Accident fatal to local resident

At 8:15 a.m. on July 21, 1983, Bernard Joseph (Bernie) Green, age 36, was killed in a one vehicle roll-over on Farm to Market 2362 and Highway 287.

According to a DPS spokesman, Bernie was north bound on Farm to Market 2362 in a 1975 Chevrolet 2 ton truck. His brakes apparently failed causing him to cross Highway 287. He attempted to turn left but the truck turned over, rolling 1½ times. He was pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace W.W. Lovelady.

The fire department used the jaws of life to lift the truck.

This accident brings the total of vehicle fatalities in Donley County this year to 5.

Services for Bernard Joseph Green were held at 2:00 p.m. on Saturday, July 23, 1983 in the First United Methodist Church with Rev. Bill Watson, Pastor, officiating. Interment was in Citizens Cemetery with the arrangements under the direction of Robertson Funeral Directors.

Big tractor conference

With their tractor and implements properly matched, Donley County farmers can increase their fuel economy by as much as 25 percent, County Extension Agent Ronald Gooch says.

This will be only one of the topics to be examined during a daylong "Big Tractor Conference" at Amarillo on Thursday, August 11, Gooch said. The program is designed for implement dealers as well as producers.

Specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Ser-

Weatherton to play in Greenbelt Bowl

The 34th Annual Greenbelt Bowl Football Classic will be played Friday, August 5th at 8 p.m. in Fair Park Stadium, Childress.

This game is designed to showcase the top players from the West Texas and central Oklahoma area. For those players who have not signed to play for a college, it will be a chance to show their ability one last time.

The coaches for this year's game will be Rodney Murphy and Gary Howard. Howard, the East coach, has been a head coach at the college level for six years at Central State University in Edmond, OK. He has never held a high school head coaching job. Murphy, the West coach, has coached at two West Texas high schools but is currently the head coach at McMurry College in Abilene.

David Weatherton, runningback and defensive back for the Clarendon Bronchos for the past three seasons, has been selected to play in the Greenbelt Bowl. David was an outstanding runningback for the Bronchos during his senior year as he led the team in rushing and scoring on his way to being selected to the first team 2-AA All District Team. David was also a second team All District defensive back. Weatherton was also a standout in other sports for CHS as he was an honorable mention All District guard in basketball and qualified for the state meet in the 400 meter dash while setting a CHS record of 48.8. David was the recipient of the Fighting Heart Award this spring which is annually awarded to the outstanding athlete at CHS. David is certainly deserving in his selection to this all star game and he will surely represent our community in this game as he has done throughout his career as a Broncho. This will not be David's final athletic performance as he has accepted a scholarship to run track for North Texas State University in Denton this season.

Susan Thompson, 18 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Thompson, has been chosen to represent Clarendon in the Queen's Pageant. Her activities will begin Thursday, August 4 at 3 p.m. with a pageant rehearsal. At 6:00 p.m., there will be a Hospitality Picnic for the queens, players and families and at 8:30 p.m., the Queen's Pageant at Portico of First National Bank. Friday, August 5, at 10:00 a.m., there will be a coffee and style show for Queen nominees at the First Methodist Church.

Help your church face up to the true nature of rock music

A 55 minute film titled "Rock" will be shown at the First Baptist Church Tuesday, August 2 at 7:30.

Rock is a stirring portrayal of teenage conflicts over music. Rock music has invaded the lives of modern youth - even in the church. This is the story of a typical church youth group and particularly of 17 year old Jeff. Because of his addiction to this music, his mother talks with the youth pastor. The youth pastor, himself a member of a rock group before he was saved, talks with Jeff and challenges him to not listen to rock music for two weeks, during which time he should learn all he can about the people involved in rock, discovering their philosophy and life-style.

Jeff took the challenge! Withdrawal pains and peer pressure were extreme agony! But he stayed with it and at the end of two weeks presented his shocking findings to the youth group.

This film relates to young people in an uncompromising manner - giving them a very logical as well as Biblical basis for the argument against rock music. It is not only a film for youth but one for parents who have to deal with the problems of their teen's addiction to rock music.

Everyone is invited to see this film, especially all the youth of the community.

The new law also eliminates deferred adjudication for any DWI offender, meaning that any person convicted of drunken driving will be unable to have the offense removed from his or her record after completing probation. The new law provides tougher penalties which are designed to encourage repeat offenders to seek treatment for alcohol problems. Those willing to enter alcohol treatment programs will face more lenient jail terms than those who refuse. The new law requires the director of a treatment facility to notify the court should the person not make a good faith effort to participate in treatment. The new law also allows the court to order the defendant to pay for all or part of the cost of such a rehabilitation program.

"The new law is designed to keep the repeat DWI offender off the street and get him or her into an alcohol treatment program. We realize that just locking up drunk drivers won't accomplish very much," Senator Sarpalus says.

Senator Sarpalus believes the new law is one Texas can be proud of. The law goes into effect January 1, 1984.

County Arts & Crafts Show

It may seem a bit early to plan for Christmas, but that's what the four Texas Extension Homemakers Assn. is doing. The Annual Christmas in October Arts & Crafts Fair has been scheduled for October 22 from 10 a.m. til 4 p.m. at the Clarendon Community Center.

There will be 4-H clowns from Sunray, demonstrations on gift wrapping, cooking, antique doll making and many other exciting events. The four TEHA Clubs will provide food booths and there will also be many door prizes offered from these sponsoring clubs.

