Bronchos Kick the Bobcats

Clarendon's offense and defense turned a near flawless performance Friday en route to a 33-0 homecoming thrashing over previously unbeaten 1A Sunray.

The Bronchos improve to 4-1, while Sunray drops to 4-1 on the season.

The win gives the Bronchos much-needed momentum going into its first district match-up Friday with highway nemesis Memphis. The Cyclones beat Clarendon 28-12 last year and lost a 1994 post-season bi-district tilt with Stratford, 50-23.

Memphis returns 17 lettermen, including eight offensive and nine defensive starters.

"Their fullback and their quarterback make their team go," Clarendon head coach Kent Allison said. "He (the quarterback) can throw the football, and they have a tight end, (Justin) Cabler, who's a pretty good receiver."

"They can play pretty decent defense. We've got to control the line of scrimmage, and the key is not turning the football over."

The Bronchos' special teams need to play error-free football against Memphis because mistakes by those units cost Clarendon last year's ballgame with the Cyclones, Allison remembered.

This first district slugfest is the Bronchos most important game so far, Allison said.

"I think it's going to be tough to be the district champion with one loss on the record, but it's not impossible," Allison said.

"We're not even thinking about losing. But Memphis has played a tough schedule, and they've improved every week."

The Cyclones are coming off a 38-14 whipping of White Deer, a team the Bronchos easily put away,

The Broncho offense was on auto-pilot against a highly touted Sunray defense Friday night. Clarendon racked up 24 first downs and rushed for 372 yards, holding the Bobcats to 66 yards and five first downs.

Quarterback Phillip Hearn is becoming more comfortable in his leadership role, completing 50 percent of his passes and throwing only one interception.

Senior Lorenzo Moore turned in another stellar performance, carrying the ball 40 times for 218 yards. Sophomore Ebony Butler rushed for 132 yards on 15 carries, including two interceptions.

Butler started off the scorefest on a 5-yard ramble with 6:31 left in the first quarter. The run for two extra points failed, which has been a sore spot for the Bronchos in five games.

Sophomore Clemmie Smith blocked a Bobcat punt several minutes later, and Clint Green recovered the loose ball setting up Moore's only touchdown several plays later on a 13-yard run.

Butler chipped in his second touchdown on a 49-yard run at the 5:16 mark in the second quarter. And Senior Drew Jeffers nicely handled a 50-yard TD pass from Hearn several minutes later to give the Bronchos a comfortable 26-0 halftime lead.

Clarendon's only score in the second half came with 1:23 left in the game on a 2-yard run by Smith.

Butler and Moore are two of the Panhandle's premier backs because of a stellar offensive line, Allison said. Linemen James Hoggat, Green, Seth McAfee, Chris Brown, Evan Williams, Jeffers, and Mark Barefield at end receive much credit.

"A lot of people stood out. Evan had 14 tackles, and Clemmie had a good game. He knocked the fire out of the guy. He stood him up."

Barefield played one of his best games of the year, cradling three passes including a behind-the-back catch at fourth down and four yards, setting up Butler's first TD. The senior Barefield broke the tackle and struggled for the first down, setting the tone for the entire night.

The first half was the best football the Bronchos have played all season, Allison said.

"I don't think it's the best we can play. We must put four quarters together like we played in the first half, and we have to do it several times throughout the district schedule."

"The next five games are the ones in which we really need to rise to the occasion."

"We have to put that game behind us and get ready for the real season. It's the season we've been preparing for all year."

Group Forming To Support Clarendon College Fine Arts

Over a dozen community members met last week with some Clarendon College staff to initiate an ambitious plan for performances and art shows at the Harned Sisters Fine Arts Auditorium on campus. The 600 plus seat theater is a fine resource that could be used more to benefit the community, Dr. Scotty Elliott, College President, reminded the group during the luncheon meeting.

Those present at the focus group were Sue Dunagan, Ruby Jewel Hardin, Bliss Knorpp, Cloe Ann Newhouse, Roberta Pittman, Mary Neal Riskey, Cennett Rhode, Billie Schaefer, Zell SoRelle, and Walter Warner. Others interested are cordially invited to the organizational meeting Friday, October 20, at noon in the Bairfield Activity Center.

