Turnout Exceeds Expectations In General Election Tuesday

A total of 1400 voters went to the polls and cast their ballot in the general election Tuesday which was the case over the entire state. This turnout exceeded expectations since this was not a presidential election year.

On the local level, W. R. (Billie) Christal received a total of 947 votes to defeat his Republican opponent, James F. Hayes, who received 424 votes. P. C. Messer received a total of 943 votes to be returned as County and District Clerk. His opponent, Republican Mac Stavenhagen, received 423 votes. The Republican vote was considered exceptionally good since this was the first time Republican candidates have appeared on the ballot on the local level.

In the state and national races, Democrat Lloyd Bentsen defeated George Bush for U. S. Senator; Democrat Preston Smith defeated Paul Eggers for Governor and all other Democratic candidates listed on our ballot defeated their opponents. Locally Bentsen received 823 and Bush 552; Smith 823, Eggers 554.

The Panhandle race of interest for State Senator Max Sherman and Malouf Abraham was decisive for Sherman. Locally Sherman received 888 to 451 for Abraham.

In other uncontested county races Mrs. Nina Dale led the ticket with 1110 votes for County Treasurer; Clyde James 1092 for Sheriff, Tax Assessor/Collector; C. L. Lewis 394 for Justice of Peace, Prec. 2; John W. Swinney 388 for Commissioner, Prec. 2; M. O. Weatherly 289 for Justice of Peace, Prec. 3; Jess Finley 138 for Commissioner, Prec. 4.

Local voters accepted all constitutional amendments for the exception of No. 2, which we understand carried state-wide. At last report No. 3 was the only amendment failing state-wide.

Wheat Research And Promotion Act

Donley County wheat growers are directly involved in the new Wheat Research and Promotion Act.

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin has said, "Domestic utilization of wheat in human nutrition and industry can be encouraged by the recently enacted Wheat Research and Promotion Act. The prospect is quite promising that research can develop new products and greater utilization of wheat."

Financing of the program under the new law is to come from proceeds of the 1968 wheat export certificate pool not claimed by eligible farmers.

Local wheat growers whose share of the export certificate pool amounts to $3.00 or more have received notice from this office telling them what their share of the pool is and explaining the options each grower has. A producer may choose to receive his share of the export certificate pool or he may leave it in the pool to finance the research and promotion program.

Wheat growers entitled to receive less than $3.44 will not receive a special notice but they can, nevertheless, claim their share of export certificates by filing a written request for payment with the county ASCS office. Each producer's share of the export certificate pool will amount to about 56¢ for each $100.00 of 1968 domestic wheat certificates earned.

Wheat growers will have until December 25 to notify the county ASCS Office of their choice.

This office will be closed Wednesday, November 11, 1970, in observance of Veteran's Day.

Why Editors Turn Grav

Being editor of a country newspaper is not the most desirable job in the world—unless you are a glutton for punishment. It is confining beyond what is reasonably accepted these days.

There are constant pressures. That means daily deadlines and everything has to be done in a hurry. As for financial reward, only a few really make it and we seldom advise youth to enter the field unless they are really dedicated and can cope with the inherent perplexities.

THIS DOES NOT mean that the newspaper business is completely unrewarding, because there is certain satisfaction in doing any job well.

There is humor in the work and something pops up almost every day that is good for a laugh. A lot of it comes from the fact that most people feel strongly, one way or the other, about having their names in the paper.

Here are few typical examples, not all original, of a number of ways to spoil an editor's day:

"Please put it on the front page."

"USE THE STORY just as I have written it. The club wants it that way for the scrap book."

"You're invited to our annual dinner tonight (this was the third invitation that week and we wanted a night home). There will be plenty free to eat and drink. Oh, yes, please bring your camera."

"How come it wasn't in the paper? It was—well, I didn't see it. Will you please go through the back copies and tear it out for me."

"I just stopped by to talk a few minutes, but if you're busy."

"WE VOTED to make you our club publicity chairman."

"I know you have a deadline, but couldn't you just squeeze this little item in?"

"My husband has never been in trouble so I don't think his name should appear in the paper for drunken driving and hitting that nasty policeman (who was only trying to arrest the man without hurting him. Besides, he only had a couple of beers (the drunkometer showed him nearly dead drunk). And there are the children to think about (he didn't) and the facts are he regularly gets drunk in front of them and beats the old lady about every Saturday night).

