HEDLEY COTTON FESTIVAL OCT. 13 - 14

Press Freedom, A Public Freedom

By Albert Blank

Philadelphia (Pa.) Evening and Sunday Bulletin

THE week of October 8 to 14 is being observed as Newspaper Week in communities throughout the nation. Anyone who reflects on the role of modern newspapers in today's society is reminded anew how wise were those men who wrote into the First Amendment to the U. S. Constitution the guarantee of a free press.

Thomas Jefferson once said he would prefer to live in a country with newspapers but without a government rather than a country with a government but no newspapers.

"No experiment can be more interesting than what we are now trying," he wrote on another occasion, "and which we trust will end in establishing the fact that man may be governed by reason and truth. Our first object, therefore, should be to leave open to him all the avenues of truth."

"How do you go about giving the citizen a clear shot down the avenue of truth?"

"The most effectual (method) hitherto found," said Jefferson, "is freedom of the press." It still is.

Newspapermen throughout the English-speaking world are well aware of Edmund Burke, who first referred to them as the Fourth Estate, 200 years ago in the British House of Commons.

"In this Parliament," said Edmund Burke, "are three estates: The Lords Spiritual, the Lords Temporal and the Commons. But, in the Reporter's Gallery, yonder sits a Fourth Estate, more important by far than all."

"What then remains?," he asked Parliament. "Only the liberty of the Press, which no influence, no power, no minister, no government, which nothing but the depravity or corruption of a jury can ever destroy. It will be the nation's most awful moment, it will be the first grasp of tyranny, and how pregnant is the example. What remains if the public press is extinguished, the people enslaved, and the prince undone?"

"As an advocate of society, of peace and of liberty, I conjure you to guard the liberty of the press, the great sentinel of the state, the grand detector of public imposture. Guard it and cherish it, because whenever it ceases to flourish, there will die with it the liberty of the people and the security of the Crown."

To benefit from a good press, the public should zealously defend press freedom even when it hurts. Freedom of the press is not a press freedom but a public freedom, a public possession and right, and in many ways the public's stoutest weapon.

To deserve its freedom, the press should strive to be full, fair and factual. But a free people does not leave it to the government to decide what is full, fair and factual.

The greatest strength of a free press is not points of similarity, but in the points of difference. In the production of news every step involves the conscious intervention of some news-gatherer, and two accounts of the same event will never be the same.

The threat to the liberties of the individual is always possible. External vigilance on the part of the public is essential, and that is why once a year Newspaper Week seeks to focus attention on Freedom of Expression—a priceless heritage bought with blood and tears over many years.

Plan too, to be present for the Festival Parade. Hedley may be a small town as are Clarendon and other surrounding towns but the people there always come up with a warm and hearty welcome to each and every one to come for any or all activities. We at the Leader office have found this true throughout the many, many years we have been attending, and look forward to the Festival each year as a time of seeing and visiting with all of these fine people.

Plan to be there.

Bronchos Will Tangle With Valley High In Homecoming Fri. Nite

The Clarendon Bronchos, with one conference win under their belts, will take on the newcomer, Valley High of Turkey-Quitauque, here in Broncho Stadium Friday night at 7:30 which will also be the CHS Homecoming.

Coach Clyde Noonkester reported yesterday that Valley High was a small but quite aggressive team and inexperienced as this is the first year for this particular school combination to enter the football sport . . . and become a member of the Class A bracket.

Otherwise, he reported that the Bronchos were nursing some injuries and that quarterback Rodney Hicks and Kenneth Reese will both be out this week. Hicks received a knee injury last Friday night that is classified as an unknown quantity at this time. In Hicks absence, Randy Croslin is doing an exceptional job in the quarterback position and may make Hicks really hustle to get back in his old slot again.

Come out Friday night and enjoy the Homecoming hospitality and give the Bronchos your full support as they and the coaches really appreciate your attitude.

Noonkester reported his probable starting lineup would be Croslin, QB; Carter, FB; Shields, TB; Elray King, Winkback; John Holland, Center; Barbee and Floyd at Guards; Palmer and Danny Holland at Tackles; with Grady and Leeper at Ends. On defense Monroe will be playing Lineback and Keown, Guard.

All local residents and residents of the surrounding area are invited to come and be on hand to visit with those from a distance who have made a special effort to be here for Homecoming festivities.

It will also be Homecoming for the present students. The Bronchos will be playing Valley High (Turkey-Quitauque) with game time 7:30 p.m.

Ten members of a 12-member jury can decide civil cases under new rules of civil litigation procedure adopted last week by the State Supreme Court.

Unanimous verdicts are now required of juries, and the change is regarded as one of the most far-reaching in many years.

An effort in the last Legislature to authorize 10-2 jury verdicts fell under weight of defense attorney opposition.

Retiring Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert called the revised rules "the greatest reform measure during my term (22 years) on the court.

Rules deal with appeal motions, depositions, evidence discovery motions, and other matters.

Calvert said changes would do away with some elements of the adversary system and open up evidence. Rules will take effect Feb. 1, 1973.

Unanimous verdicts still will be required in criminal cases, but in civil litigation 10 or more jurors can decide a case. Five-to-one verdicts will be permitted in municipal, justice of the peace and county courts at law where six-man juries now decide cases.

Some attorneys said the key rules change would eliminate hung juries in civil cases, speed up trials and ease the backlog of civil cases jamming metropolitan courts. Others said the change will allow all parties to a case to see what both sides have as evidence.

