CLARENDON, DONLEY COUNTY, TEXAS, JUNE 29, 1939

A Common Paper for Common People

DONLEY COUNTY TO GET ANOTHER OIL-GAS TEST

A block is being assembled north of Clarendon for the purpose of making another test in Donley county for oil and gas.

The block is north of the City of Clarendon, commencing at the river on the Clarendon-Jericho highway and extending about twelve miles north on said highway and about twelve miles wide. Of course, all of this acreage cannot be had but it is hoped that a solid or almost solid block can be assembled in this area.

Mr. Bruce L. Parker, an attorney from Pampa, Texas, is blocking this acreage. Mr. Parker has a drilling contract signed by Alford Drilling Company for a test on this block.

Under the terms of this drilling contract, if oil and gas are not discovered before the agreed depth is reached, the hole is to be kept as large as eight inches down to the agreed depth, thus enabling deeper drilling should formations at that depth be favorable.

Leases are being dated to commence August 1, 1939. Under the drilling contract the company is to start the actual drilling of a well on this block within 60 days from August 1, 1939. It is hoped that the block can be assembled and that titles checked during the thirty days from now until August 1, 1939.

Whether or not this well is drilled will depend entirely upon the response of the landowners. All landowners and their wives owning land in the above described block and who wish to have a test for oil and gas made on said block should sign leases left at any one of the three banks in Clarendon, which have agreed to act as escrow agents.

Officials have agreed to hold these leases until the actual drilling has commenced on said block and then all the leases are to be delivered to Bruce L. Parker, Lessee.

SAFETY STRESSED OVER 4TH OF JULY

Due Caution Is Being Urged In Celebrating July Fourth

AUSTIN, June 26.—"Let's Be Alive on the Fifth" was the slogan urged today by the Texas Safety Association to safety councils, luncheon clubs, safety groups and newspapers for combating the annual fourth of July accidents.

"The Glorious Fourth has proved a Fatal Fourth for hundreds of Texans in the past several years," the Association said in a letter to the various groups. "Let's Be Alive on the Fifth" should be the slogan thru out this week in order that casualty lists from drownings, fireworks and traffic may be reduced to a minimum for this year's Fourth of July celebrations.

The Association urged the cooperation of all agencies in cautioning the public of the dangers of the holiday celebrations.

GOVERNOR O'DANIEL LIKELY TO VETO PRICE-RAISING LAW RECENTLY PASSED

The action of Attorney General Gerald C. Mann in declaring the so-called "Fair Trade" bill invalid Wednesday, will likely see the public further protected against profiteers under the anti trust laws of Texas.

Governor O'Daniel had asked for the ruling before considering the infamous price-raising law. He will now likely follow the Attorney General's construction of the law and veto the law recently passed by the lawmakers down at Austin.

The law was designed to permit manufacturers of trade mark goods of any description to set a price at which they should be sold in Texas. Manufacturers outside the state could then dictate to Texas consumers what they should pay for these certain commodities. In states where such laws now exist, prices have been hiked as much as 20 percent, the record shows.

Over Half Inch Rain Is Registered Here

A cloud drifting in from the northwest about 9:30 Wednesday night brought a fall of .55 to Clarendon. The fall is said to have been fairly general over the county in varying quantities.

Farmers today stating that the rain might benefit growing stuff in some instances, it was not needed to bring up the large acreage of replantings over the past week.

Wheat men are sorely put in getting into boggy fields to harvest the ripening grain. A few have been able to cut, but in the main fields were boggy at noon Wednesday from the recent rains. The fall last night will keep wheat out of the fields until Saturday if no more rain comes, they stated today.

This is one of the swellest looking homes in town with a yard in keeping with modern ideas of making a home out of a house. This residence was formerly owned by Judge Leon O. Lewis until his death some years ago.

ADAMSON LAD COMES NEAR DROWNING IN DITCH

A crowd of lads were headed down the street across the ditch just south of the Christian church Friday. Each boy was riding a bicycle. Upon reaching midstream, the wheel ridden by Welcome Adamson was washed down the stream when he fell over.

Both boy and wheel went under the bridge, the lad unwilling to toun loose of his bicycle. Larger boys put in after him and at a point on the wide concrete ditch just west of the Leader office, Carl Blackmon assumed the role of hero with a quick rescue of Welcome Adamson.

The rescue was none to soon, young Adamson was in a bad way from being rolled beneath the water by the swift current. Aside from a skinned knee, the victim of this new experience was normal after a short time.

PARK IMPROVEMENT GOES STEADILY ON

Recent Rains Show Little Damage When Creek Overflows

Improvement of the City Park under WPA labor with A. C. Donnell in charge, moved forward the past week to a better showing. Rains causing overflow of the creek passing through the park did no damage due to wall protection.

A tool house eight by twelve feet, of stone construction, is under way at this time.

A crew is working on the stone retaining wall on the east and north sides with about a hundred feet completed. Approximately ten men are employed on the job daily. Sixteen men were allotted from the WPA roll for this project.

SHERIFF ISSUES WARNING

Sheriff Guy Pierce is calling attention to the fact that he is going to have two highway patrolmen here for the 4th, in addition to the extra police used by the city to avoid accidents.

The sheriff states that the 4th is a day of rejoicing and pleasure, and no one will be allowed to mar that pleasure. He calls attention to fast driving, drunk driving and just plain and fancy drunks. All these kind of folks will be given a chance to see the judge just as soon as such foolishness is started, he says.

The Sheriff personally invites all the law-abiding citizens to come out and make a big day of the 4th.

BUGBEE EXHIBITS ANIMAL PICTURES IN SHOW

The Sportsmen's Show at Amarillo would not be complete without artist Harold D. Bugbee's pictures of wild animal life. They are there, and are attracting a lot of attention at the Fair Grounds.

His pictures of "big cats," "animal olives," "arctic paintings," "plains animals," "Yester-year" and "own" are said to be the best. Both are large canvases and show the real skill of the renowned artist.

SPORTSMEN'S SHOW OPEN AT AMARILLO

Javelina Attracts Most Attention Because Of Shape And Color

In addition to having an indescribable color, the javelina has very bad disposition. They may be found in the wild state northwest of Monahans as the nearest point from here.

In a large sink some two hundred feet below the surrounding plains, some sixteen sections are white sandhills where a few willows, dagger and plum brush grow. Water stands in small lakes, but may be found between the sandhills at from two to three feet. It is clear and cold and tastes like melted snow. The javelinas root to water when thirsty.

Several years ago the editor of the Leader with others attempted to secure javelinas from the "sink" but were unsuccessful. They either became angry or hot, either of which means death to the hog-like peccary better known as javelina.

All game animals of the southwest are being shown all this week at the Fair grounds in Amarillo. Every fish in Texas is represented. Hunting and fishing equipment is being shown with the game exhibit.

Every section of the state is represented in this, the first exhibit of the kind ever to be shown in Texas. The venture is sponsored by the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission of Texas.

CHAMPION RABBIT HOUNDS HANG UP NEW RECORD

Two greyhounds of J. A. Stewart near Goldsion have a jackrabbit killing record that is hard to beat. They have killed about sixty rabbits since April 1st, averaging five to ten a week.

This opportunity is a real treat to members of all churches in that the speaker is not only learned, but a fluent speaker, and a man of wide experience. He ranks along with the great men of the ministry of the Nation.

FALLS OFF COW BREAKING ELBOW THREE TIMES

Starting the rodeo season a bit early ended disastrously for Ray Rampey, aged 13, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Rampey Friday. He and a neighbor boy, Junior Bullman, aged 12, were doing some practice riding on a cow. Bossy evidently thinking that the rodeo season did not start until July 4th, gave the lads a spill. As a result, Ray struck the ground on his elbow fracturing the bone in three places. FREE SPEECH, FREE PRESS

Four-fifths of the world today knows no free speech, and no free press. Outside the United States, the British Empire, and the Scandinavian countries, free speech and a free press are virtually unknown.

The first steps in destroying democracy, as it has disappeared from the world, has been suppression of the free press and curtailment of free speech.

There are beautiful bushes of vitex in several yards. They are different shades of blue, pink and some apparently white. Some that have been pruned have almost formed trees.

The shrubby border of the Baptist church walls is unusually pretty at present. The contrast of the silver king with the ever greens forms a lovely combination of foliage plants.

Here's hoping our lawns wont have to suffer any more this year, at least, from hot dry winds.

