Clarendon, Old and New
By HOBART EBEBY STOCKING

108 Berry, Stillwater, Okla. 74074

There is a letter, written in the 1930-ies to Mrs. J.D. Stocking by an early citizen of the first Clarendon: Morris Rosenfield. He was of German descent. In the early 1800-dreds an uncle then living in England heard of the new Republic of Texas favoring settlers with a grant of a section of land to any head-of-family settling on it. He did so, on land between Houston and Austin. His reports to relatives in Europe stimulated Morris' father to emigrate in 1860 to a section of land near Houston. His son, Morris, was born, matured and became an employee of Sanger Brothers, merchants in Dallas, Texas. It was their practice to establish mercantile stores at and beyond the end of the several railroads then building in Texas. In 1881, Morris was manager of a Sanger Store in Wichita Falls when he was summoned to Dallas, instructed to assemble merchandise and to open a store in Clarendon. Neither Rosenfield nor his employers knew where the place was but Rosenfield encountered a traveling salesman who had been there and could instruct him how he might find it: by stage from Wichita Falls.

Rosenfield's merchandise went north by slow freight wagon for $1.75 each hundred pounds. The stage leaving Wichita Falls was an elaborate handsome Concord vehicle. Fellow passengers were a State Senator (name and destination not recorded) an Army doctor enroute from Washington to Ft. Elliot and two black soldiers recently released from the penitentiary, presumably headed for Ft. Elliot. The stage rolled at eight to ten miles an hour, making stops now and then to exchange tired horses and stage. Each vehicle was less comfortable than the preceding and animals less sturdy.

At the crossing of Red River, high-water delayed the travelers. They camped in the scrub-oak along the River and Rosenfield was astonished by the hundreds, perhaps thousands, of turkeys. He was strictly a city-boy when he enquired of the driver: how could the owner collect and market turkeys from a locality so far from a commercial center? He learned the birds were wild.

Beyond the River, decrepitude of stage and teams reduced speed. At every stop, the stage had been replaced by another in less repair. By arrival at Clarendon, their transport was four wheels of dilapidation, swaying from side to side, sagging in the middle. So were the teams.

The freighted merchandise arrived about a week after the stage. Rosenfield recalled half a century later from retirement in Dallas, the pleasure afforded by sales that first day of open store: "I sold something to every man, woman and child in Clarendon and to many cowboys from surrounding ranches."

Rosenfield observed that the Buffalo were gone. In their stead, the prairie was dotted at wide intervals by huge piles of buffalo bones, each head identified by name of owner. The debris was freighted to Wichita Falls for about 1880. For a year or so, bone-collectors enjoyed prosperity from the meat business established merchant. In 1884, he formed a partnership with B.H. White and the two bought-out Sanger Brothers. Theirs was the best, the only, store for several years within a radius of fifty miles. As a safety measure, cowboys were not allowed to wear arms in the town. On arrival from a ranch, they parked their guns at Rosenfield's store.

Meanwhile, the Fort Worth and Denver Railroad layed rails on a line toward Denver, somewhere in the northwest. Eventually it was evident that Clarendon was not to be on that line. Rosenfield and others met with a Mr. Montgomery, town-agent for the railroad. He informed them that the Company was agreeable to establishment of a new town if citizens of Clarendon would provide land for use of the railroad. Money was raised, probably by subscription, for purchase of a section belonging to J.C. Phillips and adjacent to the railroad. One quarter was given to the railroad and the remainder to a Town Lot Company. In 1885 the new townsite was surveyed and lots sold. 1887 was the year of bulk removal from the Old to the New. For a time new Clarendon was a tent-city but it was solidly established when designated a mid-division point on the Wichita Falls-Textline

Bronchos ready to take on the Bobcats

As we have each week in the past, analyzed the game just completed, River Road was the best team the Bronco's have faced. They were as big as we were and have the speed to match us. But as the team prepared the game their mind was not there on the Wildcats. The team and Clarendon fans are so bent on beating Childress that nothing else matters. Beat Childress and the year is a success. WRONG. There is a district championship to defend.

We are extremely excited to be playing Childress since we are 4-0 and they have been beaten. But the tradition of Childress, the intent of their coaches, and the fact of Homecoming, all are going to make it so much tougher for the Bronchos. We have always played them real tough and we expect to be no different Friday night.

Childress has exceptional speed, with Donald Sims (Sr. 138 lb.) returning for the 3rd attempt over 1000 yards. His brother Mike (147 lb. Sophomore) is in his class of athletes. The offensive and defensive line is about the size of River Road and considerable better disciplined.

The secondary is young (3 sophomores) and the line-backers are quick, 2 returning starters. The quarterback is Kevin Moore and wears number 12 (Perry Moren's old jersey); that says enough. Through the years, there have been many games between these two schools and there is a bitter rival there. But this year we do not want revenge, but we are after a perfect game with considerable fewer penalties and better defensive effort. Overall, you might say, "Bronchos- The Quest for the Best."

Bronchos beat River Road 26 - 6

Brad Woodman reputed any rumors of flaws in the Clarendon pass defense by intercepting three passes, as the Bronco's extended their undefeated record to 4-0 by romping the River Road Wildcats, 26-6.

Woodman anchored the defense which stopped the Cats cold time after time. Meanwhile, Hosea Hearn led a ground attack that pounded out 334 yards and scored four touchdowns.

The River Road homecoming crowd of over 3,000 watched as the Wildcats received the opening kickoff and, on only the third play from scrimmage, lost their first pass to Woodman, who returned the ball to the Wildcat 35. Three plays later, Brad Thompson cruised into the end zone for the Bronco's first score. The PAT kick failed, leaving the Bronco's with a 6-0 lead. The Bronco's seemed to be in control most of the game, but the Wildcats were constantly within reach. Clarendon hurt itself often, though, with mistakes. Bronco drives were stalled by three lost fumbles and 12 penalties for a 105 yards. But the defense always seemed to rise to the occasion, allowing River Road only 146 total yards and 7 first downs. The two Wildcat quarterbackbacks combined to hit only two of twelve passes for 30 yards and 4 interceptions (3 by Woodman, 1 by Bobby Weatherton). Woodman added 4 solo and 6 assisted tackles, while John Braxton continued his good form in dropping 16 (10 unassisted) from his line backer spot, most by any Bronco. Con't Page 4

30th Hedley Cotton Festival Oct 9

The 30th Annual Cotton Festival held in Hedley will begin its festivities Friday, October 9th with games in the streets and the Queen's Coronation.

The big doings begin Saturday, October 10th, at 11 a.m. The Hedley Lion's Club will house the famous barbeque dinner. The Lion's Club will prepare the delicious feast and charge a trifling $3.50 per plate. If you are not satisfied with the heaps of food, the Lioness Club will also be selling slices of cream pies to go with a cup of coffee and that should certainly sate the heartiest appetite. If, however, you might become peckish later in the day, purchase one of the whole pies that will be for sale and bring your own fork.

After the barbeque, settle yourself on the curb and watch the parade which will begin at 2:00 p.m. The Clarendon Band will march in the parade to provide the music to delight the martial souls in us all.

