GAS COMPANY HEARING EXPECTED TO REQUIRE ENTIRE WEEK

STATE AND FEDERAL FUNDS JOIN WPA ON HIGHWAY 88 IMPROVEMENT

Paving on Highway 88 between Clarendon and Jericho is believed to be near with the improvement being made at this time on that section of roadbed north of the river, the river bank and south of the river to the Forest Sawyer farm.

The set-up on this project includes improvement of Highway 88 from Jericho south to the southeast corner of the Forest Sawyer farm.

J. C. Young is superintendent for State Highway Department, and A. C. Donnell is superintendent of WPA labor.

Rock and material known as caliche is being hauled by truck and placed on the roadbed under state supervision.

Working under WPA are one hundred and five men who have signed up, about half that number working each day in shifts. Each man puts in 37 hours a week for which he receives 30 cents an hour. Four of the number receive 45 cents an hour, the four includes the foreman and checkers, etc.

Fourteen men are employed on the state job in connection with this project. Most of them drive trucks. Truck drivers receive 50 cents an hour. Drivers furnishing their own trucks, receive $1.05 an hour, there being ten under this classification.

First-class work is being done, according to those in authority, and each of the workmen are skilled in their particular jobs. The roadbed is being laid at a rapid pace with every care and attention as to details meeting federal and state requirements.

That stretch between the south river bank and the Sawyer farm is being improved this week. The north bank of the river has been leveled down to a reasonable grade and approaches to the bridge have been straightened so that the bridge appears in sight some three hundred yards enabling autoists to use caution.

Without a top dressing, the improvement cannot be expected to last very long in a windy section. For this reason, many believe that top dressings to complete the roadbed are in the plans of the State Highway Commission not later than early spring.

Lelia Lake Baptist Church Interest Grows

A baptistry has just been completed in the Lelia Lake Baptist church, in which four were baptized Sunday.

"A larger percent of our membership is cooperating than in any church of my ministerial experience of the past ten years," Rev. V. W. Allen stated. The pastor is deeply appreciative of the fine cooperation he is getting, and consequently, with that cooperation, the church is growing and much good being done.

DENVER, TEXAS & FT. WORTH LINE GIVES PANHANDLE FIRST RAIL OUTLET

"The last rail is laid, the last spike driven and Denver now has a continuous line of steel to Fort Worth and thence through all Texas and to the Gulf at Galveston. The two ends of the Denver, Texas & Fort Worth line were connected at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon about six miles from Folsom, N. M., at a point about twelve miles south of the Colorado line, 280 miles south of Denver and 524 miles from Fort Worth. Gen. G. M. Dodge, the superintendent of construction, drove home the first spike that held the last rail in place. Dan Carey, the veteran contractor, and Jack Denmore of the Grand Canyon force drove two other spikes. The News representative gave the remaining a single blow and Mrs. John W. Painter, wife of the construction foreman of the Panhandle force, took the hammer and, amid the cheers of 400 strong men, sent home the spike which finally completed the Denver, Texas & Fort Worth line."

The above news item taken from Tuesday's issue of the Dallas News, is a copy of a news item appearing in that paper fifty years ago, March 15th. The reader will note that the rail line has changed names more than once during the fifty years. When the editor of this publication lived at Tascosa, all supplies were freighted in from Dodge City, Kansas.

Has Any One Seen Little "Pewee" Today?

In the classified column appears a "Lost Notice," and it concerns a pet. It is none other than "Pewee," the household pet at the Buntin home. There is always tragedy wrapped up in a notice of that kind because of all pet animals, a dog is nearest a man's heart, and most of the women's. If you see Pewee galavanting around among mongrels, take him in charge and phone his master. That dog's owner would do as much for you any time. Pewee is really Miss Phoebe Ann Buntin's dog, and the young lady wants her pet back. Pewee is black with white spots, he enjoys a toy Boston bull ancestry and is not large, neither is he dangerous.

Seven Clarendon F. F. A. boys and their advisor, J. R. Gillham, attended the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show last Saturday and Sunday. The boys witnessed the Hereford and Shorthorn club calf judging then inspected the Armour Packing plant and the swine, sheep, poultry and merchant divisions of the show.