GARDEN GLANCES

"America beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners."

All the lawns are lovely since the rains, but there are some beauty spots that you might overlook if your attention is not attracted to them.

Mrs. Boston's bed of red cannas were the richest bouquet to be seen, and on the opposite side of the house is a colorful bed of petunias.

There is a pergola over-run with trumpet vines in the back lawn of the Bartlett home, and some alder bushes that are rivals of the hydrangeas we carefully grow.

Have you noticed the clump of petunias in gala array in front of the lumber yard at Shamburgers, and the cannas just inside the fence near the wall? They are quite a contrast to the pavement and brick walls of their surroundings.

Meat Cookery, Yesterday and Today

By RUTH J. COOPER, Home Economics Consultant
Breeder-Feeder Association

The meat roast of yesterday was, often quite dry and tasteless. That of today is juicy, tasty and has several more slices than the other roast. It is less trouble to prepare, has a superior flavor, and besides going farther, saves time and fuel in the bargain. Yes, today's roasting methods are truly revolutionary.

The roast of yesterday was salted, preferably overnight, so as to "take the salt." It was then rolled in flour generously, and seared at a high temperature either in a very hot oven or over flame. This process was thought to retain the meat juices. Today, we know that seasonings do not penetrate very far and they do draw out the juices. It makes very little difference when the roast is salted, so it is generally salted at the beginning so as not to forget it. This may draw out some of the juices but they go into the gravy so this point is immaterial. This modern roast is not floured because the flour is more liable to burn and the black flecks are not very appetizing in the gravy. If a rich, brown gravy is desired, it is a simple matter to brown the flour in the fat later.

At this point a decision must be made. What is the result to be? Is the roast to have a crusty, brown surface or the same color throughout the meat? If the crusty, brown surface is desired, the meat is seared in a pre-heated 500 degrees F. oven about twenty minutes and then roasted in a slow (300 degrees F.) oven for the balance of the time. If same color throughout is desired, meat is cooked in a slow oven for the entire period of time. This searing process is for appearance only. The searing does not retain the juices and if the high temperatures are continued too long, the roast becomes dry and tasteless.

The change in pan styles is significant. Yesterday the pan was of the double variety and quite expensive. Today the pan is shallow and has no lid. It is inexpensive and often does double duty, sharing the honors with biscuits. Formerly the roast was placed in the roaster, enough water added to start the steam and often roast frequently basted until done. This method was not roasting in the true sense of the term. Today the roast is placed in the shallow roaster, fat side up. This roast is not basted as the melting fat does its own basting much more effectively.

Meat thermometers are available at household furnishing and hardware stores. They are not essential but do take the guess work out of roasting. Insert the thermometer bulb in the center of the meat muscle, being careful not to touch bone nor fat; roast the meat until the thermometer registers the required internal temperature—rare, medium or well done. This is approximately thirty minutes per pound for a well-done roast.

While longer cooking time must be allowed for this low temperature of roasting, superior results are assured. Regardless of type of stove or fuel, lower oven temperatures produce tastier roasts.

MASTODON LOCATED IN SOUTHERN AREA

Find Will Be Exhibited In Massive State Museum At University

Austin, Texas, June 28—A nine-foot skull of a pre-historic shovel-jawed mastodon—the second unearthed in the same site—has been discovered in a Bee County water hole. Dr. E. H. Sellards, director of Texas Memorial Museum, disclosed here today. University of Texas and WPA field men have been working the Bee County quarry for several months.

The shovel-jawed mastodon, an early form of the elephant, was about the same size as his descendant of today, Dr. Sellards stated. The newly discovered skull will prove one of the largest found, he believed.

He credited the rich geologic "strike," which has already yielded the fossilized bones of one 20,000 year-old mastodon, to the presence of an ancient water hole where the beasts must have bogged in clay.

Mrs. Wilson of Altus, Oklahoma visited her son, Walter A. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson here over the week end.

Jack Sorelle of Borger spent the week end here with his mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cluck of Dalhart visited friends here the last of the week.

Rev. G. T. Palmer attended a pastor's school at S.M.U. in Dallas over the week returning Saturday.

Several farmers in this section are planting corn to be sold as roasting ears in the fall. In this manner, a much higher price is realized.

Milling Sanatorium

MINERAL WELLS, TEXAS

AN INSTITUTION WITH A NATIONAL REPUTATION FOR THE TREATMENT OF CHRONIC DISEASES

Our little girl seven years old was taken with what the doctors called Saint Vitas Dance. We tried a number of doctors without receiving any noticeable help. Our little girl was growing worse every day and our hearts ached to see her in such a pitiful condition. She could not speak, walk or even hold her head up; she was entirely helpless. A friend advised us to go to Dr. Milling of Mineral Wells, Texas. We did so and at the end of three weeks our little girl was able to walk and talk as she had before taking sick. At the end of five weeks we came away with our child entirely cured. We take pleasure in recommending Dr. Milling in any case of this kind, for we positively know what he did for our child. We can not say too much for him. We would advise any one who is sick to go there and be cured. We will answer any personal letter written us.

MISSING OUT.

Every town in the Panhandle with a mudhole has staged a "regatta", or is planning one. These "regatta" affairs are merely boat races. Why not stage a regatta on the lake north of town? Congress won't do anything about it because when the drouth is on, the weather is too hot to race here; when it is raining, we have a lake without federal aid. On with the boats, boys.

CLAIMS NEW RECORD.

A navy plane bogged down while going over Amarillo Friday. They claim five inches of rain fell over the week. Had it been ten, the whole navy plane aggregation would have been swamped in Amarillo.

CONGRESS TOO COOL.

It is claimed that with the air conditioned Capitol and office buildings, Congress may be in session all summer. Members are not supposed to "wam up" until the heat of next year's campaign.

PANHANDLER CAN TAKE IT.

Speaking of heat, how about the bodies of three men slated for cremation down at Dallas? One was from Illinois, one from Missouri, and one from the Panhandle of Texas. The three bodies were placed in the crematory and the usual time allowed when the bodies would be reduced to ashes. When the door to the oven was opened, the Illinois man had burned up, the Missourian was burned brown, but the Panhandler was sitting up wiping sweat off his face and said to the man opening the door: "If this weather keeps up, the wheat crop is going to be practically ruined!"

MONOTONY.

Like the old lady who said her son "never has been satisfied" down at Huntsville prison, the English over in China are never satisfied with the way the Japs treat them lately. Some are slapped, others stripped, while some are stripped, kicked and beaten and then made to parade in the nude before an audience of their own men and women. No wonder the King and Queen were looking for a place to light when they visited Canada.

HAVE A HEART.

If you don't care anything about your own life, please spare the lives of others the 4th of July. If you have to get drunk, go to a canyon. If you have to speed, get in somebody's big pasture. Please, please remember the little folks.

GEO. B. BAGBY

DARN NUISANCES.

Here's hoping that diligent, sympathetic officers will see that fireworks are not thrown around the feet of women here the 4th as has been done here in the past. Women, many of them, are naturally nervous. Elderly women wear dresses long enough that the dress could easily catch on fire from a giant firecracker. Please bear this in mind and get off the main streets to celebrate with fireworks. Here's more power to officers who will protect our women and children. If they need any help to police the crowd, there's plenty for the asking.

COME TO SEE US.

Following our usual custom, the Leader office will be open all forenoon so that friends and neighbors may come in and rest a bit and talk. We will be glad to see you in that good old neighborly fashion formerly practiced over the whole Southwest. See you the 4th.

OLD ROAD

Abandoned to the grass of wild mesquite
Like hairs that cover some old maverick brand,
A rutted road, like half-forgotten dreams
Of those who followed it across this land,
Can take my thoughts and show me many things
Of freighters, fighting men and buffalo,
Of courage, triumphs, dreams and wagon trains,
Of cattle drives and scouts of long ago.

The past's last load across the last frontier
Has long been freighted by a phantom hand;
The wheels of time have ground to bitter dust
The chivalry which blossomed in this land,
And yet an old road conjures up for me
Those souls who triumphed on its dim old bed
Who hitched their wagons to a brighter star
And looked beyond the place to which it led.
—Vera Holding
(in Epic-Century Magazine)

Arthur Chase and Ardis Patman left Sunday for Mexico City where Ardis will attend school this summer. Arthur expects to return within two weeks.

