34,905.5 ACRES IN 1961 CONSERVATION RESERVE

A total of 34,905.5 acres of cropland in Donley County will remain out of production under Conservation Reserve contracts in 1961.

This land will remain in reserve under contracts entered into in earlier years of the program. It may not be cropped or used for grazing for the life of the contract. An annual payment is made in the fall of the year near the close of the cropping season, totaling $297,854.89.

Land emerging from the Conservation Reserve because of contract termination may be kept idle for twice the number of years it was under contract without reducing future acreage allotments on the land. This is provided under a new law effective last fall, which ASC officials hope will encourage participants in the Conservation Reserve to keep former allotment crop acreage in vegetative cover after contracts expire. National contracts expire on about 90,000 acres at the end of 1960, leaving approximately 28.6 million acres in the Reserve in 1961.

U. S. Savings Bonds

People who buy U. S. Savings Bonds are saving more than money. Their Bond money goes for science, education, military strength—things that keep the peace.

F-4B Emergency Program

The soil and water resources of the farm and ranch lands of our County must be protected and conserved.

All who are interested in carrying out practices under the Emergency Program need to come to the ASC office and make application as soon as possible.

Costs for practices will be shared only if cost-sharing is requested by the farm operator before the practice is started.

Bulldogs Lose First Conference Game

The Clarendon Junior College Bulldogs suffered their first conference defeat at the hands of New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, N. M. Tuesday afternoon. The final score was 83-74.

Height cut another big figure in this game as the host team outshot the Bulldogs from the field 50 against 37 1/2 per cent and out-rebounded them 34 to 27. The Bulldogs came thru at the free throw line with 25 out of 35. Alexander was high point man for the Bulldogs with 24, followed by Lesley with 22. Rosner was high for NM MI with 25 points.

The Bulldogs play the South Plains Texans of Levelland here Friday night in their first conference game on the local court. Game time is 8 p.m.

Bulldogs Overcome By Height

On January 3, the Clarendon Junior College Bulldogs which, comparatively speaking, lack height, suffered a defeat at the hands of West Texas State College's tall freshman team by a score of 82-71.

Sheaffer, who played on Borger's fabulous ball club last year, was high point for West Texas with 19 points. Bobby Lesley, who played with Don Haskin's Hedley ball club and advanced to the state playoffs two years ago, and Kenneth Martindale from Don Ward's Samnorwood club of last season, were high scorers for the Bulldogs with 15 each.

Coach Young reported that every Bulldog made a creditable showing, however, were unable to break even on the backboards.

New U. S. Post Office Building Authorized For Clarendon

Progress Report On School Building Project

According to Supt. J. R. Cox, the new school building program is beginning to see real life with the main preliminaries being taken care of at this time.

Harry Barnes, Hollis, Okla. moved the barracks and Janitors residence this past week end and Thornburg Dirt Movers are on the job preparing the site for the new buildings.

Lloyd Green, architectural representative and Mrs. Green have moved to Clarendon and have an apartment at the Ray Moore's. C. T. Miller, job superintendent for Rose Const. Co. is on the job and is living at Victory Courts. Jim Rose of Rose Const. Co. is on the job, assistant to the superintendent and has an apartment at Walter B. Knorrps.

With average weather conditions, the high school wing of the new structure will be completed by Sept. 1, 1961, according to C. T. Miller.

Work on the Administration building will begin within a few days. This job will be complete by summer according to John H. Jones, contractor.

High School Cagers Defeat Groom

Both the boys and girls high school basketball teams were victorious again over Groom in the local gym Tuesday night. The boys had previously defeated Groom there and the girls have previously defeated the Groom girls two times.

In the game Tuesday night, the girls won by a score of 50-25. Paula Adams was high point with 23 and Marie Richey hit 15. In the boys game, the locals won 64-38 with Talley dumping in 22 points, McAnear 17 and Abel 11.

In the Claude tournament last week the Clarendon Boys won the Sportsmanship trophy and the girls won consolation honors by defeating the Groom girls Saturday night 41-16. Paula Adams was high in the game with 22 points.

BRONCS MAKE DISTRICT AND REGIONAL TEAMS

We learned this week that some time ago, three of our Clarendon Broncho squads were named on the all-district football team. Philip Abel was listed as an end and Ronnie Tyra as center on the district first team and Neel Carter was listed as a half-back on the district defensive first team.

This week, two of these players received more honor when Abel and Tyra were both named in their respective positions on the All-Regional third team.

