The Clarendon Bronchos came back from their loss to Claude last week for a victory over McLean with the final score being 28-0. Good work, boys. The Bronchos played a very good game. The weather was a bit disagreeable but this is the way they like it. We will meet Silverton this Friday night in our home stadium. Let's all be there to cheer our mighty Bronchos on.

The B-Team played Claude here last Thursday night and they really put them in their place. The score was 47-6 and what a game this was. The guys were quite proud of this victory and they had a right to be. We're proud of you, guys.

There was a lot of spirit at the Pep Rally last Friday. The band sounded good and everyone was showing a lot of spirit. The Cheerleaders put on a skit that concerned a Circus. The ringmaster lost her moustache a time or two and the tigers lost a few of their stripes but it was a lot of fun and everyone seemed to enjoy it. The Spirit stick should go to Mrs. Grady and her group for the enthusiasm they showed at the Pep Rally. The teachers did their own battle cry and it was great. Keep it up, girls!

Since we don't have to go to school tomorrow, there will be a street rally tonight. Everybody plan on being there. Back the Bronchos — All the way.

The girls basketball team traveled to Plainview last Saturday to watch the Wayland Flying Queens perform. The girls were all quite impressed by everything they saw and they felt they had learned a lot too. Coach Kenney and his wife, Cathy, took the girls over. Cathy baked dozens and dozens of cookies and everyone enjoyed them immensely. Thanks, Cathy.

Seems like some of our "gang" found out how wet you can get when you have to stomp a bunch of watermelons. Anyone you know down with a cold?

Some of the kids were having a lot of fun with watermelons until the Law decided to put a stop to that. That sounds rather dangerous to me. How about you???

I guess the most fun was with the egg throwing as usual. This is pretty messy but not quite as harmful as those things. Oh, well, a good egg shampoo never hurt anybody.

Steve Stavenhagen has so many knots on his head he can't put on his Mickey Mouse ears anymore.

Buzzy Maxey, you were telling the truth when you said you were telling the truth!!!

Karan Ellis, Cheryl and Barbara Shadle, where were you supposed to be the other night but you weren't, huh? Congratulations to Tony Wallace.

Russell Baldwin, you say the sweetest things. Did you know that Jerry Holland has a different reaction to different colors? What's your favorite color, Jerry? I bet Jean Brandes can tell you.

Belinda Tanner still comes up with some of the wittiest answers to some of the simplest questions. Where do you get all your material, Belinda? I think you would make a good writer for some TV personality.

A bunch of the Explorers went to Amarillo the other night to go ice skating but when they got there there was no ice!! So they ate Pizza and messed around and all had a good time. Let's hope when you go skiing in February there is some snow for you. Right?

Debbie Robertson ran into some "old friends" at Plainview the other day. Were you glad to see them, Debbie?

Randy Croslin, did you fall down and hurt yourself or were you "caring" for someone else?

Mitzi Cagle has the most expressive eyes. Sometimes she can get a message across without ever saying a word. But don't ever quit talking, you have a lot to say.

Miss Veach had a little surprise the other night in Amarillo but it all turned out all right. Those unmarked cars will do it every time!!!

Pat Trout has had so much practice taking care of children, she feels like someone's step-mother. And what would that "someone" do without her?

Question of the Week — "What CHS couple had a lot of fireworks just lately, and not the 4th of July kind either?"

Cutest Couple — Joan and Bobby Lemons.

A Ladder Of Virtue

Weldon Rives, Pastor
First United Methodist Church

11 Peter 1:5-7 — "And beside this, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue; and to virtue knowledge; and to knowledge temperance; and to temperance patience; and to patience godliness; and to godliness brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness charity.

THIS WEEK WE BEGIN A SEV-

EN WEEK SERIES TO HELP US LOOK AT OURSELVES, OUR NATION AND OUR WORLD. THIS INTROSPECTION IS MOST IMPORTANT IN LIGHT OF CURRENT SOCIAL AND POLITICAL TURMOIL IN OUR NATION.

During this series we will be concentrating upon Peter's words in 11 Peter 1:5-7. These verses are sometimes referred to as a seven rung "Ladder Of Virtue." However, the order is not important for each virtue is equally essential to a full Christian life and to be without one is to display our Achilles' heel in regards to our Christian faith.

