Business Of The Week

Rattan In Radio 29 Years

Starting as an apprentice in 1946 Dennis Rattan has 29 years of T.V. and radio experience to his credit.

Dennis began his television and radio career in Clarendon with Clack Radio and moved to Amarillo in 1947 and 7-Clack Radio and T.V. where he was service manager for 10 years.

In 1957 he opened his own business, Tip Top T.V. and a year later purchased Redfearn Company and combined the two shops. With this expansion Rattan had a 10 man service department and was rated #1 with the Amarillo Better Business Bureau.

Upon the return to Clarendon Dennis M. Rattan and Toni (Ethelyn) Rattan opened Rattan T.V. in the old Shamburger Lumber Company building on the site of the present Senior Citizens Center.

When the building burned in 1966 many of the families personal possessions which had been stored were lost. Some of these items were picture albums and other irreplaceable keepsakes.

Dennis moved the shop to the Donley Hotel building across from the depot and at that time the hotel was still open. After three years Dennis and Toni purchased the American Legion Hall in 1969 and remained at that location until the recent move, in October of this year, to the present site next door to attorney Michael Sanders new law offices at the north end of main street.

Rattan T.V. has literally been up and down and all around the town in the years he has been in business in Clarendon. Dennis and Toni Rattan have enjoyed almost 12 years of thriving business as the successful owners of Rattan T.V. Service and managers of Cable T.V. in Clarendon. The shop offers such services as radio and T.V. repair, stereos and cable and is the Zenith dealer for T.V. and radios.

Toni McBrayer and Dennis Rattan married very young during World War II and Toni finished Clarendon High School and attended Clarendon College while Dennis served in the Army for 33 months in the South Pacific.

Dennis is a native of Donley County and was born at Hedley and Toni moved here from Hall County with her family at 13 years of age.

Dennis and Toni Rattan have two sons Ron and Kent. Ron attended Clarendon Junior one year, 1965-66 and is a graduate from Kansas City Art Institute as an Industrial Designer in 1970. He is married and working for an architectural firm in Austin.

Kent graduated from Clarendon High School in 1969 as valedictorian and graduated cum laude from Trinity University in San Antonio in 1973. He is married and is the manager of Naples Dines' Club and attending San Antonio College.

Both of the boys helped in the business when they were at home. Their mother Toni, received a certificate of Accounting from Draughon's Business College in Amarillo and it has come in mighty handy in the years of helping Dennis in the business.

will dismiss at 3:00 p.m. on Friday, December 19, and classes will begin again on Monday January 5 at 9:00 a.m.

Drive Safely Over Holidays

Texas Department of Public Safety officer, Duane Nichols of Clarendon, has urged all motorists to take note of the traffic safety release from the governor's office.

Governor Dolph Briscoe has reminded Texans of the forthcoming holidays and urged extreme caution in driving in this potentially dangerous period.

Said the Governor, "Thanksgiving is a time to reflect our successes and to be thankful for the good things of life. It is a time for us to consider a closer relationship with our neighbors, friends and families. But, it is also a time to be mindful of the start of the busy holiday season.

"We are all going to be rushing to enter the spirit of the holidays. And, with this fast paced life style, some people are forgetful of the need to slow down and be more careful when driving.

"Traditionally, the month of December is a time when traffic deaths start to climb. But, with an increased effort, we can reduce the number of fatalities and injuries that usually occur during the most active time of the year.

"Texas is truly a land of plenty with a sound economy, fine highways and well planned cities. We have much to be thankful for, yet we still have traffic accidents that kill and injure hundreds of people.

"Therefore, I ask that each Texan accept a personal commitment to be more cautious during this holiday season. Let's make this Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year, the best and safest time on Texas streets and highways," concluded Briscoe.

The Governor said his staff would increase their public awareness efforts through the media to remind motorists of the hazards of holiday driving.