"I know it's on a Sunday, but it's our annual reunion and someone ought to cover it."

"MY UNCLE'S BROTHER is one of your biggest advertisers and I was wondering if . . ."

"I'll try to get my ad in to you before the deadline next time."

"You ran the disaster picture, but you didn't get my first wedding anniversary picture until the day after."

"If there wasn't room for the picture, why couldn't they run it on another page?"

In the third quarter Kenneth King added the second counter to bring the score to 12-6 but again the try for extra point failed. From that point on the Wheeler boys took over score wise to the final tally of 20-12 in their favor.

The Colts elected Michael Gardner as their Captain for the season. Kenneth King was elected Co-Captain.

The Clarendon Bronchos have set their sights to dump the McLean Tigers at McLean Friday night to keep their hopes for district honors alive. Game time will be 7:30 p.m.

At the present time the Bronchos are tied with McLean, Wheeler and Silvertown for district honors. It will take a win over McLean this week and Memphis next week to bring them out on top. The standing will drop to two teams this week end as the top four will be paired off for play Friday night.

Coach Clyde Noonkester reports the Bronchos in fair shape for the game. Bronchos have been showing considerable improvement the past two weeks but will need full strength and very few errors to defeat the Tigers who laid it on Memphis 27-0 last week while the Bronchos were taking the heat out of the Silvertown Owls 14-6.

The probable starting lineup for the Bronchos this week will be as follows: Ted Tyler, left end; Tim Rogers, left tackle; Steve Ellis, left guard; Scotty Lindley or Danny Holland, center; Eddy Helms, right guard; Ronnie Hill, right tackle; Johnny Gillean, split end; Ewayne Barbee or Tommy Shields, fullback; Elray King, left half; James Shadle, right half; Mac Tomlinson, quarterback; Kenny Bacon will start as a defensive end.

All Bronco supporters are urged to be at McLean Friday night to let the Bronchos know you are with them all the way.

In the second quarter, Danny Hill caught a pass from Mack Tomlinson for Clarendon's first score. Scotty Lindley's kick for the extra point was good. The halftime ended 7-6.

Rushing Elray King was high with 94 yards in 17 carries; James Shadle, 63 yards in 16 carries; and James King, 5 yards in 2 carries. Tomlinson completed 4 out of 10 passes for 86 yards. Hill caught 3 passes for 55 yards. Ted Tyler caught one pass for 39 yards.

"GAS WARFARE. We might say that World War II is fought on a higher ethical plane than was World War I, since gas warfare, as this is written, is not so common in practice. No doubt fear of reprisal has been more effective deterrent than has ethics, but we are fighting a gas warfare even now when we consider the use made of DDT bombs in driving mosquitoes and other pests from the tents and barracks of our fighting men.

"We hope that when the war is over the surplus grenades and bombs are not turned over to our children for playthings. Similarly, it may be unwise to free for general use some of the effective gases and sprays we have found satisfactory in ridding puppets of marauding malaria carrying mosquitoes. We can have too much of a good thing, and any gas or spray that will kill all or most of insects is potentially dangerous to thousands of useful invertebrates that are essential to the production of many of our food supplies and that serve as natural checks on many of our enemies. If these natural checks are destroyed, we will only be making ourselves more work than less by wholesale destruction of all insects in the vicinity."

Now, in 1970, we know not only that DDT kills beneficial insects such as honey bees, but also may spell doom for several species of birds such as the bald eagle and peregrine falcon.

And Texas Parks and Wildlife Department marine biologists say one of our most popular sports fish on the coast, the speckled trout, may disappear from the Lower Laguna Madre, a possible victim of DDT.

Perils of DDT Suspected In 1945

Although the publicity surrounding the issue and misuse of pesticides makes it appear that problems are just now being recognized, dangers were recognized at least as far back as 1945.

In the Oct. 1945 issue of NATURE magazine, E. Laurence Palmer wrote:

God To Stand By Us.

We need someone on which to lean
When the times get too rough.
We need someone to stand between
When we have had enough.

There are things that a friend can't do—
There's places he can't stand.
Sometimes it is the Master who Must lend that helping hand.

"Getting mad will not likely get us anything else." Even if we get our way the decisions we make while we are mad will not likely turn out to be right.

Hitting the ceiling is not the best way to go up in the world. Folks who blow up at the first opportunity, seldom get a second chance.