This week we shall consider the rung of moral and spiritual virtue. Moral virtue has to do with the physical life and our abuse of our bodies, minds and general well being. The old statement that "Its my life (body) and I can do with it as I please" is still a convincing argument for many people. However, one thing we've learned is that "your freedom ends where my nose begins." That is to say, we do have some responsibility toward one another; we are our brother's keeper — it is an inescapable fact of life God built into the order of the creation and to take privileges with our bodies which is abusive not only to our self but to other persons also is to put a serious crack in this rung of the ladder. We need to hear Paul's words again to the church at Corinth (1 Corinthians 6:19): "What? Know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own?" What an evil thing it is when one presents his body to Christ and there is the physical evidence of abusive care such as venereal disease, needle marks, cirrhosis of the liver, or any other evidence of the desecration of the temple of the Holy Spirit, e.g., your body.

As there is a moral virtue, so is there a spiritual virtue. Just as we can — do — transgress the moral virtue so do we also the spiritual virtue. That is to say, we let self-desire direct our loyalty away from the God who loves us and gave his Son as a ransom for our souls. Let me inject here that a violation of the moral virtue as indicated previously is also a violation of the spiritual virtue — think on that, if you will. At the point of spiritual virtue the 20th Century Christian would do well to receive the ancient command of the Hebrews to inscribe the Covenant upon the mind and in the heart and to diligently teach them to their children, so that all times and in every place we know what it is that God commands us to do and to be as His disciples in the world. Then it will be true of us too as Paul prayed for the Hebrews (Hebrews 13:20, 21): "God . . . make you perfect in every good work to do his will."

When we as a nation and as a Community of the Christian Faith reinstate moral and spiritual virtue we will then have taken a big step in reclaiming our world for God from the hands of the devil and his angels.

Grace and Peace In Christ Jesus

McMurtry-Craig Nuptials Exchanged In Rockport, Texas October 27, 1973

Miss Christina McMurtry and George Bruce Craig were married Saturday evening, October 27th, 1973, in the First Presbyterian Church in Rockport, Texas. The Rev. John Bradshaw, pastor, was officiant for the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Alfred McMurtry, former residents of Clarendon. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bruce Craig of Houston, Texas.

White gladioli and yellow chrysanthemums decorated the church. A program of nuptial selections was presented by Jean Fay McLead, organist, and Mrs. Travis Bailey, vocalist.

Miss Marilyn McMurtry, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and other attendants included Miss Cynthia Clarke and Mrs. Jerry Goodson, cousins of the bride, and Mesdames Marcia M. Liston and Richard Anspercher, sisters of the bride.

Their formal dresses were of beige silk faille with full flower print designed in empire waist. Their bouquets were of rust colored chrysanthemums and white baby's breath.

John Craig of Houston, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and groomsmen were Dave Bowman, Johnny Cronin, Chris Harper and Richard Anspercher. The ushers were John Yancey and Wes Baxter.

Mr. McMurtry gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride selected a formal wedding gown of ivory silk linen and imported Alencon lace. The moulded basque bodice was fashioned with wide oval neckline and lace-edged, bell-shaped sleeves. The controlled skirt featured side and back pleated fullness and was complimented with a wide chapel train. Her fingertip veil of ivory silk illusion extended from a crown of Alencon lace and she carried a bouquet of white roses and daisies and baby's breath.

Reception guests were received at the Islander Club of the Key Allegro Inn in Rockport, Texas. Members of the house-party included Misses Nancy Collins, Genevieve Clarke, Colleen Coleman, and Mrs. Johnny Tomlinson.

A member of Pi Beta Phi social sorority, the bride attended The Selwyn School in Denton, Texas; Institution Technologico de Mexico; and graduated from Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Texas. She taught in the Dallas Independent schools and is presently employed by Tennessee in Houston.

Mr. Craig, a graduate of Southern Methodist University, was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and served in the United States Navy. He is presently employed with Allstate Insurance Company in Houston.

Following a trip to Jamaica, the couple will reside in Houston, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Rayburn Smith of Shamrock were Clarendon visitors Saturday.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Sharon Lee Nivens and Mr. Ted Arthur Mann of Clarendon, Texas. Justice of the Peace Carroll Lewis officiated at the ceremony November 3, 1973.

VISITORS

Leane Thornberry of Littlefield visited Friday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Risley. She picked up her nephew, Chris Schollenbarger of Claude, to spend the week end at Littlefield.

Fun After Fifty Has Thanksgiving Program

The Fun After Fifty organization met Saturday at Lions Club Hall for the November meeting. The largest attendance for about two years was recorded with around 65 present for the Thanksgiving program and turkey dinner. Games of 42 and dominoes were played until program time. Meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Florence Hester.

A Thanksgiving program was presented by Rev. and Mrs. Owen McGarity who were introduced by Mrs. Florence Hester, president. Rev. McGarity gave a brief historical background of Thanksgiving beginning with the first, celebrated after the death of many Indians — a thanksgiving for the harvest; George Washington's proclamation of Nov. 26, 1789; Lincoln's proclamation of Nov. 26, 1863, the first National Thanksgiving; and the proclaiming of Thanksgiving by every President of the United States since that time.

