TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18th DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

THE CHALLENGE OF WATER RESOURCES DEVELOPMENT

One of the great challenges of our time is to use our talents to develop programs and techniques that will assure future generations of an adequate supply of usable water. We must develop and conserve this most precious of resources to enhance the growth of our economy and strength of our Nation. Americans today use more than 300 billion gallons of water per day — an amount that will be doubled by 1980 and tripled by the year 2000. At the end of this century, a few areas of our Nation such as the Pacific Southwest will be either exporting water long distance or meeting their needs from saline water sources. Other areas will be approaching maximum use of available natural sources water. The economics of both Texas and the Nation will flourish or falter, depending on how we handle the approaching water crisis. This was a major point I made Friday in addressing the Governor's Conference on the Management and Development of Natural Resources in Texas. The meeting, called by Governor Connally, was held in Dallas, and it was my privilege to address the meeting in my capacity as Chairman of the Subcommittee on Irrigation and Reclamation of the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs.

In discussing the need for wise conservation policies, I told the group that as the water needs in our State grow conflicts will develop. There will be conflicts between areas of origin and areas of maximum need. There will be conflicts between the use of water for agricultural purposes and for municipal and industrial purposes. There will be conflicts because of the tremendous amounts of water needed to provide water-oriented outdoor recreation opportunities. We must not let these conflicts deter us from sound and logical planning and development that is based on one basic measure—the public interest.

The problem is how to satisfy vastly increased needs from a basic water supply which does not increase and which is already taxed to the point that individuals, cities, industries, and States are contesting over the right to use the available supply. The successful accomplishment of this task requires the concerted and coordinated action of Federal, State, and local governments as well as private initiative in non-public endeavors.

In Texas we have a growing industrial complex. Industrial demands for water are huge and expanding. This is understandable when we consider that it takes 65,000 gallons of water to produce just one ton of steel, 240,000 gallons of water to produce a ton of newsprint, and 7 gallons of water to process a single gallon of gasoline. The amount of water consumed by our principal water-using industries of the Nation in 1964 was just over 20 billion gallons a day. The amount consumed today is twice that and it is estimated that by the year 2000 it will reach a total of around 170 billion gallons per day. On top of this you can add the enormous daily demands for air conditioners, automatic washers, backyard swimming pools, and all the rest that go along with a modern, affluent society. The increased use in Texas is undoubtedly above the national average. All this indicates that water is destined to become more and more valuable for municipal and industrial purposes. Municipal and industrial supply has already become the most important water use in Texas and most of our conflicts will revolve around such use.

The most critical water area in the Nation today is the Pacific Southwest. Available water supplies in that area are today already over-committed. Recently, the U. S. Supreme Court ended the 12-year legal fight between Arizona and California over the use of water from the Colorado River. While the Supreme decision favored Arizona it is doubtful whether the water awarded Arizona is physically available. There will be a local and national effort in the years immediately ahead to improve the water situation in the Pacific Southwest.

In Texas, I am certain that decisions regarding development and use of water resources should be and can be made by the people of Texas — by facing up to responsibilities and working in a true Federal-State-private enterprise relationship. The Federal role in this effort will be what the State wants it to be but the State cannot expect to have the final say on development unless it shares the responsibility and the burdens. The Governor's conference was a forward step in bringing together the people seeking constructive solutions to this vital problem.

MICRONAIRE ELIMINATED AS REQUIREMENT FOR 1964 COTTON PRICE SUPPORT LOANS — Cotton producers will not be required—after August 29—to obtain micronaire reading on their 1964-crop upland cotton in order to be eligible for price support loans. Action was taken to comply with provision enacted by Congress in the Agricultural Appropriation Act which prohibits use of CCC funds to formulate and administer loan program for current crop which includes mandatory micronaire readings. The voluntary micronaire reading service offered thru AMS cotton classing offices will not be affected.

REMEMBER WHEN?

"Oh brother, is this contraption ever a monstrosity! Can you imagine finding space to put one of these, or even actually using it? This old 1901 Peck-Williamson water-heating stove and clothes dryer can't hold a candle to the modern, automatic, flameless electric clothes washers and dryers. Besides being completely automatic and flameless, they save so much time and energy. The electric dryer alone saves 3 hours weekly of the housewife's valuable time which she can spend with her family and clothes come out so soft, fluffy, and easy to iron, there's no telling how much time is saved just on the ironing board.

Sixty-three years sure makes a lot of difference. Visit your electric appliance dealer or the nearest WTU office."

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

At the last meeting of the Clarendon Chapter of the National Honor Society an interesting idea was brought up for our first project of the new school year. It was decided that we would sponsor a "Howdy" week very soon. All week long every person in school will be extra friendly to all their classmates and just go around saying "howdy" to one and all. On Thursday a ballot box will be placed in the hall where the students will vote on the friendliest couple in C.H.S. To end up this dramatic week there will be an assembly presented by the members of the National Honor Society. During this meeting the friendliest boy and girl will be announced.

We will be looking forward to this "Howdy" week and congratulations are due the members of the National Honor Society.

"HILLBILLY SUE"

The speech department presented the first play of the school year. The title was "Hillbilly Sue". It was produced and directed by Mrs. John Grady, the speech teacher at Clarendon High School.