A lot of "Cussin'" and stamping one's foot doesn't usually help the matter. . . . These things are generally conceded as meant to help a feeble mind express a poor idea. At that it generally fails.

Even though we can't hold our temper, it is almost always a good idea to hold our tongue. Words spoken in anger, usually lead to danger.

Letting off steam is often done by an engine, but usually on a side-track. It is nearly always wise to take time off to cool off. This will save blowing our stack while we are on the main track.

A hot head seldom comes up with a hot idea. A fellow who is always asking for trouble is apt to be heard. If a fellow is itching for a scrap he is mighty apt to get scratched.

Temper tantrums come from the small fry, and from those who have never grown up. This is what we call "Acting like a two year old."

Legal Notices

PUBLIC NOTICE

In accordance with legal and precedent in the establishment of a township and/or suppletory taxing agency within a domain or county already accommodating certain taxing agencies, the following declaration is caused to be published in a public newspaper with no less than weekly publication, and within the boundaries of noted domain or county and preferably at the site of the county seat, and at a date and time no less than three days ahead of the final disposition of "REQUEST TOWARD SUPPLETORY" as tendered by the Commissioners Court of said domain or county.

TO WIT: DECLARATION: That a certain George Howard, resident and qualified voter in the county of Donley, State of Texas, did appear, as a nominated representative of a majority of the individual land owners and tax-payers in the vicinity of Greenbelt Lake, before the Commissioners Court on three occasions to effect recognition of certain special needs for a resort habitat.

FURTHERMORE: that George Howard, before witnesses, presented facts, projections and material relating to either of the two options necessarily appropriate in dealing with the lake population's request: namely: (one) the Commissioners Court could, for the greater convenience of all the people, create a justice precinct; (two) the Commissioners Court could lend consent and blessing in granting the community its own township.

FURTHERMORE: that George Howard proposed that each of the commissioners invite three individuals from different walks of life to assist in a more intense evaluation of the situation: whereupon the commissioners indicated they would prefer to handle it themselves.

WHEREAS, taking this public notice into consideration, and taking into consideration the opposition testimony presented to the Court, and that fair and ample time was extended the commissioners to investigate opposition to township, that George Howard, upon behalf of the lake people, if he is confronted with no new action in the Court's pronouncement set for this new Monday at 1:30 P.M. November 9, 1970 in the usual meeting place of the Commissioners Court, shall carry out the wishes of the lake community in initiating incorporation, and shall cause to be executed Intentions to Incorporate, now on file; and furthermore that the new city and elected city officials shall be immune from latent action of a succeeding Commissioners Court, regardless of any final determination that the existing Court had not acted in the best interest of the county; this, and all other subsequent latent actions shall be silenced with this public announcement, with no legal recourse thereafter by anyone or any group to interfere with the orderly incorporation of said new township and suppletory taxing agency.

FURTHERMORE: that George Howard did then invite qualified representatives of potentially damaged and/or threatened parties, in event that the Commissioners Court did indeed grant consent to township, and that George Howard, before the commissioners and representatives of the Clarendon Public School District, the City of Clarendon, the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce, the County of Donley and property owners adjacent to the proposed township boundaries, did present a step by step projection on the two options available: namely: the 3000 acres of land involved in the decision-to-be were on the tax books in the year 1967 at an evaluation of approximately six dollars per acre, adding up in total to $1800; and that this same 3000 acres over the years from 1967 through 1977 could well achieve an importance and evaluation greater than the remainder of Donley County.

FURTHERMORE: that George Howard did state that to achieve this growth and economic importance to the county and its people, there would have to be harmony among all the principle parties involved, and if there were not this harmony then the potential growth could suffer as much as 50%.

FURTHERMORE: that George Howard did admit, upon questioning, that although he was there in behalf of a lake people who preferred their own town, that giving the lake its own town would not be in the best interest of harmony, and certainly not in the best economic interest of the county.

WHEREUPON the County Judge did then ask each of the representatives present (from the Clarendon School District, the City of Clarendon, the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce, the County of Donley, and property owners adjacent to the proposed township) what their personal opinion was: and with not one exception, the representatives replied that the formation of the township would do damage; and if given the option, and speaking for themselves, they would prefer not to see another township and taxing agency come into being in Donley County.

