Blackhawks Down Broncos 28-0

The Clarendon Broncos put up a stiff battle against the Phillips Blackhawks last Friday night at Phillips but came out on the short end of the score 28-0. The game was much closer than the score indicates as Phillips capitalized on numerous Bronco errors that brought about part of their scoring. The Bronco offense moved within easy scoring distance three different times only to have costly fumbles remove their chances on two occasions and a field goal try failed on the other.

The inexperienced Bronco defense put up an almost unbelievable stand against the much larger, more experienced Blackhawks holding them scoreless in the first quarter.

Phillips scored twice in the second quarter and added two more in the third and final periods.

demonstrate sources of radiation and how nuclear energy is harnessed to generate electricity. Use of radioisotopes to aid in diagnosis and treatment of diseases and to learn more about life processes will also be graphically portrayed.

A chalkboard talk to Clarendon High science classes will go into more detail on topics such as atomic structure, radioactivity, radiation biology and nuclear science careers.

The program will be presented by Texas A&M University in cooperation with Oak Ridge Associated Universities, a non-profit educational and research corporation of Southern colleges and universities.

The Clarendon Broncos will be playing more in their own class when they host the Canadian Wildcats here Friday night in a Homecoming game. Kick-off time is 7:30 p.m.

The Wildcats will be coming into this game with a 3 win season record and have not been scored on to date although they have been playing an easier schedule than the Broncos. In addition, most of the Wildcats are more experienced seniors.

The Broncos will be playing without the services of center Jay Lamberth and fullback James King. Both are expected to be out for approximately three weeks. King received a knee injury in the Phillips game and Lamberth received an injury to his arm in practice this week. Scotty Lindley or Danny Holland will start at center and Ewayne Barbee or Tommy Shields at fullback.

Coach Clyde Noonkester reported Wednesday that adjustments had been made to fill these positions and that everything looked in good shape for the Broncos to put up a real battle Friday night. "From all indications it will be a 'Wide Open Game', he added.

The CHS Homecoming queen will be crowned in ceremonies at a Pep Rally Friday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. in the high school gym instead of Friday night.

Be out Friday night just to help the Broncos win a Homecoming victory. Your support is always appreciated by the boys and the coaches. In fact, your support is needed more than ever when they engage tough opponents and lose hard fought games. We should all be proud of their efforts whether they win or lose.

FASHION CORNER

During this season of the year many women are considering a new wardrobe, or are at least adding articles to their present wardrobe.

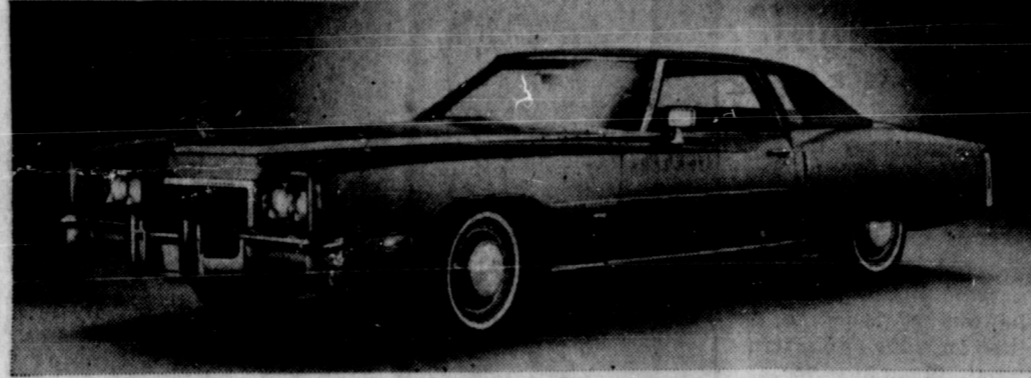

When buying clothes you must consider many things.

1. The upkeep on any garment is important. If the garment is not well made, and does not wear well, then it is not worth its cost.

2. The type of town that one lives in, activities are participates in, and the general climate of the country is important.

3. Durability is a main factor in any garment. The basic dress should last from three to five years. For color contrast wear at least three colors when dressed up. This adds color to any costume, thus making it more flattering.

Next week factors to consider are when buying clothes for yourself.

ETIQUETTE

A GUIDE TO TACTFUL CONVERSATION

In greeting people we say, "How do you do?" We do not expect an answer, but it is proper to reply, "Very well, thank you," even if we really don't mean it. No one wants to hear a thirty minute clinical discussion on how they feel. In fare-they can easily become second nature. These slang expressions sound particularly inept from a grown man or woman unless one is using them quite consciously and in fun.

Dear Broncho is a new column this year used for answering questions or problems for C.H.S. students. If you have any question write to Dear Broncho.

BRONCHO NEWS

As the Bronchos advance in their season play, they are gaining in experience and showing considerable improvement despite injuries of several players.

