Lady Broncos race well in latest cross country meet

Clarendon's Lady Broncos raced to a third-place finish Saturday in the White Deer Invitational Cross Country Meet trailing perennially strong Sanford-Fritch and Canadian.

Three athletes medaled, and all of Clarendon's runners finished in the top 30.

Clarissa Smith was 10th with a time of 13:54, and Kathy Bryley was on her heels at 13:55 for 11th.

Freshman Kala Holland crossed the finish line in 14:02 for a 15th spot, and Kasi Ashcraft was 18th with a time of 14:04.

Korey Knorpp was 27th with a time of 14:24, and Lolli Menchaca was 29th at a 14:24 pace on the two-mile course.

Already two races into the season, Schmidt sees a huge difference in this year's team compared to last year's.

"We've got four weeks until district, but we can still make a lot of improvements between now and then.

The best thing is they're excited, and they're enjoying it," Head Coach Steve Schmidt said.

Two junior varsity runners competed. Jenny Roberts was seventh with a time of 15:07, and America Santos was 12th with a time of 15:37.

"Jenny medaled also, and that was her first meet. It was a real good performance by her."

Schmidt also carried two junior teams with him to White Deer. Team totals were not available at press time, but April Bryley medaled with her 10th place finish.

Finishers on the A team were: Bryley, 10, 14:28; Jamie Sawyer, 20, 15:22; Courtney Newhouse, 23, 15:26; Kelley Lemley, 35, 16:01; and Danielle Holden, 37, 16:10.

B team competitors were: Claire Rodriguez, 44, 17:09; Sarah Kidd, 48, 17:19; Megan Roberts, 50, 17:48; Jackie Grady, 55, 18:12; and Mary Jaramillo, 57, 18:29.

Technician Melvin Lehman runs tests on Clarendon's new digital telephone switching station before it is brought online. GTE activated the new switch last Tuesday night at midnight, replacing the obsolete system which had been in place since 1960.

Chuckwagon cookoff to be held Saturday

Time will roll back as the chuckwagons roll in Saturday, September 28, at the Second Annual Col. Charles Goodnight Chuckwagon Cookoff and Camp Gathering sponsored by Saints' Roost Museum.

Last year's inaugural event was a huge success, and this year is shaping up to be even more exciting and entertaining. Sixteen chuckwagons, including the historic JA Ranch wagon, will be competing for cash prizes awarded for best food, best camp, and most authentic rig.

The internationally famous Coors chuckwagon will be serving up lunch which will include the wagon's specialty, freshly made sourdough noodles with beef. Proceeds from the sale of lunches will go to the Saints' Roost Museum.

Concessions will offer cowboy and Indian souvenirs for sale, and an 1845 Weber competition ready Chuckwagon will be raffled off.

Afternoon entertainment will include an exhibit in the Main Museum by noted western artist and sculptor Don Ray. The museum will also have several new exhibits. The bunkhouse will be open and the railroad depot, recently moved from downtown, will be available for people to see the progress that is being made in restoring the building.

Outside, Chevrolet's Pokey the Clown will be on hand as will Don and JA-nnet Williams of Canadian who will bring their trained longhorn cattle. Don and JA-nnet and their longhorns, T-Bone and Ribeye, have become well known throughout the Panhandle and will set up an outdoor photo studio to take pictures of children (and adults) astride the huge cattle.

After dinner, entertainment under the stars will be highlighted by poet, musician, storyteller, and western heritage devotee Red Steagall, western swing fiddler and former Texas Playboy Frankie McWhorter and cowboy balladeer and poet R.W. Hampton. The concert will be on the

Texas Farm Bureau supports total elimination of school property tax

AUSTIN - Is the "tax temperature" of Texas property owners high enough for property tax reform? That metaphor has been used repeatedly since Governor George W. Bush appointed his Citizen's Committee on Property Tax Relief.

"I am here to report that the temperature of our members is hotter than a July day in South Texas," Texas Farm Bureau President Bob Stallman told the committee Thursday. Stallman, one of 17 members of the committee, presented his testimony on behalf of the state's largest farm organization at the fourteenth and final hearing in Austin.

"As the primary goal of property tax relief, the Texas Farm Bureau supports the total elimination of school property taxes," Stallman said.

The rice farmer from Columbus proposed that school property taxes be replaced with a business activity tax similar to the model studied by the committee's staff work group.

"The proposed business activity tax should have a $500,000 standard deduction to encourage small business growth and to ease the administrative burden," Stallman said.

In the event that this approach does not meet the overall objectives laid out by the Governor, Stallman said the Farm Bureau would support a multiple solution featuring several combinations. These, Stallman suggested, could include combinations of the business activity tax, sales taxes expanded to include some services, and a much leaner local property tax.

