

A Clarendon School March 6, 1921

Where have the Clarendon school buildings gone?

Way back in ancient history, according to one living historia, the Clarendon grade school used to be located where the Lion's Club Hall is now. It was a "little red school house". Does anyone have a picture of that building? A story to relate of it's history? A prank pulled when attending that fine establishment? Give us a call at 874-2259.

The High School was a big white structure on the exact site of the Skinner's present home. Is there a photo of that white high school building? Does anyone know when it was put up and when it was pulled down? Can anyone tell a story or give a photo of it?

Give us a call at 874-2259.

The Elizabeth Stevens building was the next location for the grade schools. It is that big red brick building where Texas Saddlery shop is located now. What a big, fine grade school that must have been! Any photo's of classes out front? Any stories of doings in or around that grade school? Give us a call at 874-2259.

When the little red school house was condemned, the high school was moved to where the old brick building at the present high school location. That was originally a college building. Anyone know what college courses were held there? When did this move take place? Any pictures, stories, or interesting tales about that era? Give us a call at 874-2259.

The white building on the hill, the old high school became the Jr. High when the high school moved into the college building. This must have been the first time the Jr. High was divided.

Anyone know for sure? Any tales to tell about teachers? Give us a call at 874-2259.

The Jr. College and the High School shared the same buildings for awhile. There must have been some interesting happenings when you combine high school students and college students. There must have been many pranks, some teachers who have tales to tell. Give us a call at 874-2259 and "tell all".

We would like to make a nice page of just Clarendon Schools for our Centennial paper. Could you help us along these lines? Search old annuals, think back on old friends. We can photograph your annuals and return them to you within two days. No damage done, no chance of losing them. How about it, Clarendon High Students from 19-? when? Give us a call or stop by....today while you still think of it.

If a red check appears by your name your paper has expired. Subscription rates for Donley County $8.00 outside of County $10.00. Mail Box 1110 Clarendon, Texas 79226.

DOE declares Clarendon unfit for nuclear burial

J.O. Neff, Program Manager of the National Waste Terminal of the Department of Energy responded to a letter of inquiry concerning the intent of the DOE to bury nuclear waste at Clarendon.

In the letter, Neff stated that "In order to consider using the salt basin (the Permian Basin) for a repository for high-level nuclear waste isolation, it is important to study features in the basin which are disadvantageous to nuclear waste disposal." It is lucky to us in Clarendon that we were found undesirable in that "it was known that a significant dissolution feature was present in the salt. This feature parallels the caprock escarpment on the eastern edge of the Palo Duro Basin.. Preliminary results of the studies near Clarendon indicate that the dissolution is extensive as had been suspected. This evidence will preclude siting of a repository in Donley County..." Neff indicated.

The results of the drilling here will, however, prove beneficial to further site considerations in that they will now know how much salt dissolution will be acceptable and how much will be unacceptable. This study will "supply valuable input to defining the technical limits of isolating nuclear waste in the Permian Basin."

The major concern was contamination of water supplies. "The DOE has the same concern," Neff emphasized. The Permian Basin was part of a study to locate a salt formation which was to be selected for a dipository. While all of the data indicates that this particular drilling activity is indeed merely a scientific fact finding site, our readers should be kept well informed as to the nature of nuclear energy waste burials. Information is available and should be studied to keep well informed on this vital issue. However, there appears to be no threat to our area, thanks to our salt.

Judge Crist received a letter from E.G. Wermund, the Associate Director of the Bureau of Economic Geology in Austin.

The letter is an explanation of the Reagan Administration's policy regarding the location of a deep geological repository sites for radioactive waste.

The new policy of DOE will aim "toward locating an exploratory shaft at one salt site even as the earlier formulated screening activities proceed or are continued. DOE plans to select the salt shaft site from either the Panhandle, Utah, or one of the Gulf Coast salt domes."

It is a pretty safe assumption that this part of the Panhandle is ruled out as that possible burial site location. We will keep you informed, however.

The Bronchos will open the 1981 season Sept. 4 at home against the Fritch Eagles.

Cancer. A word that brings fear to heart at the thought of the tragic disease that strikes millions of Americans. The Don and Sybil Herrington Cancer Center located in Amarillo is taking giant steps to begin to treat those unfortunate victims of this disease.