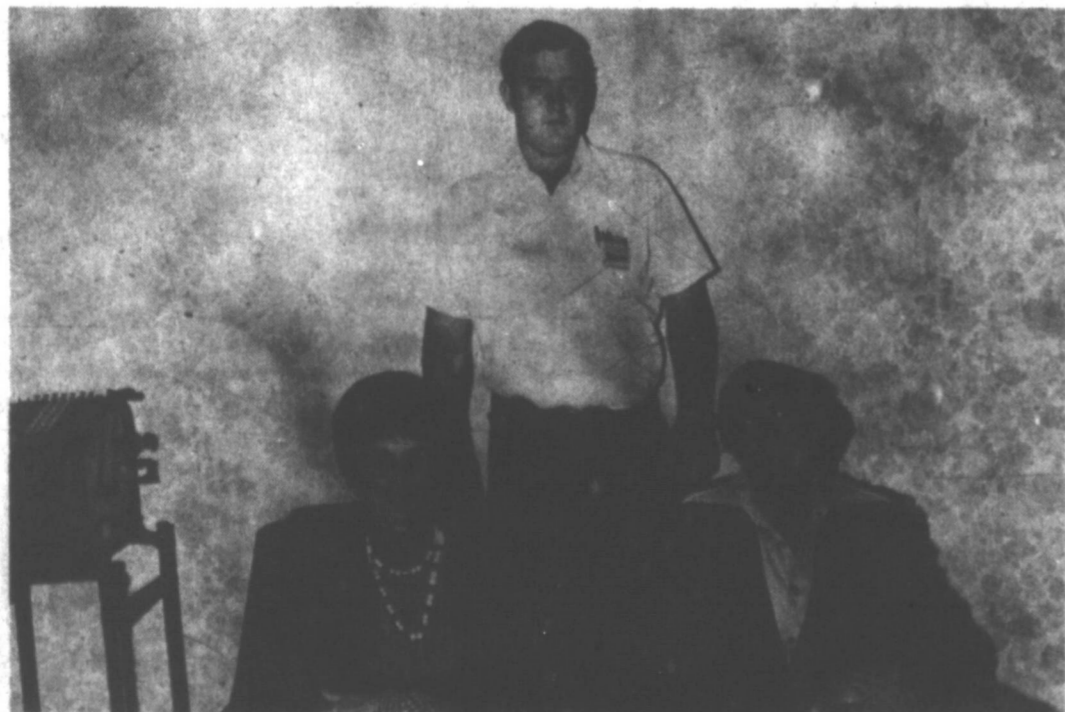

Consider Thanksgiving

Everything you read in the newspapers and magazines, all that you see and hear on TV and radio is gloom. Will thanksgiving be discontinued this year? Have we anything to be thankful for?

Inflation is raging, and recession is short-circuiting every effort to drive down prices. Crime is rampant, the abuse of drugs and liquor have seized a large segment of our youth, even to younger teens and subteens. Marriage and the home seem bankrupt, abortion is taking hold everywhere. The music you hear over most radio stations is without melody, lyrics, harmony or beauty.

Politics have grown so corrupt the voter has become apathetic—why vote when there's no one to vote for? Socialism has swallowed up our government. People drive up in Cadillacs to use their food stamps and half the nation is on welfare rolls and living off the other half. (CONT. ON PAGE 5)

County Home Demonstration Clubs To Organize

There will be an organizational meeting for a home demonstration club in Clarendon, Monday night, December 1, at 7:00 p.m. in the Clarendon High School Cafeteria. If there are enough interested, there is a possibility of forming several clubs at different times, one that can fit into your busy schedule.

"You" will be the center attraction. Bring a box gift-wrapped in an unusual, creative way. Prizes will be given for the one that is most creative and prettiest. Gift ideas using scrap fabric will be presented by Cynthia Manning, Asst. County Extension Agent - Home Economics. Come get some good ideas.

Home demonstration clubs are organized for a three-fold purpose. First to study homemaking and to develop and put into practice the best methods involved in successful homemaking, second to offer to women an opportunity for self-improvement, and third, to advance community interest and life. All persons are encouraged to participate in home demonstration, regardless of race, color, national origin, or religion.

Those of you that are interested and would like to know more about home demonstration, grab a neighbor and come to the High School Cafeteria, Monday, December 1 at 7:30 p.m.

Cynthias Quips

By Cynthia Manning, County Extension Agent - Home Economics

The pursuit of happiness enter into all phases of a person's life, but nowhere is it more important than in the home. Many teenagers do not feel happy about their home life. Happiness is seldom achieved until young people grow up emotionally, then their relationships with their family improve.

There are different kinds of happiness. There is the blissful feeling that comes with an exciting and highly emotional experience. There is the contentment and pleasure derived from experiencing the good things of life. Naturally, we cannot expect to live one's life in the midst of continuous romance and adventure. To do so would exclude the wonderful experience of satisfaction and contentment with everyday life. Over 200 years ago, Alexander Pope wrote:

"Oh, happiness! Our being's end and aim! Good, pleasure, ease, content! What'er thy name, That something still which prompts the eternal sigh, for which we bear to live and dare to die."

Too often people fail to seize the happiness which is theirs. Irritation and resentment about disagreeable incidents crowd out any feelings of pleasure about the good things found in being a teenage member of a family.

Whether or not you agree with the statements above, were you aware that you were reading materials written for teenagers in the 1950s? Irene McDermott and Florence Nicholas wrote in Living for Young Moderns, 1956, that the happiness of the young modern depends largely upon his relationships with other people. The person who feels that he is part of a group, and that the other people in the group regard him as a friend, has a good basis for happy relationships with others. Are we so modern that we cannot learn a lesson from history.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Semrad last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Semrad and son of Carlsbad, New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. B.F. Dorman and son of Pampa and Mr. and Mrs. Cal Dorman of Mangum, Oklahoma. Both of the Mrs. Dorman are daughters of the Semrads.

Mrs. Mary Weish, Mr. and Mrs. Lendon Walling, Brenda and Gregg from Munday, spent the weekend with her sister Mrs. Lee Muse.

