Seniors, Beware!

Seniors, Beware! This is revenge for all those diapers we changed and messes we had to clean up 18 years ago. We are in shape, on the ball, revved up, and ready to play.

We are going to make up for all those nights of lying awake wondering where you are. After Tuesday night you will be lying awake wondering what happened when we beat the socks off you.

You with your youth and energy at 18, so intelligent and wise; and we, the parents, slowed by years of hard work and maybe a touch of arthritis say, "Best beware come March 21st." We will be ready; how about you?

We love you, but we will have no mercy Tuesday night at 7:00. See you on the court!

Love,
Your Parents

You know it's an imitation. But what about the many people today who have decided they are just like a banker? From stockbrokers to retailers, from credit unions to insurance men, to sav-ings and loans, they all seem to be saying, "You don't need a banker, we'll do just as well." Oh, no they won't. Because no one else has the banker's hundreds of years of banking experience behind them. Nor do they enjoy the kind of trust that bankers do from the majority of Americans. So why settle for an imitation when you can have a real banker at our Full Service Bank?

Family Structure Important

The Donley County Extension Service Executive Council has targeted Donley County families as part of a program planned for April 6, 1989.

The family is an important part in helping to develop the youth of Donley County into self-directing and contributing citizens.

The Executive Council and Extension Service will sponsor a "Strengthening Donley County Families" Seminar on April 6. The seminar will be for all Donley County families and will feature Dr. Lynne Thibodeaux, 4-H Youth Specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Thibodeaux holds a doctorate degree from Texas A & M University. She will also be meeting with youth in both the Clarendon and Hedley Schools on April 6 to talk to them about self-esteem. Anyone who works in a capacity with potential to mold youth could benefit from the free seminar or the school assemblies. More information about the seminar and assemblies will be released in next weeks paper.

U.I.L. Contests to be Held in Clarendon

Clarendon Junior High and Elementary School will host the 1989 University Interscholastic League Literary Spring Meet on Friday, March 17, 1989. Students from Quanah, Wellington, Shamrock, Canadian, Memphis, and Clarendon will compete in a number of academic contests.

Second and third graders will participate in Story Telling. These students listen to a story and then tell the story to a panel of judges.

Third and fourth graders have the opportunity to enter Spelling and Personal Writing. For the Spelling contest, students spell sixty words pronounced at approximately 5 words per minute. In Personal Writing, contestants choose between two topics and write an essay expressing their personal opinions, thoughts, preferences, or experiences about that topic.

Picture Memory is a contest for fourth and fifth graders. Students study a collection of art prints and memorize the artist's name, the country he represents, and the name of his work. For the contest, students are shown seventeen pictures which they identify and give the information about the picture. All this must be spelled and punctuated correctly. For this contest, students are judged as a team.

Fifth and sixth graders are eligible for five different contests: Oral Reading, Spelling, Number Sense, Expressive Writing, and Listening Skills.

For Oral Reading, students select and prepare a poem to read for a panel of judges. Spelling requires students to spell 90 words given at the rate of five words a minute. Contestants are judged as individuals.

For Number Sense, participants are given a test over a large variety of Math problems which are to be solved mentally without the use of pencil and paper. The student who can solve the most problems correctly in a ten minute time period is the winner.

Expressive Writing requires students to select a topic and write an essay which attempts to get a message across to an audience. These essays do not have maximum or minimum lengths, but they are judged on how well ideas are developed and how well evidence is given to bolster the main points.

A new contest this year, Listening Skills is a contest in which students are read a variety of passage about language arts, fine arts, natural sciences, and social studies. Then they are given an objective test which measures their ability to identify main ideas and supporting ideas, draw conclusions, distinguish fact from opinion, etc.

Seventh and eighth graders have the following contest: Spelling, Expository Writing, Impromptu Speaking, Modern Oratory, Oral Reading, Number Sense, Calculator Application and Science.

For Spelling, students spell 120 words given at the rate of six words per minute. For Oral Reading students select and prepare a prose reading of about five minutes to present to a panel of judges. Number Sense at this level is similar to that contest described for fifth and sixth graders except that the problems are more difficult.