Jim Hayes and Genevive Caldwell have been two Clarendon residents deeply interested in the progress of the Cancer Center. Through their combined efforts, working with Marilyn Van Patten, an endowment fund has been established in the Farmers State Bank for local donations.

A check was presented to Ms. Van Patten Monday by Bronnie McNabb, executive vice president of the bank. Ms. Van Patten immediately deposited the check into a special endowment fund account for area residents to contribute to. The money will be invested and the income for the profit of this investment will go directly to the Herrington Cancer Center. Money you contribute to the cancer fund at the Farmers State Bank will be put toward these investments. Your money will actually be 11-5 p.m. Governor Clements will attend this important event.

This is indeed a wonderful opportunity to remember those who may have lost their lives to cancer, those who suffer the disease or a way you could give a lasting gift to innocent children. Take your check to the bank and all else will be taken care of for you. It is now easier and quicker for you to give the gift of life.

working for you locally as well as being a tax deductible donation to the Cancer Center where it can work for those with this disease.

It is possible to make either a memorial or a living donation. A card will be sent to the family you name as recipients of this living, working gift. You will also receive a card announcing receipt of your donation and that the card has been sent to the family you named.

This type of endowment fund is important to our area because it is a mutual aid with the Cancer Center and our local businesses. It is impossible to do something of such magnitude without the support of all involved, including Donley County residents.

The grand opening of the Don and Sybil Herrington Cancer Center in Amarillo will be September 12. The dedication will be at 11 a.m. There will be tours and an open house from

Senator Bill Sarpalius Reports

BINGO!

AUSTIN - The people spoke last November. In a statewide election, they said they wanted bingo in certain circumstances.

During the special session, we had a chance to vote on the legislation that would make certain bingo games legal, and put the wishes of the people into operation. It was a hard choice for me because, like many people in our district, I really don't approve of gambling in any form.

Yet I voted for the bill. Here's what we voted for: We approved a bill to legalize bingo games by well-established charitable organizations, which will use the bingo revenue for fund-raising purposes. The county in which the games are authorized may impose a tax of two percent of the gross receipts on the game.

This is a local-option bill, like the liquor by the drink. For bingo to be legal in a county, city, or justice precinct, it must be approved by a majority of the voters of that area. No bingo games may be conducted until the people petition for an election and win that election. The petition must be signed by at least ten percent of the qualified voters in that area.

While attending Hedley High School, Sherrie was all-district for four years, received science, math, and business achievement awards, and was listed on the honor roll for four years.

"I have followed Sherrie's basketball career since she was a freshman in high school. She has a very rare ability to see the entire floor even under pressure. She is a great outside shooter and handles the ball well. We are very happy to have her and we are expecting great things from her here at CJC," says David Land.

fraternity for outstanding students in the college of Agriculture.

Paul is still working on his masters. He is a graduate assistant to the Head of Department of Agriculture Education. He is expected to compete his degree in 1982.

Mary Jo will be a Junior attending WTSU this fall majoring in Elementary Education and working toward her Kindergarten certification. Mary Jo received the award for most dependable girl in her Senior year in High School. She also received the most dependable girl award in her Sophomore year at Clarendon Junior College.

Mary Jo was Student Council Representative in Collegiate 4-H, a member and President of the Drama Club where she performed in several college plays and the student director of some of them.

With Mary Jo's graduation from Clarendon Jr. College on May 1, 1981, ended 31 years of continuous school since Frank entered first grade in 1950. These are the sons and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hermesmeier.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hermesmeier would like to express their appreciation to all the faculty, FFA, 4-H and Boy Scout leaders for their support and encouragement of their children's achievements.

Cancer Center needs volunteers

Volunteers will play a vital role in the patient and family support service team at the new Don and Sybil Harrington Cancer Center.

Some 20 volunteers began working at the Center this week and several more will go through training sessions in the near future. About 50 people will be trained by October.

Volunteers will be active in almost every area of the Center. Roxanne Cromartie director of volunteer services said. Some will have direct interaction with patients and their families - greeting them at the door, escorting them to treatment clinics, visiting with them in reception areas and offering cancer information. Others will assist in the pharmacy, lab, business offices and engineering.

