Minutes Of Hospital Board Meeting

Editor's Note: Published below are the minutes of the Hospital Board meeting held last Friday. Wes Langham has reported that Dr. T. E. Marshall has received his malpractice insurance as of this time. In view of adverse and biased publicity and other problems, it will be some time before the hospital can open to take care of the people who want it and serve the taxpayers who are putting their money into this institution. It appears that whatever efforts are made, there is a small group of opposition that would rather see the Hospital facility closed completely. A majority of our citizens want a brighter outlook than this.

The Board of Directors of the Donley County Hospital District met in a called meeting Friday, January 12th, 1973, at 4:15 o'clock p.m. at the medical Center with the following present: Bright Newhouse, Delbert Robertson, R. D. Cagle, Jeff Walker, J. S. Hinds, Jane Bownds, Wes Langham, Administrator, George Wayne Estack, Editor of the Donley County Leader, Dean Singleton, Editor of The Clarendon Press and George Howard.

The President, Bright Newhouse called the meeting to order.

Mr. Langham reported that the Medicare records have been completed and that a provider Number has been received for the hospital. Mr. Langham reported that Dr. Thomas Marshall mailed his application for malpractice insurance and also membership in the Texas Osteopathic Society on January 6th, 1973.

Mr. Langham has contacted several Registered Nurses and believes that he can obtain the required RNs to open the hospital. There will be no problem in obtaining the required number of Licensed Vocational Nurses for the hospital.

The Medicare Inspector will inspect the hospital on January 23, 1973.

Mr. Langham reported there are 19 patients in the Nursing Home with income of $6,565.00 per month, which pays the expenses of the Home. It is estimated to cost between $23,000.00 and $25,000.00 per month to pay the expenses of the hospital. Forty (40%) per cent of the Hospital tax money will take care of the bond payments on the hospital building and this money is in a special account for this purpose.

Mrs. Jones, C.P.A. will meet with the Board of Directors on January 23rd, to discuss the audit of the Hospital District.

After a full discussion, a Motion was made by R. D. Cagle that the Board authorize the President, Bright Newhouse, to arrange a meeting of all Attorneys and interested parties in the law suits. Motion was seconded by J. S. Hinds. Motion carried. The President read a letter from the First Baptist Church with reference to property being transferred to the Church, asking the Board to consider waiving the penalty and interest on delinquent taxes.

Motion was made by Delbert Robertson that the Donley County Hospital District waive that portion of penalty and interest only charged the First Baptist Church, Clarendon, Texas, being one-fourth of the dwelling formerly owned by Miss Elizabeth Stevens and willed to the First Baptist Church, Clarendon, Texas, in 1964. This action does not waive any part of the penalty and interest due the District by any one other than the First Baptist Church of Clarendon, Texas.

Motion was seconded by Jane Bownds. Motion carried.

Motion was made by Jeff Walker that this meeting be recessed subject to call. Motion was seconded by J. S. Hinds. Motion carried.

O. C. Watson was able to return home Sunday after having undergone surgery at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo. Friends are wishing him a rapid recovery.

Spring enrollment at Clarendon College was down at the close of the second day of enrollment at the College according to George C. Bourns, Student Personnel Officer. A total of 308 students had registered for the spring semester at the close of the day Tuesday.

Q—My employer requires me to take some night courses and I am entitled to claim a deduction for education expenses. Can I also deduct the cost of traveling from work to school as an education expense?
A—Yes. You may deduct transportation expenses for qualified educational activities incurred going between: (1) the general area of your principal business location and a school located beyond that general area; or (2) your place of employment and a school within the same general area. However, if you return home before going to school, you may deduct the expense in going to the extent it does not exceed the cost of going from work to school.

You may not deduct the cost of local transportation between your residence and school on a nonworking day.

Does a person have to live with you the whole year for you to claim him as a dependent?
A—Generally, a person must be a member of your household for the entire year for you to claim him as a dependent. However, this rule does not apply when you are claiming an exemption for a relative.