The Cultural Affairs Committee will decide on performers to invite, developing a mix of events to please a variety of interests. Local talent, college students and professional entertainment will all be featured.

The Clarendon College Board of Regents has allocated seed money to help the committee get started. During the meeting, Dr. Elliott described a concept for the committee to function as "Friend Raisers" rather than fund raisers for the arts. He speculated that a full year of planning, recruiting, and promotion may be required to establish a performing arts series. Season tickets could be marketed when the schedule is set.

A Tumbleweed Talent Show, popular in Clarendon during the 80's, was discussed as a possible first project for this year. One reason the shows were discontinued was lack of staff to organize and prepare the performances of so many diverse talents, but the committee intends to volunteer to cover that concern.

Becoming a site for out-of-town performances of the symphonies, ballet, and opera companies from Amarillo and Wichita Falls, offering the stage to actors who have developed portrayals of famous historical characters, hosting intercultural exchange groups such as Chinese acrobats, and featuring up-and-coming singers were some of the events discussed. Committee members will share the work of evaluating possible selections, promoting and publicizing each event, greeting and ushering at performances, and steering community cultural affairs as the seasons develop.

Anyone with an interest in promoting the arts in Clarendon is welcome. Please express your interest by calling Darlene Spier at 874-3571 during business hours.

Basic Job Skills Series Offered

A four-week series of information on what it takes to have a productive, enjoyable work life will be offered Tuesday afternoons in November. Unemployed adults are especially invited to attend at no charge; other adults are welcome for a small fee.

Self-assessment to determine work interests and aptitudes, ways to deal with frustration and anger, goal setting, stress management, appropriate dress, and general business etiquette are some of the topics the series will cover. A variety of trainers and speakers will keep the sessions lively.

People can sign up by calling Lynne Williams at 3595, Carol Farris at 3443, or Ann Alexander at 2089. Participants will be advised of the time and place for these lessons when they complete a registration interview.

The series is the result of meetings by agency, school, and community members concerned that this kind of employment information is offered only in urban areas. Initiating the series will meet this need and assess the demand for many similar series in the future. The planning committee consists of Lynne Williams of the Texas Department of Human Services, Maurine Butts and John G. Taylor of Clarendon High School, Pat Archuleta of Clarendon-Donley County Chamber of Commerce, Ann Alexander and Beverly Alexander of the CORE Community, and Nelson Christie and Carol Farris of Clarendon College.

The series is jointly sponsored by the local office of the Texas Department of Human Services, the Perkins program of Clarendon College, and the Clarendon-Donley County Chamber of Commerce.

Letters To The Editor:

Dear Editor,
Concerning the O.J. Simpson not guilty verdict. I am not against any race or color, for God made us all. I believe O.J. Simpson was and is guilty of the crimes.

His money bought him off. But the God in Heaven knows. If it had been some poor boy, black or white, he would have been sent to the electric chair.

Nell Derr

Dear Editor,
As a supporter of the Christian Coalition, I want you to know that I am very concerned about the relentless anti-Christian bias of the news media.

For example, Dan Rather of CBS News described conservative Christians as "hatemongers." The Washington Post, in a feature article, described us as "largely poor, uneducated and easy-to-command." These kinds of false caricatures must stop.

Christians make up the majority of your readers. I'm writing to urge you to be fair in your coverage of Christians. Why not publish some positive articles now and then about all the good work Christian organizations are doing in our community?
Lennie Martin

CAPITOL COMMENT

U.S. SENATOR
KAY BAILEY HUTCHISON

Medicaid Revamp Hits a Hurdle

When Congress set out to reform Medicaid, the health care program which serves the nation's poor, it focused on two unavoidable facts:

1) The program's growth rate of three times the rate of inflation represents a time bomb ready to go off and stymie efforts to balance the federal budget; and;

2) The states, unlike the federal government, don't have the luxury of deficit spending, so any alteration of the way the federal government calculates its share of Medicaid costs was sure to cause turmoil in state capitols across the nation.

Sure enough, the funding formulas Congress has come up with — so far — are unacceptable to me because they have the potential to gouge a huge hole in the Texas state budget. Other states with high growth rates don't like it either. Trading lower federal taxes for higher state and local taxes is not my idea of reform.

