County Banks Hit All-Time High With Over 16 Million In Deposits

The three Banks of Donley County hit a new high in deposits as revealed this past week in a bank call as of April 18, 1972. The total for all three banks, The Farmers State Bank and Trust Co., The Donley County State Bank, both of Clarendon and the Security State Bank of Hedley, was $16,145,227.41.

This was over a half million more than the figure December 31, 1971 which showed a total of $15,594,648.59, an increase of $550,578.82. This figure was pushed up with the crop money coming in after the first of the year, but there has been lots of money going out for taxes of all sorts, mainly the income tax.

At this same period of time, the total loans for all three banks was $10,078,826.41 which is also an increase of $839,009.68 over the December figure of $9,239,816.73.

Lone Star Asks Rate Increase

Lone Star Gas Company Wednesday asked the City of Clarendon to increase local residential and commercial natural gas rates by approximately 10% to enable the company to earn a reasonable rate of return on the fair value of properties used to serve the public.

The application for rate increase listed cost of buying gas, higher property and equipment costs, increased costs for employee compensation, higher interest rates on borrowed money and increased taxes as primary reasons for the income deficiency.

"In addition," stated A. E. Swearingen, manager of the Clarendon distribution office, "Lone Star has a commitment to its customers to vigorously compete for supplies of natural gas to keep its reserves in a favorable position. While other sections of the country are experiencing some shortages of natural gas, Lone Star has maintained favorable supplies. The gas cost adjustment portion of the application placed before the City Council today," continued Mr. Swearingen, "will help Lone Star maintain its favorable gas supply position and assure our customers of natural gas service for the future."

Approval of the company's application would increase the average monthly residential gas bill by approximately $3.77.

Lone Star serves more than 950 customers in Clarendon.

NEW AND USED
TYPEWRITERS & ADDERS
AT THE LEADER

According to County Clerk, P. C. Messer, a total of 99 absentee ballots have been cast in the first primary election which is a real good indication of a large turnout of voters Saturday, May 6. Out of this number, 91 were Democrats and 8 were Republicans.

Interest in all races from the local level to national has picked up this past week and it is about time that voters stop to think just which candidate is the best suited for the job, which one will serve in the best interests of everyone instead of a select few and on the local level, just which candidate will serve in harmony with other elected officials in the courthouse.

As a public service, a sample ballot is being published this week in the Leader thru the courtesy of Frank Lindsey, Candidate for Sheriff, Tax Assessor-Collector of Donley County. It will be found on the front page of the second section of the Leader.

Considerable interest is being taken in state and US races with five candidates vying for the office of U. S. Senator. For U. S. Representative is Graham Purcell, Democrat and Bob Price, Republican.

In the Governor's race, our present Governor Preston Smith is showing up stronger with the top contenders Ben Barnes and Dolph Briscoe. Smith is the only candidate for Governor from the Panhandle area. In the race for Attorney General, John Hill seems to be giving Crawford Martin a good race for the office. Robert S. Calvert appears to be the top candidate for re-election as Comptroller of Public Accounts and Jesse James is strong for re-election as State Treasurer. Byron Tunnell is the strong contender for re-election as Railroad Commissioner.

Coming closer to home, Eddie J. Leary and Phil Cates have a hot race going for State Representative in the Democratic column and Tom Christian is unopposed in the Republican race for the same office.

In the District Attorney race, it is a hard fought race with all three candidates beating the bushes for votes. Latest report shows Paul Spillman gaining ground on Jack Boone and John M. Deaver.

On the county level, there are two candidates for the Sheriff's position, Frank Lindsey Jr. and Truett Behrens. Lindsey is presently serving as a Deputy at Hedley. Behrens served several years as deputy and Sheriff before being defeated in 1964 by Bill Cornell. He announced for the office in 1968 but withdrew. Cornell was elected again over Frank Tyler. Clyde James, present Sheriff, chose not to seek re-election this time. This is Lindsey's first time to seek the office although he has been associated with peace officer duty and has had special schooling in this field of work.

It's a wide-open race for Commissioner of Precinct 1 with four candidates in the race. Doyce Graham, Gene White, Steve Reynolds and J. B. Lane. The present commissioner, Clarence Reynolds chose not to seek re-election.

In various other races there is no opposition.

Be sure to go to the polls Saturday and cast your ballot. Voting places may be found elsewhere in the Leader.