There will be more floats and entrees than a town the size of Hedley should have. But this little community doubles its efforts each year and provides the most beautiful most stunning, most wondrous floats imaginable within seventeen counties! Come and see what they can provide in the way of floats! All using cotton as the base of the decorations.

At 7 p.m. the Fiddler's contest will begin. After the finest fiddler three has been selected and after everyone's hands are tired from applauding the exciting sounds of fiddle and banjo, the crowd can then turn out to watch the square dance club perform outside from 8:30 until whenever.

Donley County Second annual Little Miss and Master

Alpha Upsilon Epsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi is announcing the Second Annual Little Miss and Master Donley County Contest Saturday, October 24, 1981 at 7:30 p.m. in the Harned Sisters Fine Arts Center, Clarendon College.

This will be a contest for boys and girls ages four to six years who reside in Donley County. The boys and girls will be judged on their personality and appearance. No entry fee will be required from the entrants. The children will be sponsored by the area businesses.

Each entrant will receive a memento from the pageant. The winners will be awarded a crown, trophy and savings bond. The theme this year will be a "Happy Halloween". All the children that are eligible to enter will have an enjoyable and memorable evening. All the relatives and friends are welcome to join us on the occasion.

As usual, there will be a small midway set up on the main street. This is certainly a fun opportunity to while away an afternoon, spend money to be used as donations for the High School classes and GirlsTown, the Lions main concern.

There will be qualified judges from out of town to decide who will be the Second Annual Little Miss and Master.

Detailed applications can be picked up at Hensons, The Nook, Osburn Furniture, The Tumbleweed, Jud's Hair Design. Deadline for entries is October 10th, so be sure to get an application filled out and returned by that date.

Due to the stage room and time the first 40 entrants will be accepted.

With your help and support we will make this Second Pageant as enjoyable an event for the county as it was last year.

Band Boosters to meet Monday

The Clarendon Band Boosters will meet at 7:30 Monday night in the Band Hall.

Pat McCombs, president requested that everyone interested in assisting and promoting band activities attend. It is for all band parents from grades 5th through 12th.

Fun After 50 meets Oct. 3rd.

Saturday, October 3 at 10:00 a.m. the Fun After 50 Club will meet in the Lion's Club hall for a covered dish luncheon, business meeting and program.

Cotton Tour

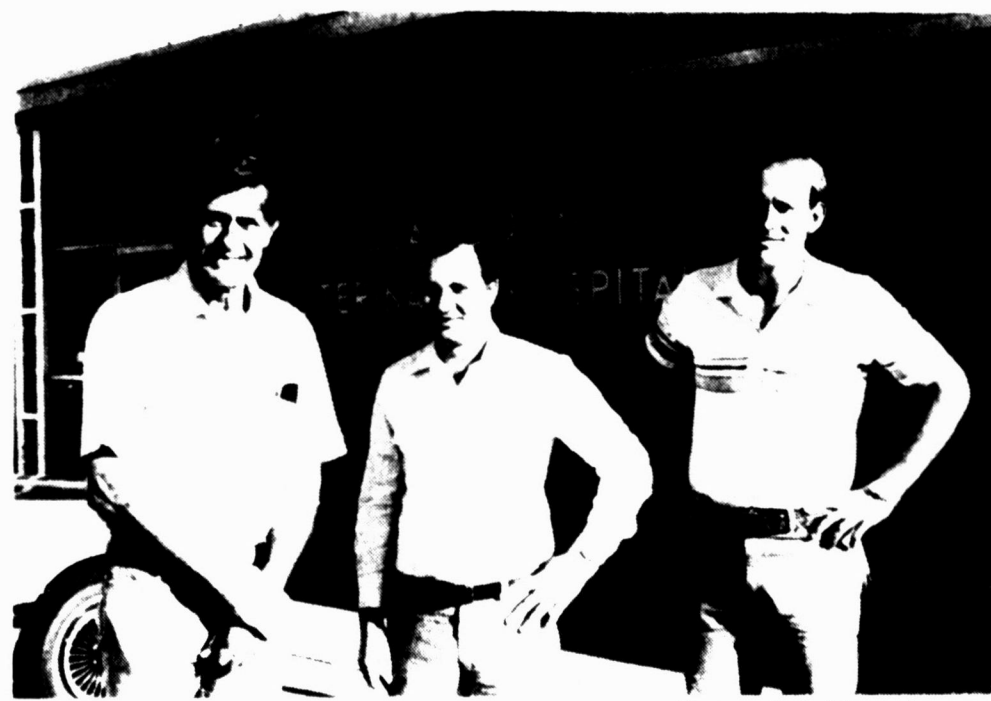

Ronald Gooch and the County Agent's Office extends a welcome to all those interested in area cotton to attend the annual Cotton Festival Tour on Friday, October 3.

Those in Clarendon may meet at the County Agent's office at the court house at 8:45 or at the Paymaster Gin in Lelia Lake at 8:45. The buses will leave from the Paymaster Gin in Lelia Lake for the tour at 9:00 a.m. sharp.

Tour stops will be made at several cotton variety demonstration plots. You will get to see more than 20 different cotton varieties, different fertilization and irrigation rates and cotton sprayed to control bollworm.

The following Extension Service Specialists will be here to discuss cotton varieties, cotton production practices, fertilization, diseases and insects; Dr. Dale Pennington, Soil Chemist; Dr. James Supok, Cotton Agronomist; Dr. Robert Berry, Plant Pathologist; and Dr. Carl Patrick, Entomologist. Curtis Schaefer, Entomologist at Clarendon College will also attend. They will all be available for questions.

We are looking forward to seeing you Friday Morning, October 2. Refreshments will be served.

AUSTRALIAN ROD POLKINGHORNE VISITING WITH Doctors Dehyle's to learn about cattle feedlots.

Australian cattle feeder visits Texas feed lots

Rod Polkinghorne, a native of Australia, was in Clarendon visiting the Dr. Dehyle's to learn about their secrets in the cattle feedlot operations. "Everywhere I've been, A & M and other places, people tell me that the Dehyles are the kings of the business," Polkinghorne said. "I know Larry Dodson, an American who married an Australian girl and works in the Charton Feedlot. He is great friends with Dr. Dehyle and praised him highly."

The Charton Feedlot operation is a fairly new business. In fact, feedlot cattle have only been introduced to the Australian diet for ten years now. In the early '70's, grain was incredibly cheap in that country, so interesting men such as Polkinghorne, decided to try raising cattle on that cheap grain. The cattle in Australia are mostly, even today, grass fed. They get up to 650-800 lbs. and are butchered. The housewives expect and demand lean beef. "It's hard to get the housewife used to marbled beef. They've always been told not to eat too much fat, so they want lean beef," says Polkinghorne. "But they've not tasted good quality beef, so if you're not used to it, it's hard to tell someone they'll like it."

Australia has no standard for the quality of its beef. Because there is no standard when cattle are shipped great distances and die in the cars or become so ill that they need to be killed at the dock, "kill docked" is the term, super market butchers will come to the docks and select their meat. This meat is darker and doesn't last long on the shelf, but it is what a lot of people eat.