For Expository Writing, students select one of two topics and write a composition of an informative nature. They may use description or narrative writing to illustrate a point, but the essay has to be primarily expository in nature.

Modern Oratory contestants present a five to six minute speech concerning a topic which they have researched and taken a position on. They have to document the sources of their ideas and deliver the speech with out notes.

In Impromptu Speaking a contestant draws three topics, takes one minute to select the one he wants, and then prepares for one minute to present a speech without notes.

Calculator Applications requires students to perform calculations involving addition, subtraction, multiplication, division, roots, and powers. In addition to straightforward calculation problems, the contest includes simple geometric and stated problems similar to those found in recently adopted junior high math textbooks, previous contests, and League materials related to the contest.

Contestants in Junior High Science demonstrate their knowledge in three main areas: knowledge of scientific fact, understanding of scientific principles, and the ability to think through scientific problems. This last area is a cognitive challenge requiring students to use higher learning skills in order to arrive at a "solution" or understanding of a problem without having been exposed to that particular set of scientific facts and theories to which they are exposed.

Three Boys In The Same Grave

I found all three of them there just like I'd heard—the three boys killed by the Indians at Proffitt in 1867.

Their grave stands at the back of the little country cemetery on U.S. 380 about 8 miles west of Newcastle in Young County. They were the first ones there. They started the graveyard.

Now they are all but forgotten by everyone except for a handful of local residents and maybe a few historians like me. A crudely laid red brick wall surrounds the burial, and a tree grows up inside of it. At one side some iris plants rustle in the West Texas breeze. It's almost always peaceful there.

How did the three boys end up in the grave together?

The story goes back to the summer of 1867, when they were tending cattle on Elm Creek, then on the fringe of white settlement. They were Patrick Euell Proffitt, Rice Oarlon, and Reuben Juhnson, all of them teenagers. They were working as cowboys on the FitzPatrick Ranch.

On July 17, 1867, the three boys went to work branding cattle in the valley of Elm Creek. The area had been the scene of a devastating Indian raid only three years before. Maybe they felt safe from attack, thinking that the warriors wouldn't descend on the same valley a second time. Whatever the case, they unwisely left their guns on their saddles and allowed their horses to graze while they worked.

Without warning a Comanche war party rode into view. The three boys made for their horses—and their firearms—but they weren't lucky enough to reach them.

The Comanches cut them off from their guns and horses. Without defense, the three young men were shot down by the warriors, who scalped them and left them where they fell.

Local settlers buried the three boys near the place where they were attacked, placing all three of them in the same grave. Their burial became the site for other graves in the years that followed, becoming the cemetery for what grew into the town of Proffitt.

The nearby town bearing the same name as one of the ill-fated teenagers was founded by the dead man's brother, John W. Proffitt. It prospered for a number of years before declining to become a scattered rural community.

Since the deaths of the three young men, descendants of their families and members of the local community have tended their grave. In 1966 historically minded citizens of Young County placed a new marker at the grave, which briefly tells the story of the three deaths.

When I opened the gate to the cyclone fence into the Proffitt Cemetery to look for the victims of the Indians that I'd heard were buried there, I didn't know what to expect as I wandered among the tombstones. Then, when I found the low brick wall around the burial, somehow my mind went back to that hot day in July 1867—the sorrow of the families, the desire for revenge, and the blood from the three boys that still nourishes the tree that grows from their grave.

The Bike-A-Thon program this year is dedicated to Brian McCollister. Brian, a native of Louisiana, was diagnosed with leukemia in October, 1984.

For the next two and a half years he underwent chemotherapy. Today, Brian is in remission and visits St. Jude Hospital for routine check-ups. Brian is a living example of the progress and success of the research, patient care, and educational programs of this internationally recognized hospital.

We are grateful for the concern that Mrs. McConnell has for our work and we hope the citizens of Clarendon will support the Bike-A-Thon to help provide the funds that are needed to preserve the world's greatest asset ... "Our Children"

Donley County Fares Well at Houston Stock Show

By Tim Trimble

After the Fort Worth Stock Show, many Donley County 4-H'ers came back a little disappointed in the outcome. But, they picked themselves up, worked harder, and it payed off for many of them at the Houston Stock Show.