Highlights and Sidelights

From Your State Capitol

By BILL BOYKIN
Texas Press Association

An estimated 1.85 million Texas Democrats are about to decide one of the most significant primary elections in years.

Another 100,000 or more will vote in the Republican primary Saturday (May 6).

Both parties will also conduct important precinct conventions May 6 — first step in the presidential primaries in both parties. Little attention has been devoted to the conventions beyond a prolonged Democratic scrap over adoption of new procedural rules.

Democrats almost certainly will go into June 3 runoffs for both governor and lieutenant governor — and perhaps other statewide elections.

Gov. Preston Smith, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde and State Rep. Frances (Sissy) Farenthold of Corpus Christi are major contenders for the Democratic gubernatorial runoff spots.

The lieutenant governor's field is also closely bunched in the stretch drive with State Sens. Wayne Connally of Floresville, Ralph Hail of Rockwall and Joe Christie of El Paso and Houston newspaper executive William P. Hobby the top contenders.

Former Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough is favored to win the Democratic U. S. Senate nomination

PASS IN REVIEW—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and General W. C. Westmoreland, chief of staff of the Army, review troops of the 101st Airborne Division (Airmobile) at ceremonies marking the division's return from Vietnam. Thousands of local residents assembled on the runway of the over Barefoot Sanders and face GOP. Sen. John Tower in November.

Republican gubernatorial candidates staging serious campaigns include State Sen. Henry Grover of Houston, Dave Reagan of Sherman, Al Fay of Houston and Tom McElroy of Dallas. John A. Hall of Weatherford has also put up a fight.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin is challenged for re-election by John Hill of Houston, and Comptroller Robert S. Calvert and Treasurer Jesse James have multiple opposition.

A minimum of 58 — maybe as many as 80 — new state representatives will be elected and at least 11 new state senators.

FINAL TPA REGIONAL

POLLS REVEALED — Political polls were taken at two regional newspaper meetings last week — at the South Texas Press Association meeting in Kerrville and the Panhandle Press Association meeting in Amarillo. There are the final polls before the Primary, May 6.

South Texas editors were asked who "would carry their counties" — and for "whom will they vote."

Results were (I believe the following will carry my county in the primary):

Governor's race: Briscoe, 14; Farenthold, 14; Barnes, 7 and Smith 5 (Democratic). Fay, 12; Grover, 3. (Republican).

Lt. Governor: Connally, 19; Hobby, 11; Christie, 3; Hall, 3 and Jones 1.

U. S. Senate: Yarborough, 24 and Sanders, 5.

On the question "I plan to vote for the following", editors voted. Governor: Briscoe, 17; Farenthold, 11; Smith, 4 and Barnes, 3 (Democratic). Fay, 1. (Republican). (Primary).

Lt. Governor: Connally, 13, Hobby, 12 and Christie, 2. (Primary). Sanders, 13 (Primary); Tower, 21. (General).

Panhandle publishers voted on the question "I believe the following will carry my county in the primary" in this manner.

Governor: Briscoe, 48; Barnes, 19; Smith, 18 and Farenthold, 1 (Democratic). Grover, 17; McElroy, 16; Fay, 14 and Reagan, 7 (Republican).

Lt. Governor: Connally, 70; Hobby, 7; Hall, 5; Christie, 1 and Jones, 1.

U. S. Senate: Sanders, 36 and Yarborough, 34.

The editors said they would "vote" for the following in the primary: Governor: Briscoe, 37; Barnes, 18; Smith, 16 and Farenthold, 11 (Democratic). Reagan, 3; Fay, 2 and Grover, 1 (Republican).

Lt. Governor: Connally, 54; Hobby, 10; Christie, 7; Hall, 6 and Jones, 2.

U. S. Senate: Sanders, 39; Yarborough, 24 and Cartledge, 3.

In the general election poll, they selected Tower with 47 votes over Yarborough's 20 and Sanders' 9. NO MEDICATED EVICTIONS — No sick poor are going to be thrown out of hospitals before they are well due to new curbs on Medicaid, the State Welfare Department pledges.

The new American Physicians Union claimed in advertisements that Welfare Department guidelines set a limit on hospital stays for each illness.