Another change would allow the State Supreme Court to reverse or modify a lower court finding or enter a new decision without awaiting formal arguments of contesting parties.

AGENDA GROWS AND GROWS - Gov. Preston Smith continued to open the special session call to new subject matter before any final action was taken on competitive insurance rates or gubernatorial fiscal powers.

Last Tuesday he dropped 16 more bill proposals on lawmakers for attention in a session due to wind up October 17. Among them were the following:

An $8 million appropriation for a Fort Worth school for the mentally retarded, changing hunting and fishing license fees, allowing bond financing of voting machines in counties over one million population, allowing subdivisions to issue bonds for air control facilities and lease the facilities to private interests, amending retirement statutes to allow credit for certain military, state employment and judicial services, allowing the State Board of Control to make purchases for political subdivisions and defining "child" under juvenile court procedures as one over 10 and under 17 years of age.

Key legislators began to question whether the variety of subjects permitted the focus of legislative and public attention on insurance reform which Smith claimed he wanted.

SUPERPORT COMING? - Texas may be getting a new offloading terminal for supertankers whether the Legislature approves a state commission to plan and construct one or not.

Oil company spokesmen told a joint House - Senate committee they propose to have "seadock" operative by 1975 or 1976 and feel there is no need for a state expenditure.

A bill submitted by Governor Smith to create a state authority to formulate plans for the offshore terminal won support of many witnesses who claimed a vital segment of the Texas economy depends on a superport's being constructed along the coast.

A governor's office report said marine transportation and deep water ports are essential to maintaining the state's maritime trade.

VOTER REGISTRATION HIGH - Voter registration for the November 7 general election ended at midnight Saturday, with indications the total number of Texans eligible may reach a record 4.8 million.

At that, however, the total percentage of eligible voting age Texans may be less than 1968 and 1970.

There are now about 7.5 million Texans of voting age. The expected 4.5 million to 4.8 million sign-up would represent a 60 per cent showing. A 4 million registration in 1968 and a 4.1 million figure in 1970 amounted to about 64 per cent of the eligible population.

An estimated 660,000 voters have been added to rolls since the voting age was lowered. There are an estimated 1.5 million now eligible to vote who were not eligible in the 1968 presidential election.

COURTS SPEAK - Texas Supreme Court handed down more than 100 rulings as it opened its new term last week. Among them were the following:

Upholding a Fort Worth district court injunction prohibiting students at Tarrant County Junior College from disruptive conduct.

Affirming a Laredo woman's claim to damages because a J. C. Penny store detective took her to a police station on unfounded suspicion.

Agreed to adding $50 to a father's child support payment until he catches up with a $2,000 delinquency.

Held Southwestern Bell Telephone Company must pay gross receipts taxes on income from electric companies and cable TV pole rental.

Concluded an El Paso photo supply store must pay for four million labels even though it intended to order only 4,000.

APPOINTMENTS - Governor Smith named Associate Justice Joe R. Greenhill chief justice of the State Supreme Court on retirement October 4 of Judge Robert W. Calvert, and selected Hawthorne Phillips of Austin to fill Greenhill's place.

R. J. Balch of Seymour was appointed district judge of the 50th district.

Robert J. Glasgow of Stephenville was named 29th district attorney.

John E. Latchford is new field operations director of Texas Water Quality Board.

Dr. Joseph C. Schoolar was elevated director of Texas Research Institute of Mental Sciences, Houston.

AG OPINIONS - Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin told the State Highway Commission it can go ahead with construction of its controversial new state headquarters building on a site near the Capitol.

In other new opinions, Martin held:

More stringent Texas law applies on navigable vessel lighting over federal law on inland waters until the Coast Guard commandant terminates a waiver.

The amount a state agency can contribute for insurance for employees is limited to $12.50 multiplied by the number of fulltime employees on its payroll.

The comptroller is authorized to spend money out of funds for the payment of salaries of positions in state government which have been exempted from the position classification plan by executive order of the governor or direction of the legislature.

Clarendon College Goals Are Under Extensive Study

by George Bourns

An extensive study is underway at Clarendon College by the faculty and administration. This study is being made under the accreditation requirements of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. Mr. Barry Mallinger, of the Southern Association, will be the consultant from the agency.

Long range goals and purposes of class offerings and other questions pertaining to the growth of Clarendon College will be thoroughly studied and a solution sought. The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools is an accreditation agency for the entire southern region of the United States. To be a member of this association, it is required by the agency that each member college periodically examine its scope and function. This will be the first extensive self-study made by Clarendon College since acceptance by this agency in 1970.

The purpose of this study is to examine every aspect of college life and summarize the findings in a publication which offers extensive and current viewpoints of all aspects of the college and is a workable tool to forecast and chart Clarendon College's future.

The college faculty of Clarendon College is totally responsible for organizing the self-study with faculty members being chosen and put into sequence of committees designed to cover every facet of the college.

Chairman of the Steering Committee for this self-study is Mr.

Floyd Guinn, Counselor for Clarendon College, who called his first meeting Monday, October 2, with committee assignments being made with the following people as chairmen, Representing the General Purpose of this study will be Mrs. Norma Selvidge; Organization and Administration, Mr. Clarence Hamilton; Administration Program, Mr. David Lowrie; Financial Resources, Mrs. Esther Connally; Faculty, Mr. Jerry Hawkins; Library, Mr. James Tucker; Student Personnel, Mr. Terry Scroggins; and Physical Plant, Mr. Lloyd Risley.