The City Gas Company, City of Clarendon natural gas rate hearing before the Texas Railroad Commission, which opened at the City Hall here Monday, entered the 4th day of testimony this morning and attorneys at noon indicated the case would consume all day Friday.

The company in a surprise move last night announced they had rested without calling all of their witnesses, among which was E. W. Steinmuller of Dallas, engineer.

Plaintiffs in the hearing which has been pending since 1933 when they appealed a 20 cents per thousand cubic feet reduction, the City Gas Company attempted to show cost of construction, maintenance and revenue to justify the franchise rate of 1927 of 70 cents per thousand cubic feet.

One important phase of the trial was the challenge by the commission of the right for a partnership to pay executive salaries to the two partners, J. A. Upham, President and S. P. Upham secretary, and the payment of over $47,000 to the Upham Company in 1931 for services rendered the gas company. The Upham Company included J. A. Upham and S. P. Upham as President and Secretary, respectively.

Judge Olin Culberson, director of the utilities division of the Texas Railroad Commission, is presiding over the hearing. Others here for the commission are Clinton Owsley, chief accountant; Leo Blackstock, chief examiner; Frank French, chief engineer, and Henry Beck, commission reporter.

Representing the gas company are Ogden K. Shannon, Ft. Worth attorney; Judge W. H. Phenix and E. W. Steinmuller, appraisal engineer, of Mineral Wells.

Judge Culberson ruled that a petition naming the United Gas Pipe Line Company jointly with the city gas company in the case would be considered at a later date. The pipe line company receives half the collection of the Clarendon division, according to testimony. (See GAS COMPANY page 8)

Rural Tournament Held At Lelia Lake

Martin School Wins Both Junior Cups

The Rural Basketball Tournament was held at Lelia Lake Saturday. Teams entered were Martin, Chamberlain, Ashola, Goldston, Giles and Windy Valley.

Trophies were awarded to both junior divisions, both going to the Martin school. Miniature cups were given in the senior divisions. Goldston won the senior boys, and Giles senior girls.

The attendance was limited, being largely made up of students. As much enthusiasm was shown by the players as if a thousand were watching the games.

Though they had no team in the contest, the citizens of Lelia showed an excellent record for attendance and enthusiasm. Lelia is in Class B. The tournament was limited to rural schools only.

Coaches of the winning teams were Hartzog and McClellan for Martin; Buck of Goldston, and Miss Allene McCants of Giles. In the exhibition game, the coaches played Lelia's retiring team. The score was 9 to 12 in favor of the coaches.

JUDGING COMMUNITY ADVERTISING.

The individual advertiser is also the community advertiser. The vision of the individual advertiser may be narrowed to personal gain, yet the very presence of his advertising in a newspaper carries to the reader of that paper the thought that the business people of that community are progressive, modern and co-operative. A newspaper that has its pages filled with local advertising impresses the reader with the stability of the community because its business men and merchants are using modern methods of industrial progress. This distinctly means a community that is advancing socially and financially.

Advertising is the message of a progressive people. It is a composite picture of a community's worth. It is the prophecy of future greatness. To the reader, whether he be at home or abroad, advertising pages in a newspaper tells an understandable story of local conditions that are readily intelligible. This is community advertising.—Southside Progress, Tempe, Ariz.

NO MORE FIGHT.

When I pick up one of these vapid, watery little sheets, mine included, which come under the general classification of the country press, I mourn for the fearless journalism which has gone glimmering into the past along with side-whiskers and shooting irons.

No wonder the highly-touted power of the press came in on a flat tire in the last big presidential campaign! How can we decide elections if we don't say anything about the issues or the candidates except what comes to us in frank envelopes or paid over the counter?

Our editorials, if there are any, are want ads of courage—we're afraid to take a stand for fear of being on the losing side. We take our public, like the mule, to the trough of editorial opinion and then can't make him drink because there's nothing to invite interest.

Maybe life has become so complex we editors can't figure it out for our readers. But the fundamentals are still there: politicians thirst for power, whether for good purposes or bad. In either case, democracy loses. Better to have poor government and a free people than a powerful government and an enslaved people.

God helps those that help themselves—the government doesn't.—Eagle Pass Daily Guide.