VA Questionnaires Need From Area Veterans

VA representative Troy Guy of Clarendon has advised all persons receiving pension checks from the Veterans Administration to complete and return the questionnaires which were mailed to them with the November checks.

These questionnaires must be filled out and returned, Guy stated, for the checks to keep coming to these persons.

Annual income questionnaires were included with Veterans Administration pension checks mailed to 1.3 million recipients in November. Jack Coker, VA Regional Director, reported today. Questionnaires also went to 34,000 parents receiving Dependency and Indemnity Compensation (DIC) checks.

Completed questionnaires must be returned to the VA by January 1 to insure continued receipt of benefits, Coker said.

Pensions are paid to veterans and widows of veterans with nonservice-connected disabilities. Amount of the monthly stipend is based on the annual income of the recipient. Also governed by annual income are amounts of DIC payments to certain parents of veterans who died of service-connected causes. With some exceptions, pensioners are required to file income questionnaires annually. Those 72 years of age or older are exempt from filing, but must report income changes as they occur, Coker explained.

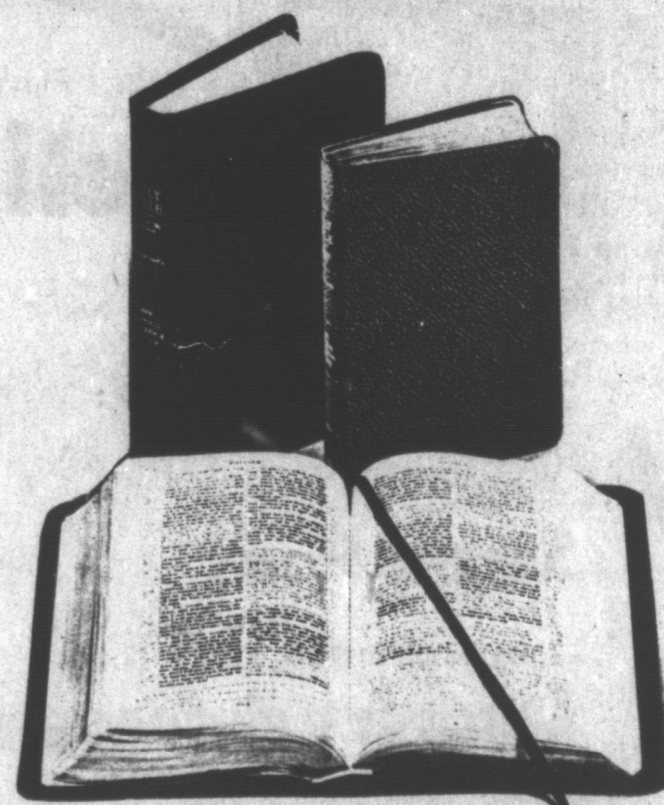

Some beneficiaries who normally are exempt, however, will receive questionnaires because of the cost-of-living increases in annuities, Coker said. Prompt return of questionnaires will avoid suspension or delay of monthly checks in 1976, he added.

Hunting The Pheasant

Willard E. Richter, Biologist

The ring-necked pheasant is a remarkable bird in more ways than one. It is the most colorful gamebird found in Texas. It has been described as having characteristics of other animals, such as sly as a fox, healthy as a horse and as many lives as a cat, when it comes out to outsmarting the hunters or enduring adverse climatic conditions.

Since its introduction into Texas in 1939, the ring-neck has slowly increased its range and numbers in the Texas panhandle. Eleven counties now have pheasant populations that can be considered moderate and well established. Most sports men, and many landowners, in the Texas panhandle would like to see the ring-necked pheasant expand its range and increase its number.

A closer look at the pheasant's habitat needs will provide the answers that will enable it to prosper throughout more of the high and south plains areas. Food and cover are the critical habitat needs. Without good food and adequate cover throughout the year, the pheasant cannot prosper.

Being a seed or grain eater, the bird has established itself in the irrigated croplands that have crops, such as small grains, corn, grain sorghum and soybeans as a significant part of the cropping systems. Following the harvest of grain crops, there is abundant grain and seed available to the pheasants and other game birds, such as dove and quail.

Soil Conservation Service personnel made a survey of waste grains during the 1975 harvest season. The survey was made in eleven panhandle counties and was made up of 53 samples.

Crops sampled were sunflowers, corn, grain sorghum and soybeans. Random samples were collected following harvest and calculations extended to show the average pounds per acre of waste grains available as feed for pheasants or other birds.

The survey revealed that sunflowers averaged 38 pounds of waste grain per acre, grain sorghum 89 pounds per acre, corn 113 pounds per acre and soybeans 138 pounds per acre. Projecting these figures to the total acreages of these crops under irrigation in the Texas panhandle, shows there is ample food for gamebirds on the ground, immediately following harvest. To be beneficial to the gamebirds on a long term basis, these waste grains and crop residue must be left on the soil surface through the critical winter months. This can be achieved by residue management practices, such as deferring all tillage practices as long as possible or adopting minimum tillage or no-tillage practices. Chiseling or one time disking will leave most of the crop residue and waste grains on or near the soil surface and available as food and winter cover for wildlife.

