WTSC TO CELEBRATE GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

CANYON, Oct. 29, (Special)—Incorporating the best features of homecomings of the past, the Golden Anniversary Homecoming Nov. 7 at West Texas State College is expected to attract the largest crowd of returning ex-students in the 50-year history of the college.

Preparations are being completed to make the slate of events on Homecoming Day full and attractive to former students. The Homecoming celebration is one of four major observances scheduled for WT's Golden Anniversary.

Homecoming events include a parade, barbecue, football game, club teas, parties, and smokers, and a dance. Pre-Homecoming activities include Western Week, a Homecoming assembly, open house, a B team football game with Texas Tech, concert and play in the new Fine Arts Building.

The 25th anniversary class of 1934 will hold its reunion, and members of the college's early classes will also meet.

Exes planning to attend the barbecue, which will be catered by Walter Jetton Foods of Fort Worth, have been urged to make reservations through the Ex-Students Association. Cost per plate will be $1.25.

Registration and a business meeting of the exes are scheduled at 9 a.m. in the Administration Building. The parade through Canyon will start at 10:30 and the barbecue, to be held in old Buffalo Stadium, will be at noon. The football game, between the Buffs and Virginia Tech, will be at 2 p.m.

While club teas and smokers are held at 4:30 p.m., the Class of '34 will hold its reunion in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum. A dance, first ever to be held in the Field House, is slated from 8 p.m. until 12:30.

Admission of $1.00 a person will be charged for those who dance, but the bleacher in the Field House will be open for visiting.

More than 15 bands, riding clubs, and campus organization and Canyon business floats will participate in the parade. Riding clubs invited include the Hutchinson County Sheriff's Posse, Amarillo Range Riders, Dalhart XIT Riders, Hereford Riding Club, Pampa Riding Club, and Plainview Sheriff's Posse.

Theme of the parade will be WT's "Golden Anniversary." Trophies will be awarded for best campus decorations and best floats. The parade, and the Homecoming assembly, will be televised over KVII TV in Amarillo.

Traditional Western Week will open on the campus Nov. 5, and all students and faculty must wear three items of western wear on penalty of being jailed. Student activities will include a western dance, sponsored by Chi Omega sorority, Nov. 4, the assembly and an intramural rodeo Nov. 5, a B team game with Texas Tech, a bonfire, and an open house in the Fine Arts Building Nov. 6. The music and speech departments will present special short programs, and the art department will hang an exhibition of student art.

Class of '34 and friends will be guests at an open house at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 6 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton "Butt" Morris. Members of the early classes will meet in the Education Building on Homecoming Day.

Dr. J. A. Hill, WT president emeritus, will autograph copies of his book, "More Than Brick and Mortar," a history of WT, at the Ex-Students Office throughout the day.

History has a way of repeating itself. But gossip has history beat to a frazzle.

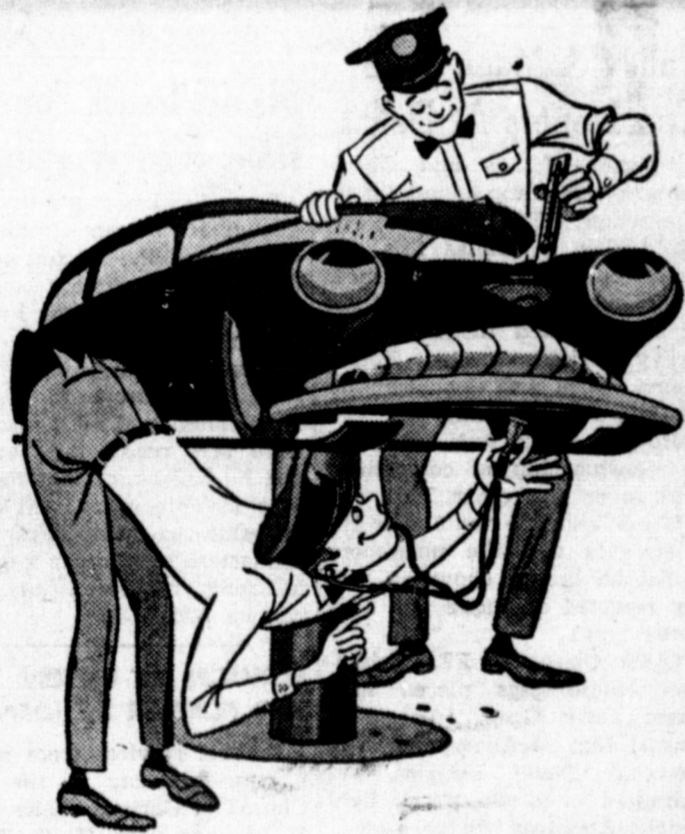

No reason for doing it is good reason for not doing it.

BLOWIN' Out the CORNERS
By Uncle Zeb

Along about this time each year for the last four we have been lucky enough to be invited to the annual banquet of the

Pampa Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development, and what a wonderful treat this occasion always turns out to be for the wife and myself.

One just can't beat the friendliness and hospitality of the local folks as they act as hosts and hostesses to the friends who are invited as representatives from the neighboring towns. When you hang your hat in the lobby and enjoy the good time with the friendly folks of the Top-O-Texas you will long remember the occasion.

Always they have a good speaker and this year's selection, that of Dr. Carl C. Byers of Parma, Ohio, was one of the best. His subject Team Work for Living hit the nail squarely on the head both in suggestions for building a town and also in developing a worthwhile life.

Dr. Byers gives a recipe for learning to be a famous after dinner speaker. One should fill his mouth with marbles and after each practice of an hour, get rid of one marble. After you have "lost all your marbles," you have it made.

He also tells us that we have spent much time on outer space, now we need to spend some time on our inner space; that inside our breast.

Dr. Byers says that our greatest need is for a lot of optimists. He explains it that if Edison had been a pessimist we would all be watching television by coal oil lamps.

Thanks to all you nice neighbors over Pampa way for a good time.

The Soil is just about the greatest single heritage that God gave to man for his good. We find gold in the mountains and streams, and oil in many places but all this comes with a boom and leaves with a bust. Not so with the soil; in all lands it is our food and the foundation of our life and economy.