October 30, 1972, will be the next meeting of this group and their committee to report projections and plans.

While at the convention, some 4,000 students enjoyed a weekend at the Park Cities Baptist Church, enjoying the Christian fellowship that go with a convention of this kind. Along with this fellowship, they heard outstanding speakers.

The Baptist Student Union of Clarendon College was recognized as the newest BSU organization in the state of Texas.

The report from the seven delegates of Clarendon College was most encouraging and students attending came home Sunday feeling that they had a real Christian experience.

DON'T TAKE RURAL TEXANS FOR A RIDE...

...AND DON'T TAKE US FOR GRANTED.

HERE'S WHAT NIXON IS DOING TO RURAL AMERICA

WHEAT SCANDAL - Giant wheat exporters made huge profits at the expense of individual wheat farmers, many in Texas, on Soviet trade.

TAXES - Wall Street Journal says federal laws favor the corporation or investor who farms on the side for a tax write-off.

FARM ISSUES - Under Nixon, parity dropped the lowest since 1933. Nixon held up payments of nearly $400 million for feed grains in 1970, forcing farmers to borrow at highest interest rates in history.

CONGLOMERATE SCANDALS - Big Business first, the public second - that's the Republican philosophy. Anti-trust suit against ITT dropped at the same time ITT pledged $400,000 to finance Republican Convention.

Harry S. Truman said, 'The Republicans admire our government so much they want to buy it.'

Let's face it. The Republicans just haven't changed much since the days of our grandfathers. They still favor Big Business over the average working man and woman. And while they're taking us for a ride, they keep telling us what a 'dangerous radical' Senator McGovern is.

That's what they said about Harry S. Truman.

HERE'S WHAT McGOVERN IS DOING FOR RURAL AMERICA

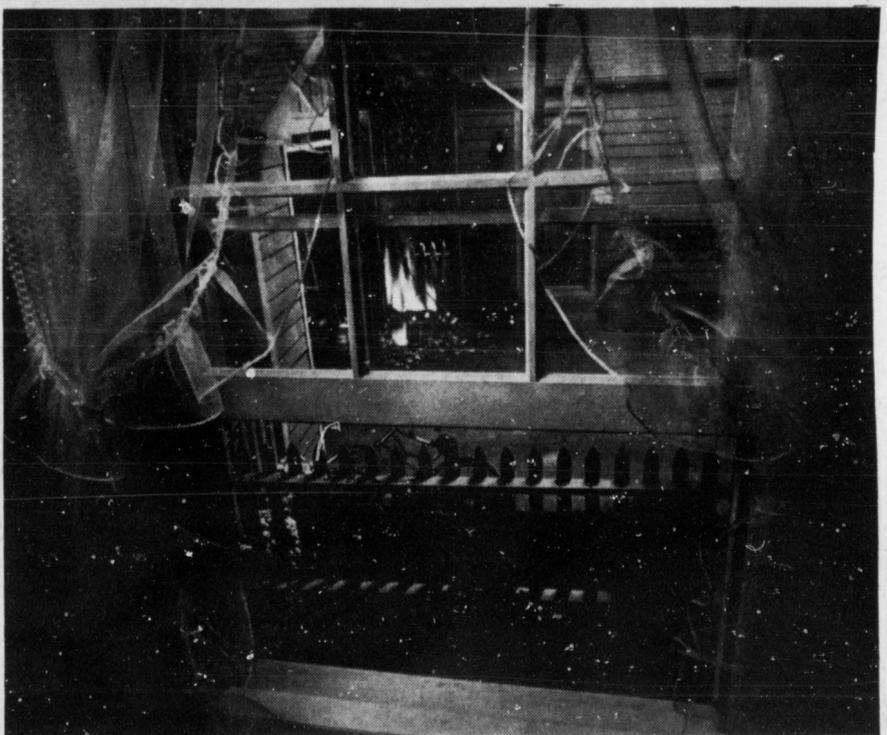

HIS STANDING - George McGovern has been elected time and again as a Democrat from a Republican farm state . . . because they know where he stands.

TAXES - His tax proposal would end the loopholes for tax-loss farming by giant corporations and the wealthy individuals who compete unfairly with family farmers. McGovern's proposal calls for the same tax on capital gains as on earnings.

FARM ISSUES - He sponsored and co-sponsored: Meat Import Limitation Law; Dairy Import Act; Wheat, Feed Grain, and Soybean Emergency Reserve Bill; Rural Development, Rural Job Development, and Rural Telephone Acts; Farm Credit Act; and other pieces of important legislation.

HIS BELIEFS - George McGovern knows that the answers to many of our most pressing problems in America today can be found by developing genuine opportunities for everyone in our small towns and rural areas throughout the country.

Let's not be taken for granted by the Nixon Republicans. Rural America has always fared best under a Democratic administration. If you want to stand up and do something good for rural America, the answer is to help put a Democrat in the White House. We need George McGovern . . . and George McGovern needs us.

If your six year old saw something like this, would he know how to phone for help?