Rev. McGarity read an article by Faith Baldwin stressing being thankful for the little things in life: food, health, love, sleep, laughter, work, the sharing of friendly words, spiritual growth, acceptance, and consent. He quoted Paul as an example—the grasping of a challenge and the acceptance of this challenge. Rev. McGarity used other excerpts — A Thanks For The Seasons, a look at the past and the looking forward to the future.

Rev. and Mrs. McGarity, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Homer Taylor, sang "Breathe Only The Breath of Life," "Jesus Lover of My Soul," "Abide with Me," and "Come Ye Thankful People." All then joined in the singing of "America" and "Count Your Many Blessings." The program was concluded with Rev. McGarity reading "A Prayer of St. Francis of Assisi—The Psalm Of The Creatures."

A short business meeting was held. November Birthdays were recognized. At this time a letter from Beryl Clinton, Dean of Clarendon College was read concerning the possibility of future classes for Senior Citizens if there is an interest. This is only in a talking stage and was an idea from the Texas Counselor in Austin. A Nominating Committee was appointed by the president to submit new officers at the next meeting. Serving on this committee are Kate Beverly, Homer Taylor, and Beverly Head. The group would like to thank Mrs. Roy Brock for the large percolator which she donated the organization that more coffee will be available for the group. The Door Prize was presented Mrs. Homer Taylor.

A turkey dinner with all the trimmings was enjoyed by all. Thanksgiving decorations were provided by Mrs. Homer Taylor including Thanksgiving name tags. The meeting was closed with a "Thought For The Day" and Blessing by Rev. Yarborough. The next meeting will be held December 1, 1973. This will be a Christmas party with a turkey dinner, Christmas program with music from the College, and a visit from Santa Claus. Start making plans now to be present.

Mrs. E. S. Ballew Reviews For Book Club Tuesday, Nov. 6

Mrs. E. S. Ballew presented the program at the Guest Day meeting of 1926 Book Club Tuesday afternoon. The social hour preceded the program and during this time the hostesses, Mrs. Ethelyn Grady and Mrs. Beryl Clinton, served Africans, coffee or tea.

During the business session the following officers were elected for the coming year: Mrs. J. L. Butler, President; Mrs. Bill Weatherly, Vice-President; Mrs. K. K. Day, Treasurer; Mrs. Beryl Clinton, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Ethelyn Grady, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. W. C. Thornberry, Parliamentarian; and Mrs. Frank White, Jr., Federation Counselor.

The program was presented by Mrs. E. S. Ballew, who has been a continuous member of Book Club since 1927, reviewing "Time Out Ladies" by Dale Evans Rogers. The theme of this book is "Being a woman is a God given privilege." The author says Woman has been called God's second mistake but she doesn't feel that was an even second. The review was humorous and most enjoyable. Mrs. Ballew's opening remarks were to the effect that she had been handed a note just before time for the program. The note giving her the ingredients of a good speech. These were a good ending, a good beginning, and not too much in the middle. In her beginning she expressed her love for all of the members and all in the county and in conclusion she stated that she skipped the middle; She had expressed her love in her opening remarks, and that she still loves everyone dearly. Mrs. Ballew's personal touches made the review outstanding.

Members present were Mesdames Joe Ritter, Beryl Clinton, E. S. Ballew, Richard Delaney, Ethelyn Grady, Loyd Johnson, K. K. Day, Bill Weatherly, Weldon Rives, W. C. Thornberry, Jack Clifford, C. E. Bairfield, Frank White, Jr., Carl Morris, and Clarence Hamilton. Guests included Mesdames Mack Stavenhagen, Frank Phelan, Jr., L. E. Holloway, Bernie Green, Verdie Herrington, Don Alley, Oscar Thomas, J. R. Gillham, L. Quinn, Edwin Eanes, and Eula Merrell.

To protect the life of the President and to suppress counterfeiters are the two statutory duties of the U. S. Secret Service.

Open House Honors The Farris Martins

Mr. and Mrs. Farris Martin were honored with an Open House at their home in Hedley, Sunday, November 4, 1973. Guests were received from 3 to 6 p.m.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mesdames Patsy Adcock, Barbara Morris, Linda Payne, Jackie Stafford, Judy Clendenen, Wilma Snelson, Mary Ruth White, Mildred Clendenen, Margerite Holland, Louise Stewart, Marsha Pierce, Verda Hinds, Nell Gambell, Dorothy Brinson, Janie Mullins, Flossie Wood, Joe Boothe, Mollie Dickson, Sharon Stafford, and Joyce Woodward. Sixty guests registered during the receiving hours.

The honorees received many lovely gifts.