BAGBY IS "TOPS"

(The following article appeared in "The Insurance Field," a leading insurance magazine, issue of June 1939. Complimentary to a successful insurance man in the local field, we are glad to give the article a re-print.—Ed.)

At least one application a week for 423 weeks, and a minimum of 3 applications a week for each of the past 100 weeks, is the excellent production record of George B. Bagby, representative of the United Fidelity Life. These facts are reflected by the records of the company's endurance club, which requires at least one application a week to maintain membership, and the masters club, which requires not less than 3 applications a week. In reality, Mr. Bagby's record is even more extraordinary than these club memberships reveal, for he has maintained an average of at least one application for every working day in the year, for more than eight consecutive years. This record is particularly impressive, in view of the fact that Mr. Bagby lives and works in a town of less than 2,500 population, and in a county that has less than 10,000 inhabitants.

In addition to personally producing this large volume of clean, profitable business, Mr. Bagby's renewal record is equally praiseworthy. His renewals have never fallen below 90% and average better than 95%.

This record is the result of consistently servicing all of his policyholders in a helpful, intelligent manner. His low death claim ratio further substantiates the fact that his business is worthwhile and substantial.

Mr. Bagby has the distinction of winning every contest that he has entered, and has earned every prize that the United Fidelity Life has offered all its agents for specified business to be sold. This was made possible by his thorough understanding of the fundamentals of life insurance, and the kindly manner in which he co-operates in the interest of the man he sells.

CLARENDON MEN SEE SCENERY FROM HERE TO DENVER

Returning home Saturday, Jimmy Watters and Maurice Lane declared they had seen all that was worth while between here and Denver.

The first stop was made at Albuquerque. Then on to Eagle Nest dam, Pike's Peak had to be ascended, and it was this hill that Jimmy Watters declared to be the most interesting part of the trip. The Cave of the Winds near Manitou, Garden of the Gods and other interesting points were covered. The pair finally landed in the mile high city of Denver.

The return was made by way of Boise, Oklahoma. Both men found the heat more prominent here than

WHO PAYS FOR ADVERTISING?

Judging from the frequency of its reappearance, "Who Pays for Advertising?" written by John H. Casey, professor of Journalism and advertising at the University of Oklahoma, is on the way to becoming something of a "Newspaper Classic." Not long after he answered that question in an address he gave before the Oklahoma City Advertising club, we reprinted it in The Auxiliary and commented editorially upon it. Since then we have seen it reproduced in other trade publications, in press association bulletins, on blotters, envelope stuffers, etc.—all of which indicates that the answer of the "Walter Camp" of country journalism to this question was an exceedingly trenchant one.

In view of the valuable work which Consumers Information is now doing to show the buying public how it is benefitted by advertising and the response of publishers all over the United States to the offer of that organization to help them spread that gospel, it seems appropriate to reprint "Who Pays for Advertising?" in these columns again. Here it is:

What is advertising? One form of salesmanship.

Purpose? To sell.

Who pays for it? John and Mary Public say they do, indirectly.

Solomon Isaac Business Man says he knows too well that he pays for advertising.

But I say the customer does not pay an advertising bill if the advertising is effective, efficiently done, run in the right medium at the right time, and is, in every other respect, right.

For when greater demand for goods can be manufactured in larger quantities, and shelves restocked at less cost per unit of production per item of merchandise, in consequence of that created demand, either at less cost or with more quality at the same cost—which amounts to the same thing.

There you have the theory of mass production and quantity buying packed together in a pecan shell.

Yes, the merchant is sure he pays the advertising cost. But I say he does not, for the larger the volume of business the retailer can do, the less his percentage of overhead, of which advertising is but one of many items. No more light, no more heat, no more of several other overhead items required for $110,000 turnover than for $100,000.

Well, if the customer doesn't pay and the merchant doesn't pay for advertising—then, who does pay for it?

Why, bless your souls. The truth of the matter is that effective advertising is self-supporting, self-liquidating. Nobody pays for good advertising, unless, if we must find someone to pay for it, I guess it comes pretty near being the non-advertising merchant who pays—and pays and pays—whose overhead goes up as his sales volume goes down—he and the non-ad-reading customer who buys blind, fails to read the ads and in consequence, gets stuck with inferior, non-advertised goods, at higher prices than he need pay.

And there you have one answer to the old, old question: Who pays for effective advertising, in the final analysis? Not the buyer of advertised goods, not the merchant who sells the goods and uses the advertising space, but the non-advertiser who fails to get the business and the non-reading public.

The statements in those last two paragraphs, it seems to us, not only supplement but add emphasis to the truths which the releases provided by Consumers Information are getting across to the buying public.

YOUNG LADIES' VACATION TRIP MOST INTERESTING

A quartet of young ladies, three of whom were reared here, returned late Saturday from an extended vacation trip to the Pacific coast. In the party were Misses Lois Alexander and Elgin Patrick, Martha Marshall of Dallas, Miss Wylla Lee Alexander of Lubbock.

The young ladies visited the big fair at Frisco, Long Beach where a stop was made with relatives, Catalina Island and other places of interest.

The return was made by the northern route bringing the ladies back by the famed Boulder dam, Painted Desert and Petrified Forest in Arizona.

Each of the young ladies left Monday to their respective places of employment after a very short visit with relatives here over the week end. A boat trip is already being planned for the summer of 1940, they stated.

PLANT TWO HUNDRED ACRES IN TWO DAYS

Farming ain't what she used to be by a long shot! Bob Bingham, Nolie Simmons, Dink and Ed Hays went into the Bingham field on the Nolie Simmons farm near Sunnyview early Friday morning taking advantage of the heavy rains the front of the week. They began planting with four tractors and kept at it all day, a part of Friday night and most of them were in town Saturday afternoon with the job already completed.

Dozens of tractors in Donley county ran day and night just as soon as they could get into the fields after the big rains broke the drought. Several farmers stated that practically all the fields would be planted by last Tuesday.

When You Observe the Fourth of July, You Are Celebrating Freedom to Serve

FREEDOM, regulated by justice, dates back to July 4, 1776—the Birthday of America. This nation was founded on, and consecrated to, the idea of liberty, freedom, independence. This applies, not only to the nation as a nation, but to the individual in his daily life.

The Electric Industry, asking only freedom to serve efficiently and economically, contributes much to that priceless gift: more liberty and ever-greater freedom. Through Electric Service, men and women have been emancipated from thousands of tedious, nerve-racking, exhausting tasks both in the home and in other industries.

West Texas is traditionally the Land of Opportunity and the Home of the Free. Its history is linked with the fact that Your Electric Servant was free to keep pace with the region it serves... expanding its facilities to meet the needs of every community and anticipating your future demands for Service. As a result, you now are free to enjoy freedom from drudgery.

PANHANDLE LAKES WEEK-END RESORTS

All Ages Enjoy Convenient Local Assets of Wholesome Boating And Bathing

These lake facilities are yours so long as you comply with reasonable regulations. The shade trees in most instances are few, but small trees are growing for your pleasure in the next few years.

Buffalo Lake, Randall county, has 1,100 surface acres of water, is 20 feet deep, will have 1,870 surface acres when filled. Has caught a two-year drouth on its giant watershed and only two fair rains, both of which were slow rains. Lake opened to public before 50,000 persons on May 28th.

Rita Blanca Lake, Hartley county near Dalhart, has probably twenty acres under water and will have 545 surface acres when completed, but 12,000 acre feet of water. About ready to receive heavy summer floods on its watershed which extends beyond Mr. Capulin, N. M.

McClelland Creek Lake, Gray county, is full and has 345 surface acres of water.

Wolf Creek Lake, Ochiltree county, is full and has 101 surface acres of water.

North Tule Creek lake, Swisher county, has about 20 acres of water and will have 100 surface acres when full.

Lake Marvin on Boggy Creek in Hemphill county is full and has 63 acres of water.

There is now 1,680 surface acres of water in the six lakes in the Panhandle and three of these lakes are filled. There will be 3,014 surface acres of water in the six lakes when they are full.

Requests have been made for lakes in 17 counties in this region. These will vary in size from the smallest of about 60 acres in Lipscomb to an even larger lake than Buffalo in Hansford county. Possibilities of one major lake constructed by the U. S. Army engineers is being sought by Hall, Childress and Briscoe county.

Department Public Safety

Austin, June 27—Multi-fatal accidents showed a marked increase in May, more of them claiming 22 lives, a state police compilation showed today.

The May death toll included 97 persons killed in May traffic, one more succumbing from a February accident, four more from March injuries and 12 more from April crashes.

