Throws depict local history

Guys & Dolls Salon is now taking orders for a historical woven throw designed by Brenda Chamberlain and Linda Roberson.

A sample of the throw can be seen on display at Guys & Dolls, and order blanks can be picked up at the salon or in this issue of The Clarendon Enterprise.

The throws are nicely detailed with pictures of several historical sites in Clarendon, including the courthouse; the Adair Hospital/Sts. Roost Museum; the depot; the old Clarendon College Administration Building; the Methodist, Episcopal, and St. Mary's church buildings; the S.W. Lowe House, and the Murphy Castle.

Prepayment is required for all orders, and the first shipment is expected in May.

Everyone is encouraged to go by Guys & Dolls to see their display throw. Checks, money orders, Visa, and Mastercard will be accepted for orders. Contact Brenda or Linda at 874-2431 for more information.

Board election set for Texas peanut producers

The Texas Peanut Producers Board will hold its biennial election on May 22, 1996.

The current terms of three board members (two from district one and one state-at-large) will expire at this time. All peanut farmers are eligible to vote in the district in which he resides. All peanut farmers within the state can vote for the state-at-large position.

District one includes the following counties: Coryell, Hamilton, Comanche, Brown, Mills, San Saba, McCulloch, Llano, Lampasas, Mason, Gillespie, and Runnels.

State-at-large includes all the peanut producing counties in the State of Texas.

A peanut farmer who qualifies to vote in the election may place his/her name in nomination for membership on the Texas Peanut Producers Board for a six-year term from the district in which he farms. The application must be signed by the nominee and at least ten other persons eligible to vote in the election. The applica-

Breast cancer screening to be conducted

The Women's Center of the Don and Sybil Harrington Cancer Center and High Plains Baptist Health Systems will conduct a Breast Cancer Screening Clinic at Clarendon Medical Center Nursing Home, Hwy 70 North, Clarendon on March 29, 1996.

Each participant at our screening will receive a breast exam and one-on-one instruction in breast self-examination by a registered nurse specially trained in breast cancer detection, and a mammogram by a mammography technician.

Bulldogs stumble then win 3 in a row in national tourney

After losing the first game in the National Small College Athletic Association men's basketball tournament in Amarillo, Clarendon College won their remaining three games - one by a 44-point margin - for a fifth place finish.

This finish is on the heels of a Final Four appearance last year and a top six finish two years ago.

They finish their season at 18-18. The Bulldogs hosted the week-long tournament at Amarillo Highland Park.

Mount Senario (Wis.) ran by Louisiana Christian, 109-92, to claim the championship. Mount Senario won two previous titles in 1991 and 1994.

First up for Clarendon on March 11 was Michigan Christian - the tournament's eventual third place finisher.

Clarendon led Michigan Christian 38-35 at halftime, paced by Randy Williams' 19 points and 10 rebounds and Eric Brown's 18 points.

The Bulldogs led by 13 points at one time, but the Warriors battled back with a two-time All-American in their line-up.

"They hit like four or five three's the last few minutes and brought it to a possession game," Clarendon head coach Joe Mondragon said. Michigan hit a 3-pointer with 34 seconds left and then made one of two free throws with 17 seconds left for the win.

Clarendon had a chance at the end to win with a 3-pointer, but Tony Clark drove in for the lay-up, Mondragon said.

"We were extremely disappointed to be in the consolation bracket," Mondragon said. "I think coaches expect a lot from their team, and I have to remember we only had one returning starter off last year's team. We were a young ball club playing a lot of juniors and seniors. Maybe I expect too much."

Scoring for the Bulldogs were Rene Sierra, 10; Clark, 9; Angel Gutierrez, 9; Marty Hardy, 8; Marlon Greene, 2; Bryan Shed, 2; and Josh Wright, 1.

Mondragon didn't have to wait long for the Bulldogs to put on a scoring exhibition as the host team outscored Massachusetts Bay Community College 120-76 March 13 in the consolation bracket.

Clarendon led 61-34 at intermission and scored 59 more in the scorefest.

"We haven't been playing good basketball for a month, and I've been trying to lay low," Mondragon said. "I treated that game like it was our first game of the season. I got onto them because I thought we were capable of playing better basketball. I went in at halftime and got onto them because we should have been up by more."