Mrs. Gray Hosts The Goldston Club Thurs.

Miss Anita Wood And Stephen Stafford Are United In Marriage

Miss Anita Jean Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wood of Hedley, Texas, became the bride of Stephen Stafford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Stafford of Amarillo, in a ceremony read Saturday evening, November 3, 1973 in the Hedley United Methodist Church.

Rev. Billy Wilson officiated at the double ring service with the couple exchanging vows against a background of baskets of white and apricot gladioli and greenery.

Traditional nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Letha Springer who also accompanied Mrs. Sharon Stafford as she sang "One Hand, One Heart" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Joe Wayne Wood. She wore a formal wedding gown of white satin designed with an Empire waistline, long sleeves terminating in points over the hands, and chapel train. The gown was accented by appliques of lace and seed pearls. Her veil of illusion was attached to a headpiece of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white and apricot carnations atop a white Bible.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her twin sister, Freda Jane Wood. She wore a street length dress in an apricot color and white accessories and carried a nosegay of white carnations.

Attending the groom as best man was Roger Wann. Ushers were Bobby McElrath and Scooter Jones.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wood chose a teal blue dress with white accessories. The groom's mother wore a pink and beige dress with white accessories.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church. Guests were received by the bride's mother, Mrs. Flossie Wood, Joe Wayne Wood, brother of the bride, the bride and groom, and the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Gordon Stafford, Jane Wood and Roger Wann

The refreshment table was laid with a lace cloth over apricot and centered with the bride's bouquet. The beautiful wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom encircled with wedding bells. Appointments were crystal. Cake was served by Vanessa Myers while Shauna White served punch. Renee White presided at the registrar.

As a traveling costume the bride chose an apricot street length dress with white accessories. After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home in Hedley, Texas.

Les Beaux Arts Club Meeting Held Friday

Mrs. John Sarich and Mrs. Frank White, Jr. hosted the meeting of Les Beaux Arts Club at Patching Club House Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Robert Boston, Jr., president presided over the usual order of business opening the meeting with Club Collect. During the business session Mrs. Johnny Leathers reported on the Art Exhibit usually held in the spring. Mrs. Vernon Berry and Mrs. James Brandon were elected to membership in the club. Mrs. W. J. Lewis, Jr. made announcements in regard to the Christmas program when it is hoped to make a trip to Amarillo to see the Christmas trees made there.

An interesting program on the Batik was presented by Mrs. Claude Moore. Batik is done with crayolas or special paint applied in a particular process. Mrs. Robert Boston, Jr. had several pictures to exhibit.

About twelve members were present.

Veterans learning a trade, such as tile setter or plumber, and who are not in a cooperative on-the-job training (OJT) program, should request such training from the VA. OJT is one of the most practical programs under the GI Bill for those not attending college.

Mrs. Roy L. Guthrie Autograph Party To Be Held Sun., Nov. 11

Mrs. Roy L. Guthrie (Elsie Bass Guthrie) will be in Clarendon Sunday, November 11, at the Hospitality Room of the Farmers State Bank and Trust Co. from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. to autograph her book, "The Lucky Moores."

The autograph party will be sponsored by the Donley County Museum Committee headed by Mrs. W. J. Lewis, Jr. Part of the proceeds from the sale of the book will go to the Museum Committee.

Mrs. Guthrie who taught English in the Memphis school for a number of years, is now teaching in Special Education classes there. She is a sister of John Bass of Clarendon.

Although the book is fiction, the story is based on the lives of the author's ancestors and is an authentic portrayal of the life-style of early pioneers in the latter part of the 19th Century. Melissa Moore is a fascinating girl, woven from rough cloth, combining her Mother's compassion with her Father's stubborn persistence. Never artificial or trite, Melissa's character is believable and true to life in "The Lucky Moores."

This is worthwhile reading for all ages, especially those interested in pioneer living.

The public is invited to come meet the author and buy her book! You will be helping the Museum, too.

Ashtola Needle Club

Mrs. Clara Finley hosted the Ashtola Needle Club in her home Thursday, November 1. During the social hour she served refreshments of jello, whipped cream, cookies, coffee, and iced tea to eight members: Mary Belle DeBord, Ruby White, Sue Rhoades, Billie Bible, Clara Finley, Addierene Mahaffey, Isman-el Gray, Lillie Knox and Veda Mahaffey.

The next meeting will be a basket supper and 42 party Saturday night, November 10. We will eat at 6:30 p.m. Hostesses will be Mrs. Clovis Bible and Mrs. Doss Finley. Rep.