McCARTY RECEIVES DISCHARGE FROM ARMY

Sgt. Jerry McCarty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul McCarty of Clarendon arrived home from Munich, Germany on December 24th. He volunteered for three years service with the Army on January 9, 1958. Due to six weeks in the hospital at Fort Carson, Colorado he finished his basic training April 18th. He then spent 12 weeks at Fort Knox, Kentucky. He arrived at Munich, Germany in July of '58. He spent 30 months there. He visited several interesting places while stationed there, including England, Denmark, Norway, Switzerland, Austria, Italy, Sweden France and Finland. He received his discharge at Ft. Dix, New Jersey Dec. 23, 1960. He will be employed in Amarillo.

Street Marker Drive Set For January 19

J. G. McAnear, president of the Chamber of Commerce, announced yesterday that Thursday night, January 19th has been set as the big drive night to finish up the Street Marker project.

All workers on the drive are urgently requested to set this night aside and be at the Lions Hall at 7 p.m. and be ready to make all final contacts necessary to raise the money needed to buy the permanent type markers.

Since a new Post Office building has been approved for Clarendon, these street markers can be the first big step toward residential mail delivery which would be very nice to have lined up by the time the new building is completed.

At present we have already collected $1,741.02 and approximately this much again is needed to purchase the markers, McAnear stated.

Bulldogs Succumb To Foreign Court Jinx

All of the Clarendon Junior College Bulldogs' losses to date have been suffered away from home.

Last Friday night the Bulldogs engaged Frank Phillips in their first conference game of the year at Frank Phillips, losing by the narrow margin 78-75.

During the first half, Alexander and Bronniman, two of the Bulldogs' top scorers, failed to find the basket. This probably resulted in Frank Phillips holding a six point lead at 33-39 at the half. During the second half, Alexander and Bronniman both found the range for 17 and 14 points respectively, but Bobby Lesley who had hit 14 points in the first half was only able to get 5 points during the last half.

Lesley was high point for the Bulldogs with 19. Tracy Cox was high for Frank Phillips with 26. Jimmy Humphreys furnished the outstanding defensive play with 11 rebounds. Martindale, substituting a part of the first half, and a part of the second half, came through with 11 points, making a very credible showing even though he is the shortest player in the conference. Wiggins, DeBord, Morrow and Riddle all saw action in the game.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield announced today that a new Post Office building has been authorized for Clarendon, Texas.

This announcement, according to Postmaster James Moore, coincides with the optioning by the Post Office Department of a building site at the southwest corner of the intersection of Fourth Street and Kearney Street.

"This new and modern postal facility," the Postmaster said, "will be constructed under the Post Office Department's Commercial Leasing Program, which utilizes the resources and investment funds of private enterprise to obtain needed postal buildings."

Bidding forms, specifications and other pertinent data will be available to prospective bidders at the Post Office. This will mean that an equitable construction value will be established on a competitive basis.

The site option will be transferred to the successful bidder, who will purchase the land, and then will construct the building to Post Office Department specifications and lease it to the Department on a long-term basis, with lease renewal options running up to ten years.

JUNIOR HIGH BASKETBALL RESULTS

Clarendon Jr. High boys and girls played Lelia Lake here Thursday night with the girls winning their game 23-17 and the boys losing 28-20.

Both the boys and girls teams will play Quail here this Thursday night in the high school gym beginning at 6:30 p.m.

"So the Romans softened up themselves for the ambitious, hard working barbarians. And in 410 A.D. the greatest nation the world had ever seen was invaded and destroyed. The Roman emperors promised the people hand-outs — but they turned out to be anything but free!"

A Pack Committee meeting under the direction of Mr. Harmon Goodman, Chairman, was held in the Cub Scout Council Room Friday evening Jan. 6.

LAND BANK REDUCES INTEREST RATE

The board of directors of the Federal Land Bank of Houston has approved a reduction of one-half of one per cent in the interest rate which the bank will charge on its new loans beginning January 1, 1961. In making the announcement Hal Weatherford, president of the bank, stated that the board also authorized a reduction of one-half of one per cent beginning January 1 and until further notice on some $24,000,000 of loans which bear an interest rate of 6 per cent.

According to Weatherford, this is the third time the Houston bank has been able to voluntarily reduce the interest on loans through 73 Federal Land Bank Associations located throughout Texas. It has over 235 million dollars of loans in force and obtains funds to make loans through the sale of bonds to the investing public. This reduction in interest rates will mean substantial savings each year to many farm and ranch owners in Texas.

Land Bank loans in this area are made and serviced through the Federal Land Bank Association of Memphis which serves Donley Hall Counties. According to its Manager M. E. McNally, Jr., there are some 350 loans in force for about $2,350,000.

Mrs. F. E. Caraway attended the golden wedding celebration of her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Thurman of Walters, Okla., January 8.