It's too important a question to leave to chance. That's why we're running this ad. If there are any six- or seven-year-olds around your house, teach them how to report emergencies. Tell them to dial "0", give their name and tell our operator where they are and what's wrong. With older children, train them to dial emergency numbers direct, since that's the fastest way to call for help. But don't stop there. Copy down the emergency numbers listed on the inside front cover or first page of your telephone directory. Add your family doctor's number. And the number of the nearest hospital. Next, tack up the list near your phone. Then get your kids to memorize it, in case it gets lost. By the time they're through memorizing those numbers, they're going to have every grownup in the house knowing them, too. Which is also why we're running this ad.

Fowler of Memphis, Texas presented a program of folk ballads, accompanying herself on an Autoharp. She gave the history of the Autoharp and told of its rise to popularity in the early 1900's. Her songs traced the history of American folk songs from the early settler times through negro spirituals, cowboy night herding songs, and country ballads. Bright red geraniums were placed through the club house and on the serving table. A red checked tablecloth covered the table. Guests were served lemonade, sandwiches, and old fashioned sugar cookies. Favors were pieces of hourbound candy tied with red ribbon.

Fun After Fifty Group Enjoys Program

The Fun After Fifty Club met in regular meeting in Lions Club Hall Saturday, October 7, with 53 present. Mrs. Lillie Knox, president, called the meeting to order and Rev. Owen McGarity gave the invocation. During the business a discussion of a Museum for Clarendon was held and arrangements for a Turkey Dinner for the November meeting were made.

Birthdays were recognized and cards presented to Mrs. J. I. Spurgeon, Miss Ava Naylor, Mary Coombs, and Homer Taylor. Clarence Hamilton was presented the Door Prize. Visitors were Miss Ava Naylor, Mrs. C. T. McMurtry, Mary Coomb plan to become a Coombs, and Mrs. Rex Jones, new member.

The program was presented by four college professors who told of their hobbies. Clarence Hamilton collects rocks and polishes them. He stated there were over 2000 kinds of rocks in the world, told how stones were polished, equipment needed and its price. He exhibited jewelry made from rock and the Apache Tear made from volcanic glass.

Ronnie Null collects straight edge razors. He had one that belonged to his great great grandfather and was carried during the Civil War. Many of his razors had different kinds of handles. He also showed a transition razor used as the switch was made from straight edge to safety. An explanation of how razors were sharpened was made. One razor bore the name of A. L. Connally, a hardware merchant in Clarendon in the early 1900's.

Rev. McGarity is an Amateur or Ham Radio Operator. His interest grew from the days his father operated an old crystal set. He stated that there were many uses for a Ham Operator and his radio: namely Public service, emergency use, personal pleasure in visiting around the world, and as a hobby. He also told of a small computer on the market half as large as a dime which will do the work of a room size computer and new TV screens of the future which will pull down from the ceiling. Mr. Carlson's hobby is wood carving. The hobby was started when he carved a duck decoy as a gift. Patterns are drawn before carving is begun. He told of the tools used and exhibited beautiful models. Closing the program Robert and Anita Wagoner, musical evangelistic team in the First Baptist Revival, presented four selections. After table grace was given by Mr. Watson, a delicious lunch was enjoyed by all.

CONSUMERS AND NEWSPAPERS

Everything about a newspaper is consumer-oriented.

That's why both men and women consumers read newspapers more regularly and carefully than anything else.

That's because newspapers are the FULL information medium.

More information on consumer matters is being published in newspapers today than at any time in our nation's history.

Editorial writers, reporters, columnists and special feature pages and articles comment regularly on consumer issues.

Advertisements provide facts and information to help them shop better, save money, use time wisely, and live better year after year.

Classified advertising helps consumers many important ways, assisting in such major events in an average person's lifetime as helping find a job, a home, and a car.

Our economy and standard of living are dependent in great degree on good productive advertising, as carried by this and thousands of other newspapers.

Perhaps it is time to applaud the many good merchants and advertisers who have been helping consumers in this area live better year after year with their informative newspaper advertising.

RENTER'S REMINDERS

Moving into a new apartment or leaving your present dwelling? Make sure you know your rights and responsibilities as a tenant. The condition of the apartment, the lease, security deposits, and notice of intention to leave are areas that can cause confusion.

Moving in? You can avoid many difficulties by thoroughly reading and understanding your lease before signing it. If you don't understand something, ask your landlord to explain it to you or seek legal help.

Most leases are of a standardized form, so if yours doesn't meet your particular needs, ask the landlord to change it. This can be easily done by merely crossing out the clause on the lease you don't like, and having your landlord initial it.

Before moving into an apartment, you, your landlord, and a third party should check it out. Make a list of all damages and needed repairs. Keep this list so you won't be charged for damages you didn't make when it's time to move.

Moving out? A basic question is in what condition are you expected to leave the apartment? Generally, in the condition it was when you moved in, unless specifically stated in the lease that you must have the rugs shampooed, the draperies professionally cleaned, etc.

Allowances are usually made for normal wear-and-tear. You are expected to make "tenantable" repairs and maintenance, such as filling holes left when pictures are removed or cleaning the oven. Major repairs are made by the landlord, but you must call them to his attention.

Security deposits can cause difficulties and misunderstandings. Unless the landlord agrees, you should not deduct your security deposit from your last month's rent. The landlord may hold your deposit only for actual and deliberate damages that you have made. If he does keep the deposit, he must provide an itemized list of damages with the approximate repair costs. You may want to contact your lawyer, legal aid society, or a tenants' rights organization.

