FARM NEWS

from the County ASC Committee

COTTON TO BE MEASURED AS SOON AS POSSIBLE

This year as much of our cotton will be measured during the month of June as we can get to. All cotton producers are urged to let us know just as soon as they have cotton up and ready to be measured in the field. Training of reporters will be started on Monday, June 8th and the reporters will be ready to go to the fields after a few days. If you are fortunate enough to have cotton that is ready to be measured now, we have three reporters who have had experience and who are ready now to help you.

Remember that someone at your farm will have to help the reporter who comes to measure your cotton. Remember too, to be sure that you show the reporter where you planted cotton the first time even though you did not replant in the same place -- especially if you did not plant back in the same place, because you are due credit for all the cotton you have planted. This cotton planted and lost and not replanted will not cause you to be overplanted but it will help you to have a complete record of your planted cotton acres in this office.

WHEAT MARKETING CARDS TO BE MAILED

The 1959 wheat marketing cards will be mailed to all eligible wheat producers in the near future. Wheat producers are urged to take care to see that the card mailed is not lost or destroyed because it must be presented to buyers before the buyers will accept wheat.

AGRI-BUSINESS

About 10 million persons actually work on the farms in America.

In the total agriculture economy, about 25 million workers are gainfully employed as follows:

- (a) Six million in manufacturing and selling farm production supplies.
- (b) Ten million actually on the farm.
- (c) Nine million are processing and distributing farm commodities.

Thus, approximately 25 million workers, or 40 percent of our gainfully employed, are involved in the production and distribution of food and fiber from the farms of America.

While the actual farm population has steadily declined, this total number engaged in the total agriculture economy has remained fairly stable over a long period of years.

Your Leader May Be Late This Week

If you receive your paper late this week, it may be the first of such happenings for several weeks to come for our publication schedule will be uncertain until a linotype operator can be found. Our operator quit with no notice Friday and left for a visit in California or parts unknown.

News and advertising deadlines will remain the same for with limited help it takes more time to set the type and get it ready for print. In fact, lots of night work is required. All extra early news and advertising copy will certainly be appreciated and will go a long ways toward the Leader reaching you at the usual time. Experience with alcoholics and undependable help tend to make us cautious in hiring.

We hope you will be patient. We will sincerely appreciate your cooperation as in the past. AND if any of you know of a good linotype operator who would like a permanent job, we would be glad for you to tell us or tell him.

MODERN AND MOBILE—It's no problem for Army artillerymen to ready this new self-propelled 8-inch howitzer for firing. They merely park it and let go at long range with 200-pound shells. The tracked carrier was designed to move at high speed across rugged terrain.

"LETHAL LITTLE SHOT"—"Personal artillery" of the infantryman is the 100-pound 81mm mortar. Two soldiers like these Infantry School troops at Fort Benning, Ga., can pump out 20 nine-pound rounds of high explosive in a minute with ease to hit targets 4000 yards away—even on the other side of a hill.

CHEVY BESTS

Independent experts and official facts and figures prove Chevrolet's ahead of its field in seven big ways.

BEST BRAKES... In direct competitive tests of repeated stops from highway speeds, conducted by NAS-CAR*, Chevy out-stopped both the other leading low-priced cars—and why not: Chevy brakes are far larger, built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. BEST TRADE-IN... Check the figures in any N.A.D.A.† Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two." BEST STYLE... Popular Science magazine sums it up: "The fact is, in its price class the Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling..." It's the only car of the leading low-priced three that's unmistakably modern in every line. BEST ECONOMY... No doubt about this: two Chevrolet Sixes won their class in the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, got the best mileage of any full-size car. BEST ROOM... Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.‡ make this clear. For example, Chevy front seat hip room is up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars. BEST

ENGINE... Every motor magazine has given Chevy's standard and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. As Sports Cars Illustrated puts it: "Indeed, this device is surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price." BEST RIDE... You'll be able to tell this yourself, instantly. But Motor Trend magazine expresses it this way: "... the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

Make sure you get the most for your money—see your local authorized Chevrolet dealer!

hasen to explain that we have more customers than we can make copies at the same time. For this we are glad only it does make us work harder.

If all goes well, by the time you read this we will be appearing three days each week in the Amarillo News. We have hoped for this a long time. Pretty soon we hope to be in every day. This means we are sort of on trial. Keep your fingers crossed with us as this does mean a lot in our life.

