Your Army in Space

MARTIANS BEWARE—Should interplanetary warfare ever become a reality, the American Space Soldier sent against the other world would probably look something like this. While improving its personal clothing and equipment for today's modern forces, the Army also has its eye on the future. Pictured here are some prototypes that have already proven practicable. Note the 2-way radio helmet for control of troops in attack, the infra-red binoculars to see clearly at night or in the blackness of outer space, the thermal mask and gloves for protection against the deadly heat of atomic blast or space radiation, the armored vest and groin armor to deflect fragments, and the new M-14 rifle which is fitted to a miniature machine gun. Not shown, but under consideration are the new one-piece welded shoes that reduce absorption of radioactive particles on the ground.

Red Check Notice Appears This Week

Due to various reasons we failed to get around to putting the little red check mark on past due or currently due subscriptions last month. We don't want you to feel disappointed and the red check mark will appear this week if your subscription is delinquent or currently due.

We do wish to point out that if your subscription is over a month past due, it will be wise to come in and renew or make proper arrangements as all subscriptions bearing a date prior to 6-59 will be removed from our list this week end and you will fail to receive your next issue of the leader. The first numeral to the right of your name stamped on the Leader designates the month and the last figure the year so it is easy for you to see the exact expiration date of your subscription. If we should make an error in renewing your subscription at any time, please notify us right away so the correction can be handled with less confusion.

It is necessary that we keep our subscription list current due to postal regulations, high cost of newsprint and high operating cost. The subscription price is $3 for Donley County and $3.50 for the area beyond Donley County. Those living beyond Donley County, sending in only $3.00 will be credited only for that amount instead of a full year. Please let us have your renewal promptly.

St. Mary's Church Is Made Parish Church

The local St. Mary's Catholic Church-Shrine to Our Lady of the Panhandle has been made a parish church by the Bishop of Amarillo. There will be a local priest living here who will offer daily Masses every morning. The Rev. B. Besterci will become the first resident priest since 1910. In that year the Clarendon Convent and Parochial school was moved to Amarillo and the church reduced to a Mission. Father Erasmus, who was pastor at the time, left in June 1910. On June 3rd of that year he acted as spiritual advisor to G. R. Miller who was hanged here for the murder of Floyd Autrey. It was the last public service extended by the priest who appeared on the scaffold.

A priest home with six rooms is to be furnished at once and Father Besterci will move in as the first resident priest in 50 years. He will build a Mission Church at Memphis where he will offer masses every Sunday. The local church is the mother church of the Panhandle and is the oldest one in a large region of West Texas. The church was established here in 1890 and at that time the Amarillo Church was its mission.

Hundreds Meet With City Tax Equalization Board; County Withdraws All Tax Raises

A stranger passing by the City Hall Monday and Tuesday would have thought a real hot election was in process with the multitude of City property owners climbing the stairs to meet with the City Tax Equalization board.

Some time ago, the City and County jointly signed a contract with the McMorris Tax Evaluation Firm in Amarillo to come in and equalize the value of property within the boundary of the city of Clarendon.

Several days ago, this firm mailed out letters to a large number of property owners informing them that they could meet with the Tax Equalization board and show why their taxes should not be raised to the figure stated in the letter. These letters stirred up a hornets nest. Property owners became very angry and talk of circulating petitions to halt the entire set-up were being talked.

From what we can learn, some vacant lots valued at 50 and 100 dollars were raised to as much as 900 dollars. One of the Equalization Board members stated that many of the errors in this category were made through misunderstanding with the evaluation firm; that the board was figuring in terms of blocks and the tax firm was using the same figure for individual lots. Numerous errors were made in the figuring after the board had their final meeting with the men from the evaluation firm, he added.

A majority of those appearing before the board were satisfied with the adjustments that were made due to errors although some were still unhappy with the method of figuring the valuation of homes and other property.

The Amarillo firm was hired in an effort to equalize our taxes and not raise them beyond reason, stated one city official.