Q—What are the rules on the sick pay exclusion for pay received while you're out sick or injured?
A—It depends on how much you received in pay for the time you were out. If you received over 15 percent of your regular salary from a wage continuation plan while you were sick, there is a 30-day waiting period whether or not you were hospitalized at any time. After it expires, you may exclude up to $100 a week from your income as sick pay.

If you received 75 percent or less of your regular pay, there is a 7-day waiting period. Then you may exclude up to $75 a week. After 30 days, you may exclude up to $100 a week as sick pay. If you were hospitalized, there is no 7-day waiting period.

For more information, write your Internal Revenue district office and ask for a free copy of IRS Publication 522, "Adjustments to Income for Sick Pay."

Q—I overlooked a deduction on my 1971 individual tax return. How can I correct the error?
A—Just prepare a Form 1040X and recompute the portion that has changed from your original return and send it, along with any necessary related information, to the address shown in the 1040X instructions. Forms are available at any IRS office.

Rules on tutoring for GI Bill students recently were liberalized, making it easier for students in need of tutoring to qualify.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

Anchoring the Boat

Anytime there's a big run of speckled trout on the Gulf Coast you can count on hundreds of bay fishing boats rushing to the jetties. A majority of the craft will be fiberglass boats ranging in size from 16 to 28 feet.

Needless to say, such a conglomeration of vessels in itself creates a tremendous nautical parking problem. Conditions eventually get pretty complicated.

Primarily the problem is due to lack of experience on the part of the pilot. Sometimes it's strictly a matter of lack of consideration of "the other fellow"—or, to put it bluntly, just outright lack of common courtesy.

"Jetty manners" call for the use of a large, heavy anchor—one that will hold fast and prevent drifting into other boats.

In all cases of anchoring it's important to keep the motor running until the anchor holds. Otherwise the skipper may not be able to start up again in time to prevent rear end collision with another craft or banging into pilings, banks, or even worse the boulders on the jetties.

Experienced anglers drop anchor some distance from where they want the boat to swing into place. Then they let out line until they reach the desired position.

Sometimes this method of anchoring can prevent not only damage to boats but also some rather bitter arguments—ruffled feelings to say the least.

'Tis well to remember that for firm, dependable anchoring, five feet of anchor line should be allowed for each foot of water depth.

Confidence Catches Fish

Confidence has a lot to do with success in fishing.

One thing for sure, if you don't believe you can catch fish with a certain lure the likelihood of your doing so on that specific lure is very slim.

Without confidence your casting will be poor; the action you impart to the lure will be far from lifelike; your retrieve will be haphazard; if you get a strike you won't believe it possible, therefore you won't set the hook firmly; and finally, you won't boat the fish properly. So your chances of success are really nil.

Frankly, in most instances a top flight angler can catch fish on almost any lure . . . since he possesses the necessary fishing skill and great confidence.

All of which means that most catches depend on the fisherman's attitude, without which his entire fishing technique goes out of kilter.

Veteran News

Q—I am to be discharged from the service soon, and am interested in applying for a GI home loan. Where do I obtain the necessary information and forms, and how can I prepare for it now?
A—Upon separation you will receive your DD Form 214. Send a copy of this separation form with a letter stating your intention to buy a house to the nearest VA office. You will receive a certificate of eligibility for a VA insured loan. The lending institution which finances your home will require a copy of the certificate.

Q—I received a General Discharge from the Army. Am I entitled to any GI Bill benefits?
A—Generally, this type of discharge entitles you to the same benefits as an Honorable Discharge. Apply at your nearest VA Regional Office.

Q—A veteran's widow receiving pension died on June 15 and had in her possession a VA check for the month of May. Is this check payable to anyone?
A—The check must be returned to the disbursing office which issued it. It may then be paid, upon submission of a claim to the nearest VA office, to any children entitled to VA death benefits, or, if no eligible children, then to the person or persons who bore the expense of the last illness or burial.

Q—How long can I wait to get my teeth fixed by VA after I get out of the Army?
A—You must apply within one year after your discharge to be eligible for the presumption that your dental conditions are service-connected. Even so, not all dental conditions can be presumed to be service-connected. For example, teeth lost before you entered service obviously are not.