"Property taxes have more than doubled in 10 years while overall property tax values have declined by 6 percent in the same period," he said.

According to Stallman's statement, retail sales have increased 71 percent during the same 10 year period, and gross state product accounts for 52 percent.

"Such a stagnant tax base will not meet the needs of a growing population of school children," the farm leader stressed.

Stallman said the tax paying balance between capital intensive business and service and trade industries is "fundamentally unfair." According to Stallman, capital intensive business representing only 38 percent of the gross state product pays 56 percent of all local and state business taxes. On the other hand, the Farm Bureau president said, service and trade industries represent 62 percent of the current gross state product while paying only 17 percent of the business taxes.

Illustrating his point that property taxes have nothing to do with the ability to pay, Stallman said "in this year of drought many producers will not harvest a crop but still must pay ever increasing taxes on their land. He also pointed out that the same is true for homeowners who are jobless or incapacitated.

"Texas needs a tax system in which all businesses pay their fair share to fund public education," Stallman said.

Stallman listed four specific concerns regarding the property tax relief effort. The first is protection of the Constitutional provision for taxing agricultural land on productive value rather than market value. Stallman stressed that agricultural land is taxed and is not exempt from property taxes.

"Even with ag use valuation," he said,

"agriculture as an industry pays three times its fair share for funding local public school education."

He added that without agricultural valuation, property taxes on agriculture would be "almost confiscatory."

The second concern is protection of agricultural exemptions on sales tax for agricultural input items such as feed, seed, and fertilizer. Stallman said loss of these would leave Texas agriculture producers at a severe competitive disadvantage.

The third concern expressed by the Farm Bureau president is the cost of public education.

"Fiscal responsibility is a must and should not be overlooked in the overall effort," he said. "All state and/or federal mandates should be fully funded prior to implementation."

Stallman urged local "citizen involvement in school spending decisions."

Finally, Stallman expressed hope that moves toward efficient school management would not destroy the community schools of rural Texas. Forced consolidation, he warned, would place undue hardships "on children in the vast rural areas of the state."

Stallman pledged the Texas Farm Bureau support for solving the growing property tax controversy.

"We will work with Gov. Bush and legislative leaders to formulate a plan that will fairly and equitably address property tax reform and in the process provide a sound education for the school children of Texas," he said.

Thornberry raises concerns over new CRP ruling

WASHINGTON, DC — U.S. Rep. Mac Thornberry (R-Clarendon) expressed concern today about the new rule changes proposed by the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture that would dramatically alter the way crop land is enrolled in the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP).

"When Congress passed the Farm Bill earlier this year," Thornberry said, "it froze the number of acres and left it to the administration to write the regulations implementing the program. No one anticipated the type of radical change the USDA is proposing away from what's worked in the past to an entirely new set of criteria for enrolling acreage.

"In the 13th district alone, there are nearly 1.5 million acres of CRP land. If the USDA's plan is allowed to go into effect, nearly half of these acres could be prevented from reapplying to the program. This could potentially have devastating effects. Not only has the program provided supply control and price stabilization, but it has also provided the additional environmental benefits of soil restoration, cleaner air, and decreased depletion of the aquifer."

The new rules were formally published this week in the Federal Register. Among other things, the rules would stipulate that land meet an Environmental Index level of 8 and over in order to participate in the program. "The problem with this rule change," Thornberry noted, "is that it puts too much emphasis on water erosion and disregards the full impact of wind erosion."

According to Thornberry, the proposed rule will be open for public review and comment for the next 45 days. After that, it will be sent to Congress for 60 days of consideration on Capitol Hill — a requirement that was just enacted last year and, according to Thornberry, is the most logical place for the rule to be defeated. "Why the administration would turn its back on the region in this way after three years of drought and after the program has been such a success is beyond me. But the important thing right now is to figure out what it will take to stop it."

Thornberry is currently working with a bipartisan group of lawmakers also opposed to the new rule. In addition, he has spent the last several days talking to area farmers and ranchers, getting their thoughts about the issue and trying to get a firmer assessment of just how severely the area will be affected.

Thornberry urges all area producers and anyone else who is concerned about the new rule to contact him with their concerns. All comments should be directed to Thornberry's Amarillo office, located at 724 Polk St, Amarillo, 79101. The phone number is 371-8844, and the fax number is 371-0651.

"Passing the Baton"

"Run in such a way that you may win."
— I Corinthians 9:24

In high school I ran a leg on the mile relay team. Now, that in itself unveils something of my decrepit nature, as track and field converted to the metric system eons ago.