"We just played like we were capable of playing. We could have scored 150 points. Our kids really just stepped up like they were capable of playing."

Williams contributed 22 points and Jason Kenney had 16. Other Bulldogs scoring were Brown, 15; Shed, 14; Weston White, 13; and Greene, 10.

Clarendon continued its march through the consolation bracket with a Thursday afternoon meeting with Maine-Fort Kent following their late night contest the day before.

"We were really tired, but we jumped out at them from the beginning," Mondragon said. "The kids couldn't have given me any more. They gave me everything they had."

The Bulldogs led 33-24 at halftime - a much slower pace than their contest the evening before.

Brown put in 18 points, including three 3-pointers. Williams added 13 points and eight rebounds. Wright and Hardy had 10 points apiece.

"We never lost control of that game," Mondragon said.

Clarendon trailed National Christian 50-49 at halftime in the fifth place contest Friday at the Highland Park gym. "They're a real smart team and a skill team," Mondragon said.

"We took a 10-point lead in the second half, and then they caught up," he said. "The lead changed six times in the last minute and a half."

Hardy hit a jump shot with 24 seconds left and put Clarendon by 1 down the stretch. He then grabbed the rebound with two seconds left to clinch the win.

"We did a good job putting up the last shot and Marty (Hardy) grabbed the rebounds."

Scoring for the Bulldogs were Brown, 22; Wright, 15; Hardy, 13; Williams, 12.

"I'm very proud of the kids and the way they conducted themselves throughout the tournament. They stayed in the hunt in the consolation bracket and hung in there. I was proud that they didn't go to the well on us. They showed a lot of character and really want to thank them for that and they stuck by me."

Mondragon now finds himself in the thick of recruiting. He'll graduate - six players overall to graduation. Playing their last game for Clarendon were Hardy, Gutierrez, Williams, Brown, Wright and Sierra. About six players will be returning for another season.

"We have a good nucleus of build on, but we lose 90 percent of our production."

Mondragon has been tapped to coach a Texas High School All-Star game Easter weekend. The Texas team will play the Tennessee All-Stars.

Ag Week to honor families

WACO—Family values and farming have always been integral parts of America's culture. National Agriculture Week, March 17-23, and National Agriculture Day, March 20, will celebrate the continuing legacy of the American farm family.

Texas Farm Bureau President Bob Stallman said the family is the most important asset to farmers and ranchers, who continually pass on to their children what has been learned from "Growing Better Everyday, Generation to Generation," the agriculture industry is building on a proud past, while growing and changing to meet consumer demands.

"Today farm families provide Americans and millions of others worldwide with a bounty of high quality, safe, tasty, and nutritious food," Stallman said.

Stallman also pointed out that the farm family has learned to adapt to new technologies just like their consumer counterparts, to feed each new generation.

"In the 1930s, one American farmer produced enough to feed 24 people in the United States and abroad. Currently, that number has risen to 129," Stallman said.

Property tax renditions mailed to area property owners

Almost everyone with personal property in the Donley Appraisal District has now been mailed rendition forms. Additional forms are available at the appraisal district office. Please complete the listing of your taxable personal property and return the forms by the end of March. All personal property must be rendered each year even if their has been no change from the prior year. You should include cars, pickups, trucks, RV's, travel trailers, and airplanes.

If you own a business, you should also render your business inventory held for resale and other business related equipment.

January 1 of each year is the assessment date in Texas; render only that property which you owned on January 1, but make your rendition before April 15. File your completed rendition with the Donley Appraisal District office in the Courthouse Annex. The rendition must be signed, and you may, although it is not required, list an opinion of market value.

Mutt Graham proudly displays the clock and satin jacket given to him by the Clarendon EMS Association in recognition of his years of service to this community. The presentation was part of a birthday party held for him on Monday, March 11, 1996.

FSA has new director, sets open house for this Friday

The Donley County FSA Committee has named Steven Orr as the new County Executive Director. Steven was raised in Panhandle, Texas, and graduated from Wayland Baptist University in 1990. He has previously worked for FSA for three years. Prior to coming back to the agency in June, Steven worked as a crop insurance agent in Lockney, Texas. He has a wife, Regina, and daughter, Taylor Anne.