My main objection to the formula on the table in the Senate Finance Committee now is that it would work to the advantage of high-benefit, low-growth states with high per capita incomes. Texas falls into none of those categories. Moreover, under this formula, the relatively wealthy states would pay for an even smaller percentage of their total state programs than they do now — a double-whammy at Texas' expense.

The reform initiative has taken a wrong turn. Its outline now is less like the even-handed block-grant program we began with and much more like the existing, failed program.

States that already spend a great deal more than the national average on their Medicaid programs would be rewarded, when the entire purpose of the original exercise was to curb skyrocketing costs.

The rich would continue to get richer, while the poor, the poorer states that is, would have to dig deeper into their state coffers to finance the program.

Texas would be hard hit under the proposal, receiving from $5 billion to $10 billion less than we do under existing law. (When Texas already spends one-quarter of its state budget on the Medicaid program alone.)

This would have several unpleasant consequences for our state, aside from its direct financial impact. The loss of Medicaid funding would increase uncompensated care provided by Texas hospitals, which would push up hospital costs for everyone else. Many small, rural hospitals would be forced to eliminate services or close their doors entirely.

This would be a disaster for Texas. Medicaid funding formulas ought to conform with reality: allocations should be based on each state's rate of growth, rather than its past spending levels.

The Medicaid program must be improved and made more cost-effective. As the optimistic doctor said of a certain disease, "There are no incurables," only things for which we have not yet found a cure." Medicaid can be reformed. All states could do with less if they could take advantage of new efficiencies a looser federal rein offers them. But $10 billion is more of a hit than Texas can absorb through savings. I will do everything I can to ensure that the 'cure' is equitable and serves the interest of the states of Texas.

CORE Group Starts Activities

Implementation of activities for the Health Development Bridge grant to the Clarendon CORE Coalition Group are well underway, according to CORE Leader Ann Alexander.

"CORE" stands for Community involvement, Opportunity and development, Rehabilitation, and Equality for all. The grant application is supported as one result of the January, 1995, community survey sponsored by the Clarendon-Donley County Chamber of Commerce and West Texas Utilities Company Community Development Office.

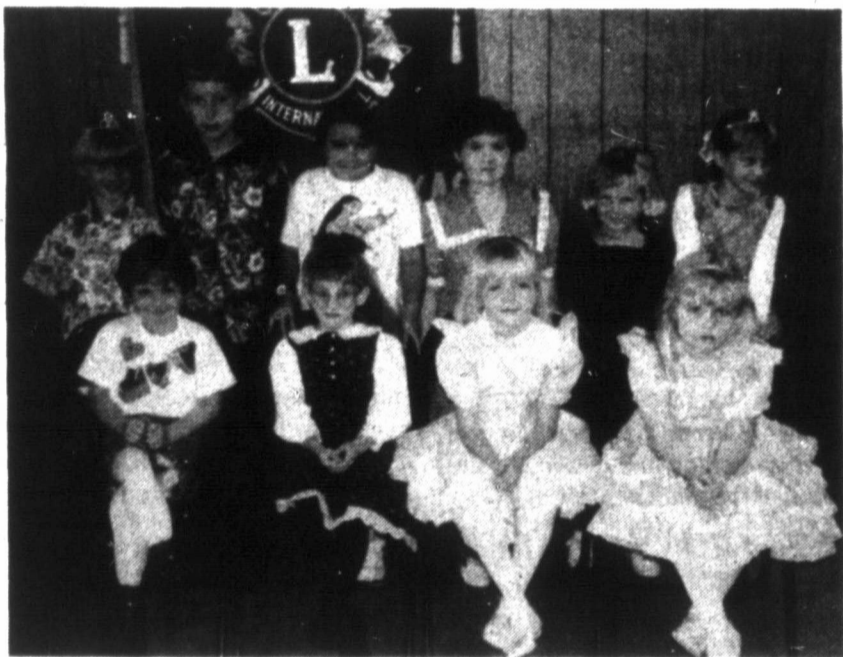

A community clean-up of the north ward was the initiating event under the grant. Monthly meetings to develop prevention projects, assisting residents to achieve G.E.D. certification, improving community relations, and helping to develop a series of trainings in Basic Job Skills are activities completed or being worked on so far.

