Highlights and Sidelights
From Your State Capitol
By Vera Stanford

AUSTIN, Tex.—Top-flight business and industrial executives are getting an invitation to study the administration of state agencies and tell them how to do a better job, hopefully for less money.

House Committee on Efficiency and Economy urged Speaker Gus Mutscher to take the initiative in setting up an outside committee of experts.

Proposal actually originated with a Chicago consultant's preliminary review of 12 selected agencies. Consultant called for seven study teams of experts to do in depth surveys.

Chairman, Rep. Russell Cummings of Houston, said nearly everyone advocates "economy in the abstract," but "seldom is a studied, rational set of specifics advocated as a plan for saving tax dollars."

Committee is under no illusions that additional state spending will not be required as the state grows.

"The citizens are entitled to know that every tax dollar is being spent with maximum attention to efficiency and economy," said Cummings. "I feel that most of state government is being operated efficiently, but I am also convinced that additional savings can be pinpointed by experts from private enterprise organizations, studying operations within their own expertise."

JUNIOR COLLEGE SHIFT ADVISED — A far-reaching recommendation to discontinue financing junior colleges through local property taxes and turn the job over to the state has been offered by the Texas Research League.

During the next biennium, if this proposal were adopted, local taxpayers would be relieved of $72.9 million. State taxes of that amount would have to be provided. An alternative League recommendation is for the state to pay the operating costs and cost of future construction but to leave existing bonded indebtedness as the obligation of local property taxpayers. This would reduce the local-to-state tax transfer to $6 million, instead of $72.9 million.

League recommends a $200 million bond issue for 1971 and a $200 million issue for 1975 to pay for construction at all state colleges. Community colleges, League claimed, should be operated through locally-elected regional boards which might supervise several campuses.

League Director James W. McGrew said appropriations for community colleges, which will enroll two out of three freshmen and sophomores in state schools by the end of this decade, should be handled through the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System.

LABOR DAY TOLL WEIGHED —Forty-nine persons will be killed in Texas traffic crashes during the 78-hour Labor Day holiday weekend (September 4-7), Texas Department of Public Safety forecasts.

DPS will undertake activities to hold down holiday tragedies on streets and highways, but not ed that drivers themselves have the only real solution.

Most fatal accidents, DPS Director Wilson E. (Pat) Speir states, are due to general carelessness, excessive speed for conditions, failure to yield or stop, drinking drivers or drinking pedestrians. Most of these accidents, records show, involved only one vehicle.

Drivers were urged to be alert for developing dangerous situations and to be sure their vehicles are well maintained.

MARCH RECALLED — Mexican-American group leaders announced in advance they plan to issue a Labor Day proclamation "of vast political consequences", on the fourth anniversary of the 1966 minimum wage march.

Ceremonies (dedication of a monument to marchers and issuing the proclamation) will be held in New Braunfels where former Gov. John Connally confronted the 1966 group in a meeting which had long-lasting political repercussions.

Three to five thousand will participate in the September 7 events, a spokesman said. He declined to reveal if the proclamation will be an endorsement of candidates.

TAXES EXAMINED — A new committee study notes that Texas state and local taxes have increased 15 times — from $207 million in 1932 to $3.1 billion in 1969.

Property, sales, severance and business taxation make up 93 per cent of the total state and local tax revenue, reports the Committee on State and Local Tax Policy. Yet the other seven per cent amounts to more than $200 million a year (motor vehicle registration fees, inheritance taxes and drivers' licenses).

IRS Answers To Taxpayers Questions

Q—What should you do if you get a bill for taxes you've already paid?

A—If you have paid the tax recently you can disregard the notice. It was probably issued before the payment had been credited to your account.

However, if the payment was made more than four weeks ago return the notice, indicating when the payment was made and where it was sent.

If you have a cancelled check for the payment also indicate any numbers stamped on the check by IRS. This will help trace the payment.

Q—Is it true that stock market losses are only partially deductible under the new tax law?

A—The new law does make changes in the handling of long-term capital losses. These losses can still be used to offset capital gains, but when long-term capital losses are greater than capital gains, each $1 of the loss can be used to offset only 50c of ordinary income.

Short-term capital losses continue to offset ordinary income dollar for dollar.