Anyway, I would chug around the cindered oval for 440 yards, panting like an overfed junkyard dog, and pass the baton to another spindly-legged, would-be stalwart.

My moment in the sun (or under the stadium lights, as it were) was just that - a moment.

Life is a lot like a relay race, isn't it? A moment - perhaps a blink of the Master's eye - after which we pass the baton to another hopeful generation. And just like a relay race, when we run our leg poorly, it puts the next generation at a distinct disadvantage. (Our national debt quickly comes to mind.)

While running our infinitesimal leg, it's amazing how we can get so caught up in our own self-importance. We tend to see ourselves as permanent fixtures, rather than custodians.

In my always fragmented way of thinking, we are but standing a watch, charged with the responsibility of leaving the world a little better than we found it. Opportunities to meet that mission abound - at home, at work, in our community, and in our churches.

Very often I question how well I'm doing my part. Yet, I rarely, if ever, make substantive behavioral changes. Such arrogance is rooted in what might be characterized as unconscious immortality. I tend to conduct myself as if there will always be a tomorrow, as if the baton will forever rest in my hands.

My grandmother used to expose a simple, unoriginal philosophy on life. "We're only passing through," she was fond of saying. Truly, an axiom. We're only passing through within our families. Within our jobs. Within our communities.

As such, common laws do not target individuals. They serve generations of people. The same can be said of the rules and policies that govern our workplaces. When we think otherwise, vanity prevails over intellect.

My old track coach used to charge, "When you hit that finish line, you should have nothing left. Absolutely nothing."

In that stark challenge perhaps lies the measure of one's life - one's own leg of the race, if you will. We will all pass the baton at a time not of our choosing, but very soon in any case. When that time comes, literally we will be out of breath.

Figuratively? Well, that's another issue.

Dr. Scott Elliott is the president of Clarendon College.

Facts about the Enterprise

Last week I talked about the Enterprise -- the aircraft carrier not the newspaper -- and said that it was now in the Persian Gulf for the first time. Well, I was wrong.

A local lady called to tell me that her son had served on the Enterprise in the Persian Gulf a few years ago.

I stand corrected, but as far as I've been able to determine, this is the first time the ship has been deployed to the gulf since President Clinton has been in office.

I did a little research on the ship whose name we share and came up with some interesting facts. You may know that the Enterprise has a long, proud history in the US Navy, but here are some things you may not have known.

There have been eight ships to bear the name Enterprise in the history of the United States. The first was a British sloop that was captured by the US and renamed way back in 1775.

The carrier USS Enterprise (CV-6), the immediate predecessor to the current ship, was the most decorated US Navy ship of World War II. "The Fighting Gray Lady," as she was called, earned 20 Battle Stars, the Navy Unit Commendation, and the Presidential Unit Citation.

When commissioned on Sept. 24, 1960, the modern carrier USS Enterprise (CVN-65) was the world's first nuclear powered aircraft carrier.

The current commander of the "Big E," Capt. Michael D. Malone, has written, "Enterprise is a vital national asset from which the United States is able to project air power ashore in support of national interests." He also writes, the Enterprise is the Navy's "Carrier with Class."

The ship has a 4.5-acre flight deck and is 25 stories high, 257 feet wide, and 1,123 feet long. It is powered by eight nuclear reactors and is the fastest major combatant in the world.

The Enterprise was on the front-line of defense for the US Naval Blockade in the Cuban Missile Crisis, saw six combat deployments in the Vietnam War, participated in the 1986 raid on Libya, and escorted Kuwaiti tankers in the Persian Gulf during Operation Praying Mantis in 1988.

We're proud to share the name of this fine vessel, and we're also proud of the young men and women on board her.

Seniors can apply for free tickets from Southwest

Southwest Airlines and the Area Agency on Aging of the Panhandle have announced the start of the 18th annual "Home for the Holidays" program which will provide Panhandle seniors with complimentary tickets to visit family and friends over the holidays.

Applications are available at senior centers across the Panhandle and by contacting the Area Agency on Aging at 372-3381 if calling from the Amarillo/Canyon area or 1-800-642-6008 outside of Amarillo. To apply, a person must be 65 years of age or older and demonstrate a strong economic need. Deadline for submission of applications is October 18, 1996.

Fifteen applicants from the Panhandle area will be selected to receive complimentary round-trip tickets based on their need for economic assistance and their reason for travel. Married couples may name their spouses on the application if they would like the selection committee to consider both as possible recipients. Past recipients may apply, and only one application per person will be accepted. No ground transportation or additional travel expenses will be provided. Recipients may begin their trip any time after Dec. 2, 1996, but trips must be taken by Jan. 11, 1997.

