ANN HARPER

'I don't know what I'd do without you'

By ANN (ANNIE) HARPER

I don't know what I'd do without you is the title of my first recording with Perdue Recording Studio in Amarillo. Since accepting the Lord into my life, in June of 1983, it has been my heart's desire to make this tape.

I found out how to put my dream into action through a man from Amarillo, Mr. R.T. Wood. Mr. Wood was at the Baptist Church where I was singing one night and after the service told me how to make my dream come true. Mr. Wood has the R.T. Wood Music Company in Amarillo. There are others I would also like to thank-my church family (Church of the Nazarene) here in Clarendon, and the people who have already purchased my cassettes and blessed me thru their encouragements.

All who know me will know my reason for making these cassettes. The Lord has done so much for me in the past three and a half years, and it is my heart's desire to be a light for Him. Many of you have heard my testimony and for those of you that haven't it is in almost every song on my cassette.

Since finding the Lord, I have been invited to sing in several churches here in Clarendon and I would like to say to them THANK YOU.

I have also sung in churches in the Panhandle and Oklahoma, and as far away as Tyler, Texas and Greensboro, N.C. I guess I would sing for the Lord on a street corner if I knew people would listen. He has done so much in my life. People have come to me personally and told me that I'm sentimental or that I'm a fanatic, all I can say to them, in love, is...you would just have to see where he has brought me from.

I wish I could tell you the personal story behind each of the ten songs on this cassette as each one is so special. I just pray that on hearing my songs people will feel what I am singing and maybe even get closer to the Lord.

There is something I would like to share with the Christians of Clarendon and with all Christians--'He will give us the desires of our heart' Ps. 37:4. It is my heart's desire that we as Christians can bring all our candles together as one enormous light as God is the light to show everyone who is lost in darkness the way.

In this world you do not have to know where you are going just who you are following!!!

These cassettes are $8.00 each or 2 for $15.00. To order call 874-3687 or 874-3453. I will deliver or you may come by my home.

book from Sesquicentennial series

COLLEGE STATION — A statewide television and newspaper series for the Texas Sesquicentennial on the state's history and culture has resulted in a book titled "The Texas Experience."

From Stephen F. Austin to Buddy Holly and from the Alamo to the Texas Mystique, the book by the Texas A&M University Press captures the Lone Star

State's diversity. Presented as vignettes, independent of one another, yet each filling in a gap of knowledge about the state, the stories came from material furnished by 50 authorities on specific subjects to the Texas Committee for the Humanities for its Sesquicentennial project.

Archie P. McDonald past president of the Texas State Historical Association, compiled the book that includes 84 photographs and paintings of life past and present.

"It offers an opportunity to see the state and its institutions from such varied perspectives as the traditional one shared by many in the Anglo community and the quite different ones held by many Texas minorities," McDonald writes in the preface. "One of the principal messages of our work is that Texas is big enough, physically and culturally, for all of us."

Take a day off from Smoking!

Join the crowd! On November 20, millions of Americans will put down those butts and join in the Great American Smokeout.

Why quit? Just consider these facts. The American Cancer Society says that Two-pack-a-day smokers die, on the average, 8.3 years younger than nonsmokers. Yet if you quit, the risk drops daily. After 10 to 15 years, the risk is near that of those who never smoked. By quitting cigarettes, your risk of coronary disease drops sharply after just one year, as does your risk of lung cancer.

If you do decide to quit for more than just one day, following these helpful hints may make it easier:

- With your doctor's approval, you may want to step up physical activity. Walk more, for example. Or go swimming.

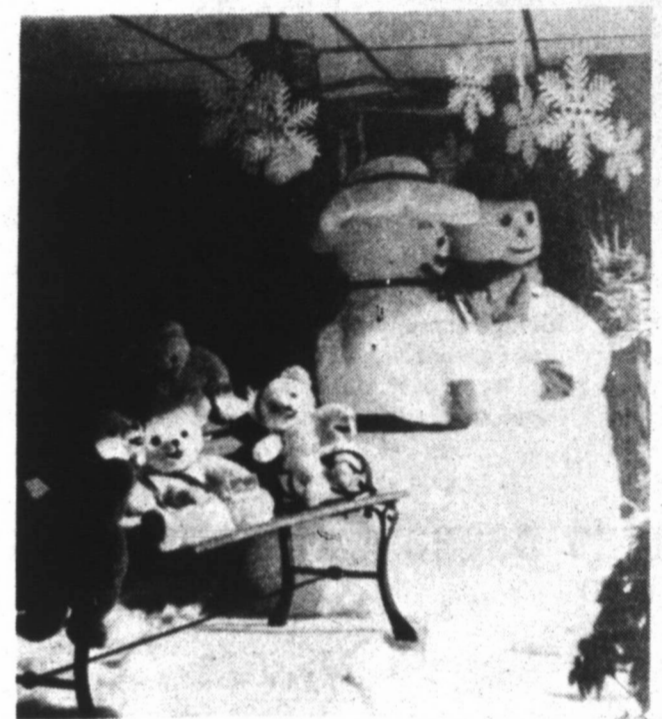

- Remember that smoking is, in part, something you do with your hands and mouth. If you keep your mouth busy by chewing on a toothpick or sucking on a straw, you're less likely to need the oral gratification of a cigarette. If you've tried to quit before and feel you need extra help this time, you may want to see your family physician about using Nicorette, a prescription chewing gum that contains nicotine to help cut the craving.

- Try the buddy system. Many people find it easier to quit if they can share the experience.

