changes with Farm Bill

by Zerle L. Carpenter, Director, TX Agricultural Extension Service

Texas farmers are in a new ball game because of the Freedom to Farm Bill passed by Congress last year. Freedom to Farm essentially gives farmers more flexibility to plant the crops they want, but it removes the safety net in the form of program payments that they have grown accustomed to over the years.

While this newfound freedom may sound enticing, it will undoubtedly jeopardize the financial survival of some farming operations, particularly small to mid-sized businesses, because of the increased financial risks involved.

The result will be a greater emphasis on education and training in risk management and use of new technology. Our agricultural economists and others with expertise in marketing and management will be heavily involved in helping farmers adjust to this new environment. Farmers will need new skills to cope with a more volatile market situation, and they will need to think of the marketplace from a global perspective. They must also harness the latest technological advances if they are to maintain a viable business.

Texas farmers and ranchers continue to do an outstanding job in producing the food and fiber products that enable us to maintain a high standard of living. We can be assured of a safe, nutritious food supply because of those who labor so diligently to produce and process what graces our dining tables. And it comes at a reasonable cost. Today, consumers in this country spend about 10 percent of their disposable income on food compared to 16 percent two decades ago.

Despite a persistent drought that ravaged farming and ranching operations over much of the state in 1996, producers still were able to market agricultural products valued at $13.87 billion. That, in turn, had an economic impact on Texas of more than $45 billion.

The outlook for Texas agriculture in 1997 is much brighter than a year ago because good rains have fallen over much of the state in recent months. This should help farmers get their crops off to a good start and should boost early grazing for cattle. However, the year is long and much

Clarendon Aldermen hold meeting
City hears from citizens, approves new street lights

The Board of Aldermen of the City of Clarendon met in regular session on March 11, 1997, at 7 p.m. in the Board Room of City Hall.

The board heard from Jim Roberts on the water and sewer project with the highway construction.

Jack Moreman spoke to the board concerning property owned by Cliff Whitmore. The property has flood control structures on it which slow water coming through the city. Mr. Moreman asked that the city support him in keeping the land in the Conservation Reserve Program when it comes out of contract in September.

Beverly Alexander requested the board change the city minutes which were printed in the newspaper. The article read that Clifford Alexander needed more time to clean up parked cars. The city says this complaint was brought to them by a property owner. An extension of time was given at the last board meeting. These cars were parked until they could be crushed and hauled off. At this time, they are gone.

It was not Clifford Alexander: It should have been Clifford Alexander, Jr. City Secretary Janice Barbee issued an apology for that error and stated that the Alexander family has been doing a very good job of cleaning up property in town and helping with other community projects.

Due to construction on US 287, the street lights are going to have to be moved back. West Texas Utilities presented the City with prices of the utilities on new lighting and different lighting. Motion was made by Alderman James Kuhn to accept Plan Two: 250W (Watt) and 150W high pressure sodium lights (30 - 250W, 27,000 lum. Add 17 - 150W, 16,000 lum.) along Highway 287; Add one 175W mercury vapor light (8,000 lum.) per block on Koogle St. (7); and Add one 175W mercury vapor light (8,000 lum.) per block on Fifth St. (13). Alderman Delmar Wiggs seconded, and the motion carried.

Julius Early, Mayor Pro-tem of Howardwick, asked that the City of Clarendon provide fire protection for the City of Howardwick until they could get things worked out in their department. Alderman Kuhn made a motion that Clarendon Fire Chief Delbert Robertson do what was necessary for the next 90 days to provide service to Howardwick. At the end of that 90 days the Aldermen will review and reconsider. Motion was seconded by Alderman Wiggs. Motion carried.

The board then went into Executive Session. Afterwards, the Aldermen voted to continue its Drug Policy procedures with the Donley County Rural Health Clinic.

In other city business, the board voted to adopt changes in the handbook and to drop the issue of Police Department.

Howardwick Aldermen hold meeting
Board hears from citizens, sets General Election

The Howardwick Board of Aldermen met in regular session on Tuesday, March 11, 1997, at 7 p.m. in the Howardwick City Hall.

The council heard from Jerry Courtney and Teresa Dronzek in response to comments made by Deputy Swain at the last city meeting on busting both liquor establishments for selling to minors. Mr. Courtney gave a statement that in checking with the Texas Liquor Control Board, there has never been any violations against the Hitchin' Post in the four years that the Dronzeks have owned the establishment.