"Volunteers at the Cancer Center have many different reasons for working here," Cromartie said, "some have experienced cancer within their own families and have a personal understanding of the kind of support our patients and their families need. And many people simply have a strong commitment to helping others."

Norma Groom, a volunteer said, "Volunteers can be a great help just by being there. Just in talking to patients and families and making them feel welcome. Serving a cup of coffee to an anxious person in a waiting room may seem like a small thing, but you can really see the difference it makes in the way people feel."

"Being a volunteer at the Center doesn't require any particular training or background," Cromartie said. "Everyone who becomes a part of the program receives a thorough orientation and works very closely with the nurses and other members of the supportive care team. We try to make certain each person has a comprehensive understanding of the Center as possible."

The volunteer serve program is open to both men and women of all ages. Generally, volunteers serve one four-hour shift a week between 8:30 and 4:30, Monday through Friday.

"It's good to be in on the ground floor of an organization with such a wonderful future," Mrs. Cameron said. "It's challenging and its rewarding to know that you can be of real service."

For more information about volunteer services at the Harrington Cancer Center, Call Roxanne Cromartie at 806-353-3571.

NUMB ARMS, LEGS Danger Signals

There may be misalignment of vertebrae in the spine causing pressure on nerves, yet the patient experiences no pain in the back. Instead, a variety of sensations may be felt in other parts of the body. These include tingling, tightness, hot spots, cold spots, crawling sensations, electric shock sensations, stinging, burning, and others.

Here are nine critical symptoms involving back pain or strange sensations which are usually the forerunners of more serious conditions. Any one of these usually spells back trouble.

- (1) Paresthesias (see above)
- (2) Headaches
- (3) Painful joints
- (4) Numbness in the arms or hands
- (5) Loss of sleep
- (6) Stiffness in the neck
- (7) Pain between the shoulders
- (8) Stiffness or pain in lower back
- (9) Numbness or pain in the legs.

These signals indicate that your body is being robbed of normal nerve function. Until this function is restored, you will, in some degree, be incapacitated. The longer you wait to seek help, the worse the condition will be. Don't wait! Should you experience any of these danger signals... call for in depth consultation in Layman's terms.

Eula Merrell of Clarendon attended the National Farmers Union's Pioneer Encampment at the Farmers Union Education Center near Bailey, CO., August 17-21, 1981. Sixty-five campers from 22 states took part in the annual older citizens rights conference, studying the theme "Inflation-Survival in the '80's".

George W. Stone, president of the Denver-based family farm organization, told campers that we must face the many problems challenging agriculture because of the inadequacies of the farm bills awaiting action in Congress, just as our pioneering ancestors faced the challenges of the new frontier.

"On September 2, Farmer Union will celebrate its eightieth birthday. Just as the pioneers in Farmers Union came up with new ideas for cooperatives, legislation and new credit sources to answer problems facing farmers in the early years of our 80-year history, we must come up with new, pioneering ideas to answer the problems we face today," Stone said.

James G. Patton, National Farmers Union president from 1940 to 1966, keyed the conference, saying that a counter-revolution of mammoth proportions is working against 40 years of social improvements that began with the New Deal.

"We are experiencing the most terrible thing that can happen in a democracy--people today distrust our government and blame it for all our problems," he said. "We forget that people are the government."

"Older Americans, who already exist below the poverty level with the Social Security program are being asked to accept cuts to the program," said Patton.

A Social Security panel

The campers discussed ways to combat cuts to Social Security and other programs necessary for older people at the encampment, including lobbying legislators and forming coalitions with other groups to achieve greater political power.

Proposed open seasons for taking furbearers for their pelts are: muskrat, Nov. 15-Jan. 15, '82. Nutria, no closed season. Otter, mink, beaver, ring-tailed cat, badger, raccoon, skunk, fox, weasel, opossum and civet cat are Dec. 1-Jan. 31, '82.

The commission will take final action on the proposed regulations in a public hearing in Austin, Sept. 2.

The proposed furbearer regulations have been published in the Texas Register. Copies of these proposals may be obtained by contacting William C. Brownlee, Furbearer Program Director, TP & WD, 4200 Smith School Rd., Austin, TX 78744 or call 512-479-4800, ext. 2700.