HEROES OF YESTERYEAR IN REUNION.

The 75th anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania will be observed this year from June 26 to July 6th. It will be the final reunion of the Blue and the Gray, surviving veterans of the four-year struggle, 1861-1865.

Commemorative coins have been issued. The half dollar pieces sell at $1.65.

The obverse side of the coin shows composites of a Union and Confederate soldier. The inscription reads "United States of America. Blue and Gray Reunion."

The reverse side shows the Great Shield of the United States and the Stars and Bars of the Confederacy. The two shields furnish color. The fasces to denote Unity and Strength. The oak and laurel leaves representing Honor and Bravery and the palm leaves, Peace. All within a circle which denotes Eternity.

The design was executed by Frank Vittor, Pittsburgh, internationally famous sculptor.

Since all are Americans today with one flag, one country and one purpose, the reunion is most fitting. There will not be anything in the official program to even so much as recall the battle scars of these fine old gentlemen.

A complete program of events may be had by writing the Pennsylvania State Commission, Gettysburg, Penn.

A LOT OF CAR
 for a VERY LOW PRICE

The Ford effort to make your dollars buy a constantly better car is well illustrated in the Standard Ford V-8.

It has all the basic Ford advantages. It is built on the same chassis as the De Luxe Ford V-8. It gives you a choice of smooth 85-horsepower or 60-horsepower V-8 engines. But it sells at low prices, and includes bumpers, spare tire, cigar lighter, twin horns and other equipment that make it a still bigger bargain.

With the thrifty 60-horsepower engine, the Standard Ford V-8 is priced especially low and gives the greatest gas mileage in Ford history. Hundreds of owners report averages of 22 to 27 miles a gallon—or even more.

Your pocketbook will approve of the Standard Ford in every way. And so will you when you drive it!

TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apostle

The fellow who meddles with the other fellow's business is the fellow who went broke in not looking after his own.

Do you remember way back yonder when some member of the family would turn over a stove lid, spill a bit of coffee on it and mix up a polish that gave boots and shoes a shine equal of today? That was usually a boy's job the day before the family attended a blow-out of some sort.

It may be a coincidence, but most any one who shoots "while his mind is a blank," shoots remarkably straight.

Had you ever noticed that a man makes a monkey of himself trying to ape some one else?

Observing some ladies sitting on an Amarillo street watching the parade last week, a new idea was gained. These ladies had their feet in paper bags that covered shoes and all half way to their knees. Upon being questioned, a lady stated that one's feet were amply protected from cold merely by poking them in a poke. That paper bag idea is a great stunt on a cold-foot day celebration, and the idea is passed on to you.

Civilization.

If you feel fresh in the morning but tired at night, that's nature. If you feel like old heck in the morning, ride an ice pack on your head and stay in bed all day and feel better when night comes, that's civilization.

Agitation and graft has ruined more communities than war.

The democratic slogan for next campaign year will be: "Washington freed the colonists, Lincoln the slaves and Roosevelt the wage earners."

If the rest of the nation continues to refuse to worry, suppose you and I take out too!

Say it with brakes and save the flowers!

Just because people change their minds so often, the waiter grabs the menu card and hides it as soon as she gets the order.

Since Mrs. Roosevelt's visit to the Panhandle, a number of stories are going the rounds, one of which is said to have originated in Amarillo. A drunk is said to have had the following conversation with the First Lady:

He: "You are the ugliest woman I ever saw!"
She: "You are the drunkest man I ever saw!"
He: "Yes, but I will be sober tomorrow!"

You may be able to bear your sorrows alone, but in success, you just have to have some kind of a human along to share it to get any fun out of the deal.

People are a peculiar bunch of animals. There is a rush at the service stations and a constant urge to get the needs and rush out. Then again, it is a mad rush from the time you take down your receiver until the girl asks, "number please?" And the old boy who probably hasn't had a letter or paper in six months or even rents a box, is just the kind of fellow to gang up in the way in the post-office. If he doesn't park in the doorway, he gets over by the window or near the boxes with several more of his kind. In fact there is far more courtesy 'inside the walls' in the postoffice than there is out in the main drag where folks rush to open boxes.