The housewife in Australia doesn't know that she can expect and even demand excellent quality beef year round, that it isn't the fault of poor cooking techniques that the beef steak is tough. "Australians don't appreciate that they can control the quality of their beef," said Polkinghorne.

Many Australian super markets have a money back guarantee on their meat. It is amazing that they can afford to do that, but Australian housewives don't know any different, yet.

Supermarkets are the best buyer for feedlot beef, "that doesn't mean that they like to pay the difference between grass fed and feedlot beef, though," Polkinghorne said. However, feedlot beef is seldom returned by housewives.

Charton is about 160 miles inland from Melbourne. It is dry country, raising mostly wheat, barley and oats. Because Melbourne has some citrus groves, orange pulp is fed as roughage to the cattle in the feedlot in Charton.

The size of Australia is the same as the continental United States. The population, however, is only 30 million. 70% of the population is concentrated within three cities along the coastal areas. That leaves a lot of open land. Most of it is used to raise livestock.

There are vast, open areas involved demanding that the cattle raisers use helicopters as well as horses to round up their stock. "What they can find is what they bring to market. Many of their cattle con't on page 3

...the answer is no. However, residents of counties offering a white-winged dove season are required to purchase a $3 white-winged dove stamp to hunt during the four-day whitewing season.

A person hunting in his county of residence need not purchase a hunting license to hunt any species except deer or turkey.

Waterfowl hunters must purchase a $5 state waterfowl stamp, even if hunting in the county of residence. Federal law requires possession of a federal migratory waterfowl stamp (duck stamp) for all waterfowl hunting.

"Being able to poll hunters who hunt waterfowl will be a great help to the department," said Bill Brownlee, migratory bird program director. "In the past it has been difficult to obtain a sampling of waterfowl hunters from information provided by hunting licenses."

Texas residents under 17 years of age or 65 and over must have a resident exempt hunting license to hunt deer or turkey, but need no license to hunt any other species in any county during open hunting season.

Shotgun to be given Thursday

If you haven't already purchased beautiful over and under 10 gauge Rueger Shotgun from a Lion's Club member, time is running short. This gun is a honey, valued at nearly $700!

Shotgun season is upon us NOW! Get going with your dollar bills and round up a Lion. Remember, the money you spend will be used to help build a cottage for girls at GirlsTown, USA. The Lion's Club has already sold enough tickets to pay for the gun, so you can be assured that any ticket you buy now will be directly used for the GirlsTown project. Tax

The drawing will be held Thursday in the Lion's Club Hall. You do not have to be present to win, but think of the thrill of looking smugly down your barrel at all of those losers when you DO win the shotgun!

RON AND KAREN NICHOLS

Twins born-John Vincent and Jeremy Vance Nichols

Ron and Karen Nichols of Clarendon were doubly blessed with twins on the fifteenth of August 1981. The first born, John Vincent, was born at 9:04 a.m. weighing six pounds and four ounces. At the present he weighs nine pounds and two ounces. Jeremy Vance following at 9:05 a.m. weighed five pounds and eight ounces, now weighing eight pounds and six ounces. Grandparents of the twins live in New York state. Reva Goodridge the mother of the father lives in Andover, N.Y. The parents of the mother, Lowell and Anna Hall, live in Rome, N.Y. Their great-grandpa J.B. Lane lives here in Clarendon.

RUSSELL ALEXANDER won third place with his oil painting at the Tri-State Fair. Russell is an art student of Tillie Anglins. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rick Alexander.

FACTS & FIGURES

In 1980, domestic producers met 61 percent of our nation's crude oil needs and 59 percent of our sugar requirements. GEPLACEA, an organization of 22 Latin American and Caribbean sugar producing countries, supplied almost 75 percent of U.S. sugar imports.

The U.S. Beet Sugar Association points out that any greater reliance on foreign sugar would (1) reduce the dependability of supplies (2) invite greater market volatility (3) eliminate more than 100,000 jobs and (4) add about a billion dollars to this country's trade deficit.

Even more disturbing is the likelihood of a cartel of sugar-exporting nations manipulating trade similar to the way OPEC countries control crude oil supplies.

FARMERS STATE BANK AND TRUST CO.

Clarendon, Texas

Division. The Railroad employed 200 employees, built a roundhouse and disbursed a monthly payroll of about $50,000. First station-agent was J.M. Wells, who at age 86, died in retirement in Dallas in the 1930-ies.

Earliest church in the new town was Methodist. One by one, others sprang from the prairie and there was a Catholic Church, a Catholic Convent and a Catholic school. The Windsor Hotel was built where the old Antro Hotel now crumbles. Owned by Jim Cain, front of the hotel was a saloon; the back (toward the railroad) was kitchen and dining-room. Rented rooms were upstairs. Ultimately the Windsor burned but there were other saloons: The Blue Goose, Frank Boccher's and John Grissom's. Site of the old First National Bank was the butcher shop belonging to I.E. Jones. Across the street where now stands the Farmers State Bank, was another, belonging to Wallace Parks. For several weeks the main attraction there was a black bear captured in Palo Duro Canyon, presumably loosely chained as it set the town on its ears by running loose with alarming frequency.

First child born in the new town was Clarendon Hildebrand. For that honor, the Town Lot Company gave him one of their products: a town lot. Second youngster was Morris Rosenfield's son, Jonas, born 1888. In 1935 he was a resident of (where else?) Los Angeles, California. Tom Martindale was the first teacher and was for several years Town Clerk. First death in the new settlement was that of Bud Gibbons who, digging a well, suffered a fatally fractured skull from the blow of a bucket falling from the surface. Water for new Clarendon was pumped from a well, powered by a horse on a treadmill.

Early arrivals in Clarendon, Old and New included among others now forgotten: George and Abe Antrobus, Albert Gentry, J.C. Phillips, W.H. Oliver, Frank Daniels, Ralph Jefferson (postmaster in the old town), Charles Lewis (from Maryland?), Rufus and Ben Chamberlain, Shan and William Atterbury, the Hildebrand family, Col. T.S. Bugbee, W.H. Patrick, Gus Hartman, William Ross, Rev. George Graham, Dr. J.D. Stocking (born a New Yorker, having lived in Dallas and Lawrence, Texas, arrived in Old Clarendon March 15, 1885 with wife Emma Angeline Hubbel, sons Fred and Roy, age six and four. Wife Emma died two years later of tuberculosis), George Morgan, Mat Wells, Henry Taylor, Frank Whit; The Caraway family, Charlie Beverly, Mr. Beville, Jim and William Cain, Jim Otey; the Murdock family, the Stanton family, the Grant family (all three families from Illinois), George Latimer, an employee of the railroad whose wife, Mary Ward, was a sister to Sarah, Dr. Stocking's second wife. Indeed! history repeats itself: articles on early Clarendon history by Sarah Ward Stocking, published in the local and Amarillo papers, are the source of all information presented here by her son.

are never accounted for because of the vastness of their range," Polkinghorne said.

The grassland is dryland, of the type similar to the El Paso area. Wells have not come into their own yet because people reason that "if 50 years ago a man tried to dig a well and he got nothing, they think that there is nothing there, even though another ten feet might produce water," the Australian said.

