Playground Dreams Become a Reality

By Jason Lee

For years the Elementary Teachers of Clarendon have wanted a new playground for their students. This wish for a children's recreational area was also shared by the Clarendon PTA. When these two groups of adults realized that their dreams could become a reality, a plan was conceived.

The plan began last August when the Clarendon PTA was deciding on a main project for the year. Knowing that a new playground was needed, their decision was to plan and construct a playground on the Clarendon School Campus. It was then that the PTA applied for grants and started getting local and area support for this beneficial project.

PTA Project Chairman Cindy Shelton, with the help from volunteers DeAnn Sears, Weldon Sears, Rhonda Newhouse, Sandy Anderburg, Julie Hartman, Missy Kidd, and teachers Judy Zehr, Freida Tucker, Medina Gribble, and Gail Hankins were bound and determined to make the main PTA Project of the year a success.

In the beginning they weren't sure how much money they could raise. With their minds set on having a new playground completed by the beginning of the 1994-95 school year, they began having fundraisers. To get support they sold candy, planned and competed in a Teacher - Parent basketball game, and held a Tasting Luncheon. As the word of a new playground spread around, more support and funding was gotten.

At the time of construction, the Playground Project had been granted $15,000 from the Amarillo Area Foundation, $8,300 from the Resource Conversation & Development Program, $6,000 from the Clarendon Independent School District, $4,500 from the Clarendon PTA, plus more local contributions. With a total of $35,000 the PTA then knew that the development of the playground would soon begin.

The land where the playground would be leveled. A foundation of sand and gravel was set in, and then the structure that is now the new playground was assembled. The playground has several slides, monkey bars, and other playing sections.

Now the PTA and Elementary teachers dreams have become a reality. In addition to these adults being content, the students of Clarendon Elementary School now have a new place to play.

Forums Scheduled

Nearly 60 years ago, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service was created to address a national resource crisis called the Dust Bowl. Since then, the agency has undergone a number of changes, resulting in the agency now known as the Soil Conservation Service or SCS. In its reinvention process, the agency aims to create the natural resources agency of the future.

To do this, the SCS in Texas has scheduled six forums around the state to solicit recommendations on the agency's future direction.

The first forum will be held in Stephenville on August 2 at the Stephenville High School J.C. Helm Auditorium. Other forums are as follows: Kenedy, TX, on August 4; Plainview, TX, on August 16; and McAllen, TX, on August 18.

Two sessions will be held at each location with identical agendas. Registration begins at 1:00 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. and the sessions will start at 1:30 p.m. and 7:00 p.m. Each session will last approximately two hours.

"The SCS is at a crossroads, and we and our customers have an unprecedented opportunity to anticipate future needs and refocus the agency's mission," said Texas SCS State Conservationist Wes Oneth.

"Predicting the future is a difficult task. However, we believe that one of the best ways to prepare for tomorrow is by looking at the past and by asking our customers and employees what they anticipate will be needed in the future," Oneth said.

Anyone with an interest in natural resource conservation is invited to participate. A survey form is available for those who are unable to attend the forum(s). More information and copies of the survey may be obtained from local SCS offices. They are listed in telephone directories under U.S. Government, Agriculture Department.

Jeremy Hicks, senior, will be Wide Receiver and Defensive Back. he states, "Well, we got a lot of guys out here with great hearts, and if they want to win, they want to play, so we'll do fine."

Todd Lindley, senior, will be Wide Receiver and Defensive Back. "We're going to do real good, we got rid of our problems right off the bat, so we're gonna do great!"

Autumn Tours Added

The citizens of Texas will receive an added recreational bonus this year thanks to a two million dollar construction grant from the Texas Department of Transportation. The Texas State Railroad will for the first time in many years be able to extend its train service for the public. The state historic park which is located between the cities of Rusk and Palestine, will now offer special excursions during the autumn months.

"We are doubly excited about the grant", stated park superintendent, Curtis Pruett. "Instead of replacing two or three bridges a year, the grant will allow us to replace the remaining 10 bridges at one time. The winter months, are normally set aside for heavy construction, can now be used to add special events and special runs."