MARCH OF DIMES RESEARCH DID THIS; NEXT — OTHER CRIPPLING DISEASES

AMERICA'S INVESTMENT in medical scientific research through contributions to the March of Dimes paid a huge dividend—the polio vaccine. Now the March of Dimes is working to prevent other crippling diseases—birth defects and arthritis. A further investment in medical research through the March of Dimes may pay even greater dividends. Campaign continues through January.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

This will be the last newsletter written in the year 1960 by Yours Truly. Since coming to Congress I have written a newsletter each week and forwarded it to the news media in our District. Its purpose is to provide an avenue of thought between the people, who are the government, and Washington, the central location of the Federal government's activities. I hope it has served that purpose. Many letters and suggestions have been received from the people of the 18th Congressional District of Texas, suggesting matters to be treated in these newsletters. Let me say again, as I have in the past, that these suggestions are most welcome and if anyone would like to have some subject treated in a newsletter, they may be sure that I will do my best to get pertinent information together and include it.

This being the last newsletter of 1960, I think it is well to call to the attention of the people a few of the things that may be expected in the early days of the 87th Congress. Many of these will be matters of repetition. They have been debated and considered in previous Congresses, but have not been written into law. The problems that beset man in the advance of civilization must be solved through legislation. Our government, the strongest and the best ever conceived by man, is a government of laws and not of men. The difficulties in dealing with the problems of man do not stem from a controversy as to whether or not a problem exists. The problem is usually there and very clear. The difficulty lies in the determination of what procedure, method, plan or program will be used to solve the problem. Questions which must be answered in reconciling the solution to the problem are constitutional, economic, spiritual, moral, national, and international.

Here are some of the problems which we will meet early in the 87th Congress. Whether or not they will be solved in keeping with the several proper limitations will be the subject of vigorous and heated arguments and debates.

PROBLEM: Education.
PROPOSED SOLUTION: Federal aid. The first question to be answered is whether or not Federal aid is necessary. The second is the manner in which Federal aid, if necessary, will be applied. Education in this country has long been the responsibility of the several States. It is true that some States are poorer than others, resulting in damage to the educational facilities in the poor States. I think we would all agree that every child in the United States should be afforded the opportunity to get an education. You will note emphasis upon the word opportunity. We all realize that you cannot force an education on an individual. Would it not be better to permit the States to retain the responsibility and administration of the educational programs and stay away from an all-out Federal aid program? Certainly it would be more economical to provide some means by which the poorer States could be aided than to open the door to Federal aid that could be turned into a political grab bag.

PROBLEM: Medical aid to the aged.

PROPOSED SOLUTIONS: To date it has been assumed generally that this problem does exist. Only two primary solutions have yet been offered to finance the cost of solving the assumed problem. If the assumption is correct, it would seem to me that the solution of the problem should be given much more thought. One proposal has been for the Federal government to provide funds out of the general tax structure with which to finance a Federal contribution to the solution of the problem. This would, in my opinion, be a mistake. It would open the door to possible and probable demagoguery on the part of some who would seek to utilize the ill health of the older people for political gain and, in the process, saddle the over-burdened taxpayers with a wasteful, inefficient and unconstitutional structure. Another proposal has been to finance a program through the Social Security taxes. Such a method, in my opinion, would be wrong. Social Security taxes are already so high that the Social Security program or the general economy could be measurably damaged. To add other burdens would be to sorely test the program and the general economy. It would unquestionably destroy many small businesses that are already on the verge of bankruptcy because of too-high taxes and the competition of well-financed chain stores which are able to pass these taxes on to the consumer. Personally, I would like to have the counsel and advice of the medical profession, with documentary support, on two questions. First, whether or not this problem exists. If the medical profession takes the position that such a problem does exist, my second question to them would be for recommendations and suggestions as to how they think it could be effectively dealt with.

These are two of the many problems which will be considered by the 87th Congress. Let us hope that the solutions to all of these problems will measure up to the test of constitutionality, economic soundness, spiritual understanding, and moral fundamentals, both nationally and internationally.

Peace cannot be kept by force. It can only be achieved by understanding. —Albert Einstein

LITTLE COLONEL By Bob McKinley

Kittanning, Pa., Leader-Times: "Motorists as a group of taxpayers contribute more to the total cost of government in the United States than any other single user, profession or occupation."
"One of the interstate highway program penny-per-gallon taxes is due to expire June 30, 1961, but don't wager Congress will relinquish its hold on $600 million so readily."

One Egg Equals 100 Taxes
The Tax Foundation recently counted the number of "hidden taxes" that are imposed on items in every-day use. It found that there are 100 taxes on an egg, 116 on a man's suit, 150 on a woman's hat, 151 on a loaf of bread and 600 on a house!
In case you're wondering who ultimately pays these taxes, the answer is simple. You do!

YOU can kill, so drive with skill.

30 000
miles between lubrications

30,000 is the most famous number of the year. It's every '61 Ford owner's license to save. How can Ford do it? Conventional chassis lubrication fittings have been replaced with metal plugs that help protect each lubrication point against abrasive mud, dirt and dust. And then, for only about $4 and about 20 minutes your Ford is ready for another 30,000! This is just one of the many ways the '61 Ford is built to take care of itself. Your Ford Dealer can show you more.