A department spokesman said nobody will be thrown out who needs to stay in the hospital and that the guidelines were meant merely to suggest normal care periods for ailments and age groups. If additional hospitalization is needed, it will be paid for, a department official stated.

The Medicaid program, which cost $142 million for the current fiscal year, is paid two-thirds by the federal government and one-third by the state.

TRAFFIC DEATHS INCREASE — Traffic deaths this year have increased two per cent over 1971, the Department of Public Safety reports.

DPS recorded 904 deaths compared with 888 for early 1971. Deaths on interstate highways actually dropped six per cent, but fatalities in city limits jumped 11 per cent, DPS said.

COURTS SPEAK — The Court of Criminal Appeals held defendants in criminal cases have the right to look at statements of witnesses against them.

Grand Prairie cannot hold a local option liquor election since it is located in two counties, the State Supreme Court concluded.

The High Court reversed an intermediate court and ordered re-trial of a Houston man's suit for damages as the result of a freon can explosion.

A Vietnam war casualty's widow can contest his girl friend for his insurance, the High Court held.

RATLIFF QUILTS — Sen. David Ratliff of Stamford resigned his post and withdrew as a candidate for a House seat after disclosures that he had several relatives on legislative payrolls.

Ratliff, 60, said his "past mistakes or bad judgment" should not reflect on other members of the Texas Senate.

His immediate resignation will allow time for election of a successor before the June special legislative session, Ratliff stated. Timing of his withdrawal from the House race will follow consultation with local party officials.

Ratliff did not seek re-election to the senate when his district was merged with that of Sen.

Jack Hightower of Vernon.

MEAT PRICES MAY RISE — This year's spring drought may again cause meat prices to rise, Agriculture Commissioner John White warns.

If the drought continues, said White, cattlemen will have to reduce their herds.

"Meat prices should come down, but this will be only temporary," said White. "After those cattle are sold, there again will be a shortage of livestock which will result again in higher meat prices."

The same thing, according to White, happened last year in a rainless period.

MASS TB X-RAY SCREENING OUT — Texas State Department of Health announced skin testing has replaced the mass X-Ray screening for tuberculosis in Texas.

X-Rays are recommended only for those persons testing positive in skin checks and those in high-risk groups.

The Health Department will continue to use mobile X-Ray units — mainly for following testing. The Texas case rate for new, active tuberculosis is 25.8 per 100,000 population. The national average is 18.3.

NEWS FROM Congressman

The House of Representatives last week tabled one of the most dangerous resolutions I have seen since coming to Congress, and I was very pleased to be one of those voting to table it.

New York Congresswoman Bella Abzug introduced a "resolution of inquiry" which would have had the President and Secretary of Defense furnishing the House of Representatives within 10 days with full and complete information concerning the specifics of various military operations in Southeast Asia. Among other things itemized for disclosure by the President was the target date for total withdrawal of American forces in Vietnam. Making this kind of information public would have greatly aided

Even though the House voted to table the resolution — and by a decisive vote of 270 - 113 at that — I am distressed that there are those in Congress who fail to see the genuine danger into which they would be putting our own fighting men if that resolution were to have been adopted. Again let me say I am glad it was tabled.

SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH
In other action, we considered and passed an important bill which was reported to the House favorably by the Science and Astronautics Committee of which I am a member. I voted for it. It authorizes appropriations to the National Science Foundation which was established in 1950 for the promotion of basic research and education in the sci-

Among other scientific experiments presently going on is one involving the injection of 10 times the dose of strontium 90 necessary to kill a human being into a shark's brain and which we have discovered the shark is able to throw off. If we are able to develop a vaccine which could be administered to humans, we could withstand a nuclear attack and be immune from radioactive fallout which could render nuclear warfare obsolete.

Another scientific experiment involved placing electrodes in animals in the sea which have already demonstrated their inherent, God-given ability to detect pollution in whatever their environment in parts per billion instead of parts per million as do the detecting devices developed by scientists. We hope that eventually an earth-circling satellite could monitor these sea animals and transmit this information back to our computers on earth. In this way action could be taken to prevent pollution of our vital resources instantly at any point on the planet.

Social Security

My mother had surgery, but is ready to leave the hospital. She insists on coming home. Will Medicare pay for a private nurse or for any nursing service? Her incision needs to be dressed daily.