The bridge funds will not be allocated until the winter of 1995, which is great news for visitors this fall. The historic railroad is now able to offer autumn color tours the first three Saturdays of November. "For years our riders have been asking for runs during the fall. Now we are able to accommodate them," stated Pruett.

According to Pruett, numerous events are being scheduled for this fall: "Starlight" evening runs on the first Saturday of September and October, A murder mystery which will be performed on the train in mid October, A civil war battle recreation in late October and a rendezvous of state wide old west gunfight reenactors will be conducted in early November. "It is advisable to make reservations for the train trip three to four weeks in advance, particularly with the new autumn color tours and the other new fall events," the superintendent concluded.

MARY HOGGATT
Hoggatt Attends Summer Camp

A unique camp eight miles east of Gainesville, Texas, now has a special connection to Clarendon. Mary Hoggatt of Clarendon has joined some 508 campers ages 6 to 18 at Camp Sweeney, a safe, active, and educational environment for kids with diabetes.

Camp Sweeney's 80 member staff offers medical attention around the clock, as well as training in such vital needs as blood-sugar monitoring and insulin injections. In this monitored setting on 340 wooded acres, children feel free to enjoy the camp's activities: horseback riding, soccer, crafts, swimming and canoeing on Lake Dealey. In a 3-week session -- one of 3 held each summer -- campers also learn about exercise and nutrition. And, perhaps most importantly, they meet other children learning to cope with diabetes.

"Before I came to Camp Sweeney," a veteran teenage camper says, "I was scared to be away from home. I thought I might have a reaction, and I didn't want anyone to know I had diabetes. I was afraid that my friends wouldn't like me anymore. But now, Camp Sweeney has taught me how to take care of myself, and I feel more independent."

Summer camps often turn away children with diabetes because of their medical and dietary needs. But to attend Camp Sweeney, the only requirement is that the child have diabetes. Founded in 1950 by endocrinologist Dr. J. Shirley Sweeney, the summer camp proves to youngsters that diabetes is manageable, and that by taking responsibility for their health, they can enjoy a full and active life.

Camp Sweeney is funded by donations from individuals, foundations, and The United Way. About 95 percent of campers receive scholarship aid to defray summer-camp costs. Camp Sweeney is operated by the Southwestern Diabetic Foundation, Inc., P.O. Box 918, Gainesville, TX 76241, (817)665-9502.

Dear Editor,

Recently, a number of old guys who were stationed with the Navy V-12 unit in 1944/45 at Maryville, Missouri had a fifty year reunion. We are interested in locating as many other members of the group as is possible.

One of them was Jimmy Lee Butler who gave Lelia Lake, Texas as his hometown at the time. Since yours is the nearest town to Lelia Lake with a newspaper, I am appealing to you for help. While many years have passed, the hope is someone in your area may know where he may be at this time. Usually, there is a relative or a person who keeps track of addresses for use in organizing high school class reunions and this letter is sent in an attempt to contact either the individual sought or someone who can furnish information about his whereabouts at this time.

If you can help, please write to me, Jim Dixon, 2973 Egan Drive, Memphis, Tennessee 38115-2269 or send the reply to Jill Phillips, Assistant Director of advancement Services, Office of Development/Alumni Services, Northwest Missouri State University, 800 University Drive, Maryville, Missouri 64468-6001.

Any help will be gratefully appreciated.

I hope you will see fit to place this request in your newspaper so we may find others of our old comrades.

Sincerely,
Jim Dixon

JESSE WILLIAMS
Williams Wins Award

Pictured above is Jesse Williams, age 15, and his 5 year old gelding, Dandy's Lover Boy, or better known as Booger. Both of whom currently reside at EJ's Appy Farm, located 5 miles north of Clarendon, on Highway 70. Booger is proudly wearing the halter they were presented with for earning high points in their age division in a series of "Open Play Days" sponsored by the Texas Golden Spread Appaloosa Club, which took place at the Whitaker Arena in Canyon, Texas. They were also awarded 15 first place ribbons and 3 second place ribbons in these events.

Jesse has single handedly trained this horse. Hardly anyone else has even been on this horse, except, of course Mom and Jesse's top notch assistant, 5 year old Benjamin Kochick. Unfortunately Ben had to go out of town and wasn't present for the presentation of awards. We felt the presence of his heart and pride.