In the market steer division, Scott Myers placed 5th with his Red Angus, Buddy Howard placed 7th with a Shorthorn steer, and Chad Campbell placed 10th with his Hereford.

In the market lamb division, Buddy Howard also placed 13th with his light weight medium wool lamb. This may be Donley County's first lamb to place at Houston, according to some.

In the market swine division, Donley County 4-H and Clarendon FFA managed to get eight pigs out of 13 past the sift at Brenham for a chance to compete at Houston. There were approximately 3,500 barrows at Brenham and around 1300 got to go to Houston after the sift. Clarendon FFA member, Todd McAnear, was the only one that managed to place a barrow at Houston with his light weight Duroc placing 16th.

Donley County 4-H member Monty Joe Adams placed a Tom in the Market Turkey Division, which is very tough to do raising them this far north.

Major stock show trips are often the highlight of 4-H animal projects, and is what most 4-H'ers are shooting for, and placing at a major stock is just the icing on the cake. But there is more to 4-H projects than a blue ribbon.

4-H projects offer youths opportunities for "critical thinking".

Through planning and carrying out a project, youths learn to apply critical thinking skills to real-life problems.

For example, in a project involving raising any animal, a youngster must do the following: 1 - Compare and contrast animals as the basis for deciding which to keep or cull, to breed or to buy. Basic training of this nature is done in livestock judging. 2 - Identify characteristics of individual animals that qualify or disqualify as certain breeds or species. 3 - Learn nutritional ration ingredients needed for health and growth and identify animal parts and their functions. 4 - Use previous experience and subject matter learned to recognize health problems and courses of action needed. 5 - Identify errors through recognizing and correcting mistakes. 6 - Identify the main idea and generalize from the particular animal project to the entire food ecosystem as the youth determines profit or loss at the market price.

A 4-H project can do much more than teach a child how to show and compete. It can, in fact, teach critical thinking skills which can be generalized to every area of a young person's life.

National Ag Day Set For March 20

National Agriculture Day, set to honor the nation's food and fiber providers, will be observed March 20.