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

- Lubricates itself—You'll normally go 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications (which cost only about $4.00 and take about 20 minutes) because Ford has replaced conventional grease fittings with a sealed-in lubrication system.
- Cleans its own oil—You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes because Ford's Full-Flow oil filter gives you filtration through fibers... trapping more dirt than any other type of filter made.
- Adjusts its own brakes—New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves—automatically.
- Guards its own muffler—Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminized to last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.
- Protects its own body—All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing the body panels beneath the doors.
- Takes care of its own finish—Just wash and clean Ford's new Diamond Lustre Finish and it continues to glisten like new. It never needs waxing.

BLOWIN' Out the CORNERS

Uncle Zeb

If we are to begin 1961 with a clean note book the following odd bits have to be used. Excuse please.

One fellow commented that life for the past 12 months had been a regular rat race, and that it looked like the rats had won.

Another disgruntled gentleman said that he was completely overcome with honey-dew; "Honey do this, and Honey do that!"

We travelled 100 miles to eat goose with one of our favorite brother-in-laws. His truthful wife admitted that it was in reality just a duck. This is not the first time brother-in-laws have "Cooked their goose" with me. We're not complaining because the meal was "just ducky," and even a goose couldn't have been ducker . . .

We heard of the young man who joined the paratroops because he had always wanted to start at the top.

Then we heard that the rivalry between two small towns became so heated that one postmaster offered to begin the extra service of licking the stamps on all Christmas cards.

One fellow was stuck with a speeding ticket. He couldn't decide whether to hire a lawyer or just take justice.

We liked the one about the lady who upon taking her first child to school on opening day was asked to be a room mother. "Listen," she replied, "I don't rightly know whether I should or not. If it is a privilege then I do not want to miss it. But, if it is an obligation then I wouldn't want someone else to get out of it."

Quotes and Unquotes
Col. Walter Britten, the well-known registered cattle auctioneer, reminds us that: "This will be the first time to his knowing that when the newly elected president moves into the White House he will be moving into a smaller house."

Our local grocery clerk says that due to the adverse effects of advertising Brand X, and that Other Brand are not worth handling these days.

After watching an old movie the other day which showed the dress styles and the popular dances of The Roaring 20's we decided once and for all that times couldn't possibly be growing worse in the present day.

Our candidate for the leading pessimist of the year would be the fellow who upon passing a funeral home decided to just go in and wait.

A hobby is said to be something we go goofy about in order to keep from going quacky over something else.

One of my uncles was a bit inclined to boast. When his hand was called he would always reply with this quote; "He that tooth not his own horn, the same shall never be tooted."

A few years back, the young son of a former pastor was visiting overnight with a family beyond the electric lines, and with few of the city conveniences. He remarked:

"My, my, this is sure old timey . . . coal oil lights and even outdoor privileges."

The Canadian River Dam seems to have pleased more people in the Panhandle area than any single happening in recent years. The prospect of a plentiful supply of water for more frequent baths may not have thrilled little Johnny and Susie but most of the fathers we know can hardly wait for the first fishing season.

Those who have seen this river in the flash flood stage—knawing away at the bridge near Boys Ranch and other structures can find many reasons for the building of the dam. Soil, water, and destruction raging on its way with nothing to slow it down. Finally the people decided to protect many acres of soil from erosion and flooding. To hold back the water during the flooding and use it wisely for many worthwhile things.

Among the many things to which the government lends or spends the taxpayers money the building of dams and the harnessing of our run-away water strikes us as being the wisest. It is the doing of something that cannot very well be done even on an individual city basis. On top of all that, it is supposed to pay for its building in years to come.

A few years ago we were having a discussion with our niece from New Mexico on the merits of the Panhandle and the Albuquerque area. "Uncle Zeb," she argued, "Out here in the Panhandle you have only the Lord to depend on for water. We have the river to help us out when we get in a drouth. See, we have two chances." It waters their crops.

We decided that the Lord sends us the rain, He made the rivers, and fills them with water. The secret is that the more we help ourselves the more He helps us.

Take it easy, and drive with care. Where you're going will still be there!

LIBRARY NOTES

EDITH BARNES

Before the Christmas stories and thoughts are forgotten until next year here is one from the comic strip, "Rick O'Shay," by Stan Lynde, that we might do well to think about from time to time: "I've been thinkin' about that First Christmas Eve, Hip. . . They was three riders follerin' a star then . . . only they was headed west. Yep . . . ridin' camels, so they say . . . a long ways from their home range." Hip asks, "Well . . . did them fellers FIND what they was lookin' for? Yep . . . accordin' t' the story . . . SOME folks say they found what EVER'BODY is lookin' for."

