NEW DRUG LAW GOES INTO EFFECT AUG. 11

Bob Moss, local druggist, called to our attention this week, the Texas Dangerous Drug Law which was passed by the 56th Texas Legislature and went into effect August 11th. This new regulation defines drugs considered dangerous for indiscriminate use and so limited to purchase on Physicians prescription only. Prescriptions for such drugs may not be refilled without physician's consent. This means that many prescriptions that may have been refillable previously are now reclassified and may not be refilled without physician's specific consent for each refill. This law is a commendable move to protect the public health from overuse of potent drugs which the layman is not capable of evaluating for himself. In effect it means that your pharmacist will have to refuse refills on these classified drugs unless you have your physician inform your pharmacist by phone or in writing that he authorizes the prescription to be refilled.

GEORGE'S WIFE

By "Sarah"

There are some words in the English language I'm not allowed to use and some I don't like to use one being juvenile or juvenile delinquent. I think of anyone under twenty years old as being children or young people.

I notice in one of Lyndon Johnson's news letters that the entire subject is under intensive study by a Senate subcommittee, says the experts can give us a lot of reasons for juvenile delinquency and in too many cases the delinquency can be traced back to the day when something went wrong in the heart or head of an adult - not a child. And that delinquency will not be cured by putting new laws on the books.

I'm sure glad he realizes that, because George got real upset over the thought of Federal supervision of the kids. Said it was much more important than anything pending in Congress up to now, and the whole bunch up there was all mixed up on the duties us taxpayers sent them there to perform. But this one had better be given all we have got on a family and community level, before they get hold of it in Washington.

You're a fortunate man if you have the courage to change what can be changed... the patience to bear what cannot be changed... and the wisdom to tell the one from the other.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

THE LABOR ISSUE

The big question in this country is, "what kind of labor bill will the Congress pass?" The Senate has already adopted its version. Many have argued the Senate Bill is not strong enough, because it did not include the McClellan Amendments. On the other hand it is being argued in many quarters that the Senate Bill is much stronger than the House Bill recently reported. The House Bill will probably be the subject of debate in the Congress by the time you receive this letter or shortly thereafter. It is contemplated that several substitutes may be offered to take the place of the House Bill. Whether or not any of these will be adopted is highly conjectural, but it can be expected there will be many amendments to the measure. What its final form will be, no one knows. But, when it is completed the contest between the House and the Senate will be in reconciling the differences between the two bills. It is generally conceded that the American public demands the passage of legislation effectively prohibiting racketeering and gangsterism in the unions. This is a primary requirement by the people of this country, and rightfully so. The racketeering and gangsterism which has been exposed should never have been permitted in the first place. A great number of the acts alleged to have been committed in carrying on violence by many of these groups constituted violations of the criminal statutes of the states in which these acts occurred. I am at a loss to understand why these violators were not prosecuted and sent to prison where they belong. Ex-convicts, racketeers, gangsters and every other kind of hoodlums, who have weaseled their way into these organizations, will surely destroy them unless they are removed. It is entirely unfair to the honest, sincere, law-abiding, laboring people of this nation to permit these practices to continue. They bring honest union officials into disrepute and open the door to the corruption of whole communities. If these practices are to be allowed to continue in labor unions, we must expect they will breed the same kind of activities in all segments of the economy and completely destroy the democratic processes upon which we stand. A corporation, a labor union, or an individual does not and should not have the right or the power to circumvent the Constitution and the laws of this country to its own benefit. Yet, we see attempts every day to do just that.

It is my hope that, in the final analysis, the Congress will adopt a labor reform bill which will be amply strong to cast fear into the hearts of all thugs and cutthroats, and will fully and clearly protect the constitutional rights of all parties to a labor-management contract. It goes without saying that all of the controversies between labor and management, growing out of the many decisions of the National Labor Relations Board and the courts of this land, cannot be resolved and settled in one piece of legislation. To try to do this would be to confuse the issue more than it has been in the past; provide the means for more litigation and bitter feelings; but the basic policy to be pursued in the future and to cure the basic ills which have plagued the management-labor negotiations for so long, can be clearly and concisely set forth. Once this is done it will constitute a beginning point from which we can find the solution to the many smaller problems which must be met.