The information prepared by the evaluation firm was reviewed with the equalization board. The entire matter was left up to the equalization board as required by law and was clear out of the hands of City officials, he added. Members of the City Equalization board were Odos Caraway, Cap Morris and George Benson.

The County Commissioners Court, in order to save money, had agreed to use the same evaluation figures prepared for the city and similar letters were mailed for the county and property owners were to appear before the commissioners court, sitting as a board of equalization Wednesday morning. Upon learning of the mess that had been mailed out and the furor that it had caused at the City Hall, a special meeting of the Commissioners Court was called early Tuesday morning to handle the situation. The Court decided to throw in the sponge, leave all valuations as they were previously listed and canceled the meeting of the board of equalization.

If you received a letter from the county showing a raise in valuation, throw it in the waste basket and forget it, one commissioner stated.

FALLOUT SHELTERS are the best way for rural Americans to protect themselves from a massive nuclear attack which could unleash dangerous radioactive fallout throughout the country. Some shelters recommended by the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization are not as elaborate as this one, which includes an auxiliary generator and an electric air filtering and ventilating system. However, all recommended shelters should include the basic features shown here—a place to sleep; food, water and medical supplies, and at least eight inches of concrete or an equal weight of other materials for shielding the shelter against fallout. GRASSROOTS OPINION

Chestertown, Maryland, News: "The competitive enterprise economy in the United States, which has brought us the highest standard of living of any country in the world, depends in large part on capital from invested savings. Inflation, especially in its later stages, strikes at capitalism by discouraging savings. If long continued, it results in capital shortages which will reduce productivity."

Essentially, science is measurement. Measurement provides data to show the interaction of various physical factors and to enable scientists to define this interaction according to mathematical laws. Measurement also enables scientists to identify and characterize the various elements of matter in the universe. And measurement enables scientists to gain exact knowledge about the mechanism of physical changes which take place in chemical reactions and radioactive changes, and similar occurrences.

LAX PARENTAL CARE GREAT CHILD PROBLEM

Almost two-thirds of the responses from newspaper readers in Texas expressed the belief that the greatest problem of children is lack of parental care, guidance and discipline.

Governor Price Daniel announced this today in disclosing first results of a state-wide newspaper public opinion poll conducted by the Governor's Committee for the 1960 White House Conference on Children and Youth.

The Committee had requested readers to send their opinions on the ten greatest problems facing Texas children and youth, and most newspapers printed the poll as a public service.

A tabulation of the first 1,000 replies to the poll revealed that 63 per cent considered lack of parental care and guidance the top problem. Three-fifths of this group specifically cited lax parental control, while two-fifths cited lack of spiritual training and church attendance.

Dr. Guy Newman of Brownwood, chairman of the Governor's Committee, presented results of the poll to the Governor.

Under problems relating to parental care and guidance, specific complaints most often repeated were lack of spiritual training; poor church attendance; poor parental examples; not giving child enough responsibility; lack of discipline and obedience to parents; lack of family unity and teamwork; lack of parental responsibility; too much freedom with cars; lack of teaching respect to others.

Other problems mentioned in order of frequency were:

Lack of educational opportunities, 10 per cent; too much time and too little work, 9 per cent; working mothers, 5 per cent; poor public influences such as low and violent shows, obscene literature, alcohol and drugs, 4 1/2 per cent; "juvenile delinquency", 3 1/2 per cent; financial need, 3 per cent.

Governor Daniel pointed out that the poll is still open, and that radio and television stations are requesting listeners to send their views on youth problems.

"These opinions from the grass roots level will serve as a guide for the Committee members when they attend the White House Conference next March," the Governor stated.

TROUSERS OCCUPY NO. 1 SPOT IN USE OF COTTON

For the second year in a row, men's and boys' trousers occupied the number one spot among the largest end of cotton in 1958.