Proper crop residue management provides other benefits than food and cover for wildlife. It protects the soil from wind erosion, it holds precipitation, in the form of snow, in place for absorption into the soil and it prevents crusting of soils from rains, reducing runoff and allowing better utilization of available moisture.

Corn and grain sorghum residue provide the best winter cover for wildlife in the panhandle. Sunflower residue provides the least soil protection and wildlife cover and therefore annual cool season cover crops, such as rye or winter peas, are required to provide adequate soil protection and wildlife cover.

Leaving fence rows, odd areas, equipment yards, playas and abandoned farmsteads in natural weedy vegetation during the fall and winter months provide excellent cover for non-migratory game birds, such as the pheasant or quail. In the panhandle croplands where the pheasant makes his home, there is very little natural vegetative cover.

Farmers who adopt crop residue management practices that will provide the pheasant with the necessary food and cover throughout the lean winter months will be rewarded with increased pheasant populations throughout the irrigated croplands.

Taking A Look At Thanksgiving

Habakkuk, God's man who lived in the seventh century before Christ, lived in similar circumstances. And he said-- "Although the fig tree shall not blossom, neither shall fruit be in the vines; the labor of the olive shall fail, and the fields shall yield no meat; the flock shall be cut off from the fold, and there shall be no herd in the stalls; yet I will rejoice IN THE LORD I will joy in the GOD OF MY SALVATION." (Hab. 3:17, 18)

What is the secret? How do you find praise in your heart when everything seems gone -- ruined -- hopeless? Look again at God's Word-- "Rejoice in the Lord-- In joy IN the GOD OF MY SALVATION. "----It is because of GOD HIMSELF. Not things-people-or circumstances. But GOD. And GOD ALONE. Hear HIM as He says-- "FOR I AM THE LORD, I CHANGE NOT." (Mal. 3:6) Hear Paul-- "JESUS CHRIST THE SAME YESTERDAY, AND TODAY, AND FOREVER." (Heb. 13:8) Do YOU still have God? Is HE still YOUR LORD AND SAVIOR? Then YOU WILL HAVE THANKSGIVING.

Nation's First Mobile Home?

By JEANICE WEATHERLY

Ora E. Noakes anticipating a better life and healthier climate for his motherless sons, Lester, Charles, Elmer and Arthur (Rev. R.A. Noakes) left Dayton, Ohio in 1915 for an overland trip by 'house wagon' to Watertown, South Dakota.

Shortly after the terrible Ohio flood of 1913, Anna Swartz Noakes, mother of the boys contracted pneumonia and died within five days, leaving four boys ranging in ages from four to seventeen for the father to take care of. One or another of the youngsters was always ailing it seemed and Noakes decided to move his family to the western United States in hopes of improved health for the boys.

Ora Noakes constructed and outfitted a 'house wagon' which might well have been the forerunner of the trailer house of today. With considerable ingenuity Noakes installed a three burner Perfection oil cookstove with oven and bolted it to the floor, built a storage cabinet with shallow trays to prevent dishes from sliding out behind hinged doors and provided a place for bedding. The bedding was put in vertical, narrow, enclosed closets and the doors, hinged at the bottom, let down at night forming platforms for mattresses and cover.

Rectangularly shaped, the house wagon had small windows in the living part of the structure and the front and sides where the driver sat were made like windows without the glass. After the trip the wagon seat could be removed and the space used as living room.

Leaving Dayton, Ohio on May 24, the first stop was at the home of the boys' aunt near Eaton, Ohio. This concerned woman "carried on something terrible" at the idea of the Noakes family going west, she was convinced they would all be scalped by Indians.

Luckily she knew nothing of the problem Ora Noakes had when he came to the Rosebud Indian Reservation in Iowa. There had been an Indian uprising against the government and the Indians refused to let any white "Pale faces," men cross the reservation. Shortly before noon the house wagon reached the edge of the Indian land. Noakes had always been friendly to the Indians and he talked the braves into taking him to the chief to talk. They boys stayed behind in the wagon. As the time wore on they became more and more frightened, and as the sun began to set, the dire prediction of their aunt seemed to be something they might have to face.

Ora Noakes friendship with the Indians gained him safe passage for his house wagon and boys across the reservation. The sight of their father safe and talking and laughing with one of the Indians who spoke English was a great relief to the boys. One night was spent on the reservation, it took more than a day to cross, with the Indians surrounding them. Later Ora Noakes jokingly teased the boys about being so very good that night.

Hardships were ever present with the family. Roads were always rough and either dusty or muddy. Once in Illinois, it was three days before they were able to get water. The certainty that the Noakes were gypsies made all persons refuse to give them water for themselves or the horses. They were only allowed to stay 24 hours in one place before being forced to move on.