CLARENDON COLLEGE

Home of the Battlin Bulldogs

By PAM JACKSON

Lady Bulldogs take first game
The 1986-87 Clarendon College Lady Bulldogs opened with their first home game Thursday night with a 59-46 win over El Reno Community College. Throughout the game the Lady Bulldogs gave their own audience top quality basketball displaying a lot of intensity, desire, and enthusiasm. The Lady Bulldogs held their opponent to a 31-22 lead at halftime. The Lady Bulldogs defense was devastating and gave the tremendous effort. Coach Irwin commented that he really 'saw a lot of positive efforts throughout the entire game.'

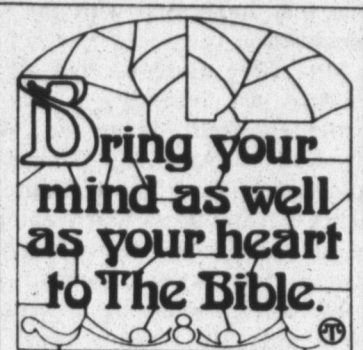

Sheilah Adams led the Ladies with 14 points and 15 rebounds while Kelly Killi chipped in 11 points. A combination of 16 caroms was pulled down between Cindy Reagins with 9 rebounds and Pam Jackson with 7 rebounds.

Lady Bulldogs on winning streak
On Monday night, the Lady Bulldogs played host to Western Oklahoma from Altus. The Ladies led at halftime 33-26, but Western Oklahoma rallied to take a 48-51 lead with about two minutes left in the game. In those last two minutes, the Lady Bulldogs showed a lot of character, defense, and hustle. When Larwetta Caloway of Western Oklahoma missed the front end of a one and one, the game fell to the Lady Bulldog Loretta Garcia, who was fouled with four seconds left in the game. Garcia made both of her free throws, to give the Lady Bulldogs a 59-56 victory.

Sheilah Adams led all scorers with 26 points and 7 rebounds. A combination of 14 rebounds was pulled down by Cindy Reagins with 10 and Pam Jackson with 4. Kelly Kelli led in assists with 6 and combined total of 12 steals were swiped by Adams, Reagins, and Lori Stephenson with 4 each.

The next home game for the Lady Bulldogs will be December 4 against Howard County.

National Bible Week
November 23-30, 1986
Sponsored by The Laymen's National Bible Committee, Inc.

Despite the magnitude of the task, improved service to the public is becoming a reality as SSA's modernization effort continues. For example, Social Security numbers are issued in 11 days instead of the 6 weeks it took as recently as 1983; retirement and survivors benefit claims are processed in an average of just under 23 days — an improvement of 4 days in the past 2 years; a 39-month backlog of uncredited earnings has been eliminated. Also, by next January, nearly 22,000 new computer terminals will be installed in Social Security offices nationwide. This modernization will translate into faster and more efficient service and fewer errors.

While SSA's administrative costs are low in comparison to those of other similar organizations, our modernization efforts will reduce them further. Social Security has already reduced its workforce by some 3,000 employees over the past 2 years, and another 14,000 may be pared over the next 4 years (mostly through normal attrition). This downsizing will be accompanied by better deployment of personnel and will not adversely affect service to the public.

The quality of service that has been the hallmark of SSA since its beginning more than 50 years ago will continue in the years to come. The American people whose lives are affected by our program deserve prompt, efficient service. That will always be the goal of the Social Security Administration.

(Editor's Note: Dorcas R. Hardy was sworn in as the 10th Commissioner of Social Security on June 26, 1986.)

Clarendon Boys Basketball

The Clarendon Boys Basketball team opened the 1986-87 season against White Deer this past Tuesday in the Broncos gym. The Broncos play McLean Tuesday November 25th at 8:00 p.m. there. December the 2nd, the Broncos play Claude in Clarendon. The boys junior varsity will play at 4:00 and the varsity at 8:00. The Broncos travel to Sanford-Fritch on December 5th with game time of 6:00 and 7:30. Come out and show your Bronco spirit.

Texas A&M educators develop special program for below-average readers

COLLEGE STATION — Elementary school students classified as below-average readers showed as much as two-year gains in reading skills in a seven-month period as a result of a special program developed by Texas A&M University researchers.

Even more significant was the year-to-year retention of knowledge gained from reading, said Dr. Donna Norton, head of the Multiethnic Reading and Language Arts Program at Texas A&M. The program provides students from native American, black, Hispanic and Anglo-European ethnic groups with stories and books about the cultures and values of the groups.

Begun in 1982, the concept focuses on elementary students who still have time to catch up with their peers academically. Because writing was identified as a major weakness among these lower-ability students, a writing component was added to the curriculum in 1984.

Now that the research is complete, Norton plans to open an in-service training facility for the program at Texas A&M. The faculty would supplement video tapes and training manuals that have already been prepared for distribution to interested school districts nationwide.

SOCIAL SECURITY

COMMISSIONER'S CORNER

By Dorcas R. Hardy Commissioner of Social Security

Social Security's achievements over the years have long been recognized as remarkable. Tens of millions of Americans — workers and beneficiaries alike — have been served by the Social Security Administration (SSA) at some point in their lives. The public trust that has developed over some five decades must be maintained and strengthened among both workers and beneficiaries.

many years we have seen tremendous changes in the way technological advancements have affected our lives and everything we do — from banking to shopping to learning. And Social Security has not stood idle during these years of improvements in data processing. Since 1982, SSA has been developing a state-of-the-art computer system with the overriding goal of improving our service to the public. And that has been no small task when you look at the volume of work involved in administering today's Social Security program that pays monthly benefits to 37 million persons. Above and beyond the task of getting benefit payments to entitled people, SSA's annual workload includes:

- processing of some 180 million wage reports from employers;
- issuing of more than 14 million new and replacement Social Security cards;
- processing of nearly 6 million claims for benefits; and
- processing of nearly 7.5 million address changes.