Preliminary consumption figures for 1958, compiled by the National Cotton Council's market research section, show the production of men's and boys' trousers consumed more cotton than any other end use, accounting for 723,000 bales.

The 1959 edition of "Cotton Counts Its Customers" reveals the next four largest end uses in order were: men's and boys' shirts, 620,000 bales; sheets, 443,000 bales; towels and toweling, 372,000 bales; and drapery and upholstery fabrics 347,000 bales.

Cotton scored competitive gains during 1958 in apparel and industrial uses and maintained its previous year's share of the household market, according to the report. Nearly 7.7 million bales were consumed in approximately 400 end uses covered.

During 1958, a recession period for all textiles, utilization of cotton was only one per cent below 1957 consumption. By contrast, use of competing fibers and materials, measured in terms of cotton, declined seven per cent for the end uses covered.

Cotton increased its share of the apparel market from 60 per cent in 1957 to 51 per cent in 1958. In addition, the number of bales going into apparel uses showed a gain.

Although household uses consumed about 11,000 bales less cotton in 1958 than in 1957, cotton's share of the market remained at 50 per cent in both years. Cotton consumption decreased more in industrial markets than in the other two major classifications, but its competitive share in industrial uses rose from 25 per cent to 26 per cent between the two years.

HOME ACCIDENTS TAKE 27,000 LIVES A YEAR

Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home — despite the accident statistics.

The statistics might make you wonder about "home, sweet home."

1. Home accidents kill more children 1-4 years of age than any disease.

2. Home falls take 12,000 lives a year.

3. Home fires and other burns take the lives of 5,500 persons annually.

4. Accidental poisoning in the home claims 1,000 victims a year.

"Home accidents," the National Safety Council reports, "kill 27,000 persons a year and injure more than four million."

"In view of these facts," the Council said, "you may well be concerned with the safety of your home."

"But when you stop and consider the great number of hours spent in the home, the statistics are more understandable even if the danger is just as real."

A hazard-free home, the Council said, results from practicing the safe way of doing things. "You'll soon do them automatically," it predicted.

Here are some danger signals to watch out for in the home:

1. Water or grease on the kitchen floor.

2. An unlighted stair, or toys and boxes piled on stair steps.

3. Oily rags or papers left in a corner of the basement.

4. Dull knives, which are dangerous because they force the user to apply too much pressure, and because most people don't have the proper respect for them.

5. Pots on the stove, the handles turned out for little

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

The demand of the Administration that the interest rate ceiling on long-term marketable government bonds be lifted has caused one of the most bitter, behind the scenes debates in many years. The President wants the authority to ignore the interest rate ceiling fixed by law and permit the interest rate on these long-term government bonds to be determined by whatever the money markets require. An indication of what will happen can be seen in the disclosure by the Treasury last week that it would pay an interest rate of 4.728% on a two billion dollar issue of one-year bills. This is the highest rate on any Treasury issue since 1920.

As most of you know, money is a very complex subject. One fellow said he could never keep any of it long enough to really study it. But, complex or non-complex, the fact remains that continued tampering with the interest rates, as has been done by this Administration, will produce more inflation and more burden on the already sorely pressed taxpayers of this nation. There has been a great hue and cry about the devaluation of the dollar because of inflationary practices; yet, those who decry the inflationary trends support the proposed interest rate increases. The fact of the matter is that money is like any other commodity. Those who are producing the daily needs of the citizens of this country utilize money in carrying on their businesses. When the price for that money is increased, it simply means that the producer of the products sold to the general public must, in turn, increase the price of the products he sells in order to absorb the additional cost of the money he has had to borrow. This is inflation at work. Not only must the individual pay more for the products he needs in his daily living, but he must also assume a larger tax burden, because the amount of interest to be paid on the national debt increases. Between the years 1955 and 1958 the amount of money required from the taxpayers as interest on the public debt increased by several billions of dollars, simply because of increased interest rates.