If you have a craft, an art or skill, if you own a hobby shop where you accept work on consignment, please contact Cherri Brown, the County Extension Agent at 874-2141 to make arrangements for exhibiting. If you are a club and want to raise a little cash, bring your arts, crafts, Christmas decorations or hobbies to the Annual Christmas in October Arts & Crafts Fair to be held October 22 at the Community Center.

Plan now and make this exciting event even better by your attendance.

Texas has new tougher DWI law

Texas' tough new driving while intoxicated legislation, sponsored by Senator Bill Sarpalus, was signed into law by Governor Mark White. According to Senator Sarpalus, "the new law represents a significant step toward reducing the number of drunken drivers on Texas roads and highways."

In its final form, the measure toughens fines and sentences for those convicted of driving while intoxicated, the new law eliminates deferred adjudication, and it includes a new state definition of intoxication.

Governor White signed the bill saying, "Senator Sarpalus deserves an enormous amount of credit for the passage of this law. It's one which I'm sure everyone will be proud of."

State Representative Terral Smith, who sponsored Sarpalus' bill in the House said, "I've never before seen a senator who was willing to work as hard on a bill as Senator Sarpalus did on the DWI legislation."

Senator Sarpalus says, "Our goal is to save lives. We heard many cries from families who had lost loved ones as a result of drunk drivers. This law was spurred by those outcries, and I'm proud the Legislature stood together and passed a bill which will act as a deterrent to driving while intoxicated."

Under the new law, a first-time offender will face a maximum punishment of two years in jail and a $2000 fine. A first-time offender can receive probation without going to jail by participating in an alcohol or drug dependency evaluation, and completing the other necessary conditions of probation. Jail time will be mandatory for repeat offenders. Second time offenders will face jail time of from 15 days to two years and a fine of from $300 to $2000. On a second DWI conviction, a person will have to serve at least three days in jail as a condition of probation.

A third-time offender will face from 30 days to two years in the county jail or from 60 days to five years in the Texas Department of Corrections and a fine of from $500 to $2000. On a third conviction, a person will have to serve at least ten days as a condition of probation.

Penalties will be further enhanced in DWI cases involving death or serious injury. Under the new law, a drunken driver who injures another person in an accident will receive a minimum of 30 days in jail, even if they receive probation for the rest of their sentence.

Killing someone while driving drunk carries the same two to ten year penalty the offense now carries. But, the new law would require that such defendants spend at least four months in prison, even if they are granted probation. Juveniles who are arrested for drunken driving will face the same penalties defined currently by the Juvenile Court. However, under the new law, a first time juvenile offender must take the DWI Educational Course to avoid Mandatory license suspension. After a second DWI conviction, a juvenile will lose his or her license for a year or until he or she reaches the legal drinking age, whichever is longer.

The new law also includes a new state definition of intoxication. Under the new law, a person would be legally drunk if a test for alcohol in the blood showed a concentration of 0.10 percent blood-alcohol level are too drunk to be driving," according to Senator Sarpalus.

WTU Power Station cost reduced

The estimated cost of West Texas Utilities Company's Oklahoma Power Station, now under construction in North Texas, has been reduced by $127 million.

The announcement was made Friday by Durwood Chalker, chairman and chief executive officer of central and South West Corp., WTU's parent company, at a presentation before the Utility and Telecommunications Securities Club of Chicago.

The reduced cost estimate results primarily from being able to negotiate better contracts in today's market with manufacturers and suppliers for practically all of the equipment needed for Oklahoma, Chalker said. The cost had been estimated at $525 million a year ago, but now is estimated at $398 million.

The Oklahoma Power Station will have a net generating capacity of 640 megawatts and will be the first power plant in WTU's system to burn coal as a boiler fuel. The plant is scheduled for completion in December 1986 and will be in full operation before the summer of 1987.

It will be owned jointly by WTU and two other CSW subsidiaries, Public Service Co. of Oklahoma and Central Power and Light Co. WTU will own 55 percent of the plant and will be the operator partner.

BIOGRAPHYS
1. "Golda Meir" by Mollie Keller. Golda Meir's life is so closely tied to the history of Israel that it is almost impossible to imagine one without the other. Born in Russia in 1898, Golda came to the United States with her family in 1906 and settled in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Before she had finished her schooling, Golda had not only developed a strong social consciousness, but she had also become imbued with the philosophy and spirit of Zionism. Her one goal was to immigrate to the land that was then Palestine to build a homeland there for the Jewish people. How Golda Meir achieved this goal, and in the process helped to shape the modern state of Israel, is the subject of this moving story of a woman whose stamina and determination matched her intelligence and her vision. Emphasizing Mrs. Meir's strong will and sense of commitment, Mollie Keller presents a portrait of the private woman as well as the public figure. The result is this stirring biography of a singular woman who made tremendous sacrifice to devote herself completely to the service of her country and her ideals.

2. "Katherine Anne Porter" by Joan Givner. So begins this full scale biography of one of the most flamboyant and enigmatic figures of the American literary scene.
Born Callie Porter in the log cabin poverty of rural Texas, she like Jay Gatsby, invented her own history, changing her name and "acquiring" a lineage of statesmen to become an aristocratic daughter of the Old South. She traveled from revolutionary Mexico in the 1920's to Berlin at Hitler's rise to Paris at the start of World War II.

Drawing up sources never before made available, including letters from private collections and interviews Givner has given us a fascinating objective and unforgettable account that memorably captures the woman, the artist, and her time.
3. "Life with Jackie" by Irbing Mansfield. "Life with Jackie" celebrates the legend and the real woman behind it. It is the story of the tall, dark stagestruck beauty from Philadelphia who kissed Mainline society and goodbye to marry a brash, successful Broadway press agent. It is also the story of a young, ambitious writer who learned that she had cancer.