In addition, SSA maintains over 1 trillion characters of information in its computer system and some 4 billion pages of information in its benefit files.

It is important for people, both young and old, to know that the Social Security system is financially sound. While it's true, as some point out, that Americans are living longer and drawing Social Security checks for a longer period of time, the 1983 Social Security Amendments adjusted the program to take account of these demographic changes. Thus, despite the misgivings of some skeptics, today's young workers — the so-called "baby boomers" — will get their fair share of Social Security when they retire. They should be confident that Social Security will be around when they need it.

The public should be confident, too, of SSA's ability to deliver its services during this age of ever-changing high technology. For Bill McKee of Houston visited with his mother, Mrs. Ruby McKee and sister, Sue Weatherly last week. He was enroute to Morse to visit his sister, Dean and Betty Joe Hedgecock. He stopped back by as he started home.

Evelyn Messer visited her sister, Mrs. Ruth Culpepper in the hospital in Altus, Oklahoma last week. When she came home, Giselle Jurkanim of Oakland, California visited with Doyle and Evelyn. She was the roommate of their daughter, Angela when she was in school in Abilene Christian University.

Ethel Favor visited with her daughter, Alice Paschal in Amarillo last week.

Betty Gilchrest, Debbie Sursa, Rhonda Shaw and LaRae attended the Arts and Crafts Show at the Civic Center Auditorium in Amarillo last week. Rhonda told me she saw alot of pretty crafts.

Marsha Favor of Childress spent the day Tuesday with her parents, Manford and Wilma Snelson. I understand Carroll was working cattle. I can't think of a better time to go visiting than at cattle working time. Unless it's at hog killing time.

Su-San and Lorene McCrary went to Amarillo last week to attend a seminar on Alzheimer's Disease. They visited Mrs. Pauline Morris and Neal Taylor in Northwest Texas Hospital. They toured the hospitals in Amarillo with the nursing class from Clarendon College Friday. They will begin their hospital training before the end of the year.

Merle Owens of Harrah, Oklahoma visited his mother, Mrs. Cassie Owens recently. They went to Plainview to visit with Mrs. Owens sister, Mrs. Ethel Holland. Later in the week Frenchie and Virginia Gafford visited. This week, Mrs. Owens enjoyed visits from Jim and Peggy Owens, Gary and Sabrina Owens and Bradley, Cindy Owens, Darrell Hawkins, and Mark Parsons of Amarillo and Lloyd and Gaye Dale of Plano. The men went bird hunting Sunday afternoon.

T.E. and Faye Naylor visited their children, Jerry and Linda Frye, Tara, Jamie, and Blake in Amarillo during the weekend. Geneva

McAfee and Seth of Canyon joined them for church and lunch Sunday.

Eloise Spalding is in Hall County Hospital in Memphis. When I talked to Doug Lowe Sunday, he told me she was feeling better and that Martha was with her. Jack and Jackie Stafford visited Eloise Saturday.

Della Linville and Dorene Conatser visited in Amarillo recently. They were at Della's son, Ernie's office when his boss, Congressman Beau Boulter came by. Dorene told me she was very impressed with the Congressman.

Mrs. Nora Hartwell had all her children visit recently. James and Nonie Hartwell, James and Opal Hartwell of Amarillo, Phillip and Arletta Cobb, and Shawn, Shane and Tina Cobb and Randall of Wellington visited last week. Leroy and Opal visited this week. James, Kirk Spiers and David Bradley of Amarillo came this week and went bird hunting.

Ashton, Aaron, and Meagan Hines of Amarillo visited their Hedley grandparents during the weekend. Doyle and Evelyn Messer played 'pass the baby' with her great grandmother, Mrs. Lillie Messer. Angela Hines also visited.

James and Edith White visited with their children, Richard and Jo Hinton, Renee and Tony at Rosebud, New Mexico recently. James brought three milk goats home with him. I'll bet that's just what Edith has always wanted.

Bob and Mildred Jewett of Esteline visited her children, Randy and Rhonda Shaw and LaRae Sunday. They were on their way to Ashtola to visit Bob's brother and pick up some peanuts.

Jessie Roland lunched at the Memphis Senior Citizens Friday. They enjoyed their annual Thanksgiving Dinner. Saturday, Jessie went with Bob to Amarillo to visit their children, Bobby and Pat Roland.

Mike and Donna Lamberson, Mikala and Ashley of Pampa visited his grandfather, J.T. Lamberson Sunday. Helen was gadding about but was expected home at anytime when I talked to Donna.

W.P. Doherty is in an Amarillo Hospital. I don't know which one it is, though. If I heard, I have forgotten.

Gail Johnson and I attended the Eastern Star Friendship meeting in Paducah Saturday evening. Glen Kidwell of Childress brought an interesting program on the history of Free Masonry.

Harry and Cheryl Rowley, Robert and Jeff of Amarillo spent the weekend camping in our pasture. Well, actually, they brought their small travel trailer and stayed in it. Cheryl told Harry there was no way she was going to sleep in a tent on the ground with the snakes, sand spiders, and things like that. He told her there were no snakes out at this time of the year. About the time he finished speaking, their son, Jeff came running up and yelled, "Hey, Look Dad. I just shot this neat snake. How many belt buckles do you think it will make?" Cheryl slept in the trailer. She brought Fred some homemade jelly and the family a loaf of homemade bread.