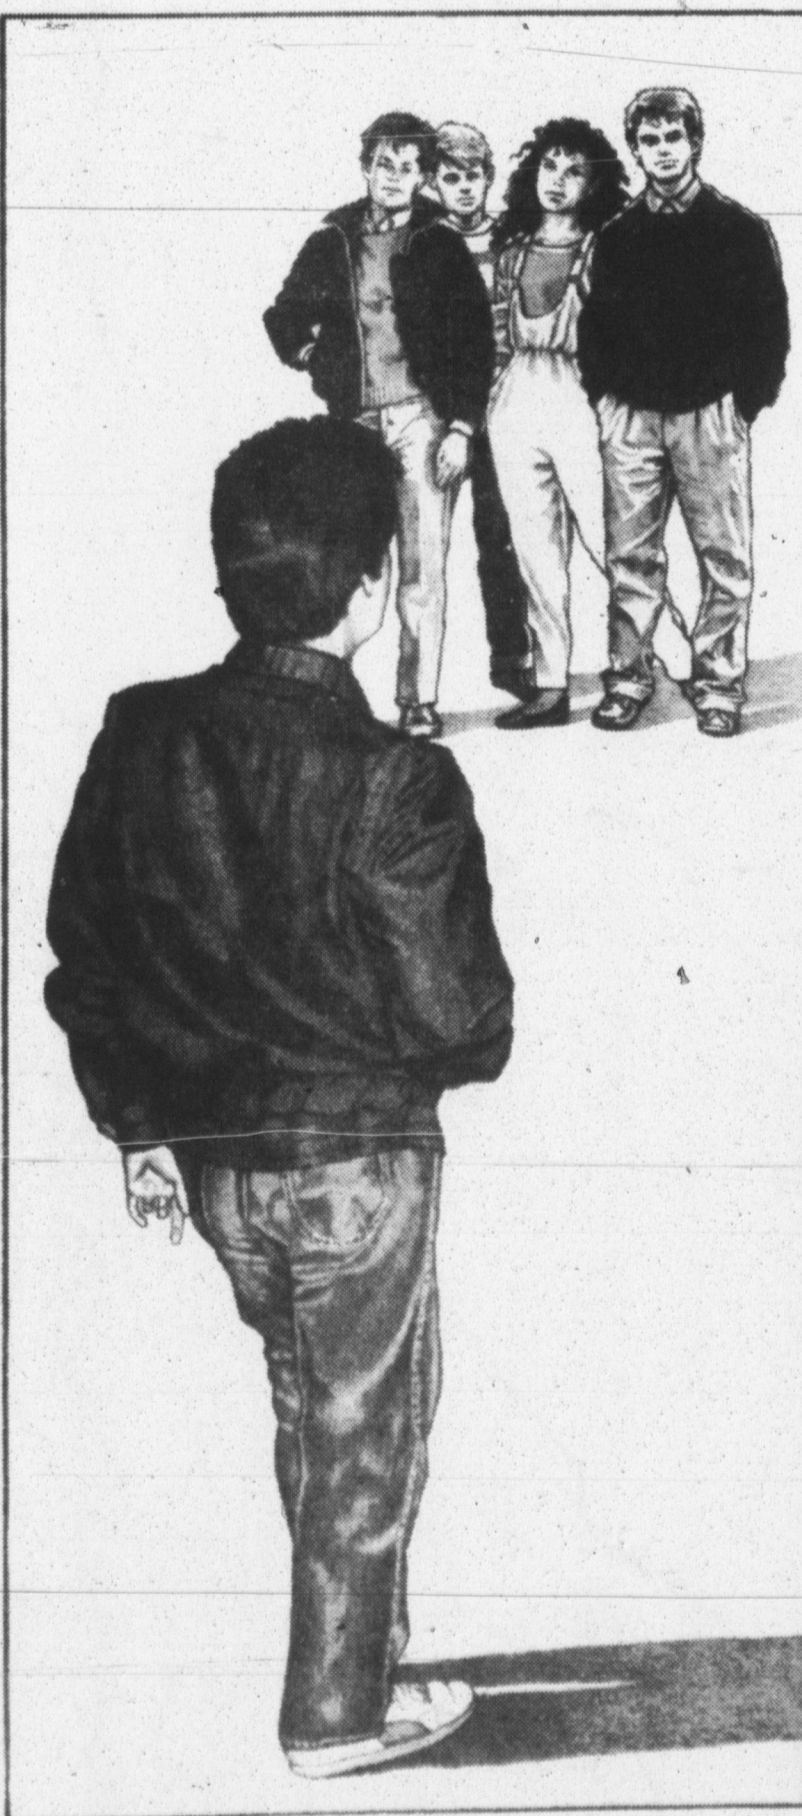

According to Tim Trimble, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, business and consumer groups will join in honoring farmers and ranchers on that special day.

County, state and national observances of Agriculture Day will be keyed to the continuing theme of "Honoring America's Providers".

Coordinated nationally by the Agriculture Council of America in Washington, D. C., the Agriculture Day observance is a part of National Agriculture week, March 19 - 25.

"National Agriculture Day and Week observances can reflect the ideas and wishes of every community and county," said the agent

Trimble said the celebrations can increase awareness of agriculture's accomplishments and the challenge it faces in meeting the world's food and fiber needs.

Get To Your Child Before The Pressure Does

Peer pressure. We've all experienced it. Remember how hard it was to say "no" when you were a kid, even if it meant doing something you knew was wrong? Young people today admit that pressure to use drugs is intense. As a parent, it's your job to give your child the facts about the dangers of drug abuse. Talk to your kids. Get to them before the pressure does.

GIRL SCOUTS

Letter to Editor:

Well, who would ever thought I would be writing a letter to the Clarendon Press. But I know now what so many people meant, when they wrote me, how they look forward to getting their Clarendon paper and waited days and days to get it. Well, it takes me 11-days to get the paper. I just received Feb. 23rd paper, and it is March 3. I think it took only 10 days for the Pony Express to send mail from California to Texas.