Q—I work two jobs and both employers are taking out Social Security. Can I do anything about it?

A—The law requires each employer to withhold Social Security tax on the first $7,800 of an employee's wages. If more than the maximum of $374.40 is withheld for Social Security tax in 1970 because you had more than one employer, you can claim a credit for the excess on your 1970 income tax return.

Q—I do a lot of traveling on my new job. What kind of records should I keep on my food and lodging costs?

A—A cancelled check together with a bill stamped paid can be used to establish the amount of your lodging and the date. A diary or similar record of your meal costs is acceptable if entries are made when the costs are incurred.

Rules on travel expenses are detailed in Publication 463, Travel, Entertainment and Gift Expenses. For a free copy write your District Director.

Q—Can a self-employed individual set up his own retirement plan?

A—Yes, if you are in business for yourself you may deduct your contributions to a self-employed retirement plan, provided that the contributions are based on earned income. Your business can be either full or part-time.

For details, send a post card to your District Director and ask for a copy of Publication 566, Questions and Answers on Retirement Plans for the Self-Employed. It's free.

Q—There have been some changes in my tax situation since I filled out my estimated return in April. Can I change it now?

A—Yes, recompute your estimated tax on the worksheet included in your 1040ES package before you make your third installment payment in September. The amended tax figure and the new payment amount should be shown on the voucher you send in with your payment.

Veteran News

Q—I am 68 years old, and have been unemployed for the past four years because I am totally disabled. I have just learned that my $10,000 NSLI policy carries a waiver of premium clause for total disability prior to age 65. Can this waiver be granted on my policy now?

A—Yes. However, you must present evidence that your total disability began prior to your 65th birthday, and has existed continuously since then. Refund of premiums cannot be made for the entire period, but only for the period beginning one year prior to your application.

Q—I am a student in a flight school, and would like to assign my VA educational assistance payments to the school to guarantee payment of tuition. Can this be done?

A—No, VA educational assistance payments may not be assigned.

Q—I served three years on active duty from 1958 to 1961, and have become totally disabled since discharge. Am I eligible for a pension?

A—No. In order to qualify, you need 90 days of active duty, some part of which must be during wartime. The dates you served are classified as peacetime service. (The ending date for the Korean Conflict was Jan. 31, 1955; the Vietnam Era began Aug. 5, 1964.)

Q—My father was killed in service. Am I eligible for a guaranteed or insured G. I. Loan?

A—No. The law does not extend this benefit to the child of a veteran.

Q—My only income is $200 a month military retirement benefit based on longevity. I am without dependents and, due to a nonservice incurred disability, I am totally disabled and permanently bedridden. Am I eligible for VA pension benefits?

A—If you waive your entire retirement benefit, you may be eligible for a tax-free VA disability pension of $210 a month, which includes an aid and attendance benefit. Contact your nearest VA office.

Q—I am a veteran rated 100 per cent for service-connected disabilities incurred during peacetime. Am I eligible for outpatient treatment of ailments not related to military service?

A—No. You are not eligible unless you had some wartime service.

Q—I am attending school under the G. I. Bill. What must I do to qualify for the increased educational allowances under the recent amendment to the G. I. Bill?

A—No action is required on your part. The VA will automatically see that you receive the increased payments.

Q—I am 65 years old and plan to retire soon. Can I convert my National Service Life Insurance to the new Modified Life Plan?

A—No. The Modified Life Plan insurance is not available after six months have passed since your 60th birthday.

Q—I am a Vietnam veteran who plans to start a small business. May I use the G. I. loan for this purpose?

A—No. G. I. business loans are not available to Vietnam veterans. However, you might try the Small Business Administration.

Q—I have a service-connected shoulder condition with a 10 percent rating that I feel should be rated higher, because the condition has worsened since VA examined me. How can I get my compensation increased?

A—Start by submitting a statement from your local physician noting his findings concerning your shoulder. Or you can obtain, free, the necessary treatment for your shoulder condition at a VA medical clinic. If the medical statement or VA examination warrants it, your claim will be reconsidered.

Q—I receive disability pensions from VA, and if my income exceeds $1,000 per year, my pension payments will be reduced. If I sell my house at a profit and use the money to buy another home, will my pension payments be reduced?