The classes at Hedley School will be taking their second six-weeks tests on Thursday and Friday of this week. They will get their report cards next Wednesday and classes will dismiss for the Thanksgiving holiday Thursday and Friday, November 27 and 28.

The Hedley Basketball teams began their regular season Friday with games with Samnorwood. I don't know what the scores were but Keith told me that the boys won and the girls lost. I didn't get to talk with Mr. Hill or Mr. Collins. Mr. Hill probably wouldn't have been able to talk with any kind of sense anyway. He has a brand new baby daughter. She was born just before noon Sunday morning in Hall County Hospital. When I talked to Debbie, she told me Bryan wanted another little girl. When Ashley told LaRae Shaw she had a baby sister, LaRae said, "I have a dog."

Department of Public Safety

Major V.J. Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety said, "Although the Thanksgiving Holiday is not classified as an official operation motorcade, all available troopers will be working, in an effort to reduce accidents."

Major Cawthon also said, "Even though some motorists will be traveling across town, others will be traveling across the state; all motorists can assist in reducing traffic accidents by observing all traffic laws. Remember that alcohol is involved in at least 50 percent of all fatal accidents."

Major Cawthon noted that all law enforcement agencies will be cooperating in an all out effort to help make this a safe and enjoyable holiday. Even a small accident can ruin any holiday, but law enforcement agencies cannot make this a safe holiday by themselves. This is why it takes cooperation between law enforcement and the motoring public in order for all to have a safe and enjoyable Thanksgiving holiday.

Many people find it difficult to believe that an estimated 100,000 Americans die each year due to incorrect use of prescribed medicines. According to individuals who have investigated the problem, drug misuse occurs with about 50 percent of all prescription drug use. The primary reason for misuse may be lack of consumer information.

In a 1982 study conducted by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, it was determined that only 4 of every 100 consumers surveyed asked their physicians or pharmacists questions about their prescription medicines. Failure to ask questions may, therefore be the chief factor in the needless deaths that occur due to drug misuse-a major health hazard.

We have the answers to questions on prescription medicine use. What is the medicine for? Should it be taken before or after meals? How long should I take the medicine? Can I take it with other prescription and nonprescription medicines? What side effects are likely to occur? What should I do if side effects do occur? Do you have answers to these questions about the medicines you are taking? If not, ask us for the answers.

Buckle Up, Texas!

Every Life Saved Makes a Happier Thanksgiving

The first year under the mandatory safety belt law brought Texas through a very busy tourist season with 10 percent fewer fatalities in the seating positions covered by the law.

"We have good reason to be thankful this November," said George Gustafson, president of the Texas Safety Association and spokesperson for the Texas Coalition for Safety Belts. He reminded motorists to buckle up during the four-day Thanksgiving weekend as they head for dinner with family and friends.

Preliminary figures for September 1, 1985 through August 31, 1986, just released by the Department of Public Safety, show 2,005 drivers and front-seat passengers killed on Texas highways, as compared to 2,234 during the 12 months before the law went into effect. Incapacitating injuries were down about 3 percent, from 16,454 to 15,919. Non-incapacitating injuries dropped by more than 15 percent.

"The law has made a difference. These figures prove it," said Gustafson.

Texans are buckling up at unprecedented rates. On September 30, Texas Safety Association and the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation completed a three-year Traffic Safety Awareness Project focusing on state employees. The final report, released this week, put safety belt usage at 81 percent in Austin's capitol area complex. A separate study of 14 cities, done by the Texas Transportation Institute in the first six months of 1986, showed usage rates ranging from 57 percent to 77 percent.

In 1984, only 10 percent to 15 percent of the state's motorists used safety belts, Gustafson noted.

The anniversary of the belt law came at the end of the summer of 1986, when low fuel prices and special Sesquicentennial events led state residents and visitors to hit the road in record numbers. By the end of July, according to SDHPT estimates, 88 billion vehicle miles had been logged on Texas highways—a 6 percent increase over the previous high recorded in 1985.

"With more vehicles traveling greater distances, the risk was unusually high," said Gustafson. "Our citizens rose to the challenge, obeyed the law and reduced fatalities by more than 200."