The main types of cattle are Hereford, Shorthorn and Angus. The out-back has some pretty rangey crosses that are stringy, tough critters even at best. When there is drought up in the dry grassland, thousands of these mean beasts are shipped to the feedlot to be fattened before they are sold. When the enterprise doesn't work, then it is all the fault of the feedlot, proof to the Australian cattleman that it couldn't possibly be worth while to take cattle there in the first place.

Australia's beef industry is built solidly on poor quality beef, even to their standards. They export 70% of their grass raised beef for hamburger and canned beef. Cattle raisers only feed if the price for cattle is down and they have a deficit in numbers.

Charton Feedlot has created a double purpose. Because the business is so dependent upon the seasons and drought, they raise dairy herds as well as feed. In the midst of the feedlot operation is a milking area. In this manner, the operation will always have a lucrative business.

Polkinghorne travels to California to see their dairy operations and to Texas to see it's feeder operations. He also has found that it is cheaper to come to Colorado and Kansas to buy equipment directly to be shipped to his feedlot than to simply import his equipment. He does alot of traveling in the states to see different types of both feeder and dairy operations.

Clarendon is highly honored that Rod Polkinghorne should think that Dr. s Dehyle are so expert in their skills that he would come to visit our town and our wonderful veterinarian team.

JERRY G. CHAMBLISS

New manager for WTU Co.

Jerry G. Chambliss has assumed duties as local manager for West Texas Utilities Company in Clarendon, succeeding Allen Estlack, who resigned. The announcement was made by District Manager A. D. Green of Childress.

Chambliss, his wife, Dana, and two children moved to Clarendon from Chillicothe, where he had been WTU's local manager since 1976. He was reared in Winters and is a 1963 graduate of Winters High School. He also attended Angelo State University. Chambliss joined WTU as LARRY SUMMERS presents a check and certificate of completion to Hedley Fire Chief Leon Ward last week.

Hedley Firechief receives certificate

Leon Ward, the Fire Chief in Hedley, received a check and certificate for his attendance at the week long Firemen's Training School at Texas A & M in July from Larry Summers of the Donley County Farm Bureau. Every year the Donley County Farm Bureau sponsors a fire chief from a local town to attend the school. The firemen choose their course at the school from a list including Fire Fighting, Fire Prevention, Fire Department Officer Training, Fire Department Pump Maintenance, Specialized Fire Protection and Disaster Rescue Training.

Larry Summers presented a check for the reimbursement of the expenses Leon had for attending the school. Summers also gave Ward a certificate.

Summers congratulated Ward on his participation in the school and said that he hoped Ward could be a further benefit to his community as a result of this experience.

SPORTS SHORTS

In the heat of competition, sports enthusiasts may lose sight of eye safety. The racquet sports—tennis, racquetball, badminton, squash—account for many of the 35,000 sports and recreational eye injuries in a year.

Always observe the safety rules when you play, reminds the National Society to Prevent Blindness. Wear special eyewear for sports activities. Eye protectors for people not requiring corrective lenses are available at sporting goods stores or through many eye doctors and opticians. If you require corrective lenses, have your prescription made up in safety glasses.

a serviceman in Winters in 1970. He was promoted to local manager in Miles in 1974 and served there until his transfer to Chillicothe. At the time of his move to Clarendon, Chambliss was past president of the Chillicothe Lions Club, as past president of the volunteer fire department and as a past director of the Ambulance Board. He also had been Sunday School superintendent at the First Baptist Church.

In his spare time, Chambliss is active as a square dance caller and teacher, and as a fiddle player in a string band. His other hobbies are hunting and fishing.

The Cahmbliss children are Jerry Wayne, 14, and Margaret Michelle, 8.

As local manager, Chambliss is responsible for WTU's customer service in Clarendon, including billings, collections, merchandise sales and supervision of distribution facilities within the city.

Write to your Congress man

The President of the United States appeared on national television Thursday evening with his proposed budget cuts and revisions. The president appealed to all of the citizens of this free nation to tighten their belts and help the country get back on its feet. In order to know whether or not the nation is in support or disagreement with the Presidents' plans, we all have been asked to write our congressmen and let them know how we feel about the proposed issues.

Rep. Jack Hightower, 13th District, Room 2348 Rayburn Building, Washington, D.C. 20510.

Senator John Tower, Room 142 Russell Building, Washington, D.C. 20510. Rep. Kent Hance, 19th District, Room 1039 Longworth Building, Washington, D.C. 10515.

Senator Lloyd M. Bentsen, Room 240 Russell Building, Washington, D. C. 20510.

Take time to drop them a post card stating whether or not you support the President of the United States or whether you disagree with President Reagan's proposed budget. They need to know how their constituents feel in order to correctly vote on the issues as they come up before the Senate and House.

New Colts Bulldogs

BY BOB DEMBOWSKI
"An excellent opportunity," was the reason that 25 year old Mark Adams took over the job as men's Basketball coach at Clarendon

College. Adams is a graduate of Texas Tech University with a Broadfield Social Science degree. Adams was a two year letter'er for the south

Golden Gloves Boxing champion in Texas.

This will be Coach Adams' first head coaching job, since his recent assistant coaching position at Clarendon's rival, Howard Jr. College.

Adams finds his new job at a disadvantage, having his team already recruited for him by last year's coach Mark Nixon.

"We lost four players with coach Nixon's move," stated Adams, "two of these were 6.7 and 6.5 starters."

Even with the loss Coach Adams feels that, "The strength of this years team will be our overall depth."

This years team consists of six sophomores and 8 Freshmen. "We have 14 young men with the same amount of ability," commented Coach Adams, "but I can honestly say that after four weeks of practice, I can't name one starter."

Coach Adams' final comment was, "We are looking forward to a very exciting and successful season this year."

Colts Corral

Hi, all you Colt fans. Well, the 1981-82 school year has started really well. Our football team this year is 7th and 8th grade combined because of a lack of 7th grade players. The mighty Colts played Canadian last week; unfortunately they were beaten 42 to 20. This week the Colts play Wellington, there. We hope to see you there to help support the Colts! Remember school pictures will be taken October 6.

Now for some Gossip!

We support the Bronchos

A late third quarter drive put together by the Broncos seemed to be the difference in the game. With the whole fourth quarter left, the Wildcats were well within striking distance with the score 13-6. But that drive took all the spunk out of River Road when David Weatherton swept left and scored on a six-yard play that, after Bob Weatherton's kick, put the Broncos on top 20-6. That was the proverbial straw on the Wildcats' back, as it proved to be too large a deficit. The Bronco defense halted River Road on four straight downs and had merely the task of grinding down the clock. But Woodman was not finished with his heroics, by any means. He broke through the Wildcat line and rumbled 59 yards for paydirt in his only carry of the night to put the icing on the cake.

The well-publicized contest was supposedly a pivotal game for both teams. For the Broncos, it was the toughest test of their abilities yet. Despite the mistakes, head coach Ted Allen seemed extremely pleased with the Bronco performance. He went so far as to say that it was a huge step in the making of a successful season. So far, there has been little problem in making this the best grid start for the Broncos since 1969, when the Clarendon squad had a 10-0 regular season mark. That team went on to the quarterfinals and finished at 12-1, led by all-state quarterback Jim Moore.