Last week Sheriff Brunson and myself had the joy of attending the Saturday part of the 20th anniversary celebration at Boys Ranch. It was a real thrill. This honor came to us because we were members of the United Peace Officers of America. We became a director while we were in public office and now they won't let us go. In fact, anyone interested in law and order and in the boys at the ranch can have a membership for any amount from $1.00 up and even that will be put into building a dorm for the small boys at the ranch. This is the UPOA's current project.

Our biggest thrill came when we were chosen to be the honor guard in escorting Cowboy Roy Rogers back to Amarillo in the 105-car caravan from the ranch to Elwood Park. Sheriff Johnson of Randall County led out ahead of the Farley family and we came next just in front of Mr. Rogers.

Several facts stand out in our mind more clearly since the week long affair honoring Cal Farley and Boys Ranch. First, the sincere humility of Mr. Farley. He did not want all the fuss to be made over himself but kept on trying to focus all of the attention on the boys.

Judge Marvin Jones concluded with this statement: "If I had my life to live over, and could be whoever I wanted to be—I would want to be Cal Farley."

The second most outstanding thing in our mind was the patience and kindness and just everyday atmosphere of being a regular fellow which radiated from the personality of Roy Rogers. As he signed hundreds of autographs after hundreds he never grew one bit impatient with anyone. He signed books, annuals, shirts, and just about every other article one could imagine. Hundreds of copies of "A Shirttail to Hank To" were sold and autographed by Mr. Farley, Roy Rogers, and the author and her husband, Beth and Donald Day. When asked how her own children felt toward him; whether a father or a movie personality he replied: "Rusty was watching a western, and as Trigger and Roy came over the hill after the outlaw he yelled: "Look, Daddy, there goes Roy Rogers." . . . This gives him a double personality with his family. Roy and Dale are good dedicated Christian folks and are real down to earth just like folks in the Panhandle. Beth and Donald Day were wonderful folks to meet. Sold to the last ditch on the ranch and on their desire to be helpful. Even coming from far away New York they could settle down here and make 100 per cent Texans. Seems like she used to live in Amarillo. Not sure.

All of you want to read "A Shirttail To Hank To." It can be bought at any of the book stores in this area or at the ranch. The cost is $3.95 and a part of this goes to the ranch whether you buy it direct from Boys Ranch or not they will still benefit financially and you will appreciate Mr. Farley and the ranch even more after reading this book. Beth and Donald Day lived for two months and hobnobbed with the boys while gathering material for the book. They are both regular folks.

 See you next week.

PROGRESS MADE ON DEVELOPMENT OF SHORT WHEAT

"Short wheats" being developed for production under high fertility and irrigation in Texas show much promise in early tests by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Dr. I. M. Atkins, agronomist in charge of small grain research, says the new wheats, resulting from crosses of a dwarf wheat from Japan with hard red winter wheat varieties, grow to 25-35 inches tall, rather than the 35-45, or even 50 inches attained by presently planted varieties.

In tests conducted by Dr. Kenneth B. Porter at the Southwest Great Plains Field Station near Amarillo, the top strain of short wheat produced 75 bushels per acre compared with 54 bushels by two widely planted varieties, Concho and Wichita. At the Denton Station the new strains lodged less than 5 per cent while producing high yields. Commercial varieties lodged up to 80 per cent under the same growing conditions at Denton.

Production of short wheats will mean many advantages to farmers, Dr. Atkins points out. Higher levels of fertility might be used to produce more grain per acre without lodging. The short wheats also appear to be more efficient in their use of fertilizer, increasing their yield without an excess production of straw.

Quality tests also are promising, Dr. Porter says. However, we will do much more testing for quality, winter-hardiness, disease resistance, adaptation to combine harvesting and other characteristics so the wheat will prove itself before releasing seed to farmers.

We are seeking short wheat which will fit Texas farming and at the same time produce better grain for bread under high fertility and irrigation than currently planted varieties. Some of the characteristics sought also in further breeding will include shatter resistance, higher test weight per bushel and stronger gluten content to enable bread dough to stand up better during mixing, he adds.

By botanical definition, tomatoes, snap beans, green peppers and okra are fruits. Whether they are fruits, vegetables or rose by any other name," the Texas Beef Council is delighted that they all combine so deliciously with beef that definitions become unimportant.

GABIE BETTS BURTON LIBRARY NOTES
EDITH BARNES

A memorial fund was given to the library last week to be dedicated to the memory of Mrs. R. T. Brown.