Jesse should be extremely proud of the accomplishments he and Booger have made in only 3 months of training. He give's all the credit to Booger, saying, "It's easy when you're working with an animal this intelligent."

Commodities will be distributed on Friday, August 19, 1994, at the Clarendon Center, beginning at 8:30 a.m. Hedley distribution will also begin at 8:30 a.m., in the Hedley Senior Citizens Center.

In another week, your children are going to be back in the classroom. What an exciting time for them! New classes, new books, new schedules, good friends they may not have seen all summer. Probably the last thing that will come to mind during that day will be Burton Memorial Library. However, as you and I both know, the City Library can become a vital element to be included in their curriculum during the school year. True enough, our public schools are well-equipped with a good high-school library and a brand new one in Elementary which will be open this year. For expansion in social studies and science reports, Burton Memorial Library offers excellent supplements. For more reading for pleasure, the library continues to receive more books and videos through purchases, donations, and library loans through the Texas Panhandle Library System.

Alan Carpenter's New Enchantment of America includes a set of volumes, one for each separate state. Lay of the land, historical and industrial information are only a few of the items described. A handy reference section plus beautiful photographs in color are included in each book.

Many of you are familiar with Readers' Digest condensed books for adults. In the Youth section are ten Readers' Digest-Best Loved Books for Young Readers. There are four writings in each set, some of them being the classics, Huckleberry Finn; Treasure Island; Call of the Wild; Little Women; Alice in Wonderland; and Modern American Poetry.

Twenty-five volumes of Disney's Wonderful World of Knowledge, published by Danbury Press, offer enticing information concerning animals, natural wonders, science, technology, myths, legends, and various other subjects. Lovely color photography is complimented by illustrations of lively Disney characters.

Magazines, "Ranger Rick" and "National Geographic World" are in ample supply on the library shelves as well as biographies and various types of fiction and non-fiction.

Do you grandparents remember the Golden Books for children? If you had young children in the 1950's as I did, and if they like to be read to, you are, no doubt, aware of the popularity of the Golden Books. There is a precious little Golden Book in Burton Memorial Library now entitled Amanda's First Day of School. I'd say just perfect for your kindergartner who is going to be entering school for the first time next week.

Kindergarten and First Grade Teachers, in one of my articles last spring, I reviewed the book, The Armadillo from Amarillo by Lynne Cherry, and mentioned that it is a very entertaining readiness book for geography. I know you have so much material to introduce now. After you're settled with your students, you might find it worth your time if you choose to take a look at it. The kids will love it!

Why not check it out?

Dear Editor,

Recently, a number of old guys who were stationed with the Navy V-12 unit in 1944/45 at Maryville, Missouri had a fifty year reunion. We are interested in locating as many other members of the group as is possible.

One of them was Jimmy Lee Butler who gave Lelia Lake, Texas as his hometown at the time. Since yours is the nearest town to Lelia Lake with a newspaper, I am appealing to you for help. While many years have passed, the hope is someone in your area may know where he may be at this time. Usually, there is a relative or a person who keeps track of addresses for use in organizing high school class reunions and this letter is sent in an attempt to contact either the individual sought or someone who can furnish information about his whereabouts at this time.

If anyone can help, please write to me, Jim Dixon, 2973 Egan Drive, Memphis, Tennessee 38115-2269 or send the reply to Jill Phillips, Assistant Director of advancement Services, Office of Development/Alumni Services, Northwest Missouri State University, 800 University Drive, Maryville, Missouri 64468-6001.

Any help will be gratefully appreciated. I hope you will see fit to place this request in your newspaper so we may find others of our old comrades.

Sincerely,
Jim Dixon

Clarendon CISD Readies For New Year

With a new school year just around the corner, school superintendent, Phil Barefield, expresses confidence that it will be a year of improvement in all areas. Certainly, it will be a year of change. A total of twenty new teachers, counselors and administrators, along with five new auxiliary staff, will greet students this fall. Two new programs will be offered as well: Head Start and Single Parenting. The dyslexia program is expanding to serve more students, and the high school will expand its schedule to provide eight class periods within the school day. Other changes and improvements will be considered as the staff and students settle into the year.