Here are all the dark unfolding memories in a life brimming with pleasure, Irving and Jackie's secret weekends of heartbreak and love with someone deeply cherished and overwhelmingly part of their lives; their autistic son, Guy.
Above all, here is their love story, the inspiring portrait of a marriage that made two people better than one could ever be.
4. "Or I'll Dress You in Mourning" by Larry Collins. The man, El Cordobe's, orphaned son of a field hand who fought for the Loyalists, is the most flamboyant, controversial, adored and richly rewarded matador in the long history of the bullring. His world is the complex, changing world of Spain during that is moving from the frozen convention of the Civil War to the new European society of miniskirts and go-go bars, high-rise apts. and the Common Market, traffic jams and TV. In "Or I'll Dress You in Mourning" Larry Collins and Dominique Lapiere bring to life a stunning page from the history of our times as, against the political and social flux of modern Spain; they trace the rise of Manuel Benitez from his desparately poor beginnings through the cruel years of struggle "to become somebody" to his final dizzying ascent to fame and adulation as the idolized El Cordobe's.

Stubblefield - Smith Wed

The Chapel of the First Baptist Church of Clarendon was the scene of the Friday evening, July 15 wedding of Jamie Stubblefield and John Smith.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Stubblefield. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Ron Smith all of Clarendon.

Rev. Paul Heil, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony before two match ing three branch candelabras holding burgandy candles and flanked with two Boston ferns accented with burgundy satin ribbons.

Valerie Ashcraft presented the piano prelude and also accompanied the vocalist and played the traditional professional and recessional. Valeria played Ice Castles and Theme of Endless Love.

After the couple had exchanged their wedding vows Dan Hall sang Always and Forever to the bride and groom.

Escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a formal gown of candlelite with a venise lace jacket accented at the neck and waist with satin ribbon. She wore a sprig of baby's breath in her hair. The bride carried a bouquet of silk pink carnations, red roses, baby's breath with lace, pink and burgundy satin ribbon streamers.

For the traditional something old and borrowed, the bride had in her shoe a 1909 penny borrowed from Helen Woody. Something new was her dress. Something blue was the garter.

Jackie Leeper was the matron of honor. She wore a burgundy floor length gown with a sheer long sleeve jacket featuring a ruffle at the neckline and tied at the waist with satin ribbon.

Missy Butts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Butts wearing a floor length velvet burgundy dress, a round hair piece of silk pink and burgundy flowers with pink and burgundy satin ribbon streamers, was flower girl.

Guests were registered by Neita Draper. The table was draped with a burgundy cloth and a crocheted tablecloth accented with a pink depression glass candleholder with a burgundy candle.

sparkling fruit punch was served from a crystal punch bowl.

The painting will also be on display at Gibsons for those who have not had an opportunity to see it yet. This is the painting donated by Mary Martin, local artist, to help raise funds for the purchase of equipment for both local ambulances.

This will be the last chance for those interested to purchase tickets. They are $1.00 each or you can get 12 for $10.00.

4-Hers attend Electric Camp

by KATIE DVORAK
Early on the morning of Monday, July 27, Lee Smith and his sleepy dad, LaRinda Pettit and her anxious grandmother, Doug Hawkins and his relieved mother gathered at the courthouse to await Lesia Fuston, Cami May and Gayla Bohannon who finally arrived amid a flurry of suitcases, sleeping bags and early morning giggles.
Cherri Brown was on hand to give last minute instructions and Katie and Dave Dvorak loaded half of this motley crew of 4-H'ers into one car and the other half into Jerry Hawkins vehicle. Why were these kids bundling off? To go to the annual Electric Camp in the high New Mexico mountains near Cloud Croft, a 4-H camp sponsored by the Southwestern Public Service.
Katie Dvorak went with the group as an adult sponsor but the only adult thing she did was go to bed early. Lesia Fuston was a council delegate and helped organize and run the entire camp. Lee and Doug went along to raise as much oneriness as possible and the three other girls went along for the experience.

Donley County's group arrived in Amarillo to board the chartered Greyhound buses. The Council Delegates boarded a VIP bus and the rest loaded aboard standard buses. More 4-H'ers were picked up in Canyon and Hereford before the long, dreary, loud journey began.
The three buses stopped in Roswell for a sack lunch. The troops were given free sodas and everyone ate their peanut butter sandwiches and scouted around for public restrooms. It seems that no one wanted to utilize the bus restroom because certain characters, not to mention Smith or Hawkins' names of course, and others would hold the door closed so it was impossible to get out of the tiny restroom.