The Farm Agency also welcomes Larry Goetze to Clarendon. He has worked for FSA for the past twelve years in Perryton, Memphis, Dumas, Sequin, and Waxahachie. Larry was raised on a farm and ranch around Iowa Park and received his Ag Education degree from Tarelton State University.

FSA office has scheduled an open house on Friday, March 22, from 8:30 until 11:30.

Rain finally falls, but more needed

Rain blessed the area this past weekend as .36" of moisture fell to earth on Sunday afternoon and early Monday morning, but more is needed.

We are still 1.13" behind where we were this time last year. The dry conditions have been devastating for agriculture, and grassfires have plagued much of the entire state of Texas.

Dribblers pre-tournament meeting set

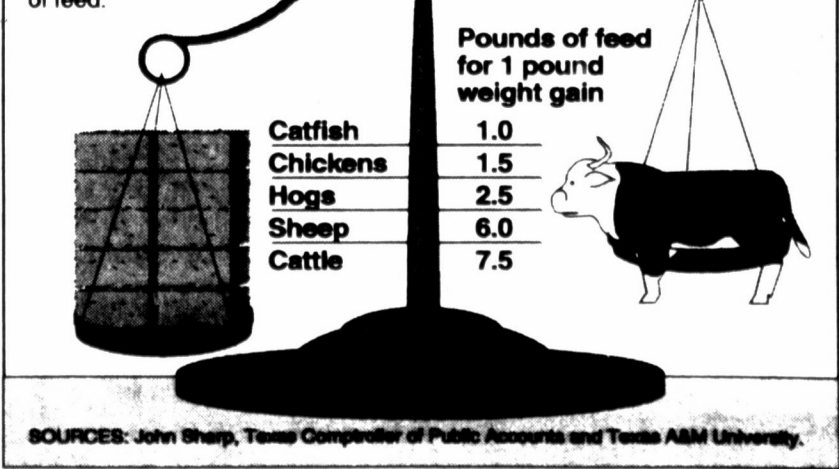

There will be a pre-tournament meeting for all Clarendon Dribbler coaches and officials at 7:00 p.m. on Thursday, March 21, 1996, at the Church of Christ Family Life Center. This will also be an organizational meeting for the 1997 season.

New officers will be elected and coaches will be signed up. So if you would like to help with next year's season, please attend this meeting.

The Lone Star Hustle: It's A Real Gas

Sit back and enjoy this tale of one man's battle with a great utility corporation.

Last October, Mr. Rogers purchased a great little firm known as The Clarendon Beacon from Mr. Roberts. All went according to plan, and the deal was a success.

In January, Mr. Rogers received his natural gas bill for the month of December. He happened to notice that Mr. Roberts' name was still listed in the billing address. So being the good natured sort of guy that he is, Mr. Rogers dropped a note to the gas company explaining the change of ownership of the Beacon into the envelope along with his payment.

On a Monday morning in February, Mr. Rogers got his gas bill for the month of January. He noticed that Mr. Roberts' name was on the bill and that it was "for service from Dec. 18 to Jan. 5." Mr. Rogers sighed and paid the $60 bill.

Two days later on Wednesday Mr. Rogers was shocked to receive another bill from the gas company. This one was addressed to him and called for a $130 deposit from Mr. Rogers.

Thursday, Mr. Rogers got still another bill from the gas company also addressed to him. This one said it was for service "from Jan. 5 to Jan 24." This bill included a "service charge" of nearly $30 and totaled about $80.

Mr. Rogers had had enough. He called the gas company and kindly asked for an explanation.

"Well, you're a new business," replied the gas lady, "and we require a deposit on all new accounts."

"But I'm not a new business," insisted Mr. Rogers. "This business has been at this location for well over a decade."

"Yes, but you are a new owner, and we must have something that will guarantee you will pay your bills," the gas lady said.

Mr. Rogers noted that he had been paying the gas bill since October and wondered aloud if there had been some problem with those payments.

The gas lady seemed confused and said, "Well, no."

"Then why are we doing this?" Mr. Rogers asked.

"It's our policy," was the reply.

"Why is it your policy, and it's not the policy of the electric company, and it's not the policy of the telephone company, and it's not the policy of water and sewer utilities?" Mr. Rogers queried.