I hope you got my address changed from Mercury to Pahrump, its about 40 miles closer, so maybe I'll get it earlier. It's amazing how one can look forward to hometown news.

Just kidding, not really mad about not getting the paper earlier, but it is true, it takes us about 10-11 days to get the paper. I know the post office does what it can, the process is just slow.

I hope your subscribers who have written about your paper so late, will realize that it is not The Clarendon Press's fault. It is indeed a rare occasion when the paper is not mailed from Clarendon each Wednesday afternoon.

The weather has been about 80 to 85 degrees, but everyone tells me just wait until summer, when it

Naomi's News

by Naomi Green

Louvetta Estes has recently returned from San Antonio where she assisted John and Melissa Butts while they were involved with surgery for Kyle Baily. While she was there Eric Butts celebrated his fourth birthday.

Mac and Duane Naylor visited at the nursing home at Memphis Saturday with Thelma Hall. They came on to Clarendon to visit with Royce. Saturday night they spent the night with the H.A. Greens along with other house guests Lindsay Green and Stephanie and Ellen Patterson. Sunday morning they went to Memphis and brought Thelma to Clarendon for the day.

Tiffany Patterson spent Saturday night with the Jerry Green family.

Lena Mae Graham was honored with a birthday dinner in the home of the J.R. Grahams. Those to attend were: Wanda and Haskell Talley of Memphis, Cathy and Allen Graham of Panhandle, Betty and Martin Hermesmeyer of Groom, Jerry, Mary, Christel and Little Jerry Green and the hosts the Jitter Graham family.

Aline and Robert Partain took Willine Judd and Naomi Green to Lubbock where they visited with Mary Belle Kyle at South Park Medical Center. Paul came and took them to lunch and a tour of Mary Belle's and Paul's home and work shops. We found Mary Belle on a heart monitor to see if a pace maker was justifiable.

Velma Hearn's brother and his wife Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lyle of Dallas are visiting with the Charlie Hearn's this week.

Zack and Jamie Fichte of Weatherford rode to Clarendon with Ellen Patterson and are becomes 115 degrees. We only live about 10 miles from the California state line, and it enters death valley from there.

This is a beautiful little valley, surrounded on all sides by mountains, some have snow on top of them. It looks strange, to see all these rocks and cactus and no grass. Most of the yards don't even have grass, I think the annual rain fall here is 4 inches.

I was appointed editor of the Pahrump United Methodist Church paper, the Mountain Views, while I was in Texas, it is published once a month, hope I can make the deadline.

I would like to tell all my friends who make the bit, that I would get bored of doing nothing, its been like heaven so far, but I will say this, it takes exactly 29 steps to go from front to back of this trailer.....

I also, would like to say thank you to Maggie and Rhonda for all the help they were to me in getting the paper out and getting things transferred from me to Bob.

Helen Woody

Dear Editor,

Just thought I would sound off. The people of Clarendon do not deserve anything from our Congressman in Washington. He was good enough to come to Clarendon to talk to you and receive from you some ideas about what you wanted him to do. Even if you don't like him, he is your link to Washington, the only one you have to represent you. Why is it so hard for you just to come and be counted or get some questions answered that effect you and your country.

Our country is directed by the people that live in it and take part. Nobody cares or wants to speak out against the wrong that goes on. Stay at home and receive what you deserve...NOTHING.

In case you are wondering, Congressman Bill Sarpalius was here Saturday.

Don Altman

L.A. Watson went to see his brother "Hap" Watson at Groom Sunday. Hap is doing well after his recent hospital stay.

Martin Baptist Church surprised their pastor, Rev. Johnny Hogatt with a birthday party after church Sunday evening.

Larry, Janet and Rene Watson visited with Rose Lee Watson Sunday afternoon. Bobby and Bill Moss of Lamont California were also visitors.

Rose Lee Watson visited C. I. Casteel at the Medical Center Nursing Home Saturday.

Bobby and Bill Moss met Jathen Moss from Louisiana here at Clarence Moss home to take him back to Lamont California to live with them for two years. While they were here Bill's mother from Fritch Mrs. Oneta Cavett came to visit. Irene and George Williams, and Shirley and Rabbit and Dorcas Osburn were also guests in the Clarence Moss home.