A. Medicare will not pay for full-time nursing care at home, but certain home health benefits may be available to her. Part-time nursing care, part-time services of home health aides, medical supplies and appliances, physical therapy, etc., may be available from an approved home health agency. However, her doctor must make the referral and file a plan of home treatment within 14 days after the patient leaves the hospital (after at least a 3-day stay) or a participating extended care facility.

Q. I am a domestic worker and am employed by a number of different people. Should this work count for social security benefits?
A. If you are paid $50 or more by any one employer in a calendar quarter it does count for social security benefits. If you believe your wages are not being properly reported, ask your Social Security Office for help.

Q. Both my husband and I receive social security benefits based on his work. I understand a person may earn up to $1680 a year and receive all benefits. May each of us earn $1680 or is that the amount we may earn together?
A. Each of you may earn up to $1680 in a year and receive all of your benefits. If you earn over $1680 in a year, your earnings will reduce only your benefit and not the benefits of your husband; however, his earnings can reduce both your benefits and his benefits because payments are based on his work credits.

Q. I am working in Civil Service, but before I had this job I worked on a job covered by social security. I have already earned the required number of quarters for social security benefits for a man of my age. When I reach retirement age, I will have 20 years of service with the government. How will the two retirement programs be combined?
A.—They will not be combined.

Now Time To Check Roses For Aphids

Roses serve as an ideal spring host for aphids, and increased populations of the insect have been noted recently in Donley County, reports County Agricultural Agent Ronald Gooch.

The tiny green to pale yellow colored insect pests feed on plant juices. Heavy infestations reduce plant vigor and growth. Aphids feeding on the buds may cause them to be deformed or to lose their natural beauty.

Honeydew, a by-product of aphid digestion, becomes evident on plant foliage as aphid numbers increase, points out Gooch. The sticky liquid gives leaves a shiny appearance and enhances leaf disease problems. Sooty mold fungus will grow on honeydew and this gives plants a black appearance. The homeowner may want to wash plants after aphids are controlled to remove the sooty mold fungus growth, suggests the agent.

Several insecticides are recommended for controlling aphids on roses. These include diazinon, dimethoate, lindane, malathion and meta-systox-R. Di-syston 2 percent systemic insecticide for garden use as a soil treatment will also provide aphid control on roses.

Gooch cautions homeowners to read the label on the insecticide container before use and to follow directions carefully. "Safety" is a key when using any insecticide, adds the agent.

BROTHER OF LOCAL LADY DIES AT PAMPA

Fred Mouser, brother of Mrs. L. H. Carmichael, died Tuesday morning at Pampa following a lengthy illness.

Service will be held Friday afternoon at 2 p.m. in the Carmichael-Whately Funeral Chapel at Pampa.

He is also survived by his wife, Clea, of Pampa, a daughter, Dorothy Carmichael of Denver, another sister, four brothers, one grandchild and two great-grandsons.

Water According To Basic Type Of Soil

Due to the lack of spring rains, most homeowners are getting into the regular routine of watering their lawns and gardens. The key to watering for lush, green plant growth all summer is to base your watering schedule on the type of soil, says County Agricultural Agent Ronald Gooch.

If the lawn has a tight, heavy or compact soil, water movement will be slow. So, waterings at a slow rate for a long period will be necessary to allow the water to move through the soil and to prevent run-off.

For lighter, sandy soils through which water moves rapidly, light waterings at more frequent intervals are usually needed. With heavy waterings, the water will only move through the soil and beyond the root zone of plants, notes Gooch.

Therefore, it's important to know the rate at which the soil in your yard or garden can take up moisture, adds the agent. Moisture penetration can be checked with a two-foot long steel rod about 3/8 to 1/2 inch in diameter. Bend one end of the rod to form a short handle. The rod should be easily pushed to the two-foot depth if the lawn has been watered properly.

Deep watering will encourage deeper penetration of plant roots, points out Gooch. Roots will move through moist soil easily and will grow better. Thus the result will be more healthy topgrowth.

New Labeling For Frozen Dinners

Provisions are being established to provide nutrition information on precooked frozen convenience heat-and-serve dinners.

The Food and Drug Administration will ask manufacturers to follow guidelines voluntarily, but it won't require compliance. Sally Springer, foods and nutrition specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said that the proposal would include minimum levels of protein, vitamin A, thiamine, riboflavin, niacin, iron and iodine.