Q—With no more space in the national cemeteries, I have been wondering whether I might be buried in a VA cemetery. Can the money VA pays for burial expenses be used this way?
A—VA does not have a cemetery system of its own. It has a few small plots near VA hospitals and domiciliaries where veterans who have died in these facilities have been buried, but most of this space is now full. Chances are you could not be buried anywhere near your home if you chose one of the few available plots. The VA burial expense payment can be made regardless of the burial place.

History Of Ashtola Community & Center

Editor's Note: The history of the Ashtola Community and Center has been compiled by Mrs. Van Knox, a long-time resident of the community, and will be published in installments in the Donley County Leader. We hope you enjoy this bit of history as much as we have and as much as Mrs. Knox has enjoyed compiling and writing the account to follow.

In the early 1900's the Fort Worth and Denver Railway erected a section house on their right-of-way nine miles west of Clarendon, Texas. The location was named Southard. There were only a few homes in the area at that time, but more and more people settled there as the years passed, attracted by the good farming land and grass land.

The population increased until, in 1908, a one-room school house was erected. The first teacher was Miss Hazel Clappitt. Other teachers during the early years of Southard were Miss Myrtle Curry and Mrs. Martin Fry.

The earliest residents, still living in the community, were John White and his brother, the late L. P. White, who moved to Southard with their parents in 1909. The oldest living residents were Mr. and Mrs. H. W. (Grandad) Lovell, now both deceased, who, with their family, settled in the community in 1915. He lived to be around 86 years old. Two of his children, Mr. Ben Lovell and Mrs. T. A. Nelson are also residents of the community at the present time.

In 1916, the late Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Poovey moved to Southard and purchased a farm a few hundred yards from the section house, where they lived for many years. That same year Mr. Poovey was instrumental in starting a petition for a post office.

The request was granted by the Postal Department in Washington D. C., but as there was a Post Office by the name of Southland, not far from Southard, the postal authorities asked that the name be changed to Ashtola to prevent confusion.

So in 1916 the community now known as Ashtola was born. The first Postmaster was W. M. Shaw, and the first store was owned and operated by G. W. Guthrie. Ashtola grew rapidly. The same year, 1916, saw another room added to the one-room school house and another teacher, Miss Florence Jones (now Mrs. Jean Hester of Clarendon) was hired. Mr. Poovey was elected to the Board of Trustees, which position he was to hold for many years.

In 1920 a new brick school building was erected, and the old two room building was converted to serve as a teacherage. Three teachers were employed to teach the eighth grade.

In 1922 this building burned and was replaced that same year with another brick building. The new structure housed six classrooms, a Superintendent's office, and a large auditorium. There were now ten grades and five teachers. The entire life of the community, both civic and spiritual, centered around the school building in those early days. It provided a meeting place for all school and community functions during the week and for Church and Sunday School on Sunday.

In 1937 this building too was destroyed by fire. The classes were moved to the teacherage which had been enlarged by that time, and there the students finished the school term. That same year the present brick building was erected by the Speed Brothers of Clarendon and consisted of four classrooms and an auditorium. Three high school grades had been transferred to Clarendon, so that only three teachers were required; later only two teachers were needed. In 1958 the school was consolidated with the Clarendon Public School system.

The community of Ashtola is located nine miles west of Clarendon on Highway 287 and is surrounded by good farming and ranch land.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR State Capitol

By BILL BOYKIN
Texas Press Association

Texas got a fast-starting legislature, a new governor, lieutenant governor and speaker of the House all in eight action-packed days.

Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde and William P. Hobby Jr. of Houston were inaugurated as governor and lieutenant governor in spectacular ceremonies Tuesday (Jan. 16).

Price Daniel Jr. of Liberty won election as House speaker without opposition as the legislature convened January 9. The 31-year-old son of former Gov. Price Daniel (who now serves on the State Supreme Court) announced appointment of House standing committees four days after his election, and immediately referred bills for hearing.