For those of you who thought you had read everything there was to be written about Cal Farley and "Boys Ranch", Beth Day's "A Shirrtail To Hang To", will prove you were wrong. If there is anyone left who does not love and admire Cal Farley and his work with the boys, they had better not read "A Shirrtail To Hang To", that is unless you want to join the rest of us in the "Cal Farley Admirer Society."

Cal Farley points up in "A Shirrtail To Hang To" the importance of youngsters having something to keep them busy. He seems to believe no one is doing a child a favor when they let him fritter his time away or always being on the hunt for something to keep himself entertained. I guess boredom can be unhealthy for children as well as grown ups.

A book can be selected as a book club selection and get on the best seller list but when a book a year old is already in it's fourteenth printing you can figure that book has something to offer. Such a one is Robert Tarver's "The Anatomy of a Murder". No it is not a murder mystery but a book written by a man who knows how to write and what he is writing about. He was a lawyer who is now a supreme court judge for the state of Michigan. If you read "Life" you know "The Anatomy of a Murder" has been made into a movie and that Joseph C. Welch has been cast in the role of the judge. It goes without saying that these are two of the new books we have in the library.

Cloyd McClung wrote the library wanting to know if any one could help him locate Jack Lindsey, the son of a former band director here. The other is a Vineyard boy who lived catty cornered across from the Baptist parsonage. I know nothing about either of them. Do any of you? If you do I will be glad to write him.

Fox-Stepp Vows Exchanged

Wedding vows were solemnized Tuesday evening, May 26, at 8:00 p. m. for Miss Jean Fox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fox of Lelia Lake, and Carol Stepp, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stepp of Childress. The impressive ceremony was read by Minister J. C. Stepp, father of the bridegroom, in the home of the bride's parents.

Vows were exchanged before an archway entwined with plumous fern and flanked by baskets of white gladioli and greenery. Places for the immediate families were marked with white bows and the bridal carpets were laid to each side of the identified places. Mothers were ushered to their respective places by Leroy Fox of Wichita Falls, brother of the bride.

Mrs. J. H. Spires received the wedding guests while Nelda and T. Rose Stepp, sisters of the groom, attended the register.

Mrs. John Wayne Stepp of Lelia Lake attended the bride as matron-of-honor. She was attired in a blue chiffon dress designed with a scoop neckline and full skirt. Her corsage was of white carnations.

John Wayne Stepp, brother of the groom, was best man.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a blue nylon lace dress fashioned with the bodice circled in satin and a sweetheart neckline. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion fell from a small hat of blue imprinted leaves. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations topped with a white Bible.

Mrs. Fox, mother of the bride, wore a beige linen sheath dress with matching accessories. Mrs. Stepp, mother of the groom, chose a grey and black silk dress with a lace inset to the front and matching accessories. Each wore a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home. The wedding party formed a receiving line before the archway.

Center of attention at the bride's table was the beautifully tiered wedding cake decorated with garlands of Caladium leaves and other greenery. Candelabra holding white tapers flanked the centerpiece, a nosegay of roses in a big white bow with "Jean and Carol" inscribed on the streamers. Presiding at the table were Mrs. Elmer Dishman and Mrs. J. B. McDaniel. Assisting were Mrs. Sid Pointer, Mrs. Coleman Shields, and Mrs. Ellis Chenault.

For the bride's traveling costume she wore a yellow linen, suit dress complimented by yellow accessories.

The bride is a '59 graduate of Lelia Lake High school. The groom is also a graduate of Lelia Lake high school and attended Clarendon Junior College and WTSC at Canyon. He has a position as a teacher in the Hartley High School next year.

The couple is at home in Canyon where Mr. Stepp is taking a summer course at West Texas State College.

Out-of-town relatives and friends attending were Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Fox and Tony of Wichita Falls; Mrs. O. N. Fox of Buffalo Springs, grandmother of the bride; Mrs. Adelle Grounds of Fort Worth, aunt of the groom; Nelda and T. Rose Stepp of Childress; and James Stavvenhagen of Stratford.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Vaughan, Debbie, Mark, and James Scott of Canyon were week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Vaughan and children.

McClellan-Lowry Nuptials Solemnized

Miss Billie Mae McClellan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Rex McClellan of Clarendon, Texas, became the bride of Mr. Gale Richard Lowrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Lowrey of Middlewater, Texas, in a double-ring ceremony read at 7:00 p. m. Saturday evening, May 30, at the First Baptist Church, Clarendon, Texas. The Rev. W. R. Lawrence, pastor, officiated.