One of the greatest accomplishments in the last half a century has been our learning to take care of our soil. In the last few years that has been a very favored program all over our country, and we think great strides have been accomplished.

Even, in the old states where the land had almost been abandoned, now we see priceless herds of cattle grazing on what once was almost worthless soil. All this because man has awakened to the value of the Soil.

It is supposed to take thousands of years to create one inch of soil. It is possible to save that much in one wind storm or washing rain. We congratulate all the many departments who give of their time and thinking to this wonderful work. It has more rewards than just the pay one receives in money.

It was the wise old Indian who once said; "When God made the world he put the soil on the bottom and the grass on top. Man decided to change this and put the grass on the bottom and the soil on top. This made God mad so He caused the wind to blow the soil around. Then man changed his mind and began putting the grass back on top again." This was his explanation of the dust storms and the soil conservation programs. . . . A pretty good one it is . . .

"Children have more need of models than of critics." — Joubert. The above is just as true today as it was long ago when Mr. Joubert lived. It is extremely unusual to find a delinquent child who did not have for his model a bad parent. One follows the other almost as surely as night follows the day.

We even have the Word from the Bible telling us that if we will; "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it." The above may not be the exact wording but we believe that even though children may, like the prodigal son drift around a bit, they will come back to this good training sooner or later; many, so very many, will never stray far from it at all.

We need to show our children, not just tell them. We need to take them good places not send them. We need to put the job of raising children on the head of our list. It is the greatest and most rewarding task to which we can be assigned. Along this line we are reminded of the following story;

A rancher was feeding his cattle when he was attracted to one little calf who refused to eat. Herding it near the feed he urged; "You had better get to eatin' or you will be a cut-back come this fall." That night when little Johnnie refused to eat and when mother was trying to urge him, the rancher snorted, "Let him alone, if he gets hungry enough he'll eat alright."

So, many times we forget that no investment we can make could give the return for our efforts as that spent upon the bringing up of our children.

With grain harvest about over, this is the time to be thinking about how to manage the residues from these crops. In almost every case, there is enough residue left from these crops to protect the soil through the winter. There are several alternatives available to use to get good crop residue management. One would be to just leave the stubble standing undisturbed through the winter. Very little moisture is lost this way, as it is through listing. Also, you don't have the added expense of plowing. Another good way to use crop residues is to very lightly disc them in, but leaving enough on top to protect the soil. The discing would be to prevent the leaves from blowing away. It is very important to leave an adequate amount on top, though, to keep the land from blowing.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
 by Vern Sanford
 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Though it hasn't any Los Angeles-type smog or London "pea soupers," Texas, in common with most of the civilized world, has "dirty air" problems. Industrial smoke, automobile exhaust, incinerators — even small town cotton gins — are among the factors that pollute Texas air. State Health Department is using the approach of Cleaner Air Week, October 25-31, to remind Texans of the importance of the air they breathe. During one day, says the Department's October bulletin, a person must breathe 30 to 35 pounds — of a whole roomful — of fresh air.

County Soil Conservation District are trained in proper management of crop residues. They can help you estimate the amount of residues you have and give you some tips on how to manage it so you will have plenty of protection all winter.

Texas by no means has the problems of cities like London where in 1952 several thousand died during a period of excessive air pollution. But, says the Department "the problem is already present and growing in areas where no action is being taken."

Charles A. Williams has recently completed a cross fence on his place north of Hedley. The fence will help him to better manage his grass. Also, it will protect some acreage he plans to control the brush on.

Every citizen can help, says the Bulletin. Improper heating appliances in homes give off tons of uncombusted material and burning of leaves and trash in the back yard adds irritating agents to the air.

A. D. Hendrix has completed his livestock water storage facility. Cost was shared by the Great Plains Conservation Program.

Which probably means the governor will keep the political pot in simmering suspense until very near the Feb. 1 filing deadline.

Rhode and Gould have become new Soil Conservation District Cooperators on their two-section farm north of Lelia Lake. They have planned their complete conservation program. Don Altman is operator of the farm.

Lower Nueces River Water Supply District received $3,000,000 which will be used to complete the $21,000,000 Wesley Seale Dam.

Horace Green is a new district cooperater. Some of the practices Green plans to apply are grass-seeding, waterway construction, diversion construction, cover crops, and proper management of irrigation water.

U.S. attorney general claims the state owns a strip only three miles out from the coast. Texas officials say it is three leagues, or 10 1/2 miles.

Fred A. Watt has completed a conservation plan on his place north of Hedley. He plans to apply brush control, range seeding, and proper range use.

That Texas owns some tidelands was established by a 1953 act of Congress giving states control of their submerged lands to their "historic boundaries."

Gov. Price Daniel and Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson argued before the high court that a historic boundary of three leagues had been established in the days of the Texas Republic and was agreed to by the U.S.

District in West Texas is expected to receive the next loan. It is seeking aid for a $4,000,000 project to supply water to Crosbyton, Post, Ralls and Spur.

there is some "public alarm" over the expansion of public education and the shrinking of private education. He said the staff study would be completed by the latter part of 1960.

Opposing federal argument is that the U.S. has insisted on a three-mile limit for all countries for many years as a matter of "national policy."

SCHOOL SUPPORT PROBLEM — Gaining public support for schools will hinge on how well schools adapt to new demands, State Commissioner of Education J. W. Edgar warned school leaders.

San Angelo citizens, meanwhile, have started activity toward getting San Angelo College admitted into the state's circle of fully supported state institutions. A visit to the institution has been scheduled for Green and Sen. Dorsey Hardeman, in whose district the college is located, for next month.

Texas' oil-bearing tidelands, particularly those further out, are believed to be worth many millions in revenue for the state public school fund.

Dr. Edgar told the Texas Association of School Boards of new curriculum changes, including beefed-up high school mathematics courses, now being tested in Texas schools.

COLLEGES PAYING MORE — Texas' 18 state-supported colleges are paying an average of $433 a year more to its teachers this year than last. Their salaries for teachers now average $6,320, according to the Commission on Higher Education.