VISITORS

We had a great number of visitors from the Panhandle week before last, and it was good to see and visit with each of them. From Amarillo we had our good friends Hugh Tull and Pete Gilvin. They were in Washington attending a meeting of the Associated General Contractors of America. Also from Amarillo Mrs. H. C. Sloan and her mother, Mrs. Edith Williams, and her two sons, Bill and Gary. They were in Washington visiting friends and vacationing.

A wonderful group of ladies from West Texas State College in Canyon were in Washington for a brief stopover on their way to Nova Scotia. Most of them are teachers in our public schools all over the Golden Spread area, and they are summer students at West Texas State currently enjoying a geography tour under the guidance of Dr. Measamer, who annually arranges these fine trips. They are traveling by chartered bus, and they stopped over in Washington two days where they saw many points of interest, including both the House and Senate in session. The group included Mrs. Lillian Mullinax, Miss Oleta Marlin, Mrs. Roy Sullivan, Miss Pearl Spough, Miss Martha Montgomery, Mrs. Betty Boswell, and Mrs. Grace McDowell, all of Pampa; Mrs. G. Hall, Mrs. Velma Bennett, and Mrs. E. C. Pettigrew, Jr., all from Borger; Mrs. Mary Ellen Robertson from Sanford; Miss Lonie H. Garrison, Mrs. Kay Hungate, and Larry L. Hungate from Canyon; and Mrs. Mary Louise Blaine and Gloria Blaine from Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Moorhead from Amarillo were in Washington for a short visit, and we appreciated their coming by the office.

From Adrian we had Rev. Johnnie Williams, who is pastor of the Methodist Church at Adrian, and his daughter, Marlene, and her friend, Paula Creitz.

One of the 7 big bests Chevrolet gives you over any other car in its field

Anyone who's ever taken a Chevy over a choppy country road can tell you how lightly Chevrolet's Full Coil suspension handles rough going—and coil springs never squeak, never need grease! Try this velvet way of going for yourself. Once you do, you'll find your own way of saying what MOTOR TREND magazine puts this way: ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." But the happiest part of it all is that this Full Coil ride is just one of seven big bests—all documented by published opinions of experts and on-the-record facts and figures.

BEST ROOM—Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.* show that Chevrolet sedans offer more front seat head room than all but one of the high-priced cars—more front seat hip room (by up to 5.9 inches) than the "other two" of the leading low-priced three.

BEST ENGINE—Chevrolet engines have long won expert praise from virtually every automobile magazine, and, just recently, Chevrolet received the NASCAR† Outstanding Achievement award for "the creation and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engines."

BEST ECONOMY—A pair of Chevrolet sixes with Powerglide won their class in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run, topping every other full-sized car. And the winning mileage was a whopping 22.38 m.p.g.

BEST BRAKES—Chevy's bonded-lining brakes are the biggest in their field, built for up to 66% longer life. In a direct competition conducted by NASCAR, Chevy out-stopped both of the other leading low-priced cars in a test of repeated stops from highway speeds.

BEST STYLE—It's the only car of the leading low-priced 3 that's unmistakably modern in every line. "In its price class," says POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, "a new high in daring styling."

BEST TRADE-IN—Any N.A.D.A.‡ Guide Book can give you the figures on Chevy's extra value. You'll find that Chevrolet used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two." Your Chevrolet dealer will be happy to tell you about a whole host of other advantages besides these seven. Why not drop by his showroom?

It's bad to be lonely all way off by yourself, but it's really terrible to be lonesome in a large crowd . . .
One of my uncles says; "Peace, peace, is lost piece by piece."

Someone has said; "It's good for money to change hands, but it's bad for it to change so many people." We could not read this without thinking of a little town we once lived in when oil was suddenly discovered. This, of course, was back in the days when even one oil well would bring folks running with expectations of sharing in a part of the easy money.

All manner of things happened. Some sold out early and never had much money to worry about; to be made happy with, or miserable over. Others sold out at the high point and did various things with the money. One might pay off all his debts or buy a farm in some better farming locality. Others might invest the money wisely looking forward to the needs of their future.

The sad part was that still others more or less went wild with hopes of more and with the job of spending what they had already received. Automobiles for the kids, a second car for the wife, were only a few of the things some did without first taking a close inventory of the road ahead. As a result some were soon broke again. Some were soon in the middle of family trouble. All because while the money was changing hands it changed the people. It would be better never to have money than to have it and lose our head.