Mrs. Norma Selvidge To Join Guatemalan Tour This Month

Mrs. Norma Selvidge, chairwoman of the Bi-centennial Commission of Donley County, will join 75 fellow Texans in a trip to Guatemala in November. The trip is the first U. S. State Department recognized international exchange of the American Revolution Bi-centennial celebration. The group will be headed by Secretary of State and Mrs. Mark W. White.

Secretary White, as the official representative of Governor Dolph Briscoe, will issue an invitation to the Guatemalan government to participate in Texas' observance of the United States' 200th birthday. In February, about 40 Guatemalans will visit Texas to present a program on the central American country's culture. While the group is in Guatemala, they will attend a performance of the Ballet Folklorico, visit the ruins of Tikal and Antigua, and Chichicastenango.

The cultural exchange with Guatemala was initiated under the Festival U.S.A. theme of the Bi-centennial celebration. The first scheduled performance by the Guatemalans in Texas is February 1974 will be at Temple. Other scheduled appearances are at Houston and Galveston with plans underway for performances in other cities in the state.

IRS Answers To Taxpayers Questions

Q—In June, my home was damaged by flood. I would have gotten a better tax advantage by deducting my casualty loss on the return I filed in April. Do I have to wait to claim this loss on my 1973 return?

A—If, in 1973, your area was declared a disaster area by the President, and, as a result of that disaster, you have the option of deducting the loss on your 1972 Federal income tax return or waiting until next year. If you have already filed your return for the prior year, file Form 1040X, which is specially designed to expedite your refund. For details on how to do it, see IRS Publication 547, "Tax Information on Disasters, Casualty Losses, and Thefts." Send a postcard to your local IRS office for a free copy.

Q—I've earned more than $10,000 so far this year. Shouldn't my employer stop withholding social security tax from my pay?

A—The maximum wage base for social security tax withholding in 1973 is $10,800. This equals $631.80 in social security tax. After this point, your employer should not be withholding social security tax. If he is still withholding this tax, see him to adjust this over-collection.

Any taxpayer who holds more than one job during the year and has more than $10,800 of his wages subject to social security tax can claim the excess tax withheld as a credit against his tax.

Q—I used money from my part-time job to buy new furniture for my bedroom. Will this have any effect on whether or not my parents can claim me as a dependent?

A—No. Capital expenditures for furniture and appliances are not included in total support. As long as your parents continue more than one-half of your total support and meet all the other dependency tests, they can still claim you as a dependent.

Q—I increased the value of my home by installing central air conditioning. Can I get a deduction for what I spent?

A—No. This expense cannot be deducted, but it can be added to the cost basis of your home. This way, the cost of the air conditioning unit will be taken into account in the event you sell your home.

SOILS & SEPTIC TANKS

A septic tank can either give satisfaction or be a disaster, depending on soil types, according to Monty Sowers head of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service in Clarendon.

"Rapid expansion in the suburbs and a new emphasis on rural living has greatly increased the number of septic tanks being installed," Sowers said. "Although septic tank disposal systems have been in use for several decades in both rural and suburban communities, many costly and avoiding mistakes are made."

Mr. Sowers said that SCS soil scientists estimate that most all of the land in the local Donley County Soil and Water Conservation District is suitable for properly installed septic systems. "Examples of unsuitable soils are the bottomland soils such as Spur, Clairmont, and Lincoln. All of these are liable to have high water tables," Sowers explained.

The normal system is one in which the sewer line leads to an underground septic tank in the yard and the overflow disperses over a large area drainage or perforated pipe. The tile or pipe is laid in trenches or in a seepage bed and covered with soil. The soil is planted to grass, and no part of the system is visible.

Such a system should function well for many years if properly installed and maintained and if the soil in the disposal area is satisfactory. If the soil is NOT satisfactory, the sewage disposal system will not work properly regardless of how well it is installed.

In planning a septic tank sewage disposal system, first find out if the soil can absorb the liquid sewage, or effluent, that flows from the septic tank. Some soils absorb effluent rapidly, others slowly.

"The effluent must be absorbed and filtered by the soil; otherwise, it may reach the surface or may contaminate ground water. Unfiltered sewage that reaches the surface attracts flies and insects, and it can be a source of disease," Sowers emphasized.

Local ordinances may prohibit your installing a sewage system and thus prevent your building a house. And some soils are not suitable for use as septic tank absorption fields.

In Donley County, the same limits occur both for septic tanks a few feet.

Soil surveys, Sowers explains, point out the limitations of the soils and the hazards in using them for different purposes. Surveys published in recent years give information useful in planning non-farm soil uses, including septic tank sewage disposal systems. Where no soil survey is yet available, as is the case in Donley County, those needing soil interpretations usually can get help from the Soil Conservation Service.