Make sure to inform your landlord when you decide to vacate. Check your lease to see if it contains the "automatic renewal clause." This means that if you don't state in writing thirty days before your lease expires that you intend to move, your landlord may renew your lease for a period of time equal to the time it was originally rented. By law, however, he must inform you that he intends to use this provision at least thirty days before the lease expires. Being informed of your rights and responsibilities will make moving in and out much easier for you.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Tidwell of New Boston, Texas visited last week with her sister, Louise Fricks. They also visited relatives in Amarillo, Dumas, Perryton, and Borger.

FREEDOM AND NEWSPAPERS

Freedom and newspapers have been inseparable "pals" for many, many years.

The first newspapers in America and those persons seeking freedom practically grew up together, fighting for freedom.

In fact, it is said the early newspapers were more effective than cannon or bayonets in winning freedom in America.

Newspapers still have a vital role in preserving the people's freedom by keeping them informed of what is going on in government, business and every facet of daily life — locally, state-wide, and nationally.

Without the "eyes and ears" of newspapers, few persons in today's busy world could begin to keep up with the overwhelming rush of events often profoundly affecting their personal rights and freedom.

Newspapers have long provided and will continue to provide this essential watchdog service of protecting freedom for all individuals.

"Freedom is everybody's business" is a familiar slogan.

But for newspapers it is more than a slogan; it's their primary business, along with giving readers full information important and useful to them.

ing Saturday, Sunday and holidays) of receiving the Notice of Violation, the case will be sent to the Assistant U. S. Attorney.

Q—If a tenant believes he was evicted in retaliation for complaining to the IRS about a rent increase, does he have the burden of proving the eviction was retaliatory in a subsequent IRS investigation?

A—No. The burden of proof is upon the landlord to show that his action was not retaliatory.

Q—When seeking to raise prices, does a storekeeper have to apply his customary initial percentage mark-up to each item of his merchandise or can he apply the percentage mark-up to a product line or category?

A—The percentage mark-up must be applied to the cost of each item a storekeeper sells, rather than to a product line or category, unless the storekeeper can demonstrate that he has historically, as a customary business practice, applied his mark-ups to product line or category. For more information on Phase II price controls, see IRS Publication S-3011, Legal Price Increases Under Economic Stabilization. It's available free by dropping a postcard to your IRS district office.

Q—If the cost of a particular item of merchandise increases, can an item-by-item price increase the price of other items to recover that increased cost?

A—No. An item-by-item price may increase the price of any item only as a result of increased costs of that item or to achieve a mark-up on that item which is the top mark-up in the range of mark-ups applied to that item during its last fiscal year ending before Aug. 15, 1971, or its last customary initial percentage mark-up before Nov. 14, 1971.

Q—I know that longevity increases in contracts and pay practices in effect on Nov. 13, 1971 do not have to be included in the Pay Board's 5.5 percent general wage and salary standard. Are there any restrictions on what constitutes a longevity increase?

A—To be excluded from the 5.5 percent standard, longevity increase must be solely related to the employee's length of service and must operate without significant affirmative exercise of employer discretion or subjective evaluation of the employee's work performance. The only conditions which can attach to the increase are satisfactory work performance and length of service. If it is an established practice that once an individual's work performance for a certain length of time is determined to be satisfactory and the amount of the increase as determined in advance is not subject to any discretionary adjustment, the increase is due to longevity.

Q—What prices must a retail liquor store operator post?

A—Retailers must post base prices for all of their food products. An alcoholic beverage has been defined as a food product. Therefore, a retail liquor store operator must post the base prices for each alcoholic beverage that he offers for sale, assuming of course, that he is not otherwise exempt from controls.

Social Security

by Travis C. Briggs

Don't try to memorize your social security number. Don't—especially—try to repeat your social security number from memory when an employer asks you for the number for his records when you start a new job.

That advice comes from the Amarillo social security district manager.

"Your social security number has nine digits," noted Travis C. Briggs. "If you try to memorize it, you can easily give a wrong number when you try to repeat it. If you furnish a wrong social security number to an employer, it may cause difficulty in crediting your earnings to your social security record. This may eventually affect your social security benefits."

An employee's earnings are credited to his social security number when they are reported by his employer. The employee's earnings determine the amount of monthly social security benefits he may collect when he retires or becomes severely disabled; also the amount of benefits his family may get if he dies prematurely.

"If all of your earnings are not credited to your social security number, your benefits may amount to less than they should," Briggs said.

Briggs' advice: Always carry your social security card in your purse or wallet. When starting a new job, always show your social security card to your employer and make sure he copies the number and the name from your card.

"Remember, don't try to memorize your social security number. It could cost you money."

Q—Suppose I am hospitalized for more than 90 days, does Medicare pay anything at all after the 90th day?

A—There is a life-time reserve of 90 days during which you pay $34 a day and Medicare pays all other covered charges. As the name implies, this can be used only once during your life time.

NEWS FROM Congressman Bob Price 18th District, Texas

PRICE INTRODUCES LEGISLATION TO BENEFIT ELDERLY

This week I have introduced legislation which will amend Title II of the Social Security Act to stop deductions of outside earnings from the Social Security benefits of 65-year-olds.

Citizens who have worked hard and paid into the Social Security programs for years are penalized if they continue to work. A Social Security check is not adequate income to retire on, and, sadly all too many persons approaching retirement age find this small income inadequate.

The Social Security program was put into effect to alleviate such problems, yet the way the program is presently administered it presents more of a problem than a solution.

A person can pay into Social Security for a lifetime and if he continues to work can find himself unable to collect one dime at the time when he needs the money the most.