"According to the proposal, frozen dinners will contain meat, poultry, fish or cheese protein, rice or other cereal-based products and vegetables other than potatoes, rice or other cereal-based product."

"In addition," Miss Springer said, "dinners may contain other components."

Another aspect of the proposal is that frozen dinners will contain a minimum of 340 calories and state on the label the actual number of calories.

"These proposals are being evaluated," Miss Springer said. "Indeed this will help standardize frozen convenience heat-and-serve dinners."

Further expanding its overseas benefits counseling program, VA announced recently an agreement with the Navy for briefings of servicemen aboard four aircraft carriers.

VA recently issued another reminder to veterans that the agency is not affiliated with private cemeteries offering burial plots free or at nominal costs.

Tornado Watch And Warning Signals

In the event a Tornado Watch is placed in effect for our area and our weather is threatening Two (2) Blasts will be sounded on the siren at one hour intervals as long as the condition prevails.

Should the weather deteriorate and a Tornado Warning be placed in effect Two (2) Blasts will be sounded on the siren at more frequent intervals depending on the severity of the weather. On this signal preparations should be made to seek a place of safety.

In the event an actual tornado is sighted or reported moving in the direction of the city the siren will be sounded continually until the danger is past. On this signal a place of safety should be found immediately.

Don't confuse the following Fire Signals with the storm warning blasts of the siren.

- 1 Blast of the Siren - Grass Fire or Out of Town Fire.
- 3 Blast of the Siren - Dwelling or Business Fire.

Texas Boaters Warned Of Organization

Texas boaters have been warned not to be taken in by a spurious organization selling phony boat registration certificates.

Calling itself the "U. S. Merchant Marine Association," the organization has sent offers for "registration" to boat owners in several areas across the country.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials remind Texas boaters that they need only register their boats with the department in order to operate their crafts in the state's public waters.

The U. S. Coast Guard said the registration of boats is the responsibility of state governments except in the states of New Hampshire, Washington, Alaska and the District of Columbia, where it is the responsibility of the Coast Guard.

Hog Cholera Shows Up In Tex. Panhandle

The first outbreak of hog cholera in the Texas Panhandle in recent history has left many hog owners and animal health officials edgy over the thought of a widespread epidemic.

Until just this past January, Texas was well on the way to being declared completely free of the dread swine disease but then was hit with an outbreak in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. The first case in the Panhandle was found in a herd in Moore County and confirmed by the federal animal pathology laboratory in Ames, Iowa, on April 26.

"There is no effective treatment and also no vaccine currently available in the United States," says Dr. Gene Cope, area veterinarian for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Amarillo.

The modified live virus vaccine that was used in past years was discontinued in Texas as the state went through the phases of the cholera eradication program in the late 1960's and early 1970's.

If a swine owner has the disease confirmed in his herd, federal and state laws require that the entire herd be killed and buried under governmental supervision, the veterinarian reports.

Cope says that the disease affects only swine and is not dangerous to other domestic animals or to humans. It can be spread by either direct contact from animal to animal; or indirectly by contaminated feed, water or handling equipment.

"Adding pigs exposed in transit, in sale barns, or in stockyards to a cholera-free herd will almost surely result in an outbreak," the veterinarian emphasizes. The disease usually spreads slowly through a herd and affects virtually every hog on the premises.

Cope offers several suggestions for Panhandle swine producers to protect their hogs. He says to isolate any replacement pigs for three weeks before putting them with the main herd.

Producers should not allow anyone near their herd who has been in contact with other herds in the area because the disease can be easily spread on shoes and clothing.

Producers should also provide protective clothing for all visitors to their barns. The visitors should be required to put on the clothing before entering the barns and to take the clothing off before leaving the premises.

A final suggestion is to eradicate all rodents on the farm to prevent the spread of any of the cholera virus that may be present.

Accent On Health HEART ATTACKS

Your heart is the sturdiest, toughest muscle of your body. The work it does is almost miraculous. Yet too many Texans are neglecting the health and conditioning of that heart muscle. In this computerized age exercise has become the uncommon thing, and our urbanized society and the fast pace of living that society demands adds tensions and stresses to that tough heart muscle that it cannot tolerate indefinitely.