Vows were exchanged before an archway decorated with pom-poms, chrysanthemums and white gladioli. Basket arrangements of white gladioli and white chrysanthemums flanked by candelabra bearing white tapers against a background of emerald palms completed the decor. Candles were lighted by Charles Thompson of Clarendon and Joseph Robert McCart of Amarillo.

Donna Ruth Magee of McLean, Texas, organist, played traditional wedding selections and accompanied Mrs. Don Trew, also of McLean, as she sang "Always," "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Mrs. Bobby Gene Trout. She wore a moss green dress fashioned with a fitted bodice, full skirt, and a satin cummerbund, complimented by a picture hat. She carried a cascade bouquet of white shasta mums, rosebuds, and green carnations.

Bridesmaids were Mike Reid of Tullia, Mrs. Foster Parker of Lubbock, and Mrs. Don Thornberry of Clarendon. They wore dresses and hats styled like that worn by the matron of honor and carried cascade bouquets of white shasta mums.

Valorie Anne Trout was her aunt's flower girl. Her dress was of white taffeta corresponding to those worn by the other attendants. She wore a headband of white sweetheart roses. Ring-bearer was Ronnie Woods of Dumas, Texas.

Attending the groom as best man was Billy Jack Settle of Brownfield, Texas. Groomsmen were Bobby Gene Trout of Clarendon, Foster Parker of Lubbock, and Jon Hart of Gruver.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a princess styled satin gown, designed with a fitted bodice with lace inserts at the neckline and long tapered sleeves. The bouffant floorlength skirt swept into a cathedral train. Her finger-tip veil of silk French tulle fell from a tiara of orange blossoms and seed pearls. She carried a rainbow Bible topped with white orchids and satin streamers showered with pearls.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McClellan chose a dress of mint green accented by beige accessories. Mrs. Lowrey, mother of the groom, wore a dress of navy blue with white accessories. Each wore a corsage of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at Patching Club House. The refreshment table was laid with a white satin cloth. A floral piece of white stock and white roses was flanked with silver candelabra bearing white tapers entwined with garlands of greenery extended to the wedding cake. Mrs. Horace McClellan, aunt of the bride, and Miss Janette Robinson of Dumas presided at the table. Miss Margaret Abney of Texline registered the guests.

For the wedding trip to points in New Mexico and Colorado, the bride traveled in a black linen sheath dress with black and white jacket, white accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

Mrs. Lowrey is a graduate of McLean high school and attended West Texas State College. Mr. Lowrey is a graduate of Canyon high school and also attended West Texas State College.

After June 6 the couple will be at home at Nara Visa, New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Lowrey, the bridegroom's parents, were hosts at the rehearsal dinner which was held in the dining room of the Dixie Cafe. Assisting in the courtesies were the groom's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Foster Parker of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sisk and family and Mrs. Charlie Corder of Amarillo visited Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Estlack Sunday. All visited in the Harley Longan home Sunday afternoon.

LINDLEY-BOLLINGER

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Lindley of Clarendon, Texas announce the marriage of their daughter, Roberta, to Marion Bollinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Bollinger of Dalhart, Texas.

The ceremony was read at 7:30 p. m. the evening of May 22, in the First Presbyterian church of Dalhart. The Rev. Joe Murphy, pastor officiated.

Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Daton Bollinger, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

The bride is a graduate of West Texas State College and is a secretary in the office of Attorney King Fike.

The bridegroom has recently returned from the service in Japan and the Pacific Islands. He is an employee at Wadkins Conoco Station.

After a short trip to New Mexico and Colorado, the couple will make their home at 814 Peters in Dalhart.

PRE-NUPTIAL COURTESY HONORS MISS MCCLELLAN

Among the pre-nuptial courtesies extended Miss Billie Mae McClellan was a miscellaneous shower given in the home of Mrs. W. J. Lewis, Jr. Tuesday, May 12.

The hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Eugene H. Noland, Mrs. Robert W. Boston of Amarillo and Mrs. W. J. Lewis, Jr.

Guests were received at the door by Mrs. Lewis and presented to Mrs. Dick Lowry, Mrs. Johnnie Rex McClellan and Miss Billie Mae McClellan.

Mrs. E. H. Noland presided at the guest book.

