Broncs To Play Wheeler Mustangs Here Friday Night - 7:30 p.m.

The Clarendon Bronchos are slated as a bounce-back Club this week as they meet the Wheeler Mustangs on the local field at 7:30 p.m. Friday night. The Mustangs appear to be building strength each week and downed McLean 64-0 last week and previously defeated Shamrock. On the other hand, the Bronchos will be bouncing back from their defeat by the Cyclone last week. This is expected to be a real good contest with more evenly matched strength.

Coach Clyde Noonkester reported yesterday that Kenneth King would probably see some action Friday night but the extent will be determined by the way he improves from a hip pointer received in the Memphis game. We have been keeping him out of contact practice this week to give the injury a chance to improve. Gary Davis, who received a knee injury at Memphis will be questionable, Noonkester added. We feel like both will be able to play some, he concluded. The probable starting lineup as released by Noonkester will be: David Lewis, QB; Tony Wallace, wingback; Larry Shields, fullback; Steve King, alternate split end; Mark Boothe, center; Danny Monroe and Randy Crosslin, tackles; Ricky Mooring and Gary Davis, guards; Eddy Eads and Gary Jack, ends.

Be out Friday night and let the Bronchos know you are still behind them all the way.

The Jr. Varsity lost to Memphis here last Thursday evening 14-8 and will be playing Phillips here Saturday morning at 10 a.m. Come out and look the future Bronchos over and give them your support also.

Band Parents To Hold Rummage Sale Sat.

The Band Parents organization will hold a rummage sale Saturday at the old Donley Hotel building. Many, many items have been added. The sale will begin around 8:30 a.m. and continue all day.

Cyclone Is Too Much For Broncs - 35 - 16

The Memphis Cyclone took advantage of practically all the Bronchos mistakes and pitted this with their own strength to down the locals 35-16 in Cyclone stadium at Memphis last Friday night.

The Broncs put up a good fight and were leading 16-13 at half-time. This made local fans feel real good but after the half-time rest the Broncs never seemed to get going good again and Memphis added on the points to come out on top 35-16.

Memphis scored first but the Broncs came right back with Kenneth King going over from the 1 and failed on the extra point kick. David Lewis recovered a Memphis fumble on the Memphis 20 which set up a 30-yard field goal by King. Memphis retaliated with another score but failed on their extra point.

The next Broncs score came when quarterback Randy Crosslin passed to Eddy Eads for 9 yards and the 6 points. King's kick for the extra point was good. Memphis added to their score in the third and fourth periods with three more TD's.

Memphis racked up a total yardage of 448 to the Broncs 187 and had 24 first downs to the Broncs 13. Ball control appeared to be a big factor in the game.

Officers Elected At Donley Farm Bureau Meeting Monday Nite

New officers were elected at the Donley County Farm Bureau meeting last Monday night. Elected to serve were the following: Bernie Green, President; Lee Shaller, Vice-President; Mrs. Hubert Rhoades, Secretary - Treasurer.

Newly elected directors include Clayton Farris, David Mooring, and Roger Finch. Others include Ted Shaller, C. C. Ayers, Pete Land, J. Gould, Maurice Risley, Hubert Rhoades, Don Altman, G. C. Bible, and Ronald Gooch, ex-officio.

A number of resolutions were adopted among them one in relation to the Texas Farm Bureau gift certificate campaign to increase the consumption of meat, poultry, and dairy products.

TFB President J. T. (Red) Woodson feels this is a "positive approach" of moving agricultural commodities which are in serious trouble at this time.

The promotion involves Christmas gift certificates for these food products. The campaign slogan will be, "Give meat, poultry and dairy products for an old-fashioned farm and ranch Christmas."

The American Farm Bureau has been asked to carry the idea nationwide and Woodson said Farm Bureau would seek the cooperation of other agricultural groups, food chains, and independent grocers as well as top state government officials.

County Farm Bureaus have been asked to form special committees to call on local grocers and to promote the program on a local level. Certificates will be furnished to stores that do not have them. Special envelopes and message cards will be provided for persons wishing to send checks or money orders instead of gift certificates. These will be available at County Farm Bureau offices.

More information will come later on this resolution and others that were adopted at Monday night's meeting.

Leader Out-of-County Rate $5.50

Tuesday, November 5 is general election day and the big day for every qualified voter to go to the polls and cast their ballot. This is one definite privilege you own . . . so don't let your preferred candidates down by staying at home . . . go vote.

There are a number of contested races with several parties involved. If you prefer to make your voting easier and desire to vote a straight party ticket, all you have to do is place an X mark at the top of the column on the ballot beside the party you choose. This will indicate your vote for every candidate in that column. If you wish to vote a split ticket you may do so by placing an X in the box beside the name of the candidate you wish to vote for regardless of party affiliation. You can vote for the candidate of your choice regardless of the party by placing an X in the box beside his name as long as you do not place an X at the top of the column by the party.

A sample ballot will be found on another page of this issue of the Leader so look it over before you go to vote.

One of the races most hotly contested in this area is the Congressman for the 13th Congressional district. Bob Price, Republican now in office is being contested for the position by Jack Hightower, Democrat. This is expected to be a real close race with Hightower giving Price more opposition than he has received in the past here in Donley County.