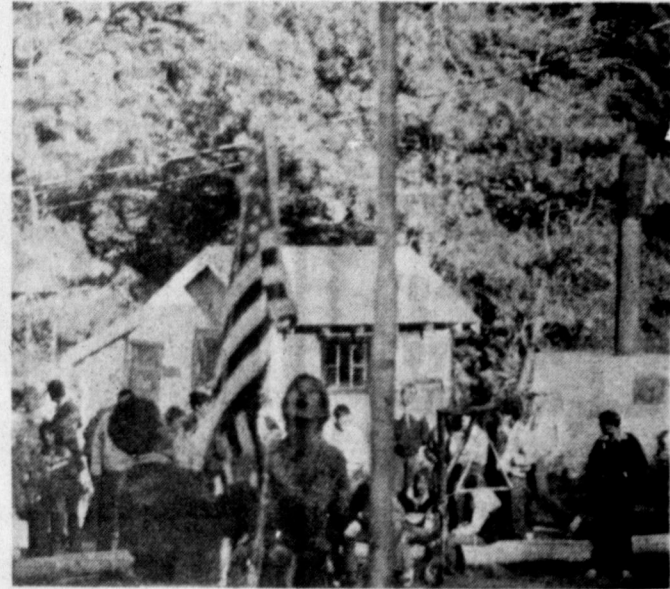

Finally, the buses arrived at the bustling ghost town called Weed, NM. Everyone started a chain gang to unload the Greyhound and load luggage onto school buses. With "great care," sleeping bags and suitcases were flung, tossed and jammed into the bus. The 150 people were crammed into school buses to begin the long, winding trip up dirt roads to Camp Scott Able, their home for the next four days.
Everyone unloaded, and went into the main lodge for cabin assignments. There were two cabins delegated for girls and two for the boys. The showers and bathrooms were between. Each cabin had a double row of bunk beds. The girls' cabin quickly looked like a bargain basement, with suitcases overflowing onto the walls, floors and hanging off of the ends of the bunks. The showers looked like a curling iron cemetery in about one hour, with wires running like a spider web all over the sink area. Everyone had settled in.

Supper that evening was BBQ chicken. A general assemble assigned everyone into three main groups: Donley County was in the Watts group. Each person was given a little scrap of colored paper and a name tag.
Lights went out in the girls cabin at midnight, but the sounds continued long after, like dozens of crickets chirping in the bunks.
Each morning, reveille was at 6. Many got up earlier because of the lack of hot water in camp, the idea was to get into the showers early before anyone else did. It seems most people in camp had the same idea and the cold showers began at 4:30 a.m.
Each day, a color group was responsible for either "KP" duty in the kitchen moving tables, chairs, cleaning trays, washing, mopping floors, and nasty clean-up chores, or cleaning the bathrooms. It amazed the adult leaders that the boys bathroom would be fairly clean, considering 75 boys were using it, whereas the girls showers and bathroom would take twice as long to clean because of all of the "things" left lying around. Color groups were responsible for other camp chores as well.
In addition to the color groups, counties had responsibilities such as organizing game nights. There were certainly some interesting games, Doug excelled at baby bottle drinking and swat the orange. Lee preferred drinking worms.
Donley County was responsible for prayers before meals one day. On another day, the Donley County 4-H'ers were responsible for the raising and lowering of the flag. This included a patriotic speech given by Lesia and the leading of the pledge and 4-H pledge. It did not include the lowering of the first camp flag, a pair of girls unmentionables stolen from one of the cabins, nor did it include the comic anies of the Laurel and Hardy tea, with one Hawkins member, but other counties will long remember Donley County whenever they see a flag pole.

The main purpose of the camp was to learn about electricity. Each group attended a microwave seminar and learned how to utilize electric skillets. Another day, they learned how to make a 4-way extension cord completely from scratch. The final triumph came, however, when the "Watts" group correctly wired a cabin, from meter, to switch, to plug-in to bulb. They were the only group to have correctly done so all summer. "Watts" means "power" and Donley County had plenty of that.
Each evening there were games, followed by folk dancing taught by Jimmie Walker. The troops learned the Cotton Eyed Joe, Shodish and many other fun dances. Then the lights were dimmed and the funnest dancing began.
There were also mountain climbing, creek wading, hiking and organized tournaments which included volley ball, horse shoes, washers, ping pong, and shuffle board. Some Donley County members placed second in volley ball thanks to the heroic efforts of the male participants, consolation in washers and did good in others. These events were played according to the colors given. It seemed that a good share of Donley County was in winning colors.
At the end of camp, those who had lost or misused name tags, lost or forgotten colors or violated any of the camp rules were placed on the "Goon Squad" and performed ridiculous songs before the delighted well behaved campers. There were a few representatives from Donley County on the Goon Squad.
The return trip was punctuated by a stop at Furs in Roswell where everyone ate their fill as guests of SPS. The ticket taken to the cash register was for 150 meals and was probably a mile long!
The buses arrived late in Amarillo, Hawkins received a fare-three-well dosing of shaving cream, girl's luggage was sorted and found and the campers arrived in Clarendon just in time for the first dance of the July celebration.
Thanks to 4-H, the six folks had a week in the beautiful mountains, learned about electricity and fellowship and leadership, met new friends and expanded their horizons. Thanks to SPS and the County Agents for making this possible.

FIVE DONLEY COUNTY 4-H'ers recently attended the District I 4-H Panhandle Leadership Lab held June 28-30 at Clarendon Junior College. 4-H'ers attending were Taylor-Ann Harbert, Karen Hill, Stephanie Lattross, Shonda Phillips and Katrina Leathers. The 90 campers attending could participate in a workshop of their choice--Belt Braiding, Leisure Crafts, Leathercrafting or Clothing Bag of Tricks.

Howardwick News

By ALICE HOOD

Charles and Lucille Boren left last Friday for a relaxing vacation in New Mexico. It turned out not so relaxing though. The transmission went out of their car and they spent three days in Las Vegas to have their car fixed. They decided to travel on to Colbran, Colorado to visit their son, Gerald. When they arrived Gerald had been in the hospital with a back injury, his home had been damaged by the heavy flood waters which raged through Colorado, taking with it a lot of things they had stored in the garage, also taking the porch to their house. Gerald stepped out the door and fell and broke some ribs. So the Borens stayed with him a few days and returned home Thursday.

Someone please help to get Joe Wells out of the dog house by returning the tall green plastic garbage container on wheels that he lost off the back of his pickup when he had gone to the dump to empty it. Margaret needs this container on wheels to put leaves, grass, etc in.