The Lions Tale

The Clarendon Lions Club held its regular meeting Tuesday at the Lions Hall with 21 members, Lion Sweetheart Viola Graham and three guests present. Lion Messer's daughter, Katrina Hutson of Vanderbilt was his guest.

Following the regular opening ceremony, Boss Lion McCombs called on Lion Billy Ray Johnston who introduced Eula Merrill, local representative, and Darrel Hale, area representative of the Green Thumb organization. Mr. Hale made a brief talk and showed a film on the Green Thumb organization which is sponsored by Farmer's Union and funded by the U.S. Dept. of Labor, to provide employment in community service type work for men and women over age 55 with low income who live in rural communities. We appreciate this very informative program.

Following the program, Boss Lion McCombs finalized plans for the annual Lions Pancake Supper to be held Sept. 4th from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. at the Lions Hall. Meeting adjourned.

City Ordinances

In the interest of public knowledge and to assure that all of the citizens of Clarendon are made aware of their City Ordinances, the Clarendon Press will print city ordinances. Some of these ordinances are obviously out dated but the Clarendon Press feels that each and every citizen should be aware of their local laws and ordinances. The Press is not making any statement for or against these ordinances.

Page 44 of Book I of the Clarendon City Ordinances begins a long chapter of the ordinance granting a franchise to the Clarendon Electric Light and Power Co.

The following chapter is the ordinance granting a franchise to the Clarendon telephone and telegraph Co.

These franchises are periodically renewed with subsequent changes made in the agreements, rights, responsibilities and specifications. Detail on the current franchises will be given in a later issue.

The Automobile Ordinance on page 48 requires license plates of specific specifications. It sets a speed limit of 8 mph or in Section 3, to maintain a speed no "Greater than is reasonable and proper".

Section 5 specifies that drivers must obey the request of a "person riding or driving a horse or horses or other domestic animal, cause such vehicle or machine to come to a standstill as quickly as possible and to remain stationary" long enough for the animal to pass.

Vehicles must have a "bell or other appliance" to warn others of its approach of 300 feet and also carry a "lamp on the front end of such machine between 1 hour after sunset and 1 hour before sunrise."

This 1909 chapter provides a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $100 for violation of the 6 sections to this ordinance.

TRICKY STUFF

By KATIE DVORAK

Kids like to cook. It's as simple as that, the joy and pleasure of trying to do something on their own is stimulus to trying to have patience to let them cook. Here are a few ideas to help your youngster get a good start in the kitchen.

1. Teach your kids (and refresh yourself) on the proper ways to measure.

MEASURING LIQUIDS

Use a glass or clear plastic so you can see through them. Get down at eye level with the marks on the cup when you slowly pour the liquid in. Stop when it reaches the line. Don't plug, guess or hold the cup up at eye level to read it.

MEASURING DRY INGREDIENTS

Usually, a nest of cups works best so you can fill the cup heaping full, scrape off the excess with a spatula and have an exact measure. This opportunity with fractions can help the kids understand better if you let them play with the cups a bit. Let them see how many times 1/2 C will be needed to make 1 C. Let them work with the measuring spoons, cups and measures so they understand what it's all about.

MEASURING SPOONS

Use them like cups when measuring dry ingredients, fill them full, then level them off. If the recipe calls for 1/4 teaspoon, use the 1/2 teaspoon and the 1/4 tsp. It works just like adding fractions. What an easy way to learn fractions!

How do you measure things like oleo or shortening? Stick margarine usually has markings on the wrapper that will tell how much will equal 1/4 C, etc.

Tub oleo or shortening, however, requires some different techniques in measuring. Remember that 3/4 C plus 1/4 C equals 1 C. Fill a liquid measuring cup to the 3/4 C mark with water, drop in spoonfuls of oleo or shortening until the water level rises to the 1 C mark; when that happens, you know you have 1/4 C! Lift out with a slotted spoon so that water drains off and you have 1/4 C oleo or shortening!

Now, a couple of easy kid recipes.