STRAWS IN THE WIND — Indications keep piling up that a special Legislative session to raise teacher pay and a third-term race by Governor Daniel are strong possibilities.

School board members noted that, despite the hue and cry for better schools, a winning football team still gets more public support than anything else.

Commission Director Ralph Green said the pay levels are now 30.5 per cent higher than the average five years ago.

Letters favoring the teacher pay session are greatly increasing, according to the governor's office. A representative of the Texas State Teachers Association said teachers are not "cooling off" in their drive and are not planning to wait until 1961.

EDUCATION EXPANSION STUDIED — Whether the University of Houston should be brought into the University of Texas system is under state study.

Widest range of salaries is at the University of Texas. Top pay there is 16,000 for nine months, $10,392 average for full professors, $4,551 average for instructors.

Several union labor groups have endorsed teacher raises and offered to help in the drive.

Texas' Commission on Higher Education ordered staff study of the question directed to it by a resolution passed this year by the Legislature. At present the University of Houston is a private institution that receives state aid only for the first two years of its four-year program.

Marine Corporal Charlie D. Merritt of Greenville, S.C., knocked out seven Jap tanks with seven bazooka rockets on Saipan, for which he received the Navy Cross.

A recent State Democratic Executive Committee newsletter notes Daniel's popularity in polls and quoted him as planning "to keep the door open."

Houston proponents of the plan claim there is an increasing need for making college education available in Houston for that city's ever growing numbers of high school graduates. It is estimated Houston high schools will be graduating 15,000 students a year by 1975.

The Leader makes a good Christmas Gift.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT
 By Congressman Walter Rogers

OIL CENTENNIAL
 When we consider the size, scope, and contribution of the oil industry today, it is difficult to realize it is only one hundred years old. It was, however, born on that August day in 1859 when Colonel Drake drilled down sixty-nine and one-half feet near Titusville, Pennsylvania, and found the first barrel of oil produced in America. A great deal has already been said about this historical event, and rightfully so, since it fostered the gigantic industry which provides much of the energy that has contributed to our economy and our standard of living. Since the State of Texas produces some forty percent of all domestic petroleum liquids in the United States, it is doubly fitting that we join in paying tribute this Hundredth Anniversary year.

It is interesting to note some of the facts and events of this first hundred years. Of the 1,729,708 wells drilled for oil and gas up to January 1, 1959, 27.3 percent of them turned out to be dry holes. The State of Texas, with 443,827 drillings, experienced a higher percentage of dry holes with 140,450 or 31.7 percent. Incidentally, the deepest well ever drilled, 25,340 feet, was in Texas and was a dry hole.

During 1859, the first year of domestic production, 2,000 barrels of crude oil were produced, as compared to 2,617,283,000 barrels in 1956. Of the 574,515 producing wells in the United States at the end of 1958, 179,678 of them were in Texas.

As of December 31, 1958, 31 of the 48 States had oil and/or gas production, and 210 of Texas' 254 counties had production. Crude oil and natural gas production in America employs 310,019 people of which 118,125 are in the State of Texas. The total value of crude oil, natural gas liquids, and natural gas in 1958 was $9,303,962,000, of which more than one-third was produced in Texas. Hard work and science have gone hand in hand in building our domestic oil industry and will continue to do so in the second century. In an earlier day, the gas from a producing well was a waste product. It is now a $21.5 billion business and it is the nation's fifth largest industry.

We have learned that this great natural resource must be used wisely and conserved for future generations. We know that new reserves must be constantly sought and the industry has implemented this search continually, so that as of January 1, 1959, there were 36,739,935,000 barrels of proved liquid petroleum reserves in the United States.

To me, the story of the first hundred years of domestic oil production in this country is a splendid example of the solidity and challenge of our free enterprise system. It is a story sprinkled with millionaires and paupers, heartbreak and joy, and with generous splashes of color, but it is the story of what ingenuity, hard work, and the rewards therefrom can mean to our democracy. There are many who would deny some of the magnificent contributions which our democracy has derived from the fact and example of the oil industry and would take advantage of every opportunity to discredit and curb its accomplishments. Some inroads have been made in this direction, but it is my earnest hope that we can prevent further encroachments.

The man who wastes today worrying about tomorrow will waste tomorrow worrying about the next day.

GEORGE'S WIFE
 By "Sarah"

There are so many reminders of our heritage being printed lately. We refer to the speech given by Mrs. Edgar Ryerson Riggs of Graham, the occasion was the meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution during Constitution week. The 17th of Sept. was the 172nd anniversary of that great day. It slipped our minds, as usual.

Mrs. Riggs says, the framers of our constitution brought with them to America strong convictions concerning man's God-given right to Freedom. This spiritual concept that man is a creature of God with inalienable rights given by his Creator, is as ideal that has grown and flourished in America, and remains the most dynamic political doctrine in the world today.

We all know this to be true, and the gap between precept and practice is all that stands in the way of this land of our remaining the nation our forefathers envisioned it to be, both then, now and ever more.

The Bible, our constitution and all our historical documents are not something just handed down to us, each generation must do their part to preserve them.

George says it all reminds him of the signs of our times, that his Grandma wouldn't think of baking a cake without all the ingredients on hand that the recipe called for. Now days we run into the super-market buy a package cake-mix, add a little water and expect never to be found out.

Monday, October 26, on geese only, according to the director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

The daily bag limit on geese is five (5); provided such limit shall not contain more than (a) two (2) Canada geese or its subspecies, or (b) one (1) Canada goose and one (2) white-fronted geese. Possession limit is one (1) day's kill.

The duck season will officially open November 13, when shooting will begin at 12 o'clock noon. After the first day, shooting will be permitted from sunrise to sunset.

The mourning dove season, which opened in the North Texas zone September 1, closed on October 20. The mourning dove season in South Texas will not close until November 19, except in counties in the Rio Grande Valley, having a three-day white-wing hunt, where the season will close on November 16. During this hunt mourning doves could be killed also.

The season closed on rails and gallinules October 20. The woodcock season is from December 7 to January 15, and the snipe season is December 3 to January 1.

There has been a heavy movement of both ducks and geese across Texas for several days, according to the director. Some good concentrations are reported in areas both in the Red River Valley and along the Texas coast.