Bea Rogers' brother, Jack Vance is retiring and moving from Laguna, Calif. to Cole Camp, Missouri so he, his wife, Joy, and daughter Rhonda stopped off at the Rogers and visited from Monday to Wednesday. Jack's oldest daughter, Renee came in from Clovis Air Force Base to visit them. Marie Lacy came Sunday and stayed until Wednesday. The Rogers' son, Bob, his wife Sue and daughter Becky and her son Matthew, all of Amarillo spent the day Sunday with them.

Peck and Margaret Pettit have been visiting Margarets brother, Albert Carlson, in Fort Worth and a niece, Mary Alice and Curtis Cole in Weatherford since last Wednesday. They returned home Monday.

Our deepest sympathy goes to Katherine Green and children and all of the family of Bernie Green. Bernie was killed in a car accident Thursday on 287 west of Clarendon.

Alice Hood had a surprise visit from her sister, Bonnie Christenson of Dallas, S.D. Bonnie visited sisters Margie Springs of Amarillo and brother John Rowe of Happy then headed back to South Dakota.

Friends and loved ones of Arlene Neighbours may like to know that she passed away last evening and will be buried in Citizens Cemetery, Clarendon. Arrangements are being made at the present in Angleton.

The frame is going up today (Tuesday) for the new building addition to the Fire Station. Marvin Blair of Panhandle Steel Building in Amarillo was interviewed and says they will possibly have it done by Friday. Jerry Winter is assisting. New addition was made possible by a generous donation of $1000.00 by Southland Corporation in Howardwick.

Our Mayor, Lee Jackson is doing a marvelous job and we would like to commend him on his efforts.

Knowles attends YAC Conference

Dennis Knowles (College Chairman Delegate) and his father, Rev. Bryan Knowles (sponsor), represented the Donley Unit of the American Cancer Society at the organization's sixth annual Youth Against Cancer (YAC) Conference the last of June at Trinity University in San Antonio.

The Clarendon delegates joined over 275 fellow youth and adult representatives from throughout Texas at the two day meeting designed to involve high school and college students in local cancer control activities.

In addition to sessions on how to conduct Great American Smokeout activities and peer education programs, the delegates reviewed success stories on fund-raising events and heard from fellow students on "Why I Back YAC."

A highlight of the conference was the presentation of two cancer patients' case histories as reviewed by Howard Britton, M.D., medical director of Children's Cancer Research and Treatment Center in San Antonio. After a review of their cases by Dr. Britton, the patients themselves shared their experiences in having cancer and eventually beating it. Delegates were then able to ask questions of each patient.

"It was both educational and motivational," said Dennis Knowles. "I feel like we all learned a great deal about cancer, how to detect it and fight it. We also learned their is a great deal youth can do."

Youth Against Cancer was organized in Texas by the American Cancer Society in 1977. The program has grown from 75 organized YAC groups that first year to over 175 groups today.

WTU Questions and Answers

Question: How much rate increase is the Company requesting?

Answer: The Company is asking a retail increase which would produce $26,555,980 in additional revenue. This amounts to 11.4 percent increase over the adjusted test year retail revenues.

Question: Why is WTU asking for a rate increase?

Answer: The principal reason is that present rates are not adequate to support the added investment in facilities. The increased cost of capital and to a lesser degree the effects of inflation have made our revenues inadequate.

Question: When was the last time you raised retail electric rates?

Answer: WTU has had only four rate increases in its history, while it has lowered rates fourteen times. The last increase was January 7, 1983, and it amounted to an average of just over 4.7 percent.

Question: Why is WTU having to raise its rates again so soon?

Answer: The rate relief granted to us by the Cities and the Public Utility Commission of Texas last time proved to be inadequate for the present investment in additional plant. Our revenues have not been sufficient to keep up with our construction expenditures.

Question: What are other utilities doing about rates?

Answer: All electric utilities are having to increase their rates at more or less regular intervals. Some who built coal plants in the 70's were filing rate cases every year during a period when we had none. We are just now experiencing these increases.

Question: How will this rate increase affect the average residential customer's monthly bill?

Answer: A typical electric customer using 600 kilowatt-hours per month would have an increase of about $6.05 per month of 13.1%.

Question: Aren't you trying to get more profit so you can pay your stockholders bigger dividends? Why can't they be satisfied with what they are getting now?

Answer: A large construction program affects shareholders, too. To build needed facilities, new capital must be raised. Before investing in our common stock [which is issued by WTU's parent company, the Central and South West Corporation] a prospective shareholder considers other opportunities. If our dividend payments are not competitive, investors will put their money elsewhere. This would make it difficult for us to sell additional stock at reasonable rates.

Question: Aren't you guaranteed a profit?

Answer: No. We have no guarantee of earning anything. The only thing we are guaranteed in a regulatory proceeding are rates set at a level which provides the opportunity to earn a reasonable rate of return on our property. Whether we actually earn the rate of return allowed by regulation is determined by the economic environment and the marketplace. WTU is not now earning the rate of return approved in our last rate increase and has not earned its authorized return granted in the two previous cases.

Question: Shouldn't everyone be able to enjoy at least a basic amount of energy at a low price regardless of how much it costs you to produce it? After all, it's a necessity.

Answer: We also consider electricity a necessity, but utilities are not in a financial position to sell it below cost. If we did, other rate payers would have to absorb these costs. Lifeline rates would benefit not only those who need help, but those who do not. Social agencies can handle this situation better. There are energy assistance programs for the needy.

Question: What government agencies will make sure your rates are in line?

