

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT
By Congressman Walter Rogers

Evaluation of Fiscal Requirements

For many years there has been great concern over the lack of information available to the Congress with regard to the fiscal requirements of the executive agencies of the government. Numerous attempts have been made to create some committee, group, or staff organization to more effectively evaluate the budget requests of the several executive departments of the Federal government. At the present times the budget requests of each department must first go through the Bureau of the Budget, which is a part of the Executive Office of the President of the United States. There is no question but that a thorough and searching examination is made of these appropriation requests by the Bureau of the Budget. There is no question but that the requests of the departments are usually trimmed by the Bureau of the Budget. These appropriation requests are made up in the first instance by the particular agency or department involved, broken down as to the several divisions of that department. In creating the budget it is necessary for these people in these divisions of a department to project their thinking into the future and rely on estimates as to how much will be needed. It is generally conceded that very seldom are any estimates less than the actual needs of the department. Usually they are more than the actual requirements, which explains why the Bureau of the Budget is able to trim these requests by either cutting down or deleting items. It must also be remembered that there is a large number of experts in financial matters working on these budgets, the items requested, and justification for those items.

The Bureau of the Budget, in going over these items, necessarily reflects the thinking of the Presidency as to what should or should not be included in the budget and the extent of it. Hence, the Bureau of the Budget will naturally furnish additional and further supporting data for those items of expenditure particularly favored by the Presidency. When the budget finally reaches the Congress, it has been the subject of deep and exhaustive study, both as to the suggested expenditures and as to the supporting data and justification for those expenditures, representing of course the thinking of the Executive Branch of the government. It comes to Congress for appropriation of public monies to meet the requests and demands. Congress is supposed to reflect the will of the people as to the expenditures to be made. The requests of the executive departments can be increased or decreased, or completely wiped out. Usually the budget requests are measurably cut by the Congress.

The budget itself, which is sent up by the President, is usually the product of many months of work. The difficulty which Congress experiences in dealing with a budget is the fact that there is so little time between the transmittal of the budget to the Congress and the beginning of the fiscal year to which it is applicable. For instance, the budget presented in the month of January each year must be acted upon not later than June 30th of that same year. This means that the Congress has at most approximately five and a half months to go over the matters therein contained. It must also be remembered that the folks in the Executive Branch of the government preparing these budgets and justifying them have this as a primary duty. The Members of Congress have thousands of duties, among which is the necessity to study and act on the appropriations bills. The Appropriations Committee of the Congress has 50 members. These are divided into Subcommittees, to which are assigned different phases of the budget requests. There is a very limited number of employees assigned to each Subcommittee to work with it on the subject. The problem resolves itself to this: we in the Congress are charged with completely evaluating in five and a half months with a very minute number of employees, comparatively speaking, the appropriations requests that have been studied and justified over a period of approximately 18 months by thousands of employees. You can readily see the proportion of the difficulties which we encounter in trying to do this.

I have long advocated the solution of this problem by the creation of a Committee on the Budget to constantly and continuously work in complete coordination with the several executive departments and agencies in the preparation of the budget in the first instance. This will enable the representatives of the people to have full and accurate information on all subjects at a moment's notice and would, in my opinion, provide the mechanics by which Federal expenditures could be measurably cut quickly. I would dare say that savings the first year would mean the difference between a surplus and a deficit. Certainly with the experiences we have had in the past, I do not see how anyone could object to giving such a method a trial.

A little boy at school was asked to give the definition of the word "bachelor." He replied, "A bachelor is the happiest man in the world." The school teacher asked him who in the world ever told him that, and he said, "My daddy."

Probably the reason God made woman last was that He didn't want any advice while creating man.

About 45,000,000 Americans now alive will develop cancer if present rates are permitted to continue. Support the American Cancer Society in its effort to conquer this disease.

Leukemia has increased nearly 400 per cent in men over 50 since 1930. The American Cancer Society is spending large sums for research on ways to control this fatal form of cancer. It needs your support.

About 500,000 new cancer cases will be diagnosed this year, the American Cancer Society predicts. All adults are urged to have an annual health checkup and to support the Society's April Crusade.