A—No, for two reasons. First, it is a one-time payment. Therefore, it will have no effect upon an award because it may not be used as a basis of adjustment until the first of the year following that in which it was received.

Second, under such circumstances, profit from the sale of a house is not considered income, and is not usually considered as creating too large an estate for pension purposes when used to purchase another dwelling.

Did you ever watch the ripples sent out by one little pebble tossed on the water? You never know how far the ripples go, nor how many there will be. A word, a gesture, an act on your part, may send out ripples that affect more lives than you know. Why not toss out a pebble and invite someone to the Donley County Crusade For Christ each night from September 20 - 27. Go with them to the Crusade and see the ripples start.

Welfare Reform Bill

By ARCH N. BOOTH
Executive Vice President, U.S. Chamber of Commerce
Shall We Put Every Eighth Person in America on Welfare?

The Administration's "welfare reform bill," H. R. 16311, has been passed by the House of Representatives. It is now before the Senate Finance Committee.

There are some things about this bill that make you wonder: —It would guarantee a minimum income to all families in this country, as much as $7,520 a year to some where the father is fully employed.

—It would triple the number of families on welfare.

—It would increase the number of persons on welfare from 10,436,000 to 23,205,000, according to Senate Finance Committee statistics.

In some states — Arkansas, Colorado, Georgia, Indiana, Tennessee and Texas, for instance — it would more than double the number of persons on welfare. In Mississippi, Nebraska and Virginia, it would increase the number of welfare recipients nearly three times; in North Carolina and South Dakota, nearly four times; and in South Carolina and North Dakota, nearly five times.

—It would put every eighth person in America on welfare.

For the first year, this welfare program would cost about $11 billion. But that's only the beginning.

The cost would go up each year. And no one can tell how high it would go, as politicians campaign for public office with promises to keep raising the level of guaranteed income.

There is already a bill pending in Congress, proposing a $5,500 minimum income, at an estimated annual cost to the taxpayer of $60 billion.

This comes at a time when federal spending should be held in check. A deficit of $10-$15 billion is projected for the current fiscal year 1971. For 1972, the deficit could reach $23 billion.

Continued excessive spending leads to unstoppable inflation.

Business, large and small, across the country, as represented by the National Chamber federation, strongly favors welfare reform. Business recognizes that welfare reform is past due, and would like to see something done about it.

The Chamber, however, does not favor the Administration's welfare reform bill, H. R. 16311.

The reason the Chamber does not support this bill is not alone because of the tremendous cost involved, but more especially because the bill is NOT a welfare reform measure, even though that is what its proponents call it. It is welfare expansion; it merely piles another aid program on top of those which already exist.

It is not basic, it does not get to the heart of the problem. It does not solve the family welfare problem.

Welfare reform is needed, but not merely a guaranteed annual income for certain families, and a guaranteed annual tax increase for the rest of the citizens.

Therefore, the National Chamber federation feels that Congress should come through with a real welfare program. Specifically:

—We favor doing a better job than is now being done of taking care of those people who are unable to support themselves, the aged, the blind, the disabled.

—We are for meeting the living needs of able-bodied adults with children in need, and who are on AFDC — Aid to Families with Dependent Children. But these able-bodied adults should be given training for productive jobs — for self-support — and they can be.

—We favor free family planning counseling and devices.

—We support adequate funding of day-care centers and child-care arrangements to help welfare mothers move into gainful employment and self-support.

—We are for a constructive program of occupational rehabilitation, with living allowances to help the individual meet daily family needs while in training, and with built-in incentives to take a job.

But we are not in favor of the H.R. 16311 welfare expansion program that would put every eighth person in America on relief — and that would carry with it no true work incentive for the able-bodied adult.

Texas Historical Center Open All Year At San Antonio

Students, parents, and educators are reminded that Texas' historical display center remains open, free of admission charge, throughout the year.

The Institute of Texan Cultures at San Antonio, part of the University of Texas System, presents the story of Texas in personal terms, with a highly visual impact. There are films, slides, music and artifact exhibits, all designed to please the eye and hold attention.

There is no admission charge. Major use is made of old photos and other illustrations, along with easy-to-read text panels, to tell of individual achievements by Texans of all times and all cultures.