A&M booklet can help significantly reduce landscape water usage

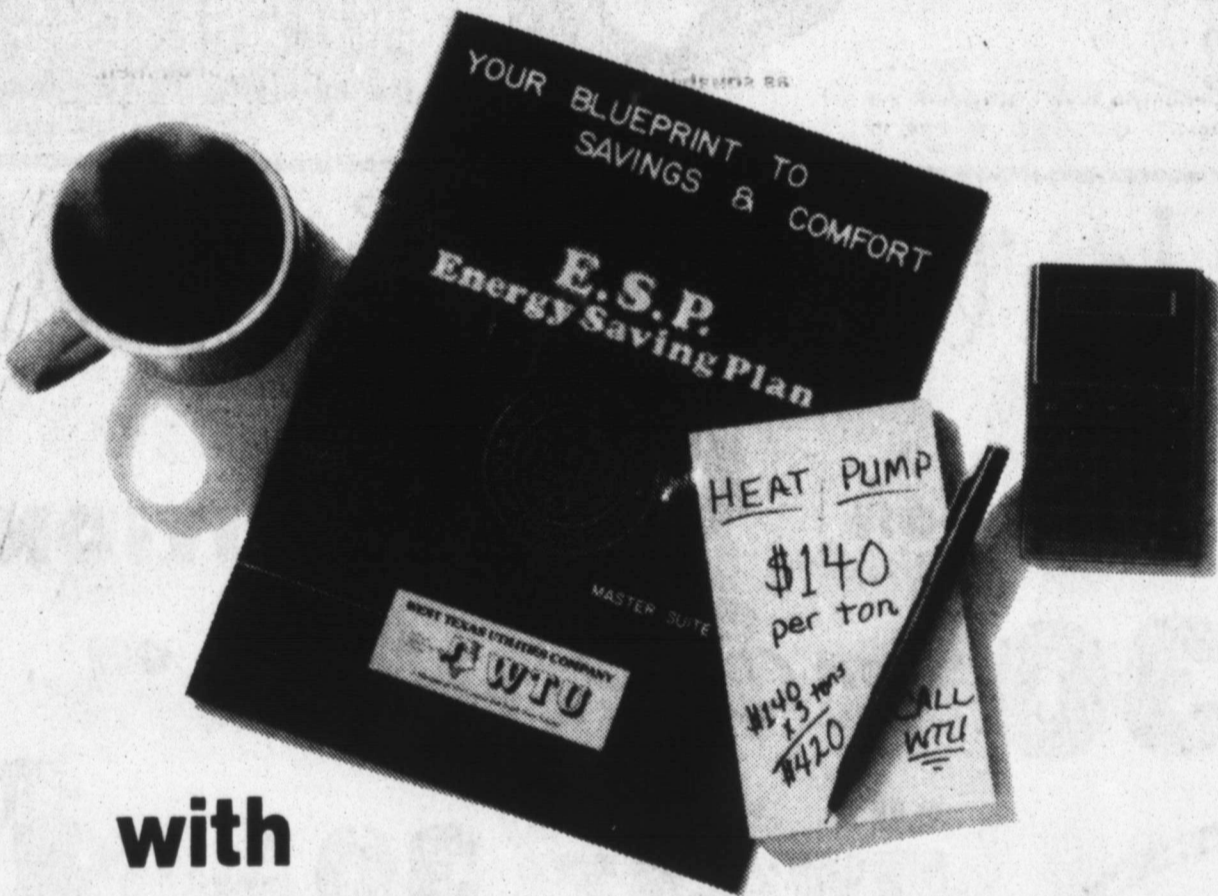

COLLEGE STATION — Homeowners and groundskeepers can reduce water use on lawns and parks by as much as 25 to 40 percent by following the advice of scientists at Texas A&M University and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES).

"The landscape areas around homes, businesses and institutions are good places to begin curtailing water uses," said Dr. Wayne Jordan, director of the Texas Water Resources Institute, who believes that more than a fourth of all water currently applied to urban landscapes may be wasted.

The institute has released a new publication entitled "Water Conservation in Urban Landscapes" offering advice on reducing the waste.

Over the long term, the most significant opportunity for water conservation arises from initial selection of plant materials, according to the booklet.

Memories will be made of this...

Copied from "Stars Across Texas" Texas 1986 Sesquicentennial Com. October 1986 Vol. 11 No. 3

In 50 years from now there will be a lot of "old timers" telling tales of what they did to celebrate Texas' Sesquicentennial. They are today's kids.

Some great ideas for student participation in the Sesquicentennial through lively and creative projects for curriculum enhancement were published in "Bringing History Home," a publication from this Commission for teachers and youth serving agencies. The Texas Education Agency produced its own publication for schools to use in celebrating the Sesquicentennial. Entitled "Think Texas!," it contains suggestions for classes from prekindergarten through high school in disciplines from art to mathematics to vocational agriculture to computer application. A copy was sent to each school district in the state.

Many individual schools have also produced booklets depicting the history of Texas as well as their own events and projects of this year. One outstanding publication was written and produced by two eighth-grade classes of Mackenzie Junior High School in Lubbock. Teacher, Mrs. Georgia Blythe, said, "The effort was not without flaws, but the magazine, "The Quilting Party," represented the individual and cooperative efforts to students to reflect their understanding of West Texas, its history and lore." It includes poetry, drawings, short essays on Texas lore, a section called, "Cyclone Blues," and another called "Chuckwagon Cuisine" complete with recipes for everything from bean stew to tortillas.

The Texas PTA, with 700,000 members, had several outstanding projects which included both parents, teachers and students. The statewide association raised more than $30,000 to help restore the Goddess of Liberty to the top of the Capitol through their "Give a Quarter for the Goddess Day" in participating schools. They also encouraged the purchase of a Sesquicentennial flag to be flown at every school in Texas and produced a "Texas Trivia" game.

Junior high students in Copperas Cove painted a mural on their cafeteria wall depicting scenes of Texas history.

Junior Historian chapters have been organized or renewed by the interest of students and teachers in Texas history during this special year.

Children have planted bluebonnets and yellow roses at their schools and on adopted corners. They have searched for artifacts among the family treasurers and brought them to the school library to be shared with others. One small school feels that it is still a part of the past. The Divide School, located in North Kerr County above Hunt, is one of the last remaining one-room school houses in Texas. Its five students and one teacher plan to celebrate the Sesquicentennial this fall.

The Eanes Independent School District (Travis County) designed and printed small stickers with the shape of Texas on them to be placed on the spines of all books about Texas, making them easily identifiable on the shelves. Nearly every school in Texas has taken advantage of this historical year to make the history of Texas, its geography, its traditions, and its people come alive.

The children of Texas have written, produced and performed in pageants of local historical significance all across the state. They have grouped themselves in the shape of Texas to be photographed from the air. They have exchanged ideas, letters, and visits with their counterparts in South Australia. They have watched parades and ridden in them, learned the words and tune to the state song, "Texas Our Texas," and learned to spell 'Sesquicentennial'. Some have spent six months or a few days on the Texas Sesquicentennial Wagon Train and gone to school in a tractor-trailer rig simulating a one-room schoolhouse, but with computer hook-ups.