SCOUT SUPPER

- 1 pkg macaroni and cheese dinner
- 1 can (16 oz) tomatoes
- 6 frankfurters
- 1 medium onion
- 1/4 C milk
- 1/4 C oleo plus 2 TBS
- 2 TBS pickle relish
- 1 TBS mustard

Prepare macaroni in 6 qts water brought to a boil, adding macaroni to cook. Cut frankfurters into diagonal slices. Chop onion into 1/4 C. Drain macaroni, return to pan. Add 1/4 oleo, 1/4 C milk and the cheese sauce and mix well. Add the can of tomatoes, with it's liquid, the frankfurters, the onion 2 or more TBS oleo, TBS pickle relish and 1 TBS mustard. Mix well. Cover and heat thoroughly, stirring occasionally.

PETS ADD ZIP TO LABOR DAY FUN

Whether you leave town or stay at home this Labor Day, that four-footed family member can make your holiday more fun!

If you plan on packing up the family for the weekend, you don't have to leave furry family members behind. Dogs and cats are welcome at about 6,000 hotels and motels across the country.

For those who prefer the backyard to the open road, however, dogs and cats can live up the traditional barbecue in many ways.

Plan a neighborhood "people/pet olympics." Events could include a 50-yard dash for both owners and their pets, or a 100-meter walk.

Let pets "strut their stuff" in a holiday pet parade. Award red, white and blue ribbons to owners of the most adorable, most friendly, most fluffy and largest or smallest pets.

No matter what your plans, your pet can help make this Labor Day a memorable one for the entire family.

Salt used in its pure form and in the many chemicals derived from it, directly affects almost all major industries. There's salt in shoe leather, in the dye of a hat and tons go into the production of paper.

I went home and thought

I brushed my $8.00 do out

WHAT MIGHT A NUCLEAR WASTE REPOSITORY LOOK LIKE?

Present nuclear waste disposal concepts call for the deep isolation of spent reactor fuel in selected geologic environments.

No long-term nuclear waste repositories have been built in the United States, and none will be constructed before considerable work has been completed. This work involves finding those very special deep underground and surface environments which are necessary for safe repository operation and isolation of nuclear wastes. In addition, the technology to ensure permanent isolation at these sites must be demonstrated sufficiently.

But conceptual designs of repositories have been completed. From the surface, a nuclear waste repository would resemble a relatively large mine. There would be a railroad siding; facilities for deep excavation; and buildings for unloading, handling, and repackaging nuclear wastes prior to isolation. Material excavated during construction of the repository would be placed in a temporary, protected storage pile. (Depending on the nature of the geologic formation where the repository is located, this material could be granite, basalt, rock salt, etc.) Where necessary, facilities would have concrete shielding to protect workers from nuclear radiation. Ventilation systems would be filtered to prevent the release of radioactive particles or gases. A total of about 200 to 400 acres would comprise the surface area of the repository.

From the surface, several vertical shafts would lead to tunnel-like storage zones about half a mile deep. Sealed in canisters and further protected by appropriate engineered barriers, the wastes would be placed in holes excavated along the tunnels.

As each storage zone is filled, the holes, tunnels, and shafts would be backfilled and sealed. However, for some period of time prior to final closure, the wastes may be maintained in a "retrievable" condition. Following the final closure, several independent barriers—some designed by man, others provided by nature—will assure that the wastes remain isolated from man and his environment.

Farming Is Big Business-- The Biggest!

A recent report by the U.S. Department of Agriculture points up some interesting facts:

- Agriculture is the nation's largest industry. Its assets, totaling a whopping $927 billion, are equal to about 88 percent of the capital assets of all manufacturing corporations in the United States.
- Agriculture is also our biggest employer. Between 14 and 17 million people work in some phase—from growing food and fiber to selling it.
- The foods that pour into supermarkets come in 6,000 to 8,000 different forms, many of which did not even exist five years ago and may very well not exist five years from now. (This is attributed to the fact that Americans are attracted to newer foods with more built-in conveniences—as well as to food in attractive packages that preserve the quality.)
- Despite recent rises in food prices, family income still buys considerably more food today than 30 years ago, partly because agriculture has become much more efficient and partly because consumer incomes have risen faster than food prices.

• The U.S. has approximately 2.3 million farms. This number is less than previous years, continuing a downward trend that started in 1936.

• Of all farms in this country producing at least $2,500 worth of products to market annually, 89 percent are family-owned.

On the typical family farm of today, the husband and wife are equal partners sharing in major decisions.

Because of the complexities of running a successful farming operation today, more and more farm families are turning to modern technology for assistance.