Should the President be granted the authority to pay higher interest on long-term government obligations, it will follow as a matter of course that all interest rates will be increased on all transactions in lending agencies from the smallest to the largest. This could mean an extended period of curtailed activities, insofar as the expansion of the economy is concerned, and the complete control of the economy of this nation by those who control the big money. If this continues, the chances are the government will be called upon to step in and force the lowering of interest rates. Should the government do that, it would mean the creation of much distress property and an economic upheaval that could be disastrous.

Retired Military Personnel

You may watch for some fireworks in the present Committee investigation of the activities of certain retired military personnel presently employed by business concerns doing business with the government. The people generally are heartened by the long-needed investigation of the practices of military personnel who upon retirement, obtain fat paying jobs with corporations and groups transacting business with the government. Some of the business runs into the billions of dollars. Corporations feeding at this lush taxpayers' trough are headed, in some instances, by former high-ranking military personnel. In other instances, retired Generals, Admirals, Colonels and others are employed by these corporations primarily because of their know-

Plans Near Completion Top o' Texas Rodeo

Jake Osborne, president of the Top o' Texas Rodeo Association announced this week that final details of the big Top o' Rodeo, scheduled in Pampa for August 3-8 are near completion.

Performances will be held nightly August 4-8. All cowboys and cowgirls are reminded that this years show will include five rodeo performances rather than four as in the past. Entries will close at 10:00 a.m. on Tuesday, August 4.

Events will include Calf Roping, Double Mugging, Bulldogging, Saddle Bronc Riding, Bareback Bronc Riding, and Bull Riding. The purse of some $5,000.00 will be supplemented by one half of all entry fees, with handsome silver buckle trophies going to the winner of each event.

ledge of how these government contracts are handled, their friends located in strategic positions, and their abilities to open doors that are closed to others. This nation has been very generous with the officers in the military — a great deal more generous than with enlisted personnel. In fact, arguments have been made on the Floor of the House that good retirement programs and higher salaries were necessary in order to retain military personnel. These retirement payments and the salaries are paid by the taxpayers of this nation. It does not seem quite "cricket" for those who have requested these additional benefits to utilize the information, the knowledge, and the friendships they have acquired during their service, to aid in the procurement of contracts — the cost of which must also be borne by the taxpayers.

Contest will use the standard Clover Leaf Pattern for both go-rounds, with a beautiful handmade western saddle going to the cowgirl with the best average time in two rides.

Much interest is being shown in the American Quarter Horse Show, scheduled for August 6 and 7 with Wiley Reynolds and Buddy Price directing activities.

The Open Cutting Horse Contest, under the direction of Guy Andis is always a very popular contest of the Pampa show.

Special attractions are being booked to add to the entertainment of the regular rodeo events, including the Johnson and Ower Comedy Bar Act of Chicago. Other special features will include the 4H and FFA Calf Scramble, a giant downtown street parade on Tuesday, August 4, at 3:00 p.m., dancing nightly to the music of the Miller Bros. Band, the Kid Pony Show on August 3, both afternoon and night, and the observance of Western Week in downtown Pampa during show week.

On Monday, July 27 Rodeo Headquarters will open in the Pampa Hotel handling all entries and advance sale of tickets. General admission, reserved seats, and box seats may be purchased at that time.

It is the hope of getting what you haven't got that adds zest to life.

Up a steep mud-choked wash—Positraction pays off!

Through a mountain stream—deep in Avintaquin Canyon.

NO MOUNTAIN CAT, MISTER...

That's a Chevy with Positraction!

That 3134 Fleetside has the sure-footed ways of a big western bobcat. Roams through high brush country that would buck the life out of most trucks. Crosses streams without benefit of a bridge. Climbs talus grades where pifion won't even grow. But that's all routine for this Chevy, equipped with Positraction* rear axle. It's hard at it every day for the Utah Fish and Game commission. Figure about 60,000 miles of mountaineering before this Chevy is traded. And yet the district officer who drives it would bet his badge the tie rods won't even need replacing!