Most students have been assigned to read about Texas and have learned much more about their land than they knew before -- and liked it! The children of Texas have made history. What will they remember in 50 years?

A&M environmentalist says estuaries need protection from upstream damming

COLLEGE STATION — Commercial and sport fishermen along the Texas Gulf Coast may one day have to invoke the public trust doctrine to protect the state's estuaries, says a Texas A&M University environmentalist.

"Texas has seven estuaries that could be worth billions of dollars to the economy, although no one has ever completed a study on their total economic value," said Dr. Ronald Kaiser of the university's Institute of Renewable Natural Resources.

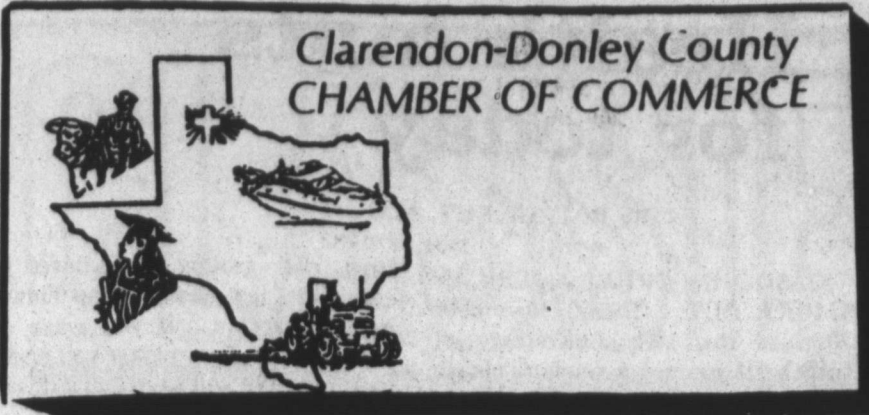

Kaiser says the public trust doctrine remains a recourse Texans have if they find the estuaries being destroyed from a lack of fresh water held by dams upstream.

"It's never been invoked in this state, but is something people can petition, which basically stipulates the state should be trusted to protect natural resources deemed important by the public," Kaiser said.

He said an economic study depicting the recreational value of the estuaries to the state's economy is underway, and if additional studies were completed, "who knows? Environmental issues aside, we may find it is more economical for the rivers to flow for fishermen than for them to be dammed up for farmers."

Late night shopping has been set for the first three Thursdays in December. The dates are December 4, 11 and 18. Some of the downtown merchants will also be open Sunday December 21st from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Keep in mind this season that your area businesses are good people serving good neighbors, that's what community shopping is all about. Shop your local stores where you will find a variety of merchandise and services where the Christmas feelings are alive year round.

The Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a contest for the best decorated homes and businesses in Clarendon. In each of these divisions there will be 3 categories:

1) Most original-most original or unique. Any theme may be used and you are encouraged to use your imagination. To create something really different and exciting.

2) Best religious scene-Christmas is a very special religious holiday, as it celebrates the birth of Christ. This award will recognize the best display of the real meaning of Christmas.

3) Most beautiful-Prettiest decorations. The emphasis here will be on the overall visual effect.

There will also be a Peoples Choice award for both divisions. Here the public is invited to cast a vote for their overall favorites. Entry form and voting ballots will be available in coming issues of the newspaper. Judging dates and deadline will also appear later.

Monday, December 1st will kick off the Christmas season with the lighting of the Community Christmas tree on the Courthouse lawn.

The Les Beau Art Club will present a Christmas pageant. If your club or organization would like to participate with any other activities such as refreshments, Santa Claus or caroling contact Randy White, 874-3371 or Patsy Lefew 874-2421.

The Clarendon Public Library will host a special Open House, Thursday, December 18th, from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m. The Open House coincides with local merchants' late-closing Shop-Clarendon Campaign. Parents who need to do a little last-minute Christmas preparation can leave their children in the library while they shop. (A voluntary donation is invited.) The Friends of the Library will show video cartoons to the children, courtesy of Mac Stavenhagen.

The library has invited local clubs and other civic organizations to set up exhibits or booths in the library during the open house. Sororities, church groups or clubs that wish to participate should contact the library, 874-3685.

All residents and visitors of Donley County are invited to attend the open house.

Veterans Administration

Q-May a veteran with peacetime service only be buried in a national cemetery?
A-Yes, providing the service was under conditions other than dishonorable.

Q-My husband had a Veterans' Group Life Insurance policy when he died. An attorney from a company where he owed money said they would attach the proceeds of the insurance to pay the bill. Can they do this?

A-No. Servicemen's Group Life Insurance and Veterans' Group Life Insurance proceeds are not assignable, nor are payments to beneficiaries subject to claims of creditors of the insured or beneficiary.

Q-Does V.A. have an alcohol or drug dependence program for veterans?
A-Yes. The VA operates both inpatient and outpatient clinics in most VA medical centers for honorably discharged veterans.

American Trivia Challenge

The Clarendon PTA are selling American Trivia Challenge games. This game is for all ages, designed for kindergarten through adult. The American Trivia Challenge is Texas Style and very educational. There are 2800 questions developed and designed with Texas school children in mind.

Coupon Books: Make Sure You Don't Buy A Whole Lot Of Nothing

Coupon books can be a very good way for local merchants to introduce their products to new customers. Unfortunately, coupon books also can be a way for unscrupulous operators to take your hard earned cash and leave you nothing but air.