Since the program began in 1979, thousands of seniors have been sent "Home for the Holidays." In 1986, President Reagan cited the it as an outstanding community service program and awarded it the Presidential Award for Private Sector Initiatives.

Changes coming in federal and state funding for soil and water conservation programs

FT. WORTH — Federal and state funding for soil and water conservation programs in Texas was the focal point of the 56th annual meeting of soil and water conservation district (SWCD) directors which was held September 16-18 in Ft. Worth.

"You have been given something in the 1996 Farm Bill that conservation districts have long been asking for. And that is for almost 60 years SWCDs have been wanting local control to determine where USDA dollars are spent on conservation programs," said Robert Buckley, executive director, Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board (TSSWCB).

Buckley alluded to the Farm Bill reauthorizing and amending a number of conservation programs. In terms of funding conservation programs, the new Farm Bill established the Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQIP) which combines functions of several existing USDA conservation cost-share programs.

Buckley also told conservation district officials attending the meeting that SWCDs nationwide also stand the chance of becoming recipients of a proposed Grants-to-Districts program amounting to $100 million if Congress approves the legislation.

"If the legislation is enacted, this would amount to the tune of $34,000 per SWCD in the nation," said Buckley. Texas has 214 SWCDs while there are approximately 3,000 conservation districts nationwide.

"If this comes to pass we are not talking about a one time shot either. We are talking about an annual operating fund for conservation districts. In addition, if the money is appropriated, all the funds will go to SWCDs. There would be no administrative rake off at the national or state level," Buckley said.

On the state level, Buckley said that five major funding areas have been identified and prioritized by Texas SWCDs. These include:

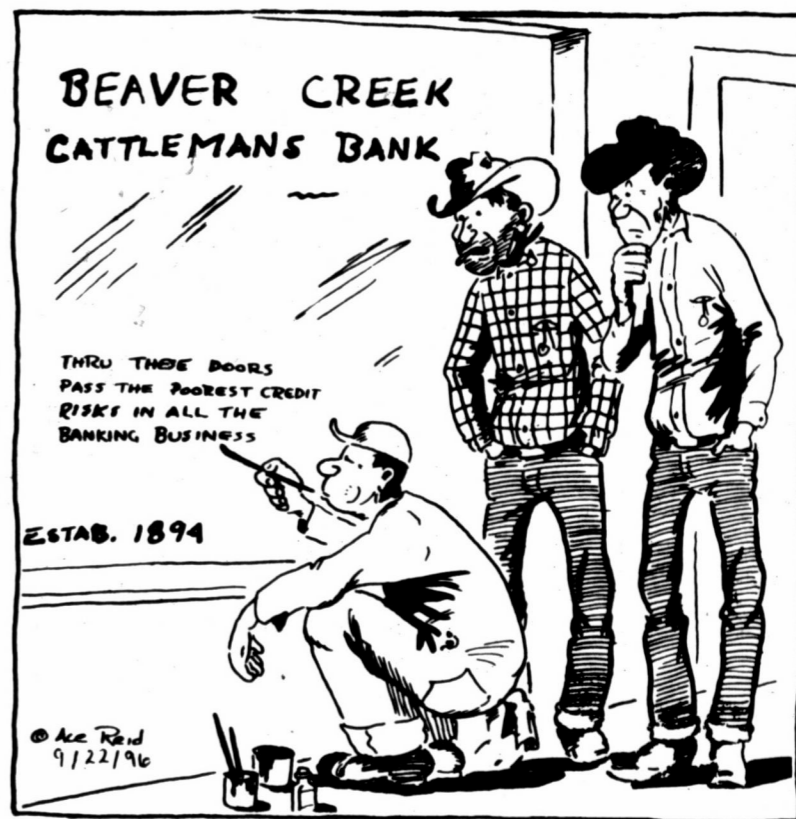

- Additional funding for a state technical assistance program
- A matching fund program to

SWCDs

- A cost-share program for a water quality management program
- Funding for a brush management program
- Funding for the operation and maintenance of watershed structures.

Broncos ready to take on Hart in homecoming match

With their two toughest games behind them - Boys Ranch and Spearman, the Bronco football squad is looking forward to a more-even match-up Friday with Hart.

Kick-off for the homecoming contest is 8 p.m. in Bronco Stadium.

Spearman - a potential play-off team in tough District 1-2A rolled over Clarendon, 62-0, Sept. 20, in Clarendon.

"I felt like even in the fourth quarter, they were still playing hard," Clarendon Head Coach Tooter Draper said of the Broncos. "We still never gave up on what we did. They're always trying."