Barefield also stated that a new attitude will be emphasized with the coming of new administrators and staff. "Student responsibility and discipline will be the cornerstone of this school year," Barefield stressed. "The School Board and I consciously recruited personnel during the summer that would support a safe learning environment and insure that quality instruction is provided. We feel that these additions to our current staff of excellent teachers will bring this to pass."

Barefield continued by assuring the parents, students, and community that safety and discipline are central to providing a good education.

"Students, parents, and teachers must all work together to see that the school is effective. Part of this cooperative arrangement includes a basic agreement that discipline is necessary and will be supported by all involved. I know that we all want the very best school possible. To achieve this, we must have a cooperative spirit, the desire to be the best we can be, and a respect of each other's right to receive quality, uninterrupted instruction. Students that chose to disrupt and interfere with another person's right to receive a good education must be corrected or removed from the situation. This will be our focus this year."

The year begins this year with new staff members reporting on August 12. All the teaching staff will begin duty on August 15, and students will begin classes on Friday, August 19.

TAKE VINCE AND LARRY'S CRASH COURSE IN SAFETY BELTS.

LESSON #2

"Larry, do you know what works best when they fit tightly?"

"My Uncle Bernie's false teeth?"

"No Larry, safety belts. You've got to always make sure that yours is snug and that whatever safety belt system your car comes with is in a-ok-working order."

YOU COULD LEARN A LOT FROM A DUMMY. BUCKLE YOUR SAFETY BELT.

Dr. Dobson Answers Your Questions

QUESTION: My husband is somewhat insensitive to my needs, but I believe he is willing to do better if I can teach him how I am different from him. Can you help me communicate my needs to him effectively?

DR. DOBSON: First, let me tell you how not to handle this assignment. Do not resort to what I would call "bludgeoning technique," which includes an endless barrage of nagging, pleading, scolding, complaining and accusing.

Here's an example of how that approach sounds to an exhausted man who has come home from work moments before: "Won't you put down that newspaper, George, and give me five minutes of your time? Five minutes—that's too much to ask? You never seem to care about my feelings, anyway. How long has it been since we went out for dinner? Even if we did, you'd probably take the newspaper along with you."

"I'll tell you George. Sometimes, I think you don't care about me and the kids anymore. If once, just once, you would show a little love and understanding, I would drop dead from sheer shock."

Obviously, that is not the way to get George's attention. Instead, you should look for opportunities to teach your husband during moments of closeness and understanding. That instruction requires the proper timing, setting and manner to be effective.

1. Timing: Select a moment when your husband is typically more responsive and pleasant. Perhaps that will occur immediately after an evening meal, or when the light goes out at night, or in the freshness of the morning.

The worst time of the day is during the first 60 minutes after he has arrived home from work—yet this is the usual combat hour. Don't lumber into such a heavy debate without giving it proper planning and forethought, taking advantage of every opportunity for the success of the effort.

2. Setting: The ideal situation is to ask your husband to take you on an overnight or weekend trip to a pleasant area. If it isn't possible to get away, the next best alternative is to obtain a baby-sitter and go out to breakfast or dinner alone. If that is out of the question, then select a time at home when the children are occupied and the phone can be taken off the hook.

Generally speaking, however, the farther you can get him from home, with its cares and problems and stresses, the better your chance will be to achieve genuine communication.

3. Manner: It is extremely important that your husband does not view your conversation as a personal attack. We are all equipped with emotional defenses which rise to our aid when we are being vilified. Don't trigger those defense mechanisms.

Instead, your manner should be warm, loving and supportive as possible under the circumstances. Let it be known that you are attempting to interpret your needs and desires, while taking his emotional state into consideration. Postpone the conversation if he is under unusual stress from his work, or if he isn't feeling well, or if he has recently been stung by circumstances and events.

Then when the timing, setting and manner converge to produce a moment of opportunity, express your deep feelings as effectively as possible. And like every good Boy Scout, be prepared.

QUESTION: Do you think children between the ages of five and 10 should be allowed to listen to rock music on the radio?

DR. DOBSON: No. Rock music is an expression of an adolescent culture.