Answer: WTU must report to many government agencies, federal, state, and local. These bodies examine various aspects of the Company's operations, and a number of these agencies have caused a tremendous increase in costs to the Company. The agency most responsible for reviewing retail rates, other than your own local City Council, is the Public Utility Commission of Texas. The Federal Energy Regulatory Commission reviews rates for our wholesale sales.

Question: Is there any guarantee that WTU will not be asking for even higher rates in the future?

Answer: No. We cannot guarantee what costs will be at any time in the future. In fact, because of our growing construction program related to Oklahoma, we expect there will be more rate increases in the next few years.

Question: What would happen if you could not get a rate increase?

Answer: The financial condition of our Company would deteriorate rapidly. Our credit rating would suffer. We would no longer be in position to attract capital at reasonable interest rates to finance necessary major construction. We would have to pay higher interest rates at the expense of our customers.

Question: Why can't you lower some of your expenses, like employees' salaries?

Answer: WTU has always prided itself in operating economically. We try never to be extravagant. So far as employee salaries are concerned, we must meet the competition. The nature of our business requires employees at every level who are highly competent and responsive to our customers' needs. Our employees need and deserve wage increases at intervals just like everyone else. Question: Will there be any changes in the rate structure?

Answer: No. The changes made in 1980 established a structure which has proved equitable among the customer classes and is acceptable by modern rate-making standards.

Question: How was the amount of the rate increase determined?

Answer: The amount of the rate increase was decided by determining a fair and reasonable rate of return required to compensate the Company and to make it possible for the Company to compete for new money to meet its construction program. The Company is undertaking a major capital expansion program for generation and transmission facilities. It must be in a healthy financial condition to attract new capital at the lowest cost possible. After the competitive rate of return was determined, it was applied to the Company's cost of providing service and the difference between test year revenues and required revenues was determined and this is the amount of the increase requested.

Question: Will there be changes in the way fuel costs are charged to customers?

Answer: Yes. The company proposes to include the adjusted test year fuel cost per kWh in base rates rather than the fuel cost recovery charge.

Question: Why are you building a big new plant? Isn't energy use declining?

Answer: Energy use in the WTU service area is growing. Last summer, our peak demand reached 994 megawatts. Our current generating capacity is 1,054 megawatts. The summer peak left us with insufficient reserve margin. We will purchase power from neighboring utilities as a stop-gap measure, but the time has come when we must expand our own generating capability. Also, our existing power plants cannot last forever. Some already are getting old.

Question: Why are you building a coal-fired plant instead of a natural gas plant?

Answer: Although the Fuel Use Act has been amended to allow us to use our existing gas-fired plants until they wear out, it is clear that we must turn to other types of fuel for future generating units. Coal and lignite are clearly the best options we have.

Question: Why are new power plants so expensive to build?

Answer: There are several reasons the cost of material, labor and environmental equipment has increased greatly since our last unit was built in 1977. Coal plants cost more than gas fuel plants because of the additional coal handling facilities and environmental protection equipment.

Government regulations now require pollution control devices that cost millions of dollars. Such devices on Oklahoma will cost more than the total initial construction cost of all eight of our existing stations.

Time required for permits also is expensive. For example, the environmental impact study at our new plant site took almost two years. While we waited, prices of everything from steel to interest rates kept going up.

Question: Will we keep the employee rate?

Answer: The employee rate was approved by the PUC in our last rate case. We expect it to be continued. Question: Why has the Company acquired coal and lignite leases which it does not expect to use for many years?

Answer: We call it foresight. Buying this fuel while it is available and at the current price will save our customers money in the long run.

Question: Can we hold off future rate increases by conserving energy?

Answer: Unfortunately, no. Conservation will help delay or reduce the need for future plant additions, but so long we have a need for new construction, future rate increases are inevitable.

Question: How much did WTU spend on new plant construction since the last rate increase?

Answer: Almost $85 million. The majority was for work on the Oklahoma Power Station and related transmission lines to deliver power across the system.

Question: Why are you requesting different percentage increases for different classes of service?

Answer: Cost of service studies indicate how close each class comes to paying its share of the costs. Classes which are below average receive a greater increase.

Question: How many cities have ceded rate jurisdiction to the Public Utility Commission of Texas?

Answer: Nineteen of our incorporated towns have ceded and will depend on the PUC to analyze their case along with rural customers. The number grown with each rate case filing.

Question: How do WTU rates compare with other Companies in Texas?

Answer: The Texas Public Utility Commission Electric Utility Rate Survey indicates that WTU rates are very close to the average for the ten major investor-owned companies in the state.

WTSU has Reading Conference

"Invest in Reading: It Pays Big Dividends" will be the theme of the 31st Annual Texas Association for the Improvement of Reading Conference hosted at West Texas State University August 2 and 3.

The annual summer reading conference sponsored by the WTSU College of Education and TAIR will attract students, classroom teachers, administrators, superintendents, counselors and parents. More than 600 attended last year's conference.

The conference will begin with registration at 8 a.m. on Tuesday, August 2, at the WTSU Activities Center. Dr. Helton Wilbur, WTSU associate professor of education and college representative for TAIR, will preside at the first general session at 9 a.m.

"Dynamics of Motivation Part I" will be the main address given by Dr. Jo Stanchfield, professor of education at Occidental College at Los Angeles, Calif. She has coauthored several reading series for secondary students and developed several reading programs.

Following the address, conference participants may choose to attend sessions based on their interest areas. Sessions will be offered in the areas of reading comprehension, secondary reading techniques and reaching children's emotions through children's literature.