Draper cited seniors Scott Bivens, B.J. Hamilton and James Hoggatt with outstanding play. Quarterback Scotty Elliott also had a good game.

"He did a great job at quarterback," Draper said.

Two off the injured reserve list return to the Bronco line-up for Friday's match-up.

Junior Tackle Ronnie Tabor is questionable at press time because of a knee injury, but senior Roy Williams, who has been recovering from foot surgery, and sophomore Blake Bass, who broke his arm during summer work-outs, will be a great addition to the team, Draper said.

"With Blake and Roy coming back, it's going to help us out pretty good," Draper said. "It will give us some more depth and experience."

Williams will replace Kareem Abdullah at tailback, and Abdullah will return to his receiver position.

"We'll shuffle a few kids around to different places to where they used to be. We'll be able to run with Roy and throw with Kareem. It will give us a good pass threat."

"Scotty (Elliott) had a good game, and he did a great job at quarterback, and he'll continue doing that. We might try to rotate Scotty and Blake a little bit later on. We'll just have to see."

Hart is 1-2 entering the Friday match-up, coming off a heartbreaking 14-6 loss to Nazareth. Their other loss was to Idalou the week before.

Hart's front line averages 220 lbs. and is a run-oriented team, Draper said.

"We feel like they're pretty slow," Draper said, "so we'll try to get outside on them and throw the ball on them."

"They've got a pretty good tailback but not as good as what we've seen in the last two weeks. He's 6', 210 pounds."

"We'll have to continue to try wrapping him up."

Draper is pleased with the Broncos work ethic since two-a-days, despite two stinging back-to-back losses.

"It's really encouraging," Draper said. "We feel like they're not as good as the teams we've previously played. We feel like we'll be able to play with them."

The first-year head coach will continue to mix up his offenses making it more difficult for opponents to scout the Broncos.

Draper expects a good contest and knows the fans will be excited about the team and the homecoming activities.

"I feel like the fans have been real supportive in what we're doing. I think we'll have a good crowd and a good game for the homecoming crowd."

Clarendon Junior High Colts play Panhandle

Clarendon's seventh grade Colts held Panhandle to a 0-0 contest Sept. 19 in Panhandle while the eighth graders lost a heart-breaker, 14-6.

In the eighth grade game, Panhandle struck first but G.J. Martindale scored on a reverse before half, and the teams were tied, 6-6, at half.

Panhandle scored the last touchdown in the third quarter, and the Colts were never able to catch up.

The Colts travel to Memphis Thursday for a 4:30 p.m. start for the seventh graders and a 6 p.m. kick-off for the eighth graders.

The Bronco Junior Varsity were outgunned by the Panthers, 44-0, Sept. 19 in Panhandle. The Panthers scored their first touchdown with 7:49 left and led 8-0, after the two-point conversion.

At the 4:38 mark, Ben Wilson recovered a fumble on the Panhandle 35-yard line. Carey Thornberry was forced to punt and landed the ball at the 4-yard line.

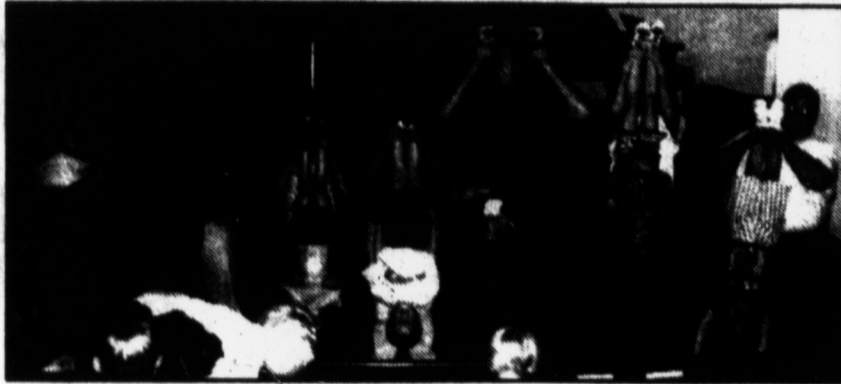

Panhandle led 30-0 before half but not before Cael Shields returned the kick-off to the 50-yard line and later ran for the first down before Clarendon fumbled.

The defense stepped it up a notch as they held Panhandle on the 1-yard line at halftime.

Wes Ritchie returned a kick-off to the 48-yard line after another Panhandle score, and after another Panther TD, Shields returned a kickoff to the 18-yard line.

Ritchie made two runs for first downs to close out the contest.

The JV squad meets Memphis at 7:30 p.m. in Cyclone Stadium.