Increasing numbers of Texas school children and educators are taking advantage of the supplementary material as a background to studies of history.

School term hours, September through May, will be from 10 a. m. to 4 p.m. Tuesdays through Fridays, and from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays. The building is closed Mondays.

For further information, call Mrs. Pat Thatcher at (512) 226-7651, or write to her at P. O. Box 1226, San Antonio, Texas 78206.

Plant Swapping Can Bring Plant Disease

Plant swapping often gives the intended beneficiary a great deal more than realized in the original bargain.

Root-Knot nematodes and a whole host of root-rot may hitch a ride on the newly acquired plants and come as an "extra bonus" with the bargain, notes County Agent Ronald Gooch. This in turn may serve to infest a complete flower bed or an entire farm.

New plants should be carefully inspected before planting to make sure that all parts appear normal. If doubt exists, the plant should be sacrificed in the interest of protecting existing plants. Most plant diseases organisms, he says are difficult to eliminate once they become established.

Root-Knot nematodes are probably the most commonly transported plant problem. The life cycle occurs inside plant root tissues with egg, larval, and male forms present in the soil. Transport of fill soil may also move the organism from one place to another. Once established, growers are faced with the control alternatives of using resistant plants or nematicide chemicals to reduce nematode populations in the soil.

The grower's best protection lies in being able to recognize symptoms of plant diseases and then carefully observing newly acquired plant materials, Gooch said, adding that the smart gardener doesn't let plant swapping turn into a nematode and plant disease exchange.

Early Teal Season Set Again This Year

Texas shotgunners again will be able to test their shooting eyes on the sporty teal this September as the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has authorized continuation of the early teal season throughout the state.

The season will be September 12-20, from sunrise to sunset, with an aggregate limit of four per day of bluewing, greenwing or cinnamon teal. Possession limit is eight.

The special early season is held to provide a harvest of the birds which traditionally migrate south earlier than other waterfowl. The bluewings in particular are early, passing through Texas on their way to South America from mid-August through September.

Although the teal season has been set by the Commission, official action on regulations for this year's seasons on other duck species, geese and sandhill cranes will not be taken until August 19 Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission meeting.

Hunters need no special permit to participate in the early season, but a 1970-71 Texas hunting license is required if hunting outside the county of residence. Non-resident hunters should have a non-resident hunting license or a five-day migratory bird license. Federal duck stamps also are a requirement for all duck hunters.

U. S. TREASURY ANNOUNCES 1/2% BONUS ON SAVINGS BONDS

Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy, acting to implement a law signed last night by President Nixon, announced that a 1/2 percent bonus will be added to the interest rate paid to longer-term holders of United States Savings Bonds.

This bonus will raise the effective interest rate on new Bonds, when held to maturity, from 5 to 5 1/2 percent.

The increase, which is retroactive to June 1, 1970, will also result in improved yields on outstanding Series E and Series H Bonds.

The millions of Americans who own Savings Bonds — including those 10 million persons who purchase them regularly through payroll savings plans — will now have an extra incentive to hold on to them. For those who have not yet purchased Savings Bonds, the increase provides the added attraction of a bonus on their savings that make an important contribution to the sound financing of our nation's government, Secretary Kennedy said.

The Secretary noted that the bonus provides a means of increasing the return to longer-term savers at a time of generally high interest rates. While the Treasury will retain flexibility to modify the bonus on future sales and extension, Secretary Kennedy emphasized that all Bonds now held or newly purchased are assured of receiving the full 1/2 percent bonus through their next maturity.

LAW VIOLATIONS SEEN ON NEWSPAPER PAGES

The beaming face of a proud eight-year-old boy grinned from the front page of a Central Texas weekly newspaper.

Between the lad's outstretched hands was the lifeless body of a mature red-tailed hawk he had shot.

A big event in the life of a boy, perhaps. But also a violated state law.

Had the boy known that all hawks are protected by state law he might have held his fire. And had the newspaper editor known it, he might have selected a different front page photo.

Hawks have been shot indiscriminately through the years, but most states now have realized the birds are beneficial and deserve the protection of laws.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department law enforcement officials remind hunters of all ages that the only birds which still are not protected by either State or Federal law are English sparrows, starlings, crows and ravens.