In an attempt to bring greater justice to the Social Security law, I have introduced a bill to abolish the limitation placed on the amount of outside income a 65-year-old may earn in order to continue to receive his or her Social Security benefits. It is my hope that the Congress will act quickly to recognize this need and to correct this inequity toward our senior citizens.

AMERICAN SECURITY COUNCIL AWARD

The American Security Council has awarded me a 100% rating in the 1972 National Security Voting Index.

The rating is based on my voting record on issues concerning national security. For example, I was cited for my negative vote on an amendment that would have tied the President's hands in his efforts to bring about an honorable end to the Vietnam War. In addition, I received a letter from President Nixon thanking me for my support.

The American Security Council is a non-profit, private, bipartisan research and education organization.

Precautions Can Avoid Farm Fires

Farm fires are potentially the most dangerous, because the farmer, his family and his property are usually miles away from the nearest fire department or from neighbors who could lend assistance. Never is a farm so isolated than when a fire strikes.

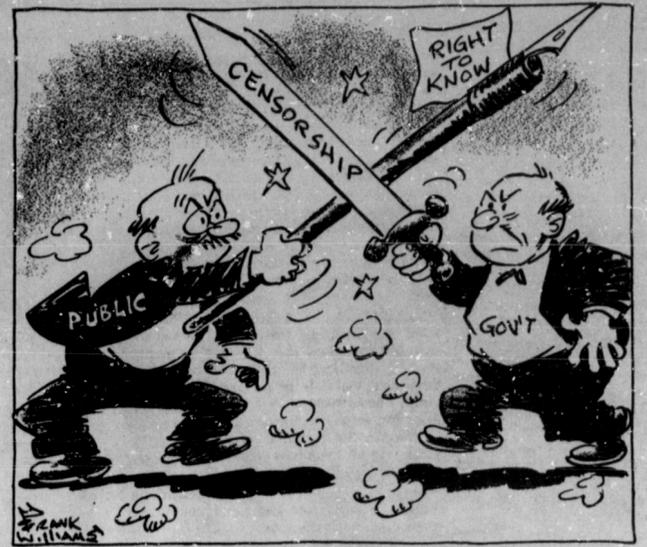

Farm families should take all precautions to prevent accidental fires and they should use all methods of fighting fires if they do start, says Robert A. Keown, Farmers Home Administration county supervisor in Pampa.

The Farmers Home Administration, in observance of National Fire Prevention Week, offers this list of fire prevention and protection ideas:

1. Make sure every member of your family knows how to call the fire department. Post the fire department number at the telephone. Also make sure your fire department knows the layout of your farm, house and barn, and the location of water supplies.
2. Check condition of heating equipment, including chimneys and flues. Make all repairs necessary for safe operation.
3. Check electric wiring for wear and loads — replace worn and inadequate wiring. Use only 15-ampere fuses unless a circuit has been especially designed for larger loads.
4. Keep fire fighting tools accessible in an emergency.
5. Have ladders ready for escape and for fighting roof fires.
6. Keep fire extinguishers on hand. Check them frequently and recharge them when necessary. Also, protect them from freezing during winter months.
7. Maintain a water supply in cisterns and stock ponds. They may be the only source of water for fighting fires.

New State Park Rules Have Teeth

State Parks have always had rules governing the behavior of visitors. But for years obeying the rules was more a matter left to the individual conscience of the visitor than it was a matter of enforcement. Enforcement personnel had no authority to do anything but ask park visitors to obey the rules.

Beginning Jan. 1, 1973, this situation will change.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission at its last meeting adopted rules and regulations under a new statute which allows the rules to have the effect of law. Violations of these rules could cost offenders up to $200 per citation.

The new rules, say park officials, are based on the rules which have been in effect in parks for many years, but there have been some clarifications and modernization.

"Mostly, the new rules are common sense," said one department official. "A person, for the most part, will be within the rules if he just makes a conscientious effort not to disturb or annoy his neighbor and to protect park property."

Visitors will be handed a condensed version of the rules as they enter a state park, and the rules printed in full will be posted in a prominent place.

It will be the responsibility of park visitors to know and obey the new rules.

The Black Gap Area will be open to quail hunting Nov. 15-22 and the Chapparral will be open Nov. 18-19, Dec. 2-3, 1972, Jan. 6-7 and Jan. 27-28, 1973.

Public Hunt Drawing Oct. 27

Over 2,000 deer, turkey and quail hunters will have a chance to hunt on the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's wildlife management areas this year.

Prospective hunters have until 5 p.m. Oct. 24, to return completed public hunt application forms to the department's Austin offices.

A public drawing will be held at 10 a.m. Oct. 27 in the John H. Reagan Building, Austin.

The permits will be necessary to hunt quail, deer and turkey on the Gene Howe Area; quail on the Matador Area; deer on the Kerr, Sierra Diablo, Engeling and Stephen F. Austin Areas; and deer and javelina on the Chaparral Area.

Quail may be hunted on the Chaparral and Black Gap Areas by simply checking in at the area headquarters on the days of the hunts.

Hunters whose names were drawn last year will not be eligible this year unless permit quotas go unfilled.

One of the last year's more popular areas, the Black Gap Area, will be closed to deer hunting this fall.

Hunters selected in the Oct. 27 drawing will be notified by the department during the first week of November.