Hastoon Yazzie says a lot of fellows are getting paid for not raisin' something or other, but no man is gettin' paid for not raisin' hell.

TRANSFERS

By Ellie Wilcox Burt
If you wish to transfer printed pictures from newspapers, magazines, etc., unto wood, cloth, leather, etc., here are the directions:

Dissolve in a coffee-cup nearly full of turpentine, as much shaved laundry soap as it will take up. Let stand about forty-eight hours until thoroughly cut, then stand vessel containing same in hot water to thin. Strain through cheese cloth into a half gallon fruit jar and fill up with good strained buttermilk. Shake well and it is ready for use. In using, apply with a small pad of cotton to the face of the print to be transferred, letting stand a second to soak in well; then with blotter or clean rag, absorb surplus moisture by gently patting. Have ready blank paper, cloth, leather, etc., on which you wish the pattern transferred, laying it with face up on a smooth surface. Lift moistened print quickly and lay on face downward, holding it very firmly in place, rub quickly and evenly over the back of print, until picture is transferred to blank surface below. A little practice soon brings very satisfactory results.

EXOTIC RITUALS
By H. V. Crumley

There is a place in the city of Jerusalem that the Jews call the "Wailing place." This is a wall that surrounds the temple that is now in the hands of the Mohammedans. It is on the western side of the temple area. This is as close as the Jews, the most sacred spot on the earth.

To this place, this wall, they come to mourn the fate of their city, the condition of their race, and the fact that the Mohammedans are now in possession of the temple and have kept them from entering their Holy spot. We are told that the sight of them wailing there is not a pleasant one. Sadness, poverty and suffering is plainly written on their faces. Here they stand close to the high wall wailing aloud. As they wail some will stop to pray, some to sing, some to read, while yet others will kiss the very stones in the wall.

This wailing does not take place once a year or once a month but every day they come, except Saturday, which is their Sunday. Some, we are told, come on Friday more than any other day. Friday is the Mohammedans Sunday. The Jews despise them, and perhaps this is why more come on this day than any other.

As they stand there, some are heard to wail:
We sit in solitude and mourn—
For the palace that is destroyed;
For the walls that are overthrown;

For our majesty that is departed;
For our great men that are dead;
For the precious stones that are burned;
For our priests that have stumbled.

WHY MURDER IS COMMON

A crime expert who has just completed a nationwide survey of lawlessness reports, among other things, that while America has a grand total of approximately 10,000 murders a year only 170 of the convicted persons are executed.

Maybe this explains the prevalence of murder. If a larger proportion of the murders were forced to pay the supreme penalty, it is possible that the sanctity of human life would be more widely recognized.

Weak-minded juries, conscienceless lawyers and sentimental parole boards are prime factors in the nation's criminal record. Their displacement, along with a general strengthening of punitive measures, offers the chief hope of a more noticeable trend toward law abiding conduct.

Dare Devil Car Tester Stops in Clarendon Tuesday

A thrill seeker may have accepted the diminutive man's proposition when he offered to overturn his car if anybody wanted to go with him, but the few gathered in the Palmer Motor Company garage Tuesday afternoon gracefully declined, for the little man was Ralph DePaolo, nationally known racing driver, who stopped here to service his car which the manufacturer said to tear up in 2,000 miles.

DePaolo, on a test run for the Hudson company, said he changed cars every 2,000 miles during which time he was supposed to treat them as gently as driving 300 miles in low, changing gears at 100 miles an hour, turn them over or any playful thing that came in his mind.

His object of being here, he stated, was to ride through the duster which is credited to be a number one test of most any moving part. He said he had been on the road for 27 hours without rest but he had an assistant to drive at intervals.

DePaolo said he would be driving a revamped Miller in the Indianapolis 500 mile classic on Dec. 24 and offered odds that he would pace the field. The test was made famous by his father who was a renowned driver. Costing approximately $47,000 the Miller will be competing for lap money of $100 each time around the track and a purse that will exceed $100,000.

Coming here from Colorado Springs, the driver was enroute to Wichita Falls. He will make the west coast before returning east, picking up new cars every 2,000 miles.