JUNIOR COLLEGE OFFICERS ELECTED

In recent class and school elections, Clarendon Junior College students elected officers to lead their activities for the 1959-1960 school year.

Miss Pat Spurgeon, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Spurgeon and a graduate of Clarendon High School in the spring exercise was honored by being elected to a post in the Student Government of the entire student body as a Freshman. She was the student body's choice as treasurer.

Rice from Quitaque, President; L. B. Phelan from Lelia Lake, Vice-President; and Ronald Cummings from Quail, Secretary and Treasurer. Freshman Officers elected were Carroll Nunnally of Wellington, President; Madison Wilmoth of Claude, Vice-President; and Alice Johnson of Quail, Secretary and Treasurer.

The three officers of the two classes and the four student body officers make up the student Government Association which is the college organization serving the student body and school in the same capacity as the Student Council in High School.

All of the above officers were high school leaders in their classes and extra curricular organizations, and the Dean sees possibilities of unusual progress in school spirit, morale, and activity.

WATCH FOR PRUSSIC ACID AFTER FROST

College Station — Johnson-grass or sorghum after a frost is sometimes extremely high in prussic acid content and is very dangerous to livestock, warns Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian.

Certain chemical changes sometimes occur in the plant and it develops a content of prussic acid, or hydrocyanic acid when wilted by frost or drouth, he explains. The poison acts quickly and can kill an animal within a short time after the damaged plant is eaten.

An appearance of nervousness, difficult breathing and difficulty in standing are symptoms of the poisoning. Whether a poisoned animal can be saved depends upon how quickly a veterinarian can get to it. Treatment involves injecting antidotes directly into the blood stream.

Young plants will develop more prussic acid after frost or drouth than those approaching maturity, points out the veterinarian. Their leaves will contain from 3 to 25 times more acid than leaves of plants in the boot stage. Also, upper, younger leaves will contain more acid than lower leaves.

Dr. Patterson cautions against grazing frosted Johnsongrass or sorghum before it is completely dry. If Johnsongrass or sorghum is ready to cut for hay before a frost, it may be cut the first day after the frost, if care is taken to see that it is completely cured before baling.

It may also be used for silage, he adds. Generally, enough prussic acid is lost in gaseous form during the ensiling process and as the silage is removed and fed to make it safe for livestock. However, animals shouldn't be allowed to self-feed from a silo filled with frosted sudan or sorghum. If the silage is questionable it should be chemically tested by a local veterinarian or by letting one or two inferior animals eat it.

SOIL TESTS BEST FOR DETERMINING LIME NEEDS

College Station — The application of limestone is a practice which may need repeating, with the frequency of application depending on several factors, according to Dr. W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist. For example, soil texture is a very important item. More frequent lime applications are required to maintain proper acidity levels in sandy soils than in clay soils. On extremely sandy soils, it might be desirable to apply a small amount of limestone every year.

On sandy loam soils with a fine textured subsoil, one ton per acre every two to three years should be sufficient, however, on sandy loam soils with a sandy subsoil, one ton per acre every two years probably would be needed. On an acid clay type soil, two to four tons per acre might be needed only every three to four years, notes the chemist.

The type of crop which is grown will also influence the frequency with which lime is applied. Lime loving crops should probably have limestone applied more often than non-leguminous crops.

Limestone should be considered as a long term investment. It is one which will return dividends over a period of years. Keep in mind that lime has a value for subsequent crops in addition to its beneficial effect on the crop grown immediately following this application.

Bennett emphasizes, however, that you should not guess as to how often to apply lime. The simplest and most reliable method to determine lime requirement for your soil is by having a soil test made every two to three years.

According to National Petroleum News, gasoline demand is expected to rise again in 1960. But with the forecast that two out of every seven cars sold will be the smaller ones, oil marketers will have to wait to see how big the gain will be.

ARMY ANNOUNCES ENLISTMENT PROGRAM

Placing the right man in the right job is the intent of the new "Vocational Training Plan," which is available to Regular Army enlistees. The plan was announced by SFC Robert "Bob" Wilcox, local army recruiter today.

Under the Army "Vocational Training Enlistment Plan" individuals will be qualified through the medium of a battery of tests at the U.S. Army Recruiting Main Station, located in Amarillo, and a vocational field within his occupational aptitude area may be selected by the individual.

In effect, this is a choose-yourself vocational training system. The individual can choose the exact vocational training field in which he likes to receive training PRIOR TO ENLISTMENT.

Qualified men are guaranteed either schooling or on-the-job training in one of the more than 60 fields open to their choice. This choice is guaranteed on their enlistment records at the time of enlistment.

For example, a man who is interested in learning photography as a trade could enlist for the pictorial field. After completing Basic training, he is assured an assignment to advanced training in photography either at a service school or by on-the-job training. Thereafter he may be assigned as a photography helper, a photographer, an audio specialist, a photo laboratory specialist, a television cameraman, a film library specialist or a television production specialist.

All of these jobs falling in the pictorial field. Other options may also be granted individuals enlisting for the "Vocational Training Program." Such as Airborne, Overseas assignments, and enlisting for certain Army Units.

Many of the vocational fields are also open to young ladies in the Womens Army Corp. The same high standards that are required for the men are also required for the ladies.

Details on each of the career fields are described in the catalog "Army Occupations and You" which Sgt. Wilcox has available for your convenience. The catalog summarizes the duties and responsibilities of each career field, lists the necessary qualifications for applicants, shows the training which will be given, and the related civilian jobs for which the individual will become qualified.

Local counselor for applicants under the vocational training program is SFC "Bob" Wilcox the local Army Recruiter who may be seen on the 1st and 4th Mondays of each month between the at the Donley County Sheriff's hours of 10:30 and 1:00 o'clock office. He has complete information on this and other Regular Army Enlistment options that are available to interested parties without obligation.

FACTS AND A QUESTION

Tax Foundation reports that more major tax changes, 111 in number, have been made by the states which held legislative sessions this year than in any year in postwar history.

Needless to say, the great majority of the changes — 87 — involved tax increases. An additional 12 involved the imposition of new taxes. There were, by way of contrast, just five tax reductions and just one repeal of a tax.