Out in that wild, climbing Utah country, Chevy's suspension and frame and brakes, its Positraction rear axle and Thriftmaster 6 power are proving themselves under rougher conditions than most test engineers could dream up. They're proving that Chevy's advanced engineering and design ideas pay off—in spades—when the going gets especially mean and dirty.

Positraction, of course, is a big plus on this job, providing the sure grip needed to dig through mud, snow, loose sand, whatever comes along. Could be that a Positraction-equipped 1/2-ton pickup is the answer for your area of operation. Or maybe a 4-wheel drive Chevy. We've got trucks that specialize in getting in and out of any kind of country. Talk to your dealer about your needs. He'll show you what tough trucks are made of.

Recently the U. S. Army decided to take a peek into the background of its fighting men and try to determine if this so-called "Fetching up" by the parents had anything to do with the fighting ability of the soldier.

the record if the fighting man. The superior fighter usually had a father that was alive and well, or at least had been until his son was 18. His father usually was the boss of the family and ran it with a strict hand. Father not mother did the punishing of the children. This punishment was consistent but not severe. His father was affectionate toward mother and the family and showed it openly.

He was also a church-goer, a "joiner," and a leader in community affairs. The father had encouraged swimming and other athletic development at an early age. The son had been allowed his own bank account. In other words, most of the report would make a father want to be the kind of a father that he ought to be anyway. Just about the greatest privilege in this world is that of being a father, and the greatest reward that can come from this opportunity is that of having a son or a daughter who richly deserves our being proud of them.

Most of us say that the boy is "like father, like son," until our own son starts acting like his father.

Cal Farley says; "Give a boy enough rope and he will bring home a stray dog on the end of it."

It's mighty nice when we have some friends who have known us over a long period of years and in spite of that will have the courage to say good things about us before other people. This is real friendship. These are the friends that stand by one when things go against us. These are the ones who see the best that is in our lives.

Most of us have lots of neighbors, many of us have a host of acquaintances. But, did you ever think that perhaps your real friend and true friends could be counted on perhaps the fingers;

maybe even on one hand? If you would need all your fingers, and part of your toes to count your bosom type friends, then you are a lucky person.

A true friend is one who walks in when the world walks out.

A good friend is one that thinks you are a good egg even after you are busted.

"Make new friends but keep the old
One is silver and the other gold."

Real friendship is home-made and heart-made; it cannot be bought.

"A friend in need, is a friend indeed," trouble is this day and time most are going to want to know how much we need.

There are two kinds of friends; the ones you bought with money and the ones you still have.

If suddenly you were another person, would you want to be a close friend to the person that you are right now? Before you answer yes or no think with me about it for just a moment. If there is a person in the world that should know you, it should be you. We should even know all the little hidden selfish narrow things that never come to the surface but sort of sap away at the real flow of life giving strength. We know what we often are thinking on the inside when we are afraid to speak out with our true feelings. We know even the little shady things on ourselves . . . Now, tell me the truth, if you were that other person, would you really be anxious to be a pal with that person, whom you know better than anyone else, The Real You?

If we had to walk in the other fellow's shoes perhaps we would be slow to criticize his gait.

GEORGE'S WIFE

By "Sarah"

All over the State in places I have visited this month, any one who owns an acre of ground has received an ASC news-letter telling the Farmer to put his reserve cash in Government Bonds. Says it's generally figured that from 10% to 25% of a Farmer's net worth should be in a reserve fund, invested where a man can get cash when he needs it without having to sell something at a loss.

Now, I told George that this is just what we should do, that if we were going to do anything to help the Government out of this mess that I'd a whole lot rather have bonds at a loss percent than to be getting a bigger percent from some one who didn't need it as bad as our Government.