Outgoing Gov. Preston Smith offered some good financial news to the arriving legislators. His $9.7 billion biennial budget estimated a $300 million surplus for lawmakers to use in expanding programs or revising school finance formulas.

Governmental reform proposals backed by Daniel will be among the first bills to get House hearing. The House, with a minimum amount of opposition, promptly adopted the thick set of procedural rules the new speaker urged.

Smith in his swansong to the Legislature, advised that lawmakers move immediately to establish the constitutional revision commission directed by voters last November. He submitted as an emergency matter appropriation of funds to pay the commission's expenses.

The outgoing Governor further advised legislators ought to consider tackling the tough school finance system overhaul in a special session.

APPOINTMENTS — Governor Smith named former Gov. Allen Shivers of Austin, former Ambassador Ed Clark of Austin and Dr. James Bauerle of San Antonio as University of Texas System regents. A. G. McNeese of Houston was named chairman.

Other Smith appointments included: Mrs. Wilmer Smith of Wilson, Richard A. Goodson of Dallas and Clyde H. Wells (re-appointment) of Granbury to the Texas A & M University board of directors; Edwin R. VanZandt of Beaumont as chairman of the Texas Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation; Dorsey B. Hardeman, formerly of San Angelo, as chairman of the Texas Water Rights Commission; Robert S. Rowland of Houston and Ernest S. Sterling of Tyler to the Texas Southern University Board of directors; former Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso to Texas Aeronautics Commission; former State Rep. Joe H. Golman of Dallas to the Texas Cosmetology Commission; Kent R. Hance of Lubbock to the West Texas State University board of regents; and Scott Hardy of San Antonio as Texas Film Commission chairman.

New Governor Dolph Briscoe designated former White House aide Robert L. Hardesty, 41, as his press secretary and special assistant.

Robert S. Johnson will head the new Texas Commission for the Deaf staff.

Jack H. Dillard will serve as executive director of the new Texas Center for the Judiciary here.

JOB COMMISSION URGED — Key legislative researchers recommended establishment of a governor's committee on equal employment opportunity in state government to police job discrimination.

A Texas Legislative Council staff report found blacks and Mexican-Americans under-employed in state government.

The report showed 79.92 percent of state governmental employees are white and that they tend to hold higher paying jobs than the blacks and Mexican-Americans.

It recommended a six-member commission to report to the governor on employment practices and discrimination and to evolve policies and programs to encourage equal employment opportunities at all levels of government.

JAILS CRITICIZED — Texas Legislative Council urged creation of a commission on county jail standards, terming present laws on the subject "totally unrealistic and meaningless."

The Council's report said only five jails in Texas (those of Andrew, Lynn, Oldham, Smith, Taylor, and Wichita counties) meet health department standards. The State Health Department inspects jails but has no authority to compel compliance with its own standards.

TLC said the proposed commission should promulgate realistic standards and regulations and prohibit confinement of prisoners in those which do not measure up to them.

The Council also recommended a work-release program for jail prisoners, allowing inmates to post 10 percent of their bond on condition it would be refunded when they appear for trial and immediate transfer to the Department of Corrections of inmates convicted of felonies and waiting action on appeal.

COURTS SPEAK — The Court of Criminal Appeals upheld the murder conviction of Walter Lee

Morris in the shooting of a Sherman police sergeant.

The same Court affirmed a two-year probated sentence of a Houston youth for wearing the U. S. flag on the seat of his blue jeans, although it agreed two sections of the law on desecration of the flag are unconstitutional.

In a new ruling on contributory negligence laws, the Supreme Court held damages should be paid to the children of a woman killed in a collision with a negligent driver even if her husband was also partly to blame for the accident.

The High Court ordered a new trial in a suit by the widow of a man killed in a truck-train wreck at Floresville.

SENATORS DRAW FOR TERMS — Sixteen state senators got four-year terms in a drawing which may decide the political futures of some. Fifteen others not so lucky, drew two-year terms and must face voters again in 1974.