The tax increases ran a considerable gamut — corporate and personal income, general sales, gasoline, tobacco and liquor. Looking at the matter money-wise, the Foundation says that governors in 31 states proposed tax increases totaling almost $1.5 billion in their messages to 1959 legislatures.

Well, so much for the facts. The question now is — what are the American people, who ultimately have the last word, going to do about it?

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Estlack Thursday evening were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Beach and Mrs. Julia Harris of Loveland, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Longan, Mrs. Forest Clyde and children, and Mrs. Ethel Robinson, all of Pampa, and Mrs. Edith Longan of Clarendon.

Men still die with their boots on — But usually one boot is on the accelerator.

FARM CAPITAL SHOULD GIVE FAIR RETURN
College Station — How is your farm and ranch business doing? Here are some ideas from Tom E. Prater, extension farm management specialist, which may help you determine where you stand.

Recent research indicates that one item often overlooked by farmers and ranchers is the allocation of a charge for the money tied up in capital investment. Prater says you should consider the fact that money is worth money and that the capital investment in your farm or ranch operation should be earning you as fair a return as a person owning property or an investor, and that you should make a fair charge for the capital.

One way to determine this is to charge interest on the money tied up on your operation and compare it with the interest return you would receive from United States Savings Bonds, stocks, other bonds or other business opportunities. Consideration should also be given the risk factor.

Another way to figure interest in land investments is to charge a fair rental price to yourself for using your land.

Prater adds that these charges will give you a guide for determining whether or not you are getting the most for your money.

Memo to the community's elder citizens:

The Hospital Board considers it important to point out the privilege of persons over age 65 to apply for Blue Cross-Blue Shield coverage during this month only.

There are no salesmen and each person has to apply on his own initiative. Acceptance is based on eligibility on the same basis as persons under 65.

The hospital has a limited supply of enrollment cards and the business office will gladly assist interested applicants in completing the required forms for mailing to Dallas.

The frightening expense of serious illness and prolonged hospitalization is a real problem to most families. The broad plans offered by Blue Cross-Blue Shield provide an easy solution to applicants who qualify and maintain this coverage.

Bronchos Take

halfback, Danny Wileman, took the kick-off on his own 25 yard line and raced 75 yards for the touchdown. Their conversion attempt was no good and the Bronchos still held at 8 to 6 lead.

Following the Pirate touchdown, the Bronchos took the kickoff and from their own 15 yard line, drove 85 yards in 17 plays for their second score. Carter hit Don Hudgins in the end zone from five yards out for the score. This time, Jim Robinson ran the extra points to put the Bronchos ahead, 16 to 6. The key play of this drive was a 29-yard pass play, Carter to Mann.

The last score came early in the third quarter. The Bronchos recovered a Pirate fumble on their own 45 yard line and in four plays had a touchdown. From the Lefors 35 yard line, Carter faked back and hit Mann with a pass on the Pirate five yard line and the gritty Broncho halfback fought his way into the end zone with two Pirates hanging on for the score. This time, Carter attempted the conversion but was stopped short and the scoring was over for the night.

The Bronchos soundly outplayed the Pirates in every department. They picked up 15 first downs to 10 for the visitors and gained 167 yards rushing to 118 for the Pirates. They hit on five of nine passing attempts for 129 yards while the Pirates were connecting on two of nine attempts for 30 yards. Total yards from scrimmage was 296 for the Bronchos to 148 for the Pirates.

The Broncho offensive attack was paced by Carter, Mann, Wilson, and Robinson while these four boys along with Philip Abel, Jerry Gray, Lynn Spier, Bill Hermesmeier, Don Hudgins, Leon Gibbs, Charles Percival and Dennis Bradshaw did outstanding work on defense. Wilson injured his leg when he crashed into the Lefors players bench but the coaches feel that he will be all right soon.

BOND SALES LAGGING IN DONLEY COUNTY

Mr. Bill Lane, Chairman of the Donley County Savings Bonds Committee announced today that Savings Bonds sales for September totaled $2,851. "Sales for the first nine months of 1959 were $37,388 or 26.7% of the yearly goal," Lane said.

E and H bond sales in Texas amounted to $115,170,663 during the first nine months of this year. This figure represents 63% of the yearly sales goal.

"The new improved interest rates on E and H bonds will aid thousands of Americans who are already buying savings bonds and will help induce others to purchase the new 'best ever' Savings Bond," Mr. Lane pointed out. "All bonds purchased since June 1 of this year now earn an attractive 3-3/4% interest when held to maturity and old bonds earn at least 1 1/2% more than before. Considering the safety, ease of purchase and the new attractive interest rates, savings bonds are truly the 'best buy ever,'" Chairman Lane concluded.

Miss Thyra Haley of Amarillo spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. Salie Haley.

C. T. Williams has returned home after a visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Davis Williams of Stephenville.

CHECK SPENDTHRIFT PUBLIC SERVANTS

Anyone who reads the newspapers knows that since 1950, to go back no farther, the Federal government has chalked up the following annual deficits — $3.1 billion, $4 billion, $9.4 billion, $3.1 billion, $4.2 billion, $2.8 billion, and last but not least, $12.9 billion. On top of this the Federal debt stands at $290 billion.

U.S. Treasury's lowest outstanding coupon rate on old bonds is 2-1/8 per cent, but today the government cannot borrow any money on long term bonds at 4-1/4 per cent. Just as an individual's credit goes down, when he continually spends beyond his income and borrows more and more, so does the government's credit go down — as well as the value of the dollar.

In the face of such a situation, Congress has given lip service to economy, but spends money like a drunken sailor in an attempt to curry public favor by the old pork barrel route — something "free" for every body.

The voters have no chance to register their approval or disapproval of the actions of the Congress, as they have in some states through initiative and referendum petitions. The only recourse they have against spendthrift public servants is to remember their names and replace them when opportunity offers at elections.

The people must take a hand in checking waste and extravagances by legislative bodies, both state and national. If they fail to do so, taxes debt and inflation will destroy their life savings and displace freedom with socialism.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Vines and family of Logan, N. M., spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Robertson.

