FARM NEWS

from County ASCS Committee

SKIP ROW PLANTING

There has been no change in the skip-row planting pattern from last year's regulations. The rows actually planted to cotton will be charged to the cotton acreage. However, skip rows in a planting pattern must be at least 4 normal rows wide to qualify for diverted acres. If you are planning to skip row your cotton, please keep this in mind.

SOIL BANK

Don't forget that the Soil Bank Contract requires the producer to stay within the larger of his wheat allotment or 15 acres in order to be eligible for payment. However, if a producer signed up in both the wheat and feed grain programs on a part CR farm, the substitution provision will be in effect.

CROSS-COMPLIANCE -WHEAT AND FEED GRAIN PROGRAM

You are reminded that to earn payment on wheat on one farm, you must not exceed the wheat allotment on any other farm in which you have an interest. The feed grain base must not be exceeded on any other farm in order to earn a payment on the signed complying form.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Open your ears before you open your mouth—it may open your eyes.

EXTENSION OF SIGN-UP PERIOD

We have just received notice that the time for filing Form ASCS-378 by operators of farms on which the domestic allotment is less than the effective allotment has been extended to April 9, 1965.

This extension in time will give farmers more time to study the provisions of the 1965 Cotton Domestic Allotment Program and its benefits.

If you are interested in this program and failed to sign up before, be sure and come in and talk with us about it.

COUNTY TAX CREW BUSY SELLING NEW TAGS

Business has been real rushing at the County Tax Office this week with residents purchasing new 1965 tags for cars and trucks. Up until Wednesday morning, a total of 1426 car tags had been delivered and around 500 pickup and truck tags. A stand-in-line rush was expected for the remainder of Wednesday and some left-overs for today.

The new tags must be attached to your vehicle today if you operate it on any public road or you will be subject to a fine.

Remember also that you have until April 15 to get your state inspection sticker on your windshield. Better act now if you have not taken care of this chore as the line probably will be quite long toward the deadline April 15.

Miss Ann Lynn Is Bride Of Wondall Luttrell

Hedley Methodist Church was the setting of the March 23rd wedding of Miss Ann Lynn, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Lynn, and Wondall Luttrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Luttrell of Lelia Lake. Rev. Lynn, father of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Baskets of white stock against a background of green huckleberry and white gladioli and a satin covered kneeling bench marked by a spray of white gladioli provided the decor.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

THE TEXAS BRUSH PROBLEM

Brush is the number one problem on Texas grasslands. This fact was revealed by the 1963 survey of the brush problem by the Soil Conservation Service. Worthless brush is slowly and surely suffocating the livestock industry in Texas by robbing ranchers of their soil, water and plant resources. Millions of acres of grazing land are so heavily infested with woody plants that production of nutritious forage is greatly reduced.

The survey showed that 88.5 million acres, or 82% of Texas once luxuriant grassland are now infested with one or more low-value or worthless woody plants. Fifty-four million acres, or 50 per cent, are so densely covered and grass so suppressed that little improvement can be expected without reduction of the brush competition. Furthermore, the brush is increasing in spite of extensive control efforts. In the last 15 years mesquite, has increased by 1.25 million acres. It now covers more than 56 million acres in Texas, and is growing denser year after year on infested land. Salt cedar introduced as an ornamental in the mid 1800's now is established on more than one-half million acres along Texas water courses and is stealing water at a rate estimated to be one and one-half to two acre feet per acre from streams and reservoirs.

The increase of worthless brush is a problem of growing concern to livestock men. Less than 25% of the grasslands now have as much of the good forage plants that made Texas the great livestock producing state that it has been. It is estimated that 30 to 35 per cent have less than one-fourth of the original good forage plants remaining. Livestock operators cannot afford grassland in poor condition.

Brush which is nearly always present on poor condition grasslands, not only is occupying land that should be growing grass but also is stealing the ranchers soil and water resources.

Research has shown that mesquite trees use about 1,725 pounds of water to grow one pound of dry material. On the other hand, sideoats grama, one of Texas' widespread and better forage grasses, uses about 700 pounds of water per pound of dry matter, blue grama about 600 pounds.

It has been estimated that brush, cactus, and weeds in Texas alone uses about 146 million acre feet of water annually, or 40 per cent of the states total use. Brushy ranges are nearly always in a droughty condition because the more vigorous brush is using most of the water and gets into the soil to the detriment of good range plants.

Mesquite occupies about 75-80 percent of Donley County, shin oak about 30% and sand sage about 80 per cent.

Methods on controlling brush vary widely due to different species and varying soil conditions. As a general rule mechanical and chemical methods have given good results in most areas. In some cases a combination of mechanical and chemical control has given the best results. The best results obtained with chemical control is a mixture of 2,4,5-T applied 50 to 80 days after the first leaves appear in the spring.