It is a little late to bring up the subject of New Year's resolutions but it is hoped that those who resolved to either start reading or read more, stick with it. Even those who work hard at remaining uninformed can't do it if they read!

The theme of this year's National Library Week is, "For a richer, fuller life—READ!" Here is another quote from some of their literature. "Only a lifetime of continuing self-education through reading can prepare Americans to exercise responsible citizenship with understanding of themselves, their children and today's complex world. Only a 'better-read, better-informed America' can take the reins of leadership with a firm sense of purpose and the intellectual competence to seek out goals that enrich life and preserve freedom."

We have or should have passed long ago the stage where it was cute to look down our noses at intellectuals and believe that continuing study, even unto the end of our days was something only for the odd ones. If the last several years haven't taught us that big bulging muscles are just not enough . . . Well!

Since the second semester of school is about ready to start; this from a child care book may be timely. "A troubled home may affect your child's school-work. He reflects his home atmosphere at school. Discord, tension and quarreling will most definitely affect your child's school-work. Look into the home situation when school failures arise."

Do you know what the stock answer over the years has been for bad grades? "If they would just apply themselves." Sorry but in a whale of a lot of cases that is not so!

AUSTIN — Forecasters are going to happen has already beyond of saying, "That which is going to happen has already begun."

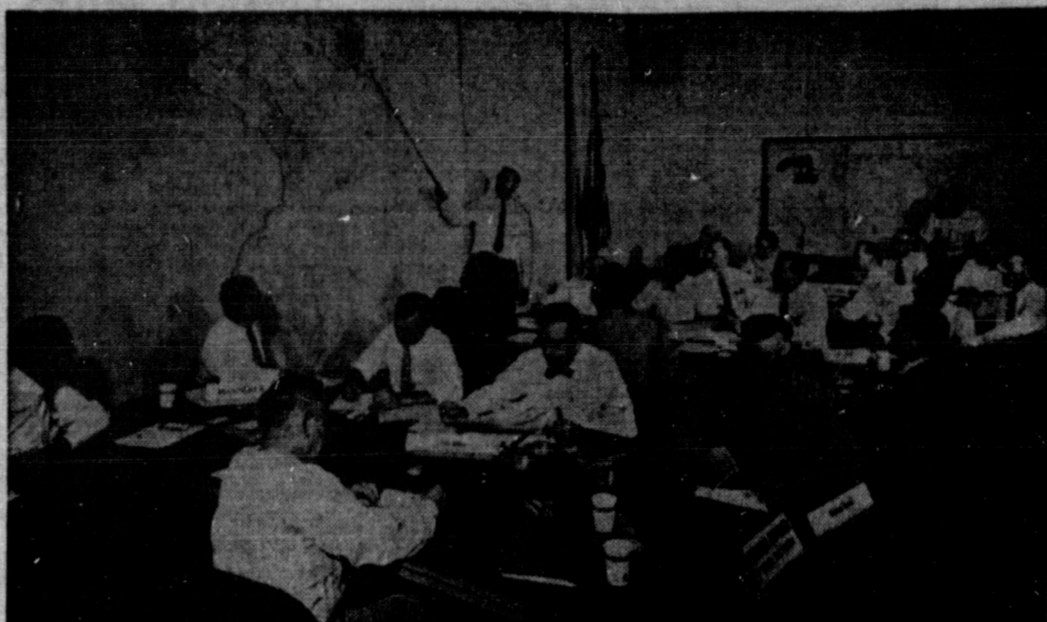

If so, the first year of the new decade, 1960, was strewn with weathervanes to point the course of Texas in the next nine years.

Among major Texas events in the opening year of the sixties were these:

1. Party Primaries were held in May and June, two months earlier. New dates ended old traditions, like announcing with the dogwood, campaigning in the heat. For the first time in years, challengers toppled two incumbents from statewide office, a fact that's bound to encourage future activity from young men "waiting in the wings."

2. Democratic Conventions, though temtuous as always, were held in control by the joint leadership of Gov. Price Daniel and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson. Johnson won near-unanimous backing for his presidential bid at the June state convention, an event which marked the end of the left-wing DOT. After the national convention in July, dissension arose in the other wing. Many conservative Democrats bucked at supporting Standard-bearer John Kennedy and the liberal national platform. Enough became "Texans for Nixon" to make Texas a "doubtful state." Scars and divisions of 1960 will inevitably be re-opened when Texas Democrats get together again in '62 and '64.