In one crash, five lives were lost; in two crashes, four died in each; in another, three were fatally hurt; and in three accidents, two persons were killed in each.

The May figures also revealed an abrupt increase in the number of crashes on county roads, an increase which state police said may have resulted from defective vehicles forsaking the highways for less-traveled roads. Twenty fatalities occurred on county roads as compared with 31 on city streets and 63 on designated highways.

There were fatalities in 28 pedestrian accidents, 29 motor vehicles crashes and 27 non-collision crashes, while there were only three fatal accidents involving trains, two involving bicycles, one involving a horse-drawn vehicle, nine involving fixed objects and none involving livestock or electric cars.

We Meet Your Requirements of Reliability and Sincere Interest

The two real requirements that must be met by morticians are those of reliability and sincere interest. Reliability must be a requirement, since the very nature of the work demands that all confidence has to be placed into the hands of a professional servant. That confidence must not be violated. The policy of a trustworthy organization will be built upon the idea of faithfulness to the task placed entirely in the hands of that firm. That is the kind of reliability that must be met readily and consistently.

Sincere interest on every occasion assures you that every detail of the mortician's work will be carefully handled. Buntin Funeral Home does have that sincere interest in every case, and attends to all general plans and detail work. Your requirements have made our policy, and that policy never varies, but remains the guide in the service we render.

Put the Milk Pitcher Back on the Table

By RUTH J. COOPER, Home Economics Consultant
Texas Breeder-Feeder Association

Put the milk pitcher back on the table! It is now an authentic antique and worthy of a place of honor; it is the aristocrat of the table. Whether placed there by style or taste decree, it is mighty good nutritional advice. Drinking milk with meals is good, sound, nutritional practice.

Milk is a food and should be treated as one. Drink it slowly and enjoy every mouthful. With the milk pitcher on the table, easily reached by all, the whole family can drink their fill. Milk is as nearly perfect food as there is. It is one of the best all-round body builders. It is palatable, nutritious and economical. It combines the essentials of nutrition in the most readily available form. One quart of milk furnishes more than half of the nutritional needs of the day. It furnishes about one-third of the protein requirement, nearly all of the phosphorus and calcium, one-eighth of the iron, adequate amounts of most of the vitamins, and about one-fifth of the entire energy requirement for the day.

Milk supplements other foods. The proteins of cereals are poor in growth factors but supplemented with milk, they produce maximum results. A bowl of cereal with fresh fruit, whole milk and a little sugar constitutes a "hurry-up" meal that is nutritious and quite palatable. It is readily and easily digested and will therefore not "stick-to-the-ribs" very long. To stave off hunger until the next meal, we need some more fat such as a slice or two of bread and butter.

Milk has no affinities. It goes with any food or any kind of a meal. Often we hear the remark that fish and milk or ice cream must not be eaten at the same meal. This is a fallacy. Any of the natural foods may be used together. It is the man-made mixtures that offend.

Some of our most delicate fish dishes are made with milk. While there are a few people who are allergic to fish and have to avoid all of the sea foods, the majority can safely eat them. The question is not one of combinations, but of the condition of the food. If the fish is not fresh, it will cause sickness if eaten in any way.

An often heard excuse for not drinking milk is that it is constipating. This is another fallacy. Milk in itself is not constipating. It is readily and easily digested and because of this, leaves no residue. The balanced diet furnishes bulk in the form of fresh fruits, vegetables and cereals for well-being. Milk is a vital part of this balanced meal.

Not long ago a food quack went around this part of the country preaching that milk and citrus juices must not be taken at the same meal because the fruit juices curdled the milk. This is another ridiculous fallacy. The curdling of milk in the stomach is the first step in the digestion. Fruit juices aid in the digestion by helping to form a softer curd. The same reasoning applies to buttermilk.

UNCLE SHYLOCK (?)

When Uncle Sam closed his war debt books last Friday night at the end of a semi-annual installment day, he found he had received 80 cents for each $10,000.00 due.

Only one nation, Finland paid in full—a payment of $160,693.00. Of the other 13 debtors, Hungary, paid $9,828 on account.

For the 13 debtors the score stood: one payment, one part payment, one offer, eight regrets, one reply en route, one reply lacking. The eight nations sending their regrets were Estonia, Great Britain, Latvia, Lithuania, Yugoslavia, Belgium, Poland and Italy.

The total amount due, including amounts not paid in recent years, was $2,269,733,861. The amount received was $170,521.

That's an idea. We're going to try our regrets on our printers some Saturday and on our creditors the 10th of some month!

Americans Supposed to Ride Easier When Autos Get New Rubber Springs

CHEVROLET SALESMEN GET GOLD MEMBERSHIP PINS

Only those who merit membership in the National Legion of Leaders, an organization for Chevrolet salesmen, are permitted to become members. During the months of April and May, two local men qualified for membership as well as membership in the large salesmen organization. Those men are S. C. Bell and Grover C. Heath of the Clarendon Motor Co.

WHERE IT PAYS

Does advertising pay? No, says the man who sticks his ad in some time table or directory and expects people to walk around, look it up and by seeing his name break their neck to get into his store. The man who wants to get results out of advertising places his message in the local newspaper that reaches the most buyers, that goes to the homes of his prospective customers, and the readers appreciate the paper enough to pay to get it.

AKRON, Ohio—America will ride easier, and some lubrication problems will be solved, it is claimed, as a recent invention by the rubber technicians of Akron is put into large scale production here.

Rubber springs, called "torsilastic springs" for automobiles, have already had their factory tests, and are now ready for the market, and also ready to add to the easy riding of Mr. and Mrs. Auto Traveller of 1939. With these springs, riding harshness is reduced to a minimum, the makers say, due to the slight flexibility in the rubber, acting as a bearing.

The spring which replaces either the leaf or coil types of spring, eliminates bearings, bearings parts, spring seats, and mountings.

Static friction is reduced to a minimum due to elimination of bearings, and rattles and squeaks are banished.

Weight of the springs is also reduced and the design is clean and simple, due to the parts eliminated. And since the rubber forms its own bearings, there is no possibility of sudden failure and impact loads on suspension members are reduced.

"In general a torsion type spring has an inner shaft surrounded by a layer of rubber," A. S. Krotz, development engineer at the B. F. Goodrich Company, explained. "The parts of the spring are, an inner shaft, outer shell, and a cylinder of rubber bonded to the shaft and cell." The entire spring contains only three pounds of rubber, Mr. Krotz says, and weighs only 10 pounds when assembled.

SEMIWILD HORSES ARE BEING CLEARED FROM ARIZONA RESERVATION

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz., June 28.—Roundup of more than 7,000 semi-wild outlaw horses is under way on the Navajo Indian reservation.

It is part of the program of the Great White Father in Washington, D. C., to eliminate worthless, non-productive stock which has virtually stripped reservation range of forage.

Authority for the Indian Service to require tribesmen to co-operate was given a month ago by United States District Judge Dave W. Ling in Phoenix.

Surprisingly, the tribesmen, thru their tribal council, are co-operating in the campaign, although traditionally the wealth of a Navajo is measured by the horses and other stock he owns.

First roundup of these horses, most of which are scrubby, undersized and unfit for farm or ranch use, was held near Leupp, Ariz., last week. Largest, so far, has been at Cameron, where 1,196 horses were sold at auction to A. J. Spence, Ash Fork, Ariz. He plans to market them with a dog food firm or glue factory.

COLORED FOLKS MAKE VISIT

Though too early for the melon crop, Buster Lancaster, colored, and handy man at the Palmer motor company for more than two years, says he had a great time squirrel hunting down around Cooper, Texas. A stop was made in Forney and a family reunion and picnic was "taken in" over at Hugo, Okla.

Other colored folks in the party was Buster's wife, Walter McCambell and Sam Niver.

W. H. Patrick was toastmaster, and with his ready wit and tact, spread a social atmosphere in that gathering that made every one enjoy the treat.

Many of these faces will be readily recognized. Many of them have since passed on to the "Great Reunion" leaving behind man's noblest heritage—a life well spent in helping others in the pioneer West, and a name that is remembered with honor to the one who bore it.

CLARENDON'S FIRST AUTO STRUTTED IN 1902

Quite a furor was created, if not abject consternation, when the first auto made its appearance here in January of 1902. It was imported by W. F. White, a brother of H. B. and Dr. White. This first "horseless carriage" was a flaming red Buick built according to the popular models of that day with no fore doors and plenty of polished brass displayed over the car.