Accent On Health

A rat is unwelcome in anyone's home or place of business, but you may be the one putting out the welcome mat for these rodents, says the Texas State Department of Health.

Give a rat or mouse something to eat and drink and a place to stay and he's found a permanent home — staying until deprived of these essentials for a happy existence.

And when cold weather approaches, says the Vector Control Division of the State Health Department, rats and mice may move indoors if you allow it.

The rat is a costly, common enemy which contaminates everything it touches and destroys upwards of a billion dollars worth of food and property each year in this country.

Among the losses are the results of fire, caused by rats gnawing insulation from electric wires. It is estimated that five to 25 percent of fires of unknown origin on farms are caused by rats.

In Texas, the major illness from rats is seen in endemic (murine) typhus fever which is spread by fleas. Other rodent-borne diseases include rat-bite fever, leptospirosis, salmonellosis, rickettsiosis and rickettsialpox, (a disease resembling chickenpox.) Rat bites occur frequently.

Many people never see the rats which invade their dwellings and places of business. Rats prefer to move around under the veil of darkness. Their presence often becomes known only when they've chewed into some merchandise, or left droppings which are a sure sign. If you suspect or see just one rat, you can bet there are more. Sometimes they betray themselves by making a noise in your attic or walls as they scamper or move about. Or, they may make burrows in your yard.

Rat control is impossible without good environment sanitation practices. Cutting off a rat's food should have a high priority. You can do this by storing garbage and rubbish in tightly-closed, metal containers. Animal feed and other bulk materials should be stored in rat-proof bin containers, and pet bowls should be kept clean and free of uneaten food.

Lumber and other stored products should be placed on racks at least 12 inches off the ground or floor so that dark, enclosed places are prevented. And, give a thought to your attic, store-rooms and basement which usually are dark and cluttered.

While poisoning and trapping may be a quick way to rid yourself of rats for the moment, eliminating insanitary conditions is a sure way of ridding yourself of the future problem of rat control.

Common sources of food found in the Houston survey were dog and cat food bowls, or garbage cans with badly-fitting tops. Many cans had no tops, providing easy access to rodents. And, needless to say, the pets also had water bowls. In other homes, there were cracks large enough for them to gain entrance to the dwellings.

How about lodging? Even a small hole will admit a rat into your home. But, in addition, there may be garages, other out-buildings, piles of lumber, rocks or debris, and trash piles. A good cleanup may be necessary.

The State Health Department takes part in many rodent control demonstrations and schools. And it has trained personnel throughout the state at its local health departments. A recent three-day school in Houston may do the job. But to make certain you're rid of them you have to eliminate their water, food and lodging.

Veterans Administration spinal cord injury treatment centers have been increased from 10 to 14, since 1969 and by summer of 1974 will be expanded to 18.

NEW AND USED TYPEWRITERS & ADDERS AT THE LEADER

Social Security

by Travis C. Briggs

The new 20-percent increase in social security benefits will begin with regular checks for the month of September to be delivered in early October, according to Travis C. Briggs, social security district manager in Amarillo.

"No application is needed for the 20 percent increase," Briggs said. "The Social Security Administration will refigure payments for everyone netting social security benefits and pay the increased benefits in the October checks."

Social Security pays monthly cash benefits to 28 million people — retirement and disability benefits to eligible workers and their families; survivors benefits to the families of deceased workers who were insured under social security.

Under the new law, the average social security payment to retired workers will increase from $134 to $162 a month. The average payment to a disabled worker with a wife and children will increase from $295 to $354 a month. The average payment to a widowed mother with two young children will increase from $322 to $386 a month.

The new law will also tie future social security benefit increases to the cost of living, Briggs said.

"If the cost of living increases 3 or more percent in a year," he said, "monthly social security payments will also increase, starting the following January — unless a general benefit increase was enacted or became effective during the prior year."

The cost of living will be measured by the U. S. Department of Labor's monthly Consumer Price Index. "Tying benefits to the cost of living will help protect the purchasing power of people getting social security payments," Briggs said. This provision was recommended by President Nixon in 1969.

Both the social security contributions rate and the contribution and benefit base (the earnings on which contributions are paid) will increase under the new law. The present rate for both employees and employers is 5.2 percent of annual earnings up to $9,000. Under the new law, the rate will increase next year to 5.5 percent and the base will increase to $10,800 for 1973. In 1974, the base will increase to $12,000.

After 1974, the social security contribution and benefit base will be adjusted automatically to keep pace with rising wages whenever benefits are adjusted automatically to take account of increases in the cost of living.

Workers whose earnings equal or exceed the prior base will contribute more to social security when the base increases — but they can expect higher social security benefits in the future. Benefit amounts are based on average earnings.

A new Social Security schedule has been released for October, November and December. A representative will be at the Courthouse in Clarendon on each of the Thursdays listed from 9 a.m. to 12 o'clock noon. He will help you with any of your problems relating to social security or Medicare.

Dates are as follows:

October 5, 19
November 2, 16
December 7, 21

If you are unable to meet with the representative here you may obtain service by going to the Social Security Office at 317 East Third St., Amarillo or by calling 376-5151. The office is open from 8:15 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday thru Friday except for national holidays.

Clubs, civic groups, or classes who would like a program on Social Security should call 376-5151.

When a star precedes the number on some U. S. currency, it indicates that the bill is a substitute, issued to replace one that was worn or defective.