Four-year terms went to Bill Braecklein of Dallas, Ron Clower of Dallas, Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells, Robert Gammage of Houston, Glenn Kothmann of San Antonio, Mike McKinnon of Corpus Christi, Bill Moore of Bryan, Walter Mengden Jr. of Houston, Jack Ogg of Houston, D. Roy Harrington of Port Arthur, O. H. Harris of Dallas, Grant Jones of Abilene, Bill Patman of Ganado, Max Sherman of Amarillo, Tati Santiesteban of El Paso, and A. R. Schwartz of Galveston.

Two year terms were drawn by Don Adams of Jasper, A. M. Aikin of Paris, H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock, Chet Brooks of Houston, Jack Hightower of Vernon, Raul Longoria of Edinburg, Bill Meier of Fort Worth, Peyton McKnight of Tyler, W. E. Snelson of Midland, Jim Wallace of Houston, Nelson Wolff of San Antonio, Mrs. Betty Andujar of Fort Worth, Charles Herring of Austin, Oscar Mauzy of Dallas, and John Traeger of Sequin.

Social Security

by Travis C. Briggs

Q—I never worked under social security, but I get monthly social security checks as a widow. Will I be entitled to Medicare when I am 65?

A—Yes. Anyone who is entitled to social security retirement checks at 65 is also eligible for Medicare. Contact your social security office for information and assistance on Medicare matters.

Q—I am nearing 65, what should I know about Medicare?

A—Medicare has two parts—Hospital insurance and Medical insurance. Hospital insurance helps pay for your hospital bills and follow-up care — and medical insurance helps with your doctor bills and the cost of ambulance services and various medical supplies. To obtain more Medicare information contact your social security office.

Q—I'm 65 and, although I have never worked under social security, I did enroll in the medical insurance program under Medicare as soon as I could. My doctor told me that I may soon need surgery. Even though my husband is 63 and still working, is it possible for me to get hospital Medicare insurance now under his social security number?

A—Yes. Even though your husband is not retired and not yet 65, he can file for social security just to provide you with hospital coverage. He does not have to actually get payments himself, and he can keep right on working. Call any social security and explain your situation.

Under a change in the social security law, monthly benefits can be paid to adults who were severely disabled before age 22, starting in January, according to Travis C. Briggs, social security district manager in Amarillo.

Previously, "childhood disability" payments could be made only to qualified adults who were severely disabled before age 18. Monthly payments are made to severely disabled adult sons and daughters of workers getting retirement or disability benefits from social security — and of deceased workers whose families get social security survivors benefits.

"The new law extends the age for qualifying," Briggs said, "because people who become severely disabled between 18 and 22—like those disabled when younger —generally haven't had the chance to work long enough under social security to get disability benefits on their own work records."

"If they become able to work," he said, "their social security payments stop. But if they become severely disabled again within 7 years of the time they became able to work, the new law provides that payments can be resumed."

About 13,000 people will be newly eligible for about $1.4 million a month in benefits under the new law.

Social security now pays $30 million a month to 300,000 people 18 and over who were severely disabled in childhood.

The number of doctors working fulltime in Veterans Administration hospitals and clinics totals 5,280, representing a net increase of about 100 during each of the past five years, according to the agency.

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News
Farmcast
Compiled From Sources
Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

Up, up and away? ... Sheep On Feed Declines ... Rice Quota Vote Set ... One Million Visitors ...

At first glance, it might appear that farm prices are "up, up, and away". Although prices to farmers do show increases, production costs are also rising so the net result is not as rosy for agricultural producers as it could be. Remember, too, income in rural areas is still about a fourth under the rest of the economy.

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes that Texas farmers received price increases for almost every commodity recently. Only calves and sheep are above effective parity, however.

Calf prices at $47.40 per hundredweight are $1.60 per hundred pounds above parity. Sheep at $12.30 per hundredweight are $1.20 per hundred pounds above parity. Beef cattle at $34 are $4.20 under effective parity. Hogs at $29.50 are more than $2 under effective parity.

Crop prices show an even greater parity discrepancy. Cotton at 21.2 cents per pound compared with an effective parity price of 57.20 cents per pound. Grain sorghum at $2.79 is below effective parity by 65 cents per hundred pounds.