BLOWIN' Out the CORNERS
by Uncle Zeb

Along about this time each year for the last four we have been lucky enough to be invited to the annual banquet of the

Pampa Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development, and what a wonderful treat this occasion always turns out to be for the wife and myself.

One just can't beat the friendliness and hospitality of the local folks as they act as hosts and hostesses to the friends who are invited as representatives from the neighboring towns. When you hang your hat in the lobby and enjoy the good time with the friendly folks of the Top-O-Texas you will long remember the occasion.

Always they have a good speaker and this year's selection, that of Dr. Carl C. Byers of Parma, Ohio, was one of the best. His subject Team Work for Living hit the nail squarely on the head both in suggestions for building a town and also in developing a worthwhile life.

Dr. Byers gives a recipe for learning to be a famous after dinner speaker. One should fill his mouth with marbles and after each practice of an hour, get rid of one marble. After you have "lost all your marbles," you have it made.

He also tells us that we have spent much time on outer space, now we need to spend some time on our inner space; that inside our breast.

Dr. Byers says that our greatest need is for a lot of optimists. He explains it that if Edison had been a pessimist we would all be watching television by coal oil lamps.

Thanks to all you nice neighbors over Pampa way for a good time.

Even, in the old states where the land had almost been abandoned, now we see priceless herds of cattle grazing on what once was almost worthless soil. All this because man has awakened to the value of the Soil.

It is supposed to take thousands of years to create one inch of soil. It is possible to save that much in one wind storm or washing rain. We congratulate all the many departments who give of their time and thinking to this wonderful work. It has more rewards than just the pay one receives in money.

It was the wise old Indian who once said; "When God made the world he put the soil on the bottom and the grass on top. Man decided to change this and put the grass on the bottom and the soil on top. This made God mad so He caused the wind to blow the soil around. Then man changed his mind and began putting the grass back on top again."

This was his explanation of the dust storms and the soil conservation programs . . . A pretty good one it is . . .

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To Any Sheriff or Any Constable Within the State of Texas — Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to cause to be published once each week for four consecutive weeks, the first publication to be at least twenty-eight days before the return date thereof, in a newspaper printed in Donley County, Texas, the accompanying citation of which the herein below following is a true copy.

The State of Texas
To: JAMES D. MOODY, Defendant, Greeting:
You are Hereby Commanded to appear before the Honorable District Court, 100th Judicial District of Donley County at the Courthouse thereof, in Clarendon, Texas, by filing a written answer at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 23rd day of November, A.D. 1959, to Plaintiff's Petition filed in said court, on the 14th day of September, 1959, in this cause, numbered 2993, on the docket of said court and styled Sara Lee McNally Moody, Plaintiff, vs. James D. Moody, Defendant.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit:

Plaintiff is suing for divorce from the said Defendant on the grounds that the Defendant was guilty of excesses, cruel treatment and outrages toward the Plaintiff, and was ill treatment of such a nature as to render their further living together as husband and wife insupportable, and in addition thereto the Plaintiff is asking for the restoration of her prior name to Sara Lee McNally.

DOYLE FOWLER
OPERATOR & INSTRUCTOR

The Soil is just about the greatest single heritage that God gave to man for his good. We find gold in the mountains and streams, and oil in many places but all this comes with a boom and leaves with a bust. Not so with the soil; in all lands it is our food and the foundation of our life and economy.

One of the greatest accomplishments in the last half a century has been our learning to take care of our soil. In the last few years that has been a very favored program all over our country, and we think great strides have been accomplished.

"Children have more need of models than of critics." — Joubert. The above is just as true today as it was long ago when Mr. Joubert lived. It is extremely unusual to find a delinquent child who did not have for his model a bad parent. One follows the other almost as surely as night follows the day.

We even have the Word from the Bible telling us that if we will: "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it." The above may not be the exact wording but we believe that even though children may, like the prodigal son drift around a bit, they will come back to this good training sooner or later; many, so very many, will never stray far from it at all.

We need to show our children, not just tell them. We need to take them good places not send them. We need to put the job of raising children on the head of our list. It is the greatest and most rewarding task to which we can be assigned. Along this line we are reminded of the following story:

A rancher was feeding his cattle when he was attracted to one little calf who refused to eat. Herding it near the feed he urged: "You had better get to eatin' or you will be a cut-back come this fall." That night when little Johnnie refused to eat and when mother was trying to urge him, the rancher snorted, "Let him alone, if he gets hungry enough he'll eat alright."

So, many times we forget that no investment we can make could give the return for our efforts as that spent upon the bringing up of our children.

With grain harvest about over, this is the time to be thinking about how to manage the residues from these crops. In almost every case, there is enough residue left from these crops to protect the soil through the winter. There are several alternatives available to use to get good crop residue management. One would be to just leave the stubble standing undisturbed through the winter. Very little moisture is lost this way, as it is through listing. Also, you don't have the added expense of plowing. Another good way to use crop residues is to very lightly disc them in, but leaving enough on top to protect the soil. The discing would be to prevent the leaves from blowing away. It is very important to leave an adequate amount on top, though, to keep the land from blowing.

However you go about the job, there are two main points to remember.

1. Always leave enough on top to prevent erosion.
2. Residues are valuable. Burning, grazing them all off, or baling them is a very costly practice. Not only does it leave the land subject to erosion, but the residues represent a large amount of plant food for the next crop. Soil Conservation Service technicians assisting the Donley

AUSTIN — Though it hasn't any Los Angeles-type smog or London "pea soupers," Texas, in common with most of the civilized world, has "dirty air" problems.

Industrial smoke, automobile exhaust, incinerators — even

County Soil Conservation District are trained in proper management of crop residues. They can help you estimate the amount of residues you have and give you some tips on how to manage it so you will have plenty of protection all winter.

Charles A. Williams has recently completed a cross fence on his place north of Hedley. The fence will help him to better manage his grass. Also, it will protect some acreage he plans to control the brush on.

A. D. Hendrix has completed his livestock water storage facility. Cost was shared by the Great Plains Conservation Program.