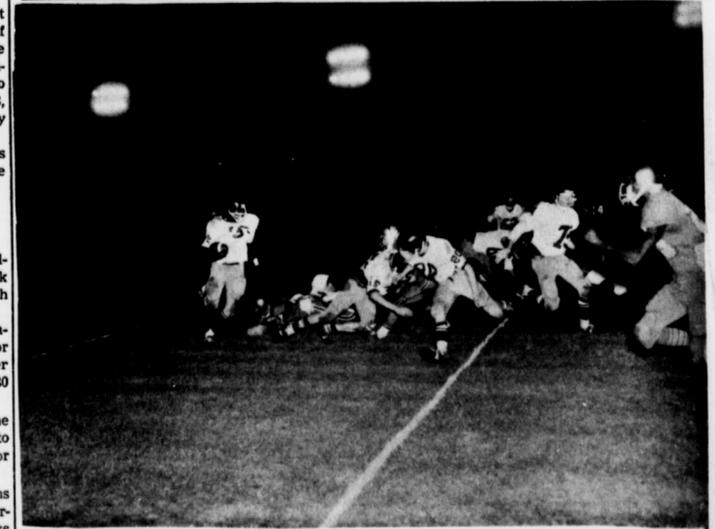

There are five different party candidates listed on the ballot. Not all races are contested. Up to Wednesday morning, absentee voting was quite light with only 28 absentee ballots being delivered. You can vote absentee thru November 1 at the County Clerks office.

As in previous elections, there will be eight voting places in the county. Here in town, precinct 1 will vote at the Old College Building, precinct 2 will vote at the Odd Fellow Lodge Building and precinct 4 will vote at the Farmers State Bank Hospitality Room. Other boxes will be at Hedley, Lelia Lake, Glenwood - Whitefish, Howardwick, and Martin.

The main thing is to be sure and go vote.

1974 Agriculture
Census Set For Jan.

The 1974 Census of Agriculture, the largest agricultural statistical project of the past five years, will begin in January. It will be conducted by the Bureau of the Census, part of the Department of Commerce's Social and Economic Statistics Administration.

From Alaska to Florida, from Maine to Hawaii, farmers and ranchers will receive census forms in the mail around the first of the new year. The report forms are to be filled out and mailed back promptly.

Farmers themselves have participated in deciding what information is collected in the census. Representatives of farm organizations such as the Farm Bureau, The Grange, Farmers Union, National Farmers Organization, and Farmers Cooperatives serve on the Advisory Committee that recommends to the Bureau the questions that should be included in the census.

Three kinds of information are requested about operations during 1974: first, a count of farm resources, number of farms, area of farm land, acres of cropland and pasture, number of each kind of livestock and poultry, number of persons working on farms, number of various kinds of farm equipment; second, a record of farm products produced and sold during 1974; and third, selected farming activities during 1974 such as number of days of off-farm work by the farmer, amount spent for farm labor, for custom work, for feed, for gasoline and oil.

To report this kind of information, a farmer will need to have a few simple records. The Census Bureau is urging each farmer to have his records of quantities harvested, products sold, major farm expenses and the like readily available so that he can easily and accurately ly fill out his census report when it comes.

It is from the Census of Agriculture, conducted every five years, that data is taken to form the basis for programs of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Congressional farm legislation, farm organization policies, farm programs established and administered by State departments of agriculture, and many other services provided by colleges, business firms, manufacturers, publishers and broadcasters.

The Census of Agriculture is the only source of statistics on agriculture that are comparable from county to county nationwide. It is the sole source of comprehensive data tabulated for each State and for the U. S. for farms classified by size, tenure, type of organization, market value of products sold, and type of farm enterprise.

Every farmer's report is confidential by law. It may be seen only by sworn Census employees and may be used only for statistical purposes. The mail census method reinforces confidentiality. And it allows the farmers to complete his report at his convenience with accurate information from his records.

DRIVING WHILE DRINKING

Driving while drinking is involved in nearly 40 per cent of the fatal accidents on the rural highways of Texas, according to records compiled by the Texas Department of Public Safety. "Texans for Traffic Safety" says watch out for the drinking driver and above all, make sure you're not one of them.

Fiscal year 1974 expenditures for medical and related care and supplies climbed to $2.8 billion — up $300 million from the previous year, the Veterans Administration reported recently.

By Eyes and Ears

If anyone knows what disappointment is . . . the Bronchos have had a big taste of it. Memphis beat us, 35-16. Everyone was proud of the Bronchos, though, because we played a clean, honest game. The people of Clarendon left Memphis with their heads held high, because in our hearts everyone still knows that the Bronchos are the best team in the state!

Gary D. was injured last Friday but he's okay . . . a little sore, though. Kenneth King hurt his side and some people got cramps . . . but all is fine!

Only 3 more games to go in district play. Wheeler is tomorrow night. The Bronchos (the cool dudes) aim to Rock On the Mustangs. It's here at 7:30. Speaking of Rocking On . . . The theme this week is the 50's. Bobby-sox and the grease patrol are being seen this week. Records are hanging from the ceilings and the thumbs up sign is at the end of the hall! The cheerleaders have come up with some really cute ideas this year.

Everyone got their pictures Monday. Like Liz B. says . . . The Good, the Bad, and the UGLY!!!

Oh . . . that reminds me . . . Announcing Mr. Ugly: Jake Hightower! First Runner up: David Lewis. Thanks everyone for all your support! These royalties were announced at the pep rally last Friday. Also announced was the Spirit Stick which went to the Sophomores, and the Sophomores along with the Fish, won the Competition Bonfire. Mr. Croslin gave a speech . . . more of a pep talk to us . . . about the town's attitude for the Bronchos. It really made us feel GOOD!

Russell B., and Ross K., don't you know that snakes are dangerous?

Tami D., did you finally make it to the restroom Saturday night?

A little bird told me that Debbie R., and Danny H., are back together!

Don't blame ya for getting mad, Pam J.!

Laura H., do your fingers always itch like that?

Mona R., now Why do you like Band?

The "Swisher Sweets Kids" ride again!

Calvin B., did some ghost get you at the Haunted House?

Halloween isn't very far off . . . tonight in fact!

Glad to have Alice and Jane Dickerson back in school with us!

Andi E., how many are you going to have this week?

Glad all misunderstandings are understood and cleared up, now!