There was the usual congregation of citizens as Mr. White drove his car down the streets of Clarendon. Mrs. Frank White, Sr. recalls running to the door when she heard that sputtering and wheezing sound pass, just to get a glimpse of the thing, not that she was really afraid of it. The odor of burning gasoline that followed the machine was intoxicating, old timers say.

Many were the predictions that such a contraption would always be a luxury, and never of commercial value. Immediately laws were passed requiring an auto to stop while a team was passing.

Nevertheless, Mr. White had confidence in the machine. He not only bought one, but three. These he kept in a garage located somewhere about where the Pastime Theatre is now located. Homer Mulkey used to stand on the street and gaze at the red beauty as she wheezed by in the rapid rate of fully twenty miles an

Texas Highway Department

Eighty-eight lives were saved in Texas during the first five months of this year. Brady Gentry, Chairman of the State Highway Commission, said today in announcing that motor vehicle fatalities for the period of January 1 to May 31, 1939 as compared to the same period in 1938 showed a reduction of 13.44 per cent.

The toll of lives taken by traffic accidents the first five months of this year was 567, whereas for the first five months of last year the number was 655. Cities of over 2,500 population had 21 less traffic deaths, a reduction of 12.28 per cent, Mr. Gentry stated, and towns of under 2,500 population had a reduction of 12.50 per cent, a saving of 5 lives.

Deaths on the highway system were reduced by 72, or 18.80 per cent. On county roads there was a fatality increase of 10, or 16.39 per cent.

Of the total traffic fatalities during the first five months of this year, 54.8 per cent occurred on state highways, while 58.41 per cent of the total for the same period of 1938 were on the highways, the Highway Engineer said. For the entire year of 1938, highway deaths accounted for 61.5 per cent of the total traffic toll. "This five months reduction and the progressive traffic campaign being conducted in the state stimulate us to redouble our efforts to drive and walk safely," Mr. Gentry said. "We can make Texas one of the safest states in the nation."

ANVIL PARK RODEO ONLY ONE OF THE KIND HELD

The Anvil Park Rodeo is the only one of the kind in the Nation. It is a real rodeo held on the Studer ranch near Canadian annually to commemorate the spirit of the frontiersman.

The big affair will be held July 2-3-4th of July this year.

In addition to the rodeo features, there will be a barbecue and various other forms of entertainment. This is the affair that draws people from many states every summer.

Night Club Set Most Elaborate Yet Seen In Hardy Family Series

Young Mickey Rooney had the time of his life in his first night club scene for a movie. He promptly fell for Virginia Grey, who was one of the glorified beauties in "The Great Ziegfeld," although he was also drawn to her kid sister, Lorraine, who appeared in the chorus.

In "The Hardys Ride High," showing July 1-2-3rd at the Pastime Theatre, sixth picture of the series, Mickey moves from the mythical town of Carvel to Detroit, where the family inherits a fortune. For the first time the son of Judge Hardy sees the night life of a big city and is frightened by it, although he tries to conceal his fear.

The set, a departure from the usual Hardy scenes of domesticity, is the most elaborate and certainly the most spectacular ever built for one of the pictures. Two hundred dress extras provide sophisticated atmosphere for the night club. A thirty-piece orchestra plays current hits and Mickey wears formal clothes and a silk hat for the first time.

A chorus of twelve girls of which Virginia Grey is the leader, includes Marilyn Kinsley and Lee Bailey, both of whom studied dancing as stand-ins for Eleanor Powell.

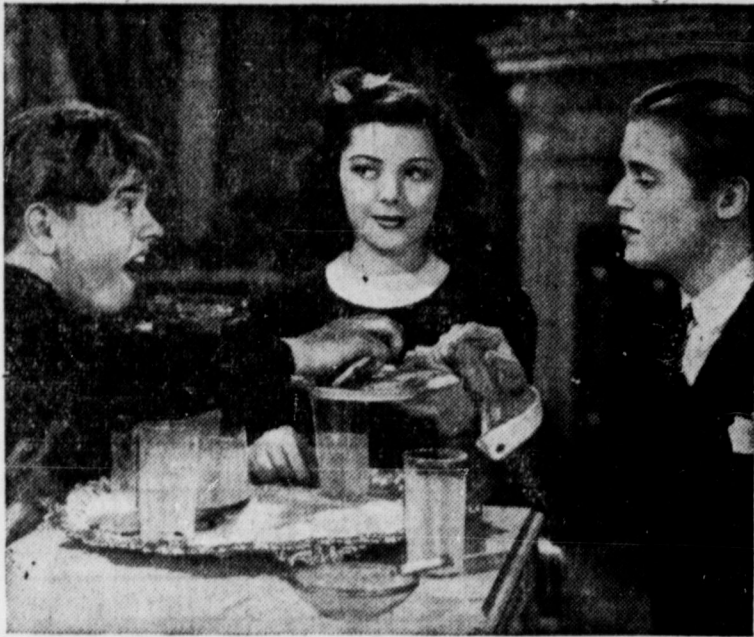

In "The Hardys Ride High" the family inherits a temporary fortune from the estate of an ancestor of Judge Hardy. They take over the mansion in Detroit and live in luxury briefly but with enthusiasm. Mickey promptly essays to become a young-man about town, visits a night club and meets a glamour girl in the chorus. When he calls on her, however, he loses his nerve and runs out.

The familiar Hardy Family continues with Lewis Stone, Cecilia Parker, Fay Holden, Ann Rutherford and Sara Haden. New players in the supporting cast include Minor Watson, John King, John T. Murray, Halliwell Hobbes, George Irving, Aileen Pringle and Marsha Hunt.

VIOLATORS FOUND GUILTY BY JURIES IN WEST TEXAS ASSESSED BIG FINES

Heavy punishment was meted out to liquor law violators in West Texas during May when three defendants found guilty by juries in Brown County were fined a total of $1,100. The fines brought to more than $3,000 the total amount imposed in fines in liquor cases during the present term of court.

Inspectors for the Liquor Control Board reported a total assessment of $34,194.10 in fines in the 17 enforcement districts. These resulted from 366 convictions, along with which there were 60 jail sentences. Inspectors filed 298 new complaints.

On Page 5 is a table showing enforcement activity in the districts in detail.

Also reported during the month was the destruction of 49 stills which had a cubic capacity of 2,732 gallons. The inspectors capturing the stills also seized 106 gallons of contraband liquor and 6,127 gallons of mash, and made 47 arrests and confiscated a truck and car.

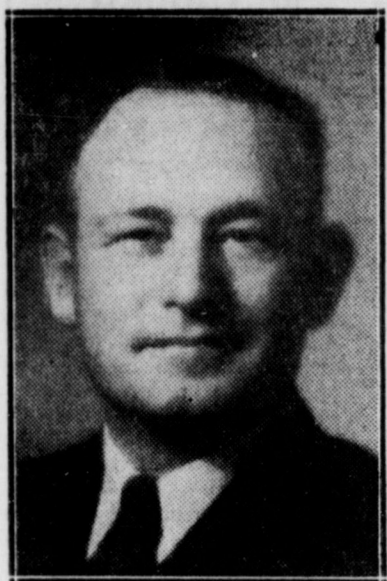

Destruction of the stills prevented the potential evasion of $45,168.96 in state taxes and $105,864.75 in federal taxes.

EVILS OF INTOXICANTS

"Licker, the curse from the ancients, the distillate of evil minds back in the days of barbarism, galley slaves and walled cities, has come down through the ages from civilization to civilization, from generation to generation, from nation to nation, among heathen and christians, paupers and rich, ruled and ruling, with its beguiling smile, its false cheer, its insidious appeal, its insatiable desire inflaming passions and creating crime and disease. From the dark ages it has brought its wreck of curses, its stabs of cruelty, its deafness to mercy, its plying of hate, its anguish of hearts, its cries of horror, its moans of sorrow, its pains of hunger, its marks of poverty, its fadings of hope, its bloating of bodies, its contortions of minds and become the one scourging blight on human happiness, a plague more appalling on the souls and bodies of people than all other evil influences with which humans contend."—J. Several thousand dollars was spent in improving the general appearance of the home and grounds until it became the most convenient family home, combined with real beauty, in the whole town. With his wife and babies, two boys and a girl, Bert Smith enjoys every phase of family life being a "pal" to his youngsters at home and on frequent trips. His vocation is that of gin manager, he being manager of the Smith Bros. gins here, at Goldston and Lelia Lake, in each of which he owns substantial stock. His hobby is hunting big game in the Southwest. His avocation is fishing for rainbow and speckled beauties in the mountains, already having made one trip this season. Generous and sympathetic, Bert Smith is one of Donley county's leading citizens held in highest esteem.