The purpose of each health grant activity is to address the prevention of health problems through the formation and support of effective community coalitions. The end goals are to help community residents achieve wellness and to understand and participate in decisions concerning their health.

The funds are from the Texas Department of Health. The grant year is June, 1995, through May, 1996. Fiscal agent for the grant is the Clarendon-Donley County Chamber of Commerce.

THE DONLEY COUNTY SENIOR CITIZEN Christmas in October Craft Bazaar held last weekend was a success. Bill Meador, Juanita Meador, and Cennett Rhode helped sell some of the goodies.

ON OCTOBER 14, ONE OF THESE PRETTY YOUNG LADIES will be crowned Hedley Cotton Princess at the Queen Coronation at 7:00 p.m. on Saturday, October 14 in the H.H.S. gymnasium. Votes for the contestants are a penny a vote. Contestants are (front) Nikki Burnam, Jaci Copelin, Courtney Johnson, LaQuita Everett, (back) reigning Cotton Princess Julie Funderburg, Emily Edmondson, Kara Willingham, Ashley Chitwood, Lauren Glover, 1993-94 Cotton Princess Megan Hall, and (not pictured) Autumn Dillman.

Homemaker's Club Meets

The Clarendon Extension Homemaker's Club met Wednesday, October 4, in the home of Mary Jane Smith.

There were nine members present, one visitor, Mary Lee Self from Arizona, and Extension Agent Jeanene Sinclair.

Jeanene presented a program on how a table should be properly set. She had instructions for many different ways to fold a napkin and let all the members try folding their own napkins. All the members enjoyed the program.

At their September meeting, Betty Hestor demonstrated making a lady's jacket using an Afghan. She cut it out and sewed it together in only one hour. She brought patterns for the jacket and gave each member a pattern to take home.

Jeanene Sinclair told the club that there was a lot of enthusiasm in the 4-H clubs. The Extension Office has started a 4-H program for children ages five thru seven. The club expressed to Jeanene Sinclair that they are very proud of all the hard work she has done.

Jeanene is also trying to re-supply the kitchen at the Extension Office. Those who would like to donate to the kitchen, can call the Extension Office and find out what supplies are needed.

The next meeting is scheduled for November 8.

The cheerleaders, Sparky, and a few students presented cheers for the residents. The football players introduced themselves and gave the residents little footballs signed by a player. Sparky presented a garter to the Medical Center Homecoming King which was Pud Bain and a mum for the queen, Buelah Mazzy. Thirty-one of the Medical Center residents enjoyed the occasion.

Sonia Smith was their August Employee of the Month. She is the daughter of Daniel and Etta Milhoan and has lived in the area for approximately three years. Sonia started working as a Certified Nurse Aide at Medical Center Nursing Home.

Amarillo Symphony Presents Concert Opera

The Amarillo Symphony Concert on October 21 should be one of the most exciting of the season as the presentation blends internationally-acclaimed singers, four outstanding choruses, the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra, and the extraordinary music of Beethoven's only opera, "Fidelio." The concert features the Panhandle's own Mary Jane Johnson, Timothy Jenkins, Burr Cockran Phillips, Lanny Allen, Terry Cook, and Esther York singing leading roles. Also featured are the Amarillo Opera Chorus, the Amarillo Civic Chorus, West Texas A&M University Chorus, and the Eastern New Mexico University Chorus.

"We will perform the opera 'Fidelio' in a concert version," James Setapen, Music Director and Conductor of the Symphony, said. "There is no stage setting, and the singers do not appear in costume. However, I think the audience will find the libretto, as well as the music, to be inspiring. We are particularly pleased to present this opera using so many people who are native to this area and have gone on to become leaders in the world of music."

The concert, which is being sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Pool and co-sponsored by Mr. Sid Covington, begins at 8:00 p.m., Saturday, October 21, in the Amarillo Civic Center Auditorium. Tickets are available by calling the Amarillo Symphony office at 376-8782.

The Lions Tale

By Gene Alderson

The Clarendon Lions Club held its regular meeting at noon on Tuesday, October 10, 1995, at the Lions Hall with fourteen members, two guests, and Lion Sweetheart Dee Williams in attendance.