Are there some new people in CHS named TEAR, GEAR, FEAR, and WEAR?

Basketball season starts next month. The Bronchettes are really getting with it!

Pearly B., how many sprints do you run every day?

HAVE YOU HEARD:

-the game of "Musical Chairs"?

-"Happy Birthday to you"?

-About the new CHS airline?

-about the band arriving bright and early at 7 a.m.?

-think positive Patti P.

eral price freeze took place . . . You could hardly blame them, but this left the farmer and the cattleman who have to take what they can get in the market place getting just about what the little boy shot at.
We don't blame the Cattleman for being riled . . . We are one, and we are ready for action . . . But we just don't believe the friends we know are going to take this throat slashing way out . . . When we see a Full-fledged, Levi wearing, muddy booted Cattleman, sharpening his Barlow we'll start writing our Apology. One thing that will help save the Rancher is his sense of humor . . . The Clifton Cattle Company of Hereford, Texas has the following article on the back of their business card; It is called:

"ORGANIZED CONFUSION"
Livestock are animals that are being bred and raised in the country to keep the producer broke and drive the buyer crazy.
Livestock are born in the spring, mortgaged in the summer, Pastured in the fall, and given away in the winter.
They vary in size, color, weight, and the man who can guess the nearest weight and market grade is called a livestock buyer by the package, a robber by the rancher, and a poor business man by the banker.
The price of livestock is determined in Hereford, and goes up after you have sold, and down after you have bought.
One packer sent a buyer to Hereford to watch the livestock market in action and report back . . . After a few days of penetrating study he wired back to this effect:
"Some say the market will go up, some say it will go down, I say the same. Whatever you do it will be wrong. ACT AT ONCE."
The Clifton Cattle Company

are cattle buyers, and we'll bet they are also good business men . . . We got a kick out of your card.

From the bottom of our heart we Thank God for the great number of down to earth cattlemen we have had the joy of knowing . . . We don't expect to have to ever apologize for any one of them.

It's How You Play

Ecclesiastes 10:6 - "Folly is set in great dignity."

Let this word from Ecclesiastes capture your thinking for a moment: Folly is set in great dignity." Now we can make many inferences from that; it can mean anything from the way man proves his loyalty to God, to the attitude of rulers as they interpret their positions of responsibility, to how football coaches accept their trust to train young boys to play the game and referees who faithfully execute their task of supervising the actual playing done on the field of competition.

Tragically, it was quite apparent last Friday evening that a set of coaches who were so set on winning that they had trained their young boys to bend the rules and hurt their opponents physically to get them out of the game. The referees were also a part of the crime for they refused to call violations so apparent that even the untrained eye detected their being committed. Then there was the community which supported the action wholeheartedly with their roar of approval. It truly was a display of folly set in great dignity! It proved to be an activity that only further demonstrates why our youth are not supportive of laws set by society or spiritual interpretation of the value of honesty, purity, and right action, but are rejecting the words of their elders because their words are contrary to their actions.

Teaching youth to play by the game, but showing him how he can bend the rules and get away with it created confusion, anxiety, and neurosis. A coach who fluctuates his teaching and methods to insure victory replaces his own integrity and good judgement in order to bring success no matter what the cost. If the coach who uses questionable tactics in order to insure success teaches the team methods which create a divided loyalty, guilt, and conflict within the team members, he then is sowing seeds for future emotional difficulties which may very well lead to problems in social relationships. This shows up in the attitudes of our young people toward not only parental authority and moral standards of society, but that of law, police, court systems, etc. Because the moral ethic of our nation has been basically that of integrity, honesty and purity, our youth have witnessed the opposite being practiced by governmental leaders, where one apparently has gotten away with murder, another escaping prosecution by Presidential pardon, and a whole host of lesser violators going free; to a coach which apparently teaches them to disregard all rules, or at best how to bend them, and not to care for the physical well being of the opponent but try to hurt him and get him out of the game, then it should not be surprising that the moral attitude of our youth is that anything goes and their spiritual attitude is increasingly negative toward the teachings of Christ.

For the life of me, I cannot understand how the people of Memphis, Texas can be proud of the way in which their victory was achieved. It was accomplished by methods that were wrong and supported by a set of referees who neglected their responsibilities. Personally, I am proud that we don't have a group of coaches who will attempt to win by such methods as used by Memphis last Friday evening.

Grace and Peace.

The economic situation in the 13th Congressional District has been improving each year independent of national trends. Dolph Briscoe's proved he has the contacts and the know how to bring new business to the State of Texas. We can't afford to lose him at a critical time like this.

We need new jobs and more income in this state and Governor Briscoe is helping us get them.

Briscoe's kept pace without adding new taxes—I voted Republican in 1972, but I'm voting for Briscoe this time.

They all promised no new taxes; Dolph Briscoe kept his promise.

I think Dolph Briscoe is a Governor you can believe in. I'm looking forward to voting for him in November.

Little - Ashford Vows Exchanged Oct. 24

Miss Charlotte Lynette Little and Mr. Richard Bryan Ashford exchanged nuptial vows in a ceremony at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, October 24, 1974 in Central Baptist Church in Amarillo, Texas. Rev. John A. Bingham, pastor, read the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Oletha Little of Amarillo, Texas and J. D. Little of Clarendon, Texas. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ashford of Amarillo.

The altar was decorated with tiered candelabra, basket arrangements of white mums, daisies and gladioli accented by blue bows, and greenery. Pews were marked by blue bows. Tapers were lighted by Mary Bingham and Valarie Casias.

Bob Renegar, organist, presented a nuptial prelude and accompanied Mary Bingham, soloist, who sang "More."

The bride was attired in a formal wedding gown of satin overlaid with heavy lace. The dress was designed with long sleeves and short train with satin edging the train and providing the trim. Her waist-length veil was held in place by a tiara and she carried a bouquet of white mums and daisies showered with blue and white streamers. She wore her maternal grandmother's ring and a borrowed gold Cameo brooch.