When the water situation had become desperate Ora Noakes took desperate measures. Coming to a place where a group of women were quilting outdoors he stopped at the well saying, "This is a very nice well you have here," as he drew water for the horses and water barrel. This strategy worked. Not only did he get the lifesaving water, but the women shared their dinner of fried chicken and chocolate cake with the boys and their father. It was a pleasant thing to reflect upon.

Other things were decidedly not pleasant. It was in Illinois where sticks and stones were thrown at them. At times like this they felt confused and hurt. The house wagon, four boys, little dog Prince and Ora Noakes, it seemed, were alone against a big part of the world.

One of the horses died near Boone, Iowa. "Dad worked for ten days helping to put up hay to be able to buy another horse. This was one of the best times we boys had on the trip. We would work with Dad and in the middle of the morning and afternoon they would bring great baskets of food for the men. They always brought a lot extra for us." Reverend Noakes continued, "My, we had never tasted such wonderful cocoanut pie, the other boys and I hated to see the time come for us to go. We teased our Dad by telling him his biscuits didn't taste nearly as good as the cocoanut pie."

Another horse was lost before the trip ended but old Brownie, a beautiful brown animal, made the entire trip of 1,175 miles. The Noakes family did not reach Watertown, South Dakota but arrived in Union County August 18 and settled between Jefferson and Elk Point.

Ora leased a farm and became a share-cropper. When they reached the farm it had about 15 acres of cottonwood trees and among them they found a space between four of the trees that might have been made to fit the four corners of the house wagon. The trees were cut down and the wagon anchored to the stumps, the driver's space enclosed and the family had a home.

Preparing for the severe winter included stuffing leaves into the walls for insulation. The idea worked well enough against the cold. It was so effective in fact that rats, mice and gophers invaded the cozy space in the walls. The snow was deep outside the house and there was a sudden thaw in January. One morning Ora Noakes stepped from his bed into 10 inches of ice water in the house. Problems kept popping up.

All the family members worked and it fell the lot of the boys to feed and curry the horses while their dad prepared breakfast. There were biscuits every morning.

Arthur, Rev. Noakes, and his younger brother spent a great deal of time at home alone as they were too small to do the farm work. Some of the persons nearby thought it great sport to scare the small boys. Arthur decided to put a stop to this habit and with nine year old courage he emptied six shots from an Ivory and Johnson six shooter over the heads of the tormentors one evening. "I should not have done it. I might have killed someone unintentionally," Rev. Noakes said, "But we were never bothered anymore."

On another occasion someone killed Prince, the beloved little dog. Arthur and his little brother, Lester, swore to kill the man who did it. They never did carry out the threat.

The Noakes boys Charles, Elmer, Arthur and Lester walked three miles to a one room school where all eight grades were taught. Arthur had a fight one day at school with a little Sioux Indian boy. He won the fight and brought the maternal wrath of the boy's mother down upon his own head. She was a large woman and Arthur escaped by climbing to the top of a handy tree. As soon as she left he sought the safety of the corn cob bin, the cobs were used for fuel at the school, and burrowed down until he was hidden.

As an eight year old boy in South Dakota Arthur had little choice of summer jobs. One summer he herded cattle all summer and his wages were a 25 pound pig which he carried home, four and a half miles in a gunny sack. The government paid a bounty on gophers and he killed enough at 2,3, and 5 cents for different sizes to buy new overalls and other school clothes.

Many things happened to Charles, Elmer, Arthur, Lester and their father, Ora Noakes, and much of it was rough, but the experiences taught them how to cope with conditions that would have been far more difficult without the knowledge gained by day to day living with adversity.

When Arthur's mother was dying she said to him, "Arthur be a good boy and meet me in Heaven." Arthur spent lots of time after her death wondering where Heaven was. That was the first reference to it he had ever heard. When his oldest brother Charles, died of tuberculosis, a minister recited the Lord's Prayer, the 23rd Psalm and said a prayer. It was the first time he ever heard anyone pray, or had he ever been in Sunday school or in church until he was 26 years old.

In 1930 R.A. Noakes was driving a truck and taking 40 tons of coal a day to Decatur, Illinois and from May 15 to August he drove to Moweaqua, Illinois and preached three nights a week on the street corners. From the group of persons who came to hear him, he started a church, a nice one. From there he took a home study course, the same course taught in the college classroom, and began the ministerial career which has been so successful and brought him to Clarendon and the Church of the Nazarene here.

Lacy Lee Nobel of Arlington has been in Clarendon to attend funeral services for his uncle Suel Buchanan.

What a great place to be this Thanksgiving

Tradition has it that Grandma's is the place to go for Thanksgiving. Wherever you spend the holidays, do yourself a favor and drive with extra caution. Anyplace is better this Thanksgiving than where you'll wind up if you're involved in a traffic accident. So drive the friendly way. Take the extra time it takes to be safe.