FACTS AND COMMENT

(By W. F. Hughes in the Rooks County Record)

It's great to play the game of life. Yes, life is only a game. Sometimes we win, again we lose. We score victories and suffer defeats.

It's All in the Game
I can't expect luck to be coming my way.
In all of the games that I happen to play.
So if now and then I must forfeit a trick.
Though badly I need it, or oughtn't to kick—
For that is just part of the game.

And whoever played in a game that was fun,
That called for small effort, that it might be won?
My victory can never, no never, be sweet.
Unless I have snatched it away from defeat.
The fight's the best part of the game.

And who is it wants to be always in luck,
Relying on fortune instead of on pluck?
And who is it wants to be smiling through life,
Unable to say he has weathered the strife—
Unable to prove he was game?

And though I may win, or be last in the race,
May I never cringe at the trouble I face,
And when I have finished my honest men write:
"In winning or losing he fought a good fight,
From the start to the end of the game."

RAIN DESTROYS TERRACES

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Texas Breeder-Feeder Association

This is the season when the weather tells the story—will there be a corn crop or not? As everyone knows there is a critical period in which corn either "makes" or it doesn't. We have been in the habit of taking a crop of nubbins with the best grace possible, but few tasks are more thankless than gathering a nubbins crop.

Fortunately it is easy to escape that discouraging job—driving over an acre to fill the wagon box with corn that is mostly cob and shuck. Besides, when corn matures in the field the nubbins is about all we get, while the stalks themselves—at the right stage—contain as much digestible nutrients for livestock as a crop of half-filled, short ears of dry corn.

When drouth threatens to cut the corn crop short, when the lower leaves begin to "burn" when it is plain that the grain harvest will be light—then it is time to save stalk and all while it is still green enough to make good ensilage. The trench silo is the answer. It can be dug in a hurry, and cheaply, and the ensiled corn will retain all the nutritive value it had when cut. Instead of permitting the corn to stand in the field and completely dry up, why not save stalk, foliage, grain and all in one operation?

The trench silo is not only emergency crop insurance, however; it is life insurance for the livestock. It is "production credit" to keep up the milk flow, fatten the lean kine, or merely hold normal health and vigor in the growing animals through the months of drouth or cold. As such it is becoming as common on Southwestern farms as barns and corncribs. It is the cheapest storage known, and retains more of the digestible nutrients in the feed than any other form or method of curing and storing.

Now that the peak of crop cultivation is passing, there will be time in the next few weeks to get the trench silos ready.

The best ensilage is made by cutting the corn or sorghum after the grain hordens but before much of the foliage dries up—while the stalks themselves are still green and succulent, but not before the grain is well matured.

This is one of the things we have learned since the silo boom of forty years ago—that the best ensilage is not made from immature crops, as used to be recommended. That we can make ensilage from even dry stalks by supplying enough water to saturate them and facilitate fermentation; but the natural juices of the plants are better, and the crop should be ensiled at its best.

Some other things we have learned about trench silos: the walls should not be perpendicular. The ensilage packs and keeps better in a trench with sloping walls because in settling downward it is wedged into narrower space and thus avoids shrinking away from the walls, which permits air to enter and spoil the outside of the mass. Also, sloping walls are easier maintained.

The walls should be as smooth as

WAS 'GATORS FACE RED?

How'd you like to catch a six-foot forty-eight pound alligator on your trotline? That is just what a party of four Belton fishermen did on the Lampass River in Bell county south of Belton recently, State Game Warden K. S. Hull reports.

The alligator, far from its natural habitat, which in Texas is deep East Texas, became tangled in the fishermen's lines and had drowned when the four anglers pulled it from the water.

Gators are occasionally found in Central and North Texas, but they are not native and have generally escaped from pens.

possible in any case. Old silos in which the walls have sloughed off in places should be smoothed up before filling. This will widen the trench, and increase the area of the "face" from which the daily supply is cut. The relative width and depth are not as important considerations as keeping the square footage of the face in proportion to the number of animals to be fed. PNEUMONIA TREATMENTS NOW VERY MUCH MORE EFFECTIVE

But Coughs From Colds Break Down Resistance

The scientists and doctors of the world have made great strides in the diagnosis and treatment of the dreaded pneumonia. They have learned the various types and almost every city has hospital facilities that are fast reducing the death rate.

Most doctors agree that when a person's resistance is low he is much more susceptible, and that coughs following a cold certainly break down your resistance.

At the least suspicion of pneumonia, call your doctor at once, and at the first sign of a cough due to a cold start taking Mentho-Mulsion immediately.

Mentho-Mulsion is that time-tested cough remedy, made from ingredients used by many doctors for years. Now fortified with both Vitamins "A" and "D," Mentho-Mulsion, at only 75c, is recommended, sold and guaranteed by good druggists everywhere.—adv.

WELCOME TO OUR CELEBRATION TUESDAY JULY 4th

To The Pioneers---

We welcome everyone to join in this celebration. Meet old friends and enjoy the memories of the past years over again.

We give honor to those stalwart citizens, who, 52 years ago, started the wheels of progress turning, making this territory a better place in which to live. It is our desire that these old timers may get together again during this celebration.

TO PROGRESS---

We take pride in feeling that we have helped to make progress possible in Donley County by our understanding -- of the problems of the cotton grower, city business man, the stockman and the wage earner. To render these varied interests, unselfish service was uppermost in the minds of this bank. To keep faith with that ideal, to always remain alive to the needs of the field it serves.

HAIL TO THE PIONEERS!

Throughout the years in West Texas, a vital interest in community building has been of paramount importance to the Shamburger Lumber Co.

This organization has contributed in no small way, both of its efforts and means toward the advancement of our civic and county affairs, realizing that with the growth and expansion of the county, our own business will progress and prosper.

Therefore it is with pride we pause in our endeavors to pay tribute to the old settlers who faced the hardships of the early days and laid the foundation of present day development in Donley County.

Shamburger keeps abreast of the times. You are assured every advantage in modern building material kept constantly in our large stock.

Water and Salt Control Grazing

Proper location of stock water ponds and salt licks is doing much to improve grass land in the Southern Great Plains. Livestock will travel as far to reach a salt supply as they will for water. Distribution of water holes over the range and location of salting places in remote spots, as shown in lower picture, result in better utilization of grass and guard against overgrazing. In carrying out the program of better range management in the plains region the Soil Conservation Service has aided ranchers and farmers in constructing more than 1,200 ponds similar to that shown at top.

SOUR DOUGH BREAD RECIPE

"Make sour dough with a cake of dry yeast and a pint of warm water to which is added a teaspoon of salt and a tablespoon of sugar. Add enough flour to make the mix as thick as buttermilk and stand it 24 hours in a warm place.

"To make sour dough biscuits add enough of the sour-dough mixture to a cup of flour to form a workable dough. Add a pinch of salt and soda and a tablespoon of lard. Let the mix rise for thirty minutes and bake the biscuits in a dutch oven buried in hot coals until they are tall and brown."

University Oil Wealth Is Tied Up

Probably the largest financial institution in Austin outside the state government is the University of Texas—long erroneously labeled as "a school that has all the money in the world."

But the university's wealth from oil sources is not as large as many believe and only a small portion of it is available for operating expenses, virtually all of which must be met by legislative appropriation.

Once and for all, here's the university's financial set-up, and this should clear it up.

Since discovery of oil in 1924 on part of its 2,000,000 acres of land in West Texas, the university has received approximately $27,000,000 from mineral leases and bonuses and from royalties on total production of 158,000,000 barrels.

Money Channelized
This money has been channelized into what is known as the school's "permanent fund" and together with the land value of $10,000,000, constitutes an endowment at present of $37,000,000.

As to the future, best authorities estimate that 214,000,000 additional barrels of oil may be recovered of which, under its leasing policy, the university would receive the value of one-eighth, or approximately $24,000,000.

Money ultimately received from oil may amount to at least $50,000,000, and perhaps it may amount to more than that. Due to proration and price changes, the university's oil revenue has fluctuated sharply in the past few years.