The 1981-82 squad seems to be headed in the same direction, if not more so. The feeling seems to be that "we will be playing more than 10 games this fall!" an implication of plenty of playoff action.

The confidence level is high, and it will need to be, as the Broncos travel to Childress tomorrow. The Bobcats have a tradition of winning, especially against Clarendon. The Broncos will try to break a string of 9 straight victories in the series. Yes, the Broncos have only beaten the Bobcats once before, ever, and that came in 1971. But the last two years have shown super well-played games between the two squads. The Broncos will return to Childress for the first time since a barely-missed field goal with only a few seconds left prevented Clarendon an upset victory. Tomorrow's game is set at 8 p.m. for the spoiling of Childress's homecoming.

HOSEA HEARN - Offense

BRAD WOODMAN - Defense

Players of the Week

Brad Woodman, the 6-0, 154 pounder, wearing number 9 on his jersey, has received a 2A honor.

Woodman's performance on defense enabled him to gain the title of Globe-News area Class 2A player of the week this week.

Woodman, a senior safety, intercepted three passes for a total of 85 return yards, broke up another pair of aerials, had six solo tackles and four assists and rushed for a 59-yard TD on offense.

Woodman picked off a pass from River Road's Jeff Reynolds on the third play of the game and returned it to set up the Bronchos' first touchdown. With approximately 60 seconds to play in the game and in his role as a backup quarterback, Woodman raced around end for his 59-yard score. Coach Allen bragged on Woodman, "Brad really covered the field, we had backed our secondary up to improve our pass coverage and it worked."

Hosea Hearn, Senior Tailback, carried the ball 15 times for 104 yards and a TD. He also had four solo tackles. Wearing number 40, Hearn played a super game for the Bronchos.

Sister Ruth Hancock honored

Sixty guests attended a delicious dinner buffet on Thursday, September 17th with Clarendon Chapter No. 6, O.E.S. for the dual purpose of Friendship Night, and to honor our Deputy Grand Matron, Sister Ruth Hancock.

Visiting Chapters included members from Amarillo Chapter #787, Pampa Chapter #65, Hedley Chapter #413, Wellington Chapter #238, Childress Chapter #101, and Rotan Chapter #52.

Sisters Derelle Stark and Pauline Morris registered out of town guests.

Light entertainment followed the dinner after which everyone retired to the Chapter room for a Stated Meeting. Brother Paul Hancock honored the Chapter by singing some lovely hymns, and also a parody to our Deputy Grand Matron. Sister Ruth was presented with a corsage, and a memory book of her year.

Sister Anne Kennedy added to the evening's entertainment playing many beautiful pieces on the piano.

Worthy Matron, Polly Sarich ended the evening reciting a poem entitled "How Big Is God".

Clarendon Chapter #6 has been honored this year to have had Sister Ruth as our Deputy Grand Matron as had the entire District.

Troop III news

By CRYSTAL HAVENS

September 28, Brownie Troop III had their meeting to elect officers for the month of October. Audra Hoggard got president, Jill Kidd got vice-president, and Crystal Havens got secretary. After the election some of the girls worked on finishing their Safety and Ready Helper Badges. There are fifteen girls in the Troop.

Look what I have! He is fine.

Brownies Salute Flag

If you were lucky enough to see the Clarendon Broncos play last Friday night, you witnessed the flag-raising ceremony by the Girl Scouts. The new First Grade Brownies attending were: Claire Boston, Sheri Hall, Stella Jarmillo, Carla Lopez, Ginger McAneer, Laura McAneer, Amy McCord, Dorcas Osburn, Kristal Percival, Tracy Shadle, and Tracie Shields accompanied by their leader, Jondel Moffett.

This was a very proud and exciting first formal ceremony for these girls—they all performed very well. We Girl Scouts hope that we can continue to show Clarendon and our area our caring respect for our country, especially the Texas Pan-handle.

Daze of Our Lives

By JEAN BURCHETT

The worst thing about making a fool of yourself is that there is usually someone in the family standing around to see you do it. I'm rarely ever the observer.

A few years ago Hubby and I went through the wax museum in Colorado Springs. We paid the admission and walked through a door into the past. Velvet ropes separated us from the concave room-like settings where former presidents and people of renown stood or reclined in such authenticity that I drew my breath. I could smell the powder in George Washington's wig. Franklin D. and Eleanor Roosevelt sat listening to an Atwater Kent radio to catch the news.

"This is something!" I said to Hubby who pointed out the fakeness of the whole layout. Well! I was so transfixed that when we saw Abe Lincoln he said, "I think he'll pull through, don't you?"

He threw me such a look of disgust that it symdied the aura of that setting and said, "C'mon. I'm getting hungry."

Undaunted, I went up to a scene of Alice in Wonderland. "Can you believe this?" I asked the sweat-clad man at my right who hovered over the rope apparently as engrossed as I. "Look at the hair on that little boy's wrist. Why, he looks as real as we do!"

The man didn't answer right away, so I said, to contrast the gentleness at my side to make excuses for Hubby. Two glass eyes met mine. If he'd had a wick in his head he would have burned for three months. "Come on!" Hubby groaned. "You would talk to a hoe handle if it was wearing a hat."

He told the story for years. "She doesn't even know a cold body from a warm one," he guffawed. (Which, when you think of it doesn't say a heck of a lot for him.)

Last week my daughter and I were shopping in a nearby city mall. We passed a fashionable boutique where two mannequins were diked out in electric blue and magenta garb. "I wouldn't be caught dead in that rigging!" I said. "Those colors flash like a nickelodeon bottom."

"Mama, she winked at you."

"Who?"

"The mannequin." "I'm not falling for that old trap," I said. So the mannequin did it again while I stared, open mouthed, until she ran out of breath, stepped off the riser, and was replaced by another live one to assume a chalk-like stance.

"Do you think there is something wrong with me?" I asked my daughter.

"Yes," she said. "But we love you anyway."

Wayne Mays celebrates 10th birthday

A birthday celebration and cookout in honor of Wayne Mays was held at the City Park Sunday evening. Hot dogs, homemade ice cream and chocolate cake were served to the relatives and friends of Wayne on his 10th birthday.

Those attending were his parents Mr. and Mrs. Gary Mays and his brother Logan; grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Molder and Eureda Mays, aunt Lori Mays, and Kay McDaniels, Diane and Elaine, and Mr. and Mrs. John Shelley, Michael, Doug and Kimberley, and Helen Woody.

Agriculture Study Hearings scheduled

Senate Subcommittee on Agriculture, Senator Bill Sarpalius announces that Amarillo will be host in December for five topics of discussion from the Subcommittee on Agriculture interim study hearings.

They include Elevator Explosion, Elevator Bonding, Water Availability, Loan Guarantee, and Transportation of Ag Commodities.

These hearings provide legislators the opportunity to learn first-hand the problems, accomplishments, and goals of these programs from the people directly involved and affected by them. The information gathered will ultimately be used to aid in formulating possible future legislation to benefit the people of Texas.