"I don't know," the gas lady said.

Mr. Rogers told the lady, who was by this time beginning to irritate him, that he already had a residential account with the gas company from last June. Couldn't they use the deposit from that account to cover some of these charges?

"Well, no," came the reply.

"What's going to happen to the deposit made by Mr. Roberts, the previous owner?" Mr. Rogers asked.

"He probably didn't have a deposit," was the quick answer.

"What!"

"My records show that his account started in the late 1980s, and we didn't always require a deposit then," the gas lady explained.

"@%&*!" Mr. Rogers thought.

"How convenient," Mr. Rogers said.

"Do you people realize that you're fixing to hit me for nearly $300 in the space of about four days? Do you realize that's more than I had to pay for all the gas bills last quarter?"

"I'm sorry, but that's our policy," the gas lady stated.

Mr. Rogers was fed up by this point. "And what if I decide to turn off the gas?" he asked.

"Then you would get your deposit back," she said.

"Then you can expect a call from me to that effect within a month," Mr. Rogers said and hung up.

This week Mr. Rogers eliminated all gas appliances in his business and went all-electric with a new heat pump from Father and Sons Electric.

He has also heard recently from other people who have purchased businesses in the last couple of years who say they did not have to go through the same treatment he received.

Subsequently, the management of Lone Star Gas isn't the most well liked group in Mr. Rogers' neighborhood.

Opinion

NAFTA benefits the Texas economy

By Brenda F. Arnett

As executive director of the state's lead economic development agency, I feel it is my responsibility to clarify NAFTA's positive effects on the Texas economy. Governor Bush and I are very strong advocates of the agreement because NAFTA has generated investment opportunities, capital, and jobs for Texans and increased the well being of our state's economy. In short, NAFTA is good for Texas.

First of all, since NAFTA's inception, Texas has created more jobs than any other state in the nation. Since January 1, 1994, 573,000 jobs have been created, a significant 7.5 percent increase over the job creation figures of pre-NAFTA 1993.

In addition, Mexico is Texas' largest trading partner, and Canada is our second largest. Our exports to these markets account for approximately half of all Texas exports. In fact, our exports to Canada increased by a very impressive 28.7 percent in NAFTA's first year and a record setting 32.3 percent in the first three quarters of 1995, enough to almost totally compensate for a slight drop-off in our 1995 exports to Mexico as a result of the peso devaluation. As a whole, Texas exports rose by 14.9 percent in 1994, and preliminary figures indicate that we are on track to surpass that growth rate in 1995. For the first three quarters of 1995, the state's total foreign shipments were up 17.1 percent compared to the same period in 1994.

Our geographical location and easy access to Mexico continues to make Texas a magnet for companies wishing to expand and relocate, especially in order to penetrate the emerging markets of Central and South America. According to the Secretary of State's office, in the two fiscal years since NAFTA's inception, 74,812 new corporations have opened businesses in Texas. This is 6,877 more corporations than started operations in Texas during the two years prior to NAFTA. Many of these firms are international businesses interested in the opportunities NAFTA provides. Texas is now home to more than 2,300 foreign subsidiaries, which represent 50 countries. They are responsible for $64.7 billion worth of foreign direct investment in the state and for employing 309,000 Texans.

Commerce is dedicated to constantly improving economic prospects for Texas by providing the opportunities necessary for businesses to succeed. NAFTA is one of our most effective sales tools, deserving of the same support and optimism from Texans that it receives from businesses around the world. To dismiss NAFTA's positive effects on our economy is shortsighted and irresponsible. We live in a global economy which requires cooperation, not isolation. Texas is the epicenter of a developing and lucrative trade corridor. The health of the Texas economy depends upon increased foreign participation. The ability of NAFTA to create more jobs, inject more capital, and provide greater global investment opportunities for Texas is contingent upon our understanding that success in the global marketplace requires taking advantage of opportunities beyond our borders. NAFTA deserves every Texan's support.

Brenda F. Arnett is the Executive Director of the Texas Department of Commerce.

Enterprise has engagement and wedding forms

Those wishing to have their wedding or engagement announcement published in the newspaper should come by the Enterprise office and fill out a wedding/engagement form.