Dr. Lester Butler, TAIR state president from Texas Tech University at Lubbock, will preside at the second general session at 2:15 p.m. Stanchfield will complete the address with "Dynamics of Motivation Part II."

Participants will travel to Palo Duro Canyon that evening for a barbecue and a visit to "Texas," the summer musical drama.

On Wednesday, August 3, the conference will continue with registration at 8 a.m. and the third general session at 9 a.m. presided by Jeanne Todd, TAIR area vice president from Tulia Independent School District.

Stanchfield will discuss "Developing Cognitive Skills Through Listening." Participants may choose from among interest area topics following the address.

A luncheon at noon at the East Dining Hall will feature another address by Stanchfield titled "Ways to Live with More Zest, Vigor and Enthusiasm."

Panhandle area school administrators and superintendents will be honored during the luncheon.

Participants may earn six professional development credit hours by attending the conference each day and in-service credit by attending the Wednesday luncheon. Certificates of attendance will be awarded.

Cost of the conference is $8 for teachers for both days, $5 for students, $5 for one day and the luncheon is $4.50.

Interested persons should register by contacting Wilbur at the WTSU College of Education or by mailing a registration form to her at 1710 Creekmore in Canyon.

Participants who preregister will receive by mail conference materials and a luncheon ticket, said Wilbur.

TAIR officers include Butler; Todd; Clark Mires, Amarillo Independent School District, area secretary/treasurer; Jo Woodman, Clarendon, area publicity coordinator; and Wilbur.

Educators will have an opportunity to view and study new reading materials during the two-day conference. Exhibitors will have displays at the Activities Center.

Whats Cookin

In the summer it is hard to find the right thing to cook. How about using leftovers? Remember last Sunday when you cooked that delicious ham, well what did you do with the rest of it? Feed it to Rover? What a waste! Think of all the things that could have been done with the remaining portion of the ham. Try these recipes.

HAM AND CHEESE QUICHE

- 1 C chopped ham
- 1 C Swiss cheese
- 1 C sharp cheddar cheese
- 1/4 C bell pepper
- 1/4 C onion
- 3 eggs
- 1 C mayonnaise
- 1 partially baked pie shell

Mix the top 7 ingredients together and then pour into pie shell. Bake at 375 for 45 minutes.

PIE SHELL

- 2 C flour
- 1 tsp salt
- 1/2 C Crisco
- 6 Tbs water

Sift flour and salt together. Cut in Crisco until resembles small beads. Add water and toss with fork. Form small ball and roll out dough. Bake for 12 minutes at 375.

HAM BREAKFAST CASSEROLE

- 1 C chopped ham
- 1 C Swiss cheese
- 1 8 oz can biscuits
- 1 small can tomato sauce
- 3 eggs, beaten

Place biscuits in the bottom of baking dish and cook until slightly brown.

(Use the direction on the can.) Top with layers of ham, cheese and eggs and cover with tomato sauce. Bake for 45 minutes at 350.

Government regulations now require pollution control devices that cost millions of dollars. Such devices on Oklahoma will cost more than the total initial construction cost of all eight of our existing stations. Time required for permits also is expensive. For example, the environmental impact study at our new plant site took almost two years. While we waited, prices of everything from steel to interest rates kept going up. Question: Will we keep the employee rate? Answer: The employee rate was approved by the PUC in our last rate case. We expect it to be continued. Question: Why has the Company acquired coal and lignite leases which it does not expect to use for many years? Answer: We call it foresight. Buying this fuel while it is available and at the current price will save our customers money in the long run. Question: Can we hold off future rate increases by conserving energy? Answer: Unfortunately, no. Conservation will help delay or reduce the need for future plant additions, but so long we have a need for new construction, future rate increases are inevitable. Question: How much did WTU spend on new plant construction since the last rate increase?

Rebekah Lodge

Ten members from Clarendon Lodge accompanied their District Deputy President Beatrice Rodgers to Memphis, July 11th for her Official visit, and Installation of Officers. The new Officers will serve from July to January.

Following the Installation Ceremony, Mrs. Rodgers held a brief school of instruction. She also displayed the Emblems that the Assembly Pres. of Texas Rebekah is using in her Program this year.

After the Lodge meeting closed, the Memphis Ladies served a delicious salad supper, with cold drinks. The occasion was enjoyed by everyone.

The Memphis Lodge presented Dist. Dept. Pres. Rodger with a monetary gift. She expressed her Appreciation for their Hospitality and the Gift. Also Gratitude to her own Lodge Members for their support and assistance.

On June 21st, D.D.P. Rodgers made her official visit to the Shamrock Lodge, where she held a School of instruction. Again she was accompanied by ten members from the Clarendon Lodge. The Shamrock Lodge greeted Clarendon with a salad supper and cold drinks. After the delicious meal and social time Ms. Rodgers presented her School of Instruction. Everyone reported a good time of fellowship.

On July 4th, Clarendon Rebekahs manned a booth on the court house square, where they sold home made ice cream, tea, lemonade, sandwiches, cakes and pie. They wish to thank everyone who came by their booth, also for the donations from friends and lodge members. Thanks to everyone who helped make our July 4th project a success. Also Clarendon Rebekahs want to express sincere THANKS to Charles Boren, and Allen Bartell and anyone else who helped them to get our old air conditioner to working one more time!! Thanks so much.

On July 12, District Dep. Pres. Rodgers and staff installed the new officers of Clarendon Rebekah Lodge No. 149.

Elected officers installed were Lola Bartel, Noble Grand; Norma Corgill, Vice noble Grand. Appointed officers were Penny Butts, Chaplain; Eleanor Crossland Conductor; Inside Guardain, Lucille Swinney; R.S.N.G., Irene Vinson; L.S.N.G., Lucille Boren; R.S.V.G., Abbye Warner.