Veteran News

Q—I am a 70-year-old veteran drawing pension for a non-service connected disability. Am I entitled to outpatient treatment at a VA hospital?

A—No, unless you have been found in need of aid and attendance, or you are permanently housebound.

Q—I'm going to graduate school under the GI Bill. How many hours must I carry for VA to pay me the full educational allowance?

A—Since this is not prescribed by law, VA will pay the full educational allowance based on the school's certification that the student is attending school full time. Half time or quarter time rates are paid on the basis of the school's certification also.

Q—As a veteran's widow eligible for VA educational assistance, may I receive this benefit if I attend school in Germany?

A—No. Courses may be in a foreign school only when they are part of an approved enrollment in an institution of higher learning in the United States.

Death May Result Of Electric Shock

Electric Shock — just a tingle in the finger — or ventricular fibrillation (when the heart stops beating and death results).

Have you ever wondered why you were only annoyed or startled, while others apparently under similar conditions were seriously injured or killed?

The answer to this very important question will be answered by Joe Smetana, Safety Director for the Texas Farm Bureau, when he presents a public service demonstration to prevent electric shock at 2 p.m. for Clarendon High School Students, and at 1 p.m. for Junior High Students, Monday, October 16, Mr. Walker and Mr. Cain, principals, announced.

"Nobody's Safe," says Smetana, "When you are standing on damp ground or wet concrete, bathing, washing, swimming, using or touching any grounded tool or appliance, or are in contact with any piping system or metal structure, ordinary household current passing into your body from defective equipment on accidental contact with conductors can injure or kill you."

Medical authorities agree that if the amount of current required to light a 15-watt bulb, which is only one tenth of an ampere, should flow through your heart, death might result in just one second.

Regular 120-volt household current can force two times the lethal dose through you. The degree of danger depends partly on age, physical condition, how long the current flows through the body, and the path the current takes through the body. Particularly dangerous are currents passing through the chest from one area to the other via the heart.

In a two-part, live graphic 45-60 minute demonstration, Smetana presents the causes and effect mentioned above. "The purpose of the exercise," says Smetana, "is to point out that an ounce of prevention is worth more than a pound of cure."

COLTS LOSE ONE WIN ONE LAST THURSDAY

The Clarendon Colts are showing improvement reports Coach Pete Bromley. The eighth graders lost their game to Wellington here last Thursday night 16-0 while the seventh graders playing at Wellington won their game 32-0. The seventh graders played a fine ballgame and all of the boys were able to participate in the game.

Cheerleaders led a good Pep Rally with the Band on hand to help keep that spirit going.

Thursday night of this week, tonight, Eighth graders will go to Valley High for a 6 o'clock game. Seventh graders will play Claude here at 4 p.m. Pep Rally will be at 1 o'clock.

Enrollment Mount In Community Action Programs Is Evident

Enrollment in classes under the Community Action Program continues to be high as the prospects of a number of new classes to begin in January take shape, reports Mrs. Edna Osburn, coordinator.

At the present there is a high enrollment in Bookkeeping and Typing. There is also a 100% enrollment in the Mechanics class. An increase in interest is evident every day in the Planned Parenthood Program and Young Mothers Club.

In relation to January classes the response has been great for Upholstering classes as well as in Welding and Carpentry. Anyone interested in enrollment in these classes should contact Mrs. Osburn immediately.

Mrs. Osburn would like at this time to express her thanks and appreciation for the contributions which helped to establish and get our local Center underway. Your interest is sincerely appreciated. Mrs. Osburn is happy to visit and speak to groups. Appointments should be set up with her.

The appeal for clothing was well met and several needy families have been helped through this distribution. A Volunteer Worker is needed to help work the used clothing brought in.

There is a need for sewing machines and baby beds, tables and chairs. Anyone willing to lend any of these items for use in the Center may contact Mrs. Osburn at 874-2573. Two machines and two baby beds would be sufficient at this time and could be used until the Center is able to provide them.

Again your contributions and donations have been most appreciated.

If you are interested in any particular classes, Mrs. Osburn would like to have you call.

Broncs Shoot Rockets Down 41-20

The Clarendon Bronchos took the powder out of the Wellington Skyrockets last Friday night by a tune of 41-20. This was the first conference game for both teams and was a battle all the way.

Tommy Shields and Elray King were the workhorses for the evening with Shields pushing over three touchdowns and King two. Randy Croslin went over for 6 points and Croslin passed to Mickey Grady for a two point conversion. Three extra point conversions were made.

Randy Croslin, who received an injury early in the season and didn't have much opportunity to prove his ability as No. 1 quarterback, had to be mustered into service early in the first quarter when Rodney Hicks received a knee injury. He performed more like a veteran and brought the Broncs thru the game in good shape and showed that he had many qualities to lead the Broncs. Hicks received a torn cartilage in his knee and will probably be out for quite some time.

The Bronc defense did a fine job the majority of the game but did allow the Rockets to score more than they really should have since the Broncs mustered a total of 431 yards to the Rockets 170. This was overshadowed by the fine performance of the offense that, with the front line help, put the scores on the scoreboard. That is what really counts when you figure conference standing at the end of the season.

All and all, we were pretty well pleased with the overall performance of the boys. Coach Noonkester stated.

TECH RED RAIDERS TO COLLEGE STATION

In SWC Rivalry Tech has won 7, A & M 4, one tied. Last week the Raiders defeated the Tulsa Hurricane 35-18 in Jones Stadium, Lubbock.