You Always Get A Bonus At Chamberlain

CUSTOMERIZED SERVICE

Buying an automobile at Chamberlain Motor Co. is a pleasure—not a chore. Why? Because we make it easy on you through our "Customerized Service Plan." Darell Harper and other sales personnel at Chamberlain's have made it work beautifully. At Chamberlain's our sales representatives do not really "sell." We are simply the guys who get you together with the car you really want. Training is a big part of the picture because the staff at Chamberlain's makes it a point to know every car we sell, every new feature not only on our cars but other makes and models as well. We make it a point to see that you get exactly what you want, down to the exact color of paint and the trim on the back door. Here's how we do it:

SALESMAN OF THE WEEK
T.M. Caldwell

(1) ON THE SPOT DELIVERY—At Chamberlain's we carry just about as big a selection of cars and pickups as you will find anywhere. At the peak of our inventory you can select from some 150 new models and as many as 50 good, clean used cars. They are here for your personal inspection and test driving.

(2) COMPUTERIZED CAR LOCATER LIST—If the car you want is not on our lot, we have access to literally thousands of cars available for immediate delivery. Our sales staff will take all of the information you provide and more than likely our computer will find "your car" from another dealer in this area of the South-west.

(3) CUSTOM ORDERS—If you still have something more specific in mind, we have the ultimate answer—a custom order from the factory. This way, you can have exactly what you want down to the most minute detail. Delivery requires about five to six weeks but many times if you can anticipate your wants, we can still have it on the day you want it.

CUSTOMERIZED SERVICE—This is why Chamberlain Motor Co. has satisfied customers coming back year after year. Many times they return to the same salesman who over the years has come to appreciate the kind of car they want. With our own "follow through" system, our salesman will not only help a customer make his or her selection but will follow through with the necessary paper work and even financing if needed. In this way the customer has every detail in purchasing a car handled by one person.

Seniors Eligible For Scholarships

The 22nd Annual Betty Crocker Search for Leadership in Family Living, a $110,000 college scholarship program sponsored by General Mills, gets underway Tuesday (Dec. 2.) High school seniors here and throughout the country will join in a written knowledge and attitude examination which will determine individual college scholarship awards of $500 to $5,000.

Participating seniors will compete in a 50-minute examination prepared and graded by Science Research Associates, Chicago, who are also responsible for all judging and selection of winners. The local winner will receive a certificate from General Mills and will, together with other school winners, remain in the running for state and national honors.

State winners -- one from every state and the District of Columbia -- will each be awarded a $1,500 scholarship. Chosen in judging that centers on performance in the written examination, state Family Leaders of Tomorrow will also earn for their schools a 20-volume reference work, "The Annals of America," from Encyclopaedia Britannica Educational Corporation. Second-ranking participants in each state will receive $500 college grants.

On April 25-28 of next year, the 51 state Family Leaders of Tomorrow will gather in Washington, D.C., for an expense-paid educational tour of the capital city. Personal observation and interviews of the state winners during the tour will be added factors in the selection of the 1976 Betty Crocker Family Leader of Tomorrow and three runners-up. Scholarships awarded to the four national winners will be for $5,000, $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000.

More than ten million students have been enrolled in the Betty Crocker Search since its beginning in the 1954-55 school year. With this year's grants, total scholarships awarded will exceed $2.3 million.

Gibsons Has Grand Opening

Gibson's Complete Family Center is Clarendon's newest business and shopping facility and is located five blocks west of the stop light on highway 287 on the north side of the highway.

This is one of the more modern Gibson's stores with exterior walls of white painted steel and brick supporting wall for the 50 feet of glass on the store front. There are two entrance doors, one at either end of the brick frontage.

The interior of the 20,000 square foot store has acoustical tile ceiling, paneled support columns and paneling on the front entrance and part of the inside walls. The paneling makes a nice contrast with the slim-lighted expanse of light walls on the remainder of the store.

Wide aisles permit an easy flow of customer traffic throughout the store and the six cash registers, four of them fast checkout registers speed up shopping chores.

In the grocery department breads, produce, canned goods, a dairy case and frozen food case provide most of the customers needs. Toys galore with educational toys, games, wheel toys and hand toys will help Santa this year. The music department has records, tapes, radios, and electronic equipment—stereos hi-fis and accessories. Housewares offers an almost limitless number of items for the home with lamps, pictures, frames, dishes, cookware, small appliances and curtain and drapery rods. Soft goods available are curtains, bath and bed linens, bedspreads, men's, women's, and children's clothing.

Cosmetics and Pharmacy departments contain health and beauty items for hair care, skin care, make up, fragrances in gift sets, hair dryers, make up mirrors and packaged medicines. Sporting goods and the automotive stock items for the fisherman, golfer, tennis player and accessories for the bicyclist and motorcyclist in addition to the necessary supplies such as motor oil, belts and other auto accessories.

For the weekend handy man or the professional, the paint department has a wide selection of interior and exterior paints, brushes and assorted needs for all painting jobs. If your hobby is photography, the jewelry department has cameras and film. You may leave the film to be processed too. Watches, watch bands and other jewelry are displayed for selection also.