651 Wells Producing
The university has 651 producing oil wells on university property in six West Texas counties. Among the wells are some of the deepest in the world, more than 9,200 feet.

Of the university's 2,000,000 acres, 350,882 are under lease for oil and gas development.

University officials say only the income from the permanent fund is available for spending, that one-third of the income is allotted to Texas A&M college, a branch of the local university, and that the money which may be spent may be applied only in improvements to the permanent plant, such as construction of buildings.

Borrowed $ Million
Several years ago the university, under a constitutional amendment, borrowed $6,000,000 from the permanent fund to carry on building programs for itself and the Aggie college, but this privilege of borrowing in the future subsequently was withdrawn at request of the university's regents. This indebtedness has been reduced to $4,500,000.

The assets, currently increasing at a rate of nearly $3,000,000 a year, are composed of about $600,000 in current funds, more than $100,000 in loan funds, about $37,000,000 in endowment funds, $26,000,000 in plant funds and investments, and $21,000 in agency funds.

METHODIST CIRCUIT NOTES

J. G. Walker, P. C.

We did not reach the fifty in number at Lelia Lake Sunday school Sunday, but we are pleased with the progressing spirit which characterizes the work. The worship period was well planned. Teachers all present but one. Each one present seemed to be well prepared and by this was able to hold the interest of the entire class. The Lord will surely reward such faithfulness with success. Several things to hinder attendance. The sudden death of Bro. W. A. Bullard was a shock. Some sick and some visited the sick. Some visited just to be visiting.

We never censor people for visiting the sick on Sunday; nor doing any helpful work to the needy. The Lord places his approval on all work of this kind if administered in the right spirit; but lots of the ordinary

Endowments Increasing

Of the endowment funds, some $3,500,000 are invested and the proceeds have been used mainly for plant construction. Endowment funds are increasing more than $2,125,000 annually, due largely to income from university oil lands.

It costs in excess of $3,000,000 a year to operate the University of Texas, of which nearly $1,500,000 comes from general state revenue, $700,000 from student fees, $620,000 from auxiliary enterprises and $200,000 from other sources.

The university's investments approximate $25,000,000. The bonded debt is in excess of $5,000,000 of which $3,500,000 is held by endowment and the rest is in outstanding library and dormitory bonds.

visiting on the Lord's day is an abomination to the Lord. You have no right to call your service to the Lord off and go visiting on Sunday just to have a good social time.

Circumstances might be such that you would be excusable for an occasional visit of this kind, but to make it a common practice is inexcusable. You vacate your place at church and cause your host and hostess to vacate theirs. Suppose everybody did that way every Sunday. What would become of the churches? Visiting in homes, or places for sight seeing, pleasure seeking and much of so called recreation become the greatest drawbacks to church work. We had good services at Lelia Lake Sunday; also at Naylor in the evening.

We are very thankful for the Lay preachers who have been helping us in our work there and other places in our work. The Lord has a reward for them. We are looking forward to the time when Lelia Lake may be furnishing some Lay preachers. We have some very fine talent there and we are praying that it may be used of the Lord.

PANHANDLE NEWSPAPERS AS THEY WERE IN 1888

The following article appeared in the Dallas News as of March 15, 1888:

"The Panhandle News writes up the editors of the Skillet-handle country: W. E. Edwards of the Texas Panhandle at Mobeetie is an original genius. C. F. Rudolph, the founder of the Tascosa Pioneer, is one of the grittiest men in the Panhandle. H. H. Brooks of the Panhandle Herald is a forcible writer, he has been very successful in business and owns the largest outfit in the Panhandle. J. M. Simmons can crowd more matter into smaller space than any of our exchanges. George R. Timms is a sprightly young man who has inherited a fine physique and a more practical estate of $75,000 from his father. He is the founder of the town of Timms City in Lipscomb county, is publisher of the Texas Tribune at Timms City and the Times at Ochiltree. The editorial work of his papers is done by J. D. Drummond. D. V. Harm is the industrious spirit that furnished copy for the Free Press at Canadian City. Like Zacheus, he is small of stature, but his soul is immeasurably large. The Grierson of the Roberts County Ranger at Miami is very genial and a natural born boomer. E. C. Gray, editor of the Panhandle News, having gone to Kansas on a mule, is omitted from the roll of honor."

"Ain't" It The Truth?

Bob Burns can tell some mighty tall stories about his relatives in Van Buren, but here's a fellow that sums up a few of the reasons why we have a persistent "wolf" at the door at all times. What's more, the letter is supposed to have actually been received by a firm from one of their customers.

"In remitting to you per your invoices or bills sent me, I suppose you want a check. I wish to inform you that the present condition of my bank should make it almost impossible. Such a shattered financial condition should be due to federal laws, state laws, county laws, city laws, corporation laws, liquor laws, mother-in-laws, brotherinlaws, sisterin-laws, and outlaws.

"Through these laws I am compelled to pay a business tax, amusement tax, head tax, school tax, gas tax, light tax, sales tax, liquor tax, cigarette tax, carpet tax, income tax, food tax, furniture tax, auto tax, and excise tax. Even my brains are taxed. I am required to get a business license, car license, hunting and fishing license, truck license, not to mention a marriage license.

"I am also required to contribute to every society and organization which the genius of man is capable of bringing to life: The women's relief, and the gold digger's relief. Also to every hospital and charitable institution it seems in the town, county, and state, including the Red Cross, the black cross, the purpose cross, the fiery cross and the double cross.

"For my own safety I am required to carry life insurance, burglar insurance, accident insurance, business insurance, earthquake insurance, tornado insurance, unemployment insurance, old age and fire insurance.

"My business is so governed that it is no easy matter for me to find out who owns it. I am expected, inspected, suspected, disrespected, rejected, dejected, examined, reexamined, informed, required, summoned, fined, commanded and compelled until I provide an inexhaustible supply of money for every known need of the political and human race.

"Simply because I refuse to donate to something or other, I am boycotted, talked about, lied about, held up, held down, and robbed until it would seem that I am almost ruined.

"I can tell you honestly that except for the miracle that happened, and several other miracles, I would not enclose this check. The wolf that comes to many doors, nowadays, just had pups in my kitchen. I sold them and here is the money."

The Donley County Leader, $1.50 per year.

'Sisters Seeing World From Novel Car

"The Story of Transportation" might be the title of this group of pictures, showing the Misses Constance and Peronne Arntzenius, of The Hague, Holland, and some of the scenes they have photographed in the course of a 21,000-mile tour of the United States and Central America during the past year. Traveling in an American make of car equipped with a special body of their own design, the sisters have taken motion pictures and "stills" in virtually every state of the Union. The roof of their car can be rolled back to afford a view of the scenery, and the roomy rear accommodates the two cots on which the travelers sleep. Upper left photo shows the car negotiating a dry river bed in Mexico, and the other small views depict various contrasting transportation modes encountered en route. This is the sisters' fifth trip across the Atlantic, and they plan to remain another year.

MECHANICAL SURGERY MAKES AUTO LOOK LIKE NEW

A few weeks ago Miss Bonita Williamson of Claude took a number of her pupils to a state meeting, she being a teacher of home economics in Armstrong county. On the return trip near Santa Anna, an accident occurred in which the car turned over crushing in the top, a portion of the sides and otherwise causing it to present an appearance of a total loss. It was practically new, having been purchased from the Clarendon Motor Company here a short while before.

Miss Williamson entrusted the 'restoration' job to the body works department of the Clarendon Motor Company recently. A. B. Meredith, in charge of that department, was assisted by Lonnie Taylor. After several days work, the car presented an appearance of a new car entirely.

Many looked at it and marveled at the skill employed in restoring the wreck to an auto lovely to look upon.

The owner came for the car Friday. She too, marveled at the appearance of the car and was enthusiastic in complimenting the firm and the skill employed in returning her car to her in perfect form and beauty. One fellow well versed in body building jobs declared it to be "the best job of the kind that he had ever before seen."

TEXAS' 1940 LICENSE PLATES TO BE PURPLE ON WHITE

AUSTIN.—Purple and white—purple figures on a white background—will feature 1940 passenger automobile license plates, the highway commission decided today.

The commission also ordered these combinations:

Orange on black for farm trucks. Gold on blue for tractor, trailer, dealer, motor bus, motorcycle and sidecar tags.

As usual the plates will be manufactured by the state prison system and will be placed on sale March 1, 1940. Motor licenses expire in Texas on April 1st.