All he said was: "I don't have a reserve, and won't have any thing to sell before fall and I owe all that. And if I had any money to let out, I'd be getting er fellow's shoes perhaps we would be slow to criticize his gait.

MANY YARDSTICKS USED FOR JUDGING LAND

College Station — There are many yardsticks for judging land. The farmer may look for level land with fertile, well-drained soil, while the home buyer may want a lot with an uneven surface.

What is beneath the surface of the soil may influence the use of the land more than whether it is rolling or level, says Jack H. Barton extension soil conservationist.

Soils are much like people, the conservationist points out, in that both are products of inherited tendencies and of the environment in which they grow. Soils are products of parental stock, which is the rock material from which they are developed. This rock material has a definite makeup in any given situation.

Soil scientists have encountered many different soils in Texas, says Barton. These soils have different qualities, some good and some bad, depending on the intended use of the individual soil.

"We cannot change the soil qualities easily or economically, so we must apply management practices to take advantage of the strong qualities or to help overcome the weak ones," Barton points out. "When the management is in tune with the soil qualities, we can expect very good results," he added.

Helpful hints on judging land are given in Bulletin 836, "How Does Your Soil Rate?". By using the information in this bulletin, a person can compare soils in a particular location and the uses which can be made of them. A copy of the bulletin may be obtained from your local county

GRASSROOTS OPINION

Buffalo, Minnesota, Journal Press: "An educator says it's better to know a lot about a few things than a little bit about most everything. Perhaps he wants quality of learning instead of quantity . . . And maybe the smart-alecky attitude of some of our Wright county delinquents could be channeled into a more constructive pathway if they knew a little less and learned a little more. Judge O. J. Anderson says with the rise in delinquency we need a little more sternness some place — maybe in the home."

"Vertical Integration in Texas Agriculture — Seed Production," is the title of L-432, a recently released publication by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Agricultural Experiment Station. Copies are available from county extension offices or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Prior to World War I, nearly all optical glass was imported from Germany. During the war, American scientific apparatus makers were able to increase their production of this vital war material 20-fold.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, TEX. — Whatever the outcome of the summer tax battle, when the smoke has all cleared, the fire won't be out. Like live coals banked in ashes, the tax issue will be ready to flame up again when new fuel is added.

Sources of new fuel are easily foreseeable. Every member of this Legislature, by his voting record, expressed a tax viewpoint. Many of them will have to face opponents attacking this viewpoint in the 1960 elections. Since a new law moves primaries up by two months, campaigning will begin long before the dogwood is out . . . maybe while the Christmas lights are up.

Many candidates may be wary of lighting into an issue on which it's almost impossible to take an all-around popular stand. But whoever gets elected and comes to Austin in 1961 will find the old tax monster waiting, bigger and fiercer than ever. This Legislature will likely enact just barely enough new taxes, mostly on "old favorite" sources, to cover the budget. But the 1961 budget will have to be bigger. For some time population growth and other factors have kept budgets going up by about 10 per cent every two years.

Additionally, there will be, as always, demand for new programs, new buildings, new spending. Hale-Aiken school improvement program alone would call for at least a $100,000,000 tax bill. Only hope for avoiding an even hotter tax battle in '61 is for 1960 voters to give their elected officials clear instructions on what they want and how they're willing to pay for it.

BATTLE LINES — Show-down fight of the second called session came on a $90,000,000-a-year tax bill based on about three-fourths selective sales taxes, one fourth business taxes. It was in line with expressed sentiments of the Senate, but many House members regarded it as "another insult". All the five Senators and five House members on the conference committee that worked out the bill signed the report and recommended adoption.

It was designed to get revenue from these sources over a 2-year period:

TOBACCO — Cigarettes up 3 cents a pack for two years — then back to one cent) to raise $60,000,000. Other tobacco products, except snuff, a 25 per cent tax to raise $13,500,000.

NATURAL GAS — raise in the production tax from 7 to 8 per cent to bring in $12,000,000.