Mayor Dishong responded that despite any negative action, the board and mayor still feel that the physical presence of law enforcement in the city is a deterrent to criminal activity.

Mayor Dishong ordered the General Election for the City of Howardwick be held on Saturday, May 3, 1997, to elect a Mayor for a full two-year term and two Aldermen for full two-year terms. Mayor Dishong submitted the names of Nancy Davis to be the election judge and Billie Melton to be alternate judge for board approval. The board accepted Dishong's nominations and voted to have one additional clerk. Compensation was set at $6 per hour for the judge and $5 per hour for the alternate judge and clerk.

"Render" your taxable property by April 14th

A "rendition" is a report to the appraisal district that lists all the taxable property you owned or controlled on January 1st of this year. The rendition from is available at you local appraisal district office...or you may draft a similar form.

Who must file a rendition?
 You must file a rendition if you own tangible personal property that is used to produce income - such as the inventory and equipment used by a business.

Are there any advantages to you?
 The advantages of filing a rendition are:
 * You give your opinion of your property's value. If the appraisal district believes the value is higher, it must notify you in writing of the higher value and explain how you can protest that value to the appraisal review board.
 * You record your correct mailing address so your tax bills will go to the right address. If your bill is mailed to the wrong address, the law still holds you responsible for paying your taxes on time or paying extra charges for late payments.
 * You can also file a "report of decreased value" to notify the appraisal district of significant depreciation of the value of your property in 1996. The district will look at your property before assigning a value in 1997.

What's the deadline?
 The last day for filing 1997 renditions is Monday, April 14. Call your appraisal district for the last date the rendition may be post-marked, if mailing. You can get an extra 15 days if you ask for it in writing by the April 14 deadline.

Where do you file?

Lake Greenbelt: This 1,000 acre reservoir continues to produce good limits of bass despite several years of low water conditions. During the early spring, crankbaits like a 20-Plus Deep Diver by Dick's Pro Style lures and a firetiger BrushBaby by Luhn Jensen will dive down and reach the bigger bass that stack up on the main lake points while waiting to make their annual spawning visits to the shallow water.

Some locations that have produced good limits of early season bass include Old Clarendon Point, the buoy line in the mouth of Kelly Creek, the mouth of Bass Hollow, and the orchard area near the Ski Club. If your deep diver hangs up on some of the emerging moss beds or panics a school of baitfish, you are at the right place. Slow down and work this area thoroughly. Black bass will gang up, so where you catch one there will be more.

Lake Baylor: Rated by the experts as "drop for drop" the best largemouth bass lake in Texas, Lake Baylor has had several years of high water levels. For three years, the Florida-type bass have enjoyed record spawns coupled with excellent growth and survival. According to guide Ron Smyer, the North Clements Creek, South Clements Creek, and the Cox Creek areas are so full of flooded brush and timber that anglers cannot effectively cast a lure at the bass. These new "sanctuaries" (his term) have protected several generations of largemouth bass from the fishing pressures that are the norm at other Panhandle reservoirs. The young bass are very aggressive, and many have reached the legal minimum size limit of 14 inches. They should provide plenty of action for anglers willing to put a few new scratches on their bass boats.

If you want to have a fun day at this lake, Smyer recommends throwing a small 1/8 oz. white spinnerbait. Since anglers will be fishing in heavy cover, he also suggests using 17 lb. line instead of 12 lb. or 14 lb. Of course, anglers searching for lunkers will continue to use either a jig-n-pig combo or Berkley PowerWorms.

If history repeats, the keys to catching big bass at Baylor will be slow lure presentations and lures that contain the loudest rattles you can buy. The new steel shot in glass rattles are definitely louder than the old lead shot in plastic rattles. Unless you enjoy losing big bass, snatching a "hog" from the heavy cover requires heavy fishing lines. For anglers who flip or pitch, 20 lb. test line is considered a minimum. According to the Jim Braswell, the new super braids (Spiderwire or FireLine) permit anglers to use a 50 lb. line that has the same diameter as the old 20 lb. monofilament.

Lake Childress: Located 1/2 mile east of Lake Baylor is one of the clearest lakes in our region. It is loaded with moss that can be a problem for anglers during the heat of summer, but during the spring Lake Childress offers plenty of top water action. When the water temperature reaches the magic 60 degrees, throw a buzzbait, wacky worm, or Pop-R. The results can be awesome, but don't blame me if a trophy bass over 10 lb. steals your lure. More big bass "fish stories" originate from Baylor and Childress than all our other lakes combined. Losing a hog is just part of the fun of bass fishing at either of these two great lakes.