State health officials are increasingly concerned over the large incidence of heart disease in Texas and across the nation. "Each day, on the average, heart disease kills some 1,400 Americans, and cerebral brain strokes take another 500 lives," said Dr. James E. Peavy, Texas Commissioner of Health. "In total, the toll is more than one life a minute. Uncounted hundreds of thousands are crippled every year."

Many of these people actually lived their way into a premature heart attack by habit or choice running certain risks that raised their chances of being stricken. Their seemingly sudden heart attack had been building up to crisis for years.

Many heart attacks could have been prevented. By simple knowledge, and action, most heart attack victims could have reduced any of nine risk factors which make a man more susceptible to a heart attack far too early in life.

After many years of medical research we know heart disease is due to a conspiracy of factors. There is no single cause, but a combination of causes.

These are the chief suspects: High blood pressure. High levels of cholesterol, a particularly dangerous fatty materials, in the bloodstream. Overweight. Excessive eating, especially of certain types of fats and cholesterol. Too little exercise and physical activity. Diabetes. Excessive cigarette smoking. Tensions and stresses. Heredity. These are the nine risk factors of heart disease.

"A man's chances of having a heart attack before age 65 are only about one in 20 to one in 50 if he is normal in these risk factors," said Dr. Peavy. "If he is shadowed by two or three of these risk factors, such as high blood cholesterol, high blood pressure, or heavy smoking, his chances rise to one in two—or 50 percent."

"It is important for every Texan to take measures now to avoid heart disease by avoiding as many risk factors as possible," said Dr. Peavy.

Texas Hawks Have Full Protection

All species of hawks in Texas have full protection of the law, says the Texas Parks and wildlife Department.

During spring months many hunters are in the field and woods for squirrel, javelina and cottontail rabbits, and the temptation to shoot the so-called "chicken hawk" may be great, but the game management officers say no.

Hawks more than pay their way with the large number of rats, mice, rabbits, snakes and lizards they include in their diet.

Hawks in the state during the spring are either on their way back north on migration flights, or else are nesting.

NEW AND USED TYPEWRITERS & ADDERS AT THE LEADER

ARMY VOCALISTS—Sgt. Cynthia Stephens (left) and Pvt. Ann Sanburn will be singing with the U.S. Army Field Band on a "Sing Out for America" tour in the Fifth Army Area during April and May. The U.S. Army Field Band accepted women vocalists for the first time last year on a temporary-duty basis. Specialist Stephens, a member of the Brooke Army Medical Center WAC Company, is from Mesa, Ariz. Private Sanburn is a student in the U.S. Army Medical Field Service School and her hometown is Flint, Mich.

Parents & Teenagers

"I remember when . . ." "When I was your age . . ." Statements such as these and other nostalgic glances into the past don't have a place in child-rearing, according to family life education specialist Dorothy Taylor.

long with people, ethical concepts, honesty and dishonesty and religious training. People also still need to acquire certain basic skills such as learning how to cook or fix a flat tire, sharing experiences and telling children about safety."

The specialist said that the same can be said for educational opportunities.

"They're still important," she explained. "For the parents these were probably limited — even more so for the mother. So, many parents just don't feel comfortable with the thought that their child isn't going to college. In fact, they're horrified."

Yet many young people today desire to enter a trade and become a craftsman. The child believes (and rightly so, according to many experts) that America has quickly become too heavy with intellectual brain machines and has a critical need for intellectually endowed craftsmen and people who operate in a practical world.

If a son or daughter goes off to college, many parents aren't comfortable on today's college campus — especially if either of them attended the same school.

"I remember when this was a small, quiet campus. Look at it now," they say.

Another aspect that parents can't solve with yesterday's solutions involves the appropriate amount of spending money for miscellaneous activities.

"Stop and consider what your teenager spends money for," Miss Taylor advised. "Most of the activities weren't even thought to be possible 25 years ago."

Other areas of possible conflict include how youth feel about the draft, civil rights, styles of dress, personal appearance, authority, pressure to get good marks in school and the position of the female in society.

The specialist said that "I remember when . . ." may work in some cases, but before applying it or using it as a solution to a problem today, consider if the problem you're trying to solve is really the same as it was when you were a child or whether anyone even thought this situation would ever occur.

THE BIGGEST PUZZLE IS "WHO WINS?"

Some two years ago congressional hearings helped spotlight abuses in connection with sweepstakes prizes offered but never awarded in mail offerings.