DePaolo had one rider on a demonstration here. He was Elmer Palmer who calmly held down the right side of the coupe while the daredevil skidded with screaming tires through downtown streets, until startled residents called officers believing a crazy drunk was loose.

Lesson number one, learned from a season of basketball: hard work and lots of it offers its reward in any field. Also when one likes a thing, even though you get tired of it you miss it when its gone. Even with volley ball, track and all the other things to work on, the ground looks deserted and we can't get away from the feeling that something is missing when the basketball court is empty.

We are proud of course of our trophies but even more than that, we think that we played the game according to sporting standards, and in doing so made many friends. We are doubly proud of them.

We feel, quite naturally, that we did right well, but we are of one accord that the ones who did really wonderful were those who so

Thanks to My Friends

I desire to take this means of thanking all my friends for the many favors granted me through all these many years. Practically all my life has been spent in and around Clarendon and I go away with a deep feeling of gratitude for each of you. To say that I regret to go is putting it rather mildly, yet it seems that the condition of the times makes it necessary that a change be made at this time.

In connection with the above statement as regards my feeling in the matter, permit me to say that I will be at the store, now closed, the rest of this week where I will be ready to receive payment of accounts yet unpaid. This is done for the convenience and accommodation of those who would otherwise have to look some one up in order to pay their bill. As the manager of the store just closed I desire also to liquidate all claims that the store may have due and all claims due the store. If you are due the store a claim in any amount you can see me at the place indicated up to about eight o'clock Saturday night.

Very truly yours,

PHIL COUCH

Manager, Lowe's Store

freely gave their time and money to the tournament as a whole.

Our special appreciation to the people of our community who loaned their presence, their voice and their enthusiasm, we didn't fail to see and appreciate your contributions. Then our thanks to Mr. Wilson, Mr. Carr and the boys and girls of Lella Lake who helped to make a successful day.

It's hard for us to understand how Lella Lake can have more interest in an event of our rural schools than do the citizens of the different communities themselves; the case is true however, and we thank you friends of Lella Lake, for your interest and faithful attendance to our rural tournaments.

Then there's the climax of a perfect day. Mr. Bert Smith, may your good sportsmanship win you a million friends, Martin athletic club being always first and strongest of the million.—Editor.

Society

Mr. and Mrs. Lu McClellan, Sr. are giving a supper and party Tuesday evening in honor of the boys and girls basketball teams.

Sport

These Martin Eagles, both boys and girls are flying high again. Looking back over the season, as a whole, one would see a young pair of Eagles learning to fly. Very typical young ones they were too, doing pretty well from one tree to another then falling on their head at the next try. But always they worked hard towards the finished product.

We are of course proud of our Junior championship, but even above that, we are proud of a result of hard and willing work and the lesson in sportsmanship gained in this process of learning.

We leave basketball with a successful season; extend a hand of fellowship to all our rural teams (our friends); express our appreciation to Lella Lake community and especially to Mr. Wilson and Mr. Carr for their fine cooperation and willing help and look forward hopefully to spring work.

Class Report

Primary Room

The First grade have a new reader this week. They are always proud to complete a book and begin a new one.

The Second grade are drawing pictures of animals and writing a story about each for a booklet in connection with their reading lessons.

We are learning some new songs, "The Windmill and Rosa" to be used as part of our unit work in studying about Dutch people.

Intermediate Incidents

Two new pupils have started to school in our room. They are Max and Lee Mays from Chamberlain.

Helen Jo Bulman and Fred Bell will represent our room in Junior Declamation. They will compete with juniors in the two higher rooms this week to see who will speak at the county meet.

Sixth Grade

The Sixth grade class had charge of the assembly program Friday afternoon. The class sang the ever popular "Gold Mine In the Sky." Solo part was carried by Faye Sullivan. Wanda Lee Stapp tapped "Chicken Reel." After the program the entire school joined in a group song.

The declamation try-outs will probably be held this week. There are many good declaimers and it will be hard for the judges to render their decisions. Junior girls declaimers are: Faye Sullivan, Kathleen Brinson, Billie Rae Marshall and Geraldine. Junior boys Clyde ePabody, Lester Bell, Cullen White, Hershal Brinson. Senior girls, Maggie Lee Davis, Billie Ruth Bulman.