Danny Hill, Broncho split end, is returning home but will not be able to play football for most of the season. James King, a full-back against Phillips, is out for the next few games as a result of a torn ligament in his knee received in the Phillips game. Byrd Adkins, who has had a concussion, is waiting until District play to start play again. Let's back the Broncs to victory and rally give them all of the support possible. Keep that Spirit!

For the Lord who holds the future And has kept me safe since birth; Is the one who rules the heavens And created all the earth.

It looked like for all the world that we would never make it this year, but we finally did. Right at the last minute and after the rush was all over we did get to spend a few days in our old favorite Red River, New Mexico. Gee, but it was nice even with the quietness of only a few people still there. Most of the vacationers had gone home to put the children in school and many of the natives had closed up tight for their own vacation. A well earned vacation after the rush and while they were waiting for the snows to usher in the ski season. . . This winter business is fast becoming a big thing and more and more of the business owners are staying on in a big way through the winter. Fate gave them many blessings both summer and winter. . . We enjoyed it so very much. The foliage was just beginning to turn into its fall beauty. The fish were being kind to the last of the fishermen.

We always liked the story of the old fellow who talked to himself most of the time. On being asked why he did it replied; "Well, I just like to talk to a smart man, and then I also like to hear a smart man talk."

Working together is important. . . Even a banana gets skinned when it leaves the bunch. . . Team work is wonderful especially if we work with the team.

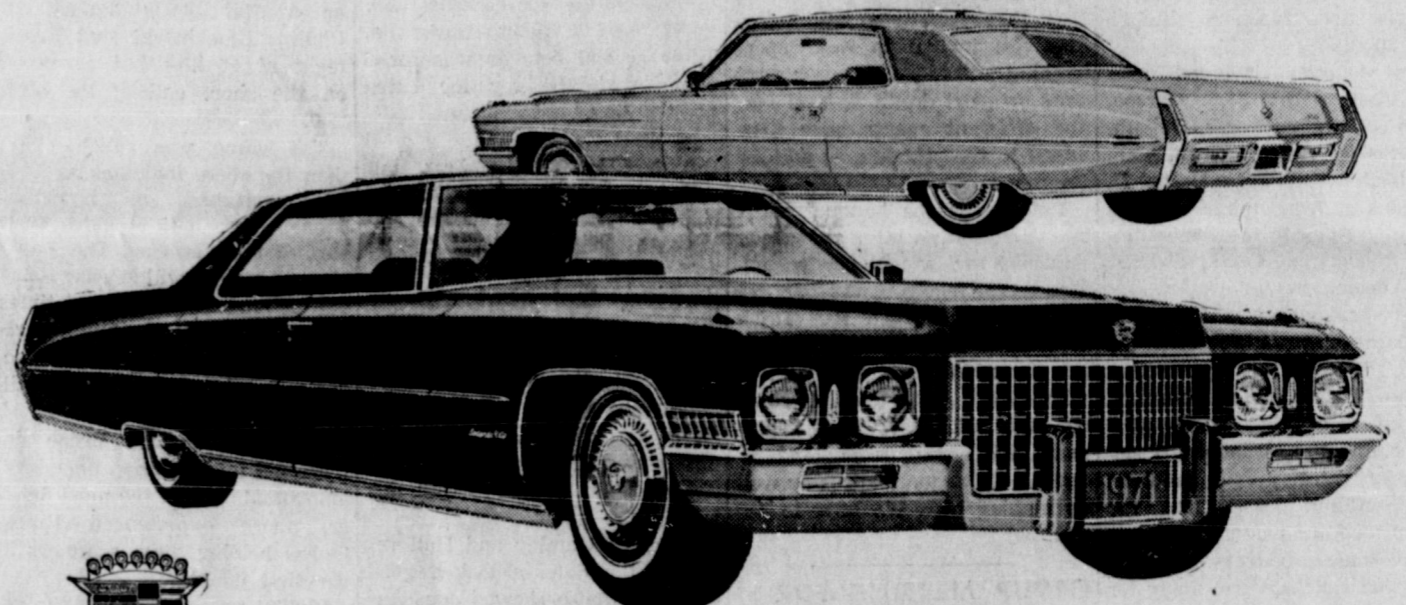

This is not necessary for in the first place the job is an easy one and in the second place there are always many folks willing to help us.

MINERALS FOR BEEF CATTLE

Beef cattle are hardy individuals and can take care of themselves in most situations. They do, however, need help when pastures and ranges fail to provide needed minerals and vitamins, and says U. D. Thompson, Extension beef cattle specialist, the stockman must give his cattle assistance. He must determine the deficiencies and then, from the many sources available, supply these in short supply. Local county agents, he adds, can provide information on many subjects dealing with proper nutrition for the beef herd.