At present there are 20 persons employed at the store, a sizable staff, and considerable payroll for any town. Come in and visit Clarendon's newest store.

Alex B. Saied of Childress is the owner of the Clarendon store and picked Clarendon as an ideal location because of the healthy economy of the area, the central location of the trade territory and confidence in the future of this region.

Ben Saied Joins Gibson's

Ben L. Saied, co-manager of Gibson's store here moved to Clarendon in August from Guymon, Oklahoma where he had been associated with his father in the men's clothing business.

After his employment by Gibson's and before the store in Clarendon was ready for opening he commuted to Childress until the end of October.

Ferryton is Saied's home town. He grew up there and graduated from High School. After High School he attended West Texas State University and was in the Navy for his two years of service with the Navigation Department. He is a veteran of the Vietnam conflict.

Upon his discharge from the service, Ben went to Guymon and operated a men's clothing store. He remained in Guymon until he accepted the position with Gibson's Store in August.

In March 1972 Ben married and he and his wife Diane have a daughter, Najla Alexis, who will be three years old in January.

Diane grew up in the panhandle too, in Amarillo, and was graduated from Tascosa High School.

Ben and Diane enjoy sports. Diane swims and plays tennis and Ben likes to play golf. They are members of the Clarendon Country Club and living at Colodas Estates are conveniently near the club. Diane belongs to Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Although the Saieds have lived here for more than three months, Ben has not had an opportunity to meet many of the towns people because he has been working in Childress. He and Diane expect to have a chance to do this now that the Gibson's Store is ready to open.

LIVING DOLL NAJLA ALEXIS SAIED enjoys the crowd in the new Gibson's store. Najla is the three year old daughter of Ben Saied co-manager and Mrs. Saied.

Industrial Natural Gas Rates To Increase

Lone Star Gas Company has established new industrial gas rates schedules for all its standard industrial contracts in the state of Texas, with the exception of Dallas and Irving. The new rates will apply to approximately 3,400 Texas industrial customers that presently receive the Company's services. Lone Star anticipates the new rates to increase revenues by $9.9 million annually when fully effective, based upon sales volumes to these customers during the twelve months ended September 30, 1975.

Filings have been made with the cities of Dallas and Irving and upon approval by their respective city councils, new industrial rates will be implemented in those cities. The new industrial gas rates will apply immediately to new contracts and will be effective after January 1, 1976, on the anniversary dates of existing contracts which will expire throughout the calendar year.

Lone Star manager, A.E. Swearingen, of Clarendon said there were only three industrial gas customers in Donley County and this new rate would not apply to other users of natural gas.

STATE CAPITAL
Highlights
AND Sidelights
 by Lyndell Williams

TEDDY ASHCRAFT, FRESHMAN student at Clarendon College Automotive Instruction Center uses the cost-free electric engraver from the Donley County Sheriff's office, to identify tools against theft.

AUSTIN — State government ended its 1975 fiscal year with a record cash surplus of more than $1.4 billion, but if the legislature continues its spending ways it may not last long.

This was the good news and the bad news of Comptroller Bob Bullock last week as he released his annual financial report for the fiscal year which closed August 31.

"We're in the best shape ever for now," said Bullock. "But our analysis consistently shows that if spending increases as usual in 1977, we will face a tax bill in the $1 billion range."

The Legislature this year passed a $12.1 billion biennial appropriations bill.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe and others have predicted that, with reasonable economies and continuing high yield from sales and oil and gas taxes, a major state tax bill can be avoided in 1977 as in the last two legislatures.

Bullock said the state had $6.9 billion in the last fiscal year to meet an expenditure level of $5.5 billion.

Revenues, the Comptroller said, increased 13 per cent over 1974 income — reaching $5.7 billion.

"The real story," said Bullock, "is that revenue increased because of inflationary prices while the tax base remained the same. Spending jumped 21 per cent over the previous year. If legislators want to increase spending another 25 to 30 per cent in the next biennium, they had better have that billion dollar tax bill ready."

GOP Moving
 Texas Republicans outlined major plans for 1976 campaign activities at a meeting here recently. The State GOP Executive Committee approved Chairman Ray Hutchison's proposal to establish a powerful new executive campaign committee and central political fund.

Special recruiting committees were also appointed to seek out qualified congressional and legislative candidates.

Republicans decided to conduct their presidential preference primary on a congressional district basis. Ninety-six of the 100 GOP presidential nominating delegates will be elected at the polls May 1, and only four will be picked at the June 19 state party convention in Fort Worth.

Mrs. Pat Archer, wife of Houston Congressman Bill Archer, was elected new GOP National Committeewoman to succeed Mrs. Rita Bass Clements of Dallas who resigned.

Hutchison named Ernest Angelo of Midland to head the new 15-member GOP executive campaign committee. Bob Flournoy of Lufkin was designated vice chairman.

Rates Studied
 A 7.1 per cent increase in workmen's compensation insurance rates has been recommended by State Insurance Board actuaries.