High School Room

New officers with the exception of Editors, were elected for the newspaper staff Friday.

Pauline Mays was our new pupil last week.

"THE REST OF THE RECORD"

BY JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

This week has been designated by official proclamation as Natural Resources Week in Texas.

Thousands of school children, civic club members, and other public spirited citizens are studying the possibilities for industrial development in this State as well as the immense importance of such development to the continued progress of Texas. Industrialists, business leaders, bankers, and capitalists are cooperating to insure the fullest realization of the importance of this week.

Thinking Texans for many years have realized the need for developing the unlimited natural resources of our rich empire to supplement the wealth obtained from our basic resources of agriculture and livestock. The wisdom of such a plan has become more apparent as world-wide competition has restricted the markets and sales of the elementary products from Texas farms and ranches.

Obviously a systematic and scientific expansion of these latent resources is necessary before the realization of a well balanced economic program between agriculture and industry can be attained. The result will be a more abundant life for the people of Texas.

Working toward that attainment are two agencies: Texas Institute of Natural Resources and Industrial Development, located in Dallas, and the Texas Planning Board, an official arm of the State government. The Institute during Natural Resources Week will display more than 100 potential resources capable of development. In addition there will be addresses by informed and prominent citizens whose knowledge of Texas resources and their grasp at the problems to be solved should insure the best presentation of Texas' industrial future available.

It is hoped that this week will emphasize to the people of Texas the need for continued interest and thought on this subject so vital to the future progress of our State. It is fortunate that for three years Texas has had the unprecedented benefit of favorable nation-wide publicity which began before our Centennial Year, and extended through the Pan American Year, and is continuing into 1938.

The rays of the nation's publicity spotlight has played upon Texas during these years, outlining in bold and favorable relief not only the progress we already have achieved, but the tremendous latent wealth of our resources upon whose proper development depends our future. By every possible publicity medium—the press, radio, newsreels, magazines, billboards—Texas has been presented to the nation.

As a result, thousands of tourists—both winter and summer—have filled our resort cities carrying back with them the story of Texas. National conventions have attracted thousands of delegates from over the nation who have become so enthusiastic that conventions of other national associations have been booked for years ahead in Texas cities.

Last week the representative of a prominent motion picture studio visited my office, told me of plans for the filming of the Life of Sam Houston, and said that the industry planned other films based on Texas history. Already on location in Texas at the time was another company filming a Texas picture. During the week, representatives of three national magazines visited in Austin on assignment for stories of Texas.

More recently, the Mother-In-Law Day Celebration in Amarillo held the eyes and ears of the nation toward Texas. This unique celebration was honored by the presence of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the President, and the governors of four neighboring states. Thousands of visitors from other states accompanied them while a national radio hookup carried the mental pictures of the mammoth celebration to an interested nation. News stories, news reels, and magazine articles told the story of Mother-In-Law Day and while doing it, reflected favorable national attention upon Texas.

It is timely then for us to observe Natural Resources Week and reflect upon the invaluable publicity for Texas which has focused the eyes of the nation upon our present and future development. We certainly have something to sell and the buyers of the nation certainly will hear of it through continued publicity.

AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
J. Perry King, Pastor
There is Always Worship Fellowship ;: Service

Christianity's call to the world is a call to unselfishness. No Christian can afford to be selfish. Such conduct contradicts the profession of Christ. Selfishness is the essence of sin. In fact, the first letters in the three syllables of selfishness spells sin. Selfishness on fire is hell. Inflamed selfishness is the trouble in the world today. If the world is plunged into another major conflict it will be due to concentrated explosive selfishness. A Lieutenant Colonel was heard to say this week to a group of fifty men, "unless we get back to the Golden Rule of the man of Galilee as set forth in his life and teachings eighteen hundred years ago, we are headed for a terrible disaster." No teaching that is selfish is Christ like. No Christ like living is selfish. The glad tidings of great joy as announced by the angels on the Judean hills was to be to all people. Whosoever will is the invitation extended by the Savior of mankind.
 Church going will help you in your outlook on life. Do not neglect the privilege that is always yours on the Lord's day. Freedom of worship is a wonderful blessing we enjoy in this country. Let us make much of it while it is ours.
 Regular services at the Baptist Church Sunday morning and evening. Your presence always lends a delight to the service.