These announcement forms must be filled out for the information to appear in the newspaper.

"We've had some problems with wedding and engagement announcements in the past because of their length," said Enterprise editor Roger Estlack. "We simply cannot print every little detail of someone's wedding because of space limitations."

The new forms are designed to glean the most important facts from someone's wedding or engagement. Details not specifically mentioned on the form can be filled in on an additional page but will only be published if space allows. Write-ups which are not accompanied by our standard form can be subjected to editing.

"We regret any inconvenience this new policy may cause, but we believe that it is necessary to insure fair treatment of similar announcements."

Letters

Dear Editor,

First let me introduce myself. I am Larry Neece. I was raised in Clarendon and graduated from Clarendon High School as well as Clarendon College. My mother, Berkeley Neece; still resides in Clarendon. My wife, Barbara, and I live in San Diego, CA.

Periodically I check the AOL [America Online] Member directory. Recently, I used "Clarendon TX" as the keywords. [Your address] showed up. I cannot tell by your profile who you are, and I thought I would write this note. Since Clarendon is so small, I suspect I know you or know of you. Please drop me a note sometime.

Larry Neece

Congratulations Larry! You've just sent the first electronic letter to the editor for Clarendon's newspaper. You probably didn't recognize the name Clarendon Enterprise in our profile on America Online. We hope other readers will follow your lead and communicate with us at our e-mail address: Clar1701@aol.com.

Dear Editor,

I'm sure you are receiving many compliments on the new face for the paper, and I want to add mine. We are very proud that you are looking to the future with a good positive attitude and your influence through the paper will bring lots of good things to Clarendon.

Again, congratulations!

Mrs. Harrison died at 11:50 p.m. on Sunday, March 10, 1996, in St. Anthony's Hospice in Amarillo following a lengthy illness. She was born August 15, 1890 in Glen Rose, Texas, and lived in Bellville, Illinois, for one year before moving to the Chamberlain Community in Donley County in 1925. She married Hawley Arvel Harrison, Sr., on December 14, 1919 in McAlester, Oklahoma. He preceded her in death on October 10, 1992. She was a graduate of McAlester, Oklahoma High School and had been active in the Chamberlain Home Demonstration Club. She was the Chamberlain News Reporter for The Clarendon News for several years in the 1970's and early 1980's. She was a homemaker and a member of the First Baptist Church in Clarendon.

She was preceded in death by two daughters, Winonah Lucille Harrison and Mary Louise Cannon and by two sons, Robert Eugene Harrison and William Dennis Harrison.

Survivors include two daughters, Nelda Lee Jones of Dalhart, June Corrine Chase of Odessa; one son, Hawley A. Harrison, Jr., of Heyburn, Idaho; 18 grandchildren; and 38 great grandchildren; and 2 great great grandchildren.

Casket bearers were grandsons of Mrs. Harrison.

The family suggests that memorials be to Medical Center Nursing Home in Clarendon or to St. Anthony's Hospice in Amarillo.

Homemakers met recently

The Extension Homemaker's Club met March 6 in the home of Betty Hester. There were nine members and County Extension Agent Jeanene Sinclair present.

The guest speaker was Dorothy Cox with the American Cancer Society. She talked about breast cancer and self examination. It was very informative, and everyone enjoyed her talk.

They talked about the district meeting at Pampa. Each club will need to have three items for the silent auction.

Each year at Christmas, the club has always had a coffee mug exchange. They voted to change that to a Christmas ornament exchange.

The April meeting will be April 3 at Mary Jane Smith's house.

Mrs. Clayton Dean Beagle

LeGate-Beagle exchange vows

In an impressive ceremony on Saturday February 24, 1996, Miss Amber Brandette LeGate became the wife of Mr. Clayton Dean Beagle. The wedding took place at 7:30 p.m. in the Olsen Park Baptist Church in Amarillo. The Rev. Randy Davis officiated the double ring Ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Terry and Rita LeGate of Memphis while the groom is the son of R.D. and Ann Hedrick of Amarillo and Gordon and Sherry Beagle of Perryton. Maternal grandmother of the bride is Mrs. Ruby Graham of Memphis, and Mrs. Kay LeGate of Amarillo is the paternal grandmother.