The Conservationist urges that, before planning a sewage disposal system, you should become familiar with local health regulations, the permit and inspection requirements, and the penalties that may be imposed for violations. Such information is available from the city or county planning commission of the Texas Health Department.

Further information is available in Agriculture Information Bulletin 349, "Soils and Septic Tanks," available from Soil Conservation Service offices.

Social Security

by Travis C. Briggs

Q—My daughter, who is blind, applied for social security disability benefits but was denied because she had not worked in the last six years. However, she had worked long enough to qualify for retirement benefits when she is 62. Have there been any changes whereby she might qualify for benefits now?

A—Yes. A person who is blind need now only be fully insured to qualify for disability benefits. You should contact the nearest social security office for further information.

Q—How long does a person have to wait before disability benefits are payable?

A—There is a five-month waiting period before disability benefits are payable. No payments can be made for this five-month waiting period.

Q—Will our disabled son, age 23, be eligible for social security benefits if my husband should die or retire?

A—A child disabled before age

22 can qualify for benefits on an entitled parent's record should one of the parents die, retire, or become disabled.

Q—I am blind, age 42, and I have worked at odd jobs for about fifteen years. I checked and I will be able to receive retirement benefits at age 62. Is there any benefits I can get now?

A—Social security does pay a disability benefit. The law has been changed so that persons disabled by reason of blindness may qualify for disability benefits if they are fully insured only. You should contact your nearest social security office for additional information.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOU State Capitol

By BILL BOYKIN
Texas Press Association

Over 200 leaders of industry and representatives of professions met in the capitol last week to review the new state laws governing campaign contributions, expenditures and lobbying.

Secretary of State Mark White and Attorney General John Hill discussed the major legal changes brought about by the "reform" legislation of the last Texas legislature.

"We are living in a period of legal transition," the Attorney General told the business and professional men and women. "My office has produced over 200 opinions so far this year—more than the total last year—and over 100 opinions are stacked up to be prepared."

White outlined his recent "campaign contributions and expenditures directives" at the meeting sponsored by the Texas Society of Association Executives.

Other speakers reviewed the details of the new lobby law and the sections of the penal code which affect campaigns and lobbying.

"H. B. 2 — the new lobby law — is unconstitutional," stated Frank Maloney, Austin attorney. "It violates both the first and fifth amendments to the constitution."

He cited federal cases which supported his opinion on the new Texas lobby law, and other speakers pointed out that several AG opinions are needed in this state to clarify sections of the campaign expenditures law and lobbying law.

Political action committees for state businesses and associations are being formed as a result of the new laws.

Labor unions must go the PAC route in Texas now also, because they are prohibited under the new law from contributing to political campaigns.

Speakers on the program indicated that the Sharpstown scandal and Watergate investigations are going to make office holders, candidates and those who work and contribute to campaigns very wary about future political activities in this state.

"Until we get more information from the Secretary of State's office, and additional Attorney General's opinions, most representatives of business, professionals, labor and industry are going to be very cautious about participating in political campaigns and contributing to campaigns," one spokesman for the group said.

"None of us wants to be the first 'test case' under these new laws," he concluded.

Others observed that it was going to be harder to get good people to run for public office because of the tough new laws, and predicted the strict campaign laws would make it easier for incumbents to remain in presiding judge of the first administrative judicial district, Dallas.

He named O. V. Mullins of Henderson to the board of managers of the Texas State Railroad, succeeding E. M. Decker Jr. of Jacksonville.

Frank B. Farrell of Dallas and Edwin H. Balschke of Houston were selected for State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers appointments.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby picked as his emergency interim successors (in case of disability due to enemy attack) Steven C. Oaks and Dr. June Hyer of Houston and Don Rives of Marshall.

Named to the board of regents of Texas State Technical Institute were Tom Patterson of Amarillo, O. Dale Seastruck of Irving and Lance Sears of Sweetwater.

James R. Arnold of Dallas is director of the governor's traffic safety office.

GOVERNOR ANNOUNCES FOR RE-ELECTION — Governor Briscoe, addressing more than 9,000 at a record fundraising dinner in his honor, announced he will run for a four-year term next year.

Estimates of income from the dinner ran in the $750,000 range, less $100,000 expenses.

The governor designated former Congressman Joe Kilgore, Austin attorney, as his 1974 campaign manager.

Sponsors of the Briscoe dinner termed it one of the most successful of its kind ever staged for a state candidate in Texas.

It seems, by well-meaning consumers who simply find it hard to master the mathematics of checking accounts.

Hundreds of millions of drafts on Texas banks are written annually by people who find this a convenient way to keep a record of payment on everything from insurance premiums, to mortgage coupons, to sandwich lunches and drugstore purchases.

Usually, everything works out to the satisfaction of the account holder, the merchant, and the bank depository.