Local

Mrs. O. C. Watson's visitors last week were two of her children, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Watson, Jr. of Colorado Springs, Colo.; and a daughter Dorothea Ledbetter of Amarillo. All those present reported a nice visit.

SHANNA OWENS AND Leall Myers, her Home Ec teacher, of Hedley, exhibiting a blue and white dot pillow she made for her Room during Homemaking II this fall.

Hedley exhibitors at Tri-State Fair

Shanna Owens and Lisa Mullins (not pictured) represented Hedley High School last week at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo. Shanna received a white ribbon for her pecan pie entry and Lisa also received a white ribbon for her chocolate pudding cake entry. Lisa entered a blue and white gingham checked pillow she made during Homemaking II in the Junior Arts and Crafts Division of the Fair.

The girls will continue their study of home decorating and improvement by decorating with sheets, refinishing furniture, and growing an indoor garden using a hot box.

LVNA will have meeting

The L.V.N.A. Greenbelt Division will be having their regular monthly meeting Thursday October 1st at 7:30 p.m. at the Medical Center. We would like to encourage each member to be present to vote in new officers for the year. We would also like to encourage any L.V.N. to visit us to see if you'd like to join as an active member of our division. We have a scholarship in honor of Sue Hopper given each year to a worthy Vocational Nursing Student. Also we hold receptions, medical seminars, and have bake sales and garage sales to help support our activities along with a lot of fun.

Don't forget to come to vote for your favorite person to be in leadership of this organization.

CRAN JUIC
The state beverage of Massachusetts is cranberry juice.

In the interest of public knowledge, the citizens of Clarendon are made aware of their City Ordinances, the Clarendon Press will print city ordinances. Some of these ordinances are obviously out dated, but the Clarendon Press feels that each and every citizen should be aware of their local laws and ordinances. The Press is not making any statement for or against these ordinances.

The water Meter Ordinance on page 137 is a reminder to the citizens that it is punishable by fine to open, deface or tamper with meter boxes on city water lines, or to turn off water or to turn on water or to tamper with the cut-off or to change the reading of the water meter. The fine for this is not less than $5 nor more than $25 for each and every offense.

Carnival Ordinance on page 139 prohibits owners of circus, carnivals, stock company show or tent show to build, erect, maintain, construct, or operate or conduct any show within 200 feet of a private residence, place of business or place of public worship within the corporate limits of Clarendon. The fine is not less than $10 nor more than $100 for each offense.

Marketing of produce Ordinance in 1925 set aside Sully St. as the farm marketing street due to congestion of traffic on Kearney.

In 1926, due to some emergency, a special street paving ordinance on pages 145-152 providing street pavement was established.

First St. Bridge was built in May of 1926 with Mayor Taylor approving the ordinance on page 153 as an emergency procedure.

$50,000 with a 6% interest rate to pave streets and build a bridge is in the Ordinance on page 154-192. It lists individual assessments for the tax levied to make the pavement and bridge work possible. Assessed rate per linear foot for curb was 30c. Assessed rate per front foot for other improvements totalled $7,874.93. Total amount of property owners part was $4,904.96. City part was $2,362.48.

First St. and Kearney St. stop signs: Front St., 3rd St. stop sign raised. It is against the law to run a stop sign, with a fine of $25 for doing so.

Jay-walking on Kearney St. prohibited. Ordinance on page 200 established cross-walks on Kearney St. The fine for Jay-walking is not to exceed $10.

4th St. pavement begun in 1926 as state of emergency. The Ordinance begins on page 205 and continues with a list on page 215 of S. Front, Sully, 2nd, Gorst, Jefferson, 4th St., Winne St, 3rd or portions of to be paved. Tax assessments begin on page 217 and lists individuals to be taxed and their rate through page 227. Total cost for the owners came to $4,075.75; total cost to the city was $1,947.87. Total cost to district 37 was $6,023.62.

Alley blocking against city ordinance on page 234. Between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. it is against the law to block the alleys. The fine is from $5 to $10.

2nd St. gas stations prohibited the length and breadth of 2nd St. any where within the corporate limits of the City. This was established because 2nd was designated as State Highway 5 and Federal Aid would be withheld if gas pumps were located along the highway.

Traffic laws. It is against the law to exceed 20 mph in the city limits.

It is against the law to fail to stop at a light or stop sign. It is against the law to fail to recognize a slow sign and bring your vehicle to a slow 10 a slow 10 mph.

It is against the laws to park on Kearney St. if your vehicle has an over all length of more than 20 feet including load or trailer.

Parallel parking is required on 2nd St. The law of the road was adopted by the City. The fine for violations of traffic ordinances shall not exceed $100.

Part of Sully St. was closed in 1940 because it was abandoned because it had become a hazard both as to property and life.

Parts of Bugbee St were closed for the same reason; it had become a hazard to property and life.

Electrical Inspector Ordinance begins on page 249 and carries through to page 254 outlining the rules for doing any electrical work in town.

This concludes book I, from 1901 to 1944 of the City of Clarendon City Ordinances.

Obituaries

Omie Beall Simmons

Funeral services for Mrs. Omie Beall Simmons, 82, a retired teacher were held at 3 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 23 in the Hedley First Baptist Church. The Rev. Lewis Ellis of Pampa and the Rev. Johnny Hoggatt of Tulia officiated.

NUMB ARMS, LEGS Danger Signals

There may be misalignment of vertebrae in the spine causing pressure on nerves, yet the patient experiences no pain in the back. Instead, a variety of sensations may be felt in other parts of the body. These include tingling, tightness, hot spots, cold spots, crawling sensations, electric shock sensations, stinging, burning, and others.

Here are nine critical symptoms involving back pain or strange sensations which are usually the forerunners of more serious conditions. Any one of these usually spells back trouble.

- (1) Paresthesias (see above) (2) Headaches
- (3) Painful joints (4) Numbness in the arms or hands (5) Loss of sleep (6) Stiffness in the neck (7) Pain between the shoulders (8) Stiffness or pain in lower back (9) Numbness or pain in the legs.

These signals indicate that your body is being robbed of normal nerve function. Until this function is restored, you will, in some degree, be incapacitated. The longer you wait to seek help, the worse the condition will become. Don't wait! Should you experience any of these danger signals... call for in depth consultation in Layman's terms.

THE MOTHER EARTH NEWS

DRY YOUR FRUITS AND VEGETABLES AT HOME!

Food dehydration is an age-old survival technique that's enjoying a rebirth of popularity thanks to today's sky-high grocery prices. For the person who wants to save money and have "fresh" viands year round—but is also faced with a limited amount of cabinet space—dehydration is a simple, inexpensive, and nutritious means of storing food.

It's possible to dehydrate produce in a low-temperature oven, build a cabinet-type food dryer (the free reprint offered at the end of this article contains complete directions for constructing your own), or to simply rely on old-fashioned methods. To do the job (just find a flat surface outside... use cookie sheets, aluminum foil, or butcher paper on which to dry the edibles... and drape a protective netting to keep insects off the food).