Cub Scouts hold pack meeting

Den 1 had the most guests, and they carried home the trophy for one month.

The Tiger Cubs receiving their patches and activity paws were Dalton Askew, Nathan Gribble, Scott Fowler, and Steven Fowler.

The scouts in Den 1 received their Bobcat badges and were all turned upside down to be pinned. They must do a good deed to turn the badges over. Den 1 members were Martin Oliver, Dakota Thornton, Bubba Martin, Danny Edes, Brayden Bennett, Joshua Watts, and Wes Christopher.

The Webelos Den presented the opening and closing ceremonies for the meeting. They were Ryan Carroll, Tim Sears, Brent Hix, Danny Gidean, and Otis Scrivner.

Stroke Symptoms Requires Fast Action

"Recognizing stroke symptoms and reacting promptly can make a difference," said Dr. James Killian, professor of neurology at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

Strokes are a loss of circulation to the brain caused by a closed-off brain artery or by a blood clot that has moved from the heart or large arteries in the neck. Ruptured blood vessels in the brain can also cause strokes.

According to Killian, any of the following stroke symptoms warrant an immediate trip to an emergency room: loss of strength in an arm, leg or both, loss of speech, or sudden severe and unexplained headache.

"With these symptoms, it is crucial for physicians to determine what is wrong and to begin treatment to prevent worsening or a second stroke," Killian said. "The goal is to minimize damage to brain cells caused by loss of oxygen and to lessen the amount of impairment."

Emergency room physicians will monitor the heart rate, regulate the blood pressure, and take an x-ray of the brain called a CT-Scan.

"The CT scan is the gold standard in stroke evaluation," Killian said. "If it shows no bleeding in the brain, then blood thinners may be started to avoid further damage. With bleeding, medications are used to cut down swelling and surgery is considered."

stroke include: numbness or odd sensations on one side of the body or face; temporary loss of vision, double vision, or slurred speech; and dizziness or loss of balance.

"With these symptoms, talk to your physician as soon as possible and go to the hospital if they persist," he said.

Symptoms that go away within 24 hours, Killian says, are called transient ischemic attack and are often a stroke warning sign. "Even if symptoms clear up, there is still some circulation problem that needs to be checked by a doctor."

Stroke risk factors include previous transient ischemic attacks, high blood pressure, heart or carotid artery disease, and lifestyle factors such as high cholesterol, excess weight and lack of exercise, smoking, and excessive alcohol use.

Within a year or two, Killian expects to see wider use of experimental clotbusters currently under study at major medical centers. The drugs appear to lessen the severity of stroke but must be given within three to six hours of the onset.

"Future treatment of stroke with these drugs will depend upon patients coming to the ER quickly," he said. "All the more reason to recognize the seriousness of these symptoms now."

"We're wasting our time. The minute your sister finds out you can read, she'll hide her diary."

Educators meet for regional training at CC

"Educators in the Windham School District are fighting future crime in Texas through education." This was the important message of recent WSD staff development meetings, one of which was held at Clarendon College.

As part of the largest correctional education program in the country, WSD educators are having an impact on the future of Texas. The 60,000 inmates will be in a Windham classroom or vocational shop program on one of 87 prison units throughout Texas. The Western Region of WSD includes the West Texas and Panhandle areas.

"Approximately 95 percent of the inmates incarcerated in the Texas Dept. of Criminal Justice will return to the freeworld," WSD Superintendent Dr. Chris Tracy told WSD staff in each region. "Our teachers are doing their part to prepare eligible inmates for life after release. When they leave prison, our students must be able to succeed in life without resorting to crime."

"It is difficult, if not impossible, to measure the financial savings to a community that occurs when ex-offenders don't return to crime," he said. "Education is an effective tool in reducing the cost of crime and the suffering of victims."

"Windham teachers are standing in classrooms with our criminal men and women, trying to motivate these students so that upon their release, they can get out and make a better life for themselves," Senior Criminal District Judge Larry Gist told WSD educators in regional meetings.

Gist, a district court judge from Beaumont, was one of several distinguished speakers addressing meetings held statewide for the 1,298 certified educators employed by WSD.

"A person with education, with skill, and with talent that can be utilized has a better chance of being a worthwhile citizen than somebody who doesn't have these things," Gist told Central Region staff. "What these inmates in the prison system do when they get out determines how safe our communities are going to be."

WSD educators in the Western Region met for staff development training at Clarendon College and Western Texas College in Snyder.

Speakers included Dr. Jerry Lane, directors of counseling for Clarendon College's Pampa Center; Warden Randy McLeod of the Dalhart Unit; Capt. Sherman Pennington of the Wallace Unit in Colorado City; Tom Moss, a member of the Texas State Board of Pardons and Paroles; Dr. Marty Akins of First Baptist Church in Snyder; and Dr. Scott Elliott, president of Clarendon College.