The cast of characters included: Sue Slade, "Hillbilly Sue", Our delightful young Heroine - Regina Borden; Maw Blackman (Betsy), a typical mountain woman - Jill Benson; Bonita Blackman, her daughter - Dolfia Vallance; Newt Plumber, a mountain lad - Jack Robinson; Buck Plumber, his uncle - Freddie McAnear; Doc Lolly Millis, a female veterinarian - Audrey Shields; Vaughn Alcott, a city feller - Kenneth Price; Shirley Slawson, from the outside - Pamela Palmer.

Although this was the speech department's first attempt at presenting a play, it was artfully performed, and everybody enjoyed it thoroughly, in fact they had the audience rolling in the aisles. Bravo! for the speech class and we'll be looking forward to another presentation very soon.

LIBRARY CLUB

The Library Club met on October 13 during Activity Period. President Vicki Sloan called the meeting to order. Mrs. Justice talked to us about the district meeting in Spearman on November 7. Our club will participate in this program. Pictures of the officers and group pictures were made.

BUD - BOBBITT - H. G.

Read in the newspaper that a certain pastor in a South Texas town went into court and secured an injunction to prohibit a lady from sounding out sour notes in the Sunday choir. At last count she had broken the order and was in contempt of court for some eighteen Sundays. Sounds like just about everyone was in for some contempt.

Speaking of our churches there are those that think they often have a bit too much activity for the average stumbling member. One fellow really thought so recently and recited the following poem to prove his point: Mary had a little lamb, She called it little Bo Peep It followed her to church each meeting, And died for the lack of sleep.

Recently a certain church banned a much discussed book from its book stores. If this needed to be done is should have been done on the quiet. After the publicity no doubt many of the members rushed out to see what it was that someone said they shouldn't read. People are funny, ain't we?

Even if money could buy happiness, at the present day's inflation only a very few could afford it.

It is a fact that too many meetings are held each month just because it has been a month since the last one.

Many of us pray for the Lord to guide us but never turn loose of the steering wheel ourselves.

One reason we have so much advice for the young people is that of the large amount we received as a boy we failed to use so we are ready to pass it on to the next generation. It should be in good condition.

Best thing for wiping that smug look off a newly married man's face is a dish towel. Or so we learned from experience.

The following poem appeared in a church paper. We think the STEAKS

Someone has said that if a great man of our day should enter the room we would all rise to greet him, but if Jesus should enter the room our desire would be to fall upon our knees.

From County ASCS Committee

POLICY ON BURNING OF CROP RESIDUE

The ASC State Committee has determined that deliberate burning of any crop residue other than flax, violates reasonable conservation principals and will be considered a practice tending to defeat the purposes of the program.

Under this determination, all or any part of the cost-shares which otherwise would be due the person who caused the violation, under the program in which the violation occurred, may be withheld or be required to be refunded.

1964 ACP PROGRAM

Federal cost-share funds are available in the county office to assist you with your needed conservation practices. Unused funds in Donley County are returned to the State Office and then sent to other counties in Texas to pay for concurrent practices that were completed in 1964. Why not use the ACP fund given to our county for conservation practices which will benefit our own erosion problems. As we have mentioned before, the ACP limitation on all federal cost-shares to any person has been raised from $1,000 to $1,500 for 1964.

GRAIN-SORGHUM LOAN RATE
The 1964 loan rate for No. 2 or better grain sorghum in Donley County is $1.75 per cwt. less any storage and service charge.

EARLIER HUNT, OTHER BREAKS OKAY FOR FALL

A longer big-game season in more than half of the State and other fall wildlife harvest benefits were announced by J. Weldon Watson, executive director of the Parks and Wildlife Department. Earlier it had been reported that a two week end open season on white-winged doves had been requested and approved by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Here is a detailed rundown on the hunting seasons as the result of action taken by the Parks and Wildlife Commission at its July meeting.

The commission authorized opening of deer season in most counties under regulatory responsibility on the second Saturday of November (November 14) two days before the legal opening in 105 counties under statutory regulations. The mule deer country in the Trans-Pecos was excepted. Season for deer, elk and turkey in those counties west of the Pecos was set to begin the last Saturday of November for 15 consecutive days (November 28-December 12).

The Commission barred the .22 rimfire cartridge in the taking of deer, antelope, elk, aoudad sheep and desert Bighorn sheep in all counties where the Commission has regulatory responsibility for these animals.

Following is the list of the bag limits and seasons of the major game species in the various regulatory authority districts.

This season will be December 11, 12 and 13. Bag limit, one sheep per person by permit only. The Parks and Wildlife Department will designate the number of aoudad sheep to be harvested at a later date. SQUIRREL — open season, May 1 through July 1 and October 1 through December 1. 13 RURAL TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS IN COUNTY

The Highway Patrol investigated 12 rural traffic accidents in Donley county during the month of September, according to Sergeant J. W. Wilson, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for six persons injured and an estimated property damage in the amount of $6,655.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for Donley County from January through September shows a total of 39 crashes resulting in four persons killed, 25 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $33,214.00.

"Accidents go up when the sun goes down" is not just a mere slogan but the truth. Why? Because darkness hides danger. That is the reason traffic accidents increase during October's shorter days and longer nights. The Sergeant stated, "Sixty per cent of all Texas rural accident deaths occurred during the hours of darkness last year."

The driver who boasts that he can see as well in the dark or even better than he can during the sunlight just doesn't exist. The hospitals and morgues will attest to this fact. We have news for the driver who still says he has "cat eyes" because science has now proved that even "Tabby" does not see as well after dark as she does in the daylight.