Pre-recorded music was played by Mr. Mike Clayton. Mr. Jim Stewart provided a selection of classical music.

The church was decorated with white satin bows, brass candelabras, and swags of eucalyptus with pink and white roses.

Escorted to the altar by her father, Terry LeGate, Brandi was attired in a floor-length gown of white satin. The gown had a Queen Anne neckline with cutout Alencon lace on the bodice and long tapered sleeves. The bodice was of hand beaded pearls and lace on the front and back, and the sleeves were accented with scrolls of pearl. The back had pearl buttons down and a bow at the dropped waistline. The full skirt had Alencon lace. A bow on the front of the cathedral length train had rows of hand beaded cascading pearls clinging to the Alencon lace which had six bows following down the center of the train. The bridal veil was attached to a heavily beaded tiara. Her only jewelry was a necklace with a rhinestone and pearl teardrop with matching teardrop earrings.

Mrs. Stacy Celery served as Matron of Honor. Holly Jackson and Darla Anderson served as bridesmaids. They wore floor length gowns of hunter green with off-the-shoulder scooping necklines. White embroidered lace adorned the gown's bodice. Each attendant carried matching bouquets of roses in pastel pink, baby-breath pink and white.

R.D. Hedrick served his son as Best Man. Groomsman were Michael Celery and Lucas Liston of Amarillo. Ushers were cousins of the groom, Ashley, Austin, and Jason Pshigoda of Perryton.

Meagan Marck served as flower girl; and Tanner Hedrick, brother of the groom, served as ring bearer.

Candlelighters were Terry LeGate, Jr., brother of the bride, and Bailey Hedrick, brother of the groom.

Why reduce the saturated fat in the diet?

By Jeanene Sinclair

So much appears on the news these days about making dietary changes to reduce the risks of various diseases. Several years now the reports on lowering saturated fat or fatty acids have proclaimed a connection with reduction in the incidence and costs of coronary heart disease in the United States. Coronary heart disease leads the mortality list, accounting for one third of the deaths annually. An economic burden with related medical care costs and lost earning totaling $56.3 billion in 1994 was reported in the Heart and Stroke Facts 1994 Statistical Supplement, American Heart Association, Dallas.

The past 40 years of evidence links dietary saturated fat and cholesterol intakes to the development of coronary heart disease. Numerous health organizations — the American Heart Association, the American Dietetic Association, the American Diabetes Association, and the National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute have recommended that Americans follow a diet lower in cholesterol and lower in fat — especially saturated fat. The total fat intake should be 30 percent or less of the total caloric intake with saturated fat less than 10 percent of the fat consumed.

Are Americans making any progress towards these goals? The recently released data from the National Health and Nutrition Examination Survey (NHANES III) illustrate that some progress has been made. In the NHANES II study (1988 to 1991), the total dietary fat level was at 34 percent and the saturated fat acid level was at 12 percent compared to 37 percent and 16 percent, respectively in 1976 to 1980 (NHANES I). If these trends toward less dietary fat and saturated fat continue, then important health benefits may arise.

According to Dr. Mary Kinney Bielamowicz, registered dietitian, professor and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, a recent study reported in the Journal of the American Dietetic Association February issue examined the effects of reduced dietary intake of saturated fat on the incidence and economic costs of coronary heart disease. Researchers Oster and Thompson examined the data from the Framingham Heart Study and the three NHANES to estimate the effects on coronary heart disease and incidence and associated costs of reducing dietary saturated fat intake. The population of choice was made up of persons between ages 35 to 69 years with total cholesterol levels of 200 milligrams per deciliter or above with no reported incidence of coronary heart disease.

An estimated three million first-time coronary events (heart attacks or strokes) occur over a 10-year period among persons with cholesterol levels 200 mg/dL or above.

The findings revealed that by reducing saturated fat intake from 10 percent by 1 to 3 percentage points, coronary heart disease incidence could be reduced by 32,000 to 99,700 events. This reduction yields combined savings in medical expenditures and lost earnings ranging from $4.1 to $12.7 billion over a 10-year period.

It is education such as that conducted by the dietitians, family and consumer sciences county agents locally, and health professionals that are helping persons to reduce their dietary intake of fat and saturated fat, maintain healthful weight, plan activities into their daily schedule, and follow the other recommendations of the USDA dietary guidelines.