The words of teenagers' songs deal with dating, broken hearts, drug usage and love-love-love. This is just what you don't want your 7-year-old thinking about.

Instead, his world of excitement should consist of adventure books, Disney-type productions and family activities—camping, fishing, sporting events, games, etc.

On the other hand, it is unwise to appear dictatorial and oppressive in such matters. I would suggest that you keep your preteen so involved with wholesome activities that he does not need to dream of the days to come.

Legal Matters

by Texas Attorney General Dan Morales

Child Support: It's More Than Money

August is National Child Support Month. At this time every year, we pause to reaffirm the far-reaching importance of our efforts to ensure that Texas children receive the support owed them by both parents.

On an almost daily basis, we read about front-burner, headline-grabbing issues such as welfare reform and youth violence. How often do we stop to think about the connection between these issues and child support? Probably not enough. Yet the connection is direct and vital. Many children in our country grow up in poverty and on public assistance precisely because both parents do not help support them.

Recently, we released a new juvenile justice plan for Texas, which addresses the complex issues of youth violence and school safety. In that plan we restate our belief that the child support program is an integral part of the answer to the rising juvenile crime rate. Most hardened criminals start out as disadvantaged children. Many have known both poverty and parental desertion early in their lives. Child support is critical. No child should unnecessarily experience the pain or the harmful effects of poverty.

And child support is not just about money. Children need to know who their parents are and that their parents care about them. In all our dealings, we actively and consistently urge both parents to stay in touch with their children.

Fathers are important
Our goal is to intervene as early as possible in cases where our assistance is needed. Two of our special child support initiatives are especially important in this respect: Parenthood and Paternity (PAPA) and Volunteers in Paternity (VIP).

PAPA is a program we have introduced to the public schools. It is a curriculum for teaching young people about the responsibilities of parenthood. We explain that the law requires both parents to help support their child until the child is 18 years old.

The VIP program is based upon a partnership we have formed with more than 280 hospitals and birthing facilities across the state. We find that many unmarried fathers respond positively when given the opportunity to acknowledge their newborns at the time of birth. Once legal paternity has been established the groundwork exists for a court order of child support - and that newborn's future is a little more secure.

Child Support Today and Tomorrow

Our caseload continues to grow, and social forces beyond our control add new cases to our docket every day. For one thing, migration to Texas from other states is on the rise again. As a result, many of these new Texans owe child support which we must collect and send to other states.

Although the task is monumental, we are showing positive results. In the first three years of our administration, we collected more than $1 billion in child support collections. Currently, annual collections are near the $430 million mark and for Texas children, we established more than 30,000 paternities last year. We have made these gains through various strategies, some of which have been detailed in other Legal Matters columns: wage withholding, tax refund intercepts, and the new hire program, for example.

In the next year, we will be implementing a revolutionary system of automation to support the collection process. This new system is slated to come on line next winter, and my technical staff is working around the clock now to ensure that every detail is in place before we shift the burden from the old system to the new.

For more information about our child support program, call us at 800-252-3515. To receive copies of our child support brochures, please visit your local Child Support Office. Or write to: Office of the Attorney General, Research and Legal Support Division, P.O. Box 12548, Austin, Texas 78711-2548.

Social Security News

Social Security Cards Carry New Messages

"Protect both your card and your number to prevent their misuse" is the message on the new version of the Social Security card issued since early summer. For years the message was "Carry your card in your purse or wallet." Times have changed and so has the message, according to Jim Talbot, manager of the Amarillo Social Security office.

"Social Security now encourages people to record their numbers and to keep their cards and numbers in a safe place," Talbot said. "The message on the stub attached to the new version of the Social Security number card also reminds people to show their cards to their employers when starting a new job," Talbot said. It is important that the employer gets the employee's Social Security number and name right so that his or her earnings can be recorded correctly. Social Security benefits are based on the earnings information recorded under a person's Social Security number. Missing earnings could result in failure to qualify for benefits or lower benefits.

The Lions Tale

by Gene Alderson

The Clarendon Lions Club held its regular meeting at noon on Tuesday, July 25, 1994 at the Lions Hall. Fourteen members, Lion Sweetheart Dee Williams and three guests were present. Everyone enjoyed a very delicious T-Bone steak dinner. Boss Lion Garland called the meeting to order and following the regular opening ceremony, Program Chairman Smith announced that there would be two programs.