After a delicious meal, the regular opening ceremony was observed and Liantamer Henson introduced the guests. The Boss Lion Johnson announced that the Annual Ladies Night Banquet would be held on October 24. There will not be a noon meeting that date.

Additional plans were made for advance ticket sales for Dangerous Don's Old-Time Town and Country Road Show which the Club is sponsoring at the Clarendon College Auditorium on November 11. The two hour show features Windy Valley's number one cowboy comedian. Tickets are still available from Lion Club members.

The meeting was adjourned.

THIS 8 POUND, 3 OUNCE SWEET POTATO came from Jerri Land's garden in Lella Lake. It certainly proves that this has been a good year for sweet potato crops.

Compost Your Falling Leaves

By Bob McCombs, Recycling Coordinator

Leaves will soon be falling, and there is no reason to let them go to waste such as bagging and tossing them into the dumpster to go to the landfill. Instead, use them to improve your soil and your plants by making compost or use them as mulch.

Composting bins and composting books are available at City Hall. They are free of charge. Come pick one up and improve your soil.

Free Trees Available

Ten free shade trees will be given to each person who joins The National Arbor Day Foundation during the ten shade trees are Sugar Maple, Red Oak, Pin Oak, Green Ash, Thornless Honeylocust, Weeping Willow, River Birch, Tuliptree, Silver Maple, and Red Maple.

The trees will be shipped postpaid at the right time for planting between Nov. 2 and Dec. 10 with enclosed planting instructions. The six to twelve inch trees are guaranteed to grow, or they will be replaced free of charge.

To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, send $10 to Shade Trees, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Ave., Nebraska City, NE 68410, by Oct. 31, 1995.

Thornberry Takes Top Honors In TCFA Challenge

Carey Thornberry of Clarendon, captured first place individual carcass in the junior division of the TCFA Junior Fed Beef Challenge held in Amarillo recently. He also received a special award from the American Salers Association.

Carey, along with the other winners will be honored for their hard work and knowledge of cattle feeding during the Annual Convention of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association, October 15-17 in Dallas.

Students competing in the challenge fed a pen of three steers, then compete on the carcass merit of the cattle, plus the student's ability in live animal evaluation, a written test, oral interview, and record keeping.

A "Watered Down" Approach To Math And Science

Some students from Hedley High School recently found out how "hands on" math and science works. They found themselves out in a field on the wettest day of the fall, soaked to the bone in the interest of data collecting in a "classroom without walls."

Miles away from the comfortable environs of the lecture hall, they were participating in a program that regularly collects five sets of data on the health of local watersheds.

The program, called "Texas Watch," is a statewide program designed to create a database on water systems all over the state, according to math teacher Linda Rowland, one of two Hedley teachers involving students in the hands on experience. Science teacher, Bruce Howard is excited about the program. "We've actually had students participating during the summer in preparation for these activities," says Mr. Howard, "and some of these students are definitely at-risk kids. To see students so excited, that they are willing to spend time during summer vacation to participate makes teaching a lot easier."

The Texas Watch program tests for five parameters of water health. Students measure water temperature, conductivity (dissolved salts), pH, dissolved oxygen, and water clarity.

Temperature affects the rate of chemical reactions and so is very important to organisms living in the water. Many fish have trouble surviving in warm water because the warmer the water the less oxygen will dissolve.

Air pressure, the amount of photosynthesis and respiration, and the saltiness of the water also affect how much oxygen will be in the water. The amount of salt can drastically affect the ability of fish to survive as well.

pH of course is important because just a change of one or two pH points for a lake or pond means ten to one hundred times as much acid or base in the system, and wildlife cannot survive in these conditions.

Water clarity is tested because it affects the way predators find prey. Fish can suffocate if too much turbidity exist, and because too much turbidity can slow photosynthesis. As one student wrote in a paper recently, "water testing is vital to the health of all living things."

Mrs. Rowland is especially pleased with the program because it ties together math with science in a practical way. She was finishing the dissolved oxygen test with a group of students on the way home from Greenbelt Lake when one student remarked, "Hey, this really is math, isn't it?" "That sort of comment shows how doing math is so helpful, because many students never see the relationship between math and the real world unless they actually use their math skills to produce data that is important to other people," says Mrs. Rowland.