3. 1960 Census reports confirmed predictions that Texas will be a metropolitan state in the sixties. Overall, population grew from 7,711,194 in 1950 to 9,579,077. Sixty per cent of the increase was in the four largest cities. In addition, in every growth area, cities increased their populations at the expense of surrounding rural counties. This did not alter the state total, but changed the make-up of population — now 70 per cent urban 30 per cent rural. Result will be a strong push for more urban representation in the legislature, more state-level sympathy for er were out of the news, as both public officials and private citizens circled the issue that will come to a boil in this year's legislative session. State Finance Advisory Commission, appointed by Governor Daniel in May, worked through the summer and fall. In December it recommended a one per cent payroll tax to raise the more than $100,000,000 a year the state is expected to need in new money. Meanwhile, meet-

UNDERGROUND CONTROL center for the Maryland Civil Defense Agency at Pikesville, Md., is protected against fallout and could withstand nearby nuclear bomb strikes. It is typical of the growing number of protected emergency operating centers for government at all levels in the Nation. Key government officials are assigned to these emergency headquarters to direct survival and recovery efforts following enemy attack. Director Leo A. Hoegh of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization calls these emergency preparations "a vital element of our total defense." ings were held by practically everybody — teachers, labor and business groups, all with a vital interest in future taxing and spending decisions.

5. Auto Insurance Rates, under a new merit rating plan, have for good or ill stirred more commotion than a back-firing Model-T at a horse auction. Last Legislature turned down flexible rating and instructed Board of Insurance to consider safety incentives and driving records in setting statewide rates. Result was a plan, begun last January 1, basing the driver's arrest record for past three years, including traffic tickets as well as accidents. Drivers whose rates jumped because of minor violations were irate. Those with spotless records got lower rates and were generally happier. A number of lawmakers have promised to look into the matter thoroughly this year.

6. Gas Tax Suit, begun in early 1960 probably will be in the courts another year. In the past year, gas pipeline companies won rulings that the severance beneficiary tax is unconstitutional in district court and the Court of Civil Appeals. In months ahead,

6. Gas Tax Suit, begun in early 1960, probably will be in the courts another year. In the past year, gas pipeline companies won rulings that the severance beneficiary tax is unconstitutional in district court and the Court of Civil Appeals. In months ahead, the case will go to the Texas Supreme Court and U. S. Supreme Court. If the tax is upheld, future efforts to raise the rate are certain. If, as in the case of the gas gathering tax in 1953, it is held unconstitutional by the U. S. Supreme Court, it is unlikely that even the most ardent gas tax advocates will try again to raise revenue by this route.

7. Race For Speaker of the House, as tight and uncertain as in 1959, brought renewed suggestions that "there ought to be a better way." Whether Rep. Wade Spilman of McAllen or Rep. James Turman of Gober wins in a secret ballot of House members on January 10, it will be several weeks before either can get committees organized and ready for business. To add to the confusion, prospective candidates for Speaker in 1963 already are jockeying for position. Some have suggested a constitutional amendment to permit representatives-elect to meet and elect a presiding officer a month or so before the session's actual opening. Another proposal is to let the people decide by making the post an elective one the same as in the Senate. Advantage besides letting the voters have a choice is the fact that the decision would be reached in November and the House could go to work immediately on the opening day of the session. Also it would eliminate all of the bitterness that is created under the present system.

8. Tourist And New Industry promotion got under way in 1960, despite penny-ante budgets. Highway Department brought out its first tourists' brochure, a 32-page booklet in four colors. This year it will ask the Legislature for $300,000 to place advertisements in national publications. Texas Industrial Commission also produced a brochure, but says it cannot compete with other states on a $23,750 a year budget. It will ask the Legislature for $420,000 a year. Both the tourist and industry seeking agencies contend that Texas cannot achieve its growth potential in the sixties unless it goes in with six-figure budgets comparable to those of competing states.

9. Texas Tidelands ownership, a paramount issue in the forties and fifties, finally was laid to rest in June, 1960. U. S. Supreme Court, to the surprise of many, ruled that Texas owns the submerged lands 10 1/2 miles out into the Gulf. If the land is as oil-rich as hoped and if there is a market for the oil, tidelands revenue will augment the permanent school fund in the years ahead.

10. Senator Johnson's Election as vice president opened the door for more lively politicking in 1961 to decide his Senate successor. Field is already crowded with the likelihood of a dozen candidates before the filing deadline passes. Conceivably, someone who already holds an office could be elected, setting off a chain reaction of moves up the political ladder.

Farm Production High — Texas farm production in 1960 tied with 1958 for the second highest year in history, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported.

Total production was 138 per cent of the 1946-1956 average. Combined value of the principal crops was $1,400,000,000. This was three per cent less than last year, largely because of drops in cotton and sorghum grain prices.

Cotton is still the leading crop. Texas farmers produced 4,350,000 bales in 1960 for an income of $711,000,000. Improved conditions and methods were reflected in the 329 pound average yield per acre, up 79 pounds per acre from the 1958-59 average.