It looks like that just about every person that runs for a major political office has one or all of the following qualifications; went to school in a one room country school, milked a half-dozen cows by a coal oil lantern, and trudged day after day behind a lop-eared mule and a Georgia-stock . . . As wonderful as these recommendations might be under certain circumstances we might ought to insist that they have certain other virtues as well. Especially considering some of the mess that past qualifications of politicians have already gotten us into.

Speaking of elections, the kind of run-off most West Texas farmers really like is one that runs off the roof.

If we allow ourselves to listen to a lot of honey-coated sweet talk, then we are apt to get stung.

A lot of folks think that the world owes them a living. Still others realize that they owe the world a living - the right kind of living, that is . . .

People with the right kind of a conscience just as well do right in the first place. They will have to later, so it would save a lot of miserable feeling just to do it right off.

Political grafters are unlike pigs in at least one respect; at least a pig knows when he has had enough.

There are two kinds of information and advice - the good kind and that which we usually get.

We lived by a lady once who just felt very badly all the time. Even when she felt good, she felt terrible because she could help remembering that she would soon feel awful again.

It's mighty hard for some folks to have religion when they have no audience.

Some folks complain because they don't get everything that they pray for, not only that but they want the things which they do get, brought to them.

We often hear it said that it is better to give than to receive. No one claims that it is easier.

A friend of mine told me about a speaker that he had heard recently; he gave his subject, read his text, and then admitted that he knew nothing about it. He proceeded for an hour to prove his point; not his subject, not his text, but the fact that he knew nothing about it.

The following is not a joke, it actually happened; the preacher was recognizing the visitors and said; "Will you over there on the last row give us your name. I remember your face but your name has slipped my mind." "Jones, sir," he replied, "J-O-N-E-S."

Egg producers and handlers may expand their outlets and volume of sales if they meet the demands of many buyers for wholesalers, local chain and independent stores and national supermarket chain stores, says F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist. Generally, he says, these buyers are asking for the things that will satisfy their customers and give the greatest possible chance for repeat sales.

THE MARKET IS PEOPLE

In the realm of economic affairs, one of the most common questions asked today is this: "Is the market too high or too low?"

Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, has naturally heard that question innumerable times. And he illustrated the impossibility of giving a categorical answer by telling a little story. A man walked into a bank and handed the teller a note reading: "Hand over all your money. Act normal." The teller considered this, then wrote at the bottom: "What is your definition of normal?"

"So it is with stock prices," Mr. Funston then went on. "Nobody knows. The market is, after all, people. It is a flesh and blood affair. It is not subject to formulas or predictable behavior. In the final analysis stocks are worth what people are willing to buy and sell them for. And who can make a blanket judgment for millions of individual investors—with their varying objectives and needs—and determine that these prices, or those are 'unrealistic'?"

This fundamental truth deserves to be much better known than it actually is. The stock market will go up in the future, and it will also go down. But no remote and mysterious force determines whether it goes up or down. People do—the collective judgment of people. The market simply reflects human hopes, human expectation — and human wisdom and error.

COTTON ROOT ROT STUDIES

College Station — Cotton root rot has been a serious disease in Texas for at least 100 years, says Dr. L. S. Bird, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station plant pathologist.

Obtaining information on root rot were objectives first given by the Texas A&M College System to L. H. Pammel in 1886. Dr. Pammel reported his preliminary findings in Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Bulletin No. 4 in December 1888.

Dr. Pammel said correctly that root rot is caused by a soil inhabiting fungus, and to control the disease the spores and fungus threads which transmit it through the soil from plant to plant must be destroyed. He said that from a practical point of view, a proper method of crop rotation is the best way to destroy the fungus.

Following this pioneer work, a large number of scientists working for the Texas Station, the USDA and other public agencies have studied and many are still investigating the root rot problem, Dr. Bird says.

Observations and experiments indicate that the root rot fungus attacks some 2000 species of wild and cultivated plants, with cotton the major cultivated crop attacked. For this reason, the disease is commonly referred to as cotton root rot.

Many methods have been used to try to eradicate root rot, among them; tillage practices — using deep plowing and large disk plows; crop rotation; building up soil organic matter; increasing soil microorganisms; chemical control; conducting biological investigations; soil and fertility experiments; and by trying to find cotton varieties resistant to root rot.

Dr. Bird adds that the best practices to follow in a control program are: rotating cotton with crops which are not susceptible to root rot, increasing the amount of organic matter in the soil, deep fall plowing, and by nitrogen fertilization.