Attending the couple were the bride's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Lenerose. Mrs. Lenerose wore a floor-length dress in blue and carried a nosegay of blue and white carnations.

Flower girl was Michelle Renegar. Ringbearer was Shawn Lenerose, nephew of the bride. Serving as ushers were Don Royal and Dale Zint.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the Church. The serving table was laid with a white cloth accented by miniature blue wedding bells and a floral arrangement in white and blue. The three tiered wedding cake was decorated with blue accents and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Appointments were crystal and silver. Charlotte Royal dispensed punch while Nona Adam served the cake.

Mrs. Ashford is employed by the Amarillo News-Globe and attends Amarillo College on a part-time basis. Mr. Ashford is employed by a paint contractor in Amarillo.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Miss Oretha Wilton of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wilton of Jacksboro, Mrs. Johnny Bennett of Fort Worth, and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Little of Clarendon.

Q—I have heard that some prescription drugs are covered under Medicare Part B. Is this true?

A—Prescription and non-prescription drugs purchased by or dispensed to a patient are not covered. Drugs or biologicals are covered only if they are of the type that cannot be self-administered. They must be administered by the physician or by his nurse under his personal supervision. This does not include immunizations.

Q—Are all immunizations or vaccinations excluded from coverage?

A—Vaccinations and inoculations are excluded as "immunizations" unless they are directly related to the treatment of an injury or direct exposure to a disease or condition. For example: Anti-rabies treatment or tetanus anti-toxin is covered.

Q—A friend of mine received reimbursement for B-12 shots but my claim was refused. Why?

A—Your friend is probably receiving the B-12 shots as an effective treatment for a disease or condition such as pernicious anemia. Injections that are not considered by accepted standards of medical practice to be given for a specific condition are not covered.

Q—Are drugs used while a patient is in a hospital covered by Medicare?

A—There are two requirements for drugs or biologicals to be covered in a hospital. They must represent a cost to the institution and they must be an approved drug or biological for use in a hospital.

Q—My doctor gives me vitamin injections and I have been denied payment for them. Why?

A—Medications which are given for a purpose other than for treatment of a particular condition, illness, or injury are excluded from coverage.

Q—Medicare paid for my first series of injections but has refused to pay for any more. Why?

A—Medications administered for treatment of a disease which exceeds the frequency or duration indicated by accepted standards of medical practice are excluded from coverage unless there are extenuating circumstances.

Q—How would you generalize the coverage for drugs or biologicals in or out of a hospital?

A—To put it in a general way, I would say that while an inpatient in a hospital, drugs or biologicals received are covered. While out of a hospital, prescriptions and non-prescription drugs purchased by or dispensed to a patient are not covered. Exceptions exist in both cases, but this is a good general statement.

Q—Is there a deadline for veterans to apply for medical treatment at Veterans Administration hospitals?

A—There is no deadline, but priority is given to eligible veterans with service connected disabilities.

Q—I've just discovered that I've lost the National Life Insurance policy I've carried since World War II. Will the Veterans Administration provide a copy?

A—Yes. Suggest you request a copy from the Veterans Administration Insurance Center where you pay your premiums. If you had a paid-up policy, direct your request to the VA Insurance Center, Philadelphia, Pa., 19101.

Q—Can I phone in my change of address to the Veterans Administration rather than write a letter?

A—Yes. But be prepared to provide as much identifying information as possible, such as claim and/or social security number, date and place of birth, etc.

Q—When I was discharged from military service last month, I took out a Service Disabled Veterans Insurance (RM) Life Insurance policy. Does the Veterans Administration pay dividends on this type of policy?

A—No. RV is not a participating policy because the extra risk costs are paid by the government.

Q—How many spinal cord injury treatment centers does the Veterans Administration have?

A—As of September 1974, VA had 16 spinal cord injury treatment centers and 20 prosthetic treatment centers for amputees, geographically dispersed around the country.

Q—I'm attending college under the Veterans Administration's program for orphans of deceased veterans. I married two months ago, and wonder if my educational allowance will be increased?

A—Sorry, no. The agency is not authorized to pay additional educational assistance to dependents of participants in that program.

Q—I am the unmarried widow of a World War II veteran who never used his GI home loan entitlement. Am I eligible for this Veterans Administration benefit?

A—Yes. Unmarried widows of veterans of World War II and later periods have been eligible for this benefit since passage of the Veterans Housing Act of 1970.

Jimmy Blackerby of Austin visited Sunday morning with Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Estlack. Jimmy is a former employee at the Leader Office.

It's that time again...

... time to start getting your home ready for the winter months ahead. By starting now and checking your home for those energy leaks, you'll stay warmer this winter and conserve energy.

Take a few minutes and check the following items to make sure your home will be winterized:

1. Insulation is most important . . . and can pay for itself in energy consumption savings. The usual recommendation is 6 inches of insulation for the attic and 4 inches for outside walls. Check FHA requirements for further information.
2. Weatherstrip doors and windows, and caulk cracks and crevices to prevent drafts and the loss of heated air.
3. Maintain heating equipment for maximum efficiency by having it checked by a competent serviceman.
4. Dirty filters cause heating equipment to work harder and use more fuel. Check your filters every 30 days. If they're the permanent type, clean them according to the manufacturer's directions. If they're the disposable type, replace them at least every 90 days.
5. Don't be a "thermostat jiggler". Turning the thermostat up or down doesn't cause the equipment to heat or cool faster. It simply works longer to satisfy the setting. The national conservation program calls for settings of no more than 68°F. in heating weather. If you are going to be away for several days, lower the temperature to 60°F.