Rhode and Gould have become new Soil Conservation District Cooperators on their two-section farm north of Lelia Lake. They have planned their complete conservation program. Don Altman is operator of the farm.

Horace Green is a new district cooperater. Some of the practices Green plans to apply are grass-seeding, waterway construction, diversion construction, cover crops, and proper management of irrigation water.

Fred A. Watt has completed a conservation plan on his place north of Hedley. He plans to apply brush control, range seeding, and proper range use.

small town cotton gins — are among the factors that pollute Texas air.

State Health Department is using the approach of Cleaner Air Week, October 25-31, to remind Texans of the importance of the air they breathe. During one day, a person must breathe 30 to 35 pounds — or a whole roomful — of fresh air.

Texas by no means has the problems of cities like London where in 1952 several thousand died during a period of excessive air pollution. But, says the Department "the problem is already present and growing in areas where no action is being taken."

Every citizen can help, says the Bulletin. Improper heating appliances in homes give off tons of uncombusted material and burning of leaves and trash in the back yard adds irritating agents to the air.

If you are especially interested in the problem, the Bulletin suggests you contact your local health department which will advise you where the air pollution abatement group in your area meets.

HOW MUCH TIDELANDS? — Texans now await a decision by the U.S. Supreme Court on how much of its tidelands the state owns.

U.S. attorney general claims the state owns a strip only three miles out from the coast. Texas officials say it is three leagues, or 10 1/2 miles.

That Texas owns some tidelands was established by a 1953 act of Congress giving states control of their submerged lands to their "historic boundaries."

Gov. Price Daniel and Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson argued before the high court that a historic boundary of three leagues had been established in the days of the Texas Republic and was agreed to by the U.S.

Opposing federal argument is that the U.S. has insisted on a three-mile limit for all countries for many years as a matter of "national policy."

Texas' oil-bearing tidelands, particularly those further out, are believed to be worth many millions in revenue for the state public school fund.

STRAWS IN THE WIND — Indications keep piling up that a special Legislative session to raise teacher pay and a third-term race by Governor Daniel are strong possibilities.

Letters favoring the teacher pay session are greatly increasing, according to the governor's office. A representative of the Texas State Teachers Association said teachers are not "cooling off" in their drive and are not planning to wait until 1961. Several union labor groups have endorsed teacher raises and offered to help in the drive.

A recent State Democratic Executive Committee newsletter notes Daniel's popularity in polls and quoted him as planning "to keep the door open."

Which probably means the governor will keep the political pot in simmering suspense until very near the Feb. 1 filing deadline.

FIRST WATER LOAN — Texas Water Development Board has made its first loan under the $200,000,000 program passed by the Legislature in 1957.

Lower Nueces River Water Supply District received $3,000,000 which will be used to complete the $21,000,000 Wesley Seale Dam.

Under the program, the Development Board sells bonds and loans money to local governments to pay part of the cost of water conservation projects. Program is self-liquidating. Board is presently paying 3.56 per cent interest on the bonds and charging 4.06 per cent on loans.

White River Municipal Water

District in West Texas is expected to receive the next loan. It is seeking aid for a $4,000,000 project to supply water to Crosbyton, Post, Ralls and Spur.

SCHOOL SUPPORT PROBLEM — Gaining public support for schools will hinge on how well schools adapt to new demands, State Commissioner of Education J. W. Edgar warned school leaders.

Dr. Edgar told the Texas Association of School Boards of new curriculum changes, including beefed-up high school mathematics courses, now being tested in Texas schools.

School board members noted that, despite the hue and cry for better schools, a winning football team still gets more public support than anything else.

EDUCATION EXPANSION STUDIED — Whether the University of Houston should be brought into the University of Texas system is under state study.

Texas' Commission on Higher Education ordered staff study of the question directed to it by a resolution passed this year by the Legislature. At present the University of Houston is a private institution that receives state aid only for the first two years of its four-year program.

Houston proponents of the plan claim there is an increasing need for making college education available in Houston for that city's ever growing numbers of high school graduates. It is estimated Houston high schools will be graduating 15,000 students a year by 1975.

Commission Director Ralph Green has noted, however, that there is some "public alarm" over the expansion of public education and the shrinking of private education. He said the staff study would be completed by the latter part of 1960.

San Angelo citizens, meanwhile, have started activity toward getting San Angelo College admitted into the state's circle of fully supported state institutions. A visit to the institution has been scheduled for Green and Sen. Dorsey Hardeman, in whose district the college is located, for next month.

COLLEGES PAYING MORE — Texas' 18 state-supported colleges are paying an average of $433 a year more to its teachers this year than last. Their salaries for teachers now average $6,320, according to the Commission on Higher Education.

Commission Director Ralph Green said the pay levels are now 30.5 per cent higher than the average five years ago.

Widest range of salaries is at the University of Texas. Top pay there is 16,000 for nine months, $10,392 average for full professors, $4,551 average for instructors.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT
 By Congressman Walter Rogers

OIL CENTENNIAL

When we consider the size, scope, and contribution of the oil industry today, it is difficult to realize it is only one hundred years old. It was, however, born on that August day in 1859 when Colonel Drake drilled down sixty-nine and one-half feet near Titusville, Pennsylvania, and found the first barrel of oil produced in America. A great deal has already been said about this historical event, and rightfully so, since it fostered the gigantic industry which provides much of the energy that has contributed to our economy and our standard of living. Since the State of Texas produces some forty percent of all domestic petroleum liquids in the United States, it is doubly fitting that we join in paying tribute this Hundredth Anniversary year.

It is interesting to note some of the facts and events of this first hundred years. Of the 1,729,708 wells drilled for oil and gas up to January 1, 1959, 27.3 percent of them turned out to be dry holes. The State of Texas, with 443,827 drillings, experienced a higher percentage of dry holes with 140,450 or 31.7 percent. Incidentally, the deepest well ever drilled, 25,340 feet, was in Texas and was a dry hole.

During 1859, the first year of domestic production, 2,000 barrels of crude oil were produced, as compared to 2,617,283,000 barrels in 1956. Of the 574,515 producing wells in the United States at the end of 1958, 179,678 of them were in Texas.