LIBRARY NOTES

EDITH BARNES

A memorial gift has been given to the library dedicated to the memory of Mr. J. B. Estes.

Some of the Hedley High School students have been using the library for research. That is all to the good but it is hoped that more of them along with other readers, big and little, will realize the library is for all of us in Donley County both for research and "for fun" reading.

Too many people in too many places in our country fail to understand that their library is one of the most important assets their community can have. It is time we were waking up and beginning to realize that our public library is not just frosting on a cake for a privileged few but the beans and bread of every day living for all!

Quoting from "Book Sampler" in the Amarillo News-Globe: "A pocket of poverty that might create in this country the cast society that our ancestors fled Europe to avoid is in the making, and not much has been said about it."

"The poverty is a lack of words, and it does not comport with our picture of the thriving state of the arts in America at a time when, we are told, more people are engaged in writing, reading, composing, acting and having fun than ever before in our history."

This article points out that there are millions who have virtually no access to bookstores. For many the skyrocketing price of books would make it hard for some to afford them if they were inclined to want to buy them.

Quoting further from the same article: "Amateur censors blame delinquency on reading immoral books and magazines when in fact the inability to read anything is the basic trouble."

"The result is that, despite mass communications, we are an uneducated nation. A recent University of Michigan survey showed that more than one third of the people polled did not know anything about Viet Nam or that the mainland of China is controlled by the communists. In such an atmosphere of illiteracy and unawareness, it becomes increasingly easy to fool some of the people most of the time."

If you are suffering from a lack of words put your library to work for you to correct this sad state of affairs.

During its 2300 years of life a pound of radium will give off 250,000 times as much energy as released by the burning of a pound of coal.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

A bill to regulate commercial applicators of pesticides is having a hard time in a House committee. This is an indication that it probably will be changed considerably before it is reported for floor action.

It's author, Rep. Grainger McIlhany of Wheeler, tried unsuccessfully to get it referred to a different subcommittee from the one headed by Rep. Bill Rapp of Raymondville. House agriculture committee, however, did vote to instruct Rapp to report the bill to the full committee.

Rapp said the bill is one of the most important issues to come up before the Legislature this session, on par with redistricting, taxes and other statewide issues. "This bill doesn't affect only commercial aerial applicators," Rapp said. "It affects a lot of people."

Required by the bill would be licensing of owners and operators of equipment used to apply pesticides. Licensing would require passing an examination to demonstrate familiarity with application of pesticides and payment of an annual fee. Operator's fee would be $10; owner registration, $25; and $25 for each piece of equipment.

Operators would have to show minimum financial responsibility of $15,000, by insurance, bond or deposit, for each piece of equipment.

Proponents of the bill say farmers need protection because modern pesticide equipment can, if misused, damage large land areas, including adjacent property.

Rapp contends the bill needs to be studied carefully because the transient nature of some persons who work on pesticide equipment would require that the operators spend a lot of money on additional license fees and bonds.

HEALTH LEGISLATION — Sweeping new concepts for treatment of tuberculosis, mental illness and mental retardation are about to be written into Texas law.

Bills overhauling the entire state organization for dealing with these vast problems soon may be sent to Gov. Connally for signature.

House passed 142-0 an amended version of legislation already approved by the Senate to set the TB eradication program in motion.

A separate bill to establish a new Texas Department of Mental Health and Retardation cleared the House 149-1 and was sent to the Senate.

The tuberculosis control measure by Sen. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock and Rep. Menton J. Murray of Harlingen would shift all TB hospitals and programs from the Board for Hospitals and Special Schools to the Texas Department of Health.

A bill by Rep. W. H. Miller of Houston also would take from the Board all mental hospitals and special schools for the retarded, moving them to the new department.

Both emphasize community-centered attacks on the problems at hand.

Experts maintain that case-finding, long-term follow-up care and contract care of patients close to home can virtually eliminate tuberculosis. Proposed $22,300,000, six-year program will begin in the San Antonio-South Central Texas area and counties along the border from El Paso to Brownsville.

Community care centers to treat mental patients close to the cities they live in rather than big hospitals far away are heavily relied on for major progress in the mental health field.

HORSES BOOKED — Odds are long against the horse race betting advocates this session, but they will provide one of the Legislature's most colorful shows.

On March 29 the House State Affairs Committee will hear a bill to legalize parimutuel betting on supervised tracks. Bill is backed by the Texas Racing Association. It was introduced by Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville.

Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine has introduced a constitutional amendment which would outlaw parimutuel (in a pool) betting and all other forms of gambling in the state.