6. Don't place curtains, furniture or other objects in front of heating registers or return air openings. This blocks the flow of warm air.
7. Open blinds and draperies on sunny days to help heat your home during the day but close them at night to help reduce heat loss.
8. Keep the fireplace damper closed when the fireplace is not in use.
9. Storm doors and windows are not customarily used in this part of the country, but they do reduce heat loss. As a temporary substitute, a sheet of clear plastic stapled or tacked over screen doors or windows works well.
10. Keep the opening and closing of doors to a minimum to reduce the loss of warm air.

funding methods must change if there is to be real equality in learning opportunities.

The same House interim sub-committee on public school finance heard differing opinions on whether the so-called "weighted pupil plan" will help correct inequities.

Dr. Jose Cardenas of Texas for Education Excellence and former superintendent of Edgewood School District, San Antonio, said the present Minimum Foundation Program must be scrapped and the "weighted pupil plan" submitted.

Dr. Lawrence Haskew, University of Texas at Austin education professor, conceded the "weighted pupil" approach may be a small step forward, but he said he could not see it as correcting all inequities.

The plan would place state school aid on the basis of need for various - level programs rather than on average daily attendance. Apparently, it figures in Gov. Dolph Briscoe's proposals for education assistance. A Texas Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations public finance committee, meanwhile, suggested levying school taxes on a countrywide basis as a means of equalizing resources.

Draft of a 35-district survey of school property tax values for the Legislative Property Tax Committee is expected to be available next month for legislative guidance.

GASOLINE USE CUT — Texans used a little less gasoline last summer than they did in 1973 but increased natural gas consumption slightly.

A governor's energy office report indicated gasoline sales were down 1.3 per cent in July, but natural gas use was up 2.9 per cent. The report concluded the gas consumption rise was due to hotter weather in June-July 1974.

State agencies managed to decrease their use of both gas and gasoline substantially. Wharton County Junior College cut energy consumption by 29.7 per cent from December through July.

WELFARE "NOT PENALIZED" — Texas welfare programs have not been penalized regardless of a report from Washington, State Welfare Commission.

er Raymond W. Vowell said. Vowell said the state agency actually has "saved taxpayers $1.5 million through highly-successful quality control measures." He termed "misleading" a report from Washington that welfare grants to states had been slashed $61.7 million in the last half of the year to crackdown on abuse.

The state official said Texas has exceeded federal Health, Education and Welfare agency guidelines, and that "fiscal sanctions established by the feds a year ago lagged years behind Texas efforts to rid its rolls of error in welfare payments."

PAROLEES AIDED — A group of Houston lawyers are aiding parolees from state prison in their adjustment to life outside penitentiary walls.

They will help find jobs, meet parole requirements and generally assist them in finding their place in society.

The project is financed by Texas Criminal Justice Council.

COURTS SPEAK — The State Supreme Court ordered a hearing November 20 on whether the Railroad Commission has power to apportion in the public interest natural gas of Lo-Vaca Gathering Company to Austin and San Antonio.

In other cases, the high court: Held Bellaire General Hospital of Houston was responsible for the death of a patient housed in a room without oxygen.

Refused to schedule a hearing on Coastal States Gas Corporation's effort to disqualify an Austin lawyer from a breach of contract suit against the firm on grounds the attorney helped negotiate the contract in question.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed a five-year prison sentence assessed a Dallas man in the accidental slaying of his wife.

AG OPINIONS — A Commissioners Court lacks authority to call for a referendum at public expense on a proposed dam project, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

It is legal to prescribe different salaries for constables of separate county precincts.

Residents of a commissioners precinct shifted to another have no vested interest in money assigned their old precinct. The Open Records Act does not require the Board of Pardons and Paroles to reveal its files on an inmate to an individual legislator.

Governmental bodies holding sales tax permits must also furnish a bond or other security to the comptroller when they collect. So must individuals who sell taxable items from facilities on government property.

A county clerk is not authorized to record an assumed name certificate for a business entity until full information required by law is provided.

City of Selma budgets are public records.

A female employee's right to pay for time she was off her state job due to pregnancy depends on whether any others would have collected for disability caused by illness during the same period. (The opinion applied to an employee who claimed extended sick leave several months after returning to work).

Laws don't prevent design of a public facility which may amount to a barrier to a handicapped person unless the design was drawn intentionally for that purpose.

Names and addresses of Dallas water department customers are subject to disclosure under the Open Records Act.

ELECTION CODE "WORST" — Texas election code is among those most in need of revision, Secretary of State Mark White Jr. told a legislative committee.

He strongly recommended overall recodification in a single bill.

Aranas County Democratic Chairman Loa L. Bonner testified that out-of-state voter registration lists (containing names of dead persons and those who have moved elsewhere) are hampering the selection of juries.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
 Attorney General

A warranty, sometimes called a guarantee, is an assurance concerning the quality of something you buy. Since warranties are designed to protect consumer's it's important to learn about and use them. There are two kinds of warranties, Express and Implied.

With an express warranty, the seller of merchandise actually gives assurances, by words or actions, about the quality of what you are buying. Here are some examples:

Description. Such specifications as size, model, and color, if stated, guarantee that the product will conform to the description. A sale form which states "left hand door" for a refrigerator warrants that the door will swing to the left.

Performance. Such claims as "free of defects," "uses no oil between changes," "will cool a room of 1800 cubic feet" are locally binding.

Sample. A swatch of cloth or carpet from a bolt or roll creates a warranty that the merchandise purchased will be like the swatch. Model. A miniature aluminum window or door used by a salesman for demonstration warrants that the real thing will be like the miniature. A demonstration model of anything creates a warranty that the one purchased will perform the same way.

Implied warranties, on the other hand, depend on law-created assurances of quality regardless of claims or actions on the part of the merchant. Here are some examples of implied warranties.