Egg prices at 50 cents per dozen are up eight cents from a month ago, but still almost eight cents below parity. The index of all farm products was 20 points above last month and 13 percent above a year ago.

Farm production index prices paid by farmers was up seven percent from a year ago.

A 22 PERCENT decline in sheep on feed is noted in Texas. Drylot sheep feeders with a lot capacity of 2,000 head or more had 90,000 sheep and lambs on feed for slaughter on Jan. 1. This is 22 percent under a month ago, but five percent above the number on feed this time last year.

Current intentions to market are: January 50,000; February 32,000; and March 8,000. Marketings during December were 58,000 head.

COMMERCIAL slaughtering plants in Texas produced 194,000 pounds of meat during November, which represents a decline of six percent from the previous month, but nine percent above the total produced in 1971. Nationwide, production of red meat was one percent above a year earlier.

RICE allotment for Texas for 1973 is 516,132 acres. Nationwide, the rice allotment was increased 10 percent. A referendum will be held among producers Jan. 22 to 26 to determine if marketing quotas will be in effect. Two-thirds or more of the rice growers voting in the referendum must approve the quotas to make them effective.

TEXAS livestock interests will be represented during the annual Mexican National Livestock and Industry Exposition in Mexico City Jan. 20 to 28. More than 1,000,000 visitors are expected to attend the activities.

Texas will have three exhibit spaces at the exposition. A total of 14 breed associations in the state will be represented. The Houston Livestock Show and the San Antonio Livestock Show will also be involved. The Mohair Council of America will be in charge of a display of textiles. The Texas Department of Agriculture marketing personnel will be in charge of the entire Texas exhibits.

Hueco Tanks Archeological Find

Texas' westernmost state park has been the scene of recent archeological work by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Workers under the guidance of George Kegley, Parks and Wildlife Department staff archeologist, have uncovered the site of an ancient "pit house" village in Hueco Tanks State Park.

The village dates back to between 1200 and 1400 A.D. and was inhabited by a pueblo group of Indians.

The Indians of Hueco Tanks dug the foundations of their houses 18 to 20 inches into the soil and covered the pit bottom and probably the sides with adobe. The roof was also apparently constructed with adobe.

Kegley and his crew of workers uncovered three pit houses. "With the exception of slight rises in the ground," said Kegley, "we had no indication that the buried house sites existed."

"We were very lucky, we dug three holes and found the remains of three houses," he said. Kegley said that his crew dug until they found a wall and then followed the wall to its source.

It took about two weeks to completely excavate each house site. The fragile adobe was surprisingly excavated with small trowels.

Excavation was made more difficult by the fact that the West Texas area had 19 inches of rain since August, three times the normal yearly amount.

In addition to the houses, Kegley found three prehistoric burials, refuse heaps and numerous potsherds and projectile points.

One of the burial sites was in the interior of a house, a common practice in this area in prehistoric times.

Why the houses were abandoned is a mystery to the archeologists. There is no sign of catastrophe. The Indians simply left.

From what can be pieced together of their life style, they must have been sedentary gardeners who raised crops. Water must have played a large part in the Indians' decision to locate near the Hueco Tanks. The area draws its name from the "huecos" or depressions in the stone which trap rainwater even today.

Some change must have occurred in this life style just before the coming of the Spanish. Explorers in the 1500s reported that Indians in the Hueco Tanks area were semi-nomadic and had evidently abandoned their sedentary living some time before.