The bride's chosen colors of green and white were carried out in the table decorations. The centerpiece was a beautiful bouquet of white roses and white stock in a silver chafing dish surrounded by ivy and other greenery. This was flanked with silver candelabra and white candles.

Punch was served by Mrs. Horace McClellan from a silver punch bowl.

Approximately fifty guests called, many out of town, and others not attending, sent gifts.

BAPTIST Y. W. A.

The Young Women's Auxiliary of the First Baptist church met Wednesday morning, May 27, at 9:30 in the church parlor for initiation of new members. The ceremony was carried out by Jean Moore, Counselor, Pat Spurgeon, Betty Parker, Jean Welch, and Robbie Johnson, who welcomed the new-comers by briefly discussing the purpose of the organization and pinning the Y. W. A. monogram on each one. Those initiated were Ann Elliott, Andra Pinkerton, Sandra Pinkerton, Judy Thompson, Rosalie Welch, and Georgia Bell Harmon.

The group then honored two of their members, brides-to-be Robbie Johnson and Georgia Bell Harmon with a lovely White Bible Ceremony. The service took place before a beautifully appointed table featuring the Y. W. A. colors, white and green. A minjature podium, Wedding Bells, surrounded by an arrangement of mock orange and white orchid iris, and flanked by green tapers, formed the centerpiece. The pastor, Rev. W. R. Lawrence, presented the White Bible to each of the honorees as a gift from the Young Woman's Auxiliary. Coffee cake, hot chocolate and coffee were served to 13 members and guests.

Highway Costs Soar To Almost Double First Estimate

Governmental estimates of the cost of major construction projects have a habit of being far short of the mark.

The 41,000-mile highway network authorized under the 1956 Federal Highway Act is an outstanding case in point. In that year, the cost was figured at $27.6 billion. Now, revised estimates place it at $40 billion—more than half again as much.

This means that heavy deficits are occurring in the highway fund. One proposed remedy is to increase the federal gasoline tax from its present three-cent figure to four and one-half cents.

All manner of organizations, representing farmers, manufacturers, motorists, truckers and others have bone on record in opposition. Their case is a powerful one. To begin with a 4½ cent federal tax imposed on top of the average state tax of 6 cents would mean a total 10½ cent tax. That, as a researcher points out, would amount to 92 per cent of the refinery price of gasoline, 64 per cent of the tank wagon price, and 48 per cent of the retail price. Even extreme luxuries do not carry so heavy a tax—much less an absolute necessity.

If all the federal taxes collected from special levies on highway users were allocated to the highway fund, where they manifestly belong, the deficit would be eliminated. In the last fiscal year these special taxes totaled $3.6 billion. But $1.5 billion—42 per cent—went for non-highway federal functions. This heavy diversion brings on the deficits.

Congress should vote down the proposed tax increase—or stretch out the construction program so that available funds are adequate to do the job.

Money doesn't talk today. It just goes without saying.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

More About The Constitution
The mail has been bringing in numerous letters with relation to the recent decision of the Supreme Court concerning a case decided in Baltimore, Maryland. The case is Frank vs. Maryland, in which the Supreme Court decided that the owner of property could be fined under a Baltimore ordinance for refusal to admit a health inspector, even though the inspector had no search warrant. It is indeed encouraging to see the people becoming deeply concerned about their constitutional rights. My only wish is that this concern had been evidenced at a much earlier time. I have long protested the encroachments and invasions of the rights of the individual American. You can call them states rights, personal rights, constitutional rights, or individual rights, but under any name they mean the same thing. The term, "states rights," has been maligned throughout the country simply by associating it with civil rights, racial prejudice, and any other term that might cast reflection on it. The fact is that if you have certain rights under the laws of the State in which you live and the Federal government moves in, usurps the field, and destroys these rights, you have actually lost some individual rights. I say that I am happy to see the people becoming concerned about this problem, because I was afraid that many people in this country had been lulled into a false sense of security and would accept the destruction of these rights simply as a matter of course. In many parts of the country that could well be the case.