Appropriateness. If a consumer asks a hardware dealer for a product to strip paint from a chair, the law implies a warranty that the product sold will remove the paint.

Merchantability. A merchant assures a consumer that goods are merchantable, that they work, and that they are "fit for their ordinary purposes." A car that won't steer or a kitchen stove that won't cook are examples of products that are not merchantable.

Who gives warranties? Sellers of goods are the main dispensers of express and implied warranties. In Texas, manufacturers also give implied warranties, and the law also creates an implied warranty from persons who provide services.

What are a consumer's legal remedies if warranties are not fulfilled?

A warranty and a remedy for the breach (or violation) of a warranty are not the same. For example, the express warranty connected with a new toaster may be that it will be free of defects for one year. The remedy offered may be that it will be repaired or parts replaced free of charge. Or an express warranty may assure a car owner that an engine coolant will stop leaks in the radiator. The remedy may be only the refund of the purchase price of the coolant if it doesn't stop leaks.

However, the law also gives consumers some additional remedies.

The most basic one is that a buyer doesn't have to accept goods that don't conform to a warranty. If a buyer does accept the goods and later finds that they don't conform, he can return them if the problem was not obvious at the time he accepted them or if the problem cannot be solved by the seller. If the buyer refuses the goods or returns them for a good reason, he can refuse to pay, get back what he paid, or collect "damages" — the difference between the price he paid and what the goods were worth with their warranty breached, or the difference between the price he paid and what it would cost to buy the same goods from another seller. The buyer can also collect expenses incurred in keeping or returning the goods. Expenses resulting from personal harm or harm to property as a result of breach of warranty are also collectable.

Failure of a seller to comply with an express or implied warranty is a violation of the Texas Deceptive Trade Practices. Sellers can, of course, offer additional remedies which a buyer may want to use. A safe practice is to get all such promises in writing.

Consumers who have questions about warranties can get information from the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division, county or district attorneys, or the Better Business Bureau.

Q—Does the Veterans Administration reduce a veteran's monthly compensation when there are increases in Social Security benefits?

A—No. The agency does not count any income against compensation for service-connected disabilities, including Social Security payments. However, income is counted in determining pensions of veterans with non-service-connected disabilities.

Q—I'm a Vietnam-era veteran having family and job problems. Can I obtain free counseling from the Veterans Administration?

A—Yes. VA staffs community service specialists in veterans assistance centers to help meet the veteran's total counseling needs. These specialists are available in Boston, New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Detroit and other principal cities, and the agency plans eventually to place them in all centers.

Soil Conservation District News

Wind erosion presents a serious hazard in Donley County. When the soil is left unprotected, valuable top soil is lost; roads barrow - ditches, and fences fill up with silt; adjoining fields are covered up; and the air is filled with dust which gets into homes and presents visibility problems for the motorist.

We have come a long way since the dust bowl days when huge clouds of dust could be seen moving across the country. Man has managed to cope with the problem by management of his crops. This management is done by several methods. First there needs to be recognized that some crops are erosion permitting crops. In Donley County this is especially essential since our soils are extremely erosive and one of our major crops does not adequately protect the soil. Erosion permitting crops grown in Donley County include cotton and Quar.

These crops can be offset by raising high residue crops in rotation with cotton or quar. Primary high residue crops in Donley County are grain sorghum, rye, and wheat. Through rotation, wind erosion can be kept to a minimum. Other methods of preventing wind erosion include strip-cropping; interseeding of rye or wheat in cotton or quar; and mulching of cotton or quar with cotton burrs.

When inadequate residues are produced, and a cover crop or mulch cannot be applied, then emergency tillage operations should be performed.

DRIVING WHILE DRINKING

Driving while drinking is involved in nearly 40 per cent of the fatal accidents on the rural highways of Texas, according to records compiled by the Texas Department of Public Safety. "Texans for Traffic Safety" says watch out for the drinking driver and above all, make sure you're not one of them.

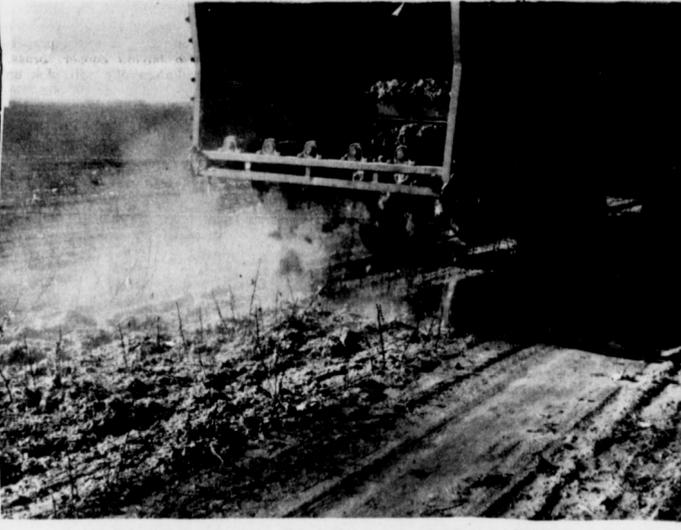

The first vacation Bible school for youngsters was opened in 1901 in New York City by Dr. Robert Boville of the Baptist City Mission.

The Evolution Of The Stove From Old Clarendon To The Present

Dr. James O. Brandon Pastor First Baptist Church

Cooking has undergone a tremendous change in the kitchen in the last seventy to eighty years. You could call it the evolution of the stove because changes in cooking have been brought mostly by the evolution of the stove.

What did the house wife of Old Clarendon cook on? In those rugged pioneer days each home had a fire place. The fire place was the center of family activity. There the lady of the house cooked the meals for the day; there the family gathered to keep warm in the winter because the fire place was the only medium of heating the house; and there the family gathered for family devotion, Bible reading, and prayer.