The first loan in the nation made to enable a local public improvement organization to participate in a small watershed development project has been approved by the Farmers Home Administration for the use of a group in New Jersey. The loan will be used to rebuild a dike and for installing three tide gates. Details on the program, points out Jack Barton, extension soil and water conservation specialist, are available from local FHA representatives.

SLEEPING BEAUTY—An elegant damask-like cotton is chosen by decorators Sophie and Nat Classes, NSID, for the walls and bedspread in this luxurious master bedroom of a model beachside home decorated by them. It points up the revival of fabric-covered walls increasingly evident on the home decoration scene. Colorful cotton carpeting adds to the quiet beauty of the room.

DESTROYING THE DOLLAR

"The fiscal situation deteriorated faster during the past year than in any comparable peacetime period to my knowledge."

That grim statement came from one of the top Congressional authorities on government finance and taxation—Senator Byrd of Virginia.

The Senator summed up what has been going on, and it would be hard to find a darker picture. Deficit financing has been the rule rather than the exception for more than a quarter of a century. In January of this year the federal debt hit an all-time high, exceeding the World War II peak by more than $6 billion. We have reached a point of serious reluctance to invest in the bonds of the U. S. Government. Chronic inflation has reduced the purchasing power of our money by 52 per cent since 1939.

So much for the statistics. Their significance is found in something else said by Senator Byrd: "Our free enterprise democracy is the greatest system the world has ever evolved. But there is one controlling requirement, and this must never be overlooked. The system is based on solvent government and sound money."

When debt, deficits and inflation reach a certain point, one thing inevitably happens. Government becomes a dictatorship. The printing presses are turned loose, and the currency is ultimately debased, as in post World War I Germany, to worthlessness. And the liberties of the people, like their savings, are destroyed.

Brenda Pool of San Angelo is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Pool.

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE

PLANT QUALITY ASSURED FOR TEXAS HOMEOWNERS

Texas Dept. of Agriculture John C. White, Commissioner Texas homeowners can be assured of fuller protection in the quality of plants they buy under the improved Texas Nursery Law now in effect.

The new law, passed by the 56th Legislature earlier this year, will improve the quality of nurseries by setting minimum requirements for plant facilities and care, and by providing for increased inspection service. In addition to large-scale nursery operations, inspection also includes food stores and other stores which sell nursery stock. This is an added provision of the law to insure the quality of plants going to the consumer.

Primarily, the legislation redefines nurserymen into categories of growers and dealers, removes some loopholes of the old nursery law and makes the old law's provisions more enforceable. It also provides for a slight fee increase, added at industry request to give the needed increased inspection service.

Nurserymen say the bill will improve the quality of nurseries, and any store which handles nursery stock, by setting minimum requirements such as shade and water. Fees for inspection were previously determined by whether or not the nursery was wholesale, retail, or wholesale-retail, but under the new law fees will be based on acreage produced or handled.

FIRE ANTS RETURN TO THE CITY

First the vicious little fire ant from South America showed up in Houston, then San Antonio, and now it has put in an appearance in Dallas.

The fire ant, whose sting is extremely painful and whose stone-hard earth mounds interfere with mowing and cattle grazing, has spread from East Texas to widely separated areas. In Houston, where more than 20,000 acres were infested, a cooperative city-county program was inaugurated and most of the area has been treated.

Approximately 1,000 acres was discovered infested with the pest in Dallas and the county had to be placed under the provisions of the Imported Fire Ant Quarantine. The quarantine prevents the movement of soil, soil bearing plants or other possible carriers from infested plots without permits from the Texas Department of Agriculture.

The known infestations are in isolated plots with the largest area centering in a county gravel pit. All materials moving from infested points are being fumigated by inspectors from the department.

AG ECONOMIST GIVES OUTLOOK FOR DAIRYING

College Station — Prices to farmers for manufacturing milk and butterfat probably will continue around support levels in 1959 with production likely to continue above commercial use, predicts John McHaney, extension economist. McHaney says the Secretary of Agriculture shall support prices for milk and butterfat at such levels between 75 and 90 per cent of parity as will assure an adequate supply.

Number of cows decreased 15 per cent from 1947 to 1958, points out the economist. But production per cow increased 25 per cent resulting in an increase of 8 per cent in total production. Per capita consumption, milk equivalent, dropped 9 per cent as demand declined for a number of milk products.