Take down the names of several of the merchants who are listed as participants and call them to make sure they are giving the services as advertised—or if they are giving them at all.

You should also pay particular attention to the expiration dates on the coupons. You may not be able to get around to every one you would like to before the offer expires. And, of course, make sure that most of the services offered are services you would want to use.

PROBLEMS

In some cases, consumers have bought coupon books for $25 or $50 only to find out that the services provided by the coupons could have been obtained for free. Some coupon books have specialized in offering free goods, or goods at reduced prices, from establishments that have gone out of business. And many times, consumers have found that they cannot take advantage of the coupons. For example, a coupon book which advertised as having "over $500 in complimentary services for your automobile" had coupons good for services on foreign cars only.

After buying coupon books, consumers frequently discover that the services are available for the first time only. Others, such as restaurant meals or theater admissions, may be limited to off-peak hours or non-weekend days, restrictions which may be very inconvenient for some consumers. And in the worst cases, consumers have found that the coupon book seller simply printed the books without contacting any of the merchants listed. Of course, those operators don't stay in town very long.

WHAT TO DO

If you are offered a coupon book, you should look carefully at the book

THE HIDDEN COST SCAM

My Austin Consumer Protection office recently sued a company that was selling coupon books by promising purchasers a free Hawaiian vacation. The vacation was not free—naturally. The seller of the vacation certificates required the consumers to pay for an additional airline ticket at a fare double the price of a lowered priced ticket. And before finding out that they had to buy the second, expensive, ticket in order to get the "free" vacation, consumers had to pay $15 for their vacation certificates.

FOR MORE HELP

If you have had a problem with coupon books or any other consumer transaction, contact the Consumer Protection office closest to you. Consumer Protection offices are in Austin, Houston, Dallas, Lubbock, San Antonio, El Paso and McAllen. The Attorney General's Office is the people's law firm. We're here to help you.

Project self-sufficiency

"Helping People Help Themselves" is the motto for Panhandle Community Services, a human service delivery system headquartered in Amarillo and serving the people in the 26 counties of the Texas panhandle with a multitude of services. The agency's slogan has taken on a vital new meaning with its special new program. PROJECT SELF-SUFFICIENCY. This demonstration project assists single men and women who are raising minor dependent children in our area. "Project Self-sufficiency" aids them in achieving independence, a SELF-SUFFICIENT standard of living and a more meaningful and productive place in our community.

Sometimes, "Pulling yourself up by your own bootstraps" requires a little help. Panhandle Community Services, (PCS), administers the locally designed demonstration project, directly providing section 8 rental assistance funded through the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development. A vital component of this project is the identification of and referral to other community resources for which the participant may also be eligible. These resources may include; grants, loans or scholarships, child care, transportation services, job search and placement opportunities. In addition, PCS strives to utilize as many of the other possible services available through the agency in order to assist the eligible applicants in successfully attaining their goal of "Self-Sufficiency".

The Project is scheduled to conclude in April, 1988. All of the housing certificates awarded to PCS for this special demonstration project, which is the largest awarded nationally, must be issued by the end of January, 1987. It is the goal of PCS, "Project Self-Sufficiency", staff and Task Force members to serve as many eligible participants as possible.

Throughout the entire Panhandle many men and women who are single parents with young dependent children are being aided in many ways to become more "Self-Sufficient". Two (2) of the current participants are enrolled in Clarendon College. Additionally, another 75 are enrolled in local and regional universities, colleges and vocational institutions such as West Texas State University, Texas State Technical Institute and North American Education Center. These students are pursuing completion of their life-long goals in various occupations such as Licensed Vocational Nursing, medical occupations, business degrees, computer science, mechanics, law enforcement and many more. Concurrently, many are working, soon-to-be working and receiving assistance from various sources in housing, school opportunities and child care.

To be eligible for "Project Self-Sufficiency" an individual must be a single head of household raising minor dependent children, qualify as having a very low income determined by guidelines established by the Department of Housing and Urban Development and must be currently paying rent without federal assistance.

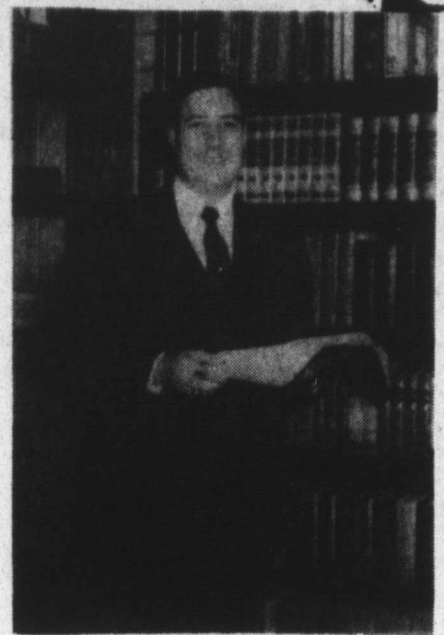

Applicants are required to supply verification of marital status, custody of minor children, high school / or college transcripts or certificates of completion, verification of income and letters of reference from personal acquaintances and employers. All applicants receive a battery of tests which are designed to provide indicators of motivational, achievement and aptitude levels to better determine their potential for success in the Project.

All applicants are formally reviewed to determine if they can be recommended for enrollment and participation based largely upon the absence of substantial barriers to training and employment success. Participants are interviewed and selected by a Task Force of representatives from their home community. The Task Force which serves Wheeler, Donley, Collingsworth and Hall counties is composed of the following individuals: Judge W.R. Christal, Judge Wendell Morgan, Judge Zook Thomas, Helen Crisman, Tex Selvidge, Donald Smith, Lynn Williams and Woodrow A. Sims.