WSD educators received training in career and technology education, literacy tutoring, cooperative learning, classroom security and management, computer usage and other topics. Bob Martin is the regional administrator for WSD's Western Region.

CC hosts area college faculty for annual development day

Clarendon College hosted a Professional Development Day for the Texas and Oklahoma Consortium for Higher Education on Sept. 14, 1996, with more than 200 people in attendance.

It was the first time CC had hosted the annual event for the consortium.

The day served to educate faculty, staff, and administration on subjects ranging from the Internet to handling airborne diseases in a classroom.

Guest speaker was Dr. Ken Jones, President of Lubbock Christian University. Jones, a noted author and speaker on leadership, welcomed the attendees with a session on "The Value and Importance of People."

CC is a member of the consortium which also includes West Texas A&M, Frank Phillips College, Amarillo College, and Oklahoma Panhandle State University.

College offering aerobic classes

Hate walking by yourself or working-out with videotapes? Why not try one of the aerobics programs at Clarendon College? Choose from toning, dance or step aerobics to stay in shape.

Taught by Michelle Schmidt, CC Activities Director, aerobics offers individuals a cardiovascular workout as well as a physical workout.

All aerobics classes begin at 5:30 p.m. in the CC gymnasium. Classes are one hour in length.

Toning Aerobics is offered on Mondays, Dance Aerobics on Wednesday, and Step Aerobics on Thursdays. Classes begin Oct. 1, 1996, and end Dec. 12. The total cost is $80.

Interested individuals are asked to arrive 15 minutes before class to complete the proper paperwork.

Crump has paper published in journal

Charla Crump was recently notified that her paper entitled "Media Literacy: Fighting the Effect Television Has on Children" has been published in The Texas Speech Communication Journal, Vol. XXI, 1996.

The journal is the annual publication of The Texas Speech Communication Association. Crump's paper was only one of five papers published in the 1996 edition.

This is Crump's second paper to be published this year. In April, she published a paper entitled "Television Violence and Behavior: The Effects of Television Violence on Children" with the Education Resources Information Center in Washington, DC.

Crump is the speech instructor at Clarendon College.

WTAMU awards diplomas to local graduates

Degrees were officially conferred on 294 West Texas A&M University graduates at the Aug. 15 commencement ceremonies. One hundred six candidates received master's degrees, and 188 candidates completed baccalaureate degree requirements during the 1996 summer sessions.

Clarendon residents receiving diplomas were Courtney P. Shaller, Bachelor of General Studies degree; Jo B. Shelley, Masters of Art; and Jana White, Bachelor of Science in Interdisciplinary Studies.

Nursery gives helping hand to producers

A West Texas nursery is planting conservation throughout two-thirds of the state while also lending a helping hand to High Plains producers.

For the last 18 years the Texas Forest Service (TFS) West Texas Nursery (WTN) has grown windbreak seedlings, evergreens, and deciduous trees and shrubs for landowners from the coast of Corpus Christi to Texline in the Panhandle. The WTN's primary objective is to produce and sell quality seedlings at a price that landowners can afford, enabling them to plant large quantities of trees to establish multiple row windbreaks.

Windbreaks are trees and shrubs systematically planted adjacent to fields, homesteads, or feedlots as a barrier to reduce or redirect the wind. They create permanent, natural protection, and habitat for wildlife, reduce erosion and increase land value and aesthetics.

Annually, the WTN grown approximately 200,000 evergreens of eight different species in its two irrigated greenhouses and about 400,000 bare-root seedlings in its eight-acre field nursery. The trees are grown from seed collected by the nursery staff.

Each year the seedlings are sold and delivered through 93 participating Soil and Water Conservation Districts (SWCD) around the state. The date of delivery, beginning in January, is dependent on the planting season within the delivery region.

But the WTN's service does not halt at production. Nursery staff members also assist High Plains producers by taking conservation from the greenhouse to the field. Upon the request of High Plains landowner, the TFS WTN will meet with the landowner, discuss the protection needs, and design a windbreak plan according to those needs. Landowners willing to follow the guidelines listed within their plan are then personally assisted by the TFS in planting the windbreak. (Qualifying landowners must own at least 160 acres.)

The TFS supplies a tree planter, which plants 400 to 500 seedling per hour, and a fabric layer, rolling out a UV synthetic fabric over the seedlings. The fabric conserves moisture and reduces weeds.

The TFS assists in planting field, livestock, homestead, and wildlife windbreaks and living snow fences. In 1995, the TFS assisted High Plains landowners in planting 14 miles of windbreaks.