The annual hospital bill for cancer is estimated at about $350,000,000 or over eleven times more than what the public gave the American Cancer Society to fight cancer in 1959. Support the Society's 1961 Crusade.

According to a recent survey only nine states report a full-time state department of education science advisor or consultant. Practically all state education depts. report supervisors for school lunches, art, music and physical education.

The nation's youth are becoming science-minded. Since 1900 there has been a 200 per cent increase in actual enrollment in high school physics and an 1100 per cent increase in actual enrollment in high school chemistry.

The National Science Teachers Association proposes the development of an intense nationwide effort to increase the salaries of all teachers, with consideration of ways to reward effective teaching on the basis of demonstrated merit.

Each year about 4,000 of the 80,000 members of the American Chemical Society volunteer to give personal assistance to high school science teachers as they request.

The National Science Teachers Association reaches more than 20,000 teachers regularly with its program of services and publications — The Science Teacher and the Elementary School Science Bulletin.

The American Association for the Advancement of Science administers a Traveling High School Library Program, sponsored by the National Science Foundation, to stimulate interest in and choice of careers in science.

People are laughing yet over an incident which occurred at a PTA meeting. Five little first-graders marched out onto the stage to welcome everyone. Each child carried a large cardboard letter to spell out the word "H-E-L-L-O." All took their correct positions except the little lad who carried the letter "O." He had forgotten where to stand. He paused a few moments at the rear of the stage, much to the amusement of the audience. But he really brought down the house when he finally decided he belonged at the head of the group!

Finch-Johnson Vows Read In Double Ring Ceremony

Abilene Christian College students, Edna Elizabeth (Beth) Finch and Herman Erdman Dennis Johnson, were married Saturday, Jan. 27 at half past six o'clock in the evening in the College Church of Christ Chapel. James A. Johnson, father of the bridegroom, read the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Finch of Clarendon. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Johnson of Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada.

Nuptial music was furnished by soloists, Paul Hancock of Clarendon and Glenn Peters of Houston and an A Cappella group from ACC.

Mr. Finch gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of handclipped chantilly lace over satin. The gown featured an elongated bodice with a Queen Anne's neckline.

The long tapered sleeves formed points over the hands and the cutaway lines of the front skirt formed a chapel train accented with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. Alternate rows of lace and pleated tulle enhanced the front skirt.

A scalloped calot of lace, tulle and seed pearls held her pouf veil of silk illusion. She carried a crescent bouquet of flocked leather fern, feathered white carnations and a green cymbidium orchid.

Nancy Cunningham of London Ontario, Canada, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Connie Williams of Clarendon, Barbara Thetford of Sherman, and Pat Swindell of Memphis, Tenn.

Bridal attendants wore dresses of brilliant green delustered peau de soie satin designed with three-quarter length sleeves, and scoop necklines. Their bell-shaped skirts, which were caught at the waist with small bows, formed cutaway lines.

Their headdresses were small crowns of white fur and they carried green carnations mounted on white fur muffs.

Bruce Johnson of Winnipeg,

Mrs. Herman Erdman Dennis Johnson

Manitoba, Canada, was his brother's best man. Groomsmen were David Towes and Alan McCutchen, both of Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, and Roger Finch of Clarendon.

Becky Bailey and Lynn Bailey were flower girls. Candlelighter was Philip Finch of Clarendon, brother of the bride.

The reception was held in Gardner Hall. The houseparty included Dee Williams, Dottie Davis, Linda Pruitt, Judy Smith, Kay Jordan, Mrs. M. F. McKnight, Mrs. Bertha Moore, Bob Bailey and Judy Boone.

The bride, a 1957 Clarendon High School graduate, attended Clarendon Junior College and West Texas State. She is a senior English major at ACC.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Daniel McIntyre High School in Canada, attended the University of Manitoba, Canada, for two years. He received his BS degree in psychology at ACC and is a graduate student in Bible at ACC now.

The couple will be at home in Abilene after Feb. 1.

The parents of the bridegroom hosted the rehearsal dinner.

The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Homer Taylor of Clarendon and Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Therrien of Ft. Worth. Mrs. Taylor went to Ft. Worth to be with her new granddaughter and her parents.