As of December 31, 1958, 31 of the 48 States had oil and/or gas production, and 210 of Texas' 254 counties had production. Crude oil and natural gas production in America employs 310,019 people of which 118,125 are in the State of Texas. The total value of crude oil, natural gas liquids, and natural gas in 1958 was $9,303,962,000, of which more than one-third was produced in Texas.

Hard work and science have gone hand in hand in building our domestic oil industry and will continue to do so in the second century. In an earlier day, the gas from a producing well was a waste product. It is now a $21.5 billion business and it is the nation's fifth largest industry.

We have learned that this great natural resource must be used wisely and conserved for future generations. We know that new reserves must be constantly sought and the industry has implemented this search continually, so that as of January 1, 1959, there were 36,739,935,000 barrels of proved liquid petroleum reserves in the United States.

To me, the story of the first hundred years of domestic oil production in this country is a splendid example of the solidity and challenge of our free enterprise system. It is a story sprinkled with millionaires and paupers, heartbreak and joy, and with generous splashes of color, but it is the story of what ingenuity, hard work, and the rewards therefrom can mean to our democracy. There are many who would deny some of the magnificent contributions which our democracy has derived from the fact and example of the oil industry and would take advantage of every opportunity to discredit and curb its accomplishments. Some inroads have been made in this direction, but it is my earnest hope that we can prevent further encroachments.

The man who wastes today worrying about tomorrow will waste tomorrow worrying about the next day.

GEORGE'S WIFE

By "Sarah"

There are so many reminders of our heritage being printed lately. We refer to the speech given by Mrs. Edgar Ryerson Riggs of Graham, the occasion was the meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution during Constitution week. The 17th of Sept. was the 172nd anniversary of that great day. It slipped our minds as usual.

Mrs. Riggs says, the framers of our constitution brought with them to America strong convictions concerning man's God-given right to Freedom. This spiritual concept that man is a creature of God with inalienable rights given by his Creator, is as ideal that has grown and flourished in America, and remains the most dynamic political doctrine in the world today.

We all know this to be true, and the gap between precept and practice is all that stands in the way of this land of our remaining the nation our forefathers envisioned it to be, then, now and ever more.

The Bible, our constitution and all our historical documents are not something just handed down to us, each generation must do their part to preserve them.

George says it all reminds him of the signs of our times, that his Grandma wouldn't think of baking a cake without all the ingredients on hand that the recipe called for. Now days we run into the super-market buy a package cake-mix, add a little water and expect never to be found out.

Monday, October 26, on geese only, according to the director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

The daily bag limit on geese is five (5); provided such limit shall not contain more than (a) two (2) Canada geese or its subspecies, or (b) one (1) Canada goose and one (2) white-fronted geese. Possession limit is one (1) day's kill.

The duck season will officially open November 13, when shooting will begin at 12 o'clock noon. After the first day, shooting will be permitted from sunrise to sunset.

The mourning dove season, which opened in the North Texas zone September 1, closed on October 20. The mourning dove season in South Texas will not close until November 19, except in counties in the Rio Grande Valley, having a three-day white-wing hunt, where the season will close on November 16. During this hunt mourning doves could be killed also.

The season closed on rails and gallinules October 20. The woodcock season is from December 7 to January 15, and the snipe season is December 3 to January 1.

There has been a heavy movement of both ducks and geese across Texas for several days, according to the director. Some good concentrations are reported in areas both in the Red River Valley and along the Texas coast.

JUNIOR COLLEGE OFFICERS ELECTED

In recent class and school elections, Clarendon Junior College students elected officers to lead their activities for the 1959-1960 school year.

Miss Pat Spurgeon, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Spurgeon and a graduate of Clarendon High School in the spring exercise was honored by being elected to a post in the Student Government of the entire student body as a Freshman. She was the student body's choice as treasurer.

Other officers elected were as follows: H. D. Yarbrough Sophomore from Claude, President; Marvin Young Sophomore from Bovina, Vice-President; and Mrs. Nettie Humphreys, Freshman from Ron, Oklahoma, Secretary. Officers elected for the Sophomore Class were Jarrell (Pete)

Rice from Quitaque, President; L. B. Phelan from Le.ia Lake, Vice-President; and Ronald Cummings from Quail, Secretary and Treasurer. Freshman Officers elected were Carroll Nunnally of Wellington, President; Madison Wilmoth of Claude, Vice-President; and Alice Johnson of Quail, Secretary and Treasurer.

The three officers of the two classes and the four student body officers make up the student Government Association which is the college organization serving the student body and school in the same capacity as the Student Council in High School.

All of the above officers were high school leaders in their classes and extra curricular organizations, and the Dean sees possibilities of unusual progress in school spirit, morale, and activity.

WATCH FOR PRUSSIC ACID AFTER FROST

College Station — Johnsongrass or sorghum after a frost is sometimes extremely high in prussic acid content and is very dangerous to livestock, warns Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian.

Certain chemical changes sometimes occur in the plant and it develops a content of prussic acid, or hydrocyanic acid when wilted by frost or drouth, he explains. The poison acts quickly and can kill an animal within a short time after the damaged plant is eaten.

An appearance of nervousness, difficult breathing and difficulty in standing are symptoms of the poisoning. Whether a poisoned animal can be saved depends upon how quickly a veterinarian can get to it. Treatment involves injecting antidotes directly into the blood stream.

Young plants will develop more prussic acid after frost or drouth than those approaching maturity, points out the veterinarian. Their leaves will contain from 3 to 25 times more acid than leaves of plants in the boot stage. Also, upper, younger leaves will contain more acid than lower leaves.

Dr. Patterson cautions against grazing frosted Johnsongrass or sorghum before it is completely dry. If Johnsongrass or sorghum is ready to cut for hay before a frost, it may be cut the first day after the frost, if care is taken to see that it is completely cured before baling.

It may also be used for silage, he adds. Generally, enough prussic acid is lost in gaseous form during the ensiling process and as the silage is removed and fed to make it safe for livestock. However, animals shouldn't be allowed to self-feed from a silo filled with frosted sudan or sorghum. If the silage is questionable it should be chemically tested by a local veterinarian or by letting one or two inferior animals eat it.