Lake Meredith: If you stopped visiting this region's biggest lake because the bass fishing was too tough, I have some good news for you. Lake Meredith is back, full of flooded trees and loaded with tons of moss! After a decade of low water that was well suited for open water gamefish like walleye and smallmouth bass, the lake level has increased from 70 feet to 90 feet. The brush and trees that had grown up on the old shore line now provide near-perfect conditions for this area's number one gamefish, the largemouth bass.

Randel Chamber Orchestra sets final performance of season

The Randel Chamber Orchestra will present the third and final performance of the 1996-97 season on Friday, March 21, 1997, at 8:00 p.m. The concert will be held at First Baptist Church, Eleventh and Tyler in Amarillo. Tickets are not available at the door for this performance. They must be purchased in advance from the Symphony office. General admission tickets are $10, and senior citizen/student tickets are available for $5.

Soprano Diane Syrcle will be the featured soloist on the first half of the concert. Ms. Syrcle studied at West Texas A&M University. She is a 1984 graduate of Clovis High School in Clovis, New Mexico. In 1995 she performed the role of Violetta in La Traviata with the Amarillo Opera. She has also sung with the Dallas Opera, The Houston Grand Opera, and the Shreveport Opera; and she is currently a member of the Portland Opera.

Ms. Syrcle has been a Regional Finalist in the Luciano Pavarotti Competition, Southwest regional winner for the Metropolitan Opera Council auditions, and recipient of the Tunnel Voice Award at the Stewart Awards in Oklahoma City. She is currently a member of the national committee of Opera America to explore assessment in arts education.

The Randel Chamber Orchestra will be also joined by the Grand Prize Winner of the Amarillo Symphony Guild's Young Performers' Competition. The competition was held at the end of January, and pianist Sophia Santillan was awarded the Grand Prize.

Ms. Santillan, the daughter of Dr. Carlos and Teresa Santillan, is an Amarillo High School senior. She began studying piano at the age of six and is currently studying privately with Dr. Stanley Potter.

This concert is the final concert for the Randel Chamber Orchestra this season.

Clarendon native to release new novel April 15

Word comes from Red River Press in Burkburnett of the impending April 15 release of Two Feathers, a novella written by Clarendon native Eunice Johnson Halbert.

In the book, Halbert tells the well-known story of Cynthia Ann Parker from a different perspective. Cynthia Ann Parker was kidnapped at age nine by a band of marauding Indians, lived years with the Indians as a captive, and finally accepted Nakoni, a Comanche, as her husband. She was the mother of Quanah Parker, the last great Comanche chief.

In an effort to encourage young readers to see both sides of the racial struggle, Halbert plays upon the similarities rather than the differences between the red and the white man. The book takes license from actual historical accounts to fill in a fast-moving, descriptive, and at times romantic narrative, painting a colorful picture of those early years in the civilization of our region.

Born in Clarendon in 1913, the author compares her "late blooming" as a writer to New York's Grandma Moses. Halbert has previously published a few articles and poems, but this is her first novel.

In a foreword, she mentions having lived across the street from Grandmother Carhart, who entertained her interested young listener with stories of her own childhood. She once said she well remembered seeing buffalo being corralled where the present courthouse stands!

Little did Halbert realize that she was mingling with historical figures when she was in the presence of Colonel Charles Goodnight and his beloved "Aunt Molly." Agatha Taylor Darnell, a relative of the Colonel, was Halbert's roommate when the two taught school at Windy Valley and Chamberlain in the '30s.

Eunice and Grady Halbert have lived in Foard County since their marriage in 1937. Their home is less than 10 miles "as the crow flies" from the monument marking the site where Sul Ross's men recaptured Cynthia Ann.

Crowell has made an annual event of what is called the Cynthia Ann Parker Days, a three-day historical celebration that is scheduled for the first weekend in May this year.

Old Mobeetie Assn. sponsoring art contest

The Old Mobeetie Texas Association is sponsoring an art contest to select two pieces of art work. One selection will become a special pictorial United States Postal Service stamp cancellation for Road Ranch Station that will be open for one day only on June 28, 1997, at the Old Mobeetie Texas Association Jail Museum. A second selection will become the cover of an historical booklet, Wagon Trails, that will be available on June 29, 1996 during Wheeler County Heritage Day.