Aoudad Sheep Permits Total 129

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department will issue a total of 129 permits, four more than last year, to harvest Aoudad or Barbary sheep in the four counties of the Palo Duro Canyon area of the Texas Panhandle, according to Area Wildlife Supervisor Jack Parsons.

Last year landowners had 125 permits for hunters in Armstrong, Randall, Briscoe and Floyd Counties. Hunters from Texas and several other states stalked the wily animals in the rugged ravines and canyons, enduring foul weather and rough terrain to bring in 28 rams and eight ewes. In aoudad hunting the sheep always seem to have the odds in their favor.

The Palo Duro herd of about 600 animals is the result of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's stocking of 44 sheep in 1957.

Only in eight counties of the Panhandle is the aoudad considered a game animal. Other areas of Texas have the sheep, but they are kept behind private ranch fences.

In 1963 the sheep harvested averaged 110 pounds, with one ram heading the list at 230 pounds. In 1964 a field-dressed ram was an eye-bulging 270 pounds and one animal with 32-inch horns was taken during the 1963-69 hunt.

Highlights and Sidelights From Your State Capitol

By Vern Stanford

AUSTIN, Tex. — A fight is brewing over the proposed constitutional amendment to set the maximum limits on tax assessments of farm, ranch and timber land.

An amendment (No. 3) on the November 3 ballot would authorize the Legislature to provide a uniform method of assessment for lands, based on their capability to support livestock raising or farm and forest crop production.

A 15-member special committee headed by State Sen. Wayne Connally of Floresville has completed the last of 11 hearings over the state on this measure. Its tentative report summarizing testimony favoring the amendment will be presented before November 3. Committee's recommendations to the Legislature will be delayed until next year.

"Agriculturists are saying they can no longer operate if taxes continue to increase as they have in recent years," Connally told newsmen. "When land on one side of a barbed wire fence is assessed at $1,000 an acre, and the same land on the other side of the fence at $150 an acre, somebody is going to cry."

An earlier amendment (1966) which had the same general purpose is "unworkable," say proponents of Amendment No. 3. Present provisions apply only to individual land owners, exclude timberlands and owners who earn less than half their income from their farm property.

Texas State Teachers Association is opposing the new amendment on grounds that it "could virtually destroy the tax base of many school districts" and open the door to favors for other groups.

Connally maintains the proposal would not result in major revenue loss statewide and that the Legislature would have to appropriate supplemental funds to districts suffering income decline.

REFUNDS ORDERED — Texas Insurance Board has directed insurance firms to refund premiums collected from local governments for unnecessary property damage coverage.

Legislature last year made official agencies liable for death or injuries caused by employees in negligent use of vehicles and other motor — driven equipment. Thereafter, they began buying insurance policies to protect them.

Board order referred to statements by Sen. Oscar Mauzy of Dallas that 86 school districts and 16 counties had to pay nearly $60,000 in premiums for property damage insurance they did not need in order to get needed liability policies. Requirement by companies, Board said, is a

"Texas" Ends Run In Palo Duro Canyon

"Texas" performed in Palo Duro Canyon State Park near Clarendon has closed out a record-breaking season, playing before more than 78,000 persons in a two-month run.

None of the performances were called because of inclement weather in the scenic canyon.

The play is a western saga centered around life and customs of pioneer settlers of the Texas Panhandle in the 1880's. It is staged in a natural setting with a 600-foot cliff for a backdrop for the cast of 50.

Mrs. Ples Harper, public relations director for the Foundation, said surveys showed that 17 per cent of the 1970 audience came from nearby Amarillo and Canyon, 31 per cent from within a 100-mile radius of Canyon, 28 per cent from the rest of Texas and 24 per cent from other states and foreign countries.

About one-third of these attending had seen the show before.

Social Security

By TRAVIS C. BRIGGS

Q—My wife, my two minor children, and I receive social security benefits because of my disability. I also have two minor children from a former marriage. Are they eligible to receive benefits?

A—Yes. They have the same rights to social security benefits as the children from your present marriage. Since your family already receives the maximum benefit based on your earnings, the payments for each dependent would be reduced. This results from the fact that the maximum would be divided among six people, instead of the four now receiving benefits. Your former wife, or the person legally responsible for the children, should apply for the benefits on their behalf.

Q—If I don't get my social security check on the 3rd of the month, what should I do?

A—If you have been getting your checks regularly and you know of no reason why the check should be late, notify your social security office after the sixth of the month. This allows time for you to get the check if it was delayed in the mail.

If there might be another reason for the delay, such as a recent change in your address or other adjustments in your records, wait about 2 weeks; then let your social security office know that you have not received your check.

Q—My 16-year-old son has a newspaper route. But nothing is deducted from his pay for social security. Is this legal?

A—Yes, because the earnings of newspaper delivery boys under 18 are not covered by social security. However, this exemption from coverage does not apply to young people engaged in other kinds of work.