FURTHERMORE: that George Howard did then state that although he would have a great deal to gain personally by a township, as would the town-folk from the lake, he would nonetheless recommend that the commissioners act in behalf of the overall welfare of the county rather than for the selfish interest of a small body of individuals — that would be the ethical and moral thing to do.

WHEREUPON after hearing testimony from representatives of the potentially damaged and/or threatened parties, and statements from certain other citizens pleading against the formation of another taxing agency, the Commissioners Court (not necessarily unanimously) did nonetheless decline any action that would detour or arrest the orderly progression of said township and suppletory taxing agency.

WHEREUPON George Howard, following the fair and multiple presentation of the rightful objections that the citizens of a county or domain might have toward a suppletory taxing agency, and noting no action by the Commissioners Court (not necessarily unanimously) to abort the request to incorporate, and, in the absence of action to abort, having received either intentionally or unintentionally the consent and blessing of the Court to incorporate.

WHEREAS, taking this public notice into consideration, and taking into consideration the opposition testimony presented to the Court, and that fair and ample time was extended the commissioners to investigate opposition to township, that George Howard, upon behalf of the lake people, if he is confronted with no new action in the Court's pronouncement set for this new Monday at 1:30 P.M. November 9, 1970 in the usual meeting place of the Commissioners Court, shall carry out the wishes of the lake community in initiating incorporation, and shall cause to be executed Intentions to Incorporate, now on file; and furthermore that the new city and elected city officials shall be immune from latent action of a succeeding Commissioners Court, regardless of any final determination that the existing Court had not acted in the best interest of the county; this, and all other subsequent latent actions shall be silenced with this public announcement, with no legal recourse thereafter by anyone or any group to interfere with the orderly incorporation of said new township and suppletory taxing agency.

Selective Service

Q—Somebody told me that college study deferments are out for the draft. Is this correct?

A—No, it is not correct. The person who told you this probably got the idea from the fact that the President has asked Congress to give him authority to stop student deferments.

Q—Is there more than one kind of student deferment?

A—Yes. There are actually five classifications in the Selective Service regulations which can affect students studying beyond the high school. Four of these involve deferment from military service, and one is an outright exemption from it.

Q—What is the exemption?

A—The one exemption given is covered by class IV-D. A full-time ministerial student is exempt from service in the armed forces under the selective service law and regulations, as distinguished from deferments for other students.

Q—What qualifies him for this exemption?

A—He has to be preparing himself for the ministry under the direction of a recognized church or religious organization, and has to be full time and satisfactory in a recognized theological or divinity school. He also qualifies if he's pre-enrolled in a recognized theological or divinity school and is a full-time student, preparing for the ministry.

Highlights and Sidelights From Your State Capitol
By Vern Stanford

AUSTIN, Tex. — With the next legislative session just two months off, a blue-ribbon speaker's committee has set out to evaluate the jobs of state lawmakers and how they can better perform their duties.

First meeting of the 150-member panel named by House Speaker Gus Mutscher and headed by Waggoner Carr, former attorney general, was held at the capitol last week.

One of the first things Mutscher suggested was a study of the work load heaped on officials who draw only $400 a month base pay. Committee is expected to come up with a recommendation and support for legislators' pay raises.

Mutscher asked the group to give special attention also to legislative facilities, ethics and internal security.

He further suggested a look at steps now taken to assure protection for orderly conduct of the state's business at the capitol and "physical protection" of state officials, employees and the public.

Mutscher said both houses of the legislature will hold a pre-session conference at Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs at the University of Texas.

Carr ruled out the study of such matters as annual legislative sessions and abuses by joint conference committees, since the committee was named by the House speaker and was not authorized by the Senate. "Timing of sessions and joint conference committees are matters of concern to both houses," he noted.

Four sub-committees were named and immediately began work. Sub-panels will work in areas of duties, responsibilities and compensation; ethics and standards of conduct; physical facilities and internal security.

BAPTISTS RELEASE SCHOOL — Baptist General Convention here approved the request of Baylor Dental School at Dallas to be released from church control so it could accept government financial aid. Baylor Medical School in Houston was released two years ago, permitting it to seek state funds for enrollment increases.

Convention called on the University of Corpus Christi to repay a $500,000 loan it received from the federal Small Business Administration to repair Hurricane Celia damage and borrow from a non-governmental source.