Farm management consultants now provide all kinds of data, from how much feed to buy for livestock to marketing and economic expertise.

The kitchen table is no longer an adequate office for a farm business. Office areas with office conveniences are being set up in farm homes.

And, returning to the Department of Agriculture report, here are more facts and figures. They indicate the size and importance of the business in which these farm families work:

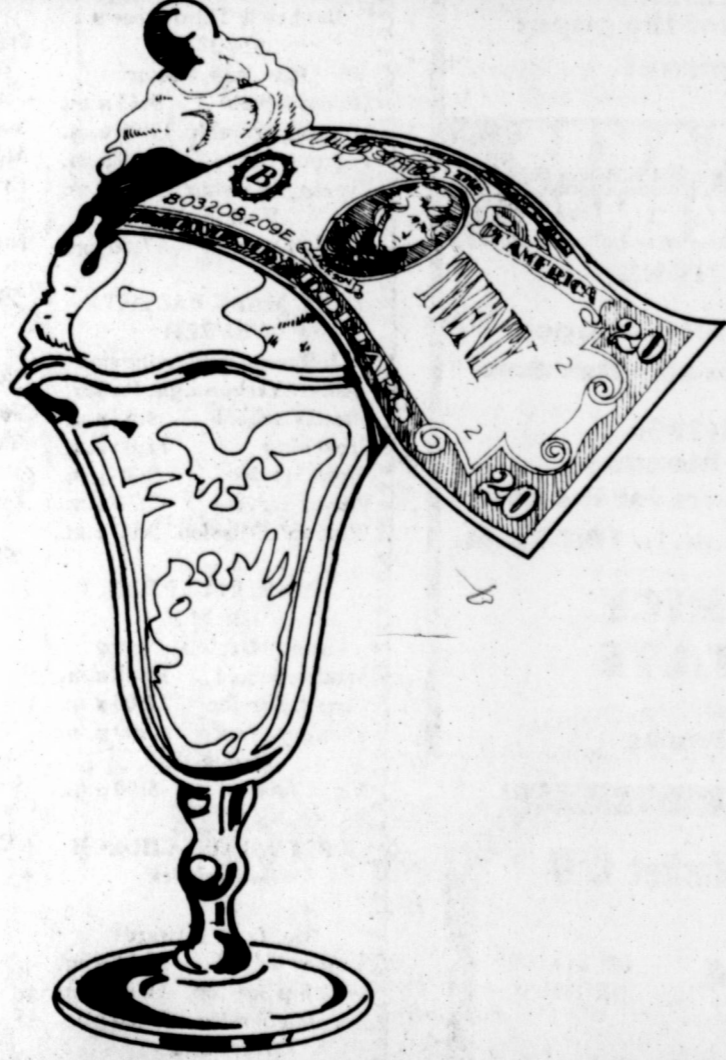

- American farmers now produce over 76 percent more crop output on the same number of acres than their fathers did.
- One farmworker supplies enough food and fiber for 68 people. (Only ten years ago the number was 45.)
- The U.S. exports more farm products than anyone else in the world. The production of one cropland acre in three goes overseas.

Shamrock's new Gibson's Discount Center held its open house August 26. It is located on I-40 East. Alex Saied, is the new owner.

A ribbon cutting ceremony was held at 9:00 a.m. with Mayor Selbert Worley doing the honors.

"We're proud of our new store and look forward to having you as our guest," Manager Jack Harris said.

"We sincerely feel that this store will help the Shamrock business community draw from a larger trade area and improve local retail business," Mr. Saied observed.

"With the buying power of more than 700 stores, Gibson's will be able to stock a variety of items at prices designed to keep area customers shopping in Shamrock instead of going to the larger cities."

Mr. Saied began his merchandising career with his father, the late Ben Saied, at Saied's Department Store in Childress in 1936. Following WWII, during which he served four years in the Navy, he returned to Childress where he operated Saied's Department Store together with several other stores in area towns.

Alex and his wife Mary have one son, Sammy, who is married to the former Katherine Sager. They have two children; David, 5, and Mark, 3.

Overall operation of Gibson's Discount Centers in Childress, Clarendon and Shamrock will be under Sammy's jurisdiction. The Childress store was opened in 1966 and the Clarendon store in 1970.