Many times, however, checks do "bounce" — that is to say, get returned to the merchant with a bank explanation of "insufficient funds."

In that event, the merchant will notify the check writer by certified mail of the return, with a request that the insufficient check be redeemed by a certain date.

In most cases, the giver of the check responds right away, since a good credit record is one of the most-prized assets in today's society.

If the consumer does not answer the notice about a returned check for up to $50, however, the merchant can take the worthless check — together with his certified mail receipt — to the county attorney for collection and/or legal action on what is classified as a misdemeanor crime.

(As of August 27, 1973, when a new law takes effect, the county attorneys will have jurisdiction on worthless checks for up to $200. The legal penalty for prosecution will be up to two years in county jail and/or a maximum fine of $1,000.)

Realizing that the average "worthless check" writer suffered from poor bookkeeping ability, rather than any intention of perpetrating a fraud most county attorneys proceed with care from that point.

They understand, also, that the merchant's interest is only in keeping his books straight, by securing payment on the checks.

In Travis County (Austin) where some 300,000 Texans live, County Attorney Ned Granger live, process checks with computers, and offer a myriad of helpful services.

But one of the major problems merchants encounter today is the proliferation of worthless checks which are given, in the main, taling $262,185, and through contacts with those complained of, $130,929 was recovered for the merchants involved.

If the county attorney's letter is ignored, he asks the local sheriff to send the check writer a summons, asking him to appear in county court. If there is still no answer after 30 to 60 days, a warrant is issued for the person's arrest. And if he doesn't show up for the court hearing, the defendant is cited for contempt of court, as well as for the worthless check charge.

Most cases are resolved before such drastic action could be required. When a case does come to trial, most defendants plead guilty and work out an arrangement through probation to repay the amount involved.

The citizens who get in this predicament are not the same as the so-called "hot check artists," county attorneys tell us. The people who purposefully write bad checks usually are itinerant, and manage to be in the next county or state by the time their checks bounce. Another professional ploy is to counterfeit the checks, or forge them.

The "worthless check" charge most often involves an otherwise-honest citizen.

Officials such as district and county attorneys, and the Attorney General, are dedicated to law enforcement. But they don't enjoy the business of having to take action against persons who try to be law-abiding in all other respects, any more than the merchants do.

It would be so much easier if all of the check-writing public would make scrupulous attempts to keep their checkbooks balanced, and if they do receive "insufficient check" notices which they consider to be mistakes, take actions to get the errors corrected immediately.

WORTHLESS CHECKS

Back in the days when the holder of a bank checking account could write a draft on a brown paper sack, or a piece of wood bark, it probably wasn't as hard to keep track of an account balance as it is today when Texas banks print personalized drafts, process checks with computers, and offer a myriad of helpful services.

But one of the major problems merchants encounter today is the proliferation of worthless checks which are given, in the main,

WTSU To Host UIL Workshop Nov. 10

West Texas State University will host a University Interscholastic League workshop for high schools students and teachers Saturday, November 10, on the Canyon campus.

The workshop will prepare students and teachers for the UIL spring contests in ready writing, speech, number sense, slide rule, journalism, science and one-act plays, says Jack Edmondson, WTSU director of public services.

WTSU faculty members and UIL state directors will serve as consultants for the workshop, co-sponsored by the PESO Education Service Center of Amarillo. The workshop will be in the Activities Center from 9 a.m. - noon.

Dr. Pat Sullivan, chairman of the WTSU English department, and Dr. James Kenneavy, state UIL director, will conduct the workshop on ready writing.

Guy Yates, Robert Boyd and Dr. Zell R. Soelle of the WTSU speech department and Dr. Rex Wier of UIL will analyze demonstrations on persuasive speaking, prose reading and debate. In a workshop on number sense David Lasher, WTSU mathematics faculty, and Dr. Milo Weaver, UIL consultant, will explain how to succeed as a number sense coach or competitor and answer questions concerning a sample test.

David Patterson, WTSU assistant professor of mathematics, and Lasher will discuss preparation for the slide rule contest.

Journalism students will hear discussions by Bill Lee, chairman of the journalism department, Sandra Vail, WTSU journalism instructor, Craig Endicott, assistant city editor of the Amarillo Daily News, and Dr. Max R. Haddick, UIL journalism director.

Dr. Ronnie Waide, WTSU education associate professor, and Leopold Smigelski of the UIL will explain the nature of the science contest and give students a recommended reading list.

In preparation for one-act play competition, Lynn Murray, state drama director of the UIL, will lecture directors on contest management.

Basic acting techniques and administrative problems will also be discussed. All teachers and students interested in UIL academic and literary contests are invited, Edmondson says. There is no charge.