VISIT GRANDMA ROGERS NEAR McLEAN SUNDAY

Saturday, eighty-seven relatives and friends helped Grandma Rogers celebrate her 87th birthday eight miles northeast of McLean. Then Sunday, local friends in the persons of J. L. Upton, Mrs. L. P. Cox and Mrs. A. D. Blanton went over to congratulate Grandma Rogers on having completed her 87 years of usefulness. The usual "big dinner" was served at 12 o'clock.

Mrs. Rogers is the grandmother of a brother-in-law of Mr. Upton who says she has lived a very useful life, and has more real friends than most any one he knows.

This kindly old lady resides with Mrs. Nita Green, a granddaughter. Superintendent G. C. Palmer was one of several at this home Sunday.

- Smoke less, breathe more
- Ride less, walk more
- Bundle less, bathe more
- Worry less, work more
- Hurry less, read more
- Idle less, play more
- Talk less, think more

- Waste less, give more
- Scold less, laugh more
- Preach less, practice more.

SOYBEAN CROP MAY BE LARGEST YET PRODUCED

Soybean producers may set another record this year, a survey of farmers' intentions by the Department of Agriculture indicates.

The report indicates that farmers will plant 7.7 million acres of soybeans compared with 6.9 million last year, an increase of 12 percent. Agricultural economists at Iowa State college explain that this increase is not surprising because soybeans are considered soil conserving under the AAA program when cut for hay, pastured or plowed under for green manure.

The 1938 soybean crop was 57.7 million bushels, the largest on record and much larger than the 1937 production of 45 million bushels.

Miss Joyce Smith returned from a visit with relatives in Amarillo Sat.

LUKE ROBERTS MADE FIRST STAY HERE IN 1893

Forty-six years is a mighty long time, but Luke Roberts of Lovington, New Mexico taught in a summer normal here just that many years ago, he detailed to the Leader editor Friday. The only pupil he could recall living here at present is Mrs. C. A. Burton.

Mr. Roberts formerly owned the Lovington Leader soon after J. C. Estlack disposed of it to A. B. Morton. He sold the paper several years ago and has been engaged in the realty line since.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Roberts and her daughter, Miss Majorie Sewall. Miss Sewall's father, Matthew Sewall, was owner of large ranch and sheep interests at the time of his death from flu while on a visit to Kansas City in 1917. He was well known by a number of ranchers in this section.

SHE SAID SHYLY, "Couldn't I take a peek?" He said bashfully, "Er-r lady, you can try."

He was a roughneck, which is the regular name for a worker like him in the oil fields. She was a dear, with two little grandsons back East whose lips would round as she told of looking down the world's deepest hole . . . down well-nigh 3 miles . . . down the famed 15,004-foot Conoco oil well in California.

You too are invited to see it. Of course, as the lady knows now, you can't squint so awfully far down a 3-mile bore. But if you could only get a squint into the 3-inch bore of your motor car's cylinders! . . . if you could only watch patented Conoco Germ Processed oil give your engine wondrous OIL-PLATING! SMALL FARMERS TO GET FIVE MILLION FEDERAL DOLLARS

COLLEGE STATION.—The AAA expects to use more than $5,000,000 in Texas this year to increase payments to small farmers who, according to the regular schedule of grants, would not earn more than $200 by taking part in the Agricultural Conservation Program.

The ACP feature of the AAA program provides for conservation payments to reward soil and water conservation accomplished through confinement of soil-depleting crops to acreage allotments and adaptation of soil-building and range conservation practices. When total payments to a farm or ranch are less than $200, the checks are increased on a graduating scale. For example, a payment of $50 calculated under regular terms of the program would be hiked by $13, and a payment of $186 would have $14 added to it.

"This is another reason why our

NOTES AND COMMENTS

In Filipino marriage is very simple. A native priest merely cracks a loaf of bread over the heads of the kneeling couple and they become man and wife. Maybe over here if the bride cracked a rolling pin over the groom's head, she'd get better results, or maybe the groom should do it.

An African Pygmy eats as many as sixty bananas at a single meal. And just back in 1876 in this country bananas were sold for ten cents each wrapped in tin foil.

It is not unusual for an Eskimo to eat ten pounds of meat at a meal. An Eskimo husband lies on his back and lets his wife feed him until he is gorged.

program has been called "a small farmer's program," Donald Cothran of Caviness, Lamar county farmer and member of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee, observed. "In adopting the provision for increase of small payments, Congress intended to make the program as profitable as could be for the many families trying to make a go of it on small plots of land."

VEAZEY GONE TO THE WINDY WEST

(From the Hopkins County Echo)

Our good friend, W. C. Veazey, and his noble wife, Priscilla, have returned to their home in Donley county near Clarendon, since spending the winter here with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Bartley of Dike, Texas, and with many other relatives and friends.

In their absence they are always greatly missed here for this is really their home, that is, this is where they "started" (together), 1878. You see, they have each seen many frosty mornings and have heard the prattle of the rain on the roof many, many times, tho they have been in West Texas for nearly 33 years. He has just passed 83 and she is past 78, so you see we have enjoyed them for a long, long time, and we are all proud of it. Let's pin a rose right here while they live by saying they are mighty good folks; yes, they are better than that, for we know them and have lived by them and have been associated with them for the greater part of our life and we have seen them for more than half a century and always found them striving to live the life of the righteous.

They are well preserved and in fair health for their age and he can do more work today with a hoe or axe than many of you "boys" that read this.

For the benefit of those that might not know, I'll tell you where they came from. She is a native of old Hopkins, a daughter of one of the 18 people, Bettie Woods, who came here first from Indiana, 1842, and settled near Sulphur Bluff-to-be. She was born Feb. 4, 1861, the first daughter and second child of Jacob Neely and Elizabeth Woods Hudson, deceased, and they were always mighty proud of her, and we think a better soul never made a track. She is sister to Mrs. H. W. France and Minor L. Hudson of Nelta and a first cousin to Mrs. Mattie Dawson of this town, whom she loves dearly. Mr. Veazey is native of W. Tennessee, born April 21, 1856, in Gipson county near Trenton. He came to Texas in 1875 and lived near Birthright with a cousin, John Hartsfield Sr., who was father to Aunt Mollie Barclay on Church St. of whom Mr. Veazey is very fond at this time. The "postman" came by on a mule to deliver the mail, as there was no post office at Birthright.

S. C. BELL

--- who recently was awarded a gold pin designating him as a member of the Legion of Leaders, a national Chevrolet sales organization. He has won a number of cash and other prizes the past year while in the employ of the Clarendon Motor Company.

At the time of the "Veazey" marriage, Dec. 1st 1878, he was living at Lone Elm, (Sand Hill) with Uncle Tommy and Aunt Polly Windoms, long deceased, of whom many people will have fond recollections. Mr. and Mrs. Veazey have tried to live clean lives and to keep their name and that of their family above reproach. They are fine neighbors and nobody could beat them trying to pick up something for the needy and to arrange help for those in distress. They are always in favor and try to help the "under dog."

They are great church and Sunday school workers. He is a great hand to go to singing and I believe he likes to go to "quarterly" meetings better than any man I ever knew.

Now I'm sure their friends are not all in Hopkins county for they have lingered long enough in that windy domain to have gained the favor of numbers of admirers, many of whom have walked for miles after their hat.

We hope they may enjoy many more birth anniversaries and be permitted to visit old Hopkins a number of times. They made the trip home by auto Thursday, May 4, 1939, with their son Neely and family who had come for a short visit with his sister, Mrs. Lige Bartley, and family, and other relatives and friends.—Eli E. Hargrave.

NIGHT WATCHMAN IS BUSY MAN ALL NIGHT

It is said that A. G. Lane, local night watchman, leads the state in that line by having missed only two times in three years in "punching the clock" on his rounds. He goes on the job at 9 p. m. and off at 6 a. m. During each hour, he has to connect with nine stations, at each of which is a key which he inserts in the clock he carries. This makes a record on a card showing the time of punching. He thus walks about ten miles each night.

The clock system reduces the insurance key rate five percent. His duty is to look out for fires, inspect doors of the business houses to see if they are locked, and report suspicious characters to the sheriff. All of this keeps him right on the job the full nine hours.

The city pays a small portion of his salary. The remainder of approximately $75 a month is made up by contributions from the business men. An effort is to be made soon to increase the amount of salary, it is said, some contributors having discontinued their assistance.