Too many people in the United States are failing to cultivate the ideas planted by our forefathers, that gave us freedom, individual opportunity and responsibilities.

If we don't start cultivating the olive trees of ideals we inherited, we will find ourselves buried in a tangle of socialistic weeds, the seeds of which are now being planted.

HUNTING AND FISHING BIG BUSINESS

There must be something to these outdoor sports of hunting and fishing, says Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist. According to a survey conducted recently by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, he says some 30 million people in the United States hunt and fish, and that fishermen outnumber the hunters by about 2 to 1.

About $4 billion are poured into the American economy each year by these outdoorsmen, says Cooper. This money is spent mainly for equipment, transportation, food and lodging, lease fees and licenses. American fishermen spent about $3 billion in 1960, while hunters spent $1 billion. Combined, they traveled 13.2 billion automobile miles. The number of women hunters increased from 418,000 in 1955 to 860,000 in 1960, Cooper continues. Considering these impressive increases in the amount of time, money and effort spent on hunting and fishing, Americans should look to the future and give serious thought to the conservation of our wildlife and fisheries resources.

THOSE WHO COME AFTER US

The story is told of the great Roman Emperor Hadrian finding an aged man planting olive trees, and since they grow so very slowly, saying to him: "Old man, these trees will not bear fruit for many years. Do you expect to be alive to eat of the fruit of your labor?"

The old man replied: "If God wills, I shall eat—and if not, my son will eat. My father and his father before him planted trees that I might have fruit. It is my duty, then, to provide for those who shall come after me."

Here is illustrated a basic principle of human progress. Our forefathers did not plant many olive trees, but they did better in planting ideas and cultivating knowledge, practicing thrift and industry, so that we have become a part of the most prosperous society the world has ever seen. We should know clearly how this all came about, and realize that the old-fashioned virtues have lost none of their validity and value.

FARM NEWS

from County ASCS Committee

SIGN-UP FOR 1962 FEED GRAIN PROGRAM

During the next few months, grain farmers will be urged to "continue to do in '62 what you began in 1961," according to Mr. Cooke, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Donley County Committee. The reference is to the 1961 feed grain program, which program workers hope to duplicate this year.

The sign-up of farmers under the 1962 feed grain program will take place during the period Feb. 5 thru March 30. The feed grain program for 1962 crops covers corn and grain sorghum.

The chairman listed the following principal features of the 1962 corn and grain sorghum program: (1) Voluntary participation; (2) diversion of not less than 20 per cent of the base acreage of corn and grain sorghum (1950-60 average) as adjusted; (3) compliance with the farm's barley feed grain base; (4) compliance with the corn and grain sorghum base and the barley base for any other farm on which the producer shares in the crops; (5) payments—based on yields and support prices—to be made on acreage diverted from feed grains to soil-conserving uses; (6) advance payments—up to about half of the total payment—made at sign-up time; (7) price support on the normal production of corn, grain sorghum, and barley and on oats and rye to be received only by cooperators in the feed grain program.

Mr. Cooke emphasized that growers must file an application to take part in the program and then must comply with the program's provisions in order to receive the benefits the program offers. Farmers growing the grains who do not sign up and participate in the program will not be eligible for price support on their crop feed grains.

A change in the method of determining the acreage of cotton planted in a skip-row pattern has been made beginning with the 1962 cotton crop. The acreage of cotton will be that acreage devoted to the crop. For example: a regular skip-row pattern of two normal width rows in cotton and one normal width row out will be considered to be two-thirds cotton. Other regular skip-row patterns will be determined in a similar manner, such as: two rows in cotton and two rows out will be considered to be half cotton. Where skip-row patterns are used, growers are encouraged to plan in uniform, regularly shaped and readily measurable patterns. One row of cotton and one row out will not qualify as skip-row planting.

RELEASE 1962 COTTON ALLOTMENTS

If you do not intend to plant all of your 1962 cotton allotment, you may release it to the County Committee and it will be re-portioned to other farms in the county. April 13th is the final date to release acreages. Applications for increases in cotton allotments must be filed not later than April 13th.