STRIPED BASS INTRODUCED IN DIVERSION LAKE

AUSTIN — California striped bass have been introduced to Texas waters as an experiment in providing additional fishing potentials for State fishermen, according to Marion Toole, director of inland fisheries of the Game and Fish Commission.

The fish were planted in Lake Diversion, near Wichita Falls, last week. There were approximately 800 of the stripers, flown in from California. They are about four inches long.

The stripers were provided by the California Fish and Game Commission without cost to Texas. They were flown in from the Sacramento delta, where they had been acclimated in fresh water before their trip to Texas.

The striper was introduced to the West Coast in the late 1880's, from the Atlantic Coast. They have done exceptionally well there in the salt water.

Stripers also have been planted in other fresh water impoundments in the United States. They are very similar in appearance to the white bass, which now is so numerous in southern waters. Because of that, strict regulations will be enforced at Lake Diversion to prevent their being taken from the lake before they have had an opportunity to grow and a study made of their reproduction.

The stripers are tackle busters, reaching 75 or more pounds in weight.

GEORGE'S WIFE

By "Sarah"

We tuned in on the Today show again this week, heard some mighty weird and exciting discussions. Seems as if our scientists are away out in "The New Frontier" in store for us.

Dr.'s Mead, Andrews and Cushman say 'the 60's will be an exciting decade, that there will not be so much interest in outer space as in other planet structures, and we will see one of man's greatest adventures.'

There was a time when we could overcome one Country or another, then be able to study the sociological and all other aspects of its people, and still have that race intact. We never again will have world stability, we are so interlocked, one with the other that an incident in one part of the world could start a chain reaction that would wipe out the human race. So these scientists will start the study of 'Human

Science.'

They think there will be less Texans, less Virginians etc., and will just be U.S. citizens, Europeans, Africans and whatever. Then one day we will all just be Earthlings. There will be a new form, each peoples will assume Nation-Hood, and each Nation will be as interested in saving the children of other nations as they are in saving their own. Then we suppose we will assume earth-hood and do the same for other planets.

We still think there is nothing new under the sun, at least this is not new. We have been trying to do this from the beginning of time, or America has certainly been doing their part for nigh on to three decades. Some hearts were in the right place but their methods have failed.

So maybe this study of 'Human science' will at least find out why people do the way they do, but they just may have to do their research before it's done this time, else there will be no one to tell it to.

The National Foundation

If there is any one point that we scientists must get across to the "average man" (if there is any such person), it is that conducting a first-rate research program is much more than just giving money indiscriminately to various laboratories.

The key to right giving is selecting the right people to whom to give. This is a most difficult task but it is a job at which The National Foundation has proven itself exceptionally competent.

Research may be said to be a journey into the unknown to push forward the frontiers of knowledge. Inevitably, its nature is such that no man can foretell exactly where it will lead.

But this "average man" to whom we just referred, and who is perhaps dissatisfied with the uncertainties over where research will lead, might be reminded that The National Foundation has shown in the past what it can do—as, for example, initiating the research that developed the Salk and Sabin polio vaccines. This and other major accomplishments constitute the credentials of the world's largest voluntary health organization for going ahead.

A great deal of basic research, of this journey into the unknown, was needed to create the bases which made possible the development of the polio vaccines. This gain will be necessary as The National Foundation moves forward in its expanded program which includes birth defects and arthritis in addition to continued work in polio. Perhaps you have heard the comment that a camel is a horse put together by a committee. This illuminates what I think is one of the principles of research. Great research is done by great men, not by committees. It is The National Foundation's job, among others, to find those great men, and to see that they have adequate equipment with which to work.

It is natural for the public to want immediate results. For the parents of a child afflicted with arthritis, for instance, to want quick cures is understandable. But we are trustees of public funds. We cannot spend those funds save for projects that have some promise of success, conducted by people who have shown what they can do.

If our aims in research could be summed up, I would say that The National Foundation operates like a rapier, not a bludgeon. We are selective. We put March of Dimes funds in the exact spot and under the exact man who will make Prophecy come true: "The chariots shall rage in the streets; they shall jostle one against another in the broad ways; they shall seem like torches; they shall run like lightnings." From the Book of Nahum, Old Testament, about 713 B. C. In Texas in 1959, traffic deaths totaled 2,453, traffic injuries about 140,000, traffic losses about 381 million dollars.

With laboratory methods that have been developed, many under March of Dimes grants, we can move farther and faster than in years past. Indeed, I often think of the polio struggle as a time when we tooled up for what is to come. The methods that were so successful in that polio challenge are now being applied to the greater challenges that lie ahead.

To accomplish what The National Foundation desires requires great men. We have had them in the past. We shall have them in the future and, with public contributions to the March of Dimes, those men will accomplish much for the good of mankind.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

Why The Rules Committee
This Newsletter will be a brief history of the root of the Rules Committee, others would change its personnel and procedures, while others would undertake to purge certain members of that Committee with whom they disagree. Hence, in view of the publicity on this subject, I felt that the people ought to know the true facts involved.