Some of those "other people" interested in the data at the Texas Watch organization in Austin, the Greenbelt Water Authority, the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission (TNRCC), and the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

AG News Improving The Bottom Line

BY ZACHARY WILCOX, CEA-AG

What would you do with an extra $10,000 or $20,000 or even $50,000 dollars a year? Expand your business? Pay off debts? Go to Hawaii for the winter?

According to Dr. Steve Amosson, Texas Agricultural Extension Service Management Specialist, these types of returns can be achieved by producers by increasing their net price 2-1/5 to 5% over their current marketing practices. This corresponds to increasing the net price of commodities 5 to 15 cents a bushel.

If you think about it, the difference is a major league baseball player hitting 300 and making millions or a 250 hitter who is struggling to stay in the majors, with an additional hit in 20 atbats or 5%. For producers to increase their net price 5%, it may be as simple as having the knowledge to recognize obvious pricing opportunities, avoiding marketing pitfalls, and knowing which is the best way to price given the situation.

If you're interested in learning about the ins and outs of marketing commodities, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service may have a program for you. This winter a pilot program offers 64 hours of practical instruction in marketing of wheat feedgrains, and stocker cattle. It will be taught in four two-day sessions, two weeks apart starting in early January in Amarillo. The program will address developing a marketing plan, basic and advanced marketing strategies, basis, fundamental analysis, technical analysis, international marketing, and value-added marketing.

I am really excited about the instructors for the course. We have assembled some of the most knowledgeable individuals from across the country to teach. Only 56 producers or agribusinessmen will be admitted to the program because of its "hands on" nature. Participants must operate in the top 26 counties of the Texas Panhandle.

Graduates of the Master Marketers Program will be expected to help form and lead a marketing club in their county. According to Dr.

Greenbelt Lake, the Taylor Lakes near Lelia Lake, and Lelia Lake Creek, north of Hedley each month for the next five years. Poster illustrating their first sets of data are on display in the office of the Greenbelt Water Authority.

Amosson, in times of tight resources, marketing clubs provide a way of spreading marketing knowledge to more producers. In addition, the understanding of the master marketer is increased when he has to explain a marketing principal to someone else.

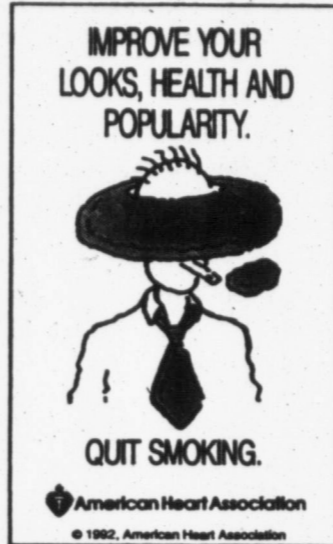

The registration fee for the master marketer program is $250 per participant with applications being accepted starting in October. This low registration fee is made possible through the sponsorship of the Texas Wheat Producers Board, the Texas Corn Producers Board, and the Chicago Board of Trade. For more information contact Zach Wilcox, County Extension Agent, at 874-2141 or Dr. Steve Amosson or at 806-359-5401.

Bronco JV To Battle Memphis On Thursday

The Clarendon High School Bronco Junior Varsity will travel to Memphis Thursday night to begin the second round of their double-round robin schedule. Kick-off will be about 7:30 p.m., following the seventh and eighth grade games.

The Broncos are coming off a loss at Highland Park on a cold and windy night. On the bright side, however, the bronco JV got its first offensive touchdown of the season last week when sophomore tailback Oren Shields crashed over the goal line from three yards out with 59 seconds left in the game.

Shields, who earlier in the year had a TD called back because of a penalty, became the second Bronco to score this season. The team's first TD was a defensive fumble recovery by Keith Kidd against Panhandle.

Against Highland Park, the Broncos were down to 13 players due to injuries and illness.

Shields continues to be the team's top offensive threat with 165 yards rushing. Jeremy Shelley has come on strong at fullback with 34 yards rushing on 17 carries.

Defensively, big Ronnie Tabor leads the team with 16 solo tackles. Freshman free safety Scotty Elliott has recorded 15 stops, and Jeremy Shelley has 14 to his credit. Trent Mooring and Shields are also in double digits on solo tackles.