Single parents with minor children who are currently in need of assistance to complete their education through college, university, or vocational institutions on or before May 31, 1988, or those individuals desiring additional information about "Project Self-Sufficiency" should contact: Tessie Burba, PCS Housing Coordinator for : Wheeler and Collingsworth Counties P.O. Box 427, Wellington, Texas 79065 (806) 447-2840 or Robbie Hill, PCS Housing Coordinator for: Hall and Donley Counties P.O. Box 763, Clarendon, Texas 79226 (806) 874-2573.

The remaining 22 Panhandle counties are served by their respective PCS Housing Coordinators. Contact your local County Judge for the location of the Housing Coordinator for your area.

WHAT IS GOSSIP?

GOSSIP is the tool of the coward. Christian courage never resorts to the baseness of gossip to achieve its end.

GOSSIP is the product of shallow minds. They try to impress others with what they pretend to know.

GOSSIP is the diversion of the fool. Wisdom is gainfully employed in the application of knowledge.

GOSSIP is like a muddy stream that seeks to find its own level. Sincerity and love will have no part of it.

GOSSIP is really lower than a viper; only it strikes without warning.

GOSSIP associates itself with lying; and thrives on half truths.

Health hints for today

By R. L. GILKEY, M.D.

GASO is the GREAT AMERICAN SMOKE OUT. Today, November 20th, is the 10th anniversary of GASO. If you are a smoker, please participate. More and more people are becoming non-smokers. Please become one. Your health will benefit. Just for 24 hours, don't smoke, and maybe you can become a non-smoker too.

The cold and flu season are now here. Remember that rest, plenty of liquids, aspirin or Tylenol, Cough syrup and time, is the treatment of choice. For uncomplicated colds and flu nothing else is necessary. Antibiotics don't cure colds or flu, but are helpful for complications of these illnesses.

For those of you who are over 65 years of age, influenza vaccination is recommended. For those in the high risk category, with chronic illnesses as heart or lung disease, the pneumonia vaccine is recommended. Medicare will pay a portion of the cost of the pneumonia vaccine, but not the flu vaccine. For those same high risk groups, we have just received a few doses of the Tiawanese flu vaccine. If you want this particular vaccine, please call and let us know. We will save you a dose so long as the supply lasts.

Most of my Medicare patients are aware that I have been accepting "Assignment" of my Medicare patients claims since May, and filing their claims for them. This was to be beneficial to both of us. Once again the Medicare laws have been changed, and the supposed benefit has disappeared. Commencing January 1, 1987, I will no longer "accept assignment" for Medicare patients. I will, however, continue to file claims for my Medicare patients if they want me to do so. (The advantage is electronic filing, which is much quicker. Medicare still pays only 47 percent on most claims, however. This percentage is unlikely to improve.)

BEST HEALTH HINT TODAY? DON'T SMOKE. THE LIFE YOU SAVE WILL BE YOUR OWN

1926 Book Club

The 1926 Book club met on Tuesday, November 4, 1986 at 4 p.m. at the Treasure Chest because the Patching Clubhouse was being used in the election.

Glenda Hawkins brought the meeting to order. The minutes were read by Recording Secretary, Betty Veach, and they were approved with one correction to be made.

President Glenda reported that one of our members, Pauline Morris, was back in the hospital at Northwest in Amarillo because she had broken her leg again! We wish her a speedy recovery.

A slate of officers were presented by the Nominating Committee (which consisted of Frieda Tucker, Hazel Brandon and Norma Jones) to the club to be voted on. No other nominations were taken from the floor. The candidates nominated for 1926 Book Club Officers for 1987-88 were:

- President Glenda Hawkins
- Vice-President Susie Shields
- Recording Secretary Evelyn Mann
- Treasurer Pauline Morris
- Corr. Secretary Thelma Shields
- Parliamentarian Betty Veach

Being no other nominations, the slate of officers were accepted by acclamation.

The next meeting will be our Thanksgiving program on November 18, 1986 at the Patching Clubhouse. Pauline Morris and Dikki Howell are hostesses. Susie Shields said she would help in Pauline Morris's place. Rachel Butler will have the program.

Frieda Tucker introduced our guest speaker, Jo Crabtree, owner of the Treasure Chest. Mrs. Crabtree gave a very interesting demonstration on "Depression Glass", showing us several pieces in her collection. "It is called 'Depression Glass' because it was made in the depression." It was a very interesting discussion on 'depression glass'.

Attending were Hazel Brandon, Jessie Adams, Nita Manning, Dorothy Whitaker, Pauline Heath, Thelma Shields, Frieda Tucker, Dorothy White, Susie Shields, Evelyn Mann, Mary Hazel VanZandt, Glenda Hawkins, Mary Beth Nelson, Carolyn Hamilton, Betty Veach and guest, Jo Crabtree.

WHO WILL JUDGE

Do you know my Lord? I hear you asking his to do something that is against his nature. Your ex-friends mother, what do you call her? Because of the names you use, why is it all we can think of is degrading to someone else, friend or foe, instead of loving one another as it is written. We find more fault than we find good. "You shall not take the name of the Lord in Vain" is one of the laws that we are breaking and "You shall not bear witness against your neighbor" is another law we break. With our tongue we are digging our graves by its misuse. We cannot uphold our friends and neighbor if we are standing on their neck in the quicksand of this life. Let's lift one another up in prayer so that we can stand straight in the presence of our God and be used of him in his glory. Let's be more tolerant of one another's faults. God is to be our judge. (And He will judge?)