BUDGET CONFERES TAKE OVER — Whether Texans will face substantial new taxation to finance expanding state services rests largely with 10 lawmakers.

Budget writing was checked to a joint conference committee of senators and representatives after the Senate, without discussion, passed a $3,650,000,000 appropriations measure. It called for $617,000,000 in general revenue spending.

Senate version is $13,000,000 above the House-passed bill in general funds ear-marked for the 1966-67 biennium. Both houses left money "on the table."

Senate bill is $14,000,000 below anticipated income; House bill $25,000,000 below. But there are plenty of claims for the leftover.

Amount of the school teacher pay raise approved after the general budget finally is adopted is the real key to the magnitude of a tax bill. But recommendations of the conferees—likely to be approved by both houses—will determine just how much of the foreseeable revenue is left to apply toward better salaries for teachers and other spending demands.

SABINE BILL PASSED — Legislation aimed at paving the way for making the Sabine River navigable from Longview to the Gulf has reached the governor's desk.

Bill sets up Sabine River Navigation District in Gregg, Harrison, Panola and Rusk counties.

A $15,000,000 revenue bond-financing project extending to Toledo Bend Dam is contemplated. Under the plan, locks would be constructed to lift barges into the Gulf of Mexico.

BEER - LIQUOR INTERESTS CLASH — One of the hottest floor fights of the session was waged over a bill which found beer and liquor interests on opposite sides and "wets" and "dries" somewhat confused.

Liquor store operators bitterly opposed a measure by Rep. Gus Mutscher of Brenham, which they contended permitted wholesale beer distributors to sell ale and malt liquor directly to consumers.

Mutscher said the two beverages should be treated as beer under state statutes, since they are made by breweries, not distillers.

After prolonged debate in the House, Rep. Bill Healy of Paducah unsuccessfully tried to tack on an amendment to raise the beer tax $1 a barrel.

Mutscher's bill finally passed 90-44 and went to the Senate for another round.

PICKUPS MAY SPEED UP — House approved and sent to the Senate a bill permitting pickup trucks to travel 70 miles an hour on Texas highways instead of the present 55 mph limit.

Another bill by Rep. John Traeger of Seguin specifies that pickups may be driven with a regular operator's license. Some law enforcement agencies (not the Texas Highway Patrol) contend that drivers of pickups must have a commercial license. They say law is not clear on that point. Bill cleared committee and is on House calendar.

PROPERTY TITLES UNCLEAR — Rep. Forrest Harding of San Angelo believes that no Texan can be sure he has a clear title to any of his personal property because present law permits the state to get a preferred lien without notice on any property which has gone thru the hands of a person arrears on his taxes.

Harding said the state can do this regardless of how many times the property has changed hands.

He has introduced a bill which would provide for handling of personal property liens in the same manner that liens on real property now are handled, including the filing of a notice with the county clerk. No lien would be effective on personal property before the filing of such notice.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION PLAN — Rep. Milton Schiller of Cameron has introduced a bill calling for a statewide plan to take maximum advantage of federal funds for vocational and technical education.

Bill would make the State Board for Vocational Education, established in 1949, the coordinating agency for setting up standards and requirements for school districts which want to set up a vocational and technical school and technical school district with state and federal participation.

PESTICIDE LABELING

Placing pesticides in containers other than the ones in which they came can be dangerous and can lead to serious misuse of the materials.

The contents of an unlabeled insecticide are unknown, points our County Agent Ronald Gooch and there is no guide on what crops or animals the material should be used. Using the material for any other than its intended purpose, can lead to damage or perhaps to illegal and unwanted insecticide residues, he warns.

A soft drink bottle full of insecticide, for example, is an invitation to disaster, he adds. Not only is such an object a temptation to children and others, there is no label on the bottle which gives information on its contents or directions for its use. Such information might be vital to a doctor undertaking treatment for insecticide poisoning.

Users and sellers of insecticides are urged to keep these materials in their original packages and also to store, handle and use them safely.

It is better to dispose of small amounts of left over insecticides than to keep them around in unmarked containers or improperly stored, the county agent concludes.

The ancient silver and lead mines near Athens, Greece, were first worked 2000 B.C.

News From Clarendon College

THIS AND THAT

We are still shy on news this week due to the lack of reporting. However, everyone was still busy with mid-semester exams Monday through Wednesday of last week and then took off a long-awaited mid-semester break on Thursday and Friday, so perhaps the reporters can be forgiven for their negligence just this once. But let's get back in the swing of things next week, huh, Gang?

The first edition of the Bulldog Banner, the new college monthly paper, came off the press March 19th. Many favorable comments were overheard concerning the tabloid. Our congratulations to everyone who worked so hard to get the paper out. It was a job well done. The next issue is scheduled to be released April 15th.