CORPORATION FRANCHISES — increase of 75 cents per $1,000 capital to May, 1960, 50 cent increase thereafter, to raise $32,000.

UTILITIES — a 20 per cent increase in gross receipts tax except for telephone and telegraph, for $3,000,000.

MOTOR VEHICLES — increase in sales tax from 1.1 to 1.6 per cent, for $20,400,000.

BEVERAGES — liquor up from $1.408 to $1.68 a gallon, wine up 20 per cent, for $6,000,000.

BOATS, MOTORS, AIRPLANES — a new 1.6 per cent sales tax, for $3,250,000.

RADIOS, TELEVISIONS, PHONOGRAPHS — a 2.2 per cent sales tax, for $6,000,000.

CAMERAS — temporary 10 per cent sales tax for $6,000,000.

Provisions for more vigorous tax collecting would bring an estimated $4,000,000 more.

NEW INSURANCE BILL — Out of the House-Senate conflict over the State Board of Insurance came a reorganization bill aimed at getting rid of at least some present officials.

Sen. Floyd Bradshaw of Weatherford introduced the bill calling for organization of a new three-member, full-time Board of Insurance.

One member would be designated Commissioner at a $20,000 salary. One would be the chairman at $15,000; another, a member at $15,000. Nothing in the bill says present members could not be appointed, but all appointments would be subject to Senate confirmation.

Senators tried to oust present Commissioner William A. Harrison two years ago, were balked by Board Chairman Penn Jackson and an Attorney General's ruling that they lacked this authority.

Since then Senate hostility toward Jackson and Harrison has been open and frank. Senate appropriation bill slashed salaries to one-third time for Board members. House held out for full-time Board.

Senate's counter-offer was the reorganization bill . . . with a full-time Board to please the House and a chance to name new members to please the Senate.

LET NATURE BE — A group of West Texas ranchers won another round in their court fight to force a cloud-seeding firm to leave the weather alone.

Texas Supreme Court upheld an injunction to stop a "weather modifying" program by Southwest Weather Research, Inc.

Weather Research had been hired by a group of Fort Stockton cotton farmers to drop silver iodide pellets into clouds that threatened to bring crop-destroying hail storms.

Water-loving ranchers brought suit. They contended the cloud seeding not only chased off the hail but moisture of all kinds.

INSURANCE CUT DUE — State Board of Insurance has ordered reductions in auto insurance rates ranging from 10 to 15 per cent in some parts of the state. Effective date is Aug. 1.

Most of the cuts will stem from a reduction in expenses, such as agent commissions, rather than low accident rates. State-wide the cuts will amount to about $226,000,000, saving some drivers as much as $20 a year.

In some areas, mostly larger cities, the drop will be smaller, and in a few counties the rate will rise.

Board Chairman Penn Jackson said that a merit rating plan, setting lower rates for accident-free drivers, will be made later.

Do You Want TV Translator Station?

The question "Do you want a TV Translator Station?" is being asked here after such a station has gone into operation in Wheeler county and also being rounded up in Hall county.

Such a station can be erected for the Clarendon area if the residents wish to cooperate in raising an approximate $30,000. The station would cover an area from Alanreed to the breaks toward Brice and from Martin to Lelia Lake. There would be no interference and now snow. You would be able to get all three Amarillo stations on this basis.

In addition to signing up to cooperate on the original cost of the Translator Station, you would have to purchase a frequency converter for each set at an approximate cost of $39.95 and also pay a small maintenance fee each month.

If you are interested in such a station and would like to learn more about it, write or call C. A. Turner at the Household Supply Co. There will be no obligation connected with the survey.

Favorable moisture for cotton production has multiplied the weed and grass problem. Fred Elliott, extension cotton specialist, suggests that cotton producers take a good look at practices which can cut the costly hand hoeing bill. He suggests rotary hoes, lateral oiling of grass and weeds in young cotton and spot spraying. Local county agents can supply information on these practices.