The key factors to remember in drying are: (1) The foods should be clean and ripe. (2) Juicy items should be thinly sliced before they're dehydrated. (3) The chunks of food must be arranged so that air can circulate freely between them. The list of foodstuffs that can be dried is long. Herbs, for example, maintain a pure flavor when deprived of their liquids. To process them, simply tie the plants in bundles and hang them in a dry place for a few days.

Fresh fruit is another popular dryable. To dehydrate pears, place them—quartered—on the rack, skin side down. The same process is used for apples, which you can also slice into rings if you prefer. And to make your own raisins, simply pull seedless grapes from bunches and spread them out on the drying tray or table. Stone fruits (the category includes apricots, cherries, peaches, plums, etc.) need only be sliced in half and pitted prior to drying.

Remember, fruits should contain no moist spots after drying. The dehydrated edibles can be softened by soaking them in water or juice before they're eaten... or can simply be left lying out in the kitchen to soften naturally in the moist air.

Many kinds of vegetables—including beans, peas, peppers, carrots, potatoes, onions, squash, and cereal grains—can also be dehydrated. Corn can be dried right on the cob... while dehydrated zucchini and cucumber slices make delightfully good-tasting chips for dipping and nibbling.

Drying food at home can bring you joy and satisfaction, plus help you save money and improve your diet! There's hardly a better way to (1) cut your yearly food bill, (2) free up valuable cupboard and freezer space, and (3) enjoy a greater variety of more flavorful foods... than to dry your own herbs, fruits, and vegetables at home.

DAIRY QUEEN MANAGER TRAINEE
BY 30-UNIT WEST TEXAS CHAIN

Must be mature, willing to work and ready to relocate in the West Texas area after short training period. This job will pay in excess of $1,500 per month for a good working manager — plus hospitalization insurance and vacation.

You may be qualified and not know it unless you investigate. Many of our best managers doubted they were qualified when they first contacted us. Most important are your own desire and need for success.

Common sense, the ability to do about 20 minutes of book work per day plus doing a good job of cooking and waiting on customers are the only basics to success in this job.

And to encourage you, after we know we have a mutual interest, we will provide you the names of some of our managers to call so they can tell you how any mature person with determination to succeed can do so with our company.

Advancement possible for positions above manager.

Donkey County 4-H boys and girls rode in the Donkey County parade. They did a very good job in representing Donkey County and brought home another first place trophy. After the parade many of the members and their families enjoyed the free barbeque at the Memphis City Park.

There will be a parade drill and playday Saturday, Oct. 3rd, at the rodeo grounds. Starting time is 6:00 p.m.

FISH TALES

By KATIE DVORAK
This is not really the season to tell about fishing on Greenbelt because so few fishermen are out on the lake during the week and weekends are pretty full with doing last minute repairs before winter sets in. Cotton farming is pretty busy about now as well.

When a big fish is caught, and brought by Mooring Bait and Tackle, we hear about it. We can report a 6 1/2 lb. black bass and an 8 1/2 lb. channel cat caught last week. There are lots of white bass and even some Walleye being caught.

When some of the TP & WD personnel went fishing last Saturday, Grandpa Welty said, "Why are you fellows out fishing today when the wind is from the Northeast? you won't catch any fish." And by golly, they didn't.

4-H monthly meeting

By TISH ROBINSON
The Donkey County 4-H Monthly Meeting was held September 21, 1981 in the Donkey County Courthouse. As everyone came in they were asked to guess how many stairs led from the lobby of the Courthouse to the Courtroom. James Lampier guessed 28 and won a 4-H bandana. The meeting was opened with the 4-H Motto, Pledge and Prayer. New officers were then introduced and installed.

Project reports were given and plans for this year's projects were discussed. The 4-H'ers discussed and presented several ideas for the Citizenship Project which will be beginning soon. It was reported to those attending that the officers had voted to have "Exploring 4-H" as the general group project this year. Bake Show Winners were Virginia Clifford - Sr. Division and Christina Leathers - Jr. Division. Katrina Leathers took top prize in the Pee-Wee Division. Following the 4-H meeting, a Parent/Leader meeting was held. Those items discussed were: The 4-H Bean Supper which will be held on November 13th; The Awards Banquet which will be held on October 24th; The County Food Show; and the possibility of new 4-H projects.

Approximately 35 4-H'ers and parents attended the meetings. County Agents Ronald Gooch and Sherry Brown were also present. Our next meeting will be held on October 19th.

Bobby and Christie McAnnis, Donkey County 4-H'ers, exhibited six of the Shorthorn cattle at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo last week. Their 1st place Junior heifer calf was also calf champion female and reserve grand champion female. Their Junior bull calf won 1st and was also calf champion.

They also placed 2nd with their summer yearling, late spring yearling and early spring yearling heifers and 4th with a summer yearling. They also placed 1st in the best of six head.

Roger Eddick exhibited a capon and several bantams. In the bantam show, his Black Breasted Red Old English placed 1st cockerel, 1st trio and reserve champion trio of the junior show and 2nd cock.

In the Barred Plymouth Rock classes, Roger exhibited the 1st cock, 1st cockerel; 1st pullet, best of variety, best of breed and best opposite of breed. His Black Rose Combs placed 1st hen, 1st pullet, best of variety, best of breed and champion Rose Comb Clean Leg of the junior show.

1926 Book Club met

The 1926 Book Club met on September 15, 1981, at 7:00 p.m. at the Patching Clubhouse. This meeting was our kick-off salad supper with Mrs. Charles Blackburn and Mrs. Rachel Butler serving as Hostesses.

Each member brought their favorite salad and it was enjoyed by all. After the meal, each member reported on her summer activities. The fellowship was enjoyed by all.

Xi Lambda Xi met

Monday evening, the Xi Lambda Xi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met in the home of Maurine Butts with Genella Eads as co-hostess. The regular business meeting was conducted after the opening ritual was said.

An area convention in Perryton October 24 and 25 will be forthcoming. A discussion of the chapter's plans for expansion were debated. A good profit was reported from the combined efforts of the other two chapters for the Harvest Hoedown. The proceeds will go toward the proposed Community Center building. A special thanks is extended to the Outdoor Entertainment Association for the use of the slab and their help. We all applauded President Genella Eads for her heroic part in the gigantic undertaking and for the 20 year enthusiasm she exhibited throughout the entire evening.

Fifteen of the members elected to sponsor a girl each from Girls Town, USA. We are proud of our chapter for assuming this pleasant responsibility.

A program was presented by Katie Dvorak on What Women Are Heir To. It consisted of several readings of poetry by Judith Viorst and Lois Wyse. Upon conclusion of the program, and the closing mespah, the following ladies enjoyed delicious crackers, finger sandwiches, cheese balls and spice tea: Maurine Butts; Carol Bryant; Katie Dvorak; Genella Eads; Donna Edwards; Janie Finch; Gloria Gage; Priscilla Greene; Frankie Henson; Susan Henson; Becky Hill; Beth Johnston; Donna Mann; Barbara Morrow; Charlene Mays; Pat McCombs; Sandra Mooring; Genevia Summers; Betty Veach; and Beth Walker.

Associating bureaucrats with "red tape" goes back to the seventeenth century, when official documents were first tied with tape of a reddish hue.