McHaney explains that milk cows have declined because farmers must expand their capital investments to take advantage of new technological innovations and increased capital needs cause many to drop out of dairying.

Farmers who adopt new methods and improved facilities usually keep more cows and produce more milk per farm, but the net effect has been a gradual decline in total numbers.

Too, in the last 12 to 15 months, the price of milk has turned slightly downward and prices received for beef cattle increased considerably. The rise in beef prices increased the carcass value of milk animals and a considerable amount of culling was done. With numbers likely to show less decline in 1959 and with production per cow a new record, McHaney expects total output to slightly exceed 1958 and thinks production may increase even more after 1959 or 1960.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

Cherryvale, Kansas, The Republican: "After seven years of opposition to laws for protection of union members' rights within their unions, the American Civil Liberties Union has reversed its stand.

"The ACLU had contended that 'self-policing' of the unions was the answer. It took a lot of evidence to change the ACLU's mind, but that evidence has been piling up . . .

"When a man's right to hold a job is dependent upon his membership in a union as the result of Federal policy, the government owes it to him to see that he's not forced to serve union dictators."

 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — With the bottleneck broken on a tax bill for regular spending, legislators began to look down the road.

Rep. Murray Watson of Mart proposed a resolution that pointed up the lawmaker's uneasiness about having more rough decisions before the year is out.

Watson's resolution called on Gov. Price Daniel to say immediately whether he would call another special session to raise money for the Hale-Aikin school improvement program.

Hale-Aikin proposals, which include an $800 a year salary boost for teachers, would cost an estimated $120,000,000 a year. There have been repeated rumors that the governor will re-call the Legislature next fall to enact Hale-Aikin. Also floating around is the rumor that a 1 cent per gallon hike in the gasoline tax is being "saved" for that purpose.

Watson charged, "I think there's been a definite deal made with the Texas State Teachers Association . . . Somebody else should know what's going on here instead of just the governor and the teacher's lobby."

Governor Daniel's supporters called this unfair. They declared that the governor, like everyone else, couldn't tell how it would be until after the dust settled from the fracas over raising money for the basic budget.

AT LAST — When the Legislature finally voted out the new $85,000,000 tax bill, it voted it out in a big way. Tally was 29-10-2 in the Senate and 115-to-24 in the House.

This is well over the required two-thirds to make the bill effective immediately on the governor's signing.

House, which had been hamstrung for seven months on the tax issue, came unstrung so suddenly it surprised the bill's advocates. Voting ended good naturedly with "yea" votes recruited in the atmosphere of an old-fashioned revival meeting.

Most talked-about feature of the new bill is a severance beneficiary tax of 1.5 per cent on natural gas. It was the first time the Senate had approved this tax. Many House members had said they would not vote for any bill that didn't include it. It will bring in an estimated $15 to $18,000,000 over two years if not ruled unconstitutional.

Three-fourths or more of the bill's revenue will come from selective sales taxes. Newcomers are a 3 per cent tax on jewelry and furs, a 3 per cent tax on hotel and motel room rentals, 3 per cent on boats, motors, cameras, air conditioners, 25 per cent on tobacco products other than cigarettes.

Taxes on cigarettes will go up 3 cents a pack; liquor and wine, 20 per cent; motor vehicle sales, from 1.1 to 1.5 per cent.

Utility gross receipts will go up 20 per cent, and the corporation franchise tax will go up by 75 cents per $1,000 capital for one year, 50 cents per $1,000 thereafter.

LADIES' DAY — Senate debate on the tax bill was enlivened by the arrival of a "women's march on the Capitol."

Gallery was filled with flowery hats and excited chatter as some 40 to 100 women (estimates varied widely) swept in "to show those lobbyists what's what."

Leaders were Mrs. Jud Collier of Mumford and Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham of New Waverly, both workers in the militantly liberal Democrats of Texas Clubs.

They were, according to Mrs. Collier, "infuriated by the scandalous lobby which has blocked action on the tax bill." Specifically, they favored a bill heavy on gas taxes and light on selective sales taxes.

LEGISLATING ENDED ABRUPTLY — Tax bills have had a lot of attention during the current special session of the Texas Legislature. But there were more eyes on charming Miss Carol Ralph when she stopped in for a capitol building visit than ever looked at a tax bill.