Insurance company spokesmen aren't happy. They recommended a 12.3 per cent boost. Industry representatives weren't pleased either. They pointed out Texas business and industries already pay $611.6 million a year to insure employees against on-the-job death and injury, and they claimed this is too much.

Courts Speak
 The State Supreme Court left standing a lower court ruling that state and local governments can charge fees for access to large record computer data and microfilm.

The Open Records Act, court rulings have held, permit charges to examine such records.

In another ruling, the High Court affirmed a Texas Railroad Commission gas curtailment order placing Houston Lighting and Power Company in seventh priority as a customer of United Texas Transmission Company.

The Supreme Court also held that a Smith County man must be jailed for contempt of a court order by returning a tractor which he sold out of Texas.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed the 100-year prison sentence of a Grayson County man in the death of a fifth-grade girl from Denison who had been abducted on her way home from school.

A three-judge federal court in Tyler set arguments in the continuing controversy over whether voters can be signed up under the new Texas registration act without U.S. Justice Department approval.

AG Opinions
 Atty. Gen John Hill's opinion banning many special school fees may cause loss of district accreditation, State Board of Education warned recently.

In a recent opinion, Hill held school districts should not contract with one of their trustees to furnish garbage service even if there is only one such service in the area.

Hill also concluded the Smith County domestic relations court judge's pay should be equal to the state portion of the county's district judge salary.

Donley County Land O' Promise

by VIRGINIA BROWDER

The perfect Christmas gift in Donley County.

DONLEY COUNTY: Land O' Promise

By Virginia Browder

This pioneer history of Donley County is as colorful as variegated brake land of this eastern Panhandle country. Such salty cattlemen as Charles Goodnight and Tom Bugbee along with men of the cloth such as Henry Lewis Carhart helped to settle and civilize one of the nation's last frontiers. Author Virginia Browder covers the days of the Comanche and Comanchero, the rancher and later the farmer and the settlements and towns and communities that made up Donley County. Histories of pioneer ranch families, churches, schools, communities and businesses will make Donley County, Land O' Promise a welcome addition to Panhandle county histories.

CJC Women Win Cage Victory Over Western Oklahoma

With an impressive win over Western Oklahoma last Tuesday night, Clarendon College women's basketball team entered the game against West Texas last Thursday night with a 1-1 record.

"Western Oklahoma is one of the tougher teams in the state of Oklahoma, and I feel real good about beating them," stated Coach Susan Addy in a post game interview. Karen Nash, W.O. high point girl had a four year high school scoring record of 3621 total points, while their other star player Joyce Riddle, 6'0" averaged 14 rebounds and 8 blocks per game. "It took a total team effort to beat Altus and I was pleased with the overall performance of each individual. The team showed much improvement over our last game and continues to improve with each practice.

High point for C.J.C. against Western Oklahoma was Micky Henderson a freshman from Memphis with 14 points and 4 rebounds. After being chosen by the team as outstanding player in the Western-Texas game last Saturday, Jacquelyn Graham freshman from Ft. Towson, Oklahoma followed Henderson with 8 points. Teresa Condron, sophomore from Paducah was hot on the boards with 12 rebounds while Theresa Heard freshman from Vega had an outstanding game defensively with 5 stolen balls.

Clarendon shot 48% from the floor but fell severely behind in free throws with 26% of those attempted. The outstanding player award, selected by the team, for the best overall effort against Western Oklahoma, ended in a tie between Micky Henderson and Theresa Heard.

In Thursday's action West Texas State led by Alma Ramsey with 16 points defeated Clarendon by a slim margin of 62-6 "We were sluggish throughout the whole game, after our hard fought battle against Western Oklahoma in Tuesday night action," stated Coach Addy.

Micky Henderson and Carol Vincent turned in outstanding performances against W.T. with 17 and 16 points respectively.

Clarendon Junior College women's next outing will be December 1 in their first conference game against Western Texas in C.J.C. field house. Game time 6:00. The C.J.C. men's team will follow as they take on Western Texas mens squad the defending National Champions.

Bronc Buster

By Liz Bromley

Basketball season officially opened last week when the C.H.S. varsity and the junior varsity basketball girls played Groom here. The junior varsity Bronchettes were victorious with the score of 39-38 with Lorri Phillips as high point. The varsity team almost had them by the throats, but then the Tigers got away from them and won 41-16. Pearly Butler was high point for the varsity.

A visit to the gym would show many enthusiastic players, tired, but enthused while Coach Keeney hollars out commands and Coach Crawford, due to loss of voice, makes many gestures of hands.

Coach Keeney had to say about this season, "Welp, ah, we are anxious to see how well boys and girls both have improved from last year. We are trying to improve overall. Boys and girls both have better attitudes than last year."

Coach Crawford said (hoarsely), "I'm very proud of them and think they are doing a good job. I expect them to win quite a few games this year."

Basketball team managers are Kathy Carmicheal, Robbie Wise, and Mary Nell McGarity.

The National Honor Society will have their assembly Monday. Results will be in next week's Buster. Congratulations to all winners!