Cattle, Grain, Health Topics At PEP Meet Nov. 16 At WTSU

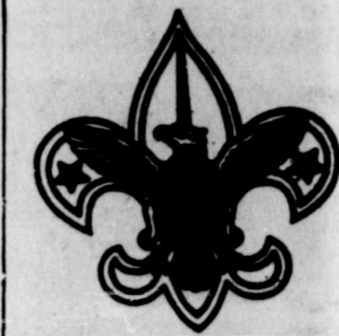

Depleted grain supplies, sharp price increases and tight supplies for the coming year characterize the outlook for grain markets. These and other trends affecting grain marketing and beef cattle production will be discussed in special task force meetings during the upcoming Panhandle Economic Program annual meeting Nov. 16 at West Texas State University in Canyon.

The task force sessions will be part of a one day program featuring Governor Dolph Briscoe and Senator Max Sherman, according to W. W. Grisham, Jr., district Extension agent and PEP coordinator, and Howard Ladewig, area resource development specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and secretary to PEP.

The meeting gets underway with registration at 8:30 and assembly at 9:30. Site of the event is the Activities Building of West Texas State University, Ladewig added.

Morning sessions, he said, will be devoted to future economic and social trends as viewed by experts in the fields of agriculture and family living. Area people will be able to make an important contribution to these sessions by offering their ideas about economic needs and opportunities.

Dynamic industry changes have drastically altered the structure of the beef cattle industry as well as its impact on the supply and price outlook, according to Uvacek. Some of these industry adjustments will be discussed, along with their implications for beef cattle production and marketing on the High Plains.

The Family Living-Youth Task Force will discuss the future of family health and economics as they relate to health programs, and foods and nutrition.

The governor's address is set for 1:30 p.m. Appearing also on the program will be Senator Max Sherman of senatorial district 31.

The annual meeting of PEP, says chairman R. C. (Dick) Cline, is open to all citizens interested in the economic and social growth of the Panhandle.

CC Whitecaps Honor Clarendon R. Nurses

Mayor H. M. (Flip) Breedlove signed a proclamation honoring the Registered Nurses of Clarendon in conjunction with Texas Nurse Week, November 4-10.

The Whitecaps, a newly organized group in the School of Nursing at Clarendon College, honored the RN's of Clarendon by presenting corsages to each of them and saying "thanks" for the services that they provide to the citizens of this area.

Clarendon is fortunate to have eight Registered Nurses. The ladies are Mrs. Linda Bell, Mrs. Janet LaTonn, Mrs. Charlotte Alexander, Mrs. Jimmie Isbell, Mrs. Onita Thomas, Mrs. Bessie Broome, Mrs. Clarence Alley, and Mrs. Linda Britten.

Throughout the week there will be displays at the Farmers State Bank and the Donley County State Bank informing the public about nursing education and responsibilities.

Future plans for the Whitecaps Organization include area wide seminars for area nurses, a career day for area students interested in the nursing profession, a community Day for taking blood pressure, and distribution of special holiday favors to the patients of the Medical Center Nursing Home and the Clarendon Rest Home.

Officers of the Whitecaps are Bettie Burk, President; Tracy Worley, Vice-President; LaDell Maxwell, Secretary; Gwen Sweeney, Treasurer; and Mary Tanner, reporter. Sponsors are Mrs. Linda Britten and Mrs. Helen Rains.

Henderson Chapel Repair Fund Grows

Mrs. Johnny Bates reports that the Henderson Chapel Building Repair Fund at the Donley County State Bank is growing with $545 now on deposit. This amount is not sufficient to cover the cost of needed repair of the church which includes a new roof but is a good start. Mrs. Bates stated that work will continue until sufficient money is deposited to pay for the repair.

The United Methodist Church donated $83 to Johnny Bates for the fund Sunday and the money was deposited at the bank Monday morning with other donations to add $92 to the fund.

Work has already begun starting with a new roof. Carpenters, Mr. Morrow and son, are doing this work.

The pastor and members of Henderson Chapel want to thank everyone for the contributions and moral support for it is really needed, stated Mrs. Bates. The sum deposited at the Donley County State Bank will be used only for church repair, roof and paint.

Mrs. Winnie Wester of Canyon was a Clarendon visitor Tuesday.

Mrs. E. S. Ballew of Dallas has been visiting in Clarendon the past ten days.

Clarendon & Booker FFA Take Top Honors

The 1973 FFA Leadership Contest for the Top-O-Texas and the Greenbelt Districts were held at Clarendon College last Saturday with Clarendon FFA taking the top honors in the Greenbelt District and Booker walking away with the honors of the Top-O-Texas District.

Clarendon won three first place awards and placed second and third in two other categories of competition.