The team is looking for the possible return of starting center D.J. Edwards this week. Edwards has been out with a knee injury, and Mooring filled in at center. Edwards' availability for this week had not been determined at press time.

EPA Grants 2-Year Extension on Regulations for Small Municipal Landfills

WASHINGTON — U.S. Rep. Mac Thornberry (R-Clarendon) announced today that the Environmental Protection Agency has granted a two-year extension for small municipal solid waste landfills to comply with expensive design and groundwater monitoring requirements. The Congressman had asked the EPA for such an extension in a March 22, 1995, letter to EPA Administrator Carol Browner.

"The EPA's decision is good news for several landfill owners and operators in the 13th District, who have been wondering whether they will get relief from these bureaucratic regulations," Thornberry said. "Even with the delay, the EPA could still decide to make small landfills comply with the same expensive 'one fits all' standards that apply to big cities. That would be illogical and unfair."

EPA's action means that small municipal solid waste landfills (MSWLFs) in arid areas such as the Texas High Plains have until Oct. 9, 1997, to comply with regulations on groundwater monitoring and design. The EPA also is studying the feasibility of allowing MSWLFs to adopt site-specific alternatives to the groundwater monitoring and design regulations. The agency is accepting public comment on site-specific alternatives until Nov. 7, 1995, and expects to decide by Oct. 1996.

"I would urge the EPA to move rapidly to assure landfill owners and operators that they will not be required to invest in groundwater monitoring equipment that is clearly not needed in this region where runoff is not a problem," Thornberry said.

Light Up The Broncos

There will be a Bon Fire to kick off District play for the Clarendon High School Broncos, Wednesday, October 11, at 8:30 p.m. The fire will be located just south of the cemetery on Highway 70 on the Ronnie McAncar place.

If the weather permits, there will be fireworks, and the "flaming C.H.S."

Help keep the "Maroon Magic" fired up as the Broncos go into District competition.

Lady Bronchos Improve Times

Times by Clarendon Lady Bronchos improved by nearly a minute during the Mustang Stampede Cross Country meet at Wheeler last Saturday. The Lady Bronchos finished eighth.

CHS Sophomore Clarissa Smith chopped more than a minute off of her time, running a personal best 12:34 and finishing a team-high seventh place.

"I think she decided to go for it, and she proved to herself that she really could run with them," Lady Bronchos head coach Steve Schmidt said.

Smith, a force in the 100m at the state track meet last year, used her sprinter's legs to cut a 1:20 off her fastest previous time.

"The sprinters in track, like Clarissa, can use their power in cross country because it takes power to go through the turns and the hills and the things that you can't do on the track," Schmidt said.

The two-mile course was in perfect condition, and the runners participated on a picture-perfect morning, which contributed to their better

Colts Play Well Against Hornets

Fullback Dee Thompson rambled for three touchdowns, and Quarterback Colt Floyd scored one TD en route Thursday to a win over the Highland Park Hornets seventh grade team.

The Colts put the point on the scoreboard first with a breakaway run by Thompson early in the first quarter. Thompson romped for two more touchdowns before Floyd put his own mark on the game with a 10-yard sweep.

Nathan Floyd led the defense in tackles and was a force in preventing the Hornets from making a first down the entire game.

The seventh grade team is improving every time they put on their uniforms, according to the Colt coaching staff. They are becoming more aggressive on offense and defense.

The eighth grade Colts lost a heartbreaker in the waning moments of the game which ended 28-20.

Cael Shields put the Colts ahead on a breakaway run early in the game, but the Hornets responded with a TD, and a Colt fumble set up another Hornet score.

The Hornets held the Colts on their next possession and forced Carey Thornberry to punt. A Hornet player touched the ball on the 1-yard line, and Shields swallowed it up.

Fullback Brandon Word scored the TD on the ensuing play.

The Hornets scored once more before halftime giving Highland Park a 20-14 advantage. They struck early after the half and scored another TD, but Shields recovered a fumble and sprinted 15 yards to get the Colts within striking distance.

The Colts had a chance to score the last minute of the game but ran out of time.

Colt coaches say the eighth graders played a great game, almost beating a team that thrashed them last year, 40-0.