Oddie Moss and some other Senior Citizens sing with the Medical Center patients ever first and third Wednesday. Come and enjoy the music.

Friendship Club will meet with Thelma Rudder this Tuesday. Aaryn and Trent Mooring of Panhandle, Texas spent the weekend with their grandparents, Bill and Nova Mooring.

H.U.D. Landlords Asked to Attend Meeting

All perspective landlords and present landlords for the H.U.D. program are asked to attend a meeting at Clarendon Texas Thursday, March 16, 1989. The meeting will be held at the Donley County Courthouse, in the courtroom, located at 300 S. Sully at 7:00 p.m.

H.U.D.'s aim is to explain the regulations and procedures of our Housing Program. The local Housing inspector and the area inspectors supervisor will be present to answer your questions and explain procedures.

Hedley CISD Open House

Hedley CISD held its annual Open House on Thursday, March 9, 1985. The theme of the Open House was "25 Years of Education in Hedley." This theme was used in conjunction with the final bond payment on the school building. Approximately 300 people attended the ceremony which was begun in the Hedley gymnasium.

Mr. Holland presented the welcome and provided some trivia information comparing 1966 and 1985. Some of the comparisons are as follows:

J. M. Baker was represented by his daughter, Kathryn Jones of Memphis. J. M. had lived for the past ten years in Perryton where he died on December 26, 1988. J. M. retired in 1966 from Hedley School with 50 years in public education. He taught his wife and all six of his children. Mr. Holland reported that in 1966, with 49 years of experience, J. M.'s salary was $5,508.00 per year.

Dot Messer worked as a cook through the 1967 school year. C. O. Stephens was represented by his wife, Callie Stephens of Hedley. Clarence was custodian during the 1965-66 school year. He had retired in Hedley before his death in 1986.

Ed died in February of 1986. W. L. Stewart who was 1966 board secretary was unable to attend because of weather conditions in Saint Jo, his current home town. Dub served from 1960-1968 on the Board of Trustees.

Everyone then enjoyed a tour of the school facilities. Student work samples were displayed and several bulletin boards and timelines provided a trip back into past years at Hedley School. Hedley School yearbooks and personal picture albums were available for viewing. People present visited and reminisced about Hedley School.

Refreshments were provided by the Future Homemakers of America, sponsored by Cheryl Pickard. Geneva McAfee, a 1975 Hedley High School graduate and co-owner of The Cakery in Amarillo, provided a huge cake depicting the newly constructed 1966 school building.

Open House at Hedley School was certainly a momentous occasion. It took a great deal of work by the faculty and employees. Much research and extra effort took place to review the past twenty-five years. According to several comments, the effort was well worth it.

Appetite Suppression Product Ingredients

While some health authorities believe nonprescription appetite suppressant products are of no proven long-term value in controlling obesity, others feel that these products may provide valuable assistance to overweight persons. Popular appetite suppressants include:

Phenylpropanolamine: The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has determined that this ingredient is probably safe and effective as a nonprescription appetite suppressant. Phenylpropanolamine is thought to cause a reduction in appetite through its stimulant, adrenalin-like action. An individual with hypertension, thyroid disease, diabetes, or heart disease should consult a physician before using products containing phenylpropanolamine.

Benzocaine: This ingredient is a local anesthetic that can numb the mucous membranes. Appetite suppression products containing benzocaine may be chewed (candy and gums) or swallowed (tablets and capsules).

Methylcellulose: Bulk-producing agents such as methylcellulose and other dietary fibers may delay or prevent the absorption of ingested calories. These ingredients also may produce a sense of being "full."

ADDITIONAL EXEMPTIONS MAY LOWER YOUR TAXES!

If you became 65 or disabled during 1988, you may qualify for additional property tax exemptions on your homestead. If you bought a different home during 1988 you may need to file a new homestead exemption application. Applications should be filed by May 1.

If you received a homestead exemption on your present home in 1988, you will not need to reapply for 1989.

Further details about the property tax system in Texas and how it works for you are contained in a pamphlet by the State Property Tax Board called Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities. Get a free copy at the Appraisal District Office.