Lee Welch who was unable to attend is the outgoing Noble Grand. The Lodge expresses thanks to Lee for a hard job well done! We hope she can her term as acting Past Noble Grand.

The Lodge Charter was draped in Memory of Orpha Swinney, who passed away July 2nd. The Memory of her devotion and unselfish work in Rebekah, Oddfellowship will live on, a true inspiration for we knew and loved her.

The busy session also included reading and approving the Semi-annual report, and voting out the Taxes to S.G. Lodge, and The Rebekah Assembly of Texas, which supports our Childrens Home and our home for the aged.

Due to vacations and illness, several of the new officers were absent, and will need to be installed at the next meeting.

Hostesses Inez Skinner, and Bea Rodgers served delicious refreshments to members and officers.

Submitted by Clara Hammond, Secretary.

Fashion Seminar in Amarillo

One of the nation's leading consultants on fashion for men and women and the part fashion plays in their success in life will be a featured speaker at the annual meeting of the Texas Association of Extension Home Economists. The meeting will be held Aug. 1-3 at the Hilton Inn in Amarillo.

Suzie Woodward of Palo Alto, Calif., president and executive director of Images by Suzie, a consultant service, will present a three-hour seminar at 1 p.m. Wednesday, August 3.

Because of the availability of this outstanding authority and the interest of Panhandle citizens in clothing and the personal image it reflects, the Extension home economists are opening this presentation to the public, explained Cherri Brown, Donley County Extension agent for home economics.

A limited number of tickets for the seminar, costing $5 each, may be purchased in advance from county Extension agents in the 20 Panhandle counties, Brown said.

If any tickets remain the day of the seminar, they will be sold at the door, said Kathy J. Gist, Carson County Extension home economist and Panhandle District director of the state association. But she cautioned that the number of seats will be limited because of the number of home economics agents from across Texas who will be at the meeting.

Among the topics Mrs. Woodward will cover in the August 3 seminar are: communicating through appearance, the seven-part cycles of fashion, five-year fashion periods, clues to predicting fashion cycles, cures for clothes-a-holics, and using accessories to update a wardrobe.

She has been involved in the fashion industry as a model and consultant for almost two decades. Mrs. Woodward has written a book discussing wardrobe strategy and she travels to business and fashion centers of the world to keep her material current.

She has presented fashion training for such companies and organizations as the Bank of America, IBM, Hilton Hotels, Trans World Airlines, Hewlett-Packard, Wells Fargo Bank, the mechanical engineering department of Stanford University, National Association of Secondary School Principals and the Texas Education Agency.

She has been a guest lecturer at Amarillo College, Tyler Junior College, Texas Women's University and many other campuses.

"TAKE-ALONG" SALADS FOR BUSY DAYS

Did you ever have "one of those days" at the office? You just can't get away from your desk, and lunchtime is rolling around. "Brown baggers" have the advantage on days like these. They can enjoy lunch at their desks without venturing into busy restaurants or carry-out counters. With recipes from the Kraft Kitchens you too can get your work accomplished and enjoy a satisfying meal.

"Lunch to Go" salad is a healthy mixture of cherry tomato halves, cucumber slices, garbanzo beans, cheese, and Kraft Italian reduced calorie dressing. The salad is marinated overnight and carried to work in a totable container. Its portion is perfect for satisfying these noontime hunger pangs without slowing you down for your busy afternoon schedule. Weight conscious folks take note: Italian reduced calorie dressing has only 6 calories per tablespoon compared with 80 calories per tablespoon in regular Italian dressing.

Another convenient salad idea is this recipe for Take 'N Toss Salad which can be assembled and served in a plastic sandwich bag. Assorted greens, cherry tomatoes, and cucumber slices are tossed with Kraft golden caesar or golden blend Italian dressing that you add just before eating.

Just carry it to work and enjoy!

"LUNCH TO GO" SALAD
1/2 cup cherry tomato halves
1/2 cup cucumber slices, halved
1/2 cup garbanzo beans
3 tablespoons Kraft Italian reduced calorie dressing
Casino brand natural muenster cheese, cubed

Place vegetables in portable container. Pour dressing over vegetables. Cover; marinate in refrigerator overnight. Add cheese; mix lightly.
1 serving

TAKE 'N TOSS SALAD
Torn assorted greens
Cherry tomatoes
Cucumber slices
Kraft golden caesar or golden blend Italian dressing

Place greens and vegetables in plastic bag. Chill. Add dressing to salad just before serving; toss in plastic bag.

LIQUIDS OR TABLETS?

Antacids are formulated into chewing gums, lozenges, powders, tablets, and liquids. The most popular dosage forms are the tablets and liquids. But which is the best dosage form—tablets or liquids?

In order for antacids to effectively neutralize stomach acids, they must exist as tiny particles. The antacid in liquids is already in such a form. Tablets, on the other hand, must be chewed thoroughly and then must remain in the stomach for a period of time before they are reduced to tiny particles. For this reason, liquid antacids often work faster and neutralize more acid than do antacids in tablet form.

It is not convenient to place as much antacid in tablets as in liquids. For one popular preparation, the antacid in 2 tablespoonfuls is equal in quantity to that contained in 17 tablets. For individuals who require large doses of antacids (for example, those with gastro-intestinal ulcers), exclusive use of tablets would be much more costly than use of liquids.

Tablets are convenient and may be carried in pocket or purse. For occasional indigestion, they are excellent. When large doses are required, the liquids are usually more effective and more economical.