The Pathfinder Club met

The Pathfinder Club held its first meeting of the new year Friday, September 25, in the form of a luncheon at Mrs. Bromley's Dining Room. Hostesses were Mrs. Rolle Brumley and Mrs. C. E. Bairfield.

President, Mrs. C. J. Van Zandt, conducted the business meeting which included voting into membership Mrs. Jessie Adams. Mrs. Brumley was appointed to represent the Pathfinder Club in a fund-raising project in conjunction with Les Beaux Arts Club and The 1926 Book Club.

Club Historian, Mrs. Frank White, Jr., presented an interesting account of activities during the 1980-81 year. There were many varied and informative programs.

Guests present were Mrs. Duane Naylor of Thalia, Texas, and Mrs. Ronald D. Winfrey of Dallas. Members present were Mesdames Jessie Adams, C.E. Bairfield, Goodwin Bray, Rolle Brumley, Horace Green, Clarence Hamilton, A.R. Hensen, E. D. Manning, C. L. Morton, Tommie Saye, Heckle Stark, Larry

Summers, C.J. Van Zandt, Bill Watson, Frank White, Jr., Royce Williams and Miss Mable Mongole.

Wedding Anniversary celebration

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Messer of Hedley will be honored with an open house reception on the occasion of their sixtieth anniversary Sunday, October 4, from 2 to 5 p.m. The reception will be in their home in Hedley. The gift of your presence is all that is desired.

Hosting the event are the couple's children, Mrs. Jim L. Hudson of Amarillo and Doyle Messer of Hedley.

Mr. Messer married Lillie Ruth Hickerson on October 6, 1921, at her parents home in the old McKnight community. They farmed in that community until they retired a few years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Messer are members of the Church of Christ in Hedley.

HEE HAW STAR TO APPEAR IN AMARILLO
Panhandle Planned Parenthood Assn. invites anyone interested to attend Benefit Performance

Grady Nutt, Hee Haw's will be in Amarillo on Monday, October 12, 1981. The Prime Minister of Humor.

We invite you to attend a cattle hedging seminar conducted by Lester Messenger, floor broker for Rouse Woodstock, Inc. of Chicago. The seminar will be held in the Quivera Room of the Coronado Inn on October 7th at 7:30 p.m. Come and learn more about how the commodity market affects the Texas Panhandle.

Grady was born in Amarillo. He shares with his audience his small-town boyhood and adolescence, and his frolic-filled college days at Baylor University. At the age of three, Grady's mama was standing him on a chair to reach the microphone for a radio program. He learned songs and hymns so fast that people in Amarillo considered him a child prodigy.

He sings, juggles, "handbones", and plays a dozen different musical instruments, including the triple-a small, 10 string Spanish folk instrument Grady describes as a "ukelele with thyroid trouble."

In a word, Grady describes himself as a humorist: "A humorist isn't a comedian. He's not just trying to crack jokes... a humorist is an interpreter of life. He takes a common experience--something that's happened to everybody--and filters it through his own way of looking at things until it comes alive for another person who can say, 'Oh, yes, right.' That's the truth!"

Grady appears weekly as a regular cast member of the popular country music and comedy television show, Hee Haw. The demand for Grady's humor has kept his grin-gathering from Seattle to Dallas, and on October 12th, back again to his hometown of Amarillo. Reservation deadline is October 9th. Cost of the full evening of entertainment is $35 per couple. For more information or to make reser-the state reflected the varied needs of the different counties, said Billie McCraw, TEHA president.

From more than 100 different projects conducted throughout Texas, the nomination highlighted work done by Extension Homemakers Club members in the following:

Cooke County -- beautification of muenster, Texas with pictures of German culture

Dimmit County -- establishment of a bloodmobile

Freestone County -- drug education

Howard County -- instigation of a Volunteer Fire Department in Lomax, Texas

Iron County -- programs on mental health and mental retardation

Kerr County -- organization of an Extension Homemakers Club at the Texas Lions Camp for the Blind

Parker County -- establishment of a community center at Greenwood

Travis County -- remodeling of Dessau Community Center

Williamson County -- implementation of a program that succeeded in encouraging senior citizens to fill out medical-records forms to assist others in helping them during illnesses or emergencies.

Donley County currently has four Extension Homemakers Clubs. They are the Lakers, Early Birds, Young Homemakers and the Late Edition.

ALLERGY - GOOD NEWS

The symptoms of allergy are all too familiar to those who are afflicted...itching, sneezing, runny nose, and red, watery eyes. Allergy is thought to be produced when the body "overreacts" to foreign substances in the environment.

Normally, the body's immune system produces antibodies and help protect the body against bacteria, fungi, and viruses. With allergy, the body produces antibodies in response to plant pollens, house dust, animal dander, and numerous other materials. When antibodies combine with these foreign substances, histamine is released. Tiny blood vessels begin to leak because of histamine. Allergic symptoms are then invoked.

Ideally, allergic individuals should avoid materials that produce symptoms. Sometimes, however, it is not possible to pinpoint those substances that are responsible.

Medicines known as antihistamines are of value in decreasing the effects of histamine in the body. In recent years, chlorpheniramine tablets and capsules were placed in the nonprescription category by the federal government. These valuable medicines (that were previously available only upon prescription) are now within the reach of the hundreds of thousands of allergy sufferers in America.

The name vinegar comes from vin aigre, French for "sour wine" which is what vinegar is, or was originally.

Texas Extension Homemakers Assn. receives Gov. Award

From COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT

The Texas Extension Homemakers Association (TEHA) has received a Certificate of Appreciation for "exceptional and distinguished volunteer service," signed by Gov. Bill Clements.

An accompanying letter said that the certificate "is a token of appreciation for outstanding volunteer work in Texas. The Texas Extension Homemakers Association organization is a credit to Texas."

TEHA was nominated for the governor's volunteer award for the many community projects it conducted through the effort of its 23,000 members during 1981.

Cotton Festival: not only attraction in Texas

In addition to Hedley's Annual Cotton Festival celebration, there are things to do and see all around this grand state of Texas.

Closer to home are events such as on October 1-3 in Lubbock the Panhandle South Plains Fair, which actually began September 26, runs until October 3rd.

In Post on October 2-4, the OS Ranch Steer Roping and Art Exhibit is going on.

On October 3rd, in Lubbock, the miniature Show can be enjoyed and in Memphis, the Chili Cookoff begins.

October 4th, in Lubbock again, the Craftsman and Art Show will draw many visitors. On the 5th and 6th, you can enjoy the Symphony Concerts in the evening, there in Lubbock. On the 8th and 9th, you will be able to enjoy the South Plains Maid of Cotton Pageant. October 11 the unusual Ballet & Deaf Dance Company is an unusual cultural attraction in Lubbock.

In Plainview on October 16-18, there will be an Art and Crafts Festival.

In Lubbock on October 17-18, there is the Cotton Bowl Enduro, and in Memphis on the same weekend is the Motorcycle Rodeo.

In Shamrock on October 24-25, the famed Octoberfest is held.

Back in Lubbock during the 29th-31st of October, the intercollegiate rodeo is held. These are just the things to do near by. The rest of Texas is alive during these cool months with this to do. Visit Texas first.