The House of Representatives operates through committees. These are called Standing Committees and are listed in the Rules of the House. These Committees could be called the Permanent committees. Other committees are Select Committees and Conference Committees, but these are temporary in nature and have no permanent standing. Each of these Standing Committees has jurisdiction over specifically documented subject matter in legislation. The bills introduced in the Congress by the members on different subject matter in legislation. The bills matters are assigned by the Speaker to the respective committee having jurisdiction of that subject matter. These bills are considered by that committee and, if approved, are referred to the House of Representatives with the recommendation that the bill become law. However, instead of going directly to the House of Representatives, these bills must first pass through the Rules Committee and obtain approval by that Committee for hearing before the House of Representatives. In other words, most bills are not considered by the House of Representatives unless they pass through the Rules Committee. The Rules Committee presently consists of 12 Members — 8 Democrats and 4 Republicans. If all Members are present and voting, a bill, in order to receive approval to be debated before the House, must receive at least 7 votes. If a bill receives only 6 votes for it and there are 6 against it, the motion to report the bill fails. During recent years on several highly controversial measures, the division in the Rules Committee has been a tie of 6 and 6. This meant that the highly controversial legislation could not receive a rule to be debated before the House. This is what is causing the big hue and cry to change the Rules Committee or the Rules of the House. It is the cause of the caustic and bitter criticism that has been directed against Congressman Howard Smith of Virginia and Congressman William Colmer of Mississippi — unfair and unjust criticism, in my opinion, but nevertheless, criticism that is forming the basis of the battle against the Rules Committee.

The Rules Committee came into existence in 1789 as a Select Committee. It became a Standing Committee in 1880 and has had that status since. In 1858 the Speaker of the House was made a Member of the Rules Committee. This situation existed until 1910 at which time a prohibition against the Speaker serving on the Committee was adopted. However, this prohibition was done away with in 1946. The Speaker has not served on the Committee although some Members have proposed that such a rule be adopted. In the opinion of the writer, the Rules Committee, as presently constituted, is necessary for the proper dispatch of the business of the House of Representatives. It cannot and does not thwart the majority rule of the House. There are 4 ways of bringing a bill before the House of Representatives. The first is through the Rules Committee; the second is by a suspension of the rules which requires a two-thirds majority; the third is by a discharge petition which, if signed by a majority of the House of Representatives, will discharge the Committee in which the bill is pending and make the bill a privileged matter before the House; the fourth method would be by following the usual procedures under the rules of the House on Calendar Wednesday. Calendar Wednesday is usually dispensed with because of the press of other business. This is usually done by unanimous consent, but if an objection is interposed, a two-thirds vote on the motion can dispense with Calendar Wednesday.

The United States is a great country, but a large country with many varied and diversified interests. The National Congress is supposed to be representative of all of those several interests. It is supposed to pass laws that are fair and just to all of the people. Just as there must be laws for all of the people to live by in fairness and justice to each other, the lawmaking body itself must have rules and regulations in order to properly conduct its business. That is the primary reason for the Committee on Rules in the first place, its jurisdiction including the "a) the rules, joint rules and order of business of the House . . ." Good government requires a sharp division of opinion, sound presentation and expression of all facets of the problem or issue involved and a thorough screening of the proposed final result. This is the process that has made this country great, that has made it strong and will keep it strong. Any policy or process of permitting a simple majority to shove through any and all kinds of laws on emotional dictates or other pressures would soon result in the destruction of any government. There is no doubt that the Rules Committee has on occasion created frustration in the minds of those who would like to see their pet bill or project sail through unopposed. But it must be remembered that the present sharp division of the Rules Committee constitutes an excellent safeguard against impractical or inadvisable successes by advocates of any extreme philosophy. It assures consideration for the will of the minority, whichever party that might be. The secret of good government is the balance that is struck in the final product of law after full, complete and exhaustive consideration and debate of the issues and problems involved. Some call it compromise; others call it the area of agreement between the many sides represented. But to me it is the balance that insures the justice guaranteed under our Constitution to all individuals. The Rules Committee in the House of Representatives, as presently constituted is, in my opinion, the balance wheel that can preserve the good health of our government.

Altoona, Pa., Mirror: "Former President Herbert Hoover, at the age of 85, still can thrill his listeners and his clear voice and cheery smile can hold attention. The elder statesman of the Republican Party proved himself to be the 'hit' of the opening session of the Republican convention in Chicago . . ."

"He attacked the Communists, the egg heads and the beatniks who would place America second and who fail to stand up to their heritage. He sought a rebirth of a great spiritual force which has been impaired by cynicism and weakened by foreign infections."