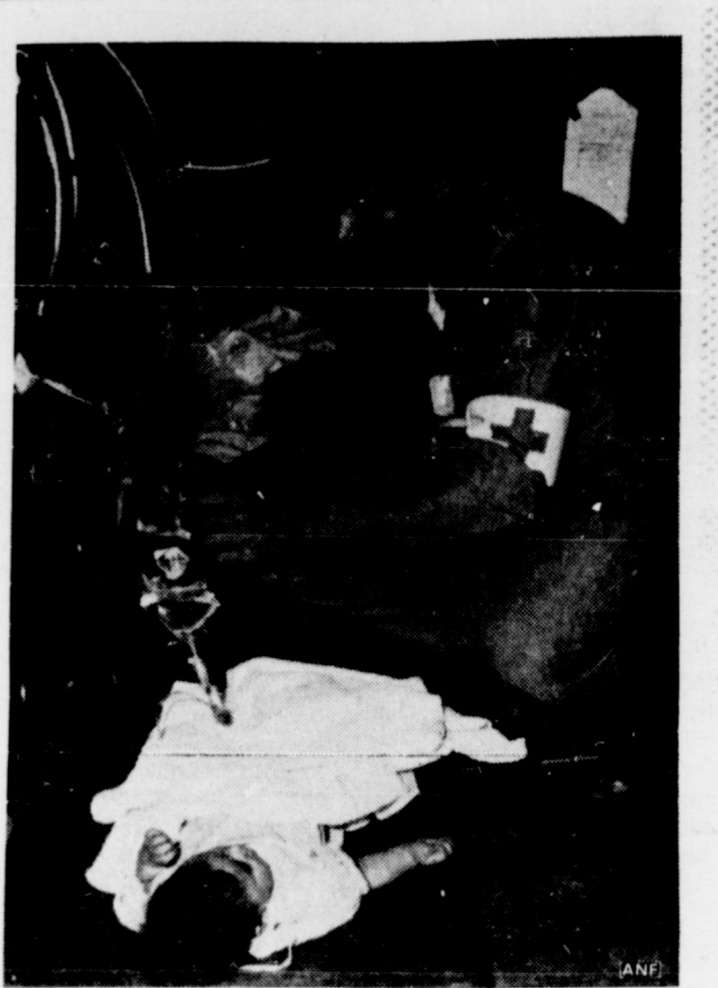

"There is evidence," said Kegley, "that man may have lived at Hueco Tanks as early as 10,000 years ago."

Such speculation is based on finds of Folsom points, beautifully worked projectile points associated with early big-game hunters.

Excavation was also done on the remains of a Butterfield Overland Stage waystation that is within the park.

The station was active in 1858 and 1859.

Investigations of the stage site have raised some questions as to it really being part of the Butterfield system. Kegley visited other stops along the line and found them to differ from the remains of the Hueco Tanks

DON'T LEARN THE HARD WAY

At this time of the year many high school seniors are considering their futures and the part that additional education may play therein. Many, of course, will elect to go on to a college or university of their choice. But many will elect to attend a vocational or trade school.

Both are excellent choices provided the students carefully select the school which they plan to attend.

To those seniors deciding to continue their education in a trade school or vocational school, and to other persons deciding to go back to school, my Consumer Protection Division offers these words of advice:

Most vocational and trade schools conducted in Texas are reputable honest establishments. While this has been true for some time, an Act known as the Proprietary School Act passed by the Texas Legislature at its last session and administered by the Texas Education Agency has greatly improved the situation.

regulation of such institutions. They should make a thorough investigation before they decide on a school.

We have reports where some of these schools have closed their doors after receiving tuition payments from prospective students. They have either gone broke or moved from the State and there is no way the student can recover the money.

We have received complaints of substandard instruction offered by some schools.

One of the prime rules for interested persons to follow when thinking of enrolling in a school is to avoid high pressure tactics requiring immediate enrollment.

Some salesmen will state that failure to enroll immediately will result in the inability of the prospective student ever to enter their school. Remember - legitimate schools always allow sufficient time for investigation of their facilities, training programs, and the quality of their instruction.

Prospective students should carefully check the terms of the enrollment contract prior to signing. These terms should be thoroughly understood. What provisions are made for cancellation by the student? Is he able to receive his tuition back and if so, what amount and under what conditions?

You should remember that the written provisions of the contract control over the oral representations made by the salesman. If there is ambiguity in the contract or doubt on the part of the student as to the meaning of the language of the contract, this should be resolved in writing prior to signing the contract.

In some instances we have found that unscrupulous salesmen make exaggerated promises concerning job opportunities either while attending school or after graduation. Prospective students should be aware of the fact that a placement service does not guarantee them a job.