The art work chosen will commemorate the wagon trails, specifically the military road from Dodge City and Fort Supply, and the Jones and Plummer Trail, the commercial wagon trail. These "wagon roads" were open between 1875 and 1890. Over these two wagon trails, million of pounds of goods and supplies were freighted into Wheeler County from which civilization was first brought to the Panhandle. On the return route, buffalo hides in the beginning and later the bones of the buffalo were shipped to Dodge City for sale. Freighters and merchants like Robert Wright, Charles Rath, W.M.D. Lee, and P.G. Reynolds made their fortunes from the businesses served by the wagon trails.

The art work must be black and white, pen and ink, and 5 x 7 inches in size. The subject matter should reflect life on and/or the purpose and dangers of the wagon trails, such as crossing the rivers and creeks.

All entries must be received by March 28, 1997. Each entry must be accompanied by name, address, and telephone number. Proof of age may be required. Eligible entries must be the original creation of the entrant and must not have been published previously. All art work must be signed by the artist.

Enter as often as you wish. The contest is open to everyone. All entrants under 18 years of age must have a guardian's consent. By entering the contest, entrants agree to be bound by these rules and consent to use of their name and created image without compensation by the sponsor.

All entries become the property of The Old Mobeetie Texas Association. Winners will be notified by April 1, 1996.

The special pictorial cancellation stamp will be used on June 28, 1997, in connection with the celebration of on Wheeler County Heritage Day. A full day of activities are being planned and will be announced in the future. Mail your entry to: The Old Mobeetie Texas Association, Rt. 1, Box 290, Mobeetie, Texas 79061. Telephone No. 826-3427.

According to the N.C.A.A. 29,997 women competed in collegiate sports in 1971-72. By 1994-95, that number had increased to 110,524.

Incredible Insect Facts

Did you know that insects are the largest and most diverse class in the animal kingdom? Read on to find out more fascinating facts about the little critters we love to hate.

Terrible Termites
 Because they love to eat wood, termites can be terrible pests to homeowners, causing damage to a house. In some species of termite, the queen can grow as much as 20,000 times the size of an ordinary worker termite, becoming so swollen with eggs that she is unable to move. Some queen termites can lay as many as 30,000 eggs a day.

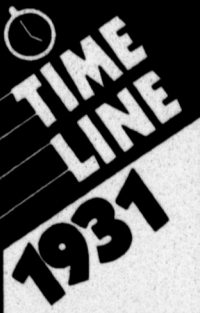

Pleasant Dreams
 The bedbug can ingest its weight in human blood during a five-minute feeding and survive for months without another feeding!

Seeing is Believing
 Like us, the bee can see the color blue. It also can see ultraviolet, which is invisible to the human eye. But, red is a color bees can't detect. Bees will see red objects as black. Do you like honey? Next time you're enjoying some, consider this: A bee must visit about 2 million flowers to produce one pound of honey!

Sneaky Spiders
 Spiders eat insects. They usually kill their prey with poison injected through their bite. Because spiders can swallow only liquids, digestive juices are pumped out onto the prey, where digestion occurs externally. The spider then swallows the resulting nutritious liquid.

Ants Everywhere
 It has been estimated that, at any one time, there are at least 1 quadrillion living ants on the earth - a number so large that it is almost meaningless. There are as many as 10,000 different ant species.

Big Bugs
 Dragonflies are predators that catch their prey while in flight. They have wingspans up to 5.5 inches and can fly at speeds up to 30 miles per hour. Fossils of dragonflies from 250 million years ago had wingspans up to 80 cm (31.5 inches), and were the largest insects known.

If you have information about illegal drug trafficking anywhere in Texas, the Department of Public Safety would like to hear from you.

Beginning March 1, you can help fight illegal drug sales in Texas by calling the DPS toll-free at 1-800-525-5555 to report suspected drug activity anywhere in the state. A headquarters communications officer in Austin will relay your information to the appropriate Highway Patrol or Narcotics officer in your area.

If you believe a drug shipment is being transported, provide the dispatcher with as much information as possible about the vehicle, its location, direction of travel and license plate number. If the drugs are being stored at a building or residence, provide the location and any available information about when the drugs might be moved.

Please contact your local police or sheriff's department if you would like to report individuals possessing small quantities of marijuana or other drugs.

The main DPS 1-800 number also may be used to report erratic or drunken drivers or to seek assistance if you become stranded on the highway. When calling for these purposes, make sure to pinpoint your location and direction of travel using mile markers, crossroads or other landmarks.

To report marijuana under cultivation, contact the DPS Narcotics Service at 1-800-8686274.