The first program was brought by Will Parks, District Engineer for the Texas Department of Transportation. He was introduced by Steve Smith who is the Local Maintenance Supervisor. Mr. Parks informed the club that the district included 13 counties. Operations in Donley County are handled by 11 employees and the annual payroll is $210,000. The State of Texas owns over 2500 acres of land and maintains 350 miles of roads within Donley County. This translates into 800 to 900 lane miles. The state supervises mowing of 1900 acres twice a year. The annual budget for the district's operation in Donley County is $600,000. Mr. Parks states that highway 287 handles 8,000 cars per day. Interstate 40 handles 14,000 per day. The State of Texas with 77,000 centerline miles ranks 2nd in the number of miles of highway among all of the nations of the world. The United States of America is first.

The Texas Department of Transportation administers a Transportation Enhancement Fund which is used not to build and maintain highways, but to make the transportation system more enjoyable to use. Uses for money from their fund include projects adding to the appearance of a highway or an approach to a town, refurbishing building such as court houses or depots, and projects relating to wet lands or abandoned railroad right-of-way.

The second program was brought by Tamara O'Connor who is Executive Director of the Lions High Plains Eye Bank. She is a Lion and her home club is Amarillo Lone Star. She was formerly with the Eye Bank in Fort Worth. Since she arrived in March, eye donations have increased from 8 to 30 per month. Of the 30 people waiting for a cornea transplant in the area, 15 are age 25 or younger. The oldest eye donor was 102. The older recipient was 98. The Eye Bank will accept any eye. If disease prevents it from being transplanted, it will be used for research. One eye can help up to ten persons. If you would consider giving the Gift of Sight, contact any member of the Lions Club for more information. There was no other business and the meeting adjourned.

The joy of life is variety; the tenderest love requires to be renewed by intervals of absence.

1994 Property Tax Rates in Donley County

This notice concerns 1994 property tax rates for Donley County. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

	General Fund	Farm to Market/ Flood Control Fund	Special Road/Bridge Fund
Last year's tax rate:
Last year's operating taxes	$ 255,284	$ 123,643	$
Last year's debt taxes	$ 0	$ 0	$

Last year's total tax rate	$:23945/:100	$:11904/:100	$:100
This year's effective tax rate:
Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 254,858	$ 123,208	$

- This year's effective tax rate for each fund	$:22502/:100	$:11143/:100	$:100
Total effective tax rate	$:33645/:100
* 1.08 = maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearing	$:34654/:100

AN OPEN LETTER TO AMERICA FROM ITS CHILDREN.

...are Andrew, Christopher... know you're... if we didn't think it was important, we wouldn't bother you. But we are frightened.

America has changed a lot since you grew up. But our schools aren't changing fast enough. Education today is not great. We could really be learning more if more people cared about what kind of education kids get today. And really everyone should care about us because the kids of today are the future of tomorrow and the world depends on them.

We know there are some schools that have changed, but we need more of them. We think all of us kids deserve to go to a school like that. We love you,
 Your children

America needs more schools that encourage our children to fulfill their promise. So they can succeed in the competitive world they will soon face.

Call 1 800-88-PROMISE. And we will send you information on how you can help change the schools in your community.

KEEP THE PROMISE.

WE WANT YOU TO FEEL GOOD ABOUT SCHOOL THIS YEAR.

It's that time again – time to start getting your child ready for another school year. As you shop for pencils, notebooks and new shoes, don't overlook something that's far more crucial to learning: your child's health.

We all know that a child's health can play a major role in his or her success in school. Generally, a healthy child is the most likely to learn, enjoy and succeed in school. And what children learn now is critical to their ability to learn later in life.

Back-to-school checkups aren't limited to just students. School bus drivers can rely on us for the necessary Department of Transportation physicals.

And especially for student athletes, Todd Bowman, our trainer with the Sports and Occupational Medicine Center in Amarillo, will be assisting Robert Powell, PA-C, with required physicals for Bronco athletics.

Don't delay. Call your Donley County Rural Health Clinic now to schedule a checkup.