Plans for the big Circle C Jam-boree are progressing according to Mr. Nutter, Dogett sponsor. We're expecting this to be one of the biggest hootenanny ever, with a large number of participating contestants.

The Aggie Club rodeo is also shaping up nicely. This promises to be one of the biggest undertakings on the part of the Aggie Club yet, and they are to be commended for their enthusiasm.

CAMPUS CHATTER by Steve Richerson

The expression, "Happy days are here again," may seem to be an old-fashioned one to many of you readers out there, but that is the phrase that typified the mood of the students upon the Hill last Wednesday. That day marked the end of the third section of Nine Weeks Tests held this year. These tests seemed to give a majority of the students a preference for blood-letting at the slightest provocation, but no sliced wrists were noted, so I suppose everybody pulled thru all right. Many of the students didn't realize that genuine Midnight Oil was being sold direct, upon request, from Murphy's Canyon. Because of this lack of knowledge, many students were forced to use the much inferior electric light bulb, and were therefore deprived of the special comprehension effects of this superior product. Remember, students, a purchase of a product from Murphy's Canyon bolsters the economy of that small community and therefore keeps it alive. This should be the aim of everyone concerned with academic progress, and I urge everyone to pay attention to this problem the next time tests are imminent.

After recent contact with the inhabitants of Murphy's Canyon, I am happy to report to all concerned that everything is back to normal.

When we talk we are just repeating something we already know. When we listen there is a strong possibility of our learning something...Small wonder silence is considered golden.

We should watch out for school children when we are out driving the car—especially if they are driving a car.

It's double tough to forgive others, A thing we ought to do. Its rougher still to admit that we, Need to be forgiven too...

We should try to spread happiness all around As we travel here about. Sometimes we do so by our coming and in Other times by staying out.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18th DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

FOR IMPROVED POLICE TRAINING

I have long believed that a police academy similar to our present military service academies could be of tremendous benefit to the Nation by providing first-class training for police officers who, upon graduation, could take the lead in their States and local communities in the fight against crime and delinquency.

The Federal government owns property, material, and equipment in many parts of this country that would be excellent locations for such institution; facilities that could be quickly transformed to meet the needs of such an academy. Should Amarillo Air Force Base be eventually closed, as is presently anticipated by the Defense Department, it could be one of the finest locations for such an academy and would be ideally suited not only from the standpoint of climate, available facilities, and geographic location, but also from the standpoint of the basic American philosophy of freedom properly tempered with the pioneer spirit.

The Presidents Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice, when appointed, will be assigned to answer this question: "Is the Nation as a whole providing adequate education and training opportunities for those who administer the criminal laws?" The Commission's answer to this question may accompany a recommendation that a national police academy be established. Such an academy would pay dividends in many ways. It would enable many who enter the law enforcement field to obtain additional education, better equipping them for a career that could measurably increase their earning capacity. It would provide a source of well-trained and well educated law enforcement officers from which the many counties, cities, and municipalities as well as the States and the Federal government could staff their law enforcement agencies. These men would be well equipped in many fields but would also be able to work on a coordinated effort with other agencies — national, State, and local — toward a more effective effort in suppressing crime. Men so trained would demand and receive the highest respect from everyone, including the criminals themselves, the latter being most important in good law enforcement.

There are those who would immediately cry, "National Police Force." No responsible person who believes in the democratic institutions of our form of government would advocate or support a national police force. On the other hand, they would welcome the opportunity to advocate and support a training program that would enable our democratic institutions and our form of government to be protected from crimes, delinquency, Communism, and other challenges and attacks upon the citadels of free men.

Since 1935, the Federal Bureau of Investigation has conducted the very excellent "FBI National Academy" here at its headquarters in Washington, graduating in the past 30 years some 4,000 police officers who attended one of the two 12-week sessions held each year. Graduates of the FBI National Academy are serving in police and sheriff's departments in the Panhandle. The purpose of the FBI academy has not been to train a large number of police officers. It has emphasized the training of experienced career men in the law enforcement arts so that they will return to their departments capable of providing better administration and leadership and in passing along, through improved training programs within the departments, some of the knowledge they have acquired. The success of the FBI National Academy is well known, as is the contribution made to better law enforcement by specialized short-term training courses conducted by the FBI throughout the country. But enrollment in the FBI National Academy is extremely limited; no more than one member of a police department may attend any 12-week session. I believe that the good work done by the FBI in its school would be vastly complemented by providing a training academy to school a large number of police officers new to the profession and whose work will be on the "beats" and in the patrol cars before they may expect promotion into administrative ranks.

The fight against crime requires trained police officers. I feel very strongly that the problems created by crime and delinquency have reached the point in this country where affirmative action must be taken to provide better training.