Last year the Federal Trade Commission secured agreements from some of the large promoters in which the companies agreed to award all offered prizes. Several other companies voluntarily adopted the same policy. Still my office continues to receive complaints concerning fake puzzle contests.

Some of these complaints center around contests which are "free" but some involve contests in which it costs to participate. A typical example of the latter type is the puzzle in which a contestant is asked to identify word and picture clues such as "The opposite of white is . . ." "Five plus three equals . . ." And "The moon comes out at . . ."

Using the first letter of each of the above words the entrant would then have to spell out and select the correct first name of the famous American whose picture would be shown. There might be clues given such as "He helped write the Declaration of Independence" — "He flew a kite in a storm with a key tied to the tail and discovered electricity." You would have to fill in the first name . . . with

Q—I signed up for Medicare about 30 days ago. I have not received my Medicare card and I have to go to the hospital shortly. What should I do?

A—You have not had time to receive your card. If time permits, you could be issued a temporary letter of eligibility by your local social security office. If this is not possible, when you check into the hospital, just tell them at the admission office that you have signed up for Medicare. The hospital will check with social security to verify that you are eligible.

Q—My doctor had always filed my Medicare claim for me. The last time I was there he told me that he could no longer do this because his billing clerk had quit. I can't pay him until I receive the Medicare payment. What can I do?

A—It is not necessary that the bill be paid before a claim can be filed. All you need do is obtain an itemized statement from your doctor and then file a claim direct with Medicare.

Q—I was hurt on the job and Workman's Compensation will pay all my medical bills. Can I also collect from Medicare?

A—No.

the last name of Franklin being given. Possible choices for names as shown in an accompanying list might be — Ben — Ted — Ike — Pat — and Max. It would be very difficult for even a fifth grade child to fail to solve a puzzle as simple as this one.

After the entrant sends in his solution, he is informed that he is officially tied for first place in the contest. All persons who have sent in the correct solutions are notified that there will be a series of tie-breakers which they must solve to be eligible for a prize but if the contestant wants to qualify for an even larger prize, they are asked to enclose $2 to $5 for each tie-breaker.

The scheme is that while the initial puzzle and most of the early tie-breakers are ridiculously easy, as you get to the end of the tie-breakers, the puzzles become so difficult that even an extraordinary person would have only a faint chance of coming up with the correct solution.

Recently a man who operated a puzzle contest out of Palm Beach, Florida, entered a plea of guilty in Federal Court to twenty-eight counts of mail fraud and one count for using a fictitious name. This individual utilized mail and magazine advertisements to attract puzzle enthusiasts throughout the United States. Contestants paid entry fees ranging from $2 to $5 for sets of the puzzle. The "winners" of one series would be required to enter tie-breakers "to be eligible for further fees and promises of larger prizes."

The facts were that, while some prize winners received money, others were not even informed they had won. Investigators found that some of the larger prizes went to people who had not even entered the contest. It was reported that four winner's checks of $30,000.00 went to friends and relatives of a woman friend of the promoter's. According to postal authorities, the recipient then deposited the money in Canadian banks and it eventually emptied into the promoter's own bank account in Florida.

Be an informed consumer. Don't fall for schemes such as this.

Governor Proclaims Senior Citizen Month

Governor Preston Smith has proclaimed May as Senior Citizens Month continuing the 10-year tradition of designating a month to honor older Texans.

"Texas values its senior citizens," he said. "They should be commended and respected for their continuing efforts to build a better society for all citizens."

He said there is a need for greater public awareness of the contributions of Older Texans, and also "concern for the problems many face as they grow older."

During May, which is also the national observance of Senior Citizens Month, special activities and programs sponsored by the Governor's Committee on Aging and local committees on aging will be planned for older persons.

Mrs. Carter Clifton, Executive Director of the Governor's Committee on Aging said, "Independent living for the elderly is the theme of Senior Citizen's Month this year."

Supportive services which enable elderly persons to remain in their own homes for a longer period of time will be stressed and publicized, she said. Such services include:

Meals-on-Wheels. A balanced meal is delivered daily to elderly persons who can no longer cook for themselves. The nutritional value and the personal contact are both important in this program.

Transportation. Seeing a doctor, buying groceries, and even going to church is very difficult for many of the elderly. Transportation programs aimed at meeting these needs can do much to prevent degeneration.