Contact your local family and consumer sciences county agent today for more information about making these changes in fat and saturated fat levels in regards to reading labels to detect fat levels in purchasing foods, preparation techniques, and making wise selections from the USDA Food Guide Pyramid to help you achieve dietary reduction of saturated fat and thus blood cholesterol reduction.

Compost Corner

By Bob McCombs, Recycling Coordinator

Why compost? Composting preserves landfill space. Approximately 18 percent of the Annual National Municipal Solid Waste generated in the US each year is made up of yard wastes. An even greater percentage occurs in the peak months of yard waste production (summer and fall months). When these wastes are taken to landfills, they contribute to the problems of methane gas, acidic leachate, and settling difficulties at the disposal facilities.

Diverting these wastes from landfills reduces waste collection and disposal costs.

Using compost returns organic matter to the soil. Compost is an excellent soil conditioner for even the smallest yard and garden. The organic materials in the compost improve plant growth by loosening heavy clay soils and allowing better root penetration, by improving the moisture retention and nutrients in sandy soils, and by helping to regulate the pH of the soil. As a result, the need for chemical fertilizers may be greatly reduced or eliminated.

Next week - How are compost piles made?

The Lions Tale

By Gene Alderson

The Clarendon Lions Club held its regular meeting at noon on Tuesday, March 19, 1996, at the Lions Hall. Twenty-one members, five guests, and Lion Sweetheart Dee Williams enjoyed a delicious barbecue sausage and rib dinner before the meeting was called to order by Boss Lion Johnson.

Following the regular opening ceremony Lion Tamer Henson introduced their guests including Cody Dennison and Russell Estlack, Clarendon College students who were the guests of Lion Allen Estlack; Gary Sutherland, an ag/real estate representative from Pampa, who was the guest of Lion Hayes; and Bob Getz, a life insurance representative from Plano, who was the guest of Lion Walt Knorpp.

Program chairman Smith introduced Coach Mondragon, Athletic Director at Clarendon College, who brought an interesting and informative program on the Clarendon College boy basketball program.

Changes made in graduation requirements for class of 2000

Clarendon High School, along with all of the other schools in the state of Texas, is now being faced with a dramatic change in graduation requirements for those graduates of the year 2000 and beyond. No longer will students be allowed to graduate under the Advanced or Advanced with Honors Programs, but instead must opt for the Distinguished Achievement Program.

While students may, until the year 2000, graduate under the plans as they have in recent years, Clarendon High School must begin preparing for the new program that must be offered for this year's eighth graders. Under old guidelines students could graduate with a minimum of 21 credits or 22 credits on the advanced program. The major difference in these programs was the actual courses taken. The advanced program was to promote preparation for post secondary schooling. Under the new system installed in Clarendon High School, one must gain 23 credits for minimum preparation and 24 for college preparation; however, Clarendon High School has added 1/2 credit of required word processing and we anticipate the state requiring 1/2 credit of speech beginning with this year's seventh grade. The following years (1997-1999) will be a phase in period, and students may complete the current advanced program, the advanced program with honors, or the Distinguished Achievement Program. The minimum requirement program will be continued to be offered after the phase in period.

In order for students to gain the Distinguished Achievement certification, students must not only gain the required number of 25 credits, but most of these are mandated credits. In addition, students must also earn a combination of four advanced measures. Those measures to choose students must also gain a combination of four advanced measures. Those measures to choose from include: 1) an original research project judged by a panel of professionals in the field that is the focus of the project; or conducted under the direction of mentor(s) and reported to an appropriate audience; 2) test data: a score of three or above on the College Board Advanced Placement Examination; a score of four or above on an International Baccalaureate examination; a score on the PSAT that qualifies a student for recognition as a Commended Scholar or higher by the National Merit Scholarship Corporations; as part of the National Hispanic Scholar Program of the College Board; or as part of the National Achievement Scholarship Program for Outstanding Negro Students of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation; 3) a grade of 3.0 or higher on courses that count for college credit, including tech prep programs; 4) a license awarded by a professional board or association.

If you have any questions, please feel free to come by and discuss these issues with Larry Jeffers, High School Principal, or John Taylor, Counselor. There will be a public meeting on Monday, March 25 at 7:00 p.m. in the High School Library to discuss the above items.