Mrs. Walter Wilkinson, formerly Miss Nellie Fraser, spent over the week end with her parents here.

"MANNEQUIN" IS BIG ATTRACTION ON PASTIME SCREEN

Joan Crawford and Tracy in Story of Shop Girl Who Fights Poverty

MARKS FIRST TEAMING OF DYNAMIC STARS
 Joan Crawford, who has romanced on the screen with Clark Gable, Robert Taylor, Robert Montgomery, Gary Cooper and other famous film heroes, adds rugged, two-fisted Spencer Tracy to her long list in "Mannequin," which co-stars them for the first time. The new film opens at the Pastime Theatre for a showing of 2 days—March 23-24th.

Frank Borzage directed the swift-moving story of modern young people against a background of New York's grimy tenements and multimillionaire's penthouses from the pen of Katharine Brush, author of "Young Man of Manhattan."
 Miss Crawford as Jessie Cassidy has the role of a shop girl who seeks escape from poverty by marrying Eddie Miller, a cheap crook. Eddie is played by Alan Curtis, Hollywood's newest leading-man discovery. When Eddie fails her, Jessie decides to live her own life. John L. Hennessey, a role which gives Tracy a powerful characterization as a man who worked his way up from the docks to become a wealthy steamship owner, refuses to let her.
 Jessie marries Hennessey. She learns to love him when Eddie attempts to blackmail them. His plan fails because Hennessey goes broke. This gives Jessie the chance to prove her love in a surprising and dramatic climax.

 Never more beautifully gowned, Miss Crawford has twenty-eight costume changes, designed by Adrian as an advance fashion preview of feminine styles for 1938.

In prominent featured roles are Ralph Morgan, Mary Phillips, Oscar O'Shea, Elizabeth Risdon and Leo Gorcey.
 A highlight of the new picture is Miss Crawford's singing of "Always and Always," a haunting melody of the torch-song type, which was especially written for the star by Edward Ward, with lyrics by Bob Wright and Chet Forrest.

The Classified Column will sell it.

SICKNESS takes a Holiday!

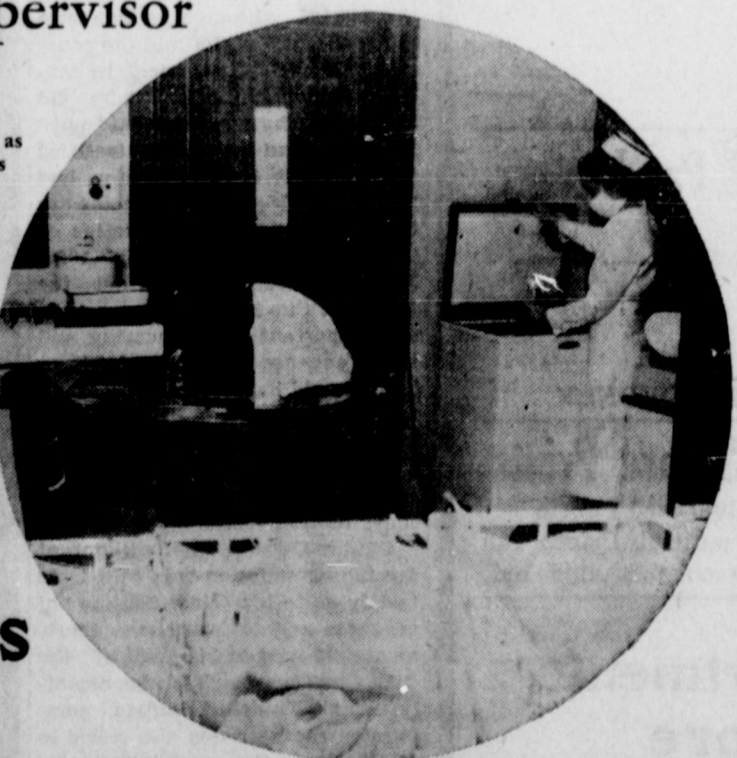

Their Health is Protected by Electric Refrigeration

Hospital Obstetrics Supervisor Says: "It's Safest"