Finally, the trade schools general reputation is of utmost importance. If there is a Better Business Bureau in the town in which the school is located, you should check with them prior to signing any contract. If there is no such bureau, ask for the names of several former students. You should then contact these people and get their opinion of the school.

While this takes extra time, the caution is well worth the delay involved. If the school is legitimate, it will be there tomorrow. If not, the time to find out is before turning over the tuition money.

Speed too fast for conditions, driving while drinking, driving on the wrong side of the road and failure to yield right of way are the leading causes of fatal accidents on the rural highways of Texas, says "Texans for Traffic Safety."

YOU DON'T NEED TO USE NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING! IF YOU THINK SO, THEN

PREACHERS — Should preach only one sermon or so a year.

We are all against sin anyway, so why harp on it?

TRAFFIC LIGHTS — Should be turned off at dangerous intersections to save electricity. Everybody knows it's a dangerous spot and that is sufficient.

TEACHERS — No need to review lessons. Tell the children just once and they'll never forget.

HIGHWAY POLICE — Stop driving up and down the highways. No need to caution drivers by patrolling highways. Drivers know the law and should obey.

MAIL ORDER FIRMS — That send catalogs are wasting their money. Everyone knows what is sold at area stores and of course they'll shop there.

IF YOU ARE ONE OF THE foolish kind, like the Notre Dame Cathedral that has stood for six centuries but still rings the bell every day to let people know it is there; and if you believe in consistent profitable advertising, then you will . . .

Planned Parenthood Clinic In Operation In Clarendon Now

Did you know that Donley County now has an organized Planned Parenthood Clinic? Family Planning services are available. These services include education, physical examinations, Pap smears to determine if cancer cells are present, and all medically and church approved methods of birth control.

The Planned Parenthood Organization believes that spacing children is important to promote better health in mothers and children, to give mothers more time and energy to devote to each child, and to provide greater harmony in the home. The goal of the Clinic is: "Every Child A Wanted Child."

The Donley County Planned Parenthood Clinic is a part of the Panhandle Planned Parenthood Association in Amarillo which was organized in 1968. The Amarillo Planned Parenthood organization is chartered to conduct work in a 26 county area and now has clinics in 18 counties, including Potter, Randall, Collingsworth, Childress, Hall, Wheeler, Deaf Smith, Parmer, Swisher, Dallam, Hemphill, Lipscomb, Ochiltree, Carson, Armstrong, Briscoe, and Gray.

The program is supported by local contributions as well as funds from Washington. Mrs. Eureda Mays is in charge of the local services and received her training in Amarillo and two weeks "on the job training."

Information may be obtained from Mrs. Mays at her office in the Courthouse in Clarendon or by calling 874-3613. Mrs. Mays stated, "I will be available to speak at any club, church, school, or organization interested in more information. Any individual needing information about the Clinic may call for an appointment in your home or my office."

Mrs. Mays holds a BS degree in Science in the Secondary field as well as the Elementary and has completed 18 hours on the Masters of Science degree.

Bulldogs On Road, Home Game Jan. 19

The Clarendon College Bulldogs were in Tishomingo, Oklahoma, January 11, 12, and 13th to participate in the Murray State Tournament. Friday the Bulldogs defeated Weatherford, Texas J. C. 67-63. Their scoring attack was led by Joe Pride who scored 22 points to lead both ball clubs. He pulled down 38 rebounds to pad his Western Junior College Conference lead. We understand the Bulldogs won their following game and lost only one game at the tournament; however, no definite information was available with Coach and team traveling. The Bulldogs played Trinidad Junior College Tuesday night, January 16, at Trinidad.

The next home game will be Friday night of this week when the Bulldogs will host New Mexico Junior College in Bulldog Fieldhouse. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

All who enjoy basketball are invited out to see the Bulldogs in action and watch some of these fine players as they strive to protect their conference records. Monday night of next week, January 22 the Bulldogs will be in Amarillo to play Amarillo College but will be back on home ground Thursday, January 25th to host Frank Phillips Junior College.