My fear was generated wholly by the general reaction to some past decisions of the Supreme Court which were as serious, in my opinion, as the recent decision in the Frank vs. Maryland case. Space will not permit me to discuss all of these, but there are two I want to make brief reference to. One of these was the case of Berman Executors vs. Parker, decided in October, 1954, in which the Supreme Court held that an agency of the Federal government could take private property under the right of eminent domain and redevelop it for private, not public, purposes. In other words, the government condemned a department store that was located in an area which the agency determined needed to be redeveloped, even though the department store, the building and the land were in good order, were not slum housing, and the property was not to be put to public use. The key reasoning supporting this decision was the sentence: "if owner after owner were permitted to resist these redevelopment programs on the ground that his particular property was not being used against the public interest, integrated plans for redevelopment would suffer greatly." They also said: "The rights of the property owners were satisfied when they received that just compensation which the 5th Amendment exacts at the price of the taking."

This decision did not stir up much concern at the time it was rendered in 1954, although I referred to it on numerous occasions as being a destruction of the basic rights of ownership of property. Under this decision a redevelopment agency could determine that the section of town in which you live should be redeveloped, and could come in and take your property by condemnation and permit the redevelopment of the entire area for private profit even though you did not want to part with your home or other property.

Another decision of consequence is a recent decision in the case of Abbate vs. The United States. In that case it was held that a defendant could be tried twice for the same identical offense—once by the State and once by the Federal government—although the Constitution states in clear and unequivocal terms, "nor shall any person be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb."

I also wrote a newsletter several years ago and made numerous speeches with relation to the separation of powers as constituted in our government. I pointed out the basic history of the powers of the Supreme Court. I again point out that under the separation of powers theory of government, the general powers of the Supreme Court cannot be curtailed by the Congress. I know there are many arguments pro and con on this subject, but the fact remains that the Supreme Court has the power to determine the constitutionality of any act passed by the Congress. Hence, the proper and effective procedure to be pursued, if the people of this country desire a curtailment of the powers of the Supreme Court, is by amendment to the Constitution of the United States. This can be done under the Constitution, as specifically provided in the Constitution, as follows:

"The Congress, whenever two thirds of both Houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose Amendments to this Constitution, or, on the Application of the Legislatures of two thirds of the several States, shall call a Convention for proposing Amendments, which, in either case, shall be valid to all Intents and Purposes, as Part of this Constitution, when ratified by the Legislatures of three fourths of the several States, or by Conventions in three fourths thereof, as the one or the other Mode of Ratification may be proposed by the Congress;"

It is my present feeling that if a curtailment amendment to the Constitution is desired by the electorate, it will need to come from the several States. I do not think that two thirds of the Congress at the present time would approve such an amendment.

I repeat that I have long deplored the manner in which the basic constitutional rights of the people of this country have been circumvented, invaded, and destroyed, and I shall continue my efforts to stem this tide and to correct it.

FROM WARM SPRINGS FACT & FANCY by W. H. Ricketts

(Wherein the director of public relations at the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation tells of Texas' own physical rehab center and also throws in a little tongue-in-cheek palaver for which, incidentally, the management is not responsible.)

With the status of dogs and cats ever in the ascendency in our society, I was not surprised to read recently that a 77 year old Denver seamstress had upon her death left a $10,000 estate to her dog and two cats. Her will provided that the estate be placed in trust to maintain and care for her pets "as long as they shall live."

These fortunate creatures, the article stated, have been placed in a private home but only, I am sure, after the new guardians had established themselves as moral, responsible, and emotionally stable people.

However, I am a mite curious about the terms of the trust. Is there, I wonder, a set food allowance and does it, perhaps, include steak? If so, will the trustees be allowed to share in the leftovers?

Is there provision for scratched furniture or damaged carpets? How about overturned vases?

What happens if the neighbors complain of damage to flower beds or pet chickens? Who is loable if the dog bites the mailman? Since the beneficiaries are all females, what is the responsibility of the trust toward possible—and even probable—offspring.

Could there possibly be estate problems when the three animals, as ever animals must, depart this life? Will the immediate descendants of the pets have recourse as heir to the residue of the estate? Is there a provision for attorney's fees in case of litigation?

None of these things, of course, really matters to me personally. I guess I'm just a little more unhappy now that the four pets living at our house are free-loaders, pcre and simple.

The Texas Rehabilitation Center of Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation has just received a generous contribution from a Fort Worth doctor. A note accompanying the gift stated that it was "in appreciation for the care and improvement produced" in a particular patient he had referred to the center for treatment.

This patient was a quadriplegic, which means that he was paralyzed from the neck down. While there are definite limits to what can be done for such patients, there is often much that can be accomplished to make them more functional and therefore to make life more meaningful.

TRC is rapidly gaining recognition as a haven of hope for such severely involved handicapped Texans.