This fetching miss from Farson, Utah, whose theme song is "Remember the A-La-Mode", is America's Miss Dairy Princess. She was accompanied by Mrs. Anne Reeve, whose husband, Lew, is publisher of the Ocoola (Wis.) Sun. Mrs. Reeve is the chaperone for Carol's journeys about the country.

Miss Dairy Princess was introduced in the House, addressed the Senate, and was the recipient of complimentary resolutions from both branches of the legislature.

Then the lawmakers settled down to work again.

71 NEW PATROLMEN — A total of 46 new patrolmen now are manning Texas highways. These trainees have just graduated from the Law Enforcement Academy of the Texas Department of Public Safety. Also graduating were 20 drivers license patrolmen and five license and weight patrolmen.

Presenting diplomas to the group was Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the department. He announced that there still are 73 openings on the force. Eligible to fill these posts are young men 21 to 35 years of age — and they are badly needed.

CITY BUSES LOSE OUT — Another cause, apparently lost for this year, is that of exempting city bus systems from the state gasoline tax.

Rural area senators, led by Sen. Wardlow Lane of Center, voted in down.

City spokesmen say the buses, needed by low-income people, can't stay in the black unless they get tax relief. San Antonio's transit system went to the wall, was taken over by the city.

Senator Lane made a scathing attack on "taking care of Highland Park" (a swank Dallas suburb) when the state is having a hard time finding money "to pay the old age pensioners."

DANIEL OPPOSES FEDERAL TAX — Governor Daniel asked the National Governors Conference to join him in opposing an increase in the federal tax on gasoline.

Congress is considering President Eisenhower's recommended 1.5 cent per gallon increase to pump new life into the federal highway building program. Governor Daniel charged the federal government would have plenty of money for the highway program if it would quit using gasoline tax money for other purposes. He said further gasoline taxing should be left to the states, which need the money worse.

Earlier this year the governor mentioned the gasoline tax as a possible source of additional future revenue. State gasoline tax is presently 5 cents a gallon; federal tax, 3 cents a gallon.

If you mind wanders while driving your spirit may soon follow.

1960 CONSERVATION RESERVE PROGRAM

Many changes are in effect for the 1960 Conservation Reserve Program. Most of them do not effect land under contract in 1956, 1957, 1958 or 1959 unless additional acreage is placed under contract in 1960. Primarily, the changes involve eligibility and payment rates.

Listed below are a few changes that concern eligibility:

1. No 1960 Contract shall be entered into with respect to land which was operated by or with tenants or sharecroppers without there being tenants or sharecroppers designated on the contract to share in the annual rental payments unless the owner has operated the land without tenants or sharecroppers during both years 1958 and 1959.

2. No contract shall be entered into with respect to a farm which has been idle during 1958 and 1959.

3. Where ownership has changed since December 31, 1956, such land shall not be eligible to be designated as Conservation Reserve unless the new ownership was acquired by will or succession as of the death of the previous owner.

4. If a tenant leaves the farm and is not replaced; the division of compensation on the contract will not be changed. The tenants share of the annual payment will not be paid to anyone except another tenant.

5. Vegetative cover approved for the Conservation Reserve acreage must be maintained for the entire contract period.

6. If land under a 1960 Contract is sold, the contract generally may be assumed by the purchaser only after it has been in effect for 3 years.

One change applicable to all Contracts is: Re-establishment of vegetative cover will be approved only at one-half of the amount of cost sharing which otherwise could be approved for measures necessary to re-establish the cover.

If you are interested you should gather all the information about your farming operation since 1955, so you will have it ready when you ask for a Soil Bank application, since the rate is set on a five year average of production.

PRACTICE SAFE DRIVING HABITS

AUSTIN — "Honestly now, what's your hurry?"

This question was put to Texas motorists by J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, as he sought public support for TSA's current Slow Down and Live campaign.

Musick reminded drivers that 229 persons were killed in Texas traffic accidents during August of last year.

"Each Texan can give the Slow Down and Live campaign a boost by simply becoming safety conscious. Most of us are familiar with the laws, rules and courtesies of the road, but all too often there is a tendency to forget them. At this point we are most vulnerable to an accident," Musick said.

He reminded motorists that traffic officials are doing all they can to protect drivers and pedestrians by maintaining a firm enforcement policy, but that the final responsibility rests with the individual.