Clarendon music students to hold performances

The students of Clarendon Elementary will be presenting two music programs to honor our local farm and ranch operations. The students in 1st and 2nd grade have been learning about tractors, planting cotton, farm animals, and the daily chores of farm life. Their program is titled "Down on the Farm" and will feature songs about growing and harvesting cotton and farm animals. This program will be presented Monday, April 1, 1996, at 6:30 p.m. in the CHS Auditorium. The students in 3rd and 4th grade will be presenting the Annual Movement Program on Tuesday, April 2, 1996, at 6:30 p.m. in the CHS Gymnasium. This program will feature folk songs with a country theme and some movement activities with current country music. Our biggest production will be Joe Diffie's "John Deere Green."

The music students will be hosting an Ugly Hat Contest. Watch around town for the contest rules, and don't be surprised if a student asks you to enter your hat in the contest. Here are some of the rules for the Ugly Hat Contest:

1. The hat must belong to a farmer/

School to dismiss early

Clarendon Schools will dismiss early and buses will run at 12:30 p.m. on Friday, March 22. Many Clarendon students and teachers will be attending the UIL District Literary Contest at Highland Park ISD on that day. Student participation in these contests has increased to almost one-half of the Clarendon student body in grades 2-12. We wish our students great success as they compete.

Meetings/Clinics for cattlemen scheduled

There will be two meetings in the coming weeks that should be of interest to cattlemen in the area. The first meeting will be a cow/calf clinic scheduled for March 25-26 and sponsored by the County Extension Services in Gray, Carson, Roberts, and Wheeler counties. The second meeting will be a Conservation Reserve program meeting on April 4, 1996, and is co-sponsored by Carson, Gray, and Roberts County Extension Services. For more information, please call Danny Nusser at the Gray County Extension office at (806) 669-8033.

Thank You

To our friends of Donley County: Please accept our sincere gratitude for all of the expressions of kindness shown to us over the last several months of Doug's illness and immediately following his death. We are thankful for all of the cards, calls, visits, food, flowers, acts of support, and especially your prayers.

May God bless each of you as you have blessed us. Sincerely, Josephine Burgess, Ronda and Donnie Helton and family, Loretta and Bobby Leeper and family, Karen and Mark Boothe and family

Words cannot adequately express the feelings of gratitude and appreciation we feel for the many acts of kindness shown to Fred during his illness and to us since his death.

The outpouring of love and respect we've received in the form of calls, cards, food, visits, and memorials given in his name have been almost overwhelming. We can't thank all of you personally but you know who you are. We can only say thank you and may God bless you.

Peggy Watt, Guy Watt, Keith, Karen, and Rance Watt Leon, Linda, Langly, and Mariah Couch Su-San Couch Thunder and Tracy Denton Anthony and Lori Guerra

The family of Corrine Harrison gratefully acknowledges all of the acts of kindness, special prayers, and wonderful words expressed during our time of grief. A very special thanks to Rev. Truman Ledbetter, Dan Hall, Valorie Ashcraft, Medical Center Nursing Home, St. Anthony's Hospice, Dr. Richard Gilkey and staff, Robertson Funeral Directors, and to our many friends in Clarendon. A special thanks for the blessings of food and the meal served to the family at the First Baptist Church. May God bless each one of you.

Thank you, David and June Chase and family, Hawley A. Jr. and Jean Harrison and family, J.D. and Nelda Jones and family, Loretta and Anna Harrison, Frank, Kerry, and Blake Cannon, Hulda Refermat, Steven and Lisa Taylor

Thank You

I would like to say thank you to Billy Ray Johnston and Peggy Cockerham for the Retirement Luncheon held on February 16, 1996 in Memphis.

This luncheon meant a great deal to me especially after 17 years of dedicated service to the Medical Center Nursing Home. I deeply appreciate my friends who shared this moment with me.

I was honored with a Pot Luck Supper at the home of Jody Jensen on Sunday, March 17, 1996. This was given by some of the CNA's from the Medical Center.

I will miss all of you and deeply appreciate your friendship. It means a lot to me to know my many years of service was appreciated.

Thanks again to all of you. Love, Betty Molder