The fire place was replaced by the old pot bellied stove. There were fat ones and thin ones, short ones and tall ones, long ones and stubby ones. They burned coal and wood and anything else you put in them. Many of you will still recall these old stoves. Housewives used them for cooking, boiling water, and the family sat around them in the winter for warmth. Many of the houses around Clarendon still carry the signs where these old stoves were vented through walls and ceilings.

Then came the Dutch Oven. Most of these Dutch Ovens were about 8" x 14" in size. The housewife who had a Dutch Oven was really up town. One of the ways you got ahead of the Jones' of those days was to get your Dutch Oven. The Dutch Oven was heated by coal, wood, or anything else that There's always fun at the Pep Rallies and this past week the two ugliest boys were chosen by the cheerleaders. The three young ladies help show them off in their halloween masks. would burn. Testimony is that bread cooked in a Dutch Oven was out of this world.

The Dutch Oven was replaced by the wood stove. With the wood stove the day of cooking was at its best. These stoves were of all types. In roughest form, they were no more than adobe brick with grills for pans and an oven at the end. The better ones were constructed out of cast iron. A fire was usually kept going in these stoves at all times. With this stove, a household always had hot water.

Then came age of kerosene. The kerosene stove replaced the wood stove and coal stoves. Everybody bought one. The heyday of cooking had finally arrived. This was the best. Not only did they cook on the kerosene stove, but there were kerosene heaters for every room of the house. The kerosene cook stove was fed fuel by a jug of kerosene turned upside down in the place designated at the end of the stove.

The wonder of natural gas was harnessed and replaced the kerosene stove. Most of you will still remember changing. The natural gas age of cooking was king for many years. Electricity was due to provide a wonderful stove for the busy housewife. Push button cooking became the thing. Just set your clock and cook your meals while you are at work or church. It turns on and off as if by magic. Even these wonders are turning out to be horse and buggy with the new invention of the microwave oven that cooks your food in a blink of the eye. We have something also called the radar oven. What will tomorrow bring Who can tell? One thing we know, you've come a long way Clarendon.

Fifteen per cent of the fatal accidents on the rural highways of Texas occurred last year when some body was driving on the wrong side of the road, according to the records of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The Howardwick Party Line

By Sharon Mills

Hello, it is Tuesday and what a beautiful morning!

Saturday was Lions meeting and supper. There were approximately fifty members and guests attending. The Howardwick Lions Club donated $400.00 to the Cripple Children at Kerrville, Texas. This Club always tries to do their part of the work the Lions do.

Speaking of Civic affairs the Community Sing is this week at the Howardwick Baptist Church. There are to be singers from the Martin Community and Turkey. We haven't heard the Singers from Turkey, but have heard they are real good. We know the ones from Martin are. So every one come on out and hear these groups. We hope there will be other groups here. We do appreciate the Baptist Church lending their building for these Singings. We can show our appreciation by attending the Singings more. Let's don't forget the Singings are for the Community. Hope to see you there.

Jim and Thelma Corgill's daughter and son-in-law, Martha and Don Matlock have been here a week. He has been stationed at Ft Sill for three years and is now being transferred to Wichita, Kansas with a promotion to a recruiting officer. Two granddaughters, Deloris Denny of Lawton and Ginger Rodgers of Amarillo have also been visiting the Corgills. Last Wednesday the Jim Corgills had business in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Castner had some of their children over the week end. They were Bill and Shirley and children, Tommy, Billy, Tim and Terry of Tahoka.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Boling went to Albuquerque Wednesday to visit his sister, Mary Boling. They came back Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. S. L. McMahan and daughter, Charlene Burns of Amarillo were their guests Sunday.

Mrs. Bill Littlefield and Mrs. Lois McVicker also made a business trip to Amarillo last Tuesday.

The week end guests of the John Collins were D. A. and Betty Collins, Rita and Timmy Fowler. Betty's mother, Mrs. Vera Decker, of Quanah was also here. Mrs. Collins and her sister-in-law, Katie Myers of Kirklund went to Amarillo this week.

The Melville Mills had a very nice visit in Portales visiting their sister-in-law, Mrs. Nelle Mills, and niece & family, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Thomas, Stan & Don. Mrs. Mills accompanied them back to Howardwick to spend a few days with them. (Maybe to even the grocery bill). Isn't it awful the way some people get off their diets when they have the opportunity to eat others' cooking! Maybe we can get back on it, to get off it, in time for Thanksgiving.

Let's all drive carefully tonight since there will probably be lots of little Goblins, Spooks, Witches and other Halloween characters around. These little people may not think to look both ways or to listen. They will be thinking more of their treats. Have Fun, Kids.

Don't you think Norma did a real good job on the column last week. We have such good neighbors, all of them!

Congratulations to the Ed Castners on their new grandbaby. It arrived 2:30 this morning (Tuesday). Great grandmother, Grace, and great, great Grandmother Boone, have gone to Lubbock to visit the baby. The Ronald Castners of Lelia Lake and Eulie and Andrew Henderson of Linden, Texas visited Ed and Grace Monday night. Daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jerald McDonald of Lubbock visited through the week end and did some fishing. They reported a nice catch. Bye til next week. Sharon

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill Attorney General

If you're planning to spend less money by staying home more this winter, perhaps you'll be depending for part of your entertainment on a home stereo system.

And, while buying a new one might seem like a strange way to save money, some folks reason that records and tapes are sources of continual pleasure and can be used and enjoyed over and over again for free after the initial investment.

In just a few weeks, consumers who are contemplating a high fidelity stereo purchase will get a big assist in sorting through the claims made by competing brands.

The assist is in the form of a Federal Trade Commission regulation that will require, after November 4, that all manufacturers of home entertainment audio equipment use the same method of specifying power output. The new rule may have a widespread effect, too, since consumers are expected to purchase an estimated 8 million stereo sets this year.