The new store, which occupies 32,000 square feet of floor space, features a complete grocery and meat department, a pharmacy, a jewelry department, automotive and sporting goods, hardware, soft goods and small appliances.

The site of the store required extensive preparations with more than 10,000 cubic yards of earth being rearranged for the building foundation and parking areas. Hallmark Builders, Inc. of Amarillo constructed the building with John Vinson serving as architect.

The handsome new building will be complemented with exterior landscaping to offer a comfortable, refreshing invitation as soon as you arrive at any one of the 150 parking spaces provided.

The copper-clad facade over the building's entry features decorative oriental stucco to enhance its appearance. Eight refrigerated air conditioner and heating units will take care of West Texas summer and winter extremes.

Developers of the store building, which will be leased by Mr. Saied and associates, consist of Dr. D.E. Blackletter of Shamrock, Dr. J.K. Lester and North Little Rock Medical Properties, Inc. of Little Rock, AK.

Ima Jean Clark, Maurine Butts' mother, has resigned Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford, OK after teaching pharmacy for 13 years to accept a position as pharmacist at the new Gibson's.

"I am really excited about moving to Shamrock and look forward to serving the people of Shamrock as a pharmacist in the new store," Mrs. Clark said. "If there is any way I can be of help to you, I'm no further away than your telephone."

Mrs. Clark's son-in-law, Michael Butts, is pharmacist for Gibson's Discount Center in Clarendon.

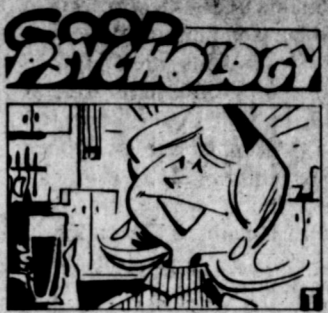

After receiving her pharmacy degree at Southwestern Oklahoma State University in 1966, Mrs. Clark was awarded a master's degree in pharmacology and toxicology by the University of Kansas at Lawrence in 1968, a masters in medical education from the University of Southern California in Los Angeles in 1975, and a doctorate in medical education from the University of Southern California in 1976.

Mrs. Clark has two grown daughters; Mrs. Michael Butts of Clarendon and Miss Cherokee Clark of Oklahoma City, and a granddaughter, Mylissa Butts of Clarendon.

Not all relaxing is achieved by loafing. Often, suggest psychologists, a few hours of vigorous exercise, or hard physical work, bring about a relaxation of body and mind. Many people feel more at peace after "working up a sweat." As they enjoy the peaceful fruits of their labors, many cap it off with a tall cool glass of low-cost iced tea.

The pharmacy in the Shamrock Gibson's Discount Center is owned by Mike Butts of Clarendon and Jerry Hodge of Amarillo.

HUMIDITY
 Maintaining a comfortable level of humidity in your home may help you hold down your energy costs.

Dry air absorbs more moisture from your skin than does humid air. The evaporation of body moisture cools you off in hot weather, and makes you feel chilly in cold weather.

That's why a home with the right level of humidity will require less air conditioning in the summer, and less heating in the winter for people to feel comfortable.

Electric appliances that add humidity to the air, humidifiers, and ones which remove it, dehumidifiers, may be a wise investment.

METRIC CONFUSION?

Why do physicians and pharmacists make the directions on prescriptions so difficult for the layman to understand? I give my baby a prescription vitamin drop. Sometimes the directions indicate to give "1 ml" but the dropper has only a "cc" mark on it.

The abbreviation cc means cubic centimeter and ml means milliliter. For all practical purposes, these terms are synonymous...a cc is equivalent to a ml. One cc or ml is about equal to 1/5 teaspoonful. Two cc's or ml's are about equal to 2/5 teaspoonful...and so forth. It is obviously simpler to deal with whole numbers (cc's or ml's) than fractions of a teaspoonful.

In the case of the vitamin drop, pharmacists may assume that the patron understands that a cc and a ml are equal: this is often a false assumption.

When a dropper or metric measuring device is not provided, pharmacists customarily convert metric measures to household measures. The following equivalents are generally used:

- 5 ml or cc = 1 TEAspoonful
- 15 ml or cc = 1 TABLEspoonful
- 30 ml or cc = 1 ounce