Producers, be it the farmer or rancher, interested in windbreak protection can begin ordering seedlings this fall for the 1997 planting season at participating SWCDs. For more information contact your local district, or for assistance in planting a multiple row windbreak contact the TFS WTN at (806) 746-5801.

WTAMU Golf sponsors Team Championship Tournament

West Texas A&M University, which added men's and women's golf to its slate of varsity sports last spring, will sponsor the Panhandle Team Championship in an effort to raise money for the Buff and Lady Buff golf teams. Both the WTAMU men's and women's teams will be coached by Gary Ray of Amarillo Country Club.

The Panhandle Team Championship, with the finals at Amarillo Country Club on October 21, is a golf tournament designed to pit club against club in a team championship format while raising money for the WTAMU golf program. WTAMU invites the public to participate in this fun event for a minimum donation of $25 to the Buff and Lady Buff golf program. Scholarship dollars raised through this tournament will be earmarked only to golfers who are offered a scholarship to play at WTAMU and from the Texas Panhandle, Oklahoma Panhandle and eastern New Mexico.

"The Panhandle Team Championship is an excellent concept to help raise scholarship dollars for local athletes who want to attend West Texas A&M University," WTAMU Director of Intercollegiate Athletics Ed Harris said. "The tournament itself promotes the sport of golf in the area and increases the awareness of golf at WTAMU, but it also provides a sense of community competition."

For more information about the Panhandle Team Championship, please contact WTAMU Director of Intercollegiate Athletics Ed Harris at 656-2069 or WTAMU Golf Coach Gary Ray at 355-5021.

Archery Season Starts Saturday

Fall means many things to many people. For some, it is the starts of a new school year and the beginning of the annual football wars, but for archery enthusiasts fall is a month-long opportunity to put on the full-body camouflage and silently stalk their favorite big game animal.

Sure, the chances of getting within range of their prey border on the impossible, but unlike other hunters, archers do not judge the success of a hunt by the number of kills; rather, they can have a terrific hunt by becoming a part of nature. Watching the lazy circles of a hunting hawk, listening to the muffled rustle of an invisible field mouse, or observing the vigilant antics of a feeding covey of quail serve as proof that the archer has achieved harmony with nature.

According to Howard Landry at H&B Archery located in Sunset Center, the number of archery fanatics is growing rapidly and includes doctors, lawyers, blue collar workers, and even teenage youngsters bored by the blare of loud music and the urban scene.

The bag limits and general hunting rules for archers are similar to the rules that apply to all hunters. In addition to their exclusive deer and turkey season from September 28 until October 27, page 57 of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Outdoor Annual brochure warns "It is unlawful to hunt with a broadhead hunting point while in possession of a firearm during Archery Only season."

Archers may have a firearm while at camp but not while hunting. If an archer is bitten by a snake while hunting, the old danger signal of three shots (arrows!) fired in the air would seem to offer little chance of alerting his hunting buddies. A more reasonable ban against firing a gun instead of simple possession will have to wait until some unfortunate archer dies because he couldn't signal for help.

The best hunting in Texas for quail, white-tailed deer, mule deer, and turkey are projected to be right here in the Texas Panhandle, according to press releases from the experts at Texas Parks and Wildlife. Our wildlife benefited greatly from the July showers while the rest of Texas continued to suffer the effects of a lingering drought. The antler development in south Texas is very poor, and the deer herds in the Hill Country lost most of the fawns to predators and starvation. Quail hunting downstate is rated poor while our local birds got off a late hatch that should result in a normal hunting season.

Question of the week: Will the 14,000 acres of disputed land in the Canadian River bed, located east of Lake Meredith, be available for public hunting? Better check with a game warden, because I understand some fence lines have been moved closer to the river.

Good luck, good fishing, and good hunting.

Annual Air Show to be held in Childress October 6

Childress will host its second annual air show on Sunday, October, 6 beginning at 1:30 p.m. at the Childress Municipal Airport.

Included in the show will be World War II Warbirds, Mark Pfeiffer Aerobatics, Airpower West Historical Aircraft demonstration, Skydivers, C-130 appearance, and much more, including static displays. There will also be a display of antique and classic cars.

Gates will open at 11:00 a.m. Concessions and vendors are sponsored by the Childress Chamber of Commerce, and more information can be obtained by calling (817) 937-2567.

Friendship Club met recently

The Howardwick Friendship Club met on Friday, September 20, for their regular monthly meeting and annual ice cream and cake supper with 29 in attendance. After the blessing, all enjoyed the homemade ice cream and domino games.