Homemaker Service. Homemakers clean house, buy groceries, furnish transportation to doctor's offices, and perform other needed services. A weekly visit from a homemaker also provides a personal contact for many isolated elderly.

Mrs. Clifton said that many communities take the opportunity Senior Citizens Month offers to select and honor an outstanding elderly person.

Local communities are also planning and developing programs to meet the needs of their elderly citizens as expected at community and regional forums held in preparation for the recent White House Conference on Aging.

Water Safety Rules Listed For Spring

With an eye on the weather and some grim statistics, the Texas Safety Association has issued a reminder to water enthusiasts about some new laws and safety rules.

"In 1970, in Texas a total of 546 persons lost their lives in drownings," according to Lloyd F. Palmer, General Manager of the Texas Safety Association.

"While boating, some 78 persons drowned, but a staggering 468 persons drowned in incidents that did not involve boats," Palmer pointed out.

"This year both state and federal laws require that all boats have one Coast Guard Approved Life-Saving Device on board for each person on board the boat," the safety group spokesman continued.

"In addition, the Texas law requires that children under 12 years of age must wear life-saving devices at any time a boat is underway," Palmer said.

He said this rule alone, if strictly obeyed could save a number of lives each year. Enforcement of the new law regarding life-saving devices is being carried out by Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officers and by local authorities throughout the state.

"Since so many drownings are occurring in non-boating incidents," said Palmer, "the Texas Safety Association feels there is a real need to promote swimming instruction for every member of the family. Throughout the state each year excellent supervised courses in swimming are offered by the American Red Cross, YWCA's, YMCA's, school districts, and city departments. Learning to swim is an extremely effective way to prevent the tragedy of a drowning from striking your family," Palmer advised.

"Now is the time to check to see who is offering swimming lessons in the local community and to begin preparation for all family members to learn to swim," Palmer emphasized. "Water sports enthusiasts are growing in number each year in Texas. Estimates indicate that there will be more than 500,000 boats registered by the end of the year in the state. Add to that the hundreds of thousands of Texans, young and old, who take part in other water recreational activities, and the scope of the challenge of water safety can begin to be seen," the TSA executive said.

Palmer also cautioned boating enthusiasts to keep a wary eye on the weather during the spring and early summer in Texas. He said that the unpredictable nature of the weather during April, May, and June can create extremely dangerous conditions for boating.

"While we are already enjoying near perfect temperatures for boating activities, Texas weather still presents some hazards to boaters," he said.

Winds and sudden weather changes are a prime factor at this time of the year according to the safety group spokesman. He explained that sudden wind changes can create high waves that make boat handling difficult.

He cautioned boaters to check local weather forecasts closely before venturing out on the water and to heed local wind warnings.

"If caught out on the water when unexpected rough weather came up, head for the nearest shore or shelter," Palmer stated.

1. Put life preservers on all passengers in the boat.
2. Head into waves at a slight angle and reduce speed.
3. Seat passengers in the bottom of the boat as close to the centerline as possible.
4. Head for the nearest shore or protected area.
5. If the wind and waves are too high to make progress, or if the motor fails, trail a sea anchor from the bow to maintain a heading into the waves. A bucket or weighted item of clothing will serve as a sea anchor in an emergency.

"It is most important in such situations that everyone remain calm. Panic can kill in the water," Palmer said.

"There really is no reason for any boating accident to occur. Water sports enthusiasts during this time of year should keep an eye to the skies for any sudden changes in cloud formations. They should be on the lookout for thunderheads and fast moving clouds. They should also be alert to any sudden shifts in wind direction and speed. If boatmen stay alert and follow the rules of boating safety, there is no reason why the spring and summer should not be a time of real enjoyment for water recreation," Palmer said.

That's where central gas air conditioning comes in. It can bring you together. All summer long. As close as you want. All summer long.

And it won't cost you much either. In fact, if you have gas heating in your home, you could easily have half a central air conditioning system already. Because you may be able to use the duct work and furnace blower you already have. That saves about fifty percent on installation costs.

That's just part of the savings. Gas costs less to operate than electricity. And you get special low rates during the long hot summer months.

But you'll save more than money with gas. You'll save time and energy, too. Because with central gas air conditioning there are fewer moving parts. Fewer breakdowns. Fewer repairs.

This summer, have central gas air conditioning installed. For love's sake.