In the past, one "hi-fi" brand advertised at 50 watts might have been more powerful than advertised at 100 watts. In addition, one manufacturer's amplifier advertised at 10 watts might actually produce more power with less distorted sound than another's 50 watt amplifier. For the novice buyer, this was confusing, to say the least.

Audio equipment power has been rated by one of three common rating systems heretofore: "continuous power," "instantaneous peak power," and "music power."

Most audio experts regard continuous power as the most reliable method for the average consumer to use in comparing systems. It expresses an amplifier's ability to produce a range of tones for more than 30 seconds with little distortion of the sound. And it's the way the FTC says all such equipment must now be rated.

Manufacturers must test their equipment after it has warmed up for one hour, and the equipment must deliver its full wattage power for five minutes before the measurement is made. Manufacturers will also be required to state in what frequency range the power is effective, and all channels must operate at the stated power.

The "instantaneous peak power" ratings, which can be more than 20 times the continuous power ratings, have often impressed consumers who think "the more watts, the better." However, IPP measures amplifier power without regard for sound distortion, so you can get a "fuzzy" sound. In addition, the wattage may deteriorate after the set has been on awhile, since the rating is only for "instantaneous" power.

The FTC says instantaneous peak power claims still can be made by manufacturers, but that they must be shown in advertisements and printed materials in smaller size type than continuous power ratings.

"Music power" is a term that has been abused by some audio equipment advertisers to make claims that couldn't always be justified. When used accurately, along with a rated distortion figure, music power measures the ability of a set to deliver better musical sounds than another when all other factors are equal.

Attorney General's Consumer Protection attorneys recommend that consumers in the market for audio equipment familiarize themselves with the new ratings so they can make valid comparisons. They also recommend that stereo shoppers:

Choose a dealer with a reputation for good equipment and service, and make sure he's authorized by the manufacturer to service the brand selected.

Take a favorite record or tape when testing equipment. Have the dealer play it on several systems, ranging from low-cost to expensive. When you find a sound you like, listen to the next most expensive system. If you still find the first one satisfactory, it may be a good choice for you.

Examine the warranty carefully. Make sure it spells out in detail what is covered and for how long.

If there are any doubts about the dealer, check with people who have dealt with him, and with the local Better Business Bureau.

If a consumer problem develops, consult the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division.

Q—How much can I pay for a home purchased with a loan guaranteed by the Veterans Administration?

A—As much as you can afford. However, there is a limit on the amount of guaranty the agency can issue — 60 per cent, up to a maximum of $12,500. Also, the loan cannot exceed VA's appraised value of the property.

A—Yes. VA will pay for installation, maintenance and replacement of adaptive equipment, but the car grant is a one-time benefit.

Q—I am a 73 year old veteran drawing pension from the Veterans Administration. My nephew tells me I do no longer have to file an annual income questionnaire. Is that true?

A—Yes. But while the law excludes pensioners 72 years old and older who've been on the rolls during two consecutive years from filing the questionnaires, they still must report changes in income.

Q—May a veteran be enrolled for a fractional part of a semester, term or quarter under the GI Bill?

A—No. The school enrolls a veteran for a program of education for which he is to be given credit. They must certify him for the full period for which he enrolls.

Q—I am a 100 per cent service-connected disabled veteran entitled to CHAMVA benefits. My wife is entitled to Medicare. Can she obtain her prescriptions under CHAMPVA?

A—No. Dependents eligible for Medicare are not entitled to benefits under CHAMPVA.

Q—I am attending high school under the GI Bill. I had 12 months of active duty. Will I be eligible to attend college?

A—High school training is provided without charge to your basic entitlement under the GI Bill. You will have 18 months eligibility for college training.

Q—My 20-year-old daughter, whose father was killed while on active duty, plans to be married.

Will she still be entitled to war orphan's educational assistance following her marriage?

A—Yes. Marriage of children eligible for war orphan's educational assistance is not a bar to this entitlement.

Q—I am a college student interested in volunteer work in hospitals. Does the VA use college volunteers?

A—Yes. Wherever possible they are placed according to their special interests and career goals. Psychology majors often work in Psychology Service and social work majors assist the social work staff.

Q—How do I secure dental treatment through the Veterans Administration?

A—When application is made within one year after release from active duty, dental conditions are presumed to be service-connected making them eligible for one time correction.

Q—I keep hearing about "Ret-Rep". What is it?

A—A program the Veterans Administration has initiated to help veterans attending college. Specially-trained veterans representatives do this by answering questions and otherwise solving problems veterans may have.

Social Security

By Travis C. Briggs
People may be asked to prove their age, identity, and citizenship to get a social security number when applying for the first time, according to Travis C. Briggs, Social Security Manager in Amarillo, Texas.

The proof is required under an amendment to the social security law. The requirement affects native United States citizens, naturalized citizens, and aliens. Age can usually be proved with a birth or baptismal certificate. Identity can generally be proved with a driver's license, voter's card, or similar evidence - preferably something that carries your signature.

People born in the United States can usually establish citizenship with the same papers they use to prove their age and identity.

The proof requirement is intended to help prevent people from obtaining more than one social security number or obtaining or using a social security card under a false identity.

A fine of up to $1,000, imprisonment of up to one year, or both may be imposed for fraudulent use of genuine or false social security numbers to hide true identity or to get benefits from Federally funded programs.

Your social security number is yours alone and remains the same for life. Using more than one number could mean you're not getting full credit, which could adversely affect your social security payments in the future.

You should apply for a social security number several weeks before you need it. Applications are generally screened against social security central files in Baltimore, and screening takes time.

When you get a job covered by social security, make sure your employer copies your name and number correctly from your social security card to his records. For more information, contact Amarillo Social Security Office, 374-2341.