Delegates adopted resolutions commending national leaders for their spirit of peace to end the Vietnam hostility; and opposing grants of tax funds to parochial schools.

INSURANCE AD RULES PROPOSED — State Board of Insurance set a November 30 hearing on proposed new rules governing advertisements by health insurance companies.

One rule would require a clear and conspicuous statement in ads of any waiting periods between the date if the policy and the time it actually provides coverage.

Another rule would make the same kind of clear disclosure necessary where coverage is limited for illnesses caused by conditions existing before policy date.

Suggested rules would apply to all newspaper ads, as well as radio-tv, bill-boards, leaflets, form letters and recurring representations by agents.

Companies would have to maintain a file of ads for inspection by examiners representing the State Insurance Board.

COURTS SPEAK — State Supreme Court set a December 9 hearing on a Houston area welder's accidental "injury" suit which intermediate court held showed only evidence of occupational disease (silicosis).

High Court directed the Bowie County District Court to block an oil pooling arrangement which was ordered by the Railroad Commission for the 80-acre, one-well Simms Field in Bowie County. Federal District Court here postponed until November 12 a hearing on the San Antonio Conservation Society's suit to bar construction of San Antonio North 281 Expressway.

APPOINTMENTS - HONORS — Dr. Jimmy R. Allen of San Antonio was named to a second term as head of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

George W. Hawkes, publisher of the Arlington Citizen - Journal, was recipient of the 1970 Public Relations Award, presented annually by the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

House Speaker Mutscher picked Alvin A. Burger of Austin, longtime now (retired) head of the Texas Research League, as executive director of a special committee studying legislative duties, pay and ethics.

Mutscher appointed W. C. McGee Jr. of Houston and Ward K. Wikerson of Dallas to his committee on efficiency and economy in government.

Manning C. Phillips, FBI veteran, was employed by Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin's crime prevention division.

HIGH COST OF CAMPAIGNING TOLD — U. S. Senate candidate George Bush topped all spending by general election candidates, according to required reports filed with the Secretary of State. Bush said he has spent $696,008 and received $665,708 in contributions. Bush's Democratic opponent, Lloyd Bentsen, itemized campaign spending of $419,332 and contributions of $424,563.

Gov. Preston Smith said he has spent $652,810 and received $534,651 in contributions. His Republican opponent, Paul Eggers, reported $409,028 and receiving $312,661.

JUSTICE PLANNING FUNDS RECEIVED — Texas Criminal Justice Council received final approval of its 1971 block planning grant, totaling $1.2 million.

Money will be spent for state-wide planning to improve the criminal justice system. Forty per cent of funds will go to local governmental units.

Texas will receive a block action grant of $19 million for fiscal 1971 from the U. S. Department of Justice to support action projects in the field over the state.

Social Security

Q—During the summer months, I usually hire a maid and a gardener. When must I report their wages?

A—If you pay your maid or gardener cash wages of $50 or more during a calendar quarter, you must report the wages and send the social security contribution to the Internal Revenue Service. This report should be made during the first month after the quarter in which the wages were paid. Get a copy of "Social Security and Your Household Employee" (SSI-21) — from any special Security office for more information on this subject.

Q—I'm a gardener and I work for a number of different people. Does this work count for social security benefits?

A—If you are paid $50 or more from at least one of your employers in a calendar quarter, your earnings from that employer are covered under social security as wages. If, on the other hand, you work on a contract basis (by the job, hour, day, or week), furnish your own tools, and control your own activities (such as the hours you work), you may be covered as a self-employed person. In this case, you would report your earnings at the end of the year if, after expenses, you clear $400 or more.

Q—I often work for my husband in his business. He is the owner of a tavern. Is it possible for him to pay me wages and report them so I can become insured for social security purposes?

A—No. This is considered family employment and is not covered by social security. However, there are two exceptions. A wife can be covered by social security if her husband's business is incorporated or is a partnership in which at least one owner is not related to her.

Q—My wife is 62. Can she get social security retirement benefits if I don't retire?

A—If she has enough social security credit of her own to qualify as a retired worker, she can collect whether you retire or not. But she cannot get benefits based on your work record unless you are retired.

Q—My wife collects social security as my dependent. She just started working and will make more than $1,680 this year. How will this affect our checks?

A—Your check will stay the same, because your benefit is only affected if you work. But your wife's benefit will be reduced according to the amount she earns.