Economy in operation and safety from food spoilage are as important in your home as in any hospital! Therefore, it seems amazingly significant that most all hospitals, including Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene (see photos), depend largely on Electric Refrigeration for these two necessary performances. Miss Vera Smith, obstetrics supervisor, says: "We now have eight Frigidaires in use, one of which is in the maternity ward. I know of no better method than electric refrigeration as a means of providing one of many safeguards for the health of these babies." So when buying a refrigerator, please bear in mind that responsible persons, qualified to exert expert choice, everywhere are choosing Electric Refrigeration. Especially is this true in West Texas, where torrid summer heat makes it impossible for other types to maintain 40- to 45-degree temperatures—necessary for complete food protection. Electric service for refrigeration costs as little as 2 1/2 cents a day!

IN THE PICTURES
 Snoozing peacefully are these youngsters, undisturbed by the electric refrigerator which protects their liquids. One yawns, another blinks big, blue eyes as Nurse Vera Smith makes a routine inspection. Below: Miss Smith stands at the Frigidaire, whose silent operation is essential; in foreground beyond the baby cribs is the hospital's new "incubator."

Young Ladies to Make Tour Of Investigation

What does the southwest have to offer as a business inducement to young ladies? Perhaps the question cannot be answered properly, and that is the reason two Clarendon young ladies are going to find out.

Miss Grace Harvey has been employed by Holland brothers as bookkeeper for several years. She's tired and wants to get outdoors. Miss Ethel Harvey, her sister, is employed at the Farmers State bank. She also wants to get out and look things over.

Within the near future, these young ladies will make a tour of inspection of the southwestern and middle section of the state. The trip will be a vacation, but there is a possibility that these ladies will find an opportunity for profitable investment. In that case - - well, they just don't know yet.

Glenn Rieger is down Decatur way this week assisting in some building on his property there.

GAS COMPANY—

K. L. Huber, Dallas accountant who audited the City Gas Company's books was the lone witness called Monday. Highlighting his testimony was a $15,000 management fee paid by the City Gas Company to the Upham Company for services rendered yearly.

Whether the fee was paid to J. A. and S. P. Upham, partners in the gas company and also President and secretary of the Upham Company, at $15,000 yearly or split up to total $120,000 in ten years came under question.

Returned to the stand Tuesday morning, Huber's audit showed a payment of $47,197.04 made by the City Gas Company in 1931 to the Upham Company. Asked what this item covered, the accountant replied that he did not know but he presumed that it was for materials or supplies furnished by Uphams.

Blackstock questioned Huber's statement saying the expenditure if including additions to the Clarendon plant, was a 100 per cent increase over the net balance of the plant's cost which stood at $36,051.71 at the close of 1930.

L. A. Upham of Olney, testified as to valuation of furniture and fixtures and property assets in the Clarendon and Olney divisions.

J. A. Upham, who with S. P. Upham are partners in the City Gas Company, told the commission from the stand that the $15,000 was used to pay his, (as president of the Upham company) his brother, (secretary) an accountant salaries and legal fees. In attempting to establish reasonable services in return for the amount, Upham said he and his brother made trips to Texas, paid taxes and other things toward maintenance etc. Under cross examination by W. T. Link, he admitted that all taxes in Clarendon had been paid and rendered by the City Gas Company or himself or his brother.

Upham's testimony failed to clarify the mystery surrounding the $47,197. Although he was sure of smaller details he told the court that the money was spent in construction work in 1927 but he did not know why it wasn't paid until 1931. He had formerly testified that the City Gas Company had loaned the North Texas company $325,000 to use in construction of the Clarendon pipe line in 1927. Judge Culbertson pointed out the fact that this information was vitally important in the hearing and if the expense occurred in 1927 or 28 it should have been charged to that year.

D. R. Davis, local manager of the Gas company, testified briefly and plaintiffs rested following a short rebuttal testimony by Huber.

Clinton Owsley, chief accountant for the commission was called to testify as to his classification of accounts and to various departments charged in his audit of the City Gas Company's books recently. Frank French, railroad commission engineer was also called to testify as to the commission's appraisal of the valuation of this plant.
